My dear Mr. Yadon:

We are enclosing copy of a letter we received from the above named inquirer. We should appreciate your contacting Mr. Carter in order to give him the following information:

We regret that to date we have received very little information about the prisoner of war camp Oflag 64 in Germany. We do know that it is in Poland and therefore located in a relatively safe place away from the bombing area. The American Red Cross has sent three cable requests to the International Red Cross to get additional supplies to this camp. Each reply from International Red Cross has been that the supplies have been sent. We would judge that the reason there appears to be a shortage of Red Cross supplies in this camp is that the transportation system in Europe is greatly overburdened and we have been unsuccessful in getting supplies to this camp. We sincerely hope that this situation will soon be remedied.

If further communication is necessary on this case, please address your correspondence to the attention of Mrs. Betty Black.

Very sincerely yours,

Edna Mattox
