November 2, 1944.

To the Family of
Lt. William M. Reeves,
R. F. D. #1,
Kerrville, Texas.

Dear Folks:

Mr. Carter, who is out of the State at the present, has just received a letter from his son, Lt. Amon G. Carter, Jr., who is a prisoner of war in Germany and since he mentions Lt. William M. Reeves as having just arrived at that camp and because I am sure Mr. Carter would want you to have the information as promptly as possible, I am taking the liberty of sending you, herewith, a photostatic copy of the letter.

As you will note the letter is dated August 26th and arrived yesterday, October 31st, which is the latest communication received from Amon Jr. , although kin of other boys in the camp in Fort Worth have received mail dated as late as August 31st. In the event you have not already received word from the War Department this camp is located in the old Polish corridor about 100 miles South of Danzig and is near the Vistula river in a town called Schubin.

The senior officer of Oflag 64 was recently repatriated and spent several days with Mr. Carter in New York. The enclosed article which appeared in Sundays Star-Telegram gives an interview with Colonel Drake which I thought might be of interest to you.

When you have finished with the letter, will you please return it to Mr. Carter. If there is any information about packages or letters we could give you or help in any way, it will be a pleasure as we fully appreciate the anxiety and worry you are experiencing and realize what every particle of information means to you.

Sincerely,

Secretary to A. G. Carter.
