The Alumni Convention.

MANY DISTINGUISHED VISITORS
—A DEFINITE WORK ADOPTED.

The largest assembly of the Alumni that has ever convened was called to order Wednesday evening Nov. 25. The local committee had matured its plans well, and from the time of the opening until the last of her children had said good-bye to dear Alma Mater, not a hitch occurred. Never was the value of organization and deep laid plans, more forcibly proven. And had it not been for the extraordinary organization of Pres. Hamner's forces and plans, the alumni might have been in session yet.

The preliminary meeting was enthusiastic and full of interest. College songs were sung lustily and everybody was primed for a speech. Of unusual strength and interest was the address of Pres. Hamner, serving not only to welcome the guests but to set forth especially, matters which are demanding the attention of our Alumni. His speech was replied to by Earnest J. Bradley in a most touching and logical way. Immediately after this introductory session the Shirley Society rendered its annual program, which was heartily enjoyed by the guests.

On Thursday at nine o'clock the regular business meeting of the Alumni was held in the Preparatory room. The committees which had been appointed the evening before reported. From the business-like manner in which they responded one could easily see that they had not idle since the preliminary meeting. The following officers were elected, W. T. Hamner Pres., J. N. Wooten 1st Vice Pres., Ira P. Hildebrand 2nd Vice Pres., Olive L. McClintic Sec'y. and Treas. The chief topic of interest however was the name "Add-Ran," so dear to the heart of every alumnus. The discussion was to determine whether or not the Alumni should take steps to prevent other educational institutions from using this name which is the property of T. C. U. by right of charter. The motion to retain the name for our school of arts and sciences was carried without a dissenting voice, and with great enthusiasm.

In the afternoon everything gave way to the football game between T. C. U. & Baylor, on the latter's campus. Most of the visitors went over in a body, and cheered vociferously for the brain and brawn of our canvas-clad knights who gave Baylor such a royal battle for the supremacy.

The final meeting of the Alumni and the most important, was at seven o'clock immediately preceding the banquet. At this meeting the future work of the alumni was determined upon. Not a dissenting voice arose, and but one modifying resolution was made when the committee appointed on this matter made its report. The Alumni will undertake the raising of funds sufficient to erect a building costing from $20,000 to $30,000, as a monument to their abiding loyalty and faith in their Alma Ma-

U. D. C. ORGANIZED.

Mrs. Araminta Branson, U. D. C. organizer for the Waco district visited the Girls' Home Monday morning in the interest of her work. As a result, a strong T. C. U. chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was organized. Most of the girls in the hall have fathers, uncles or grandfathers who championed the cause of the South from '61 to 65, and twenty-two names were enrolled as charter members. Mary Taliaferro was elected president; Bess Coffman, Cassie Holloway and I. V. Purcell, 1st, 2nd and 3rd vice-presidents; G. nie Miller Rec. Secretary, Alma Hood, Historian, Louise Andrews Registrar, and Le Noir Dimmitt Treasurer.

A name will be chosen for this

T. C. U. chapter, and a charter granted in the near future. It is T. C. U.'s mission to aid in all commedable work and doubtless this move which has for its purpose the remembrance of the valorous deeds of our Southern heroes will be strongly supported, as it should be.

The Alumni Convention.

 ter! This sounds like business and the Alumni are business men and women. Furthermore they mean to have the building ready for use at the beginning of school next fall. An executive committee was appointed consisting of A. C. Easley, E. C. Snow, and J. T. McKissick, all of North Waco, C. M. Votaw of Houston and Geo. L. Bush of McKinney; and a financial agent is to be put into the field at once. At this final meeting Pres. Hamner read extracts from dozens of letters from the various Alumni, expressing regret at not being able to be present, but heartily endorsing the movement of the Association. Of especial interest was the telegraph message of C. M. Votaw, who had been expected up until the last, but was unavoidably detained.

The convention then adjoined to the banquet in Townsend Hall. The next meeting of the Alumni will be at their regular time at commencement in June. All T. C. U. is glad have had them with us this Thanksgiving and rejoices in their loyalty, faith, generosity and consecration.

BIG DEAL CONSUMMATED.

A big land deal has just been consummated, in which Waco property and McLennan county farms were exchanged for a ranch in Hartley county, Richard Burleson handling the transaction.

The buyer of the ranch was Mrs. Para Rowe of North Waco, and it is her intention to remove to Hartley county for the present, anyway. The ranch contains some 8000 acres and be longed to four or five parties.

This is one of the largest trades made in Waco in some time.—Waco Times-Herald.

The Banquet to the Alumni

The best was saved for the last and that was the banquet in Townsend Hall, complimentary from the university to the Alumni, the Faculty and the Senior Class. Everything was arranged in faultless order and manner in which the function was carried out reflects no little credit on those in charge. Robt. L. Marquis '01 as toastmaster covered himself with everlasting glory. The University Quartette was there in its full splendor and sang—but we all did that however, the selections ranging from "Pale in the Amber West" to "The Frog that Sat in the Bog," and from "There Was a Man in Our Town" to "Fair T. C. U." The speeches in response to the toasts were of unusual interest, and were as follows—The President and Board of Trustees, J. T. McKisick '97; The Faculty, F. G. Jones '90; Our Correlated Schools, Pres. E. V. Zollars; The Alumni, Granville Jones; Our Alma Mater, Mrs. Lucretia B. Irby '90; T. C. U., Capt. M. B. Davis; The Class of '04, L. P. Bailey '01; Response from Senior Class, R. H. Foster '04; "Th's One Thing We Do," (motto of Alumni Association) Mrs. Maude W. Marshall, '01; Mrs. Geo. H. Morrison, '95 and Miss Bertha C. Mason '96.

At the close of the elaborate spread when all had sung and eaten and speechified to their own content, a roll call was taken by the classes, then all stood and joined in the final song "Auld Lang Syne," and the meeting broke up,—in more ways than one, we might add by way of parenthesis. Truly the Alumni Banquet was the most delightful occasion of the year.

Among the many good things T. C. U. held in store for her students and several visitors this week was the annual open session of Shirley literary society. The chapel was crowded, the stage was beautifully decorated. Red and white badges and streamers were to be seen in galore (red and white are the Shirley colors). The lovers of the high order of music both vocal and instrumental, of reading and oratory, of journals that are grave and pithy, were well pleased with the entertainment. And they cheered and still congratulate Shirley for her grand success before the footlights.

The Battle Royal.

Thanksgiving day was an ideal day for the r gal sport. It is estimated that two thousand people witnessed the football game between Baylor and T. C. U. Thursday. The cool weather put ginger into the players, and life into everybody. The rooters from both schools were there in all their glory, college yells and songs rang out over the city. The game started off with a snap. Interest was intense from start to finish. The citizens of Waco have never witnessed such an athletic event, clean, manly, and close.

Captain Moore of T. C. U. won the toss. He chose to defend the south goal. Morrow of Baylor kicked off for 40 yards. Rowe of T. C. U. got ball and advanced it. The battle waged hot. The ball changed several times on downs, and some few times on fumbles. The pigskin remained near the center of the field nearly all the first half. At one time T. C. U.'s goal seemed in danger. Baylor tried for a place kick. The kick was blocked. T. C. U. got the ball. Rowe assisted by Muse made a long end run. Baylor was penalized twenty yards for making a quarter back run within the twenty-five yard line. Soon T. C. U. had the ball in the center of the field and was making constant gains when time for the first half was up. T. C. U. out played Baylor the first half. Her plays were more spectacular. She made constant gains around Baylor's ends. She gained the ball on downs time and again.

In the second half T. C. U. kicked off. Baylor received the ball, and by fierce line plunging and short end bucks, she carried the ball to within three yards of T. C. U.'s goal. Then the T. C. U. lads showed the stuff they are made of. They took the ball away from Baylor on downs, and kicked twenty yards. Baylor returned ball to T. C. U.'s one yard line. Again by a grand rally T. C. U. took the ball on downs. These two stands will long be remembered by all who witnessed the game. At this critical point T. C. U. fumbled the ball. Baylor shoved Morrow thro' the line for a touch down. She failed to kick the goal. The ball was again kicked off. T. C. U. held the ball and was making telling end gains when time was called. Baylor won the game not by superior skill but by superior weight, and on the account of a fumble on T. C. U.'s part at a critical place. Gant seemed to be Baylor's best player. He never failed to make a gain when the pigskin was entrusted to the care of baby elephant. Vanham, Wicker and Lester played the game. Muse was and always is T. C. U.'s star player. Rowe was a meteor that spread consternation in the Baylor hearts. Muse would run the interference Rowe would advance the ball around Baylor's ends almost at will, sometime for a five, sometime for a twenty-yard gain. The score stood 5 to 0 in favor of Baylor.

The A. & M. giants and the T. C. U. stalwarts tried for honors against each other in the regal sport last Saturday. Many football enthusiasts witnessed the game. A & M. kicked off for 50 yards. T. C. U. advanced ball 20 yards. T. C. U. made an unsuccessful buck. And then lost the ball on a fumble. A. & M. made a 4 yard buck and then bucked the line for 5 yards and touch down. A. & M. failed to kick the goal. It seemed at first as though the Farmers would have a walk-over. But the home team warmed up and got in the game and kept A. & M. from making another touchdown the first half. T. C. U. kicked off 45 yds. A. & M. advanced ball 20 yds. Then by a long drawn out series of bucks, some time for one yd., sometime for five, but never a spectacular gain, she pushed T. C. U. back across the field for another touchdown, and then kicked the goal. A. & M. kicked off. She soon got the ball on downs. The game ended with ball in A. & M.'s possession and on T. C. U. territory. Both teams played good ball. Score 11 to 0
