VARSITY VICTORIOUS ON TRIP

Both Southwestern and the State Fall Victims to Stick Work of Local Boys.

Varsity made a trip to Georgetown and Austin last week playing Southwestern and the State. Two games were won from Southwestern, the first going to us by the score of 5 to 2 and the second 2 to 1. At Austin the team broke even, winning the first 4-0 and losing the second 6 to 2. A team that wins three games out of four on the road is certainly "going some," moreover, the team that gets eleven hits in one game and fourteen—five of them for extra bases, off far-famed Manny Graham is also going some. And for these reasons we are proud of the team and its record on the trip.

Friday's Game.

In the first game with Southwestern Randall was pitted against Ayres, who held T. C. U. down to one hit in the three innings which he pitched at Katy Park. In contrast to this Varsity took kindly to that gentleman's slants on this occasion, rapping out eleven hits, including a home run by Randall and two two-baggers. Besides this he gave two bases on balls and hit one man. Randall, on the other hand, was steady as a clock. He allowed only four scattered bingles and but one man received free transportation. The strike-outs were 7 to 6 in favor of Randall.

T. C. U. got a man across the plate in the first inning. Perkins was safe on Jackson's bobble. Thomas sacrificed him to second he scored on an error by Brown.

Witt, first up in the third, hit for three bags, but was caught at the plate on a close decision when Thomas in the fourth "Ran" also first up, parked the ball. Those who followed could not connect safely, however, going out on infield chances.

Three more runs were scored in the fifth. Witt led off with his second hit; Perkins also hit; Thomas attempted a sacrifice, but Witt was caught at third; L. Drucke hit to Brown, who retired "Si" at his corner. This made two men killed at third in this inning and it looked like "no scores." But a wild pitch moved the runners up a base and then "Little" Drucke rose to the occasion, tallying both with a two-bagger to left center; Randall's fan ended the inning.

No more scores were made until the seventh, although in the sixth Daniels reached first on a hit with one down. Frizzell was safe on Jackson's error and the runners perpetrated a double steal; Witt's hot liner to Brown caused a double play, however, Brown caused a double play and retired the side.

Perkins was hit by a pitched ball in the seventh round and scored on successive singles by Thomas, O. Drucke and Randall. This ended the run-getting for T. C. U. Thomas singled in the ninth but was caught off first; L. Drucke also hit, but O. Drucke and Randall were retired on flies to the outfield.

Southwestern failed to score until the seventh. In that inning McLain reached first on Si's error, stole second and third and scored while "Si" was throwing Howard out at first. They added another in the eighth. Stone hit to right, went to second on Vaughan's out at first and came home on Brown's hit to left—O. Drucke dropping the throw.

Summary.

Stolen bases—Thomas, L. Drucke, Daniels, Frizzell, Brown 2, McLain 2, Stone 2; sacrifice hits—Howard, Putnam, Thomas; bases on balls—off Ayres 2, of Randall 1; three-base hit—Witt; home run—Randall; double play—Brown unassisted; hit by pitched ball—Perkins; struck out by Ayres 6, by Randall 7; wild pitch—Ayres.

Saturday's Game.

Witt won Saturday's game in the second inning with a two-base drive to center. Baldwin had reached first on Putnam's error and Frizzell by a hit. The two pulled off a double steal and then scored on Witt's double; Perkins hit to Jackson and Witt was tagged at third. This ended the scoring for T. C. U.

Perkins and Thomas hit safe in the first round and Randall's sacrifice moved them up a notch, but the Drucke boys struck out. Witt led off with a hit in the fifth and Perkins sacrificed him to second; Thomas flew to right and Randall rolled one to Putnam. Thomas hit in the eighth and went to second when "Ran" dumped one. He died there, however.

Southwestern's score came in the third inning. Sykes struck out; Vaughn walked, went to second on a passed ball; Ayres drew a life on "Si's" error and the two worked the double steal. Witt errored on McLain's drive and Vaughn scored; Jackson being hit by a pitched ball filled the bases, but Howard's best was a fly to Thomas.

Sykes was hit by a pitched ball in the seventh but was killed trying to reach second; Howard drew free transportation in the ninth and stole second, but the third man up struck out.

Drucke pitched magnificent ball, allowing only one scratch hit. He also struck out fourteen men. Moreover he showed his coolness and pitching qualities in the third, not allowing a hit at a time when one hit meant victory. Stone also pitched much better ball than he did in Waco. He was pounded freely in the first two innings, but after that only two hits were secured off him. He also pulled out of an awful hole in the opening round, striking out two men in success.

Standardizing College Entrance Requirements.

The average age of students entering the College of Arts and Sciences of Harvard University is about nineteen. In the earlier years of Harvard this was the average age of its graduates. This fact is suggestive of the chief feature in the development of the American college course. A college is a public institution, and must of necessity not only map its courses according to its own ideals, but also accommodate them to the needs of its constituency. Hence in the olden days when the common school did well to get its pupils through the "rule of three" and the "Three R's," the college took up the work there and put them through what is now covered by the High School course. But as the public school has developed and has become able to cover so much more ground in the same period, the requirements for college entrance have been gradually raised.

This elevating of the standard has been, of course, by means of experiments and in the midst of competition, leading to no small amount of confusion. In recent years, as most of the schools offering the college courses, whether universities in the sense of Yale and Harvard, or as colleges in the stricter sense, have brought their requirements to something of the same rank, there was felt the need of having some common standards. Accordingly in 1899 there was formed a general entrance examination board among the colleges of the Middle States and Maryland. There is now also an examination board with headquarters in New York City, made up of the Eastern colleges. A student accepted by this board is eligible to entrance in any of the schools listed.

This is a progressive and economical movement. One of its chief values is that it puts a fixed and recognized standard for entrance to college, doing away with uncertainty that so easily confuses the public, and eliminating the opportunity for misleading advertising and unnecessary rivalry among all classes of institutions.

That this has not been done before is due not so much to tardiness in progress as to necessity under the conditions of the secondary schools. But it marks an important step in the progress of higher education.

All the above refers to the schools in the Middle States and the East. We have not reached this point of development in the South and West. But here as in the East the delay is not due to lack of progress. With us it is rather a lack of time for development. The country has not had free schools long enough to have developed them up to the point where they can as a general system prepare their pupils for the colleges, as is done in the East. But the time is near at hand and the rate of progress is rapid, so that the colleges in the West are fast becoming more systematic and regular in their requirements.

The spirit of education is strong, the problem is clear, it is a matter only of a little time till the public school system will be able to do its part and allow the colleges to concentrate on their proper sphere. Then we will have college entrance requirements, not only as well standardized, but graded as high also. And more than that, we will have in the South and West universities working in the real province of the university—the graduate school—standing side by side with the older institutions.

It is well to state that throughout the West the State Universities are adopting a standard of entrance which is usually expressed in "14 units," and that this is practically the same as the standard of the entrance board of the East referred to above. Perhaps the latter is more rigid by one or two points. This standard is becoming general, without any central board for Entrance Requirements at T. C. U.

An occasional pleasantry is heard among the students with reference to the certainty of change in the requirements each year at T. C. U. The institution in pleading guilty to the charge can also plead in justification that these changes are in the line of progress and are signs of progress as well.

An important change in the matter of entrance requirements will be announced in the forthcoming annual catalog. It is a change in the expression of the requirements more than the grade of them. So the work of the present body of preparatory students will not be greatly affected. With some strengthening of the history courses and a little additional science, our preparatory course, which is required for entrance into the Freshman year of the college, is up to the standard of entrance set by the State Universities throughout the West and South. We have been expressing the value of these entrance courses in "credits," the same as in college courses. But it is becoming a more nearly universal custom among the universities to express these in terms of "units." This system has been adopted by the University of Texas, and through their work with the affiliated High Schools in Texas all the school people are familiar with this phraseology. For convenience in dealing with the affiliated schools ourselves, and in order to meet the custom that will best standardize the courses of the various colleges, T. C. U. will hereafter use the term "unit" in expressing the preparatory courses and entrance requirements.

When this is done it will be apparent at a glance that the requirements here are those that are accepted as standard among the State Universities, and hence that our four years' college course is up to the standard. Of course this does not refer to the graduate department of those schools, which is a ground that we do not cover.

The term "unit," as thus used, is supposed to represent what is usually covered by a solid year of work in one subject in a thorough preparatory school. Of course more than a year may be devoted to it by the High School. For instance, for the approved course in English 3 units is allowed; but any High School will necessarily take four years to cover the ground. The same is true of Latin.

The term "credit" will be used in the same way as heretofore in the college proper. The confusion in comparing courses with other schools does not hold in this case, as in the entrance subjects.

Of Interest to Patrons.

The facts set forth in the above articles on entrance requirements are of interest, not merely to the preparatory students, but especially to the patrons and friends of the University, inasmuch as it will bring to their attention, and make clear to their minds, some facts about the ranking of Texas Christian University with which our own friends are not too familiar. The statement has been made that the standing of T. C. U. is better recognized among the other educational institutions than it is among the people who are its real owners. And that statement would not be difficult of proof.

With the entrance requirements expressed in the same terms as that of the State Universities, it is easy to compare them. Fourteen units is the general requirement, not only by the University of Texas, but by most of the State Universities. Fourteen units is what is required by Texas Christian University. Then follows the college course, requiring fifteen hours a week for four years, leading to the degree of A. B. This enables T. C. U., with her strong faculty, to give a degree that is standard; and the record of her graduates through the last few years is clearly showing that the work not only can be done, but is actually being done. All the friends of the school should be keeping up with the progress of the school so as to be able to speak intelligently about its work with other people.

"Double the Attendance."

The above caption sounds good—and also ambitious. It is the motto adopted by the Educational Secretary with reference to the next year's attendance at T. C. U. Something may be said about it more fully through The Skiff before the close of the school, but just a word now to the friends of the school both among the students and the patrons who may read these columns.

One very great reason for pitching the hopes as high as this is that the school with the grade of work it is doing is worthy of the patronage that would double it. And as a matter of fact the people of the Christian Church are coming to know more about it than they have done. Surely with the facts before them as to the work being done and the advantages offered, compared with other educational institutions, the patronage that goes in large numbers to other places or does not go at all, will be turned into its natural channel—that of T. C. U.

All the friends are requested to send the names of any who will be interested in going to the college to the Educational Secretary, that these may be reached by the canvas this summer, and be supplied with the information. At least every one should have a fair chance to know about all the work before they go away to school.

The catalogs will soon be out and will be sent on application at the University.

The Faculty at Washburn College has established a smoking parlor for the young men of the college. The parlor is to be situated below the chapel auditorium thereby furnishing a place for the collegians to go between acts when a college play or glee club concert is being held.

Miss Jackson Entertains.

On last Monday evening, at Hotel Royal, Miss Una Jackson was hostess to a dinner party of five girls.

A dainty six-course dinner was served, which was enjoyed by all. The table was artistically decorated with gems and carnations; and within the folds of each napkin was an appropriate souvenir. Miss Culpepper acted as toastmaster of the evening, and drank to the happiness of the hostess in a very pleasing manner.

The following were the guests: Nell Andrews, Mary Riter, Anna Ponder, Ada Culpepper.

The S. U. Debate.

It should be remembered that on Friday evening, May 8th, Messrs. Tomlinson and Bloor, representing T. C. U., will meet Messrs. Leath and Key of Southwestern University in debate. This debate will be upon the subject: Resolved, That within fourteen years from date the Federal Government should own and control all railroads in the United States. T. C. U. defends the affirmative and S. U. the negative. Arrangements have been practically completed. The judges selected will be eminent jurists from points outside of Waco. One of these will be Judge Rice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Austin, Texas. The others will probably be leading lawyers from Dallas and Cleburne.

This is the first time that our school has ever attempted anything in this line of endeavor. Southwestern, however, has a long and enviable record for putting forth debaters of merit. Messrs. Tomlinson and Bloor have worked faithfully in preparing for this event. They have looked into every phase of the subject and so will no doubt defend their side of the question with powerful and effective arguments. We know both men to be strong, even brilliant in argument, and equally quick to see and take advantage of any weakness an opponent may display. And so, knowing their capabilities, we can say without fear that they should win, if a masterful argument, quick perception and hard work make success possible.

Southwestern University will very probably send a large delegation along with Messrs. Key and Leath. Much interest is being taken in this meet at that school, and already, according to The Megaphone (university weekly), many have signified their intention of coming. And when they do come, let's treat them royally—but let's send them back defeated. And that brings us to the point. Nothing gives a speaker encouragement like the hearty wells and applause of his schoolmates and friends. So let everybody and his girl be there. And let everyone do his part to make the affair a success in every sense of the word.

T. C. U. students will regret to learn of the death of Bro. Hildebrand at his home in San Antonio. During the time he lived in Waco Bro. Hildebrand never missed an athletic contest except through illness and it is with great sorrow that we learn of his demise.

Free! A souvenir at the Colman Studio. A water color drawing of yourself with each order for six dollars or over. A 10 to 25 per cent discount to students. Colman Studio, 509 1-2 Austin Ave. opposite the St Charles Hotel.

Summary.

Stolen bases, Perkins, Baldwin, Frizzell, Vaughn; Ayres 2, McLain, Howard; sacrifice hits, Perkins, Randall 2; bases on balls off Drucke 1; two base hit, Witt; hit by pitched ball, Sykes; struck out by Drucke 14, by Stone 6; passed ball, O. Drucke.

Sunday the team journeyed to Austin and spent the day taking in the sights of the capitol city. Most of the boys "enjoyed" a shower bath while at the Insane Asylum; "Big" Drucke counted the steps to the capitol tower and many other things happened. The day was spent in idleness as far as baseball was concerned.

Monday's Game.

On Monday T. C. U. defeated the State University on Clark Field winning easily by the score of 8 to 4. Randall and Manny Graham were the opposing pitchers and it may be that, as newspaper dispatches state, the game was a pitcher's battle, but fourteen hits to six doesn't look that way. Graham held T. C. U. unless and only allowed one hit in the first three innings. After that round he was pounded hard, five hits being secured in the fourth and four in the seventh. Randall, on the contrary showed his strength by pulling out of immense holes in the first, second and third innings. Three men dying on bases in each round. They scored three times in the fourth round, but after that he was invincible. His fifteen strikeouts also contributed much to the final result.

T. C. U. reached the initial corner in each of the first three innings. Thomas was safe on Hughes' error, stole second; O. Drucke took three swings and Randall flew to center. L. Drucke opened in the second with a clean one to left; Baldwin lined out to Robertson and Drucke was doubled. Frizzell hit safe in the third, but was caught off the bag.

Thomas started the fourth inning's entertainment by a hit through short, O. Drucke followed with another and Randall also connected safely, filling the bases. L. Drucke struck out; Thomas and "Little" Drucke counted on a beautiful two-bagger by "Fuzz;" Daniel's homer brought three more runs over the pan; Frizzell flew to Robertson and Graham handled Witt's easy one.

Texas got busy in her half of the same inning and annexed three runs after two men were out. Hughes hit to right; Walker walked and Adamson hit for four bases; Graham's strike out ended the inning. State session.

The support of each twirler was added another in the sixth. Hughes hit for two bases and scored on successive outs by Wathen and Adamson.

T. C. U. took three more in the seventh. Witt led off with a two-sacker, a single by Perkins and three-bagger by O. Drucke put two runs across the plate; Randall's hit scored Drucke; L. Drucke also hit safe, but it was wasted, Baldwin flying to short and Daniels rolling one to second.

In the first inning Walker was given a walk. Hughes was safe on a wild throw; Wathen dumped one and Walker was caught at third. A wild pitch moved the runners up a base; Adamson fanned; Graham walked; Brownlee struck out.

In the second Robertson hit; Weathered sacrificed; Stacy was safe on Baldwin's error; Walker drew four wide ones, again filling the bases; Hughes and Wathen succumbed to Randall's curves.

In the third, with one down Graham and Brownlee walked; Robertson bunted and Graham was forced at third; Weathered struck out.

Tuesday's Game.

In the first inning Walker was given transportation; Hughes forced him at second, "Star" errored on Wathen's drive; Adamson hit safe and Robertson's three bagger cleaned the bases. Two bases on balls and an error allowed two runs in the second. A hit and two wild throws added another in the third. That was all but enough to win.

T. C. U. scored one in the fourth on "Ran's" three-bagger and L. Drucke's

FACULTY 14, PREACHERS 12.

Prof's Defeat Preachers by Close Score.

Last Wednesday afternoon our "venerable" profs. rose to the occasion and pounded the curves of Welch and Dean for fourteen runs, mostly in the first two innings of play.

The preachers got a bad start, but by the time the seventh inning arrived they had almost nosed the powers that be at T. C. U. from the coveted leadership.

The preacher boys led the faculty in the matter of hits, swatting the ball hard and often. In the matter of fielding it would take an expert to decide. The official scorer suffered a slight stroke of pen paralysis, this being caused by prolonged exertion in marking up errors, passed balls, etc.

"Flumps" Busters Win Two.

Last Saturday the second team defeated the High School easily, by a score of 3 to 0, the visitors only reaching third base once.

The second team deserves special praise for the way in which they fielded the horse-hide; not an error was made. Riter accepted several hard chances and handled them in big league style. Flumpy should be credited with not only perfect fielding, but with his stick work (getting a two-bagger and a pretty single). Preston Baldwin, Dan Rogers and Frank Farr deserve special mention. The outfield did not have the privilege of showing their artistic work, because of the inability of the High School boys to connect with Odell's twisters. They only secured two hits, one of which was very scratchy.

The following connected with Hearts' curves for safe hits: Anderson (2), Odell (2), Nabors (2), Hays (1).

On Wednesday the second team defeated St. Basil by the close score of 2 to 0. The teams worked nicely. St. Basil's made two or three errors while the second team only made one. The second team got 5 hits; St. Basil got 4.

Press Baldwin pitched a star game, but was relieved in the sixth inning by Odell on account of a sore arm.

A game is being planned for between T. C. U. second team and Baylor second team, for Saturday.

ORATORY NOTES.

The representatives from the Shirley and the Add-Ran Societies are at work getting ready for the Declamation Contest which comes at an early date. Only men will take part in this contest who have never had any previous experience in public speaking. These young orators are working faithfully and we believe there is a surprise in store for the audience when they hear them.

We regret to lose Miss Montague Anderson from our department but are glad to know that she is to be with us again next year.

Miss Lizella Crawford gave a recital at Marlin Tuesday evening the 5th. The press reports that her audience was well pleased with her readings.

Miss Edna Alford read at a parlor recital last Friday evening. Her number was well received and enjoyed by those who heard her.

At last a date has been found for our play which had to be postponed again on account of the absence of our leading juvenile, Mr. Perkins, who has been away with the team on their recent trip. We are now able to announce definitely that Mrs. Temple's Telegram will be produced Thursday,

May 14. This is a farce of the best type. A laugh all the way. It will be ably presented by Misses Marrs, Brown, Hudson and Rash; Messrs. Hall, Bloor, Muse, Perkins and Nabors. Preceding the farce Misses Maloney, Moore, Wood, Shannon and Wilm will appear in that jolly, sparking little sketch, "In College Days." We will appreciate your presence.

But She's Married Now.

The many friends of ex-Miss-Maco Chastine, student '07, were delighted to see her Thursday. She in company with her brand new husband, Mr. Walter Armstrong, stopped off while on their way from Lockhart to their future home at Garland. Naturally everyone at T. C. U. who likes to "fuss his queen" will feel just a little bit sorry that Miss Chastine has departed from a life of "single cussedness." But be that as it may, The Skiff, in behalf of the student body, wish to Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong a long life of prosperity and happiness.

More Games With Baylor.

Three more games will be played with Baylor this year. The dates have not been positively set, but it is probable that two of them will be played the week after the league team goes on the road and the third one about Commencement. It is understood that the cup will go to the winner of three of the first five games, as the series was originally matched and the winner of four out of the seven can of course claim the local championship, yet all probability both cup and the championship will go to the same school.

New Football Coach Elected.

Ennis Brown, Vanderbilt '06, recently elected football coach for next season, has resigned from that position, and acting on Coach Yost's recommendation Mr. J. R. Longley of Michigan, has been elected to that position.

Mr. Langley is an Oklahoma man. He has been on the 'varsity squad at Michigan for four years, and without doubt will be able to give T. C. U. another winning team for next year.

Last Monday evening in honor of Miss Leslie Francis, Professor Hamner entertained four couples in his rooms. Those present were Miss Leslie Francis and Grantland Anderson, Miss Mary Wilm and Bert Nabors, Miss Lucile Wolford and Dan Rogers, Miss Bessie McNeill and James McFarland. Fudge was "manufactured" and all report a splendid time.

An invitation has been extended to Prof. Cockrell to deliver the Commencement address at Add-Ran-Jarvis College and he has accepted the same. This invitation may be accepted not only as evidence of Prof. Cockrell's reputation as a speaker of ability is spreading but it tends to prove that the cordial good will and esteem between the two schools is growing in strength. Prof. Cockrell delivered the

The University of Chicago may establish a course in preparation for the United States consular service. Yale and Columbia are the only American Universities which now have such courses.

A one hundred dollar prize is offered at Northwestern for the best oration by a woman on the subject of woman suffrage. It is expected that there will be considerable competition and there is certainly enough material on the subject to go around.

In the last twenty years John D. Rockefeller's gifts to the University of Chicago have amounted to more than twenty-three million dollars.

A new physics building, to cost about $250,000 will shortly be erected at the University of Illinois.
