Morton went into the box for 'Varsity in the seventh and "Runt" rather got his bumps. He allowed only one hit—a two bagger to right center by Myer, but Perkins' error added up another score. In the eighth Marquardt walked, DeVore counted him with a three-sack hit. McCormick hit, scoring DeVore, Cocash and Meyer were easy outs and then the onslaught commenced anew. When the smoke cleared away it was found that the Giants had increased their count to eleven and had assimilated four extra base hits and two singles.

Considering the practice work of the team and the showing made last year, the result of this game was somewhat of a disappointment, but an analysis of the game reveals much to encourage the supporters of the team. It will be seen that four of the runs were occasioned by wildness of the pitcher and all runs in the seventh were made upon hits or battery errors. That the team went through this terrific batfest without a miscue speaks well for their fielding ability.

Big Drucke held the Giants to three hits—no two connected—in twice as many innings, which is going some. Morton suffered worse, but it must have been an off day with him.

True, 'Varsity did rather weak stick work, but considering that they were up against an almost certain Giant, this cannot be held against them.

It was in fielding that the Collegians excelled. O. Drucke caught a perfect game. He had several good stops to his credit and fielded bunts like a chain of lightning. Fuzz played first gorgeously. High throws, low throws all looked alike to him. He was also one of the fortunate ones that broke into the hit column. Witt handled several hard chances in old time form. Wakefield accepted an unusually hard chance in left. The quality of our fielders were shown by the quickness with which long drives were returned to the infield. One at least of the three base drives should have been a round trip hit. Daniels was everywhere, backing up first one moment and in deep center the next.

We need not be ashamed of this game in the least. It will probably do more to weld the team into the machine demanded by efficiency than anything else can. No fault can be laid to any one, it was just "luck" whatever that may be.

Score table with columns: AB, H, PO, A, E. Rows include DeVore, McCormick, Cocash, B. Meyer, Merkle, Simmons, Heller, Robinson, Marquard, and Totals.

BOX SUPPER.

An old-fashioned box supper, benefit of Y. W. C. A., was given Saturday night in McKinney Hall by the girls of the University, to the faculty and the boys. The invitations, issued in the most old-fashioned style conceivable, read that the guests were to be present at early candle-light. It

NEW YORKS SCORE ELEVEN To One for 'Varsity—Next Week's Schedule.

No, it wasn't exactly a ball game. At times it looked more like a country fair. At least those two essentials, a balloon ascension and fire works, were abundantly present. The similarity is further heightened by the ascension coming at the beginning and the fireworks—mostly "giant" crackers—at the close.

You see it was this way. "Big Un" had faced those New Yorkers before. "Who are they," says Louie? "I'll learn them a little more about baseball today." Forthwith, resting his faith on the men behind him, the big boy passed one over the plate. "Passed," did we say? Not quite. Devore patted it out to center field. That didn't mean so much in itself, but the fact that Peg dropped it did.

"That's funny," says Louie, "these fellows must have learned to hit a ball so it'll twist out of a man's hand. I'd better keep them out of reach." Acting on this excellent principle McCormick received his transfer to the Second Base line. Cocash bunted and Louie, after hesitating awhile, finally threw the ball through Fuzz, filling the bases. Benny Myers' grin looked friendly, so Big Un "set 'em up" to a free trip, thereby spilling DeVore over the pan. "That's just one," says Louie, "they could have gotten two last year and then we'd have beaten them." This seemed to start a new train of thought in Louie's mind, he figuring on giving them three runs and tying the game in a knot, for he proceeded to hit Merkel and Simmons, making New York three to the good. "That's enough for them," Big Un decides. "I'll give Si a chance now."

Si made good all right, cutting off Myer at the plate, but Little Un threw through Witt and Merkel rang up another count. Big Un hadn't figured on that, but allee samee he got busy. Robinson hit a screamer to left, which Wake snagged not two inches off the ground. Marquardt dumped one in front of the plate and went out to O. Drucke to Baldwin.

After that matters rocked along fairly even until the seventh. 'Varsity had its troubles in every inning, but no runs were added to the Giants' total.

The second inning looked as if it would be as stormy as the one preceding. DeVore hit to Perkins and the inimitable errored. McCormick hit to left, making two men on bases with nobody out. But Drucke was beginning to work now. Cocash fanned and heavy swings by Myer and Merkel only knocked the ball about three feet, both being easy outs.

Trouble was again brewing in the third. With one down Heller walked and Robinson shot one at Witt, too hard to be handled. Marquardt and DeVore could not advance the runners, however.

The fifth saw the most sensational play of the game. Merkel placed a grass cutter through the pitcher's box and Heller hit a white heat, cheyenne pepper liner straight at Witt. Prior swung to it and after straightening out his hand doubled Merkel at first.

Meanwhile, although Louie was holding his opponents runless, 'Varsity was unable to tie up the score. With two men salted down in the second M. Baldwin beat out an infield hit, took second when Merkel failed to stop a throw from pitcher and went to third on a passed ball. It was up to Lamonica, but Dague fanned.

After that it was almost three up and three down until the seventh. In that inning O. Drucke bunted and reached first on Marquardt's bad throw. Daniels sent him to second with a sacrifice. Heller's error of Wakefield's drive put him on third and Lamonica's hit into right field sent him home.

This was 'Varsity's only score. Wakefield placed a single in left field in the ninth and stole second, but two were down and he could not advance.

BLAND CONTEST TONIGHT. One of the Important Oratorical Bouts of the Year.

As has been announced previously, the preliminary to the State Oratorical will be held in the University chapel tonight. Six men will compete; these, with their subject, being: Roy E. Tomlinson—The New South. Earl Gough—"Lest We Forget." Bonner Frizzell—The Old and the New South; a United Country. Leron B. Gough—The Passing of the Great American Desert. E. H. Shelton—The Panama Canal. Douglas E. Tomlinson—The New Liberty.

There is special interest in this contest, for not in years has such an array of oratorical talent competed for honors at the University. Six men, all of experience and ability in forensics, will compete for honors. And aside from the honor to be won of representing the University in the State Oratorical, the Bland prize of twenty-five dollars, offered this year for the first time, is added inducement for effort.

Both Add-Rans and Shirleys confidently predict first place for their society and society interest and enthusiasm will run high. You should be there. Some may contend that the admission fee is "undemocratic." But the fact remains that it was necessary on this occasion. At other schools an admission fee is charged, the funds going into the treasury of the oratorical association. But this year we entertain the State Association, and to do this properly it is necessary to raise funds by whatever means possible. So don't begrudge your quarter. Remember it us for the good of the cause, and do your part.

Her remarks were addressed more especially to ambitious voice students, but were full of interest, to the direct layman in musical matters. Mme. Marchesi made a splendid impression on the assembly. Her position, being both a member of the royalty and a famous singer made hers of interest to all and this interest was increased by her thorough good humor and seeming pleasure in being with us.

CONCERNING QUORUMS.

Twelve men comprise a quorum for an Oratorical Association meeting. The membership is supposed to consist of all in the college department. About the same number is necessary for a Prohibition League quorum. The membership has no set limits, embracing all who feel an interest in prohibition. These two organizations practically control the University forensics. And yet at any of their meetings a quorum can hardly be obtained without personal solicitation. This is the wrong attitude toward such affairs. If you are a part of the school be a live, working part, not a looker-on. These are among the most important organizations in school and it is not the part of a loyal student to loaf around at a time when these meetings are called.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH NOTES.

The absence of a number of the singers was noticeable, especially at the Sunday morning service. The Girls' Quartette made an enjoyable visit to Chalk Bluff, where Chas. Ashmore preaches; and the Boys' Quartette was taking in the Christian Endeavor Convention at Hillsboro.

The use of the Sunday school song books for the evening service makes a marked improvement in the singing by the congregation. This is a helpful and enjoyable feature of the night service and will be made more valuable in the future.

The minister labored under the serious disadvantage last Sunday of an extreme hoarseness, which he contracted at the Christian Endeavor Convention by getting hot and then sitting under an electric fan. It is rapidly improving and he expects to be in first class condition for next Sunday.

A number of new faces were seen at the church services last Sunday. Especially at the morning hour was the attendance of the students good. There are still numbers of boys who have not been in the church service for months. It is hoped they will hear the call of better things and of their better selves and do themselves honor by attending.

The Foreign Missionary Offering, which was taken last Sunday was counted a thorough success inasmuch as the amount was $55.00, which is five over the apportionment, and more than double the last year's offering for the cause. No especial persuasion or solicitation was used to secure this, further than the preaching and the announcements. The success only goes to show what the church can easily do with fair organization and united effort.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was rather small on account of the absence of so many at the Convention. Russell Harp proved a ready and efficient impromptu leader, and all were blessed.

The Y. M. C. A. had a good meeting though small in numbers. The new officers were Barney Halbert, President; H. B. Dabbs, Vice President; T. J. Dean, Secretary; Earl Gough, Treasurer. These will go into office at the beginning of the spring term.

THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION AT HILLSBORO.

Last Saturday twenty-five T. C. U. students went as delegates to the Waco District Convention held at Hillsboro, Texas. The Waco C. E. Union engaged the Collins-Knight-Frizzell-Greene Quartette to furnish the musical numbers on the program from Waco and they were not only pleased with their choice but the boys covered themselves with glory in the eyes of the convention folk. Rev. Colby D. Hall and Miss Virginia Lee Brandt were speakers on the program.

One feature of the program was the 1909 Waco Boosterfest, in which the state convention to be held at T. C. U. in June was discussed and great enthusiasm was demonstrated, giving us hope that T. C. U. will accommodate some five hundred guests in June.

All the delegates from T. C. U. were invited to dine Sunday evening at the Tomlinson home and this was without doubt one of the most enjoyable features of the short visit to Hillsboro. Mr. T. E. Tomlinson and wife and two daughters did all in their power to make the afternoon pleasant for their college friends and those who were guests at their board declared it was a banquet.

On the return trip to Waco the C. E. car held about seventy-five delegates, giving college yells, C. E. yells and singing convention songs. All of those who made this trip pronounced the program excellent and most helpful, and are anxious for the next C. E. convention.

Among those who attended were: Mrs. E. R. Cockrell, Misses Winnie Spearman, Louie Noblitt, Harriet Shirley, Mary Riter, Pearl Gibbons, Nell

Andrews, M. K. Miller, Virginia Lee Brandt; Messrs. Oscar Wise, Leron Gough, Grundy Stevenson, John Farmer, Grady Twyman, H. G. Knight, J. B. Frizzell, B. F. Collins, C. L. Greene, Colby D. Hall, Douglas Bushnell, Douglas Tomlinson, Roy Tomlinson.

MORE INTER-SOCIETY CONTEST.

Owing to the fact that all men who have had experience in inter-collegiate and most of those experienced in inter-society forensics graduate this year an agreement has been entered into between Shirley and Add-Ran societies to hold a semi-public declamatory and a debate. These will be given in the halls of the respective societies. The purpose of the contest is to develop men for next year.

Miller and Roselle, comedy sketch artists, at the Vendome Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Miss Virginia Brandt lead last Thursday evening's meeting, with the subject "Influence." The devotional part of the meeting was exceptionally good. As this was time for the election of new officers of the Association the names accepted by the cabinet for office were presented to, and voted on by the Association. The following will be the cabinet of officers for the next year:
President, Una Jackson.
Vice President, Harriet Shirley.
Secretary, Myrtle Tomlinson.
Treasurer, Ada Culpepper.

Mme. Marchesi spoke—we suppose you might call it in characteristic fashion—at chapel Tuesday morning. According to her statement, it was the first speech she had ever made, but she did remarkably well for a first trial. Her remarks were addressed more especially to ambitious voice students, but were full of interest, to the direst layman in musical matters. Mme. Marchesi made a splendid impression on the assembly. Her position, being both a member of the royalty and a famous singer, made hers of interest to all and this interest was increased by her thorough good humor and seeming pleasure in being with us.

The musical program of the February pupils' recital consisted of numbers from Mendelssohn and Chopin, in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of their births.

The compositions were well executed and showed careful preparation on the part of the pupils.

Three of the numbers were from Miss Jennings' pupils; and they reflected honor upon themselves and teacher. The other numbers, with one exception, the one by Miss Brown, were from members of the Senior Class, and give a fair showing of the work the class is doing. We were favored by having Miss Wallace appear on this program. Her number was especially good.

The oratory program was splendid. Mr. Green did well in a dramatic reading, "Gentlemen, the King," from Barr. It was the first appearance of Mrs. Hart and Miss Shirley, and they made it a very successful one. Their numbers were well given, and we hope to hear them again soon. Miss Hudson is always welcomed with applause, and this appearance adds another to her already large number of "hits" in T. C. U. Her cutting from "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," by Fox, was one of the most enjoyable things on program. The program follows:

- Hunting Song (Mendelssohn)—Miss Frances Hays.
- Gentlemen, the King (Barr)—Mr. C. L. Greene.
- Value, Opus 70, No. 1 (Chopin)—Miss Mary Wilson.
- Song Without Words, No. 20, Fleecy Clouds (Mendelssohn)—Miss Irene Brown.
- The Fiddle Told (Franklin)—Miss Harriet Shirley.
- Funeral March (Mendelssohn)—Misses Eula Cox and Eunice Hurst.
- Spinning Song (Mendelssohn); Value, Opus 42 (Chopin)—Miss Lucile Wolford.
- A Judith of 64 (Maxwell)—Mrs. J. J. Hart.
- Polonaise, Opus 53 (Chopin)—Miss Mae Lyn Cox.
- Cutting from "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." (Fox)—Miss Gladys Hudson.
- Etude in A-flat (Chopin); Polonaise in C sharp minor (Chopin)—Miss Irene Arnold.
- Ballade in A-flat (Chopin); Prelude and Fugue, in E-minor (Mendelssohn)—Miss Mabel Wallace.

Misses Mabel Baldwin and Mary Wilson each favored us with a piano solo in Chapel last Tuesday morning. They were well rendered and very much enjoyed.
