LABOR INVESTIGATION

CLASSES FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE IN RESEARCH

GIVEN BY THE "BANNER"

The Investigation Is in Printing, Plumbing and Garment Workers.

The Organization of Wage Earners and the Union Farmers of Tarrant County have shown their interest in T. C. U.'s investigation of labor. Through the "Banner," the official paper of the Union, we find what is being done in the Department of Political Science, under the leadership of Prof. Cockrell, toward solving the problem of labor.

The "Banner" gave a distinction to the efforts of the investigating class, and inserted a full account of the research. The following is the article in part:

Three branches of labor are under investigation in T. C. U., this week. The subjects assigned are: "The Printers of Texas," "The Plumbers of Texas," and "The Women Workers of Texas."

In treating of the printers, the T. C. U. students will inform the class that printers first organized in Galveston some fifty years ago; that today there is a union in every town in which there are ten printers. They will show that before there was an organization, there was no standard wage or standard hours; and that from the condition there has been established the ten-hour day, then the nine-hour day, and now the eight-hour day. He will show that to enforce a standard of hours, price and one-half time is paid for overtime, beyond the eight hours per day. He will show that shops have been made sanitary; that wages have increased, and the printers are the pioneers against tuberculosis, the printers' greatest enemy. He will tell of the home for the disabled printers, and the one for the aged printers, and the pension that is paid to all over sixty years of age. In fact it is not realized just what the Typographical Union has done and is doing.

The student that tells of the plumber, will dwell upon the wonderful advancement in these lines. He will show the evolution of the long hours and the salary no greater than that of a regular low wage earner, an unskilled workman, of today, to an average pay of five dollars per day, and a maximum of an eight-hour day. He will speak of the wonderful advancement in the sanitary conditions in plumbing, and the lowering of the death rate, and the least of sickness, because of the strict inspection of plumbing by experts at the business.

VICTORY FOR BASEBALL

T. C. U. TEAM WAS IN THE LEAD THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE GAMES.

T. C. U. LEADS POLYTECHNIC

Polytechnic's Team is Fast and Good But Unable to Show Up.

The college season opened here last Thursday when T. C. U. defeated Polytechnic four to one. T. C. U. presented rather a crippled line-up after the first inning. Query was out of the game by a decree of the faculty and in the second inning Bettison received an injury to his finger that forced him to retire for the remainder of the game, and also for Friday's game. Query's place was well filled by Will McFarland. This was Will's first appearance in a varsity uniform but from what he showed he is to wear one some time to come. Lamonica caught a good game but was missed in the outfield. Morton had the Methodists all his way until the ninth inning and he seemed only to give them a little encouragement then for he soon tightened up and struck out the last two men.

The Poly boys played a much better game than was really expected and with the good pitching of Williams, who allowed only six hits, were able to hold T. C. U. closer than was looked for.

Daniels made two brilliant catches in right field. He caught one off his foot and fell but came up with the ball.

Sorey scored for T. C. U. in the first inning. He walked, went to third on a single by Bettison and came home on a sacrifice fly by Cooper. Three more runs were made in the seventh. Daniels opened with a three-base hit, Morton walked and stole second, Lamonica hit a ground-rod to the infield and Daniels was thrown out at the plate, Morton going to third and Lamonica to second. Sorey bunted to Shackelford who threw to first. Tandy saw Morton coming home and overthrew Renshaw, letting Morton and Lamonica score. Sorey came to third and scored on Haislip's infield out.

Poly scored in the ninth inning

BASEBALL AT SHERMAN

THE NINE WAS UP AGAINST A GOOD PITCHER, BAD UMPIRE AND OFF DAY.

GOOD GAMES TO THE END

The Austin College Boys Put Up a Good Show for the Games.

The inability to hit the ball at the proper time and a few other things which if mentioned would only cause others to say that those were only a hard luck story, lost two games of baseball for T. C. U. Monday and Tuesday. We have no excuses to make other than that our regular first and third basemen were out of the game the first day and these two with the regular captain off the second day.

Morton met his first college defeat at Austin College last Monday. We say defeat for the outside calls it a defeat, but we know Morton better, and know that he was never defeated. The opposing side just made more scores than his teammates. Morton pitched a splendid game and but for some decisions of the umpire the score might have been different after all.

The team realized that they had a hard game to play and every man played his very best till the last out was made in the ninth inning. The team never gave up but appeared to be just as confident of winning the last as at the first. Their spirit was shown in the second game when in the ninth inning three men got on bases with nobody down but again three other men could not hit the ball.

In the first game T. C. U. scored the first run. In the second inning Cooper hit a long one to left field which Lowery missed, allowing Cooper to come to third. Graves laid down a perfect bunt bringing Cooper home. Austin scored in the third when Richards hit for a single and came home on a three-bagger by B. Lowery. In the sixth Wilson and Carey got in on an error by Graves, and scored on a two-bagger by Hudson after two men were down.

In the eighth B. Lowery knocked the ball over the fence.

In the second game Austin scored in the first inning. Carey hit for three bases and came home on a wild pitch. No more scoring was done till the eighth. For Austin Col-

ORATORICAL CONTEST STATE ORATORY MEDAL

THE PRELIMINARY TO BE GIVEN IN T. C. U. AUDITORIUM FRIDAY.

THE MEDAL IS GIVEN BY LAWYER EMORY SMITH, OF FORT WORTH

PRELIMINARY TO THE STATE NAMED MABLE SMITH MEDAL

Six of the Best Speakers of the University Will Compete.

The Medal Is Worth More Than That One for the State Contest.

The preliminary to the State Oratorical contest will be held in the Texas Christian University chapel Friday night of this week. The speakers are of the best in the University and will be able to interest any audience. The event is the greatest of the Oratorical lines, and should not be slighted by the least.

The program as follows will begin promptly at eight o'clock, and last through about an hour, counting time for music and decision of the judges:

1. Earl Gough—The United States and Universal Peace.
2. Leron B. Gough—The Imperialistic Age.
3. Robert Abernathy—The Child and the House.
4. Braxton B. Wade—Tennessee's Most Gifted Son.
5. W. Clyde Hackney—The Dawn of a Tomorrow.
6. Roy G. Tomlinson—The Alien Peril.

Weakest point.

Frederick Keppel, dean of Columbia University, says that the weakest point of American colleges today is their failure to help their students choose a career. He knows that most boys pick their vocations independent of any college advice or influence. He thinks the professors who come in daily contact with the students should guide and advise them in the matter. Out of 500 college men whom Dean Keppel interviewed on this subject, more than 200 had chosen their life work before coming to college, and did not change their minds. About fifty did not make up their minds until after graduating. "For those who decided while in college," says Dean Keppel, "the junior year seems to be the critical period. 87 men reporting their decision in that year, as against 12 in the Freshmen, 38 in the Sophomore and 63 in the Senior year." Mr. Keppel shows that 22 per cent enroll themselves in the business world; Law is next with 13 per cent and engineering with 9 per cent. 6 and 5 per cent go into medicine and ministry respectively. The rest go into different pursuits. No one admits that he intends to make his living in politics.

The student body of the University of South Carolina has put a ban upon drinking, and the use of profanity by any student while on the athletic field, whether he be player or bystander.—Ex.

The 22nd of March has been given to the student body as a holiday. On that day the Seniors in connection with the Sophomores and the Juniors with the Freshmen, have prepared beautiful flower beds on the campus of the University at the new site. The purpose of the holiday is to create in the minds of the new students a desire of construction, and to remind the old students of the sacrifice and efforts that they underwent to start T. C. U. on the upward road to a greater future than was ever dreamed of before. It is hoped that the day will be remembered as a day of construction for T. C. U., for even though it is the day of the burning, it was also on the same day that the faculty and representative students formulated plans for the carrying on of work under the most unfavorable circumstances. And from that first move, an upward tendency has shown a steady onward march for the old school that is so dearly loved.

It has been the plan of the Texas Christian University to be courteous to all visiting athletic teams. To be courteous is to treat them as gentlemen. By this we do not want you to understand that you are to go on the field with any sympathy for their desire to win the game, but do all that is possible to defeat them on the field, and meet them without personal remarks. Then when the contest is closed, the hospitality of T. C. U. should be open to these visitors as guests of ours. A number of the games in the immediate future will be played here, and it is expected that every one will even improve on the past standing.

A majority of T. C. U. have formed the habit of putting off things until the last possible chance. It matters not what the preparation may be. Whether it is preparing a theme, studying for examinations, or handing copy to the Skiff, there is always a delay. It is not that the student intends to do so, but that he allows himself to be so wrapped up by procrastination that he finds himself under the control of shiftlessness, instead of punctuality. It is important to remember that there is only one time to do a thing; that it will take as long to do the task late, as it does soon, and that it is as well done soon as it is done late.

The only thing lacking in the school or ours today is the high regard for scholarship; that should be the aim in view. But instead of that it is somewhat scorned at to have it said that he is working to excel in his classes. It should be the aim of every student to strive to not allow any one else, in his collegiate class, rank higher than he does in any department of the University. The aim, too often is, generally, the credits, and not the scholarship. It is true that the classics are not so widely required as of old, but the scholarship in the Universities is none the less important.

"Be sure you are right and then go ahead." This is a simple motto, but after thought, it proves to include much. The thorough satisfaction of knowing what you are doing, and the determination to carry out the plans that you know to be right is worth more to one than gold itself, for it means not only gold but everything that one desires.

BASEBALL AT SHERMAN

lege it was three up and three down while T. C. U. got men on in every inning except one, but no one could deliver the pinch hit. In the eighth Williams hit for three bases and scored on a single by Wetzel.

Gough made his first appearance in Varsity uniform and showed up well, making two good catches and beating out a bunt. Cullen Graves' fielding was a feature. Roy Morton made a splendid catch of a long drive in outer field. Bettison was out of the game Tuesday on account of a sprained ankle in Monday's game

Oh! You Soph.

To a Soph, as he was weeping,
With his head upon his arms,
For a brother Soph who'd vanished
From this earth with all its charms,

Said Old Satan, as he panted,
From his swift flight from below—
"Why are you thus weeping?
Why this anguish and this woe?"

"I am weeping," said the cad one,
As he looked through tears of brine,
"I am weeping for a brother,
For a brother Soph of mine.

"For his aim and chief ambition

Was a brave fire chief to be.
Now he's dead and cannot do it;
That is why I'm sad, you see."

And old Satan, that tormentor,
Of the poor souls of the dead,
Gave him news of the departed;
And these words are what he said:

"How I wish I had more like him—
He's the best I've ever got,
And he makes the imps get busy;
Yes, he's down there where it's hot.

On that fiery lake of brimstone,
There I left him on the shore;
He had reached his aspiration—
Dry your eyes and weep no more."

The Boys Played Well But Have Not
 Gotten Together Good Yet.

The "Scrubs" were defeated Monday afternoon in their first game of ball played this season by North Fort Worth High School.

The many errors made by the "Scrubs" and their failure to hit the ball when hits meant runs, was the cause of their defeat. Crunk pitched good ball, allowing only two hits, (but the poor support of his teammates allowed the High School boys to run bases at their will.

Holmes at first, although playing a new position, was steady all through the game. Horne covered all the territory around short and secured the only extra base hit off Stegall.

Stegall allowed only three hits and had our boys baffled during the entire game, and was given splendid support by his teammates, who hit the ball when hits were needed.

Foster and McGregor played good ball at second and short, tagging the runners out as fast as they attempted to steal. McGregor lead his teammates in hitting, securing a single and two two-base hits. McDuff proved himself a good catcher by his steadiness and headwork. He also has a good peg, not allowing a single stolen base.

At the close of the ninth the score stood 7 to 3.

The 22nd of March has been given to the student body as a holiday. On that day the Seniors in connection with the Sophomores and the Juniors with the Freshmen, have prepared beautiful flower beds on the campus of the University at the new site. The purpose of the holiday is to create in the minds of the new students a desire of construction, and to remind the old students of the sacrifice and efforts that they underwent to start T. C. U. on the upward road to a greater future than was ever dreamed of before. It is hoped that the day will be remembered as a day of construction for T. C. U., for even though it is the day of the burning, it was also on the same day that the faculty and representative students formulated plans for the carrying on of work under the most unfavorable circumstances. And from that first move, an upward tendency has shown a steady onward march for the old school that is so dearly loved.

It has been the plan of the Texas Christian University to be courteous to all visiting athletic teams. To be courteous is to treat them as gentlemen. By this we do not want you to understand that you are to go on the field with any sympathy for their desire to win the game, but do all that is possible to defeat them on the field, and meet them without personal remarks. Then when the contest is closed, the hospitality of T. C. U. should be open to these visitors as guests of ours. A number of the games in the immediate future will be played here, and it is expected that every one will even improve on the past standing.

A majority of T. C. U. have formed the habit of putting off things until the last possible chance. It matters not what the preparation may be. Whether it is preparing a theme, studying for examinations, or handing copy to the Skiff, there is always a delay. It is not that the student intends to do so, but that he allows himself to be so wrapped up by procrastination that he finds himself under the control of shiftlessness, instead of punctuality. It is important to remember that there is only one time to do a thing; that it will take as long to do the task late, as it does soon, and that it is as well done soon as it is done late.

The only thing lacking in the school or ours today is the high regard for scholarship; that should be the aim in view. But instead of that it is somewhat scorned at to have it said that he is working to excel in his classes. It should be the aim of every student to strive to not allow any one else, in his collegiate class, rank higher than he does in any department of the University. The aim, too often is, generally, the credits, and not the scholarship. It is true that the classics are not so widely required as of old, but the scholarship in the Universities is none the less important.

"Be sure you are right and then go ahead." This is a simple motto, but after thought, it proves to include much. The thorough satisfaction of knowing what you are doing, and the determination to carry out the plans that you know to be right is worth more to one than gold itself, for it means not only gold but everything that one desires.

BASEBALL AT SHERMAN

lege it was three up and three down while T. C. U. got men on in every inning except one, but no one could deliver the pinch hit. In the eighth Williams hit for three bases and scored on a single by Wetzel.

Gough made his first appearance in Varsity uniform and showed up well, making two good catches and beating out a bunt. Cullen Graves' fielding was a feature. Roy Morton made a splendid catch of a long drive in outer field. Bettison was out of the game Tuesday on account of a sprained ankle in Monday's game

And his beautiful socks on view,
And a foolish round hat on the top of his head
With a band of gorgeous hue;
And forty class-pins stuck in his chest
That he got at his dear prep school—
I paw the sward and I say, Oh Lord,
Will I ever be that big a fool?

Oh! You Soph.

To a Soph, as he was weeping,
With his head upon his arms,
For a brother Soph who'd vanished
From this earth with all its carms,

Said Old Satan, as he panted,
From his swift flight from below—
"Why are you thus weeping?
Why this anguish and this woe?"

"I am weeping," said the cad one,
As he looked through tears of brine,
"I am weeping for a brother,
For a brother Soph of mine.

"For his aim and chief ambition

Was a brave fire chief to be.
Now he's dead and cannot do it;
That is why I'm sad, you see."

And old Satan, that tormentor,
Of the poor souls of the dead,
Gave him news of the departed;
And these words are what he said:

"How I wish I had more like him—
He's the best I've ever got,
And he makes the imps get busy;
Yes, he's down there where it's hot.

On that fiery lake of brimstone,
There I left him on the shore;
He had reached his aspiration—
Dry your eyes and weep no more."

SCRUBS VS FT. WORTH

SECOND NINE WERE UP AGAINST A GOOD TEAM WITH NORTH
 FORT WORTH

THE HIGH SCHOOL LEADS

The Boys Played Well and Have Not
 Gotten Together Good Yet.

The "Scrubs" were defeated Monday afternoon in their first game of ball played this season by North Fort Worth High School.

The many errors made by the "Scrubs" and their failure to hit the ball when hits meant runs, was the cause of their defeat. Crunk pitched good ball, allowing only two hits, but the poor support of his teammates allowed the High School boys to run bases at their will.

Holmes at first, although playing a new position, was steady all through the game. Horne covered all the territory around short and secured the only extra base hit off Stegall.

Stegall allowed only three hits and had our boys baffled during the entire game, and was given splendid support by his teammates, who hit the ball when hits were needed.

Foster and McGregor played good ball at second and short, tagging the runners out as fast as they attempted to steal. McGregor lead his teammates in hitting, securing a single and two two-base hits. McDuff proved himself a good catcher by his steadiness and headwork. He also has a good peg, not allowing a single stolen base.

At the close of the ninth the score stood 7 to 3.

Score by innings—

Second Game.

Encouraged over their good showing in Thursday's game, Poly came back Friday with more confidence and a determination to win, but getting shut out two to nothing. The highlight interfered somewhat and caused the game to appear a little lifeless. Nevertheless the game was close and at times very interesting. No spectacular plays were made. Haislip was never in danger except in the third and sixth innings and with the assistance of some fast fielding pulled through safely.

Neither side scored until the sixth inning. Cooper hit for one base, went to second and came to third on Renshaw's wild throw and came home when Patton overthrew third. In the next inning Lamonica hit for two bases and scored on a two-bagger by Sorey.
