T.C.U. CHURCH FORMED

Rev. J. C. Mason, of Dallas, State Secretary, Delivers the Sermon.

CHURCH OFFICERS ELECTED

Questions Regarding Pastor to be Settled Later.

At last the expected and much needed University church is organized and has become a real factor in the college life at Texas Christian University.

Last Sunday night at the call of President Frederick D. Kershner, Rev. J. C. Mason, Secretary of the Christian Churches of Texas, preached a sermon and officiated at the organization of the Texas Christian University Church. This call was sent out by the President after a long discussion of people interested and after a thorough understanding was arrived at that T. C. U. was much in need of the church.

Brother Mason's sermon was especially adapted to this occasion of organizing a new church. It was filled with good sound instruction concerning the church, its organization and duty. Brother Mason's visit and assistance in this matter was much appreciated by the students as well as by the university authorities.

Besides the sermon and the business of organization the communion service was observed, according to our custom of last year, for the benefit of those who did not attend church services in the city in the morning.

No definite announcements concerning the church services and the business of securing a university pastor can be made until the return of President Kershner, except simply that there will be services here next Sunday night.

With Rev. Mason presiding the new church last Sunday night elected the following students and faculty members to serve the church in the capacities indicated:

FOR ELDERS:—Pres. F. D. Kershner, Dean W. B. Parks, Prof. W. T. Hamner, Prof. C. I. Alexander.

FOR DEACONS:—Grover W. Stewart, George Mabee, Willis Stovall, Clifton Ferguson, Gordon B. McFarland, Chalmers M. Livsey, Carl Tomlinson, Dean Waller.

FOR CHURCH CLERK:—George Mabee.

FOR DEACONESSES:—Miss Lela Odell, Miss Grace Mason, Miss Willie Thetford, Mrs. Jessie Nye.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PROGRAM

Interesting Discussions Were Heard on the Home Mission Question.

We are glad to say that T. C. U. students, not only demonstrate their college spirit on the athletic field, but rally to every activity that is of interest in the institution. This was clearly shown by the large attendance at Sunday School, the first coming together.

The Superintendent of last year, W. C. Ferguson, arranged a special program for the morning, bearing on Home Missions; the city of Chicago was the specific place discussed. The special talks of the morning were given by Professors Exley and Alexander, who are both just from Chicago, where they have been in school.

Prof. Exley told something of the social problems to be met with in such a great city. Prof. Alexander gave statistics showing the vast amount of foreigners that were in Chicago, necessitating great missionary work there.

After the devotional exercises in the chapel, the classes passed to their regular class rooms, where they were met by the teachers of last year. After the accustomed organization, a brief period was devoted to mission study. The collections from each class was given to Home Missions.

The prospects are very bright for a large and enthusiastic Sunday School in T. C. U. New officers for the coming session are to be elected soon. On account of not being able to announce about the morning services at the University, the hour for Sunday School can not yet be definitely made, but will be placed on the bulletin board during the week.

Remembering T. C. U. In Their Wills.

BY W. M. WILLIAMS.

As Christian men and women of means come to consider the their departure from this life, after seeing those dependent upon them are provided for, they naturally want to make some provision for the public good, such as the establishment and endowment of schools. And no better and more needed deed can be done. In this connection we are glad to say that a number of noble spirits have already remembered Texas Christian University in their wills. And others are contemplating doing so. The one who endows a chair or scholarship, or contributes to the endowment or dormitory funds thus provides a permanent blessing for humanity long after the donor's grave has been forgotten. Not long since a well-to-do brother said to the Endowment Secretary, W. M. Williams, "I have no children to continue my work in the church when I'm dead; and I mean to make provision in my will for a permanent fund in Texas Christian University, the interest of which will keep at least three girls in school every year; and I will mail you a memorandum of this provision."

The following form should be used by persons desiring to bequeath property to the University:

I hereby give and bequeath to Texas Christian University, located at Ft. Worth, County of Tarrant, State of Texas, the sum of _____ dollars, to be used (here state for what, if any, particular purpose, it is to be used. If the bequest is in real estate, it should be carefully described. Be particular about conforming to the laws of your state.)

SOCIETIES ENTERTAIN

Joint Reception Given Wednesday Night by Shirleys and Waltons.

DANIEL RECEIVES MEDAL

Large Number of Students Enjoy the Occasion.

The annual joint reception of the Shirley and Walton Literary Societies, which was postponed from last Friday night, took place Wednesday night. For the school as well as for the societies which gave it, the reception was a great event. New and old students were given their first opportunity to mingle and converse and thus to know each other. New friends were made for the societies and several cases of homesickness were doubtless cured.

The reception was held in the regular society halls of these two organizations with the addition of the music faculty studios. This place was found to be ideal, because of the amount of room and the ease of decorating. The Shirleys and Waltons are to be congratulated for their foresight upon selecting this place and thus enabling practically every student to attend and then have plenty of room to carry out completely the program for the evening. The university is also fortunate in having under its wing two such live organizations as the Shirleys and Waltons who can so successfully entertain the new students and thus make the new surroundings of the university students more home-like and attractive.

SHIRLEY MEDAL PRESENTED.

One of the first features of the program was the presentation of the Shirley medal. This prize is awarded each year by T. E. Shirley, of Hereford, a prominent patron and ardent supporter of the school, to the member of the Shirley Literary Society which does the most proficient work in the society and holds the highest grades in his literary work. Milton E. Daniel, a graduate of last year, and prominent in T. C. U. as an all-round college man, being an athlete, splendid student, leader in literary society work, orator and a prominent social factor, was the winner of this medal for the year 1912 and was awarded the prize at this occasion. Clifton Ferguson, at present president of the Shirley Literary Society, presented the medal with a brief but enthusiastic address concerning the medal, the donor and what the prize stood for. Mr. Daniel received the coveted medal very gracefully and rising upon the chair which Mr. Ferguson had occupied, briefly expressed his deep appreciation.

THE TONGUE DANCE.

Following this the remaining program for the evening was explained. This consisted of a "tongue dance" in which each person present should secure dates for the different "sets." Each set lasted five minutes. The "dance" was merely a period spent by each couple in conversation using the subjects as they appeared upon the printed program in order. Some of the most interesting subjects were, "My Mother's Chickens," "Homesickness," "Coach Stewart," and Shirley-Walton pepper."

The large well seated rooms used for this part of the program helped to make the occasion very pleasant. Each room was also fitted with a piano and groups were usually seen around these instruments joyfully singing or listening to instrumental music.

OTHER FEATURES OF THE PROGRAM.

Many "dances" or periods of conversations seemed rarely successful for some of the couples were seen to have arranged for "extras," some adding as many as two or three of these besides the last "regular dance." Even the most bashful Freshmen seemed to find plenty to say to the strange girls, so home-like and pleasant was the atmosphere.

A very popular place towards the closing part of the evening, was the

A MINISTERIAL RECEPTION

Faculty of Bible Department Royally Entertains Student Preachers.

The faculty of the Bible College of Texas Christian University took the initiative last Monday evening in a movement for the help of students in this department which has been needed for some time. Invitations were sent out from the secretary of the faculty to all the ministerial students to be present at seven-thirty at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Sutton. Gladly the boys responded and a large company were treated to a rarely pleasant and profitable social meeting. The purpose of the gathering, as stated by one of the faculty, was to aid the ministerial department to "gain identity", and by another, to enable the students in this department to know each other.

Altogether successful was the meeting in all these ends. The new and old ministerial students met and talked with each other and with their directors in the class room. A good social time was thus enjoyed. But not all the time was spent thus. Members of the faculty and students addressed those assembled regarding our common interests and responsibilities. The very highest and noblest impulses and desires reigned in every heart and each individual was made to understand each other individual better. Ties of friendship were made and tight ended. Students struggling with this or that problem or with hindrances toward their ambition to get an education, were strengthened and made to know the large number and strength of their friends, assistants and admirers. Indeed the atmosphere was altogether wholesome.

Some Things that Happened

After a short time was spent in general conversation it was suggested that

Library Notes

The library was thoroughly fumigated during the summer months. Formaldehyde were used, as this is the best and quickest way of killing any kind of a germ that might exist. As hundreds use this room during the season, we take all necessary steps in keeping the library in a perfect sanitary condition.

We are badly in need of shelf room, but think before very long this will be provided for as a friend of the University is working to secure us book-cases from a friend. Gifts are daily being made and we are glad for it is showing are very remarkable growth.

Grady W. Twyman, one of the old students who, after being out two years, returned to be with us again. He is moving from the temporary quarters he occupied at the home of Mr. Roberts to a room on the 4th floor of the administration building.

In order to make the Skiff a representative paper the editors are anxious to get hold of news, jokes or other interesting matter first hand. For the convenience of all a little black tin box labeled "The Skiff" hangs just under the bulletin board in the main hall of the administration building. When you hear any news or especially when you get a good joke, drop it in the Skiff box. This means you.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES.

In T. C. U. we have felt the lack of proper religious feeling and influence since our move from Waco. This has been absolutely unavoidable on account of various handicaps until the present time. But definite efforts are now being made and results are already being realized towards creating a more popular interest in these matters. The University church, which has been so much needed, is organized. The Sunday School has made a promising start towards the high goal which has been set for it. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are more active and influential than these organizations have been in some years. Religiously as well as otherwise the year ahead of us looks bright and prosperous in T. C. U.

It is easy to see that the leaders in each of the above mentioned organizations and also those of others not mentioned, are doing altogether all in their power for their needed advancement in things religious. We would like to call the attention of every new student and of all the somewhat inactive old students to this fact, and to remind them that it is time for them to get busy. For your own good and for the influence that you will have upon your new made friends in the school and because of the pleasure it will give your home folks and friends away who are expecting much of you, get into the harness and do a piece of work along this line. You can easily find a place. Let the leaders of these organizations know where you want to be placed and what you want to do. You will get the opportunity without doubt.

The boys at Goode Hall very much appreciate the free telephone which Business Manager, Dacus, has placed in the office at the Hall for their use. It is much more conveniently located and proves more useful than the old pay station.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas: In the providence of Almighty God Mrs. Kershner, the wife of our Class Professor, Frederick D. Kershner, has gone to her eternal home, be it resolved:

First: that we, as members of the Senior Class of 1913, extend our deepest regret and heartfelt sympathy to him and others who mourn her loss.

Second: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, to the Christian Courier, to the Christian Standard, to the Christian Evangelist and to the Skiff.

Third: That a copy of these resolutions be placed in the minutes of the Senior Class of 1913.

CHARLES H. BUSSEY,
Committee: GRACE HACKNEY.

Claude Wingo, who was somewhat seriously ill for a few days the early part of the week, has recovered sufficiently to be able to attend classes and to do his work.

Mr. Oliver, one of the Goode Hall boys, spent the week end at his home in Cleburne.

Prof. Eubanks, director of the College of Business, reports, that work is going along nicely in that department and that such a large number reported Tuesday morning for work in the department that it became necessary to provide more seats and desks to accommodate the students. A number of students have been visiting the department from the city with a view of taking work.

Roy Morton, an old star on the baseball field of T. C. U., was out cheering the football boys Wednesday.

Miss Walcot, who intended to enter school here, left Monday for Kentucky where she attended school last year. She gave Mrs. McKinney a nice rug for the back parlor. This gift is certainly appreciated by all the girls.

You get two subscriptions of the Skiff, one for yourself and the other for your folks at home for $1.75. We pay postage.

CLARK LITERARY SOCIETY.

The first program of the Clark Literary Society was held Monday morning. The hall was filled to the utmost, with visitors, most of whom are soon to become active Clark workers.

As is the custom, the Clarks are expecting to do great things this year, for with the excellent material from last year and the remarkable talent coming in no other but good work could be done.

Every new girl who has not already identified herself with some society should first visit the Clarks and enquire into the kind of work the society is doing. A cordial invitation is extended to all to visit Clark Literary Society Monday morning. The following program will be rendered:

MONDAY SEPT. 23RD.

Piano Solo - Katherine Riter.

Vocal Solo - Grace Hackney.
Reading - Lela Odell.
A Romantic Adventure, Vista Woods.
Violin Solo - Mrs. Collins.

ART DEPARTMENT NEWS MATTER.

An important event at the Art room was the visit paid us Saturday by young Master Vardeman Brokaw Cockrell, the seven-months-old son of Professor and Mrs. E. R. Cockrell.

Miss Lonnie Cummings has accepted the place of Assistant Art Instructor in the department for the year.

An unusually large enrollment has already been secured and work is progressing nicely. A number are drawing from still life and casts. A few have started china painting.

Mrs. Cockrell is much pleased with the location of the Art rooms and with the views which are commanded from the art room windows. The art rooms are looking splendidly and old students of the university are looking forward with interest to the splendid receptions which they know Mrs. Cockrell always arranges.

Miss Sue Webb, president of The Brushes of last year, and a graduate of the department in '11, and post graduate student in '12, was here at the opening and assisted us to get started.

Joe Murray, an old student of the department, was a frequent visitor the first week of school. He has returned to his musical work at Sulphur Springs.

The Brushes expect to meet soon for reorganization.

Freshmen Class Elections.

The facts about the meeting of the Freshmen class last Friday are as follows:

Basil A. Hayes was elected president; Charles Walton, Vice President; Miss Eileen Copeland, Secretary; Miss Lola McFarland, Treasurer; J. Homer Wallace, Sargent-at-arms; Luke Ray Athletic Council Representative.

At this point in the election business had to stop because it was time for the class room where the meeting was held to be in use. A committee was appointed, however, to submit their choice of class color and class motto at the meeting. The president also states that a class professor will be elected at the next meeting.

Laying all jokes aside about the Freshmen, they have showed much wisdom in the selection of their president and other officers. Mr. Hayes is a member of the office force and has already shown his ability in many lines. No better man in all this large class could have been found for this leading place. To start the year with, the Skiff compliments the Freshmen on their judgement.

George Mabey and Mr. Hayes, the faithful student clerks in the business office, have been shut out from class work altogether, but were seen at one or two classes today. The extra work and jam at the opening is especially burdensome on these men.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Mr. B. H. Simpson, a liberal patron of the university, was out Saturday looking to business interests.

"Redwater" Anderson, famous in the years gone by as a line buckler for varsity and a great yell leader, was a guest at the dining hall Sunday.

Old students are much pleased with the food which we are getting at the dining hall. New ones may think it nothing remarkable, but if they had been here before, they too, would be rejoicing. Our new cook gets things up in a shape really edible.

Clyde Keithly, a student and a member of the office force last year, was over from Dallas Sunday. Keithly is working in a wholesale house and will not return to school this year.

Will Massie, of the class of '11, known to all the veterans as a star football center and captain, was over from Dallas Sunday. He is much pleased at the football outlook.

Miss Elizabeth Higginbotham '11, of Ennis, Tex., has been elected as Latin teacher in the Handley High school.

Sunday one of the electric light globes in the parlor of the Girls Home, was broken in many pieces. It happened so suddenly, that none can tell exactly how it came about. It was noticeable that the girls near were a bit scared.

Harriette Shirley, '12, left Sunday for Ladonia to visit relatives.

Catherine Dodd, to Margaret, "Say, Street was just as pale when he made that first announcement and his hands were AWFUL cold!"

Miss Lita Pitts, an old student of the University and a graduate from the Musical department in '10, visited friends here Monday. Miss Pitts will teach again this year in Windom.

Thurman Allen, a merchant at Coleman and a graduate with the class of '10, was here Tuesday. He subscribed for the Skiff.

Niss Aileen Copeland visited relatives in the city Sunday.

Miss Mable Baldwin '12 has accepted a position in the Haskell High School.

Miss Sue Webb has returned to her home in Mart Texas.

The rules and regulations of Jarvis Hall have been given to the old and new girls alike. The new girls will have to be demerited before they realize that Mrs. McKinney intends to enforce them.

Miss Johnnie Agnew of Bonham, who has just returned from New York, is back again attending school.

Miss Jack Baldwin spent the weekend with Miss Frankie Milier. She reports a delightful time.

Miss Marina Stiles of Thrall is a recent matriculate.

Fronnie Clausell, who has been visiting in the University, returned to her home in Albany Texas. She goes hoping to be back with us the next term.

It is rumored that the phone in Goode Hall is strictly for business. The boys can neither talk to the town girls nor the girls in Jarvis Hall—over the phone.

Kathleen Gibson has returned to her home in Waxahachie, Texas.

The faculty according to the custom of the past kindly allowed the Skiff management the major part of the chapel period Tuesday in which to acquaint the students with the mission of the Skiff and to give them an opportunity to subscribe for it. A large number of subscriptions were secured. Prof. Cockrell made a splendid talk urging the students to support their college paper. The Skiff management much appreciates the opportunity given them and the success which was met with.

The Mission Study class held its regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30. It was led by Maxie Mae Mason. The discussion was the first chapter in John R. Mott's "Decisive Hour of Christian Missions." As there were not enough books for all the class only a few were able to take part in the discussion. In a few days the books will be here and we hope to have a large number in this study of missions.

Dear T. C. U. has never looked so good before; Why, everybody brought back one and then some more. The rooms in all the halls are filled up to the brim, And chances for one more would be a little slim.

We have a faculty that you can't go around;

A livelier, better student body can't be found.

We have the best old team that we have ever had.

With them, fast men that have the weight are quite a fad.

The very best that's in each man is what we stress;

The whole thing looks just like one rich and huge success.

But best of all we have a bunch that has the pep.

Now, if you want a winning bunch just watch us step.

Highsmith Surprised.

Wednesday morning J. E. Defee approached Robert A. Highsmith to tell him that he had found a valuable article of jewelry which belonged to the latter student. After pursuing the conversation Highsmith was glad indeed to learn that Defee had found a medal which he had lost six years before when he was leaving the Fort Worth University and starting to Louisiana for his vacation. The prize was a neat gold medal and bore the inscription, "R. A. Highsmith, For Excellence in Scholarship and Department. Marlow High School."

Truly Highsmith was surprised to regain his long lost and much prized medal, but the greatest surprise about the whole thing is that Highsmith could ever have been so well behaved a youth as to have won a medal for "Excellence in DEPARTMENT."

A Ministerial Reception.

A fitting beginning to the meeting would be "All Hail the Power Of Jesus' Name" be used. A lustier and more healthy sound could hardly be imagined than those boys made. There was really good music to it, too, good music because every one present enjoyed the sentiment and sang without timidity and with ease. Dr. O. L. Lyon then lead the hearts of the audience in prayer. Following this Secretary of the Bible faculty, Rev. Owers, gave a brief and infomal address of welcome to the young ministers in behalf of the faculty. This duty fell upon the Secretary in the absence of the President, F. D. Kershner. Regret was expressed at various times during the evening at the forced absence of President Kershner.

A much enjoyed feature of the evening was the short talk made by Prof. H. T. Sutton by way of welcoming the young ministers to his home.

Before general conversation was resumed by the members of the company a number of those present were called upon to make impromptu talks on things of common interest. Dr. Lockhart, Prof. Exley, Rev. Smith, and Dr. Lyon responded with timely and spirited remarks all bearing upon the responsibility of the ministry as a calling and of the life of the student minister.

A number of students were also asked to talk. Among those who responded to these calls were Thomas J. Dean, Pres of the Ministerial Association, a student organization, W. Jones of London Eng. and H. Grady Twyman, an old student but for two years out of school.

As a crowning act of the occasion Mrs Sutton, with the assistance of Mesdames Lockhart, Lyon and Owers and Miss Sutton, served refreshments. While the re past was being enjoyed by the preacher boys and others present, many complimentary remarks were heard about "those generous slices of cake" and "that splendid chockolate".

The happy company parted closer and better friends and with hopes for the success of the ministerial department of the university.

among men—he is the man who will develop these above mentioned men into one of the best football teams of the State. He already has the love and respect of every man on the squad, his word is a law to be obeyed and none thinks of disobeying.

And the student body—T. C. U. student body—the grandest in the state, has the "pep," believes in our football men, believes in our coach, and has already manifested a spirit of loyalty and devotion to both, which bespeaks, for the future, things only heretofore dreamed of. At a meeting of the student body last week, after a few short speeches by the coach, the business manager and some of the older students, over $200 was pledged in a very few minutes, and the manager reports that the majority of this has already been paid in, and he feels sure that the remainder will come in very shortly. That's what you call "pep"—that is the old T. C. U. spirit that you have heard so much about in days gone by and which is going to help carry our boys on to victory many times over before the season is past.

The new gray Jerseys, mole skin pants and purple and white socks will be here by Saturday, is the statement of Captain Ware. And all those who have been working under the difficulty of not having a full uniform will be furnished complete. And the men who are to represent T. C. U. allowed to get accustomed to their new strapings before the regular schedule opens, Saturday, Sept. 28, with the Britton Training school at Cisco, Texas.

The smiling face of "Grits" Anderson can be seen almost every evening cheering and encouraging the squad. "Grits" has the old time "pep" for T. C. U.

punch bowl which every one seemed to find with little guidance. Miss Libbie Wade and Miss Grace Mason presided over this popular resort assisted by Terry King and Noland Williams. The punch was well supplied with grape juice and fruit and was truly delicious.

It was a somewhat late hour before Mrs. McKinney was able to get her girls together and assemble them at Jarvis Hall. They were all much appreciative of the efforts of the Shirleys and Waltons and most especially of certain new "friends" they had made. It is hardly known what became of the boys, but somehow they were lost sight of after the girls were gone.

Notes From the Ministerial Bureau.

The Secretary visited Frisco last Sunday and secured work for William Jones who will preach there once a month. Positions have been secured for Grover Stewart at Ferris, Grady Twyman, at Third Ave. Dallas, and J. E. Evans. Arrangements have been made with another church, but the student has not been selected yet to supply.

We expect to place every student who can preach, in a church during the next few weeks.

Senior Class Active.

At a meeting of the Senior class early this week Charles Bussey, editor-in-chief of the Annual, told the class of his plans regarding the Horned Frog and announced his staff, as it had been selected. He stated that there would possibly be additions to the number already selected. The class as a whole has evinced much interest in this all-important T. C. U. publication and especially have Editor Bussey and Managers Camp and Parks shown much activity. T. C. U. has much promise of a splendid annual.

Before the meeting was adjourned Will McFarland was elected by the class athletic council representative. He was sent immediately to his post of duty before the class adjourned, for a meeting was already in progress of the council.

Mr. W. Jones, the ministerial student from England, is making some good friends in T. C. U. and he says that he is very much pleased with the outlook in this country. We are glad to have him in the institution and trust that he will encourage others to cross the water for T. C. U.

With The Waltons.

Last Monday morning the Walton Literary Society gave its first regular program for the school year, 1912-13. There was music and welcome for the new students. Miss Wade rendered a very characteristic dose of The Real Walton Pepper, beginning it with the Walton song and closing with "fifteen" for Waltons and Shirleys. The new Waltons were represented by Misses Clara Clanton and Roberta Scott. After the program two Walton graduates, Misses McNeil and Gibson, spoke enthusiastically. They were followed by some Shirleys; Messrs. Cox, Ferguson, Camp and Daniel, whose talks resulted in making the well crowded hall resound again with hearty cheers for old Shirley and Walton.

In the business meeting which followed a goodly number of names of our new girls were presented for membership and the Waltons adjourned feeling that their year's work for stronger literary life in T. C. U. was well begun.

Don't forget the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, 7 P. M. An interesting program will be given and all students are urged to be present.
