MISS HENDERSON GRADUATES IN MUSIC

Miss Elizabeth Henderson Graduates With Honors---Program is a Decided Success---Two Graduate this Year

The Conservatory of Music of the Texas Christian University presented Miss Elizabeth Henderson, pupil of Mr. F. Arthur Johnson, in her graduation recital last Thursday, May 22. The recital was undoubtedly one of the best things that has been given in the auditorium this year. Miss Henderson is a young lady whose accomplishments are worthy of any amount of praise, and of T. C. U. is and ought to be proud. Her recital spoke of genius which was well backed by much hard work and preparation. Mr. Johnson stated that he had graduated only a very few who were as accomplished and who were as worthy as Miss Henderson.

There are two graduates in music this year, Miss Elizabeth Henderson and Miss McXie Mae Mason. The program for the evening was as follows:

PROGRAM

- I.
- Sonata Op. 13.....Beethoven
- Grave
- Allegro di molto e con brio
- Adagio Cantabile
- Rondo, Allegro
- II.
- a. Hunting Song, Op. 86, No 3. S. Heller
- b. Magic Fire from The Ring of the Nibelungen. Brassin-Wagner
- III.
- a. Etude Op. 25, No. 9.....Chopin
- b. Etude Op. 25, No. 8.....Chopin
- c. Ballade Op. 47.....Chopin
- IV.

- b. Scherzetto Op. 65, No. 3.....Herrmann Scholtz
- c. Rondo Capriccioso, Op. 14.....Mendelssohn

THE TRACK TEAM

There was a meeting of the track team in the chapel last Wednesday. At this meeting Mr. Charles Bassler was placed in charge of the track team for next year. After his nomination Mr. Bassler made a short talk on the prospects for the team next year. We will have some genuine good material back and are planning on some good new stuff for the next year's team. This year's T. C. U. team was a clean moral bunch of winners, and had a man who is a good worker and leader at their head.

The prospects for next year's team are the best we have had in sometime, for Mr. Bassler is a splendid athlete as well as a good leader and organizer. He will have the advantage of Street's labor this year, and there seems to be a great deal of spirit among the students for a better track team in T. C. U.

W. L. MELLINGER SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Speaks of Our Relations to Mexico and Gives Historical Reasons for Feeling Toward U. S.

Mr. Mellinger, who has charge of the C. W. B. M. station in Monterey, Mexico, gave a splendid talk to the students in chapel. He has been in that country for some years and has had an opportunity to study the men across the border. He spoke to the chapel on the feelings of the Mexican toward the United States and their people. He also stated that there was a reason why they should hate our citizens more than any other race or nationality of people. By a brief review of history he showed how the United States had accomplished the feat of acquiring one-half of the territory which that country once owned and controlled. Mexico, he said, was expecting the United States to join their entire state. But being loyal to their government they hate to see that day come, and naturally dislike the people who at one time got half their territory, and whom they expect to sooner or later get the other half.

He closed with a very pretty scene during the war period when the people were expecting to call for aid from the United States troops. The Mexican band played low and sweet the American national hymns.

The address was highly appreciated by all of the students and gave them a better insight to the way Mexicans feel toward the citizens of the United States. We would be glad to have the gentleman with us again, for we feel he is a good and powerful man. He goes from here to Cotner University, of which he is a graduate, to deliver the commencement address.

PLEASANT VISITORS

Buddie Couch, Snob Bosler, Possum McNamara, Dycus Wooliver and Dulch Fullison were all very pleasant and welcome visitors in the department of Mr. Billy McFarland and Mr. Arabian Rattan. The evening was a very pleasant one. The remarkable feature of this meeting is that it has never happened before and there is no prospect of it occurring again.

Miss Emma Gibson spent the week end with her sister, Margaret.

Miss Sidney King has returned from Comanche, Texas, where she has been teaching school the past year. We are indeed glad to have her back with us.

Miss Juanita Kinsey spent Tuesday night in the city with Mrs. W. P. Bowdry.

Willie Ben Irby of Weatherford, Texas, spent Monday and Tuesday with Grace Hackney.

MISS AULT GIVES MUSICAL RECITAL

She Was Assisted by Mr. J. A. Ault and Mr. H. R. Techau---Program is Unique and Much Appreciated

The music lovers of T. C. U. were given a real, genuine treat in purely classical music, on last Wednesday evening, when Miss Ault, assisted by her father, Mr. J. A. Ault, and Mr. H. R. Techau, gave a classical recital in the University auditorium. T. C. U. is indeed proud of the fact that we have a musical faculty which is able to afford a program as efficient and truly classical as this one was. Miss Ault is really an accomplished violinist and is to be complimented on her splendid work.

The program was not as well attended by the students as it should have been. There is no doubt that no man's education is fully completed until he has fully prepared himself to appreciate classical music. This program was one that every person in the University would have profited by from hearing. It was truly uplifting and inspiring in every detail.

The following is the program for the recital:

PROGRAM

- I.
- Serenade.....Von Bausnern
- For Violin, Clarinet, and Piano.
- Tranquillo grazioso,
- Vivace assai,
- Piu tranquillo,
- Scherzoso.
- Miss Ault, Mr. Ault, Mr. Techau.
- II.
- Scherzo, Op. 31.....Chopin
- Miss Ault.
- III.
- Concerto Romantique.....Godard
- Allegro Moderato,
- Recitativo-Adagio non troppo,
- Allegro Moderato.
- Miss Ault.
- IV.
- Les Preludes.....Liszt
- Symphonic Poem for two pianos.
- Miss Ault, Mr. Techau.

SUMMER NORMAL OPENS JUNE 16

T. C. U. to be in Session Until August 2 Prof. Kinsey in Charge---Educators of Tarrant County Will Assist

The Summer Normal and School of the Texas Christian University will begin June 16. The Normal will close July 31. The School will be in session until August 2. Prof. John W. Kinsey will conduct both the Normal and the school.

Ten teachers will be in charge of the Normal. Besides the regular teachers at the University, a number of Tarrant county educators will assist in the teaching. Among them are Prof. Lee M. Hammond, superintendent of schools at Lindale and former superintendent of public education in Tarrant county; Prof. V. A. Byrd, superintendent of schools at Mansfield; Prof. W. M. Moore, principal of Fifth ward school, and Miss Annie Nunn of the Seventh ward school.

WILL BE ON FACULTY.

Prof. J. B. Bird, superintendent of schools at Bridgeport, and Prof. N. O. Robbins, superintendent of schools at Grandview, also will be on the faculty. The English department will be under the direction of Prof. W. T. Hamner. Prof. E. R. Bentley will have charge of the department of agriculture.

A lecture course will be given during the Normal. The course will be delivered by Rev. F. D. Kershner, president of the University, and Rev. Clinton Lockhart, a former president of the University. Prof. Lockhart now has charge of the Greek and Latin department of the University.

The college and preparatory branches of study will be taught in the Summer School. The best of the teachers in the University will teach in the school. Dr. Kershner, president of the college, will deliver a series of lectures on edu-

MISS LELA ODELL IN GRADUATING RECITAL

Miss Odell was Assisted by Miss Grace Hackney, Pianist---Program was a Success, Being Well Arranged

The earlier announcements stated that the recital was to be a joint one, given by Miss Odell and Mr. Grover Stewart, but owing to unavoidable circumstances Mr. Stewart was unable to render his assistance. This was not known until a late hour and worked a hardship on Miss Odell, but no one could have detected the unfortunate circumstance by the merit of the program that was given. Miss Odell's interpretation and appearance was exceptionally fine. The first number on the program was "A Story of the Colonial Days." The story was a very expressive one that portrayed the early American government and the heroism of the grand old people who laid the foundation for our great republic. This selection was interpreted well and showed that Miss Odell is thoroughly capable of handling dramatical pieces. The next number was a piano selection by Miss Hackney. The number was well rendered and was appreciated very highly by the audience. Following Miss Hackney's number, Miss Odell read a comical sketch, "The Complimentary Tickets." The monologue was, indeed, true to human nature. As Miss Odell progressed with her story each step showed more vividly her ability to impersonate. Miss Hackney gave two selections, "Valse Treste," by Sibelins, and "Les Sylvains," Op. 60, by Chaminade. Both were excellent pieces and well rendered.

The last number was the chamber scene, "The Christian." Miss Odell again showed her ability for artistical reading.

The program was a splendid piece of work, and both Miss Odell and Miss Hackney are to be highly complimented. The affair was undoubtedly a success. There is only one more program to be given in this series, this is the program to be given by Mr. J. Lindley Wood, May 30.

EDUCATIONAL SUBJECTS.

SCHOOL OF ART.

The school of art will be under the direction of Dura Brokaw Cockrell. Miss Lucy Ault will have charge of the department of violin and music. The commercial department will also be open during the summer.

Following is the faculty of the Summer School:

Frederick D. Kershner, M. A., president of the University and lecturer on educational subjects.

John W. Kinsey, B. A., head of department of education, conductor.

LOCKHART-BROWN GRADUATING RECITAL

Misses Brown and Lockhart Were Assisted by Misses Carey and Henderson---Program a Decided Success

The graduate recital given May 23 by Misses Lockhart and Brown was quite a success. The auditorium contained a large audience whose attention was completely held by the readers.

The first number on the program was "The Happy Prince," by Oscar Wilde, read by Miss Brown, with the musical setting by Liza Lehman, played by Miss Elizabeth Henderson. Miss Brown was at her best; she showed great dramatic talent and ability, and quite won the hearts of the audience, as she led them with the little swallow out from the statue of "Happy Prince" on errands of mercy.

Miss Lockhart read John Luther Long's story, "Purple Eyes." Miss Lockhart had been ill for several days, and yet she put herself "heart and soul" into her reading. She wore a Japanese kimono and looked herself so much like a demure little Jap maiden, that she easily carried her audience into Japan, and quite as easily moved them to tears at the "lon-some-ness" of little "Purple Eyes."

Miss Lockhart was assisted by Miss Jewel Carey, who sang, "I Saw Thee First When Cherries Bloomed" and "All My Heart is Ashes," from Sav-mara, a cycle of Japanese songs by Charles Wakefield Cadman. Miss Carey is endowed with a wonderful voice, and these two songs, which were especially beautiful, were made more so by her singing them.

W. B. Parks, A. M., Ph. D., dean of the University and professor of chemistry and physics.

Clinton Lockhart, Ph. D., LL. D., professor of the Greek and Hebrew.

Egbert K. Cockrell, A. M., LL. M., professor of history and political science.

O. L. Lyon, A. M., Ph. D., professor of English.

C. I. Alexander, A. B., B. S., professor of mathematics.

H. T. Sutton, A. B., B. S., B. Q., professor of homiletics and church history.

W. T. Hamner, A. B., assistant professor of English.

Earl Rogers, instructor in chemistry.

E. R. Bentley, instructor in physics.

Dr. Clara Case, professor of Spanish.

Mrs. Dura-Brokaw Cockrell, A. B., head of art department.

Miss Lucy Ault, piano and violin.

L. A. Eubanks, M. Accts., principal of commercial department.

The man who succeeds is not always the man who wears the crown.

Are you planning to return to school next year? If not why not?

The happiest man is the one that makes the other fellow happy, but keeps an eye on his own happiness.

WHAT SHALL I DO?

The question of "What Shall I Do?" is one that confronts every young American to-day. There is an idea among us that we will just drift along and finally fit into the place that was intended for us. This is a dangerous and absurd mistake. We look about us and see that there are few openings in the common ranks, and sometimes we become discouraged, for we feel that there is no place for us in the great world of progress. But suppose we see things on a bigger scale. Look at the heads of the great movements and we find that the world is crying for men to manipulate the great organizations and movements of the world. Look at the condition of things through a telescope and not through a smoked glass. Think of the good that you can do the world, and not the great stacks of money you can store up in musty vaults. Look at the social reforms that are going on and the room for greater ones, and not at propositions that will make you more money. We do not mean to take a radical view of this situation, but there is more real happiness in doing that which uplifts humanity, than there is in that which will fill your wallet.

SOPHS GIVE PROGRAM

The chapel exercises were given over to the Sophomores last Wednesday. The program was a very unique one and was well rendered. The first number on the program was a reading by Jack Farmer. This number was good and showed that there was feeling and expression back of the reader. His story was a very interesting one of the life of a gambler. The gambler's feelings and expressions were well interpreted. The second number was a talk by Prof. Cockrell, who is the class professor. In his address he spoke of the advantages of being a Sophomore. He also showed the great chance for the educated man in the world beyond the college walls. After the address by the class professor, the Sophomore quartette gave a very pretty selection. The quartette was composed of Misses Margaret Gibson and Vista Woods, and Messrs. Hal Hunter and Bear Osburn. The number was highly appreciated by the audience and was truly worth the appreciation shown. The encore was well rendered. The last number on the program was the journal read by Miss

Lorena Wright. This number was one of the best of its kind that has been given this year and was well reared. The journal was represented to us in a very uncommon and attractive way. The jokes were good live ones and were well appreciated by the audience. The program closed with the chant.

Taking the program as a whole, it was a good one. The Sophomores have a right to feel proud of their class.

LIBRARY NOTES

Through the courtesy and kindness of Dr. Kershnes and Senator Morris Shepard our library has been made an Official Gazette and Geological Depository. This entitles us to receive only the publications of the two departments, and while we are glad, we also look forward to the future when we shall be in Class No. 1, and get every publication published by the government for free distribution. At present there are only 615 libraries in the United States that are enjoying this privilege. Books received since this gift was made are the Congressional Record, 62d Congress, second session, and the Report of the Immigration Commission in forty-one volumes.

PROF. COCKRELL AND HIS CLASSES
"The Manchester Guardian," a daily newspaper of Manchester, England, is now making regular visits to our library. This has been made possible by the students enrolled in Prof. Cockrell's classes. In size this paper is some larger than our "Dallas News." It differs from our own papers in that it has the advertisements placed on the front sheets and the reading matter on the inside. There is a lack of large red head-liners placed at the top to attract our attention to the most important, or at least the most thrilling event that has transpired. This is a valuable addition to Prof. Cockrell's class work. The first copy on file is Wednesday, May 14, 1913, and this one and all the others which go make up the subscription will be carefully cared for and properly filed. Ever since the writer has been connected with the University there has never been anything but the very warmest praise given by students having work under Prof. Cockrell. Time and time again, year in and year out, many have said: "I have never in my life enjoyed anything so much as my work under Prof. Cockrell." Why? Because he is a man that is interested

Are you preparing to attend the Summer School. This will be a good chance to make up some credits. Have your rooms reserved now and have a good cool one for the summer.

THE HOME COMING AND COMMENCEMENT

As commencement time comes the hearts and memories of the alumni gradually go back to the days of their college life, and there is a presence of some uncommon longing for those dear old days that have come and gone like some pleasant dream. It is natural for the older students to have a desire to come home during the commencement time and meet their friends and class-mates once again. Why not do this? Lay your plans to be on the grounds when T. C. U. is running over with a new life and is fairly sparkling with the enthusiasm so true to the old standard that our alumni have set for us in the days when the school was in its early youth. The students of Texas Christian University are expecting to have more of our alumni back with us this year than ever before. They are already beginning to come in for the grand reunion that T. C. U. is going to have here this year. Come; be one of the college girls or boys again. The students who are yet in school are with an out-stretched hand to welcome you.

There seems to be a few students who are contemplating going home as soon as their final examinations are over. This is a sad mistake on their part, for there is much to be gained by staying through the last week. You will have a chance to get acquainted with the students and patrons who have made our University possible. You will be free from studies and class-room cares to mingle with your friends. There are those who may never have the opportunity of coming here again, if they miss this part of their college life it will mean that they have left something unfinished that they could have finished. This something will mean more to them than can be realized. In fact, commencement week is an educator as well as an enjoyable event. Lay your plans to stay and join in the big reunion.

in his work, his students, their little worries and affairs; is himself a model student and lover of all good literature and ever takes an interest in people, all sizes, ages and classes, and never allows an opportunity to pass to keep abreast of the times. Such a character can but meet with true success. Prof. Cockrell is also a man that the University, the city, the state, the Nation, the world could well be proud of, for he has great ideals and practices as well as preaches them. He has always been a warm friend to the library and often has taken books from his own library to give to us, and even while abroad on his year's leave of absence he remembered us with a book on "Rugby Football." We sincerely thank Prof. Cockrell and his students for this is the first and only foreign daily newspaper that has come to the library that we have had any record of.

ORATORY NOTES

Five of the series of graduate and post-graduate recitals have been given, and the remaining two are scheduled for May 30 and June 10. Mr. J. Lindley Wood, a post-graduate of the department, will give his final recital on May 30. Mr. Wood will read Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," with a musical setting by Strauss, played by Miss Elizabeth Henderson, a graduate of the music department.

The last recital of the series will be the commencement program, given June 10, each graduate and post-graduate will take part.

MISS AXTELL ENTERTAINS

Miss Josephine Axtell entertains a party of young people on her father's ranch, near Thorpe Springs. The majority of the crowd were T. C. U. students.

At Granbury the party was met by conveyances which took them to the F. W. Axtell ranche, by way of the old T. C. U. building, which stands as a monument of the beginning of the present Texas Christian University. When they reached the camp grounds they found a lunch prepared for them that would have been a banquet even for a king. The majority of the time was spent in hunting, fishing and walking over the hills. The guests report a most pleasant time and declare that Miss Axtell is a royal entertainer.

The following were present: Mrs. F. W. Axtell, Mrs. Fred. Axtell, Misses Kathleen Bury, Ione Johnson, Carrie Cassell, L. Harrison, Josephine Cannon, and Myrtice Stringer; Messrs. W. L.

Parker, R. H. Camp, W. B. Stirman, O. G. Osburn, B. W. Parks, Fred. Axtell, Dr. Axtell, J. W. Stratton and Alvin M. Street.

ADVENTURE

Wherever earth is, there her standards are;

Her seal is set upon the wide sea gates;

She bids her reckless children follow far To where the end—or death or glory—waits!

Far out at sea the long, slow rollers run Above her dead, yet turn them not aside;

White bones lie bleaching in the desert sun

To speak the tortured deaths her sons have died.

Stern, unrelenting, certain of demand, She is the keeper of the great game, Chance;

She hides the strength of her steel sinewed hand

Beneath the softness of the glove, Romance.

There is no place for weaklings in her train;

She holds reward for those of sterner stuff,

And only those—the stubborn, fighting strain,

The brave heart breed that will not cry "enough!"

A HINT TO THE WISE

Commencement time is here and the commencement guests are beginning to arrive. We as students, should endeavor to make this visit with the University as pleasant as possible. If there is any possible courtesy or assistance that you can extend to them it is really your duty to do it. Do not play the part of a dead weight in this University, but be one of the men who carry its ideals and intentions out to this extent at least.

Because it is near the end of school, and we will be going home soon, is no reason that we should let our interest in the condition of the buildings and grounds become lacking. Throwing paper in the halls of main buildings does not help the appearance of things any. Sweeping trash and so forth from the rooms into the halls of the dormitories does not denote that we are the best sort of housekeepers. We should have as much interest in the appearance of things as we have had, and should be more careful, because our numbers will increase from now on until commencement is over. So let us all work together to make our guests feel really and truly at home while here, and help to keep the buildings looking nicely.

ART NOTES

Mrs. Cockrell entertained her senior class last Thursday with a dinner in the park, which consisted of, fried spring chicken, sandwiches, fruit salad, apples, oranges, nut cake and lemonade. In the afternoon, several interesting sketches were made in water color and pastels. The day was an enjoyable one all.

Mrs. Ferguson spent the week end at her home in Electra.

The Brushes were delightfully entertained by Miss Anna May Tanner in her home on Fifth avenue, Saturday evening. A large crowd was present to enjoy the games and guessing contests. Punch and fudge were served, and the time to go home came too soon for all present.

Mr. Howard Dalls, an artist in the Art Department.

Mrs. Cockrell will give the students of Texas Christian University a course in art during the summer months. This course is a very thorough and party of time will be given to each student. This course is one of the best ones that the Art Department has given. Those interested in art will have a chance to study under one of the best art teachers in the south.

Mr. Bryant, of the city Y. M. C. A., made a very interesting talk in chapel last Tuesday. We were, indeed, glad to have him with us and hope that he will return with another good message.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

Miss Harriet Shirley, '12, was here the first of this week. She went from here to Denton, where she will visit friends until Thursday. She will then return from Denton to T. C. U., and will be with us until after commencement. Welcome to our city, Harriet.

Clyde Hackney has been visiting the University this week. Clyde is one of our most frequent alumni visitors, but he never comes too often. We are always glad to have him with us.

Howard B. Dabbs, '09, is one of the alumni who is visiting the University this week. We are glad to have the privilege of welcoming you home, Dabbs.

There are already a number of alumni coming in for commencement. We are looking for a large home coming this year. Why; come and enjoy the occasion.

Mrs. Brown of Big Springs is visiting her daughters, Ethel and Eula, this week.

Save your trunks for Bob Lines to haul. He will be prepared to handle them.

Bob Lines has been visiting his home in Walter, Okla.

Things on the campus are growing nicely.

When you start home be sure and let Lines take your trunk to the depot.

Mrs. Lyon has a 1911 class pin, found on the campus more than a year ago. She will give it to any graduate of that year who puts in the best plea for it.

The Department of Languages will give an entertainment at the Auditorium, May 31, under Mrs. Sargent's direction. The plays presented will be in German, with good cast of characters maintained by students in her department.

Lines can handle your trunk for you when you are ready to leave. Save it for him.

On account of poor health, Professor Hamner is compelled to suspend all glee club and quartette work for the remainder of the year.

Baker Bros. are the only florists who advertise in the Skiff. Patronize them when you get your flowers for commencement. —[Adv.]

LEON GROSS PRESIDENT

WILLIAM KILGORE, GAINESVILLE, TEXAS

William Kilgore is a staunch member of the Christian Church at Gainesville and a member of the official board of that congregation. He started in life as a poor boy and was deprived of an education by the civil war; but in spite of these hindrances he stands to-day at the head of the William Kilgore Company, the largest mercantile establishment in Cooke county, and is one of the leading financiers of his city. His success in life has not made him forget the poor; and he is always ready to champion the cause of the man who is down and out. He is a friend of every department of the church work, and especially of Christian Education, and gave $1,000 for the construction of Clark Hall.
