BIGGEST CONTEST OF THE YEAR

DEBATES WITH TRINITY AND SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITIES

Three Old Men Back. Preliminary Contest Nov. 21

The biggest contest of the year will be the triangular debates, between Texas Christian University and Southwestern University held at Georgetown, and Texas Christian University and Trinity University held at Fort Worth. These contests will take place on the same night, January 30, 1914.

Three of the six men who represented T. C. U. last year are back in school and will be applicants for places on the teams. They are: Robert A. Highsmith, Basil A. Hayes, and Edwin R. Beutey. There are several old students who are ambitious to represent old T. C. U. in these debates. A number of new students have entered school this fall who are said to be strong debaters. The indications point to a warm preliminary.

Highsmith Bentley Hays

The question this year is as follows: "Resolved, that the United States should in the next fifteen years grant the Philippines their independence and aid them in establishing a free and independent government."

The six debaters and two alternates who will represent Texas Christian University will be selected at a preliminary debate which will be held in the T. C. U. auditorium on Friday night, Nov. 21, 1913.

Let ever man who wants to get some high class training in debating enter this preliminary. There is a world of material on the subject and the question is a live two sided proposition.

Last year the contest resulted in a tie, each University winning one and losing one.

MIDLAND COLLEGE LOOKS FOR YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Midland School Opens Sept. 28 Under Direction of F. G. Jones With Strong Financial Support From Citizens

Midland, Sept. 30.—Midland College opened Sept. 29 with an able and experienced faculty under the direction of F. G. Jones, A. B. of McKinney, as president of the Institution. Mr. Jones has been for the past four years principal of the McKinney High school and previous to that was for many years President of the Jones Academy in that city. He brings to his new position an enviable reputation for success as an educator.

Midland college occupies a very important position as an educational institution, located as it is in the heart of a vast empire of fertile country, unserved by any other similar school, and possessing many great advantages in the way of a very healthy climate, fine building and equipment, and exceptionally clean moral and physical surroundings. There are no saloons or vicious resorts in the county and the citizens are of a high moral and intellectual character.

The college has been placed on a strong financial footing by generous contributions from local citizens, and strong assurance of continued strength is given by the appointment of Mr. Lee Clark as financial secretary and field agent for the college. Mr. Clark is well known over Texas as the Secretary and field agent of the Conference for Education in Texas.

The college is affiliated with the Texas Christian University and ranks as a Junior College. In addition to the regular literary work, a business and a normal course will be added this year and the policy will tend toward a gradual adoption of more work of direct practical value to the students.

Miss Fay L. Sargent entertained several of her girl friends from T. C. U. by taking them to the Savoy to see Graustark last week. All report a very happy time.

Judge Holt of Sherman visited his son, Birge Holt, Sunday.

Press Club Meets.

Prof. Cockrell Makes an Address

The Press Club at Texas Christian University was addressed Friday by Dr. E. R. Cockrell. Dr. Cockrell has studied the working principles of the press both in America and abroad.

In his address he stated that the power of the old orators, as Caesar, Pitt, Gladstone and Patrick Henry had been replaced by the power of the modern press. These great men would go unrecognized under our modern conditions if the press did not back them. The press has its influence on different reforms. Who would dare to think of trying to introduce a reform without the backing of some great newspaper?

The press has also the power of advancing the commerce of a town. Small towns have been put on the map by the power of the local papers.

The press club was organized about two weeks ago with the Skiff staff forming the nucleus. Four or five additional persons will be granted membership in the near future. At the last meeting, Robt. A. Highsmith, editor-in-chief of the Horned Frog, was voted into the club.

Steps are being taken to enter the State College Press Association.

The officers elected for the year are as follows: Edwin R. Bentley, President; Wm. R. Lines, Vice President; Fannie Jack Baldwin, Secretary; Lela Williams Bentley, Treasurer.

The next meeting will take place in about two weeks, at which time Hon. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, managing editor of the Fort Worth Record, is expecting to address the Club.

ANNUAL Y. M. C. A. AND
Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION

The Y. M.'s and Y. W.'s held their annual reception in the dining hall on Monday evening, September 29th. As usual it was one of the chief good times of the T. C. U. opening. After the receiving line—headed by Mr. Street and Miss Barnard—was dispersed, everyone entered into a lively tongue dance. Old students, over such topics as "new faces," "The Fish," "Abe Green," and "Our New Matron," discussed "old times" and inquired of each other about absent faces. New and old alike met someone they had never met before, and the general getting acquainted and mixing up processes were well accomplished.

THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT
EDITOR SEES A BRIGHT FUTURE BEFORE THE COLLEGE.

Giles W. Day Appointed to Place on Skiff Staff.

The Medical Department of T. C. U. is, we believe, entering upon what is to be the most prosperous year of its history. The faculty is the strongest, the equipment the most extensive, the college in general the best organized and the outlook the brightest, at least that we as Juniors have had the pleasure of viewing.

The affiliation of the Medical College with the Texas Christian University in 1911 did not mean much except to meet the requirements of the State Board of Medical Examiners and the American Medical Association but when it became really apart, a vital organ of Texas Christian University Jan. 1, 1913 the scene changed.

Instead of being an independent institution whose many battels had to be fought by a few persistent and heroic Doctors, it crept closely under the wings of the "old hen", its new mother and now it nestles safely in the care of this great university and will eventually go into class A upon the completion of the city and county hospital and will then be second to none, nor equal to none, but the best medical college in the great state of Texas and one of which the whole Southland will be proud for time immemorial.

It is with this view of the situation in mind that we are enabled to say frankly and honestly that the prospects for the future of the medical department are the brightest that it has ever seen.

Being assured, as we are, that our future is as before stated, let us now turn our attention to the task of becoming better acquainted with the mother university who has so kindly and charitably adopted us in our weakness and made of us a strong being. Let us strive to show our appreciation by establishing a closer intercourse between ourselves and the student body of the other branches of the tree of which we are a branch. They have very kindly extended us a very cordial and pressing invitation to come out and get ac-

First Recital of the Season.

New Members of the Faculty of the Fine Arts Department are Greeted by an Enthusiastic Audience.

Mr. Carl Beutol, Miss Leila Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cahoon, were heard in formal program for the first time since the opening of school. Mr. Beutol is not altogether new, having made his initial bow to a delighted T. C. U. audience last June. His piano recital at that time was a worthy introduction for fine musicianship. Mr. and Mrs. Cahoon have been heard in single numbers at various times in the past few weeks and have also won an enviable place in the estimation of students, patrons and the general public. The really new member was Miss Powell, but she very quickly established herself as a genuine and wholesome reader.

Mr. Beutol is the director of the College of Fine Arts and his influence is already more than nominal. He is a splendid pianist, has a fine reputation as a teacher and composer and has a personality that makes you feel he is here for business and perhaps big business. Miss Powell has had a successful career as reader and teacher of elocution. There does not seem to be a superficial note in her makeup. Of course she comes highly recommended, but after all, she is her own best recommendation. It is worth while to become acquainted with her high ambitions for the extension of real elocution and genuine oratory in T. C. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Cahoon have the departments of violin and voice respectively. They are not limited especially to voice and violin, but are good all-round musicians, anxious to work hard and to be used in building up a large patronage for T. C. U.

They are native Texans, but in recent years, have studied and taught and held good positions in New York. They have a strong grip on the musical life of the university.

I would not forget to mention Mr. Harold Techau for whose ability as a musician I have a most warm admiration. His excellent accompanying was a strong factor in the success of Tuesday night's program. He has been with the school for several years.

Conserve Your Health.

There is a great danger in real students taxing themselves more than their physical beings can endure. However, these words are not applicable to the average person who enters college. Yet, there are those in T. C. U. now, who, if let alone, would shut themselves in from a large portion of a student's life; they would bend over their books incessantly; they would sit up 'till the still hours of morning forced sleep. It will often be necessary to study late but every student should begin now to conserve their day-light hours. A definite daily schedule will greatly aid in reducing lost time to a minimum.

There will be some who will not hurt themselves in hours spent in study, and who need this timely warning, because they will frit away their time in some needless ways and then keep late hours in study or otherwise.

At any rate, now is the time to make out your definite schedule which will dispose of your time in the proper proportions. Be sure that the sleeping hours are sufficient and that the daily exercise is not omitted.

"Man may for a time defy the laws of nature, but in the end he pays to the uttermost farthing the penalty of disobedience." The associated press, a few days ago, carried a sad story about the wizard of Menlo Park—Thomas A. Edison, who has for years defied the known and proven laws of health. He has proudly boasted that from two to four hours sleep was enough for him and characterized as sloughful those who spent more in bed.

"But nature has triumphed against the man who disregarded her laws that he might wrest from her more of her secrets. Thomas A. Edison is a broken and dying man at 66. "How long he will live," says his physician, "is a matter of conjecture—a week, a month, perhaps two months; his magnificent constitution is weakening fast." And the man of science added, "When a man works twenty-two hours out of the twenty-four, he is bound to break; Mr. Edison has averaged from two to four hours' sleep a day for years; he is paying for it now."

A few weeks ago Mr. Edison took his first vacation but derived no benefit or pleasure from it. He had lost the power to enjoy rest and recreation. Organs and faculties which are not used wither and shrivel until they cannot be used. The man who shuts his eyes to the beauties of the world about him and denies himself the joys of life expecting at some indefinite time in the future, he will rest from his labors and enjoy life is doomed to bitter disappointment. When the time comes to make the change he finds that his capacity for enjoying a larger and broader life has been lost, and he must fall back into the old narrow rut or live aimlessly and unhappily through the few remaining years of a misspent life."

Miss Charlie Kach, one of our best Freshmen, spent the week end in North Fort Worth with old schoolmates.

Hal H. Hunter writes us that he is teaching and coaching athletics in the Mart High School. He enclosed a dollar to cover a year's subscription to the Skiff.

The spirit of narrowness and petty rivalry that has at times been manifested between some of our institutions of higher learning is rapidly disappearing. We note this with pride and pleasure. We wish to champion the cause of closer college fraternalism.—Daily Texan.

The Skiff seconds your motion. "What are we here for anyway?"

The Texas Legislature gave our young friend, Patrick Henry neither "liberty nor death", yet he has quit to become a university professor.—Dallas News.

Patrick Henry was a success as a law-maker and he is a success as a university professor. We need more Patrick Henrys'.

Polytechnic seems to be having many newspaper troubles this year. The first issue of the Independent is scheduled to come from the press next Monday. Jack Doty has just recently been elected to succeed Earle Hamilton who claimed that he could not give the position his attention.

"According to the Record, Doty has already started to work to organize his staff and will send the paper to press Monday morning. "The Independent will aim to portray the student and faculty life of the campus." Doty said Wednesday afternoon, "and to present every side of college activity from the undergraduate point of view, as well as to give a resume of the week's happenings."

Ted Sayles and J. G. Jones, two young men of Abilene, Texas, have completed a trip of over 400 miles down the Colorado River in a 16 ft. canoe to enter the University of Texas.—Baylor Lariat.

These boys are true sportsmen. They probably wanted a little Newspaper notoriety, yet, they were willing to pay for it. It is no easy job to row a boat three or 4 miles even with your best girl, saying nothing of 400 miles without such a treasure. College Press is in favor of such boys like these even if they do crave publicity.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A's of Baylor are to be complemented on their enterprise. The first issue of the Lariat contained two full pages devoted entirely to the plans of these splendid organizations

It seems that the annual hand book was discarded and this new method of presenting their cause to the new students was substituted with the hope of reaching a larger number in a more efficient way.

Publicity is the thing. In the University the college paper is the best medium just as the great dailies are the best mediums for the public at large.

Graduates of both the Agricultural and Mechanical college and the College of Industrial arts at Denton are said to be in great demand, positions awaiting them all and with good salaries. While the purpose of an education is not simply to make the individual get a position, still the kind that fits one for real life, to take a substantial place among the ones who are struggling in the battle, is not to be turned down lightly. Terrell Transcript.

You are all right; and what you say of the two institutions named can also be said of the Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, one of the best institutions of the kind in Texas. Its graduates are in good demand at good salaries.—Ft. Worth Record.

Right you are, Paste and Pencil, and Texas Christian University appreciates your kind words.

Thirty two of our bright boys and girls are attending Texas schools and colleges this year. Can you find another town in Texas that can make such a showing?—Valley View Sun.

Valley view is justly proud, thirty-two college students in one year from a town of 400 to 500 inhabitants is a remarkable record. It would be a vastly better for the state if every town could show a corresponding number. These are the kind of citizens who put towns on the map.

The Sun has made a challenge which is hard to meet.

Patience and strength are what we need— an earnest use of what we have now; and all the time an earnest discontent until we come to what we ought to be.—Phillips Brooks.

The Chapel

Edited by Ray Camp

Man must have a period of relaxation every day. Chapel serves his purpose in the life of the student. Here we forget our other duties as we draw closer to God and ask His guidance and protection through our day's work.

Aside from these, the daily gathering acquaints us with our strength, as an institution of learning. We find new power in the faculty and come to recognize their ability more and more. We receive food for thought that will make us giants in mind and spirit.

Percy G. Cross, evangelist, was with us Friday and his message will remain as a part of us. He reminded all, that the position of T. C. U. in the ranks of forces for righteousness, is determined by the kind of students that hold up her banner.

Sec. Bryan, Fort Worth Y. M. C. A., gave us a very strong talk about the importance of Bible Study. He gave a very effective argument for each, the Christian and non-Christian.

Such messages as he gave us are of accountable value, since he is a man recognized for his ability and power among men of all conditions and beliefs.

We sincerely trust he will come often during the year.

Though the words of the visitors were good, those spoken by members of our faculty have come nearer to our hearts. We know that their every desire is that we may be better men and women and with such a spirit they direct our path of thought along the higher planes, where we must walk if we wish to enjoy the true view of life.

Let us put ourselves into the attitude of enjoying our privileges.

TO THE FRESHMEN.

Whether he like it or not, it is undoubtedly a fact that every first year student is a more responsible individual than the freshmen of previous years. The surveillance and espionage of hazing have been abolished. The solicitous care and guidance of "rushing" have passed away with the coming of the closed season. The weakling cannot cast himself and his fortunes on the coaching of interested parties, but must fight his battles alone. The snob and the bigot must control their own pride; the hazing pledge restrains the corrective paddle. The student who wishes to make a success of his college career must plan his own course, and the sooner he fixes certain ideals in his mind the better it will be for him. We want to mention certain prerequisites for success in any phase of college life.

In the first place, a strong character is absolutely essential. The student who has no will of his own will never get very far. You have no claim to be recognized as a strong man unless you have definite ideas of your own, without depending on others for prompting; unless you have fixed principles from which you cannot be shaken by jest or threat; and unless you have clear conceptions of right and wrong, with a determination to do or not to do. Do not drift along willy-nilly; have a goal in view and strike for it.

This is a democratic institution, traditionally and actually. "What you can do" is the test of merit. It is not an institution where everybody is wrapped up in himself, either. You owe it to yourself and to others to mix with your fellows and get acquainted.

Do not be ashamed of an ambition to accomplish something. Plan for things worth while and work for them. Above all, remember that first things should come first. You were sent to this University to get an education; don't dodge the issue. A first year student, above all, should study his courses hard. All student activities are good, if you are suited for them; but freshmen should not dip into them too deep, else they will soon have their head below water. Next year you will be "onto the ropes," and then you can take the plunge. If you have any regrets on leaving college, your greatest one will not be due to failure to secure paltry honors but will be due to your plain, unvarnished ignorance.—Daily Texan.

Nothing will help you catch the College spirit quicker than the Skiff.

An old T. C. U. student attends Tarrytown on the Hudson.

Miss Marion Baugh is attending school at the castle, Tarrytown, New York. In a letter to the editor ordering the Skiff she says "This is a beautiful place but with all its beauty I could never love it as I love T. C. U. I am going to be back for Home Coming. I shall have that to look forward to all these eight months."

Dr. Oliver L. Lyons church worker with enviable record.

Within the eighteen month that Dr. Lyons has ministered to the church at Hico it has doubled itself in membership. He received all of these into the church with one exception.

On last Sunday they voted to have preaching services three Sundays instead of two as formerly.

Are you a subscriber to the Skiff? If not, why not?

MUCH APPRECIATED GIFT.

Pastor Edward Owers of Aransas Pass, formerly professor of Bible Pedagogy in T. C. U., has recently shown his continued interest in Christian education by taking a share in the Preachers' $5000 Club, which Colby D. Hall is promoting. And he did this instead of taking a trip which he and Mrs. Owers were very anxious to have. Just another example of the self-denial being practiced by our preachers that they may assist in the construction of Clark Hall at T. C. U. Mrs. Owers, of course, joined heartily with her husband in the good work. Indeed, she has contributed much time and money, not only to the church work in general but to T. C. U. in particular; and the writer is of the opinion that she, more than any other individual, is responsible for interesting her father, T. S. Reed, in T. C. U. to the extent that he gave $5000 for endowment.

TWO CHURCHES SENT SUBSTANTIAL SUMS FOR CLARK HALL.

Following the suggestion that each church give at least a dollar per member in cash for the construction of Clark Hall, those two splendid, wide awake churches at Van Alstyne and Ladonia, respectively, have sent in checks as follows: Van Alstyne, $155; Ladonia, $133.30, with more to follow from each. This is in addition to $1400.99 already subscribed by individual members at Van Alstyne, and $170.99 at Ladonia. If all the churches were only half this liberal T. C. U. would soon be endowed. Those churches whose individual members have subscribed most liberally are among the foremost in entering the Dollar Per Member Campaign as a rule.

Alumni and Old Students

Edited by Nell Andrew

The A. & M. College of Texas surely needs more money. The campus must be enlarged, for six members of the faculty have been married during the summer vacation.—Fort Worth Record.

Our Bonner "Fritz" Frizzell, '09, was among the "six members of the faculty who have married during the summer vacation." On not being able to secure a house on the campus, Mr. Frizzell accepted the position as Principal of the Athens High School for this year.

We deeply sympathize with Mrs. H. B. McGill, '11 (Miss Clara Moses) of Bertram in the loss of her father, Mr. E. J. Moses, one of the pioneers of Burnet County, whose sudden death was caused by heart trouble. Mrs. McGill had only a few days before been in T. C. U., where she came to place her sister Ada in school.

Miss Clare Lewellen, '11, of Sixth Avenue, visited T. C. U. one day last week and subscribed for the "Live Wire" in order that she might keep up with Home Coming plans. Miss Clare and her sister, Miss Elizabeth, '10, are teaching in our High Schools.

Miss Cayce, '11, is now Mrs. Van Turner of Ferris, Texas.

Miss Kinchalow Lindley, a student of 1911 and a Summer student of this year, is now in Rogers and will teach in the public school.

Mr. Joe Clark (son of Bro. Randolph) and Miss Sallie Chisim, two old students, were married in Graham on September 28th. They reside in Huntsville, Mr. Clark being a member of the faculty at Sam Houston Normal. For many years the friends of this popular young couple have expected this event to transpire. They have our very best wishes.

A dainty blue announcement card comes to our desk announcing the fact that Jessie Mary Ramsey on September 16th arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ramsey of Austin and would like to hear from all the "old ones." Mrs. Ramsey is lovingly remembered as Mercy Briggs Perkins, '07, and Mr. Ramsey is of the well known Ramsey Nursery of Austin and paid us a visit last year when our campus was being laid off. Mr. Ramsey and his father furnishing our yard decorations.

Congratulations on Alumni and old student affairs in general come from one of the most faithful and loyal students T. C. U. has ever had, Mrs. Henry Lewis (Martha K. Miller), who now calls her home the "Bosque Poultry Farm," which is on their ranch near Waco. Her address is P. O. Box 940 and she would be glad to hear from old friends.

The Frank North company at the Savoy will play "Alias Jimmy Valentine" next week. Miss Robinson playing the leading role. "The Spenders" have enjoyed a successful week with Miss Robinson and Mr. Moody playing the leading roles.

Special Departments

Edited by Wm. R. Lines.

Miss Josey Cannon has returned to take a post graduate course in art. She was a graduate last year and has done some splendid work.

Miss Dora Louise Cockrell's birthday party was given Tuesday evening. All of the T. C. U. Hill children were invited. The party was in every detail, success. The evening was a very pleasant one and the children had a great time.

The first exhibit of the Art Department will be given in the art rooms next Friday. This exhibit will consist mostly of Miss Margerite Littlejohn's work. Several paintings by Mrs. Cockrell will be exhibited. Miss Littlejohn is the new instructor in the Art Department and her work is of the highest quality.

T. C. U. is greatly in need of a Fine Arts building. Why? Well not for the purpose of decorating but because the progress of the school demands one. The music studios are crowded; the art studio has not enough room for the increasing number of students. The laws of the school forbid the practice of horns in the main building or in the dormitories. We want a band. Better still, we must have a band. How are we to have one that is in harmony with the rest of our school if we have no place, except the baul prairie, to practice. The band is only a small item compared with the needs of the rest of the fine arts department. The oratory studio is no other than Shirley Hall. The Add-Ran hall is used for a music studio. Teachers are doubling up in the same room. This could perhaps be made practical if the departments were not growing. The records show that the Fine Arts department is advancing with leaps and bounds. Lack of room means a standstill in the work. A standstill in the work means a decreasing. Decreasing means death. Who would dare to say that he is loyal to T. C. U. then stand aside and let our Fine Arts Department Perish for the lack of room. We must have a new Fine Arts building.

Athletic Notes.

Coach Cahoon is fast rounding his boys into condition and daily exposition of real foot ball is now being seen on our campus. The squad continues to grow and with the arrival of the new suits 40 men will likely don uniforms.

Where are the girls who are not to be seen on the side lines this year? Come out and see these workouts. It will help you and encourage the team.

Let's get together and show these boys we are behind them before they leave for Weatherford next Saturday. We want them to win but how can we expect it if the student body doesn't fall in line. There are students in school who do not even know that we have a team. You old football enthusiasts bring these new boys and girls out to see the team work and teach them something of T. C. U. "pep". I have't heard a yell given for the team this year.

Allan Freeman has at last yielded to the allurements of football activities and is taking a daily workout with the team.

Bun Ware and Luke Ray of last years team are out helping work the boys into condition for Saturdays game That is the proper spirit. Forget the past and begin now to build up a team second to none.

C. M. Linsey made a trip to Cleburn Friday night. When seen by a Skiff reporter he refused to "talk".

Miss Reeves and Paof. Willie Birge were pleasant visitors on the campus Saturday evening.

BOULDER SOPHS LAY DOWN THE LAW TO THE INCOMING FRESHMEN.

1. No Freshman shall indulge in the use of tobacco in any of its forms on the campus.
 2. All Freshmen in passing professors and instructors shall give the ordinary military salute.
 3. All Freshmen shall give right of way on the sidewalk to professors, instructors, graduates and upper-classmen.
 4. No Freshman shall remain seated while a professor, instructor, graduate or upper-classman is standing at any gathering of students at a University function.
- The above are but a few of the rules and regulations formulated by the Sophs for the benefit of their Freshmen proteges. If Drake's first year students had to do some of these stunts, our upper-classmen would be accused of hazing, which in itself would be a calamity.

Unlike T. C. U. Freshmen, the Boulder new men are also compelled to wear cute little skull caps. Inasmuch as they won the annual sack race from the Sophs, however, they will be permitted to discard their cranial adornments after Christmas. Until then, however, they must continue to wear their blue postage stamp lids with the green button.

James Faulkner of Mangum, Oklahoma visited the Stovall boys and George Mabee Sunday. Mr Faulkner is making preparations to move to Ft. Worth. He will be a valuable choir singer for some of the Christian Churches of the city.

THE SKIFF'S SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE RECORD.

The Skiff is to have a space each week devoted to the attendance and offering of the Bible Schools, and all superintendents and pastors are earnestly requested to join in helping to make this record both interesting and profitable by sending in the record of their own school either Sunday or Monday of each week. This record will contain four classes of schools, as follows:

No. 1, those schools having an average attendance of 300; or more; No. 2, those with 200 or less than 300; No. 3, those having an average attendance between 100 and 200; and No. 4, those with an attendance less than 100. The school having the best record in each class will be awarded a penant on Sept. 1 1914.

State Bible School Superintendent Hutton of Fort Worth is away on a two month's tour, visiting Bible Schools and addressing conventions.

A team of international Sunday School workers is conducting a series of district rallies throughout the state. The next dates and places of these are as follows: Cleburne, Sept. 29 to Oct. 1; Belton, Oct. 2 to 5; These meetings are conducted by experts of the different departments of the work and no Bible School worker can afford to miss the meetings in his district.

Margaret Gibson spent Sunday night with Miss Hallie McPherson in the city.

Gladys and Laura Huckabee spent Sunday in the city with friends.

Faye Sargent spent Monday night in Jarvis Hall with Margaret Gibson and Jack Baldwin.

Hallie Byrd Perkins came in Tuesday to take up her work again.

Annie Mae Tanner and Dick Darter were guests in the Girls' Home Monday night.

McXie Mae Mason, graduate of music, '13, spent a few days with her sister and friends in the University the past week.

Miss Elizabeth Lises of Henrietta is visiting Katie Mae Cook this week.

Carrie Cassell was a visitor in Jarvis Hall Monday night.

Miss Birge and Miss Reeves were welcome visitors in the University Saturday night and Sunday. It certainly looked fine to see them walking around the campus again.

Dr. I. C. Chase, dean of the Medical college, will give a talk before the Lawyers' club at the weekly lunch at the Westbrook Saturday noon. John Andrew Rice, Jr. son of the Rev. J. A. Rice, Pastor of the first Methodist Episcopal church, a Rhoades man at Oxford, England, will attend and make an address.

Miss Alice O'Keefe left Thursday morning for Milford, Texas, where she will attend the Milford Presbyterian college.—The Ft. Worth Record.

Broxton Wade was seen in the halls last week. He has just been appointed as one of the official lecturers in one of the nine prohibition districts in which the U. S. is divided. He gives up a growing law practice to accept the appointment

LIBRARY NOTES.

S. W. Hutton, State Superintendent of Bible Schools, donated twelve volumes on Sunday School work. He is endeavoring to complete the Teacher-Training Courses offered by the Christian Board of Publication of St. Louis and the Standard Publishing Company of Cincinnati. These publishers have promised him help along this line. Ask to see these books. They are as follows:

Medbury—From the Throne of Saul to Bethlehem.

Medbury—From Eden to the Jordan.

Thornton—Common Sense: Study of Mind and Method.

Moninger—Preparatory Training Course.

Moninger—Bible Drills.

Moninger—How to Build Up an Adult Bible Class.

Moninger—101 Things for Adult Bible Classes to Do.

Moninger—The New Testament Church.

Moninger—Studies in the Gospels and Acts.

Moninger—Matthew's Gospel at the Point of a Question.

Shepard—The Teacher Training Handbook.

Shepard—Religious Pedagogy in the Modern Sunday School.

Bro. Sutton has also placed a year's subscription to the State Sunday School paper, which is issued monthly. It is the "Texas Sunday School Star," and will enable you to follow closely the Bible work in Texas.

The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce has placed our library on their permanent mailing list for the monthly Bulletin and all other publications issued by them. We are a big part of Fort Worth and delight in learning each month what is really taking place in our own city, and can heartily endorse their booster spirit. "Join the boosters—they're the stuff—We belong."

Many will remember Bertis Appleton, a Junior of last year. He is working in the bank at Hermligh, Texas. Bertis is still interested in T. C. U., as evidenced by the dollar he enclosed to pay for a year's subscription to the Skiff.

W. C. Sloan asks that the Skiff be sent to him at Caney, Oklahoma, where he is in business.

which fact speaks for itself. So much for the personnel of the faculty.

Now for the program proper which was as follows:

1. Souvenirde Haydn Leonard Mr. Frederick Cahoon
2. Reading, Mon Pierre, Wallace Bruce Amsbury Miss Leila Powell
3. (a) Aria, Non Pavantare ..Mozart (b) Aria, Gli'angui d' Inferno, Mozart (From the Opera, The Magic Elute) Mrs. Frederick Cahoon.
4. (a) ImpromptuArensky (b) Sous BoisVictor Staub (c) LegendeErkki Melatin Mr. Carl Beutel.
5. Danse Tziganes ..Tivadar Nachez Mr. Cahoon.
6. Reading, For dear old Yale Miss Powell
7. (a) The Throstle....Max Heinrich (b) Old English Song (c) Ecstasy. Walter Morse Rummel Mrs. Cahoon.
8. March, from the Suite, Op. 91. Raff Mr. Beutel.

MR. HAROLD TECHAU, Accompanist

The program seemed too long. I believe that half with the encores would have been enough. The first climax of the program was reached in Melartin's "Legene" played by Mr. Beutel. The second in his Raff march.

Miss Powell made me feel subconsciously that she was French Canadian for her dialect or patois in "Mon Pierre" was fine and true. The audience expressed their appreciation of her work by a double encore.

Mr. Cahoon in the "Sovernir de Haydn" did some very dainty work—while playing melody and accompaniment at one and the same time on the violin.

Mrs. Cahoon won instant place in the hearts of music-lovers at the time of her first appearance some weeks ago and her singing last night only heightened to most favorable impression. I was charmed with her beautiful gown. A large number of the musicians and others of Fort Worth attended and expressions of unqualified delight were heard on all sides.

Three of the performers will give individual recitals in the near future at T. C. U. and also in the city.

quainted, join in the athletics, etc., and make ourselves at home and we take this opportunity to express our appreciation and extend to them the same invitation. At any time the students of the main university have a chance to come down to the Medical College, we would be more than glad to get acquainted with you and show you the things we have most of which are entirely new to you and would therefore be both of novelty and instruction to all both boys and girls; it isn't very often that we get to see a girl anyhow, so let's get closer together.
