VOLUME XII FORT WORTH, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1914 NUMBER 18

METHODIST CHURCH EXTENSION WORK

Dr. Batson of T. C. U. Teaches a Class in Psychology and Child Study

The First Methodist Church of this city over which Dr. John A. Rice ministers has inaugurated an extension department to its church services. At the regular Wednesday night prayer meeting time those interested come together in the Bible School Auditorium for a 30 minute general devotional exercise after which they divided into sections into which some of the best teachers of Fort Worth have charge. Dr. Rice teaches a class in the subject, "The Hebrew Life at the time of Christ"; Professor Sanford, educational director of the church, "Church History"; Mrs. Morrow, Polytechnic College, "Missions"; and Dr. W. H. Batson, head of the department of Philosophy of Texas Christian University teaches a class in "Psychology and Child Study".

Up to the present report the scheme is only two weeks old. The surprising thing about it is the number who are intersted. The first night there were about seventy-five present. On last Wednesday night there were some where about 150 to 160 present. Another pleasing feature noticed was the fact that there were about as many men enrolled in the classes as women.

Dr. Rice is to be complimented in his progressive move which bids fair to do a large service to the people of Fort Worth. This is a challenge to other cities to do likewise.

BOYS DROP GAME TO NORTH SIDE HIGH

Off Day for Local Preps Renders Hard Work Unavailing

T. C. U. Academy played its second game in the Fort Worth Basketball League series Friday with North Fort Worth High School, the latter team winning by a score of 21 to 9.

T. C. U. started out like a whirlwind, but long before the whistle for the end of the first half they realized that they were up against the real article in the way of a basketball team. Besides playing a classy game of ball, North Side's players had size and weight that gave them considerable advantage. There was not a runt on the team.

For T. C. U. there were several spectacular plays of an individual nature. Shelburne shot some long goals from field and Gough did good work at center; but after all, it is the team-work that counts. Since Friday's game Coach Cahoon has been giving considerable time to this point, with many visible results.

C. E. UNION TO HAVE MOCK TRIAL

On Thursday night, Feb. 5th, in the T. C. U. Auditorium, the Fort Worth Christian Endeavor Union will give a unique program consisting of a mock trial entitled "A Cunning Conspiracy," by Robert Phillips, which represents and lays bare a deep-laid plot to destroy Christian Endeavor. It is full of instructive testimony, sparkling cross-examination, and witticisms that produce amusing situations. Picture in your mind's eye the court scene. It is an injunction against Christian Endeavor. There are the judges, the cunning lawyer of the plaintiff, and the earnest, determined attorney for the defence; the witnesses, some halting, others timid, or vindictive, or true to their convictions. The effect is electrical. It lights the flame of your enthusiasm and stimulates a desire for a just verdict. It is an entertainment that combines the three elements of a good entertainment—Amusement, Information, Inspiration.

The T. C. U. Orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

The following compose the cast:

Simon Hearall	Fred Killman
William Weightwell	S. H. Austin
Solomon Wiseman	Patrick Henry
Mr. Liquor King
Mr. A. Materialist	Chas. Fraser
Prof. P. Soodo Sikology	Jno. H. Durrett

BIBLE SCHOOL EXPERT LECTURES

E. W. Thornton, National Bible School Expert, Becomes Popular with T. C. U. Students

E. W. Thornton, a recognized Bible School expert, gave a series of lectures in T. C. U. during the present week. He occupied the chapel period each morning with subjects of general interest to the students. In the afternoon he lectured and held conferences with those students who are especially interested in Bible School work. Wednesday night he addressed the Y. M. C. A.

Being aroused at intervals of "seven minutes" throughout the night, by the electric gong, which is over the door of the guest chamber in Main Building, Mr. Thornton was thoroughly awake by chapel time. And being of a generous disposition he gave his experience in detail, so that others might enjoy the situation.

Mr. Thornton is a man of experience and one who is able and willing to impart that knowledge he has gained to others. He is primarily a Sunday School man, and realizing that man must be of many things a part and that no one activity can be carried to its greatest efficiency in itself alone, but that all have a common basis and purpose, he has studied the practical problems of Sunday School work in relation to those practical problems of everyday life.

The key-note of his talk Tuesday was an economic one—conservation of resources. The tendency, and the necessity of the day, is to stop the leaks, to prevent waste. "However," the speaker said, "this saving of energy has been conducted with an almost altogether materialistic gain in view. The smoke of the factory furnace is treated that no fuel may be lost; the forest is preserved that the soil may not be washed away, and for the same reason the river banks are guarded; and railroads are promoting safety, saving expense. But is the world caring for itself; is it saving the lives of its people; is it saving the energy stored up in them?" Bro. Thornton brought a picture of the great procession of "human waste that lays all others in the shade," a procession that is nobody knows how long, of convicts, intemperates, hoboes, reform students and others who are abusing their privileges in society. Thus is seen the wastefulness of man, not of material things, but of those finer senses and capabilities which are his inheritance. The problem, then, is that of conservation of character. And this conservation must begin within.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

The schedule adopted by the Fort Worth Interscholastic Basketball Association is as follows:

Central High School—Jan. 22, Bryant; Jan. 27, North Side; Jan. 29, Polytechnic; Feb. 3, T. C. U; Feb. 10, Polytechnic; Feb. 12, North Side; Feb. 17, T. C. U.

Bryant Training School—Jan. 22, Central; Jan. 29, T. C. U.; Feb 3, Polytechnic; Feb. 5, North Side; Feb. 12, T. C. U; Feb. 19, North Side.

Polytechnic High School—Jan. 15, North Side; Jan. 20, T. C. U.; Jan. 29, Central; Feb. 3, Bryant; Feb. 5, T. C. U.; Feb. 10, Central.

Texas Christian University—Jan. 20, Polytechnic; Jan. 22, North Side; Jan. 29, Bryant; Feb. 3, Central; Feb. 10, North Side; Feb. 12, Bryant; Feb. 17, Central; Feb. 19, Polytechnic

North Side High School—Jan. 15, Polytechnic; Jan. 22, T. C. U.; Jan. 27, Central; Feb. 5, Bryant; Feb. 10, T. C. U.; Feb. 12, Central; Feb. 17, Polytechnic; Feb. 19, Bryant.

TEXAS A. ASS'N TO REINSTATE T. C. U.

Christians Will Be Allowed to Schedule Games Next Year With State Institutions

C. C. Gumm of Poly, president of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association, has received an affirmative answer from nine of the schools of the association to his query as to whether the Texas Christian University be allowed to arrange a tentative football schedule, with teams of the association, contingent on the Christians being reinstated to good standing in May.

Upon receipt of word that the association had acted favorably upon his request to arrange his 1914 schedule, Patrick Henry, chairman of the athletic committee at T. C. U., has opened negotiations with the leading teams of the T. I. A. A. and with the two Oklahoma teams relative to games.

According to Henry, T. C. U. will be almost as strong in an athletic way next year as she was before being suspended from the association. Most of the stars of the 1912 football team will be back, and with the material developed during the suspended period of 1913, and the new men who have signified their intention of entering the local school, the Christians will be well fortified with athletic material.

T. C. U. will be the sole college representative of Fort Worth in football next fall, as no schedule is being arranged for Polytechnic College. The opening of the Southwestern Methodist University at Dallas next fall will probably be delayed too long to keep that institution from arranging a football schedule.

At the next meeting of the T. I. A. A. in May, Poly athletes will ask the association to waive the one-year rule, which would bar them from representing some other institution of the association next fall. If the association makes an exception of the rule in Poly's case, a number of the hill-top athletes will attend T. C. U. next fall.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING DEDICATED

Last Thursday evening the T. C. U. band and a large number of students participated in the celebration at the New Chamber of Commerce. The evening was given over to the students of Fort Worth. There were more students from T. C. U. than any other school, the city public or otherwise. The band furnished all the music for the occasion.

Miss Dura Louise Cockrell was one of the youg ladies who had the honor of hoisting the first flag over the new city auditorium. She was one of the winners in the contest held late last fall when compositions were written by all the children of the public schools on "Home Trading".

Anna Lee Harris and Ruby Moore spent Saturday night and Sunday with friends in the city.

GIRLS WIN ANOTHER BASKETBALL VICTORY

Champions of Tarrant County Girls Basketball League Outplayed Score 16 to 11

Following the North Side-Prep. game the T. C. U. girls gave a real exibition of basketball skill by defeating Washington Heights High School.

The visitors were small but what they lacked in size was made up in speed. When the first quarter closed the score stood 8 to 6 in favor of Washington Heights. At the first of the second quarter, Coach Bentley replaced two players with those who had had more experience. With this new arrangement the local immediately took the lead and kept it till the game ended a victory for the Purple and White.

Consistent team work and steady playing gave T. C. U. an advantage over the little warriors from Washington Heights. The work of Charlie Koch and Miss Proctor at T. C. U. forward was almost impregnable. This year's team will be remembered by the goal throwing of Capt. Minnie and her partner, Charlie. Only on rare occasions would the visitors put one over on the guards, Venice Luce and Harriet Smith. Their defense was remarkably good. Annie McLendon is an all-around player. She fits anywhere, and always makes trouble for her opponent. Katie Mae Cook was opposed at the center by a veritable jumping-jack, but she showed up in her old style that helped in other victories. Autie Carnahan and Verdie Lipscomb have played but little on the first team, but are showing up exceptionally well. They will probably be close contestants for regular places before the end of the season.

The Washington Heights girls are tied over the championship of Tarrant County Girls Basketball League.

The T. C. U. girls will play at Denton Monday, February 2.

SCHOOL OF METHODS HAS BEEN POSTPONED

The School of Methods which was announced for Feb. 9-13 at Wichita Falls has been called off untill fall at least on account of our being unable to secure the team of National Workers which had been promised. We regret very much to make this announcement but Brother Hopkins, National Secretary assures us a School of Methods within the next year.

T. C. U. AND THE T. I. P. A.

Several years ago representatives of the various colleges and universities of Texas met and organized what was styled the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association. T. C. U. was a member of this association of college editors for many years, but during the last three or four years she has not been represented at the annual meetings; neither has she paid her dues. At the last regular meeting the association took special action on the delinquency of T. C. U. and Decatur Baptist College. The provisions of the ruling gives us an opportunity to reenter the association upon the payment of a $5.00 fine and the annual dues of $10.00 making $15.00 in all. We are giving these detail facts so the student body will know the exact status of our standing with this organization. If T. C. U. is to take and hold her rightful standing in the college world of Texas she must not hold aloof from these very valuable intercollegiate associations. This is a matter which ought to elicit more interest than that of the Press Club. The student body pride ought to demand that we reenter the T. I. P. A. at once. The University Press Club has already voted to send delegates to the 1914 meeting which will be held at Trinity University in April. Let the student body show its interest in the standing of T. C. U. abroad by coming forth with entrance fee which will be necessary to put our school, in this particular, where she belongs. We believe that the loyalty of the student body will cause them to rally to this proposition.

T.C.U. REPRESENTED AT PROHI CONVENTION

At the Convention of Prohibitionists held in the new Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Saturday for the purpose of eliminating all but one candidate for governor from among the prohibitionists were five T. C. U. representatives. Those who attended were W. M. Williams, E. R. Bentley, R. A. Highsmith, B. A. Hayes and M. M. Knight.

COMMENDATION

We wish to commend the workers of "The Skiff" for the success they have made lately in greatly augmenting the size and quality of their weekly. Much good, we think, can be derived from such effort as they have been putting forth. Here are hopes and wishes that they will ever continue to improve their paper both as to make up in general and literary quality.--Normal Journal (Denton).

We appreciate the Journal's good wishes but we want to register a question. Why has the N. T. S. N. never launched a weekly? College Press spent three years in the normal and had hoped to see a weekly paper begun before now. The S. W. S. N. has started a weekly and a very creditable little sheet it is too.

WHERE WITH-ALL SHORT

The Battalion this week is only a six-page edition. At the beginning of the session it was the ambition of the staff to publish not less than eight pages thruout the year. We regret, for the sake of our readers, that this ambition has been shattered. With the absence of the football season and fall activities there is a scarcety of intertaining newspaper material on the campus. The new year means a reduction of expenses in business houres and consequently a reduction in the size of their advertisments. The size of the publication will necessarily vary directly with the amount of available reading and advertising material.--Battalion (A. & M.)

Take courage, old boy, and be consoled. Your experience is not unusual, in fact, every business manager of a college newspaper had a similar story to tell. The Skiff did not have to reduce its size but ran at an actual loss the first week after the holidays. Weekly the advertisers have been coming back. They know that it pays.

THE FACULTY IS ON THE ROSTRUM

The Skiff is the paper of the Texas Christian University of Fort Worth and it is edited by the pupils. Evidently, the faculty have confidence in the pupils putting just such things to the front in the paper as should be done and fail to see in advance what is coming, or they never would have allowed the leading editorial to have appeared in it last week. The editorial was just in the right place, but it was certainly a skinner for the faculty. It seems that the students are required to attend chapel each morning and the editors of the paper have noticed the absence of the faculty who are supposed to have seats on the rostrum. The editorial is headed: "Where, O where is the faculty?" And then proceeds to tell of their negligence to be present and recommends that they abide by the same rule that governs the students, which is wholesome doctrine for any school. All honor to the courage of the editor of the Skiff.

KEEPINGTHE RECORD STRAIGHT

In a report of Judge Buck's address before Prof. Cockrell's class which appeared in the Skiff January 16. Judge Buck thinks that the article put a quotation in his mouth which he does not endoss. The letter given below will be self explanitory. We are glad to set our friend right with our readers.

January 22, 1914.

Dr. E. R. Cockrell,
City.

Dear Sir and Friend:

I want you to extend to the editor of The Skiff my thanks for the kind and rather extended comment on my little talk in your class room at the University on the 10th inst. I regret that the clutch of the grippe and press of business prevented a more profitable discussion than was given.

While, in the main, the article correctly interpreted my views and gave a free rendering of what I said, in one paragraph, purporting to be a quotation, there was the statement that "I believe that there is more sense in the old method in the selection of the jury from the neighborhood from which the litigation grows than the present method of selecting ignoramuses, who never read the newspapers." While I do not know just the words I used, for as you remember, I spoke almost without notes, yet, I did not say and do not wish to be quoted as having said that under the present system of our jurors are "ignoramuses", for such a statement does not, in the least, reflect my belief or views. On the other hand, I believe and so stated, that in the main, we have on our juries, men of intelligence and honesty, who desire to do justice between litigants, and this, in spite of the trend of judicial legislation that would practically disqualify from jury service, on any case that had been the subject of much discussion, men who habitually read the newspapers and keep informed as to current events. This difficulty is experienced by the trial couts more in crimnal than in civil cases.

Kindly have The Skiff set me right with its readers.

With best wishes, I remain,
Yours cordially,
R. H. Buck.

HARK, YE COLLEGE EDITORS!

We wish to extend to every college editor in Texas a cordial invitation to visit Austin and the University of Texas on Wednesday, April 29, to be present at the first annual get-together meeting of the college editors.

This date has been selected by the Press Club of the University, under whose auspices the meeting is to be held, so as to coincide with the day when the members of the National Editorial Writers' Association will be in Austin on their tour of the State.

This will be a gala day for Austin, the University and the college editors.

The National Editorial Writers will come to Austin on a special train and will be the guests for the day of the Austin Press Club, one of the liveliest institutions of its kind in the South. Great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors. There will be a tour of the city, a reception by the Governor at the Capitol, and a visit to the University.

The college editors will have the benfit of this entertainment. The Austin Press Club joins the University Club in inviting the college editors to Austin, and will do everything possible to make the day one of enjoyment and benefit.

A business session for the college editors will be held at the University to discuss affairs relating to college journalism, to organize a bureau for the exchange of college news, and, if the time seems ripe, to perfect a permanent organization.

In addition, the editors will be urged to stay in Austin for the week-end, so as to be present at the Interscholastic Debates and Track Meets, which will be held on Clark Field on May 2 and 3. More than three hundred high schools will be represented at these meets, and there will be hundreds of high-school students in attendance. There will also be several academies represented.

This will afford the college editors a rare opportunity to come in personal contact with the high-school graduates, to tell them about the good qualities of their schools, and to make friends with the coming college men.

All in all, we are going to "put the big pot in the little one", and we are anxious to have every college editor on hand. The Daily Texan joins in extending the invitation.—Daily Texan.

College Press is planning to be there.

STUDENTS IN FIGHT USE HYMN BOOKS

Austin, Jan. 24.—The freshmen of the State University tried to hold their class election this week. They finally succeeded although at first some upper classmen were named for offices. Upper classmen were there in large numbers and when finally discovered a class fight ensued in which the ammunition used was hymn books. Hundreds of them were torn and broken up.

Next morning the janitor carried away three barrels of the books. There was not a single book left that could be used. George Jester of Corsicana was finally elected president.

COLLEGE NOTES

Wrestling has become a letter sport in the Missouri Valley conference.

A billiard and pool tournament was held recently at McGill University.

Indoor baseball is played a great deal in Eastern colleges.

The Harvard gym team will have a professional coach this year for the first time.

America will be represented by a soccer football team at the 1916 Olympic games in Berlin.

Mel. Sheppard, one of the greatest half-milers who ever trod cinders, has been on the track for 13 years.

There were three brothers by the name of Holt who won letters on the Oklahoma gridiron this year.

Louisiana State will have an inter-department basketball league this winter.

The University of Missouri is to have a new library building costing $200,000.

Drake University has fine prospects for a wonderful basketball team this year.

There are 170 new men and 21 veterans from which the coaches of the University of California have to pick a track team.

The students of Indiana State held an "Everyman's Two-Bit Banquet" on Jan. 15. Four hundred and fifty-one men were present.

The juniors and seniors at Drake University have entered a mustache-growing competition. What will occur at Drake next?

The University of Pennsylvania has begun baseball practice. Six catchers and ten pitchers reported to the coach for battery positions.

The University of Michigan has a comedy club. They will present a musical comedy, "The Scarecrow", soon.

The students at Columbia are making a desperate effort to have football put back on the calendar of sports. The faculty ruled football out several years ago.

McGill University of Montreal, Canada, has a campus skating rink of ice. Season tickets are sold to this rink, and at the skating parties programs are made out similar to dance programs.

Boxing is becoming popular in the universities all over the country. Yale, Wisconsin, Chicago, Columbia, Dartmouth, Amherst have taken up the sport. Few people around the university know that we have an enthusiastic and growing boxing class.

The student council of the University of Oklahoma has decided to abolish the annual freshman-sophomore scraps. Instead, they have decreed that all "freshies" must wear a red cap of the postage stamp variety.

There are all manner of fraternities from the every-day Greek letter social frat to the journalistic. The University of Missouri goes one better. They have Gama Siga Delta, an honorary agricultural fraternity.

There was a total of 1,137 students engaged in different kinds of athletics at Michigan last fall. The sports ran as follows: Football, 212; rowing, 157; baseball, 58; track, 143; crosscountry, 78; soccer, 76; lacrosse, 55; tennis, 112; hockey, 113; gymnastics, 118; fencing, 25.

The Chapel

Edited by Ray Camp

Partly in opposition to the spirit of criticism and ill feeling that seems always to spring up at this particular period of each school year, and partly on account of the beautiful weather, that ever ready topic, let us look at the bright side of things for a change. And though all activities of the University have their happy sides, if they were but willing to wipe the tears away, this is addressed to that every day affair of Chapel.

Chapel in T. C. U is more than it has ever been before. All enjoy it; old teachers say that there is better order than in all the history of the school. Then there must be a reason for it. What? Some say its this, some that. The orchestra 'plays' an important part in this new interest, and the students are grateful for it. Then our faculty have been especially enthused. The students like to have them talk and would be glad if they brought more of the things that interest them, since the students too, like to see things done, would appreciate a little broader vision of the lives of the men who lead.

The secret, the open secret. it seems, is that there is new interest in Chapel, because the life of the school is being pvt into it—our teachers talk to us—our orchestra plays—in short, those who really have wellfare of T C. U. at heart are the ones who are speaking. Outside attractions are good now and then, but more permanent values are established by a working together of our own forces. The students would like more of this confidence and sharing of the views and hopes and aspirations of the faculty.

Lloyd Burns, of the Ft. Worth Bar, gave us a delightful talk about the dignity of knowledge, saying that there is not success without it. A man must cultivate his staying qualities and learn to love his work and those, who work with him. Get a grasp on things for no pleasure is as great as that which comes of knowing that one is able to do his work well, thus gaining the respect of others.

Come again Mr. Lloyd Burns.

THE T. C. U. BAR ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

With fourteen charter members the T, C. U. Bar Association was organized last Tuesday. The society is composed of those students of college standings whose purpose is to study law. A constitution has been adopted the preamble sets forth the object as follows: We, the members of the Bar Association of Texas Christian University, in order to further the interest, knowledge and advancement of the study of law and ultimately to establish a law department in this instution do ordain and establish this constitution and by laws."

C. B. Reeder was elected president; Birge Holt, vice president; Chalmers M. Livsey, secretary-treasurer; Allan Freeman, sergeant- at-arms; and Professor Cockrell, critic. Wednesday night was set as the meeting time. Several committees were appointed to look after matters pertaining to active work of the association. By many it is thought that this will be a powerful adjunct to the society and training organizations in Texas Christian University.

At a called meeting and after a rather heated discussion it was decided to limit the membership to male students.

THE TEST

Test! test! test! test!
Will we never get a rest
From this diabolic pest,
This most unwelcome guest
That escaped Pandora's chest?
Study 'till, by slumber oppressed,
Your head sinks down upon your breast,
And your eyelids are by sleep caressed—
You'll flunk next day, in spite of your zest.

As often, at our own behest,
As Cato repeated "Delend est,"
We have made our heart's request,
That we no longer be destressed
By this scheme of man unblessed;
And each Pref. who we addressed
Merely answer with a jest,
"Tomorrow we will have a test!"

CHRIST'S HATRED OF SHAMS

LESSON TEXT: Luke xi:37-51.

I.—EXTERNAL AND INTERNAL RELIGION.

The Pharisees were among the most religious people of their day. They were scrupulous in their observance of the least obligation of the ceremonial law, but their morality did not square with their religion. They thought that piety consisted in doing rather than being. Jesus taught that the reverse was true.

Examples of the Divorce of Religion and Morality: (a) The Catholic Church in the Middle Ages. (b) The Hindoo theories of religion (see Dennis' Christian Missions and Social Progress, Chapter I). (c) The extreme Sacramentarians of the present day. (d) People who go to church but contribute nothing to the support of the gospel or who live unclean lives.

II.—THE FIRST WOE—REVERSAL OF THE MORAL ORDER.

To tithe mint, anise and cummin was not necessarily bad, but it was of small importance. To forget justice and mercy was of immence importance. The Pharisees forgot the large things and emphasized the small.

Examples: (1) People who are opposed to missions, but scrupulously correct about a certain order of worship. (2) People who fuss over minute points of theology and backbite their neighbors. (3) People who want to be baptized in "running water" but lack the essential love and charity of Christianity.

Numerous other examples will suggest themselves.

III.—THE SECOND WOE—THE LOVE OF APPEARANCES.

Christianity is a religion of humility. Many religious people of the present and other ages seem to have forgotten this fact. Elaborate titles and ceremonies, clerical fuss and feathers, ecclesiastical pride ad nauseam belong to the Pharasaical order and not to the Christian.

Note (a) The pride of Mediaeval ecclesiastics. (b) The self-righteous elder of today. (c) The preacher who insists on elaborate advertisement and unnecessary kow-towing to his clerical majesty.

IV.—THE THIRD WOE — FLAGRANT DECEPTION.

These Pharisees were skillful in covering their wickedness. Most of people could not see through the gloss of their hypocrisy. Such pretense has always been the curse of religion. Men stumble over "whited sepulchres" and the church suffers as a result

V.—THE FOURTH WOE—EXTORTION.

The lawyers—ecclesiastical as well as civil at this time—put in a plea for their friends the Pharisees. Jesus turns the objection into a shaft aimed at the would be prosecutor. The fundamental thought here is the appropriation of the fruits of one man's labor through force or chicanery on the part of another. The indictment is a heavy one. So true is it to life that it reads as though written primarily for the twentieth century instead of for the first.

VI.—THE FIFTH WOE—UNAVAILING PRETENSE.

These people are willing to oppress and kill the innocent and then to build sepulchres for their victims. Herod the Great is on record as having made a magnificent funeral for Aristobulus, the brother of his wife, after having had the youth put to death. Oppressors today sometimes shed crocodile tears for those who have perished through their injustice. Such folk are lineal descendents of the lawyers denounced in this lesson.

Practical Questions upon the Entire Lesson: (1) What is the true function of the legal profession? (2) What is there about religion which makes it an especially fruitful soil for hypocrisy? (3) Do people live today off of the fruits of the labor of others? (4) What type of sins received the heaviest condemnation of Jesus? (5) Has the law oppressed people at times when it should have protected them? (6) What are the most needed legal reforms of the present day?

THE ARCHER S. S. CLASS' ANNUAL PROGRAM PARTY

Twenty-four Archers met in the Shirley-Walton hall last Saturday night for their annual festival.

Interesting entertainment had been prepared by Miss Amboline Tyson. Misses Delpha Russell and Roberta Scott read for the pleasure of all and a song was rendered by Miss Grace Mason.

Little pumpkin heads were passed around and on each was written directions for some "stunts". Miss Baldwin had to sit on a bottle and thread a needle. Miss Huckbees read "What you felt when you didn't have a bean on Sunday night." After lingering around the door for awhile with many a backward look she siezed Miss Tyson's arm beseeching her company amid the laughter of all.

After the program the girls prepared their own feast. It consisted of fruit salad, olives, pickles, potato chips, ham and peanut sandwiches, hot chocolate and marshmallows, cakes, fruit and fudge.

Judge Hunter and wife of the city spent Sunday afternoon with their neice, Mora Moore.

THE HEAD AND THE HEART

The head is stately, calm and wise,
And bears a princely part;
And down below, in secret, lies
The warm, impulsive heart.

The lordly head that sits above
The heart tnat beats below.
Their several office plainly prove,
Their true relation show.

The head erect, serene and cool,
Endowed with reason's art,
Was set aloft to guide and rule
The throbbing, wayward heart.

And from the head as from the higher
Comes every glorious thought;
And in the hearts transforming fire
All noble deeds are wrought.

Yet each, is best when both unite
To make a man complete;
What were the heat without the light?
The light without the heat?

ON TO DENTON!

The boys' and the girls' basketball teams will go to Denton Monday, Feb. 2, to engage tne teams of North Texas State Normal in games on that date.

The band and a large delegation of T. C. U. supporters are expected to go.

"Your answer", said the history professor to one of his pupils, "reminds one of Quebec".

Pupil (grinning sheepishly)—"Why, sir?"

"Because Quebec is founded on such a tall bluff," replied the professor.—Exchange.

HER ROSARY

The way she sang that song (dear heart!)
Was quite a source of woe to me;
She sang with almost superhuman art
Her Rosary, her Rosary!

Each note more high, each word more loud,
To rend my ears into anguish wrung.
She sang each vese unto the end, and then
Another one was sung.

I lost my sleep to hear that song,--
O barren gain and bitter loss!
And oh! with wnat a wild, resounding yell
She kissed the Cross—S--W--E--E--T--H--E--A--R--T--!--! She kissed the Cross!

Messrs. Guy Rosar and T. B. Mickey spent Sunday in visiting the Misses. Vera Lee, Lucile and Grace Tancred, and Grace Tancred, and Alba Holden of Ft. Worth.

"Bill" Miller, the assistant engineer, has purchased a new alarm clock. Lettuce pray that this state of affairs will be conducive to a greater degree of heat, or temperature, in the dormitories.

J. C. Phillip, from El Campo is a new student in the Academy.

The Frank North Co. will present the society play, "La Belle Marie" at the Savoy theater the week of Feb. 3rd. "Texas", which is running this week is a live western drama and has enjoyed a successful patronage.

Certain members of the Skiff Staff, while exploring one wild ravine west of the University Tuesday evening, found a solid five-carat golden ring, upon which was engraved the symbols, "B. U. G." The ring was discovered in the ashes of what appeared once to have been a considerable fire, around which fire was strewn a chicken's head two chicken's legs, (the two legs of one chicken) and a goodly quantity of chicken's feathers. Owner may have same by calling on the writer of this article and identifying his property.

Rev. R. A. Highsmtth was called to Springtown last Thursday on account of the death of his mother-in-law Mrs. Dr. J. A. Gracey.

Gertrude Lange, City, has enrolled in the University.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN 1913

The students of the university are interested in what their city is doing. Possibly the most powerful and farseeing organization in the city is the Chamber of Commerce. Bellow are some of the achievements of this splendid body as given in the prosperity edition of the Fort Worth Record:

"Built the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

"Conducted home trading campaign thru personal letters.

"Conducted school children's home trading composition contest.

"Inaugurated successful campaign to stop peddling from car doors.

"Trade excursion in June visited seventy-two East Texas cities.

"Assisted in securing the appointed of an expert to superintend construction of Tarrant county's $1,000,000 highway system.

"Secured the passage of a special road law by the Texas legislature for Tarrant county.

"Secured headquarters of the officers of the Meridian highway and sent delegations to attend highway meetings at other points.

"Secured the Sothern National highway, Colorado-to-the-Gulf highway, the Science highway and the All-Southern highway through Fort Worth.

"Organized the Fort Worth Automobile club.

"Entertained the members of the members of the Thirty-third legislature of Texas, two special trains of Shriners en route to national convention and various other delegations and prominent persons that have visited Fort Worth from time to time during the year.

"Conducted a successful clean-up campaign.

"Conducted a campaign to have voter poll taxes.

"Held three membership banquets.

Affiliated with Chamber of Commerce of the United States, American Asscciation of Commercial Executives and the Texas Commercial Executives and Secretaries association."

Special Departments

Edited by Wm. R. Lines.

Those who heard the band play last Friday at the opening of the new Chamber of Commerce know now that T. C. U. has a band that is A BAND. The boys made a good showing and have won a warm place in the heart of thoee who love good music.

Miss Aubrey Fletcher is contemplating a course in vi.lin, that is, if she doet not dhcide to take lessons on the fiddle.

Miss Grace Brown of the Art Department was on the sick list last week.

Miss Powell, head of the Oratory Department, has been ill during the past few days. Her many friends hope for her a speedy recovery.

The following people were initiated by the Brushes last Saturday: Annie Mae Tanner, Beatrice Hart, Ester Ray, Grace Brown, Bonnie Williams, Eula Bevins, Alma Folse, Lela Montgomery, Irene Scott, Leota Blassengame. The occasion was a series of hair raising and scream producing feats through which the members were taken. If a stranger should have entered the front door of Main Building he would have mistaken the dignified hall for a slaughter pen. There were, however, but woebegone screams that would have indicated it. If Mr. Thornton had heard these wails he would have honored the bill as a musical instrument for the purpose of soothing the tired ear after the storm. After the initiation, which is a secret, daintily prepared refreshments were served. The entire occasion was a splendid success.

Miss Browning and Miss Knox are new matriculates in the C. O. B.

Mr. Boyd Wilson '12 was visiting in the C. O. B last week. After a short visit in T. C. U. he will go to New York.

UNSEXED

It doesn't unsex her to toil in a factory
Minding the looms from the dawn 'till the night;
To deal with a schoolful of children refractory
Doesn't unsex her in anyone's sight;
Work in a store where her back aches inhumanly—
Doesn't unsex her at all, you will note,
But think how exceedingly rough and unwomanly
Woman would be if she happened to vote!

To sweat in a laundry that's torrid and torrider
Doesn't subtract from her womanly charm;
And scrubbing the flags in an echoing corridor
Doesn't unsex her—so where is the harm?
It doesn't unsex her to nurse us with bravery,
Loosing death's hand from it's grip on the throat;
But ah! how the voices grow quivery, quavery,
Wailing: "Alas, 'twill unsex her to vote!"

She's feminine still when she juggles the crockery,
Bringing you blithely the order you give;
Toil in a sweatshop where is a mockery
Just for the pittance on which she can live—
That doesn't seem to unsex her a particle.
"Labor is noble"--so somebody wrote-
But ballots are known as a dangerous article,
Woman's unsexed if you give her the vote!

—Berton Braley, in Colliers.

STUDIO PIANO RECITAL

The piano students of Professor Beutel, Techeau and Schwinger gave the first piano recital of the year last Thursday night. The lovers of piano music gathered in Professor Beutel's studio and enjoyed one of the best musical programs ever given by T. C. U. students.
