GIFTED READER IN RECITAL ON LANIER CHARMS AUDIENCE

Olive McClintic Johnson
T.C.U. Graduate Makes
Success of Work

T. C. U. friends, students and faculty members are very proud indeed of the excellent program rendered by Mrs. Olive McClintic Johnson in her interpretative recital on "Sidney Lanier and His Art," given in the University auditorium Thursday evening, May 13. At ten minutes before time to begin, Miss Gladys Huckabee, a graduate of the Music Department, gave a very beautiful piano selection. Dean Colby D. Hall, an old friend of Miss McClintic, gave a short introduction, then the most popular reader and teacher that T. C. U. has ever sent out—Miss Olive McClintic—presented her message to a large and very appreciative audience.

The manner of presentation of the life and art of Sidney Lanier was unique. One quite forgot that dry facts were being interwoven with the finished and artistic readings of his poems which were used to represent the different periods of his life and works. The lecturer first gave his place in the world's letters by saying that Sidney Lanier stands first in American Literature. Also that Lanier shines brightest as a man and poet, even though he was the world's greatest flute-player. She told how his boyhood was characterized chiefly by an absorbing passion for music, and that he showed exceptional skill as a performer on both the violin and flute. She told of his college career, his young manhood; of the interruption of his studies by the war; the struggle for support; and the unremitting fight against tuberculosis, and how even to the very last he struggled with life and death to give us his last great poem "Sunrise," then that the light of the finest spirit in American letters went out.

Readings were given from the following poems: "Corn"; "The Song of the Chatahochee"; "The Marshes of Glynn"; "The Mocking-Bird," "The Harlequin of Dreams"; etc.

We heartily recommend this recital to all literary clubs, colleges, churches, etc., that might be looking for work of this high order and character.

At the close of the program and amid

FIRST TEAM PLAYS LAST GAME AT DENTON NORMAL

North Texas State Normal defeated T. C. U. on the former's diamond in a brilliant game of baseball, 5 to 3, last Monday. The team which went to Denton was composed mostly of first team men. Shelburne pitched a good game; Miller caught.

This was the last out of town game for the season. No more first team games will be played but a few more matches will be played between the second team men and minor league teams before school is out.

CAHOON AND PIRKLE SPLIT HONORS WITH DENTON NORMAL

T. C. U. won a set of doubles and a set of singles and lost a set of each to North Texas State Normal in Denton last Monday afternoon.

Paul Pirkle and Frederick M. Cahoon represented T. C. U. Pirkle sustained a sprained ankle at the beginning of the tournament which impeded his playing.

MUSICIANS PROGRAM PLEASES AUDIENCE

The student body and faculty as well as many special attendants upon the occasion enjoyed a concert program given by Mrs. Cahoon, Mrs. Dan Brown and Mr. Guy Pitner of the city, at the chapel hour Tuesday morning. The delightful numbers were responded to by very pleasing encores. The rich, soft voice of Mrs. Brown is a splendidly trained contralto. Mr. Pitner, who proved himself a splendid interpreter is a composer and an artist pianist. The praises of Mrs. Cahoon's beautiful voice can not be sung too much.

The program, with which the appreciative audience was entertained follows:

Romance.....Greenfield
Mr. Guy Pitner
The Moon Behind the Cottonwood.....
.....Cadman
As in a Rose Jar.....Cadman
Mrs. Dan Brown
A Day in Arcady.....Harriet Ware
A Spring Morning
Seas at Noon
Good Night
Mrs. Cahoon and Mrs. Brown

TOURISTS ON T.C.U. TRAIN ASKED TO SEND IN NAMES NOT LATER THAN JUNE 15

Due to the fact that the hotels and auto tour companies engaged for the accommodation of travelers on the T. C. U.-Panama-Pacific special train are raising their rates, Professor Cockrell, conductor of the T. C. U. tour, has announced that those who intend to go should let him know before June 15.

In order to get the best advantage of the contracts it is desirable that the tourists be arranged for as early as possible. Among others who are planning to go are: H. R. Ford of Beaumont, Fannie Jack Baldwin, '14; Grace Hackney, '13; Katherine Riter, Harriette Shirley, '13; Lera Brown and her father and mother, Mrs. Luse and Venice Luse, Mrs. Lavender and Miss Lula Lavender of Lancaster, Margaret Gibson and T. B. Michie.

MISS HATTIE FAUGHT GIVES VIOLIN RECITAL

Talented Pupil of Frederick
Cahoon plays Difficult
Program

On Wednesday evening May 12, Miss Hattie Faught, accompanied by Miss Ethlyn Bowman, played her graduating violin recital before a large audience. Each number of her difficult program was well rendered and heartily received. The young violinist is a pupil of Frederick Cahoon, who promises a bright future for her.

Miss Faught was assisted by three pupils of oratory under Miss Leila Powell. The very entertaining and splendid program follows:

Sonata.....Tartini
The Touch in the Heart.....Field
Miss Ruby Walker
Concerta No. VII.....De Beriot
The Tale.....Robert Browning
Miss Lera Brown
Barcarole.....Hans Sitt
Obertass.....Wilniawski
Bing.....Booth Tarkington
Miss Beuna Lindsay
Elegil.....Henri Ernest

Miss Faught is quite talented and her recital brought forth much commendation for the excellent work she has done

Miss Ellen Parker, who has been teaching the past year in Ida, stopped a day with friends on the campus this week.

JOHN C. NELSON CHOSEN BASEBALL CAPTAIN FOR '16

Popular First Year All-Round Athlete Unanimous Choice

John C. Nelson of Mangum, Okla., was unanimously elected captain of Varsity's baseball team for 1916, at a meeting of the letter men in Dr. Gumm's room last Tuesday. Nelson is a freshman and has been in T. C. U. only one year.

Nelson was one of the best players on the Horned Frog nine this Spring. He played third base creditably and was a good hitter. He is a favorite among his fellow players and was chosen on account of his popularity and his ability to lead and manage.

Last fall Nelson played left halfback on the Varsity football squad. He was one of the steadiest and fastest men on the team. Before coming to T. C. U. "Nellie" won letters in baseball, basketball, football and track for four years at the Mangum High School.

Practically every man on the T. C. U. nine will return next year, which means Coach Freeland will have plenty of good material on hand.

SLUMBER PARTY

GLEE CLUB PROGRAM HERE IS WELL RECEIVED

$60 Raised by Benefit Concerts to Gravel Campus
Road—Elect Officers

The concert given by the University Glee Club Wednesday evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the small crowd of music lovers that braved the threatening weather in order to listen to the most efficient glee club and orchestra in the state.

The curtain rose while the orchestra played Verdi's "Triumphant March" from Aida. And the high standard set by the orchestra in this opening piece was maintained throughout the entire concert. "Sailing" was the first song rendered by the glee club and it was especially pleasing to the audience. Other numbers—rendered equally as well—were, "His Sweet Guitar," "Who Built De Ark," and "Hail, Silent Night." Shirley Sweeney was especially good in "Hail, Jerusalem, Hail." The tenors showed up well in Hackleman's "Hammer Song," and the second basses demonstrated their ability in "The Bull Frog in the Pool."

Mr. Cahoon, in a violin solo, gave a splendid interpretation of Vieuxtemps' "Reverie."

Mrs. Cahoon added greatly to the evening's enjoyment by singing several soprano solos. Cadman's "Call Me No More," and Woodman's "A Birthday," were especially enjoyed. The perfect tone and rich quality of Mrs. Cahoon's voice, as usual, completely caught the audience.

The orchestra was enthusiastically cheered after playing Flotow's "Martha" and Strause's "A Vision of Salome." In response to continual cheering "Knock Out Drops" was rendered.

This excellent concert was closed by the glee club singing, "Dear T. C. U." This same program is to be given again at a later date.

Officers elected for next year's glee club are: Prof. Cahoon, president; Jesse Martin, vice-president; Tom Paul Sweeney, secretary-treasurer; Owen Jones, librarian.

The glee club this year has been a

MISS MOORE SHOWS TALENT AS READER

Monday evening, May 17, Miss Mora Moore of Benjamin appeared in the first of a series of three graduating recitals in the School of Oratory.

Miss Moore is a pupil of Leila Long Powell, and a brilliant career is predicted for her. Her conscientious work and her love for her art, her splendid training and dramatic interpretation made possible the brilliancy of the recital read before a large audience. The appreciative hearers followed closely her delineation of the characters, Trelawney, Lady Geraldine and Dooley.

Her varied and difficult program follows:

Trelawney of the Wells (scene from play).....Pinero
Lady Geraldine's Courtship.....
.....Elizabeth Browning
Dooley on La Grippe Microbes.....Dunne
Miss Mary Sue Darter will read her graduating recital May 26 and Sophia Bahan May 28.

Daphne Helms spent several days at her home in Josephine during the past week.

ACADEMY LATIN STUDENTS HAVE ENJOYABLE PICNIC IN SHADES OF FOREST PARK

Students of Classes A, B and C, Academy Latin, consisting of about 40 or 50 members, spent a most enjoyable time under the spacious, cooling shades of Forest Park Friday afternoon. Under the supervision of Mr. Cantrell the classes have not only enjoyed their class work but have eagerly looked forward to the time when the winners would be the guests of the losers. The Latins, Caians and Tullians were royally entertained by the combined efforts of the Romans, Julians and Marcians by engaging in games, conversations, discussions in Latin, and other things, and especially by partaking of a sumptuous, well prepared and most enjoyable lunch.

The arrangement committee consisted of Misses Knox and Bailey with Mr. Pirkle as Chairman, who spared no pains to see that all necessary things were provided.

GIRLS' MATRON ACCEPTS PLACE AT PHILLIPS U.

Mrs. Boggess to Be Dean of Women at Oklahoma College Next Year

Mrs. Boggess, who for the past year has been sub-matron in Jarvis Hall, has recently contracted for the lady principalship of Phillips University, Enid Oklahoma.

During her work here Mrs. Boggess has made a host of friends, discharging her duties thoroughly and efficiently always, and making herself useful, helpful and agreeable to the girls under her care. She leaves behind her a record of good merit and many friends, who wish for her a most prosperous and pleasant year's work.

She will be known as Dean of Women at Phillips.

Dave Tudor, who was operated on for appendicitis, is able to be up now. He has withdrawn from school and gone to his home in Pecos.

E. R. Bentley, who left on a business trip for Paduca last Thursday, has returned. Bentley also spent a day in Cleburne last week.

great success. Many splendid programs have been given over the state, and the money realized from these concerts is being used to construct a gravel road in front of the university buildings.

ADD-RANS DEFEAT SHIRLEY DEBATERS BY 2 TO 1 DECISION

Last Inter-Society Event of Year Settled After Close Contest

By a two to one decision, James H. McBride and W. B. Higgins, representing the Add-Ran Literary Society, won the annual inter-society debate Saturday night over John Keith and Willis McGregor, debaters for the Shirley Literary Society. This was the last contest of the year between the two organizations and the Add-Rans and their sisters, the Clarks, were elated over the defeat of the Shirleys.

In the absence of E. R. Bentley, president of the oratorical association, Crawford B. Reeder presided. The question discussed was: "Resolved, that when internal dissension threatens the perpetuity of government in the Latin-American republics, the United States should intervene and aid in the establishment of a free and independent government." The Add-Ran team defended the affirmative and the Shirley team argued the negative.

The teams put out by the societies this year were exceptionally strong in debating and gave an exhibition of intellectual and oratorical ability equal to that displayed in any contest of the year. Each individual man should be given credit for excellent work in argumentation.

The Shirleys were generally conceded to have the edge on their opponents from the standpoint of oratory, and so closely matched were they in the force of their argumentative power that it seemed that the contest would go to the Shirley men.

McBride saved the day for the Add-Rans, however, by his four-minute rebuttal speech in which he pointed out that the affirmative was merely pleading for a continuance of a policy which the United States has been practicing for one hundred years, a policy which means no cost to this country in the way of money and men.

The judges for the debate were F. D. McNaughton, real estate man, O. W. Gillespie, attorney, and Mr. Barry, formerly of Trinity University.

The two previous contests of the year were won by the Shirley Society.

WASHER TROPHY WINNER TO BE DECIDED MONDAY

Texas Woman's College won the set of doubles in the tournament for the Washer trophy last Monday afternoon at Sycamore Park, 10 to 8 and 6 to 2. T. W. C. was represented by Agnes McCollough and Ruth Doty. Minnie Proctor and Mary Sue Darter played for T. C. U.

The sets of singles which will decide the winner of the Washer cup will be played on the T. C. U. court Monday. Minnie Proctor will play Ruth Doty and Mary Sue Darter will play Agnes McCollough. If T. C. U. wins both sets of singles, the cup goes to her. If T. W. C. wins one of the sets, she will receive the cup and be given the city championship.

S. M. U. NOT ADMITTED

The Skiff wishes to correct an error appearing in its columns last week concerning the admission of the new Southern Methodist University into the T. I. A. A. The new institution was not admitted into the association as stated in the story. The other statements in the article were correct.

SOME THINGS TO REMEMBER

The election of student body officers for next year will soon be held. The constitution of the Students' Association provides that the offices of president and vice president shall alternate year by year between the Shirley and Add-Ran Literary Societies. The president for next year must be chosen from the Shirley Society and the vice president from the Add-Ran Society. Students should be thinking about the coming election and choosing their candidates.

Closer connection ought to be established between the students of the T. C. U. College of Medicine in the city and the students on university hill. Many of the students in the university do not know where the Medical Department is located and some do not even know that T. C. U. has a medical Department. Some means should be adopted to bring the medics and academics into closer bonds of friendship. Why not give a reception at the beginning of the year in honor of the medical students and let them get acquainted with us?

Students in that department want to take a part in T. C. U. athletics next year and Coach Ewing Freeland expects to draw some good material from their ranks. The medics have the T. C. U. spirit. All they need is a chance to display it.

Professor Myatt relates the following:

A young college graduate, fresh from four years' seclusion in the university walls, had started out to hunt a position just after he had been graduated, armed with his sheepskin. He went into a business house and asked the boss for a position.

"What can you do?" asked the man.

The young college graduate pulled out his diploma, unrolled it and handed it to his prospective employer with an air which indicated that he thought it sufficient to secure a place for him next to the president of the company. "Here's my A. B.," he said.

The business man looked at him a minute, then said brusquely, "Take a seat over there and I'll teach you the rest of the alphabet."

Whether a man is a college graduate or not, unless he prepares himself for a certain line of work before he applies for a job, he will usually find himself "up against it" when he strikes a business man with his "What can you do." How is it in your case?

Large numbers of Americans have been accustomed to going over to Europe each summer to spend their vacations. We predict, however, that this summer will see a right-about-face change in the sentiment of the traveling public which will result in an unprecedented revival of the "See America First" slogan. Instead of special European tours being organized by the various steamship lines to give Americans an opportunity to see Europe at reduced prices, tour trains are being planned to furnish summer vacationists the opportunity of seeing the mammoth resources of their own country and the grandeur of its natural scenery.

Which is to remind you that Prof. E. R. Cockrell is to conduct a special T. C. U. train to the Panama-Pacific Exposition this summer. Those who had intended to go to Europe might do well to think about taking this trip.

Underclassmen sometimes get the habit of not remaining for commencement week. This is a mistake for the exercises of commencement week, marking the culmination of a year's work in college, should be celebrated as much by underclassmen as by the graduating class. Commencement this year promises to be a time of big things. Certainly no one will be disappointed by staying to witness the closing events of the school year.

The poor students who, for many months have had to endure the shrill noises and inharmonious sounds which emanate from the fine arts practice rooms above them and float down to the class rooms below, thought that they could never be compensated for the suffering which they have had to endure. But those who have heard the recent fine arts student recitals feel that the finished product is fully worth all that they put up with during the training season. The fine arts department has developed excellent students in every branch. The closing programs of the year are good evidence of the high character of the work given by the instructors. It is comforting, though, to know that the fine arts building is the next one to be built on the campus. It will be completed in about two years—beyond lung distance of Worth Hall.

Certain gluttons weighed before and after a feed at Ford's store and were disappointed to find only three pounds difference. They should have eaten a T. C. U. biscuit.

One way of practicing the "survival of the fittest" is making yourself so obnoxious that nobody can live on your corner of the globe.

Ha, girls, a new way to catch him!—Slarder him until nobody but you will have him.

Germany's real purpose in blowing up the Lusitania was putting the quietus on those nasty things Elbert Hubbard has been saying about the Kaiser in the "Philistine."

Hearing a two-bit record on a $200 Victrola reminds you of the cheap conversation you sometimes hear from overdressed people.

There are at least two ways of proving your artistic taste: attending good artistic performances and staying away from bad ones.

We hear that the Irish soldiers in east France are using "Tipperary" for a battle song. The Germans being a musical people, we wonder whether this will kill them outright or only tend to enrage them.

When our rich uncle dies, the first thing we shall do is buy some good records for the Victrola and bury the old ones.

The Fort Worth Sons of Herrmann have issued formal warning to picnickers not to go boating on Lake Worth—submarines.

Our noble youth have generously agreed to comply with the law and not smoke in the Clark Hall parlor. This self-denial is certainly heroic.

Well, the Shirleys lost the debate, but it took a "shotgun massa-cree in Que-bee" to plumb vanquish them.

Girls, to discover his taste, come over and listen to the Victrola records that delight him. Then if you still want him you will know how to get him.

We don't know about pulling the ox out of the ditch, but we are in favor of removing him from the chapel platform.

Now that they are both gone, we just have to tell it: Fra Elbertus' stale ones in the "Philistine" were suggested by his wife, and he had to put them in to keep from hurting her feelings.

Mr. Brann's skunk, who stank for attention and compelled even the nobility to notice him needn't flatter himself that he has anything on the Victrola.

We wonder if depriving the "students" of study hours would meet with the outburst of ire that the proposition to curtail their little domino game did.

If we are murdered for saying these things, they will say: "Well, since it is only four weeks till the end of school, let's let the culprit go. But we'll make a ruling against that next fall." However, if we are given as much warning as the Lusitania had, all this will be unnecessary.

For two hours Christenberry and Miller were noted standing by Prof. Cockrell's back yard. They seemed to be pursuing President Wilson's watchful waiting policy. "What are you doin'?" asked a passerby. Quoth Miller: We're waitin' for Prof. Cockrell's peaches to get ripe so we can go over and swipe them."

The faculty take-off was only an answer to the prayer: "O wad some power the giftie gie us," etc.

First Staller—"Let's cut French class today." Second Staller—"I can't afford to; I have up my lesson."

If one of the stores really wants to increase business, it should run an ad like this in the Skiff: "A glass of our pop between classes will help you to stall."

With the subtle artifices of modern stalling, we ought to be able to get by poor old unsophisticated St. Peter dead easy.

HAL HUNTER REINSTATED

Joe Hunter was a visitor in the university Monday. Joe brought the news that his brother, Hal, who was ruled ineligible to play baseball in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association because of the one year rule, had been reinstated and is now playing on the Transylvania team.

Hal has established a successful record as an athlete at Transylvania.

A clever contest was engaged in just before the daintiest of refreshments were served to the following: Vista Woods, Lera Brown, Lucille Durrett, Pansy Bozeman and Anna Mae Akard.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HEAD EXPLAINS T.I.A.A. RULES

C. C. Gumm, president of the athletic council, who recently attended a meeting of the T. I. A. A. at Baylor, gave a resume of T. C. U.'s standing and ideals in regard to athletics, in chapel Wednesday morning.

Dr. Gumm explained some of the important T. I. A. A. rules with respect to intercollegiate athletics. One new rule allows college men to play baseball in summer for money providing the team he plays with is not under the national commission. Another new ruling is that work in the special or fine arts departments will count as well as work in the College of Arts and Sciences

Mora Moore and Ruby Francis visited the Medical Department of the university Saturday and were shown through the building by Giles Day.

Catherine Roberts, who is a candidate for a degree this year, was out visiting last week. She completed most of her work last year and will receive her diploma in June.

Audry Capps of North Fort Worth spent part of Saturday and Sunday with Dorothy Agee in Jarvis Hall. Miss Capps was a summer school student last year.

A few of the students of the art department Monday evening enjoyed a picnic and later a party at Bernice Roger's home.

Among those who came out from the city to attend the debate Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. McGregor and Miss Myrtle McGregor, Mrs. John McBride, Miss Kate Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn, Miss Alta Vaughn, Mrs. Hightower, Miss Betts and John Bateman.

by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson now reside in Dallas at 4933 Crutcher street, and as they are so near we hope to have them with us often.

Miss McClintic is a native Texan. She was educated in T. C. U. In 1901 she took her A. B. and B. O. from this institution. Then she studied expression at the Emerson School; Cummoek at Northwestern; University of California. From 1902 to 1908 she was in T. C. U. as professor of oratory. She resigned this position to engage in platform work, chautauquas, lyceums, etc. She was reader and state sponsor to the Confederate reunion at Memphis in 1909; traveled in Europe, 1910; state reader for U. D. C. 1910-11; was for several years professor of oratory in Oklahoma College for women; for five years was state reader for the Federated Clubs of Oklahoma; author of short stories in current magazines, writes under the pen name of "Oliver L. Mack." She is author of "Reading as an Art"; "Woman's Opportunity and Obligation." As reader and teacher, she created for herself an enviable record. With her beautiful eyes, charming personality and intellectual attainments she has won a host of friends in many states. She is greatly loved and admired in Texas and especially in T. C. U. where she labored and first made her career.

GLEBURNE PROFESSIONALS TAKE WELL PLAYED GAME

The Cleburne Athletics took a well played game from the Horned Frogs last Saturday, 5 to 4, on the T. C. U. diamond. This is the second time this year the professionals have beaten us. Crotty pitched half of the game and Vaughn finished it. Miller caught for both pitchers.
