DR. BATSON SWITCHED TO EDUCATION DEPT.; FOUR NEW MUSIC INSTRUCTORS

Dr. Wilson to Head Philosophy Division--James A. Crain Slated to Teach Freshman English--Law School Lecturers Are Announced.

Among the changes which will be made in the faculty lineup for next year will be the switching of Dr. W. H. Batson, present professor of Philosophy to the head of the Department of Education and of Dr. E. C. Wilson to the Philosophy division. James A. Crain has been selected instructor in English. He will teach Freshman English, English Novel and British Poets of the Nineteenth Century. Four new music teachers have been engaged for the College of Fine Arts. Guy R. Pitner of Fort Worth will be associate director of the music department. Other new instructors are Miss Alene Wilson, Louis Casperson and Thomas H. Hamilton. Other teaching appointments on the university faculty, announced previously in the Skiff, will stand as made.

Dr. Batson is well fitted for the work which he will take charge of in the fall. He did his major work and graduate work at the University of Michigan in Educational Psychology, has held positions as public school teacher and served as superintendent of public schools at Osborn, Ohio.

J. A. Crain, new instructor in English, will complete his work towards an A. B. degree during the coming summer session. He intends to spend the entire summer preparing for next year's work and outlining the courses which he will teach. He will also hold his present position as pastor of the Chestnut Avenue Christian church of Rosen Heights.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Director Frederick Cahoon and Mrs. Cahoon are putting forth their best efforts towards building up the strongest Department of Music in the state. Their aim is to gather around them a group of congenial and sympathetic as well as talented musicians. They held this in mind when they selected the music teaching staff for next year. Guy R. Pitner, a pupil of Mickwitz in Dresden and Vienna, of Bruno Huhn in New York City and Arthur Dunham in Chicago, has built up one of the largest private classes in the South. For years he has served as organist at the First Methodist church of Fort Worth and has a wide reputation as a musician of high ability.

Louis Casperson, a student of Allen Spencer and graduate of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago taught for several years in Iowa. He is an accomplished organist.

Mr. Casperson gave a recital in the auditorium recently which delighted his audience. Although he has been here but a short time, he has made many friends and is already well liked by the students. He will remain on the campus during the summer.

Thomas H. Hamilton, tenor, will assist Mrs. Cahoon in voice and teach Theory and Practice of Harmony. He is a pupil of Thomas MacBurney of Chicago. For four years Mr. Hamilton taught in Asinte, Egypt, as a private tutor.

Miss Alene Wilson comes to T. C. U. from a Christian College in Virginia where she has been teaching. She was for several seasons the assistant

MELTON TRACK CAPTAIN FOR '16; JOHN P. COX TO MANAGE ATHLETICS

Stilwell Melton of Allen, Texas, was elected captain of the T. C. U. track team for 1916 at a meeting of the lettermen in Dr. Gumm's room last Saturday. Melton is a long distance runner who has distinguished himself a number of times representing T. C. U. in track meets.

Melton is planning to have a good track squad next year. Among the men who are coming back that he is depending on are: Jesse Martin, Bruce Knight, Dave Tudor, Midget Wallace and John Nelson.

John P. Cox will manage the track team. Cox is the athletic manager for the university next year. He will officially direct football, baseball, basketball and track.

REED CONTEST MONDAY.

The annual commencement oratorical contest will be held in the auditorium Monday at 10:00 a. m. This contest is called the Reed contest in honor of Mr. Reed of Austin, who offers the winner of the event a gold watch.

Quite a number of the best orators, as well as several new men, have designated their intention of entering the affairs, and a lively forensic battle is expected.

300 STUDENTS REPRESENT TWELVE DENOMINATIONS

Religious Census Shows That T. C. U. is Not Short on Beliefs

T. C. U. is an interdenominational school in one way. Aside from the fact that it is supported by one communion eleven church denominations are represented in the religious belief of the students enrolled in the university.

Members of the Christian church are in the majority, the Methodists next, then the Baptists and Presbyterians.

Out of 300 students who designated what church they belonged to, the following figures were obtained: 194 members of the Christian church, 41 Methodists, 29 Baptists, 15 Presbyterians, 5 Christian Scientists, 6 Catholics, 4 Episcopalians, 5 Church of Christ, 3 Jewish, 1 Congregational, 2 Unitarian.

A census of the other students would probably show the same proportion for the various churches.

Horned Frogs Overrun Campus When Released from Long Imprisonment

Despite the fact that exams began on Thursday, every student in the University took enough time off from cramming Wednesday to satisfy the universal student desire of the last two or three weeks, to look at a Horned Frog. The Frogs were turned loose just after chapel Wednesday and in just a few minutes had overrun the entire campus. Groups of students everywhere—all interested, some excited—pronounced them the best looking and most artistic Frogs that had ever appeared in T. C. U.

A review of the '15 annual was printed in the Skiff of May 14.

TO BESTOW MANTLE AND FOOL GIFTS ON SENIOR CLASS DAY

Now that examinations are over students are to be many and varied. To the student probably the most interesting program to be given previous to commencement will be the class-day exercises in the auditorium Wednesday morning. Members of the graduating class, the Junior class and the presidents of the other classes will participate.

The first part of the morning will be taken up with the bestowal of the mantle on the Junior class by the Senior class. This occasion is an annual commencement affair. E. R. Bentley, president of the Senior class, will deliver the mantle oration and Birge Holt, president of the Junior class, will respond.

The presentation of "fool gifts" to the Seniors by other students, which will come next, will vie with the faculty take-off in point of humor and entertainment. Anyone who wishes to have a foolish gift presented to one of the graduates can have the pleasure of seeing it given to the Senior on the platform at that time.

Students Have All Sorts of Jobs for Vacation; 14 'Aluminum' Boys

Positions and jobs, ranging from selling books, jerking soda, pulling the bell cord over old Bess, selling kitchen utensils, clerking, occupying the cashier's cage in a bank, teaching school, preaching, etc. to loafing will be filled by T. C. U. students during the summer vacation. Those who do not already have work outlined will be looking for a summer job and some intend to continue the same line they have been pursuing in college, — doing nothing.

The best organized bunch of workers for the summer are the "Wear Ever Aluminum boys" who will go out as salesmen for the famous aluminum wear during the hot months. Jesse Martin, local agent, has secured fourteen students for the work. Martin was a salesman for the same company last year; he made a record of selling more than $1000 worth of aluminum, receiving several hundred dollars commission with which to enter school in the fall.

College students all over the country are taking this means of making money to pay their expenses in college next year. Those who will go out from T. C. U. are Jesse Martin, A. M. Hill, Harry Bradford, Marshall Hollingsworth, H. H. Hollingsworth, Owen Jones, Roy Jones, Karl Henderson, Grenville Compton, J. E. Adams, Lawrence Cheek. Van Norman is already out.

Famous Senior Bale Goat of Many Pranks Goes to High Bidder

Cost at 10 cents per lb. $53.00
Selling price at 8 1-2 cents per lb. 45.05
Loss $ 7.95

This is the statement which the seniors have filed in regard to the sale of their famous bale of Texas cotton. And they compliment themselves on receiving so much for it.

The seniors figure that most of the loss is due to the fact that much of the cotton is missing, due to the rough treatment of the bale at the hands of Fresh and Preps when it first appeared on the campus. Also several pounds have been pulled off as souvenirs, and the weight was reduced somewhat by drying.

The money will be used to help pay for the senior gift to the university. Hubb Diggs sold the bale for the class.

LOVE FOR T. C. U. CAUSES PRESIDENT KERSHNER TO REJECT OFFER AT DRAKE

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE OF SUMMER SKIFF WILL BE LETTER TO EDITOR EVANS

The first edition of the summer Skiff, Alden Evans as editor, will appear next week, this issue being the last which the regular staff will get out.

The summer Skiff will be financed by the school and will be sent to more than 2,000 high school graduates and prospect students over Texas to give them an impression of the university and to invite them to attend T. C. U. next year. Evans also intends to make it a medium by means of which the students who are now in school may keep in touch with each other during the summer months. He offers to send copies to every student who promises to write him a letter this summer.

Business Manager Durrett has bought all the cuts and pictures used by the Horned Frog and these will be used to illustrate the paper. Several special editions will be published through the summer, featuring athletics or some department or activity of the university. Editor Evans will appoint a staff to assist him while the summer session is in progress.

The Skiff will probably be under the same management next year as this.

Among the town girls who have visited in Jarvis Hall the past week are Marguerite Fisher, Rosalie King, Mary Sue Darter, Fannie Darter, Annie Mae Tanner, Margaret Kennedy, Elsa Lange and Percy Gallaher.

CLYDE TOMLINSON WINS ANDERSON TENNIS TROPHY

Championship Eliminates Thirty-five Players in Survival of Fittest Contest

Clyde Tomlinson won the tennis tournament that has been in progress among the T. C. U. students for the last three weeks, last Saturday over Prof. Cahoon. Tomlinson was awarded a handsome loving cup to hold one year. The cup was offered by A. J. Anderson sporting goods company.

The man who wins the cup three times will be declared permanent owner. This makes Tomlinson's second time he has won it.

Thirty-six men entered the contest, each one went through an eliminating process, based on the survival of the fittest plan. George Herd and Paul Pirkle, both first class tennis players, ran a close race along with Cahoon and Tomlinson.

Senior Girls in Cap and Gown Hold Service For Dormitory Girls

The farewell vesper service of the Young Women's Christian Association was rendered Sunday at 7 p. m. in the parlors of Jarvis Hall. The Senior girls in caps and gowns conducted the program, making it one of the most impressive and inspiring given throughout the year.

Practically every girl in the dormitory attended the service and when the sweet, solemn program was concluded, not many dry eyes were seen, for deeper than ever was the realization that parting is near and that there will be a vacancy which cannot be filled.

Turns Down Presidency of Drake Bible College to Remain Head of T.C.U.-- Outlook for 1915-1916 is Bright with Promise.

Only his love for T. C. U. caused our president to turn down a very flattering offer of the presidency of Drake Bible College of Drake University in Iowa, which was tendered him recently. Although the position at Drake carried with it an increase of $1100 in salary, with most of the time of the incumbent left for writing, President Kershner waived aside all personal and money considerations when the trustees of T. C. U. urged him to remain here. Their earnest assurances that his presence and connection with T. C. U. were necessary for them to continue the present progressive policy in regard to its affairs influenced him to reject the Drake offer and retain his place as the head of T. C. U.

Realizing that several big projects are to be worked out in the interest of T. C. U. next year, President Kershner, who has been working on the propositions, wishes to help continue the work looking toward a greater Texas Christian University.

In forecasting the outlook for 1915-16, to be "the greatest year in T. C. U.'s history," Dr. Kershner had the following statement to make:

At the close of another school year, the future for Texas Christian University is bright with promise. Notwithstanding the strenuous war times we have made a good record during the session which is just closing, and the arrangements provided for the coming year betoken increased efficiency and greater success.

"Despite the financial situation, the records will show over $100,000 added to the permanent funds of the school during the past year. Since coming to Fort Worth, T. C. U. has averaged this amount every year, and must continue to make the same average for some years to come if we are to properly fulfill our mission. With her funds constantly increasing, the tendency will be for more and more people to invest in a genuinely sacrificial way in her work. A splendid illustration of the interest which has already prompted so many people to help is found in the McFadin Loan Fund. We confidently hope that many other citizens of Texas will study the possibilities of our work and try to provide for them, as Mr. McFadin has done.

"The faculty additions will bring some excellent men and women to the University. Professor Wilson comes inspired by the very best latest Eastern training in the field of Philosophy. A man of experience as a teacher, he combines all of the requirements which an ideal faculty member should possess. Our new Fine Arts teachers Miss Wilson and Messrs. Hamilton, Casperson and Pitner belong to the highest class of musical performers who are also teachers. With Mr. and Mrs. Cahoon at the head of the music work, Miss Powell in Oratory and Mrs. Cockrell in Painting, T. C. U. has an experienced and trained corps of Fine Arts teachers certainly the equal of any in the State or in the Southwest. These teachers are not only artists, but they are Real College Loyalty.

T. C. U. students have had a real example of loyal college spirit set for them. Though not a student by matriculation, President Kershner is a student by nature and desire, and his recent refusal to leave the institution in which his heart's interests lie to accept a much more favorable position attests how strong the bonds are which hold a student to his college. Although our president's business has kept him away from the university a great part of the time, he is still a part of us. He sees more clearly than most of us the great future which stretches out before T. C. U. and wants to be one of the builders of the bigger and better Texas Christian University.

Also Real Lack of School Spirit

Everyone in T. C. U. knows that the student support given many of our college activities the past year has been absolutely rotten. It is not necessary to dwell on the reasons for this evident slackness of "pep" in the student body to recall the occasions on which the college spirit has been exhibited. The lesson to be drawn from the past is easily understood. The good word is in regard to the future—more specifically, next year. Every student should return to school in September filled with that enthusiasm known as "T. C. U. Pep." Fact is, its brewing right now. We will all have time to get drunk on "pep" in time for the next fall season. Pass the good word along.

Goodby--We're Off On Our Vacation.

After getting out this issue, the regular staff of the Skiff will lay off for a three months' vacation—at least all but Alden Evans, who, poor fellow, is to fill the editor's chair (not by any means an easy chair) during the hot summer months and swelter and rave for service in the T. C. U. print shop where such a thing as an electric fan is not known. He's welcome to it.

The retiring editor wishes to thank those who have worked with him during the past session and helped make the paper a go. If the present management has charge of the paper next year, the newsgathering and editing part of it will be run on an entirely different system than that employed this year. Announcement of the changes will be made during the summer.

T. C. U. AGAIN DEFEATS WEATHERFORD BALL TEAM

Monday afternoon T. C. U. defeated the Weatherford Professionals by the score of 5 to 1. The Horned Frogs played better ball than ever before, and had no trouble in downing their opponents. Crotty allowed only five scattered hits, and his team-mates played well behind him. Strong played a fine defensive game, "Pete Win" got three hits, Christenberry got a three bagger and a two bagger, and Gunter and Bloom each got "pinch" hits, "Nellie" covered third in his usual peppery style. Batteries for T. C. U., Crotty and Christenberry. Weatherford, Morris and Welter.

Walton Award Medal to Mary Grace Muse; Elect Officers for Fall

Officers for the fall term of next year were elected by the Walton Literary Society at a special meeting last week. Miss Mary Grace Muse, a member of the junior class, was awarded the Walton Medal for the member doing the best Society work for the year.

The new officers are Viola Coldwell, president; Irene Carson, vice-president; Gladys Richards, secretary; Margaret Forsythe, treasurer; Myrtle Goforth, first critic; Masal Jeffers, second critic; Vestal Tompkins, parliamentarian; and Ora Leveridge, sergeant.

Riley Aiken, assistant in Spanish, will teach all the Spanish classes during the summer session.

MISSES DARTER AND BAHAN IN PLEASING PROGRAMS

Miss Mary Sue Darter, a graduate pupil of Miss Leila Long Powell, pleased a large audience with a well-arranged, dramatic program on Wednesday evening, May 26. The character- portrayal of Dicken's "Dick Swiueler," two short poems of beauty, and the dramatic interpretation of the first act of Bayard Taylor's play, "Within The Law," were enthusiastically received.

Her style of reading is unique and interesting. Her progress shows much work and a splendid amount of talent.

Charles Dickens' "The Cricket On The Hearth" was interpreted very artistically by Miss Sophia Bahan in her graduating oratory recital on the evening of May 28. "The Three Chirps" were exceedingly well-done.

Miss Bahan's manner of reading is characteristically charming. Her brilliant interpretations and character portrayals indicate no small faculty and point toward great success along the one she has chosen.

JOINT RECITALS GIVEN BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCES

"In the artist-list enrolled" are certainly to be found the names of Miss Lena Beckham Reeder and Miss Vestal Tompkins. A joint recital was given by these two pupils in piano and voice on Monday evening, May 31.

Miss Reeder, who was graduated in piano last June by Carl Beutel, under whom she still studies, played her post-graduate program partly with Miss Tompkins, who is an advanced voice pupil of Miss Ethlyn Bowman.

Truly the audience was pleased by the splendid program of "Common Chords," seniores, ninths "the heights," the resting-places, the C. majors and C. minors. One realized with the music lover that "Music is the only language incapable of speaking anything impure."

Miss Tompkins soprano voice possesses a remarkable strength and purity of tone, enabling her to carry the highest strains with perfect ease and grace. Those who heard her predict that she will be one of the most accomplished singers ever sent out from T. C. U.

MISS ANDREWS AND MR. SWEENEY.

Miss Nannie Lou Andrews, an advanced voice student of Mrs. Cahoon, and Mr. Tom Paul Sweeney, a worthy violin pupil of Mr. Cahoon, appeared in a joint recital on the evening of June 1. An unusually large audience greeted the two popular young people, who rendered one of the most delightful programs of the year.

Miss Andrews possesses a beautiful voice of splendid volume and flexibility. Mr. Sweeney's handling of the violin promises a future master. The "Berceuse" from Jocelyn with the violin obligato was strikingly pleasing.

Miss Ethlyn Bowman accompanied both, and, as usual, her accompaniments were appreciated.

Fred Horn, professor of Latin in T. C. U. last year and now a teacher in the Navasota schools, was a visitor on the campus Monday.

SOCIETIES WENT IN HOLE ON BEN GREET PLAYS

The final report made by E. R. Bentley, Shirley-Walton manager of the Ben Greet players, submitted last week, showed that the societies, which financed the appearance of the woodland company here, lost $9.50 in actual cash.

Practically every member of the two societies had given one dollar each to a fund to pay the preliminary expenses, with the understanding that it should be returned if anything was made. In the settlement those who contributed dollars only received 65 cents back on their original dollar. The total for local expenses, counting what went to the Ben Greet company, was more than $125.

BENTLEY SUP'T OF ALPINE SCHOOLS

President of Graduating Class and Physics Instructor Goes to Border Town

Edwin R. Bentley, president of the graduating class and editor-in-chief of the Horned Frog, has been elected superintendent of public schools at Alpine, a thriving town on the Rio Grande border. Bentley has been instructor in Academy and College Physics in the university during the past two years and when it became known that he was not to be here next year, he was offered positions at four places.

Bentley gave up his original intention to study law next year to accept the place offered him at Alpine. Mrs. Bentley, who has been instructor in shorthand in the College of Business for two years, will teach in the Alpine High School.

Bentley is one of the strongest and most experienced men in this year's class and has been prominent in every phase of college activity in T. C. U. He was a student at the North Texas State Normal College before coming here.

Riley Aiken, assistant in Spanish, will be the principal of the Mexican School of Alpine.

also high-toned products of the best American citizenship. The time has passed when thinking American parents can be cajoled into patronizing decadent foreign teachers simply because they have long handles to their names. Our Fine Arts department will furnish training equal to the best artistically.

"The resumption of the C. O. B. work by Mr. Dacus insures an era of success for that department. Nobody has ever handled that work like Dacus and it isn't probable that any one will ever be found to equal him. If our Fine Arts building is not erected very soon, we prophesy that Professor Dacus will be erecting a roof garden on the Main Building for the accommodation of his typewriter and stenography students.

"The addition of Mr. Durrett to our corps of active workers means the acquirement of a tower of strength for the school. No man stands higher in the business circles of the state and his willingness to sacrifice his personal interest in order to help the school will be a source of inspiration and encouragement to many others, while his ripe business experience and wide circle of friends will make him of unequalled value to the institution.

"The return of Dean Parks will be hailed with delight by all who are associated with our work. No man is more valuable to us than Professor Parks, and his year of study and rest should make him especially useful in the future. His presence in the school is a guarantee of faithful and efficient work of the highest grade, on the part of all.

"The return of Professor Winton to the work in Biology after a year's successful graduate study adds a peculiarly efficient man to our faculty roll. Professor Winton's work at Rice, where he has taught and studied the past year, has won the highest encomiums from his associates. It is safe to say that Biology will be one of the strongest departments in the school next year.

"The new academy teachers, Mrs. Gardiner and Mr. Munday are especially capable. They will be thoroughly liked, if their records may serve as any sort of basis for prophesy. The securing of Mr. Freeland as athletic coach and the return of Mr. Cox as captain of the football team insure a successful athletic season for 1915-16. Athletics were never in as good shape before, all things considered, as they are now in T. C. U.

"Mr. Knight goes to Chicago for special work in History this summer. Others of the faculty will be away engaged in study. Perhaps the best thing of all is that so many of the teachers who have helped to make T. C. U., Parks, Alexander, Cockrell, Lockhart, Hall, Dacus and many others, will be back while we are also retaining nearly all of the splendid material we have added to the faculty during the past four years.

"Not the least significant feature of our work the coming year will be the courses offered in the new School of Law. The return of so loyal an alumnus as Milton Daniel will be hailed with especial delight by all our friends. The spontaneous support given to the new department by authorities of such high standing in the legal world as Judges Speer, Buck, Brown, McKinsey and others can not but impress all who know these men with the high character of the new department. presence of Professor Cockrell at the head of the school insures wise, brilliant, tactful and successful guidance.

"The work offered in the Bible College will be of even higher grade than it has been in the past. Professor Wilson will give courses in Sunday School Pedagogy which will be especially helpful. Dr. Wilson is one of the foremost specialists in this field, and his coming to Texas will mean much for the work of the Bible Schools throughout the State. New courses will be given by Professors Lockhart, Hall and McPherson, as well.

"Of course, we shall miss the faces of some tried and true friends who will not be with us the coming year. Life inevitably means some changes in its progress, but we trust that all those who part from us this year will continue as our steadfast friends and that many of them may be again actively linked to our work.

"All in all, the session of 1915-16 should be, and we believe will be, the greatest in the history of the University.

SHIRLEYS ELECT OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected to lead the Shirley Literary Society during the fall term of next session: John Keith, president; Alden Evans, vice-president; B. S. Smiser, secretary; chaplain; Horace Jones, critic; Willis McGregor, marshal.

Mattie Harrell spent Sunday in Dallas.

Judge Ocie Speer, Fort Worth attorney Judge F. O. McKinsey, Forty-third District Court Parker County; R. H. Rowland, attorney for the Rock Island in Fort Worth.

Asked what he thought of the establishment of a law school in connection with T. C. U. Judge Marvin H. Brown said that he would not support any such movement unless he felt that it was to be a first class department. "It is because I know that T. C. U. will build up a law school of the highest order that I am willing to help it in any way that lies in my power."

The men behind the T. C. U. Law School expect to make it the center of influence for the profession in North Texas.

"Law student" will be a new term in T. C. U. next year. The "Laws" are expected to be a strong factor in university activities next year.
