THE NEW DEPARTMENTS OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY AND LAW GET A GOOD IMPETUS

Miss Moore Plans Complete Series of Courses in Art and Science of Modern House-keeping; Law Courses Open to Literary Students

Through the generosity of Mrs. Ida V. Jarvis, member of the board of trustees, an up-to-date domestic economy department is rapidly nearing completion on the first floor of the administration building and will be ready for its initial opening Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Lee Moore, an experienced teacher of Domestic Science and Art, has been engaged by Mrs. Jarvis to take charge of the work and reports that many of the young women have already signified their intention of taking courses offered in the new department.

Miss Moore is a graduate of William Wood College, the leading Christian College of Missouri, and has done post-graduate work in the Home Economics Training School and has taken advanced courses at the Teachers' College of Columbia University in New York City. She is entering into her work with a spirit of confidence and enthusiasm that is sure to bring success. Several years' actual experience makes her well fitted to start the new work in T. C. U.

Next year a separate building for domestic economy is to be erected. Mrs. Jarvis confidently expects this "Home Training" department soon to become, before many years, the best in the Southwest.

The tuition is very reasonable, just barely enough to cover the cost of materials. The tuition is five ($5.00)

FIRST AND BIGGEST RECEPTION OF YEAR TO BE HELD MONDAY

Every Teacher and Student in University Invited; Sure Cure for Blues

The first and biggest reception of the year will be held next Monday night in the main dining hall of the university. It will be given by the old students in honor of the new students. Every student, faculty member and person connected with the university is cordially invited to come and have a big time.

The purpose of the reception is to get the new students acquainted with one another and with the old students and teachers. It is an annual event and usually draws the largest crowd of the year.

John Keith, president of the Students' Association, has taken active charge of the arrangements for the affair and is arranging a brief program for the occasion. The university orchestra will furnish music during the evening.

As a means of getting the students better acquainted a series of conversational hops or tongue dances will be the order of the evening. This will give every student an opportunity to meet and talk to a large number of people. Older students say attendance on this reception is a sure cure for the blues.

Upper classmen are expected to appear in evening dress.

T. C. U. FORMALLY OPENS FORTY-SECOND SESSION

Speeches by Faculty Members and Visitors Constitute Ceremonies

Texas Christian University formally opened its forty-second year session with exercises in the auditorium Thursday at 10 a. m.

Dr. W. B. Parks, dean of the university and acting president, presided and introduced the speakers of the morning. Rev. R. A. Highsmith of Mineral Wells, a T. C. U. alumnus, pronounced the invocation.

Judge T. A. Altman, corporation counsel for Fort Worth, spoke as an official of the city, welcoming them to the city and assuring them that Fort Worth was behind T. C. U. and would support the student body in its undertakings.

H. M. Durrett, business manager and member of the board of trustees, in behalf of the university responded to the judge's talk and told for what T. C. U. stood.

Henry C. Burke, Jr., representing the Fort Worth Rotary Club, addressed the audience, discussing the necessity of a college education for true success in the business world.

Musical numbers rendered during the program were a piano solo by Lewis Casperson and a vocal solo by Thomas Hamilton, accompanied by Guy R. Pitner. Music for the occasion was furnished by the university orchestra under the direction of Prof. Cahoon.

Convocation Sermon in Chapel Sunday Night

Rev. C. S. Weaver, endowment secretary of the university, will preach the convocation sermon Sunday night in the main auditorium.

No church services will be held at the university Sunday morning, the students being allowed to go to the church of their choice in the city.

COACHES WHIPPING SQUAD INTO WINNING SHAPE, BUT WILL MAKE NO PROMISES

PROMISES OF FAST TEAMS COMING FROM TRAINING CAMPS OF TEXAS SCHOOLS

Coaches Settling Their Men Down to Hard Work; Season Opens Oct. 2

As the college season in Texas advances, football, the great college sport, comes into the limelight. Reports from the other schools with which T. C. U. will lock horns this fall indicate that the Texas gridiron will be the scene of quite a number of snappy and hard-fought games during the next few months.

At Texas

Due to the fact that the University of Texas does not open its doors until Monday, Sept. 22, reliable information concerning prospects in that quarter are lacking. However, Coach Allerdice has his men at work and it takes no vivid imagination to picture a mighty strong team for T. C. U. to meet in her first battle Oct. 2.

At Trinity

The Trinity University squad went into training last Monday under the direction of Coach S. A. Boles, who had charge of athletics here last year. Boles spent the summer in a school of coaching at the University of Illinois and returned to Trinity in good condition to put the Presbyterians through a gruelling preparation for their schedule.

Trinity plays Rice Institute at Houston on the same day that T. C. U. meets Texas. T. C. U. will play Trinity.

Football Players Have Training Table and Are Keeping in Good Condition for Coming Contests; Freeland Their Ideal

After fifteen days of consistent training under Coach Ewing Young Freeland, the football men are in good condition and will start scrimmage regularly the first of the week.

The men went into training camp September 3, and broke camp last Saturday. The camp was pitched at the Six Mile Dam, two miles and a half west of the university. In the camp, Coach Freeland was assisted by Milton Daniel, an old T. C. U. football star and Frederick M. Cahoon who has coached athletics here in past years.

Daniel and Cahoon will work with Coach Freeland from now on every afternoon. Coach Freeland will devote most of his time to the first team men while the other two coaches will coach the second and third team men.

The five-mile hikes and the daily swims together with the practice the boys have had passing, punting the ball and the other harder work of the first two weeks training have put the men into pretty good condition for scrimmage. Coach Freeland wants to be sure that every man is ready for scrimmage before he starts it. Should a man enter scrimmage before he is in perfect condition he fears it would be a set back to him and may cause an accident which would have not otherwise taken place.

COACH FREELAND SLIPS OFF TO BROWNWOOD AND RETURNS WITH BRIDE

Wedding Was Surprise to Host of Friends Here and at Brownwood; at Home in Clark Hall

The first intimation members of the university had of the marriage of Coach Ewing Freeland at Brownwood Wednesday was given when John P. Cox, captain of the football team, called on the squad to give fifteen lusty rahs for his bride at supper Wednesday.

Coach had announced to the squad Monday that he could not meet them Tuesday because of some important business he had to attend to. He slipped off to Brownwood Tuesday, married Sammie Sanders there at 7:30 Wednesday morning and returned at once to the university.

Coach's first announcement of his marriage was on the football field Wednesday afternoon. Besides being a surprise to most of the T. C. U. student body, the wedding was a complete surprise to the couple's host of friends at Brownwood.

Mrs. Freeland is a T. C. U. supporter through and through. She has all the T. C. U. pep. In fact, Coach Freeland admitted Thursday that it was partly on her advice that he accepted the place as mentor of athletics here.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeland will occupy a suite of rooms in Clark Hall, of which Freeland is proctor.

Trustees Trying to Get 15-Minute Car Service

A special committee was appointed at a meeting of the board of trustees this week to confer with officials of the traction company in regard to giving fifteen-minute car service to T. C. U. The plan which the committee recommends that the traction company adopt is that the South Main street cars be continued on out over the present Forest Park line.

South Main cars now stop at Magnolia and Eighth avenues. They would only need to continue two blocks north in order to reach the intersection of the Forest Park line.

If this new arrangement is effected, it will greatly benefit the day students who live in the south part of the city. At present they have to transfer downtown while under the proposed system they could make connections on Magnolia avenue.

Fay Eason, who is teaching music in Whitesboro, is spending the week with friends.

Duties as a Citizen of T. C. U.

Every student in T. C. U. is a citizen of the university.

As a citizen of the university each student has certain rights and there devolve upon him certain duties and obligations of citizenship. Since T. C. U. is a coeducational institution, the young women have the same rights and are under the same obligations as the young men.

Just as the citizens of any community are expected to obey the laws of the government under which they reside, the students here in college are expected to conform to the discipline of the school. It is the earnest hope of the administrators of justice on the college campus—including members of the faculty, the dean, the proctor and the matrons—that every student so guard himself against any infraction of the laws as to make punishment unnecessary. It is one of the duties of citizenship to obey the laws.

Among the privileges of citizenship in our college community the chief one is the right to the ballot. The student body is self-governing only in so far as the application of the honor system is concerned. Every student in the university has the right to vote for a member of the Student Council, which has jurisdiction over all breaches of the honor system.

The important point is for the classes and departments to make sure that they are sending men to the council who are themselves honest, popular, and at the same time possess full grown backbones.

It cannot be too strongly urged that the student body elect capable men for all the student offices. A good deal of thought on the matter before election time might not be a bad thing.

Help the Cubs

The new plan inaugurated by The Skiff this year of selecting reporters on the merit basis will doubtless result in a few novices and inexperienced writers trying out for placed on the staff. It is to be hoped that professors, officers and students of the university whom these reporters interview from time to time in search of news will help them out in every possible way.

Every newspaper reporter must write his first story. The Skiff will serve as a training ground for all those who hope to achieve something in newspaper work and help in developing material for next year. It is entirely probable that the editor for next year will be chosen from the members of the 1915-16 staff.

A much more complete system of gathering news will be put into effect in an effort to get every bit of news pertaining to T. C. U. The co-operation of every teacher and student is necessary in order to make The Skiff what it ought to be.

Shall it Die?

Men! Are you going to have it thrown up to you that the young women of Texas Christian University have more pep and enterprise than you?

Are you going to let the Y. M. C. A. movement die out completely in T. C. U.? Are you going to let the coeds forge ahead of you in their Y. W. C. A. work and deprive them of the co-operation of their brother organization—the Young Men's Christian Association?

It appears that unless some voluntary and capable leader rises up to organize and head the Y. M. C. A., there will be no such organization in T. C. U. this year. And all because of a little petty dissension stirred up last year by a few men who circulated a petition under the name of the Y. M. C. A.

The majority of the members of the college Y. M. C. A. never signed that petition. The man who propagated the petition is not in school. Any man who allows that affair to keep him from joining and supporting a Young Men's Christian Association in T. C. U. shows a spirit that is entirely unbecoming and below a T. C. U. student.

Men of T. C. U.! Let us put a strong leader at the head of our Y. M. C. A. and pledge him our unwavering support in making it a success.

T. C. U. can't afford to lose her affiliation with this great world-wide movement.

T. C. U. students are expected to be prepared for the "Dress up week for men" which starts Sept. 27 and the style show which follows. The advertisements in The Skiff will tell you where to go to get "fixed up." The men who advertise in The Skiff are friends of the university and if you are a T. C. U. student they will take especial delight and pride in serving you. They know what T. C. U. students want. Patronize them. The Skiff guarantees the truth of their advertisements.

The Skiff would like to exchange with all the college papers of Texas. In this, the initial issue of the college year, the management sends greetings to the other editors and wishes for them as prosperous and newsy a year as The Skiff expects to have. The Skiff offers its support to any forward movement for the cause of higher education in Texas.

The big reception—just an informal get-acquainted meeting with refreshments afterwards—comes off Monday night. Everybody on the hill is invited. There ought not to be a student left in the dormitories during this great event of the year. Everybody wants to meet you. Come.

A senior said the other day that the less a new student said during his freshman year the better it would be for him. If any of our T. C. U. freshmen take this advice let them make this a part of their motto: "Say little and do much," with the emphasis on the "Do much."

The best way to initiate a new student into his college life is for a number of old students to greet him at the railway station with a hearty handshake and then extend him a cordial welcome into their midst when he comes on the campus.

The new girls want to be sure and lay in a good supply of laundry slips this fall. They may not be able to get them later.

"Shorty" Vaughn was out looking over the squad Monday afternoon. He will be in school this year.

T. C. U. Well Represented in the S. M. U. Pageant

T. C. U. was well represented in the grand pageant which was held in Dallas last week celebrating the opening of the new Southern Methodist University.

Due to the efforts of several T. C. U. graduates an auto beautifully decorated in the varsity colors was in the parade. Among all the university floats in the procession T. C. U. had one of the prettiest and most attractive. Cavin Muse and Dan Rogers were the men who arranged for T. C. U. to be represented in the pageant.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS HAS GOOD PROSPECTS; J. A. DAGUS IN CHARGE

Fifteen students had matriculated for courses in the Business College by Monday evening and by nine o'clock that number had increased to twenty. By Wednesday evening it is expected that thirty or more will have enrolled for work in bookkeeping or short hand.

Mr. Dacus has been in correspondence with forty or fifty different persons and he expects to have the greater number of these to work with him before the end of the year. Since students may enter these courses any time during the term classes will be increased by the students that come in from time. It is expected that the number of students taking business courses either full or part time will reach fifty or seventy-five before Christmas.

Regular work in the College of Business began Tuesday morning. Students that had been enrolled in the bookkeeping course were given their books and allowed to begin at once upon the work outlined for them in that course. Students that had enrolled in short hand were also given a start.

Mr. Dacus wishes to have a large number of the regular college students take courses with him along with their college work. By taking an hour each day in either the bookkeeping or stenographic courses it is possible for a regular literary student to complete one of these courses during the school year.

We strive to please—The Stogie.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY AND LAW DEPT'MTS

dollars a month. In order to get the new department started off well, Mrs. Jarvis has promised to pay $500 additional on a profit sharing basis to the first students who enroll. A dollar will be refunded to every student each month, until the $500 is used up.

The courses will be offered to everyone whether they are doing regular literary work in the university or not. Miss Moore will offer special courses for married women of Fort Worth. These courses will be offered with the idea of having all who take work under Miss Moore obtain a thorough knowledge of scientific home making.

The art of home making as it will be taught by Miss Moore will include the study of foods, clothing, shelter and caring for the sick. Each course will receive consideration from the standpoint of health, economy, convenience and art.

The cooking course will include a complete study of the production, manufacture and composition of typical foods, their classification according to principles and the study of their relationship to the needs of the body.

Special courses for married women will be given, in which the location, surroundings, construction, heating, ventilation, water supply, drainage and care of the home will be studied. House plans will be worked over under the supervision of Miss Moore with the idea of making them more convenient and economizing space. Laws of municipal sanitation as they relate to the household will be studied.

It is the intention of Mrs. Jarvis to establish a co-operative boarding school for girls in connection with the Domestic Science department a little later. In this co-operative boarding club the work will be supervised by Miss Moore, each girl paying her part of the actual cost of the food used in preparing their regular meals.

Later on several acres of ground near the university campus owned by Mrs. Jarvis and the school will be converted into gardening and farm plots and orchards to be kept by the students in connection with their courses.

The schedule for the department will be found posted on the door of the room next to the postoffice.

The new law department of Texas Christian University is gradually assuming definite form, under the direction of Professors Cockrell, Daniels, and Conner. At this time no authoritative figures of the enrollments for this term are available; but Professor Cockrell, when interviewed, stated that a conservative estimate would place the number of straight law students at about 30. Among those already enrolled for work in this department are three or four young women. In addition to the regular law students, many from the College of Arts and Sciences have arranged to take special courses.

From all appearances, at this time, one of the greatest benefits which the new department offers, is this opportunity for the man who is not a lawyer-to-be to gain a sufficient knowledge of law for the needs of everyday life.

The organization of the law school will add new energy to the existing Bar Association; and it would be a bad prophet who did not predict a year of successful work for this group. Many of the students from the new department will enter the various public speaking contests of the coming year.

Another Student Marries; Oscar Petty This Time

Oscar V. Petty, a student in T. C. U. last year and a brother of Prof. S. A. Boles, and Miss Hazel Hill of Fort Worth were married Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Broadway Baptist Church.

Mr. Petty will attend Trinity University this year. Petty served as night librarian at the Carnegie Public Library in the city last year.

SCHOLARSHIP IN T. C. U. FOR WINNER OF CONTEST.

A scholarship in T. C. U. will be awarded as a grand prize to the girl who makes the most points in the canning club contest under the auspices of the Young Men's Business League of Fort Worth. The awarding of the scholarship was allowed by the trustees at their meeting, Tuesday afternoon.

Prof. H. B. Dabbs will live in the city this year. The boys in Clark Hall are already mourning for the Victrola which furnished them so much entertainment while Mr. Dabbs was proctor of the dormitory. One student suggested that the Clark Hall boys subscribe enough money to buy a Victrola for the club rooms.

COACHING SQUAD INTO WINNING SHAPE

tain Cox still remain silent on the prospects of a team. Both of them declare they are working faithfully, consistently with all their power to get the men in shape, but that they will not prophesy as to what they expect the men to do.

"We are going to do, and then talk about it," Cox said. "Heretofore we have talked and talked but failed to do," he continued. Coach Freeland with a wise look tapped him on the shoulder and said, "now you're talking. We are going to do something first."

The boys who have been in training state that Coach Freeland has "certainly worked them hard." However, Freeland states that real work has not yet begun, that he has only been getting the men in shape so they can start to work.

Among the old men who are back and working for places are "Gish" Martin, perhaps the best all around man T. C. U. had last year, who is a star end; Joe McNamara who played a few games as end on the first team; Raymond Fox, a reliable guard; John P. Fox, fullback, twice chosen all state fullback; John Nelson, who played half so successfully last year; "Shorty" Vaughn, last year's end, and Otis Ramsey, an experienced man. Abe Greines, guard and W. B. Higgins, guard didn't play regularly last year, but are good men and may win places this year.

John Lattimore, who played on the Baylor eleven some time ago but who has been in the T. C. U. Medical College for two years, is trying for a place in the line. Lattimore weighs 200 pounds and a little more and is fast for a man of that size.

Frank (Peanuts) McKee, the Bryant Training School's star is trying hard to beat some one out of quarter's place. "Peanuts" is showing up well. He is a good punter and passer. McKee weighs about 155 pounds.

Joe Edens of Hillsboro is a fast man and is going to make some one hurry for the quarterback position. Between Ramsey, Edens and McKee and a half a dozen other men who look pretty good, it seems as if there is going to be a hard fight for the place.

T. C. U. is to be congratulated on getting so many Fort Worth High School men. Edgar Stangl a fast back field man is showing up well. Stangl can play in the back field or in the line. Denton Hawes, who starred repeatedly on the Central High School team for two years is also fighting for a place. Loudon Sewell, another Fort Worth High School man is trying out.

PROMISES OF FAST TEAMS FROM CAMPS

At A. & M.

Information from the Agricultural and Mechanical College is almost enough to scare those who are to mix with the Farmers. With a strong and capable trio of coaches and an unusually strong array of talent in camp, the Aggies expect to make things hum when they go on the field this season.

Johnnie Garrity will lead the A. & M. bunch this year. It is reported that six men are trying out for places at end.

At Baylor

Twenty-five men reported on the opening day of training camp at Baylor last Monday. With Fouts as a foundation and the aid of several old men and a number of good high school men Coach Mosley expects to whip his team into a well formed machine before the opening game with Howard Payne Oct. 2.

At Brownwood

Although T. C. U. will meet neither Howard Payne nor Daniel Baker this year, local football fans among the students will be interested in the teams from the town where coach Ffeeland made such a hit and success.

Coach "Nig" Perry, who takes Freeland's place at Daniel Baker, has a strong line of old men to work with and with the assistance of Arnold Kirkpatrick, formerly of Texas University, hopes to put out a scrappy team.

Howard Payne also has a new coach this year and at present it is difficult to get a line of the prospects for the Baptists. Howard Payne will probably have a light schedule this fall and Coach Coppas' men should do some creditable work against those they meet.

Prof. Kinsey Leaves For Memphis in Auto

Prof. John W. Kinsey left this week for Memphis, Texas, where he has been elected superintendent of public schools. He is making the trip in his car, expecting to reach his new home Monday or Tuesday.

The car is equipped with a complete camping outfit and Professor Kinsey plans to enjoy his trip in good style.

Mrs. Kinsey will leave later with her daughter, Juanita, who has been convalescing since her recent illness.

Students Now Eat in Tastefully Decorated Hall

If eating in an attractive dining room amid tasteful surroundings adds anything to the enjoyment of dining, T. C. U. students will certainly enjoy all their meals this year. The refinishing work which was completed just before the opening of school adds wonderfully to the looks of the main dining hall.

The T. C. U. monograms placed on the walls help to create a college atmosphere. The hall will be popular as a place for receptions from now on.

Think The Stogie, talk The Stogie.

His younger brother, Bertie, is also working with the Christians.

Charles Andrews of Dallas is another good High School player. Harry Lee of Polytechnic High School, D. D. Douglass of Munday, Dub Newman of Dallas, Loraine Dutton of Hillsboro, Alexander Kornegay of Mangum, Okla. and a number of others are showing up well.

Lonnie Stewart, an old T. C. U. man of 1913 and John Clark, both of Denison, are likely looking candidates.

The first game will be in Austin, October 2, against the Longhorns. The second game will feature Style Show Week in Fort Worth, October 9, and will be played against S. M. U. of Dallas.

FACULTY AND TRUSTEES GET TOGETHER AT BANQUET

Fifty-four members of the faculty and the board of trustees of the university gathered around the banquet table in the main dining hall Tuesday night and discussed T. C. U.'s present status and future standing in the educational field of Texas. The purpose of the dinner was to bring the faculty and the trustees into closer sympathy with each other in regard to the work of the institution.

H. M. Durrett, business manager of the university, had charge of the arrangements for the banquet.

Prof. E. R. Cockrell, head of the law department, acted as toastmaster and pointed out that T. C. U. is destined to be one of the four great schools which Texas would ultimately have. A piano solo by Lewis Casperson opened the evening's program.

Dean W. B. Parks, head of the faculty, was the only other member of that body to speak. He discussed "The Work of the Teacher."

In a short talk Malcolm Reed of Austin gave a report of how the people in the southern part of the state were supporting T. C. U.

He was followed by Dr. Bacon Saunders, also prominently connected with the medical department of the university, who advocated a closer connection and co-operation between the professional schools of the university and the literary departments.

T. E. Tomlinson, president of the board of trustees, spoke on "The Work of the Board."

Mrs. Ida V. Jarvis of Fort Worth, who recently endowed T. C. U. with $100,000, most of which is to be used in the establishment of the department of domestic economy, addressed the meeting and introduced Miss Mary Lee Moore, head of the new department.

Other musical numbers were given by Thomas H. Hamilton, baritone, instructor in voice, and by Miss Alene Wilson, teacher of piano.

Faye Sargent Teaching

Faye Sargent, daughter of Mrs. M. L. Sargent, head of the modern language department, is teaching at Mincola this year. Miss Sargent was a student in T. C. U. year before last and took her A. B. degree at the University of Texas last June. She spent the summer at home.
