

STUDENTS BREAK INTO THE MOVIES

200 Feet of Film Showing Student Body and Campus Scenes Will Be Shown

Announcement was made late Friday by John Keith that a contract had been made with the Odeon Theatre to show the moving pictures of T. C. U. students Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Part of the proceeds will go to the student body treasury.

The series of moving pictures of T. C. U. and its students was completed Tuesday morning after chapel. The first picture of the series was taken at the football game with Southwestern the Friday preceding.

Three different groups of the students were taken. The first was of the whole student body and faculty assembled on the front steps of the main building. In order that there might be motion in the picture the yell leaders led the favorite yell of the school, at the end of which everyone was permitted to make any sort of demonstration of enthusiasm he wished.

Pennants, armbands, and other displays of the Varsity colors were present in such numbers that no one will have difficulty in recognizing the group as a crowd of T. C. U. students.

The other two pictures were taken on the steps of the dormitories, the boys in front of Clark Hall and the girls in front of Jarvis Hall.

The money which is made from the showing of these pictures is to raise a fund to build a Peace Temple to the veterans of the Blue and the Gray. Pictures of the heroes of the Civil War will be placed in this temple, together with those of the heroes and great men of other times. The temple is to contain a large auditorium in which state meetings of different organizations may be held.

$25 was appropriated by the student body and $50 by the business manager to defray the expense of taking the movies.

PROFS' NAMES USED IN ANSWERING THIS SET OF QUESTIONS

An examination given recently by Brother McPherson at an entertainment at his home, which afforded much amusement to those who took part.

Students who were present for the occasion were given a slip of paper with fifteen questions on it. These questions were to be answered in one word and this word was to be a part or the whole name of some member of the University faculty.

The data with the correct answers follows:

A fastening for a door—Lockhart (lock).

A portion of a house—Hall.

Bed time—Knight (night).

What a careless person does—Dabbs (dabs).

A military officer—Sargent (sergeant).

A great English general—Roberts.

A smart fellow—Alexander (Aleck).

Part of a hog; weight 2000 pounds—Hamilton (ham, ton).

What all towns should have—Parks.

Remark of an owl—Cahoon (oo).

What the Socialists want—Freeland.

Something to chew—Gumm (gum).

Giving it up—Cantrell (can't).

Daylight profanity—Dacus (day cuss).

A young rooster—Cockrell.

Housekeeping Grades of Clark Hall Boys Pick up Noticeably

A noticeable improvement in the grades on housekeeping for the boys of Clark Hall has been seen during the past weeks.

Coach Freeland and his wife supervised this work and each week publish the numbers of the rooms which are found in bad condition. This week only a few numbers were marked on the bulletin board. Unless some had been erased by the guilty parties only a few unkept rooms had been discovered.

AT LEAST THERE WASN'T MUCH HOT AIR IN RADIATORS

Heat was a minus quantity in the dormitories Sunday and in the early hours of the cold mornings this week.

The first cold snap of winter caught the heating plant unprepared for the attack and the delay in getting steam to the dormitories was the result.

Cold baths are also the rule now, and the boys have gotten used to shaving with cold water.

To express their feelings with regard to the lack of heat a bunch of Clark Hall roomers gave fifteen rahs for "heat" in chapel Tuesday morning.

20 WILL TRY FOR VARSITY TEAM IN BOYS BASKETBALL

BY PAUL PIRKLE.

Real practice for the basketball team will begin the Monday following the Turkey Day game at Baylor. Preliminary practice has already begun by some of the most enthusiastic aspirants. Coach Freeland will have a squad of about twenty men to pick from with four last year's letter men.

By defeating Southwestern, Trinity, Baylor and A. & M. last year, T. C. U. claimed second place. With Cooper, Tudor and Tomlinson of last year's squad, and such prospects as Humphreys and Willis of Poly, McBride of Fort Worth and Storey of Midland, T. C. U. should be able to put out a creditable team in every respect.

Coach Freeland is already discussing the new rules and Manager Cox is arranging a strong schedule—so basketball games will be played before the holidays. However, these games attract considerable attention and will probably determine the men who will fight for honors in the T. I. A. A.

Men who are expected out the first day beside those mentioned are: Jetton, Pettus, Douglass, Deats, Dutton, Edens, Dickerson, Dickinson, Wingo, Nelson, Arnspiger, Martin, Leveridge, Moorehouse, Glover, Kornegay and Peters.

SEVEN FROM T. C. U. AT TEXAS CHRISTIAN LECTURESHIP SERIES

The Texas Christian Lectureship which was in session at Vernon this week was attended by seven members of the faculty and student body. Those who went from T. C. U. were Dr. W. B. Parks, Dr. E. C. Wilson, Dr. Clinton Lockhart, Rev. C. S. Weaver, B. S. Smiser and J. W. Shockley.

The Texas Lectureship is widely attended by members of the brotherhood in the state, being one of the most important sessions held by the Disciples of Christ. Rev. Allen B. Philpott of the Central Christian Church of Indianapolis was the chief lecturer this year, with a number of Texas and Oklahoma ministers on the program.

Dr. Lockhart and Rev. C. S. Weaver were on the program committee for the meeting just closed.

Fort Worth was selected as the meeting place for the 1916 lectureship. The sessions will be held at the University.

PATRIOTISM IS AROUSED BY VISIT OF LIBERTY BELL

Patriotism ran high among T. C. U. students and Fort Worth people generally Thursday when the Liberty Bell of '76 carried through the streets before them at the head of a splendid pageant prepared by the various schools and colleges of the city.

The T. C. U. float was given the place of honor, being the first float to follow the bell. The University band, under the direction of Frederick M. Cahoon, headed the main part of the school pageant. Members of the band were dressed in their costumes and purple and white hats. The float of the Law School came further along in the parade.

Much favorable comment was heard

PREPS GO ON STRIKE RATHER THAN HAVE AFTERNOON SOCIETY

A strike has been called by officers of the Jarvis Literary Society as result of a ruling by the dean and faculty committee on literary societies that the prep societies must meet in the afternoon hereafter. Both the Jarvis and Roberts Societies had voted to hold their meetings at night and when the dean objected to their meeting at that time, members of the Jarvis Society circulated a petition asking that they be allowed to conduct their programs at night. The petition was overruled.

The time set for the Academy Societies was Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The Roberts Society met Thursday but the Jarvisites failed to appear.

No programs have been made out for the Jarvis Society and Lon Smith, vice-president and chairman of the program committee, says that none will be made out until either the Jarvis Society is allowed to meet at night or the college societies are forced to meet in the afternoon.

Tom Taylor, president of the Jarvis Society, led the fight to have the meetings at night. He works in the city every afternoon and cannot attend at that time.

The faculty committee is reported to have told the representatives of the society that the chief objection to the night meetings came from the matrons of Jarvis Hall.

Second Team Defeats Fast Mineral Wells Town Team 19 to 6

The Scrubs surprised the heavy Mineral Wells town eleven on their home grounds Saturday by taking a 16 to 14 victory from them. So well did some of the second string men show up that they were taken to be first team men by the Mineral Wells players. "Red" Willis was taken for "Gish" Martin and Sanders for Kornegay.

Sowell, who played his maiden game Saturday, was a bulk of strength on the defense. Other men who played exceptional ball were Henderson, Arnspiger and Chambers.

Lewellyn showed up best for the Mineral Wells team.

COEDS TAKE EXERCISE THESE BRISK DAYS BY PUSHING DOORS

Jarvis Hall girls are getting a deal of healthy exercise these brisk winter days pushing the revolving doors which have been installed at their entrance to the Administration building.

It is necessary to exert about fifty pounds pressure to swing the heavy doors around so as to get into the warm halls. The coeds have tired of playing with the doors and are wishing for a doorkeeper to push for them, but the school things they need the exercise more than the doorkeeper.

Doors similar to those being used at the north entrance to the main building are being put in at the south entrance next to Clark Hall.

VARSITY LOSES TO OKLAHOMA AGGIES

Heavy Team From Stillwater Takes Hard-Fought Game by Old Style Plunging

BY JAMES H. McBRIDE.

After Mayor Tyra made a speech, and Miss Lassiter broke the bottle of Lake Worth water that officially christened the Y. M. C. A. Athletic Park, Tuesday afternoon, T. C. U. and Oklahoma A. & M. met in the hardest fought football game that has been seen on a local field this season. In the end the bay leaves of victory went to the Aggies, the count being 13 to 0 in their favor.

The game offered a fine contrast: Oklahoma used straight football almost exclusively, while the Christians relied upon the forward pass for gaining ground. Figures on the number of yards gained by each team shows that the strength of the two was nearly equal. With any ordinary breaks of luck the Christians would have scored at least one touchdown.

The totals on punts, plunges, and passes for the afternoon are as follows: T. C. U. punted 470 yards, in 12 tries, an average of 39 yards to a kick; Oklahoma made 465 yards in 10 attempts, an average of 46 yards a kick. T. C. U. made 24 yards in line plunging, while the Aggies gained 218 yards by this form of attack. On ten completed forward passes T. C. U. totaled 205 yards, Oklahoma failing to gain a foot by open play.

For Oklahoma, Kenney, Campbell, Walters, Aycock, and Scott carried the ball straight through our line for both counts. The two tackles, Campbell and Kenney, were the stars of the visiting eleven. The Indian guard, Chief Mahseet, did the punting; he kicked a long spiral that was hard to receive, as the small number of yards that T. C. U. returned them, showed.

THE POINT IS TO GET YOUR TICKET; WEAR THE COLORS

Preparations are being rapidly completed for the excursion to Waco Thanksgiving for the T. C. U.-Baylor football game. Between 250 and 300 persons are expected to take the special train which will carry the T. C. U. crowd from Fort Worth to Waco Thursday morning.

A vigorous campaign of ticket selling is being waged by the student committees here on the campus and a large number of tickets have been spoken for by friends of the University who live in the city. Everyone is urged to get his ticket at once in order that the managers of the trip can estimate the size of the crowd that intends to go.

Coach Cahoon has suggested that all students wear their colors, and, if possible, procure a purple and white hat for this special occasion.

T. C. U. was formerly located at Waco and many friends of the school who live there will be on hand to see what kind of representation T. C. U. is going to make. Our students are sure of a hearty welcome from all of these old friends. A great many former students who live in the vicinity of Waco will also attend the game and root for Varsity.

The point now is: Get your ticket.

Freshman English Coming into its Own

Within the memory of most of the old students in T. C. U. Freshman English has been the course in our curriculum most neglected by those in charge, most sadly disappointing to the students taking it, and most openly scoffed at by outsiders. It is gratifying to learn that at last this course is being given the attention it deserves.

Freshman English is one, if not the most important, practical course open to college students. It is the fundamental basis upon which a working knowledge of our mother tongue rests.

Mr. Crain, instructor in Freshman English, has taken a commendable and commonsense viewpoint in outlining his work. If reports are true, the course he offers is not only a study of grammar and the forms of composition, but has the further advantage of being made a cultural study.

Some of the subjects for themes which have been assigned are evidences of its cultural value. When students are given a topic to treat on which they cannot stall but must investigate the subject and replenish their mind with the facts in case, they are more likely to get something out of it than they would otherwise. Mr. Crain has announced that as his classes advance they will be required to write on questions of national and world importance and on problems concerning which the average college student's knowledge is grievously lacking.

Freshmen should realize, if they do not already know, that Freshman English is one of the most important courses they will ever have the opportunity to take.

Our Glee Club

If T. C. U. doesn't have the best Glee Club in the state this year, some college will have to have one that's good enough to appear on Broadway. Preliminary work by those who are trying out for places in the club indicates that a better group of singers will represent T. C. U. this year than ever before.

Last year the Varsity Glee Clubbers made a most favorable impression everywhere they went and by many were said to be the best Glee Club in Texas. This year it is to be even better.

Director Cahoon has selected music for the Glee Club to use in its concerts next spring that can't be beat. There is no doubt that our singers will make a great record for themselves and for T. C. U. over the state.

Too much credit for the success of the various musical organizations, such as the Glee Club and the orchestra cannot be given Director Cahoon who is tireless in putting forth his best efforts to give those who are to appear in concerts the best training possible.

Doing Modern Work by Antique Methods

Chief credit is due to M. S. Dunning, Jr., manager of the print shop, for the dispatch with which The Skiff has been able to publish stories of the football games which have been played on Friday afternoon. This fall the games played late in the week have been gotten out Friday night, ready for distribution to students early Saturday morning.

Few of our readers understand the difficulties under which those who get out the paper have to work in order to accomplish such results.

When The Skiff appears Saturday morning with the writeup of Friday's game it has meant that the workers in the print shop have been on duty all night. All the work is done by hand by student labor, and with very incomplete equipment at hand this means a good deal of hard work and careful attention on the part of the printing staff.

Get a Speech and Get in

Just read the list of substantial cash prizes (yes, real money) which the Oratorical Association is offering to the winners of the forensic contests this year and then make up your mind to win one of these useful rewards.

There's going to be a whole lot of spizzerintum turned loose in these old university halls this spring when the public speakers get started in full force. About a dozen more men are needed to begin work on the triangular debate question and that many more are needed to write orations for the other contests which are to be held under the auspices of the Oratorical Association.

Get a speech, get into a contest and win a prize.

Worth Trying for

Announcement was made last week of three prizes of $25 each which are to be awarded by the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association to the college students who enter the best essay, the best short story and the best poem in a contest which it holds annually. T. C. U. made a good showing in the race for all three places last year and came very near winning a prize, and that when only five students submitted manuscripts.

This year T. C. U. students are given several months advance notice in the hope that a large number will set to work to win the rewards. We've got the material in T. C. U. if they will only work.

You may be the one for whom that $25 prize is waiting. At least it is worth trying for.

FIRST LONG PANTS! FULL PAGE AD FROM WASHER BROTHERS

We're fourteen years old! We've sailed in Thorp Springs, in Waco, and in Fort Worth. We've sailed every sea with many skippers. But—our sailing has all been in Short trousers. From the time we were big enough to walk we tried to show our mother merchants we ought to have long trousers—and now they have agreed.

Washer Bros., Ted Robinson, Ad Manager, has fitted The Skiff with its first pair of long trousers.

For the first time in the history of The Skiff—now in its fourteenth year of publication—a merchant has taken a full page ad. The Skiff feels justly proud, and the student body of T. C. U. exalts. It means that the merchants of Fort Worth have concluded that our business is worth while. It means that more than ever before the student body is rallying to the support of every activity and is standing behind its publication. It means that we, the student body of T. C. U., are patronizing those who patronize us. It means that we are watching The Skiff columns for the names of business friends, and that we are giving them preference. It means that T. C. U. has the pep that stands behind every activity—Athletics and Newspaper.

STUDENT ENGAGES IN RELIGIOUS DEBATE DIVIDED INTO 8 SESSIONS, 2 HOURS EACH

By J. H. MONK

J. H. Monk, student in the University, engaged in a religious debate with A. W. Young, member of the non-progressive church, last week at Gober, Texas. The debate was divided into eight sessions of two hours each, and was held on three different days.

The propositions discussed were:

Proposition I—The Scripture authorizes the use of instrumental music in church worship. Affirmed by Monk.

Proposition II—The use of instrumental music connected with Christian worship is sinful. Affirmed by Young.

Proposition III—Organized missionary work such as is maintained by the progressive Christian people is scriptural. Affirmed by Monk.

Proposition IV—Organized missionary work such as is maintained by the progressive Christian people is sinful. Affirmed by Young.

The following report of the contest, written in the style of a prize fight, from an impartial standpoint, was made by R. L. Robinson:

Round No. 1—(Tuesday 7 to 9 p. m.) Monk started the battle with some of his strong blows and put up a pretty good fight the first half round. Young came back at him with some of his digressive blows, and came near knocking Monk out for that half round and it looked like Monk was gone.

Round No. 2—(Wednesday 2 to 4 p. m.) Monk entered the ring next morning with some of his progressive undershots and kindly stunned friend Young. Young came back with all the power he had and knocked Monk up against the ropes. It looked like Young was going to win.

Round No. 3—(Wednesday 7 to 9 p. m.) Young enters the ring with some of his best digressive overshots and Monk came back at him with just a little bit better show.

Round No. 4—(Thursday, 2 to 4 p. m.) Young entered the ring after a night's rest with all his power and vim and putting up the fight of his life knocked Monk considerably, but Monk came back at him with renewed vim and almost knocked him out. Young's ringmaster got mad and it looked like biz was going to pick up.

Round No. 5—(Thursday, 7 to 9 p. m.) Monk entered the ring after his ringmaster had rubbed him down and we had one of the nicest rounds of the debate. Everybody in a good humor. Monk got the best of this round.

Round No. 6—(Friday, 2 to 4 p. m.) Monk came in with one of his progressive smiles and gave Young one more of his progressive punches. This got him under the belt and like to have knocked the wind out of him. But Young rallied and came back with still more digressive overshots without any decided results.

Round No. 7—(Friday, 7 to 9 p. m.) Young entered the ring not feeling quite so well. He put up the best fight he could under the circumstances. Monk met Young in the center of the ring and handed him a few licks that knocked him clear out of the ring. He tried to come back but couldn't. He was the worst knocked out man you ever saw. So Monk is walking around in Gober with his belt on, shaking hands and receiving congratulations from his friends.

Round No. 8—!?!&

LOCALS and PERSONALS

Miss Florence Huxley, who is connected with the editorial office of the Library Journal, has donated a copy of Franklin Thwing's, "The American College" to the University library.

J. B. Holmes of Galveston visited his daughter, Bernice, Friday. Mr. Holmes was elected president of the Texas Christian Lectureship which was held in Vernon four days this week. He is a well known friend of the University.

Quite a number of students and faculty members are attending the numbers given on the lyceum course at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium. A special section is reserved for T. C. U. people.

It was with regret that the news was received here this week of the death of Dr. E. A. Hannaford of Granbury. He was the father of Mrs. Douglas Shirley of Canyon City, formerly Miss Willena Hannaford, '07.

MACK PEGUES OF FAIR DONATES RILEY PICTURE

Mack Pegues, manager of the book department of the Fair, has presented the University with a framed picture of James Whitcomb Riley, the famous Hoosier poet. The picture is now in the library.

Mr. Pegues has shown many kindnesses to members of the University. He recently loaned a set of reference works on Riley to the Clark Literary Society for use in preparation of a special Riley program.

A CHAT WITH YOU

By BEN B. LEWIS
Most Worthy Primus of the Moulders

It is my active intention, la-dees and gen-tel-men, to conjure your active attention by means of an—

I hesitate over the word because I am afraid you will shy at it, and skip to the next headline. But no. I shall be absolutely frank. This is an advertisement. Br-r-r-r. Harsh word! Still, if you are interested in the history of my life, I may say that, during the course of that history's manufacture, I have done worse things than write ads. My worst crime lies not in the fact that I have written ads, but in that I have written oodles.

No, it isn't a book. The fact is, I haven't a thing to sell. Not a thing. I can tell you something, though. (Isn't that nerve for you? trying to tell college folks something!) I can tell you that the Moulders are going to find the prettiest girl in Fort Worth, and take a moving picture of her. And if a T. C. U. girl doesn't win that honor T. C. U. simply can not claim the chiefest beauty. But of course that isn't my lookout.

I can also cheerfully present the information that every girl who enters her picture in the Moulders' Beauty Contest will be given a free pass to Healy's theatre, good for as long as the contest lasts.

Shucks! Don't be so selfish! One or two of you collect fifty or sixty photographs and send them in. If some amiable poung gridironer is in the habit of paying for your admission, save him some money by having your pass along with you. We have even fixed things soz he can save money when he goes by himself. I am a Moulder, you understand, and the Moulders are going to make some money out of this contest. Not much, perhaps, but some. Every single, solitary cent is going into a good cause. Most of it will be in the form of scholarships in T. C. U. So, as a Moulder, and without any personal end in view, I am going to tell you that you can buy a book of admission tickets to Healy's theater worth $1.20 for $1.

There it is! A plain, unadulterated ad! I've done my part. The rest is up to you—or the folks back home!—(adv.)

A HUGE JOKE ENTITLED—“WE NEED THE CASH”

DEAR READERS. Your Skiff subscription is now due and the manager would appreciate prompt payment as the money is needed to keep the paper going. Pay your subscription to either the editor or manager.

It's funny, but the guy who prints your Skiff just won't work without money. If he would, the manager might not have to make an appeal to you.

But as matters stand it seems necessary that something be done. The editor is a busy man, the manager is bashful—and as a result it is not convenient for either to ask you personally for the dollar you owe The Skiff. However, either will be delighted to mark your account paid. If you are on the hill, pay either Horace Jones or Homer Tomlinson; if not, a check mailed to either at T. C. U., Fort Worth, will be promptly acknowledged.

If you haven't subscribed for your paper—Do it Now.

If you haven't paid up—We Need the Cash.

Y. M. C. A. Lecturer Confers with Local Men

Mr. Harry Heinzman, national lecturer for the Young Men's Christian Association, was in the University Wednesday afternoon. He held a conference with officers and members of the Y. M. C. A. in the Brite Bible College.

It was intended to have a special meeting of all the young men in the University, at which Mr. Heinzman was to speak but the time of his arrival was not announced and the plan could not be carried out.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TO LEAD SERVICES ON SUNDAY

Christian Endeavor had charge of the program in the auditorium of the Brite College of the Bible Sunday night. The program was enjoyed by a large number of students and teachers.

The showing was so good that the C. E. Society will be given charge of the Thanksgiving services on the hill in the Bible College chapel Nov. 21. This is to be a rally service for the Endeavorers and a go-to-church service for every student on the hill.

WHEREFORE?

Wherefore the Indian haze so weird
As the dusk of day grows near,
With its myriad singing katydid
'Mong the treetops sad and sere;
With the biting scent of the burning brush,
And the flickering light afar;
The lonely bark of a distant dog;
The hush of a twinkling star?

Wherefore the eve morose and sad,
The twilight acloud with mist,
As the Indian Summer casts its gloom
O'er the distant mountain crest?
Is it this: that nature sleeps to dream
Of the happier days of spring,
And dreads the colder, doleful days
That the months of snow must bring?

Y. M. C. A. LEADER TO VISIT HERE NEXT WEEK

Mr. Heinzman, representative of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be in T. C. U. Nov. 17 and 18 to stir up some pep in the local association and outline some new plans for the year's work.

Mr. Heinzman is sent out by the National committee and is known as a leading speaker and organizer for the Y. M. C. A. His purpose in visiting here is to instill the Y. M. C. A. spirit into the entire University. He will speak in chapel Wednesday morning. A meeting of all the young men in the University will be held Thursday, at which he will talk.

Dean Says Prep Societies Cannot Meet at Night

According to a ruling by Dean Parks this week the Academy literary societies will be required to meet on Tuesday afternoon. A petition signed by a large number of the members of the Jarvis Society asking that the society be allowed to hold their weekly meetings at night was denied.

The meeting of the Jarvis Society, scheduled for this week, was postponed until next week.

NEW ADD-RAN OFFICERS BEGIN SOCIETY DUTIES

ALL IN THE POINT OF VIEW

Sometimes, old pal, in the morning
When the dawn is cold and gray,
And I lie in the perfumed feathers,
Thinking thoughts I dare not say,
I think of the stunts of the night before
And smile me a feeble smile,
And say to myself for the thousandth time

“Is it really worth the while?”

Then I pick up the morning paper
And I see where some saintly man
Who never was soused in all his life
And who never said ‘hell’ or ‘dam,’
Who never stayed out till the wee sma' hours,

Or jollied a gay soubrette,
But preached on the evils of drinking,
The cards, and the cigarette.

“Cut off in the prime of a useful life”
The headlines glibly say;
Or “Snatched by the ruthless reaper”
He has crossed the great highway.

They bury him deep while a few friends weep,
And the world moves on with a sigh,

And the saintly man is forgotten soon
Even as you and I.

Then I say to myself, “Well, Bill,
old scout,

When you are called to take the jump,

When you reach the place where the best and the worst
Must bump the eternal bump,
You can smile to yourself and chuckle
And say ‘Well, I’ve seen and done
all I ought,

When I was on earth I was moving some.”
Now is that an unholy thought?

Well, you rise and attach a cracked ice band

To the crown of your battered hat,
And saunter forth for a cold gin-fizz.
She's a great old world at that,
And you go on your way rejoicing.

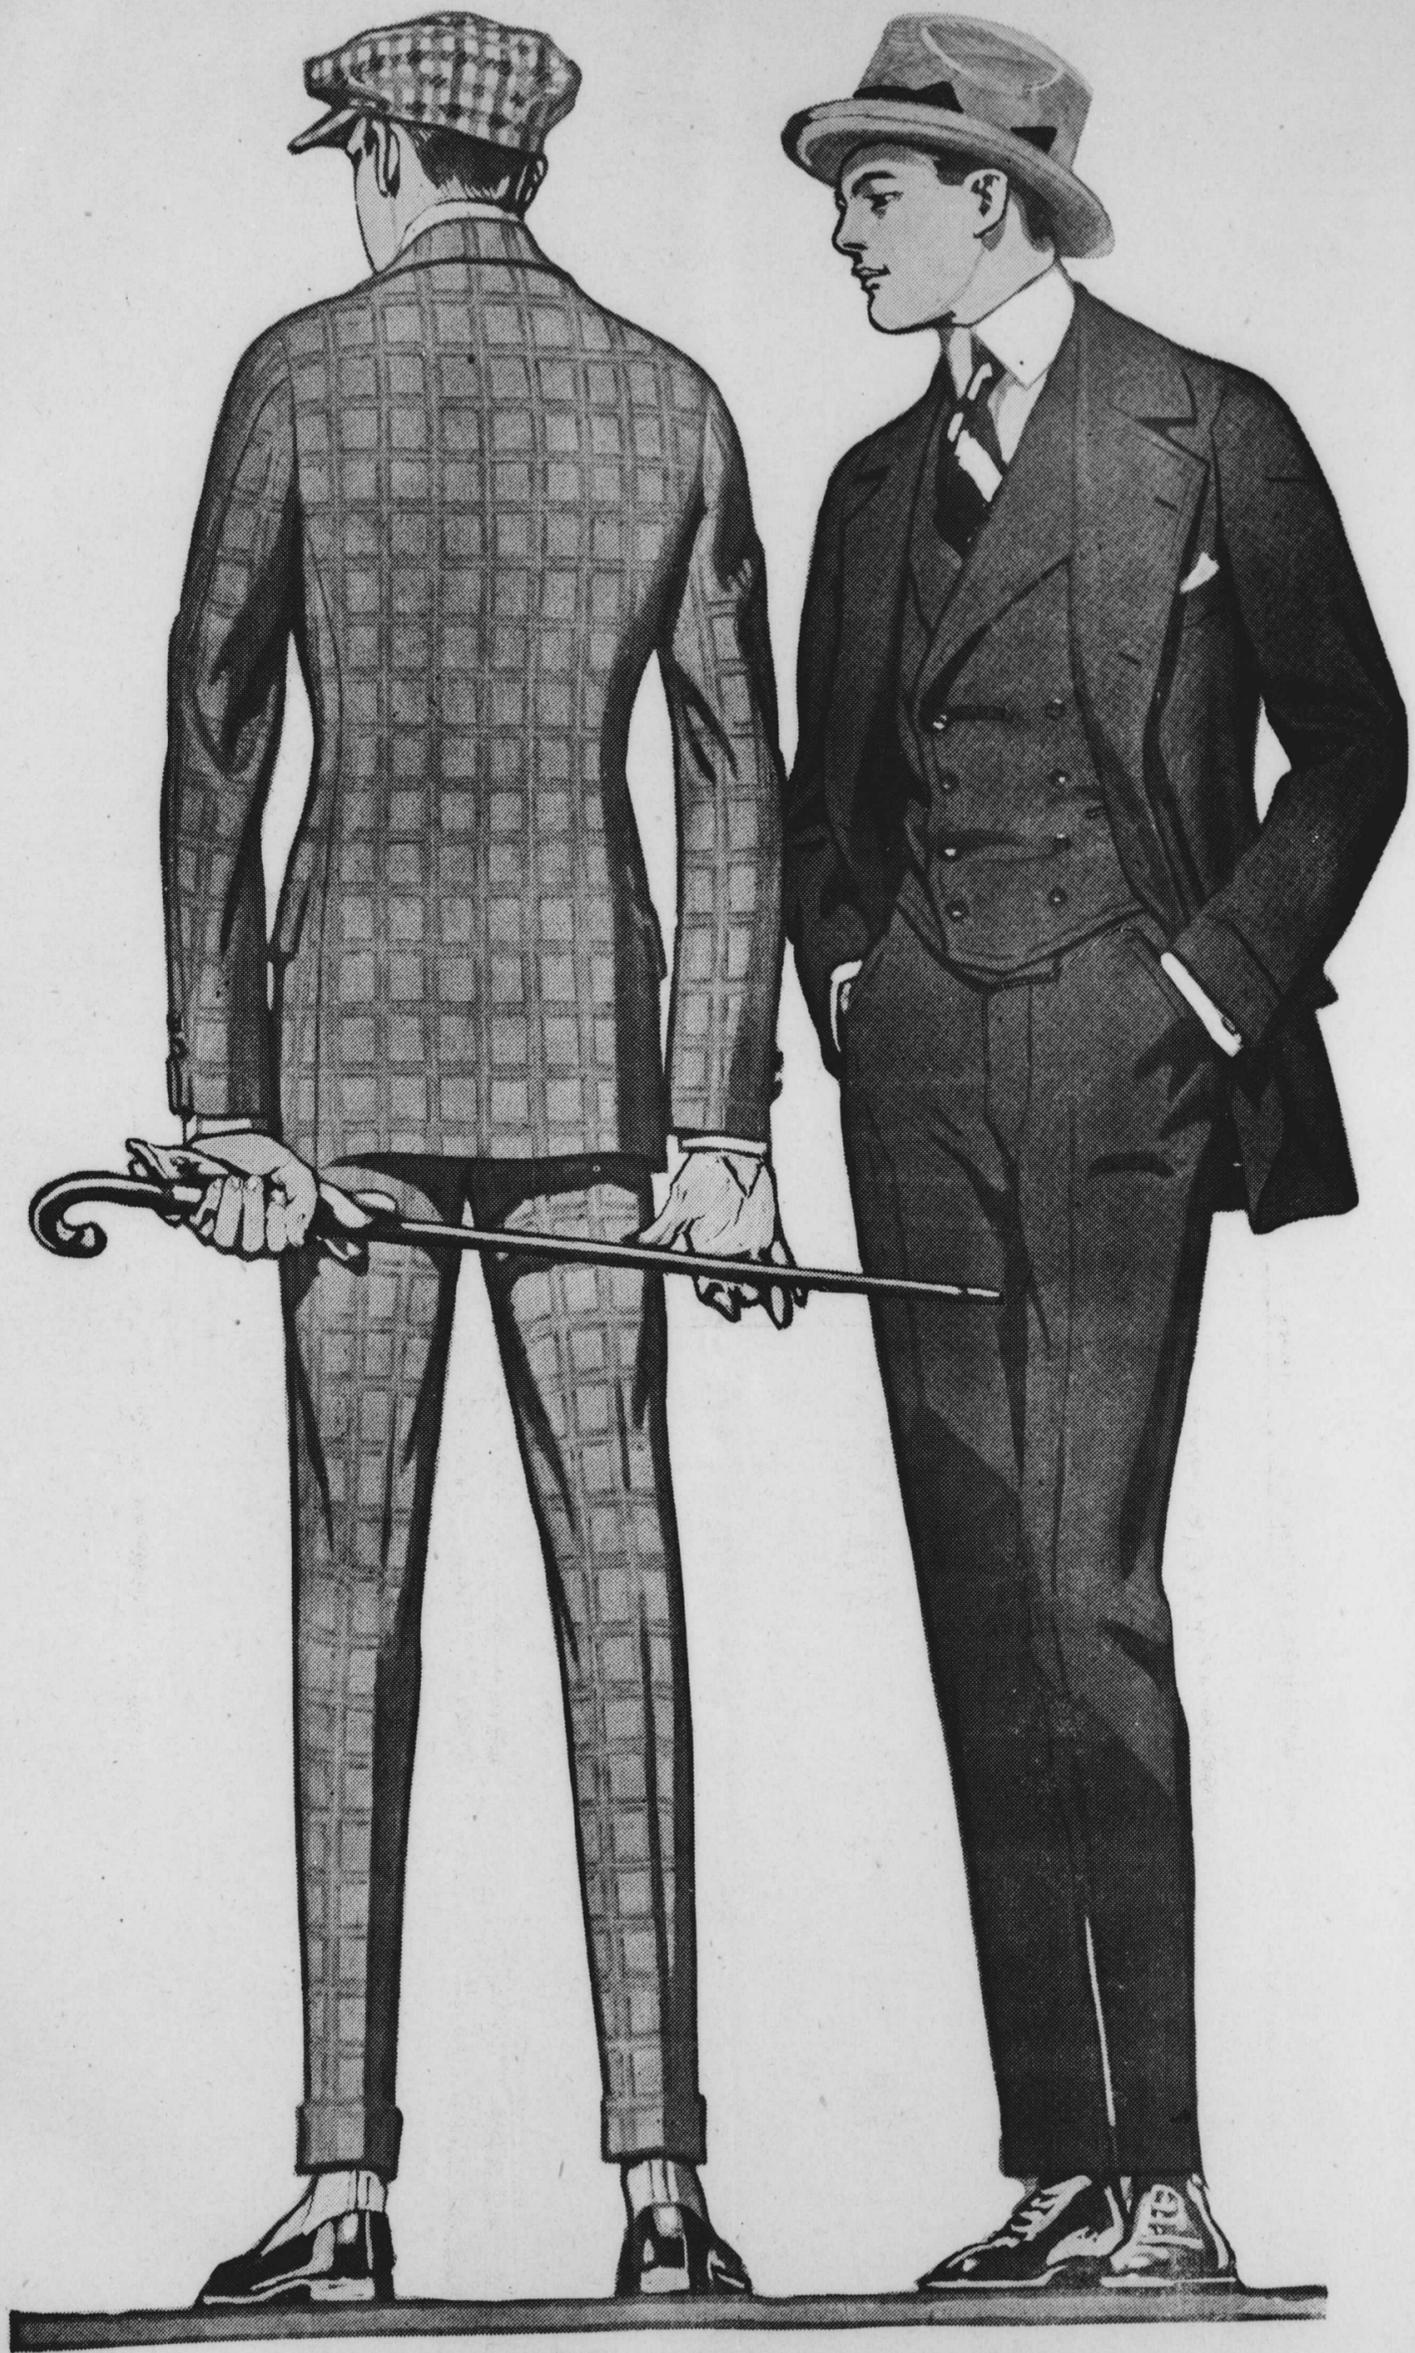

What's the use to complain and sigh?

Go the route, old scout, and be merry
For tomorrow you may die.

—Author Absolutely Unknown.

TO A FLIRT

To think of you is to think of your eyes,
Those regions of darkest night,
Wherein a wander would want to go
—And thotless, without a light—
To seek for love. But I hesitate
At their ever-inviting portals,
For fear that within, the condor Sin
Is fed on the souls of mortals.

"HE'S A CHRISTIAN" SERIES IN RECORD IS PUBLICITY FOR TEAM

Have you noticed the series of "He's a Christian" that has been appearing in the Fort Worth Record for the last ten days? Nov. 9 Frank G. Evans, sporting editor of the Record, started the series, running one picture of some member of the T. C. U. football squad each day, giving a short history of the player. This is the first time a southern newspaper has adopted this plan of boosting a football team, although it has been used by some of the largest newspapers in the country to boost professional baseball clubs.

The Record has received several letters endorsing the plan. The Hillsboro Mirror sent the sporting editor a letter thanking him for using Joe Edens, a Hillsboro boy, in the series of "He's a Christian," and asking that the Record let them have the cut of Edens that they might reproduce it in the Hillsboro paper. The Record granted the request.

By using only the regular players the series will end about Thanksgiving Day, the closing day on the Christians' schedule.

Cockrell Presents Garage Petition Before Commission

Prof. E. R. Cockrell, head of the Law School, at the request of civic organizations fighting to prevent the location of a municipal garage on the lawn of the city hall, read a petition against such an action before the city commission Tuesday morning.

Following the reading of the petition Professor Cockrell commented on the reasons cited in the petition, pleading for the preservation of the breathing space on the city hall lawn.

Professor Cockrell has taken a lead in working for the esthetic advancement of Fort Worth.

TEACHERS WHO USED TO ATTEND T. C. U. TO BANQUET AT CORPUS

More than a hundred letters have been sent out by the University to former students who are now teaching school in Texas, inviting them to attend the banquet for the alumni and former students of T. C. U., which is to be given in Corpus Christi, November 26.

The banquet will be given during the meeting of the Texas State Teachers' Association and will be held at the Nueces Hotel on Friday evening. The other colleges and normals will also hold their banquets at this same time, so that all who desire may attend the evening session of the association.

The purpose of the "get-together" meeting is to bring the T. C. U. people into closer touch and revive some T. C. U. spirit.

E. R. Bentley, superintendent of schools at Alpine, who was the first to start the movement to have the banquet, has been appointed chairman of the occasion and those who intend to go to the meeting have been asked to write him.

PATRIOTISM AROUSED BY LIBERTY PAGEANT

from the huge crowd of children and grown people who crowded the streets to see the pageant on the T. C. U. floats and band. A half holiday was declared in order that the entire student body and faculty might witness the celebration. The bell was two hours late in arriving, however, and was not shown until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The half holiday was extended into a whole holiday.

The float representing T. C. U. at large was beautifully decorated in purple and white with three large imitation bells placed on raised platforms. Miss Pansy Bozeman and W. L. Thornton, seniors, dressed as a colonial couple, rode on the front part of the float; Charlie Butts, as a minute man of the Revolution, and John Nelson, as a college football player, were stationed in the center of the float, one on each side of the big bell; Miss Una Stark and Willis McGregor, juniors, representing a modern college couple, occupied the back part of the float just behind another bell.

The auto float of the Law Department contained a large number of the "laws," dressed to represent the signers of the Declaration of Independence. They presented a tableau of this scene, Professor Cockrell being in the center of the group.

Most of the decorating work and costuming was done by the girls of the art department. Practically all of them were engaged in helping plan the floats. The Brushes also aided in the Star-Telegram in raising a fund to defray the general expenses connected with the pageant by selling little American flags to the students Tuesday and Wednesday.

VARSIITY LOSES TO OKLAHOMA AGGIES

Vaughn, Edens, and Cox were the big three who made the forward pass effective for the Purple and White. Vaughn put up the best grade of play that he has shown this season, not only at receiving passes, but also on the defense. Edens' passing was excellent. Cox, Nelson, and Ramsey all gained fairly well on end runs. The tackle around tackle play, that the Aggies worked so much, was the only form of attack that the Christian forwards could not fathom.

The support that the T. C. U. rooters gave the team in this game was good. The whole student body stayed together in the grandstand during the play. Before the first whistle, the Christian band paraded the field, showing, for the first time, their new coats and hats. Between halves the rooters covered the field in a snake dance, that ended in a well-formed "C."

Mayor Tyra kicked the first ball; it was a high spiral that went at least ten yards. An Oklahoman recovered it but the umpire refused to
