From Association Later

Purple and white blankets were presented to eighteen first string football men previous to the T. C. U.-Baylor game. They were the gift of the coeds of the University.

The girls originated the idea of giving the blankets and at once went to work and raised the money with which to buy them. $65 was the cost.

The blankets are purple and white squares with a white border and a large white T. C. U. monogram in the center. The monograms were put on the blankets by the girls. They were used for the first time at the Baylor game, and the fellows felt mighty proud of them.

Although no decision has been reached as to the final disposition of the blankets, it is advocated by some that they be accounted the property of the University and be handed down from team to team, allowing the Varsity men in all lines of athletics the use of them.

The Athletic Association is planning to present each football man who fills the requirements for getting his letter with a small gold football besides his letter. These are to be in the permanent possession of the players.

NEW GOAL POSTS FOR GOEDS BASKETBALL COURT

New goal posts have been erected on the girls' basketball court north of Jarvis Hall. The new baskets for the goals were procured by Coach Cahoon last week and erected at once.

"Who is that boy?" asked a stranger.

"He is Hearn (Her'n)," said Claud Grady, pointing at one of the girls.

LECTURESHIP AT VERNON SUCCESS

T. C. U. Delegate Says Visitors

Food for Thought

BY B. S. SMISER.

The Texas Lectureship of the Christian Churches, held at Vernon, Texas, Nov. 15 to 19, was in many respects one of the most successful ever held. Special mention is due Ben. M. Edwards and his wife, also Clois Greene. These three young folks who are the leaders of one of the best churches in the State, all things considered, are all T. C. U. people of whom the old school is justly proud.

It is indeed encouraging to go over the state and notice the active leadership that the alumni of T. C. U. are taking, especially in religious life. Mr. Edwards has been pastor of the Vernon Church for the past three years, and is very ably assisted

THANKSGIVING DAY GAME GOES TO BAYLOR BEARS

Varsity Eleven Fought Hard Throughout Game, but Were Unable to Stop Bears' Offensive Backfield Combination

300 ROOTERS SUPPORT THE PURPLE AND WHITE

Captain Cox, R. Martin, Ramsey and Fox Show Best Form for T. C. U.; High Wind Prevents Use of Pass

BY JAMES H. McBRIDE.

In the last game of the T. C. U. schedule Varsity went down in defeat before the heavy Baylor eleven by a score of 51 to 0. The game was played in Waco on Thanksgiving day.

The entire Purple and White team was literally swept off its feet by the rush of the Baylor backfield men. From the time of the first touchdown, which was in the first three minutes of play, the game was a series of plunges by Fouts, L. Roach and Wilson, which always ended with the ball behind the Christian goal. It is no discredit to Varsity to say that she was unable to stop this offensive combination, for it is one of the strongest that a Texas team has ever had. Every man on the Christian team fought hard during the whole four quarters.

A high wind that blew on an angle across the field made the use of the forward pass almost impossible. This was especially a handicap to T. C. U. as she has depended on this form of attack for her principal gains all season. Owing to the wind, a try at a field goal by Stangl went wide. J. Roach of Baylor showed nice judgment when he made a goal from placement on the 43-yard line.

Fouts, L. Roach, Wilson, and Stonerod were the stars for the Baptists. Fouts, Roach and Stonerod showed form that should put them on the all-state eleven.

For Varsity—Ralph Martin, Fox, Ramsey, and Cox played the best game. The brand of football that R. Martin exhibited should entitle him to an all-state tackle. Ramsey, too, must be considered when this mythical eleven is made up; he won applause ime and again Thursday by the great broken-field running that has characterized his play all season.

About 450 people went down to Waco on the special T. C. U. train. Headed by the band, the entire delegation marched from the station to the State House Hotel, where a short pep meeting was held. At 2 p. m. Baylor pulled off a parade through the town showing the development of the school up to the present time. This pageant ended at Carroll Field, and the game took up he remainder of the afternoon.

The game in detail:
Stangl kicked 55 yards to Stonerod who returned 20 yards. Wilson made 2 yards. Fouts went 1 yard, and then kicked 45 yards to Ramsey who returned 15. Nelson made 2 yards and Ramsey the same. Edens made 2 yards and Cox kicked 35 yards out of bounds. Fouts went 20 yards and Wilson 30. L. Roach made 1 and Fouts 10 yards. Ball on T. C. U. 4 yard line. Wilson went the 4 yards for a touchdown. J. Roach failed to kick goal. Score: Baylor 6, T. C. U. 0. J. Roach kicked 45 yards to Ramsey who returned 20. Cox made 9 yards. Nelson 0. Baylor was penalized 15 yards for holding. Edens made 2, Nelson 4, and Ramsey 3 yards. Nelson fumbled and Baylor recovered. Fouts went 2 yards. A pass was incomplete. L. Roach made 20, and then 4 yards. Fouts made 4 yards, Wilson 5 yards, Norris 2 yards, Fouts 1 yard, L. Roach 4 yards, Fouts 4 and then 3 yards, Wilson 3 yards, L. Roach 7 yards and a touchdown. J. Roach kicked goal. Score: Baylor 13, T. C. U. 0. J. Roach kicked over the Christian goal line and the ball was put in play on the 20 yard line. Ramsey failed to gain. Nelson made 2 yards, and Ramsey 3 yards. Edens kicked 20 yards out of bounds. Fouts made 7 yards in 3 bucks and the ball went over. Nelson made 2 yards, Cox 0, and the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.

Cox kicked 35 yards to Stonerod who returned 5. L. Roach made 9 yards, Fouts 22 yards, and Wilson 25 yards. A 15 yard penalty against T. C. U. put the ball on the 1 yard line. Fouts bucked over for a touchdown, and J. Roach kicked goal. Score: Baylor 20, T. C. U. 0. J. Roach kicked 35 yards to R. Martin, who returned 15. Three T. C. U. passes were incomplete and Cox kicked 50 yards to Stonerod. Wilson lost 2 yards and L. Roach made 17 yards. Wilson made 18 yards, Fouts 5 yards, L. Roach 4 yards, Fouts 1 yard, Wilson 4 yards, Fouts 2 yards, L. Roach 15 yards, Wilson 3 yards, Fouts 1 yard, Roach 0, and the ball went over. Cox kicked 30 yards to Stonerod who returned 5. L. Roach lost 5 yards. A pass was incomplete. R. Martin intercepted a forward pass and went 5 yards. Cox made 8 yards. Edens tore off 35 yards around right end. Nelson failed to gain. Two passes were incomplete. Norris blocked an attempted drop-kick by Stangl, T. C. U. recovered the ball. Edens kicked 40 yards to Stonerod. A 15 yard penalty on Baylor put the ball on their 1 yard line. Fouts kicked 45 yards to Ramsey who returned 15. Two T. C. U. passes were incomplete. A pass, Edens to Vaughn, netted 7 yards. Stangl attempted a drop-kick from the 30 yard line but the ball went wide of the posts. Baylor's ball on their 20 yard line. Fouts made 2 yards, L. Roach 1 yard,

ROOTERS GO TO WACO ON SPECIAL TRAIN; HAVE IMMENSELY ENJOYABLE EXCURSION

BY JAMES H. McBRIDE.

Owing to the untiring efforts of John Keith, and others associated with him, a special train over the I. & G. N. was secured to carry T. C. U. students and friends to Waco, for the game with Baylor on Thanksgiving Day. The train was composed of 7 coaches, and carried about 450 people.

All the way down, the band kept up the holiday spirit of the occasion by playing popular airs. The inhabitants of all the small towns along the way were treated to a free concert.

Arriving at Waco at noon, the whole crowd paraded from the station to the State House Hotel, which was the headquarters of T. C. U. students and friends for the day. The parade was well handled and, with the aid of the band, it made itself rather noticeable. At the hotel a short, peppery yell practice was held.

After dinner, the students wandered over the principal business streets of Waco until the big Baylor parade was pulled off. The pageant was well gotten up and showed the development of Baylor University from the first to the present time. Each float in the procession stood for some one period in the life of the school.

The football game was called at 3:30 in the afternoon, on Carroll Field. Every T. C. U. rooter gave a good account of himself during the entire game. The concerted yelling of the Christian student body was great, even in the face of an overwhelming defeat that was administered to the Purple and White eleven.

After a hasty supper, all those students who were returning to Fort Worth made a rush for the train, which left Waco at 7:30 p. m. A special Forest Park car took all the people who live on the hill home.

PART OF ORATORY LIBRARY

Good Speeches for Society De-claimers in List

Students interested in oratory and debating will be glad to know that some very fine books along such lines have been added to the library this week.

Books totaling $18 in value have been placed with those composing the R. H. Gough Oratorical Library in the English section of the library. This department is endowed by Dr. R. H. Gough of Fort Worth, and the new additions are paid for out of the endowment fund provided by him.

Those entering the Triangular debate this year will be greatly helped by volume 3 of Pearson's "Intercollegiate Debates." This book gives a complete debate on the minimum wage question and also furnishes a bibliography of the subject.

New men who intend to try out for the intersociety New Men's Declamatory Contest in the spring will find some good speeches in several of the new books, notably LeRow's "Pieces for Every Occasion," Blackstone's "Best American Orations Today," and Trueblood's "Winning Speeches."

A year's subscription to the New Republic and the Quarterly Journal of Public Speaking are included in the new accessions. These are helpful to all those who are interested in public speaking.

Other books which have been added are:

- Selected Readings From the Most Popular Novels—Lewis.
- The New Century Speaker—Frink.
- Practical Public Speaking—Clark and Blanchard.
- Southern Orators—J. M. McConnell.
- Literary Readings—Curry.
- Public Speaking—Shurter.
- Elements of Debating—Lyon.

IT'S COMING! LAW-MEDIC COMBAT

Lawyers and Doctors of City to Be Guests of Students at Big Game Next Saturday

Now, that the regular football season has closed the eyes of all T. C. U. football fans are turned toward the Law-Medic clash when the aspiring young lawyers and attorneys will meet the budding M. D.'s in mortal gridiron combat.

This contest, which threatens to rival some of the big games in point of interest and hard fighting which it will occasion, is to be played Saturday afternoon, December 4.

Complimentary tickets will be issued by the law students to all the lawyers and attorneys of the city and the members of the medical fraternity will be guests of the medical students at the game. It is expected that quite a good deal of rivalry and enthusiasm will be created by this move.

Daily workouts will begin next week. The Laws will be coached by M. E. Daniel.

Those who are expected to try out for the law team are: Christenberry, Biggers, Humphries, Gunter,

An Indictment

An article well worth the reading by college people in general appears in the November issue of the Atlantic Monthly under the head "An Indictment of Intercollegiate Athletics." It is a pretty fair statement of the place accorded athletics in the colleges of the country, the purpose of intercollegiate athletics and the effect on the intellectual side of our college life of the present system of conducting our athletics.

The indictment which the author returns is: "Intercollegiate athletics provide a costly, injurious and excessive regime of physical training for a few students, especially those who need it least, instead of an inexpensive, healthful and moderate exercise for all students, especially those who need it most."

The writer believes that college students should pay more attention to the thing for which they come to college for, namely, to get an education and enters a plea for a little more intellectual enthusiasm.

"Intellectual enthusiasm," he says, "is rare in American colleges and likely to be rarer still if social and athletic affairs continue to overshadow all other interest * * * Always the aim of students appears to be to escape as much as possible of the college life provided by the faculty in order to indulge in more of the college life provided by themselves."

College spirit—the usual manifestation of it by students and his own interpretation of it—comes in for a heated discussion.

"But even if intercollegiate games are detrimental to the interests of scholarship, is not the college spirit they create worth it all? Perhaps so. A university is more than a curriculum and a campus. It is more than the most elaborate student annual can depict. Even in Carlyle's day it was more than he called it: a true university was never a mere collection of books. It is the spirit that giveth life and college spirit is certainly a name to conjure with. The first question is what we mean by college spirit. A student may throw his hat in the air, grab a megaphone, give three long raahs, go through the gymnastics of a cheer leader—putting the most ingenious mechanical toys to shame—and yet leave some doubt as to whether he has adequately defined college spirit. * * *

"But some men mean by college spirit something finer than rowdiness and dissipation. They mean the loyalty to an institution which makes a student guard its good name by being manly and courteous in conduct at all times and in all places. They mean the sense of responsibility which aids a student in forming habits of temperance and industry. They mean that eagerness to make grateful use of his opportunities which leads a student to keep his own body fit, through moderate athletics and a physical training that knows no season—is never broken. By college spirit some men mean this and far more: they mean that loyalty to a college which rivets a man to the severest tasks of scholarship, through which he gains intellectual power and enthusiasm, without which no graduate is an entire credit to any college; and finally they mean that vision of an ideal life beyond commencement which shows a man that only through rigid subordination of transient and trivial pleasures can he hope to become the only great victory a man ever wins—a trained, devoted and inspired alumnus, working for the welfare of mankind. There is no evidence that the intercollegiate athletics of today inculcate in many men this kind of college spirit."

Although the writer of the article in the Atlantic does overestimate the evils of intercollegiate athletics somewhat, his condemnation of them as commercial and obstructive to the intellectual advancement of college students deserves consideration, in that it serves to remind us all that we are likely to go too far in our enthusiasm over athletics for and by the few.

Student Finances

Some practical plan for putting student body finances on a sound basis needs to be adopted by the Students' Association. Student enterprises are being constantly held back by the lack of money with which to carry them on.

The proposition which suggests itself as the most workable for this year and the years to come is to levy a poll tax on each student in the University. Payment of this fee should be required before students are eligible to vote in elections.

It isn't fair that those who do not contribute to the student body treasury should be allowed to say for what the money should be expended. That's the trouble with the present system of assessment. By a practically unanimous vote the student body voted last week to appropriate $25 towards the expenses of taking the moving pictures of the University. The treasurer's book shows that less than one-third of the students have paid their assessment of fifty cents, part of which will be needed to cover the amount voted for the pictures.

Why should the two-thirds who do not pay their assessment have as much say so concerning the disbursement of our money as does the one-third that pays its part? "

It seems reasonable that a poll tax of, say twenty-five or fifty cents, should be placed on each member of the Students' Association.

It might also be a wise idea to draw up a student body constitution with these things clearly outlined.

Business Confidence

Last week's enlarged edition demonstrated the faith Fort Worth merchants and business men have in The Skiff as an advertising medium.

They realize that the T. C. U. student trade is worth a great deal in cold cash and are making a bid for it.

Our students in turn appreciate the fact that Skiff advertisers consider their patronage worth while and reciprocate the efforts of the merchants to please by trading with them.

This cold weather means that numbers of students will have to buy shoes and heavier clothes; hence more business for Skiff advertisers.

Regular Members of College Literary Societies Constitute Membership of Association

COMMITTEE HOLDS PURSE

No Restrictions on Office Holding; Any Member Eligible

It may seem to some that undue space is being given to the printing of constitutions and other dry stuff this year. The Skiff has seen fit to publish such things this year in order to preserve them for the future. It has been shown that unless some permanent record or file of constitutions are made in the library where they are easily available, it will not be more than one or two years until all written records of them will be lost. It is chiefly to keep these important documents in written form for all time to come that they are being published.

Following is a copy of the new constitution recently ratified by the Oratorical Association:

Article I.

Section I.—This organization shall be known as the Texas Christian University Oratorical Association.

Section II.—The object of this association shall be to incite and cultivate proficiency in oratory and debating in Texas Christian University.

Article II.

Article III.

Section I.—The officers of this association shall be a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer.

Section II.—Any member of the association shall be eligible for any office in the association.

Section III.—The officers shall be elected the first of each school year, within one month after the fall term opens, and shall hold office for one year or until their successors shall have been duly elected and qualified.

Section IV.—The duties of the president shall be to preside at all meetings of the associations and at all contests held under the auspices of the association and to call all meetings of the association.

Section V.—It shall be the duty of the vice-president to perform all the functions of the president's office during the absence or incapacity of the latter, and serve as chairman of the executive committee.

Section VI.—It shall be the duty of the secretary-treasurer to conduct all the correspondence of the association and to submit at the end of each term a written report of all moneys collected and expended during that term.

T. C. U. JUNIORS BEAT MISTLETOE HEIGHTS IN SNAPPY CONTEST

Youngsters Who Live on the Hill Developing Material for Varsity

Some fine material for the Varsity football team in the years to come is being developed in the games which the T. C. U. Juniors and the Mistletoe Heights Juniors have been playing on the field across from the campus during the past few weeks.

The T. C. U. Juniors are young boys who live on the hill, ranging from 10 to 14 years of age. Saturday being their day off from school, they engage in a gridiron contest with their Mistletoe Heights neighbors. Students in the University serve as officials for these games and also do the rooting. On Saturday mornings a goodly sprinkling of students can be seen on the grandstand at any of these games.

Last Saturday the game resulted in a victory for the T. C. U. Juniors by a score of 19 to 6. Two sons of Prof. C. I. Alexander, head of the mathematics department, furnish a great deal of the strength of the team.

The lineup as furnished by one of the players is incomplete, but is the best that could be gotten:

LOCALS and PERSONALS

A special meeting of the board of trustees was held at the University Thanksgiving day to consider some important financial matters.

Professor Cockrell instituted a two-sided discussion Monday in his class in State National Government by dividing the class equally and having half of the members argue one side of a question and half the other side. The class judged the debate, the decision being a tie, the affirmative voting on their side and the negative contending that they had won the discussion.

Dr. C. C. Gumm, head of the English department, served as one of the judges who graded the essays submitted in the Buy-It-Made-in-Texas contest.

"Hebe" Frizzell and John Bateman, former students who are now professors at the Central High School, were on the campus Saturday seeing their friends and talking to the ladies.

Miss Miriam Morrow, a senior in the North Texas State Normal at Denton, was a visitor in the University Monday. She took supper with friends in Goode Hall Monday night.

Ruby Francis left last Saturday for Wichita, Kansas, to attend the wedding of her brother which took place this week. She was one of the bridesmaids at the ceremony. She will return Saturday.

W. Floyd Sweet, Roy Feemster and W. L. Thornton were selected by the Add-Rann Society Monday night to enter the class in Constructive Oratory which Dr. Gumm conducts for six chosen men who are to enter the preliminary to the state oratorical contest.

Pansy Bozeman will spend the week-end at her home in Bartlett. She went there direct from Waco Thursday night.

There are so many "Bills" in Goode Hall that they have to be numbered. Bill Yesley, Bill Knox, Bill Jones and Bill Yelderman.

MANY STUDENTS SEE HOW THEY LOOK IN MOVING PICTURES

Divers Opinions Are Expressed
Concerning Scenes of Game and Student Body

Keystone comedies, human interest movies, dramas and the Majestic lost their attraction for T. C. U. students Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday while their own movies were being shown on the screen at the Odeon Theater.

Practically every student in the University went to see the pictures. Of course, if you had asked them why they wanted to see the T. C. U. pictures, they would have told you they wanted to see their fellow students as they appeared on the screen. But the real reason was that they wanted to see themselves in the movies. That was at least one time that everyone had a chance to see himself as he appears to other people.

Varied opinions were expressed by students concerning the scenes showing the student body. Some said they were too short, others said they were not plain enough, and still others said they did not show enough to be worth anything. A number, however, were well satisfied with the film.

Four scenes of the football game with Southwestern (result, 21 to 0 in favor of T. C. U.) were shown and two views of the rooters in the grandstand. The last two showed the joy on the faces of the purple and white supporters at the prospect of their team winning.

The scenes showing the student body and faculty in front of the Administration building, the girls in front of their dormitory and the boys in front of their dormitory, had plenty of life but were so short and went by in such a hurry that it was impossible to distinguish very many in the pictures. Only those closest to the machine in the spotlight could be plainly recognized.

by Clois Greene who is "Dean" of the choir; and his wife is demonstrating her ability (aforetime prophesied) of being entirely capable to take the proper care of a parson.

One of the most interesting topics under discussion was "Tithing" on which J. B. Holmes, of Galveston, (father of our Bernice Holmes) gave some facts and figures; which developed that if a man were making $500 per year and his expenses were $600 he was still due to pay his tithe. Mr. Holmes takes the stand that tithing is no more nor less than house rent, and that we may tithe and still be giving nothing to the Lord.

Mr. Philpott, the chief lecturer, gave us food for much thought, and while not as eloquent as the lecturer of last year, he was in every respect a man well fitted for the task.

Our own Dr. Lockhart and Dr. Wilson, did credit to themselves and the University which they represent. Dean Parks was present in his "usual quiet way" seeing everything and saying nothing. Messrs. Shockley and Jones were able, as usual, to find very congenial "temporary mates" and apparently enjoyed themselves immensely. In fact, it seems to have been "with difficulty" that they managed to tear themselves away.

One of the very interesting features of the lectureship was the manner in which the people of Vernon fed and housed the delegates. For genuine whole hearted hospitality, these people have no superiors, even in this grand old state. Nothing was too good for the delegates, and we are candid to express the opinion that they were treated far better than the majority of them are used to.

The lectureship next year will be held at Fort Worth, in the First Church.

Waiters at several tables in the main dining room were thankful Thursday for the tickets which the students who eat at their tables presented them for the excursion to Waco. Several tables chipped in and showed their appreciation of their waiters by giving them an opportunity to see the Baylor game.

WACO MORNING NEWS FAVORS PROF. COCKRELL

The following editorial note from the Waco Morning News gives its sentiment in regard to a new president for the University:

"T. C. U. alumni and students want Prof. E. R. Cockrell for president of the institution. We hasten to join their ranks."

SCRUBS DEFEAT THE MASONICS AGAIN; LAST GAME THEY WILL PLAY

The Scrubs finished a successful season Tuesday by defeating the Masonic Home team 30-7. They have lost only one game during the season, that being to the heavy Y. M. C. A. team of the city. Coach Daniels has rounded some exceptionally green material into a squad of good men, some of whom will probably be on Varsity next year.

The game Tuesday was characterized by spectacular end runs and forward passes. The Masonic Home team scored early in the first quarter and at first things looked like they might win. Sowell, Willis, Araspiger and Douglass pulled the second team out of the hole by touchdowns. In the last quarter the Orphans seemed to lose heart and the Scrubs gained at will.

Willis, Christenberry, Douglass, Sweeney, White, Sowell, Sanders, Henderson, Bradford, Peters, Chambers.

A storm door has been erected at the entrance to the dormitory and a lock has been placed on the door to the print shop which is located in the basement of the building.
