VARSIITY NINE TO MEET TRINITY IN TWO-DAYS SERIES

(By "Gish" Martin).

Handicapped by the absence of their crack southpaw, Harry Lee, who is confined to his bed with the mumps, the Varsity baseball team will leave Monday for Waxahachie, and open the eighteen-game schedule of the season with two games with Trinity University.

Taking into consideration the fact that they have had to practice in a hay meadow, and that some of the most promising candidates have allowed some fair and "loyal" co-eds to persuade them to go to the park rather than come out to practice, Coaches Freeland and Daniel and Captain Nelson have developed some likely looking men to represent T. C. U. this season; and, the chance of copping the state championship is good, provided the men on the "sick list" recover before the next trip.

Vaughn or Leveridge in Box.

The probable pitchers for Monday and Tuesday are "Shorty" Vaughn and Haywood (Blacky) Leveridge. Vaughn, though having worked out only a few evenings, on account of Glee Club trips, is confident that he will get Trinity's scalp in one of the battles. "Blacky" Leveridge has developed wonderfully this year over last season and can be depended upon to do his share of work in the box.

The infield is going like wildfire, and has all the fight and pep in the world. The outfield is "getting them all," and has improved steadily in batting. A stiff practice in batting and fielding has been the program this week, and Coach Freeland says his men "hit 'em all."

Support the Boys.

Let every man in the University support the team through this long schedule, for unless this is done, the team cannot be expected to hold their pep and fight. Encourage the boys and reprimand any player you see cutting practice. The question is up to the student body, "Shall we have a second division team, or shall we have a contender for state honors?" Of course, all desire the latter. Then get the spirit, and "stand true" to the club.

Representative of Lyceum Bureau Gives Two Readings in Auditorium

Mr. Lewis, representative of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, spent several days in the University this week in the interest of the courses to be offered next season. He gave two delightful readings for the student body at chapel Saturday morning. Mr. Lewis is a graduate of Drake University of Iowa.

CLAUDE GRADY IS LIBRARIAN'S ASS'T

Claude Grady who has been janitor of the Brite Building will in future assist Miss Nell Andrews, doing stenographic work in the Library Department. His place as janitor of Brite Building will be filled by Claude Wingo, who has returned from down town, to room in Goode Hall the balance of the year. On account of this new work Grady will commence boarding at the main dining hall.

Lela Bates spent the week-end with Bennie Ruth Clements at the latter's home in Milford.

Will Stage Student Vaudeville "Stunt" Show MONK IS DELEGATE AT STATE PRESS CONVENTION

Seven big headliner acts have been announced for the all-star "stunt" vaudeville show which will be staged in the auditorium in about three weeks for the benefit of the Horned Frog.

The Maj will have nothing on the T. C. U. stars who are to appear in this performance. In pretty girls, spiciness, footlight frolics, clever dancing and singing skits, impersonation, side show acts and swell dressing, the local talent show will excel by a country mile anything else ever attempted along this line.

Here's the every-act-a-headliner bill of seven all-star acts:

I.

First there will be a movie pantomime entitled "When the Time Came." The characters in this howling comedy scene will be:

Country Woman—Lola McFarland.

Her Boy—Marcus Alexander.

Newsboy—Joe Keith.

College Boy—Virgil Payne.

Two Giggling Girls—Bethany Overmier and Grace Bailey.

A Loving Couple—Joe McNamara and Gladys Richards.

Country Boy—"Red" Willis.

Ticket Seller—Minnie Proctor.

The scene of this pantomime is the entrance to a moving picture theater and the fun starts when the loving couple comes in and—

But we musn't tell all the story.

II.

The second number will be a marvellous exhibition of strength by the strong man, featuring Stovall and Tittle in a wonderful and awe-inspiring act.

III.

Next will come the "stunner." This will be a swell affair called "Society Favorites," featuring five of the most beautiful young ladies of the Hill and five of their hand-

GRISSOM TO SPEAK IN PRO CONTEST AT TRINITY

Clyde Grissom and Stillwell Melton will attend the meeting of the Texas Intercollegiate Prohibition Association at Trinity University at Waxahachie April 6 and 7. Grissom will represent T. C. U. in the annual oratorical contest and Melton will act as business delegate from T. C. U.

Any other students who may desire to go will be cordially welcomed and entertained during their stay, according to a letter from John Deaver, president of the State I. P. A.

Nine Texas colleges will be represented in the contest Friday night, as follows: Decatur Baptist College, Trinity, Howard Payne, Daniel Baker, Baylor, Southern Methodist University, T. C. U., Peniel University and Burleson College, the two latter of Greenville.

Big Leaders to Attend.

A galaxy of prohibition leaders and fighters will be present at the convention and will address the delegates from the various colleges on various phases of the campaign against the liquor traffic.

Among the speakers will be Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the National I. P. A.; Dr. A. J. Barton, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; Mrs. Nannie Webb Curtis, state president of the W. C. T. U., and O. W. Moerner, southwestern secretary of the I. P. A.

Moerner was the guest of Homer Tomlinson, president of the local association, Wednesday and addressed the student body at chapel in the interest of the meeting at Trinity.

Ingenuity and persistency may yet lead to the discovery of someone with the same ideas about everything that you have.

Entirely too many of us mistake the high cost of loving for the high cost of living.

Dr. Lockhart Will Conduct Daughter's Wedding on May 1

Announcement has been made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Naomi Lockhart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Lockhart, and Mr. Spearman Webb of Sherman. The ceremony will be performed in the auditorium of Brite College of the Bible on the night of May 1.

The marriage will be unique in that Dr. Lockhart will perform the ceremony.

Both Miss Lockhart and Mr. Webb are former students of T. C. U. and have many friends in the University. Mr. Webb is the son of Judge G. P. Webb, and is a promising young lawyer of Sherman.

TO ENTERTAIN JUNIORS.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Batson will entertain the junior class at their home on Forest Park Boulevard Friday night. Dr. Batson is the junior class professor.

Miss Mary Lee Moore, head of the Domestic Science Department, resumed her class work this week following several weeks' illness.

OFFICIALS CONFER WITH LEADERS OF MEN AND MILLIONS

Acting President W. B. Parks, Endowment Secretary Clifford S. Weaver, Business Manager Durrett, and six members of the board of trustees left Wednesday for Kansas City to confer with the leaders of the Men and Millions Movement in regard to the situation in Texas. They will return Saturday.

Members of the board who made the trip were Dr. Bacon Saunders, Van Zandt Jarvis, C. W. Gibson, H. W. Stark, F. G. Jones and Judge Holt.

Can't Raise Funds.

According to an agreement with the Men and Millions leaders T. C. U. cannot inaugurate a statewide campaign for endowment or collect the pledges that were made in favor of T. C. U. during the Men and Millions campaign in Texas until a release is gotten from those in charge of the Men and Millions Movement. It was to get this release that the officials of the University went to Kansas City.

It the committee succeeds in its mission it is probable that a campaign will be started to raise money for the University.

GIRLS SELL CANDY AND SANDWICHES

Candy and sandwiches were sold by members of the Girls' Chorus after chapel Wednesday morning. The money realized from the sales will be used to purchase an encyclopedia of music for the benefit of the Music Study Club.

HOLIDAY GRANTED FOR CELEBRATION; VICTORS GET CUP

The Cauble Drug Store, Seventh and Houston streets, will give a loving cup to the class which wins the majority of the contests Saturday.

Soph leader, Judge Ramsey. Freshman leader, Jo Edens.

April Fool's Day will be a holiday in T. C. U. as is customary but this time it will be by a special dispensation of the faculty and not by popular declaration on the part of the student body.

April 1 in the future will be the traditional day for the fish and sophs to work off all their extra class spirit and enthusiasm by clashing in various athletic contests.

The program worked out jointly by committees from the faculty and student body for Saturday comprises events which will keep the campus humming all day. The main features will be a freshman-sophomore class meet, a tug-of-war, and a preacher-faculty baseball game in the morning and a game between the second team and Masonic Home in the afternoon.

The University band under the direction of Prof. Fred M. Cahoon will play during the progress of the morning's events.

Start at 8 A. M.

Every freshman is called to appear on the field across from the campus at 8 o'clock and every sophomore is expected to appear at 8:15 Saturday morning dressed in their fighting clothes and prepared for action.

Defis has been issued by the respective class leaders to their opponents and a hot fight is expected for the honors of the day.

The track events will begin at 8:30 and will include 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, high jump, broad jump and relay race.

The tug-of-war contest will start about 9 o'clock and will be conducted according to the following rules with Milton E. Daniel, Coach Freeland and the "T" men officiating.

Baseball Line-ups.

The following tentative line-ups for the preachers and faculty have been announced:

Faculty: Winton, pitcher; Parks, catcher; Cahoon, first base; Batson, second base; Roberts, third base; Cantrell, short stop; Alexander, left field; Wilson, center; Gumm, right field.

Substitutes: Cockrell, Dacus, Hamilton, Casperson, Daniel, Coach Freeland, Munday.

Substitutes: Buhler, Wingo, Stephenson, Molina, Grady, W. Jones, Shockley, Yelderman, Monk.

The following rules have been drawn up to govern the contests:

The Glee Clubbers

A bit of advice to the Glee Club boys:

From the reports that have been coming in from places where you have appeared on your previous trips, it is noticeable that you have been making a "mash" everywhere you have gone. Well, those of us who stay at home and do the work while you are off having a good time are perfectly willing for you to represent us in "looks" if not in erudition. But we don't want to lose you; we realize that we can't get along without you. Pardon this suggestion but it's given in all good faith. In view of the facts that you make such a "hit" with all the girls, that you are going on a visit to C. I. A. and that C. I. A. has a fence built around the campus to keep boys out except on special occasions, we suggest that extra precautions be taken to thwart any attempts that might be made by the damsels of "Blue Serge Hill" to kidnap you. Of course it can't be denied that there would be nothing in the world more pleasant than being kidnaped by C. I. A. girls—who possess all the accomplishments—but then you must remember your loyalty to T. C. U. and how badly we need you here. Besides, what would your T. C. U. girls think? And what would they do?

Be good, and if you can't be good, at least be careful.

The Honor System

(From Daily Texan).

He who cheats on examination pays heavily for any course. He robs himself of much more than he robs the school. He subsequently finds that in remorse, in fear of detection, in the deterioration of his character, he has paid too great a price for the difference between failure and a passing grade.

But on each final examination at least one pays this price, and suffers the severe and lasting penalty of his capitulation to temptation. Usually at least one is brought before the students' council as the result of detection. And he suffers the penalty whether he is detected and brought before the students' council, or whether he escapes detection.

We would fortify those who yield to this temptation to cheat by urging a commonsense consideration of the relative cost of cheating and of outright honest failure.

The price of dishonesty, no matter how small, is still exorbitant. The price of honesty, no matter how great, is low. The greater the cost of honesty, in fact, the more valuable it is.

Why Not Reward Literary Effort?

FOR the purpose of encouraging literary endeavor on the part of students in the University and of stimulating a literary atmosphere in our midst The Skiff offered last fall to publish work of a literary nature written by students. This offer was made in view of the fact that we have no magazine or other strictly literary publication to foster and develop literary talent.

The belief was expressed at the time that there was plenty of latent ability in T. C. U. and it was pointed out that what was needed was some sort of stimulus to arouse students to the point of putting their energy and thought into producing special articles for publication.

That belief has been proved.

But the need pointed out is still apparent.

In spite of the fact that the English department has offered no incentive to increased literary endeavor and that the cultivation of a literary atmosphere has been sadly neglected, there has been greater activity in this field during the past term than at any previous time.

However, there are other students than those who have been writing who should be developing their powers. The Skiff, as the student publication, has offered to help these students by bringing before the University any of their work which is worthy of publication.

The thing which, it seems, would do more than anything else just now to stir up and spur any dormant ability along literary lines would be the offer of a reward or prize or public recognition on the part of the University of the best work done in the literary field.

Rewards are offered to the men who represent the University on the athletic field and on the platform and their services are recognized for their full value. But not the slightest attention is given to those equally hard working students who, by the labor of their brain, are trying to give T. C. U. a high literary standing.

Why doesn't the English department take a more active interest in stimulating a literary atmosphere in T. C. U.?

Why doesn't the faculty encourage more literary work by the students?

Why doesn't the University reward real literary service to the school?

The Prisoner of Torreon

BY RILEY AIKEN

In a tower on the border
Of a country far away
Sat a prisoner softly singing
As he watched the dying day;
And his song surceased to sorrow,
And his thoughts were all of home
As the evening fled the darkness
That had fallen o'er the gloam.

Hope and joy with twilight vanished,
And a moonbeam crossed the floor
Like a corpse in slow procession
Borne by time that onward wore.
Then the man bowed down to sadness
And he longed as ne'er before
That tomorrow all his sorrow
Might be dead forever more.

Sleep came on with many visions
Of his home and boyhood past,
And he drank the dreams of pleasure
As a drug before him cast;
Then the jailor came to free him
Opening wide the prison door;
But the only thing he found there
Was a body on the floor.

To a Pinion Tree

BY FRANC WATKINS

Oh, little tree on the mountain so high,
Up where the white fleecy cloudlets float by
What are you dreaming the whole livelong day?
What are you thinking and what do you say?
Morning and night you sing to the things there
A sweet little song with a wild mountain air.
Gently, at sunrise, you wake the wee bird;
Then in the evening your lullaby's heard.

Do you sing songs of the clouds and the air?
Or do you sing songs of the brooklets so fair?
Or is your song of the bird in the nest?
Perhaps of the things nature folds to her breast?
Or do you sing of your freedom of life,
Away from the cares and the toils and the strife?
Tell me, Oh, Tree! with your sweet moaning sound,
What are the secrets that in you abound?

Fate deals the hands, we play the cards

PITHY PARAGRAPHS

BY ALDEN EVANS

Things a reporter hears every day:
1. I should think newspaper work would be awfully fascinating. 2. It must be nice to go to so many things and get to write them up. 3. Be sure and stress that and don't say anything about the other. 4. Don't you have a lot of exciting experiences? 5. Give us a good write-up, won't you? 6. Now I'm just telling you what happened, you can write it up for yourself. 7. Will this be in tomorrow's paper? 8. All newspaper reporters have to know short-hand, don't they? 9. Say, put that in the paper. 10. Remember this is confidential and not for the press. 11. I have nothing to say, but as soon as we are ready to give anything out to the public, I'll let you know. 13. Yes, I'm an old newspaper man myself.

A New York woman has been fined $500 for gossiping. Perhaps the penalty doesn't fit the crime but if she is cured the money will have been well spent.

From the chapel platform we have had the German point of view, the French, the English and the Belgian. Now will some one give us the Mexican?

One morning a suffragette in a chapel speech declares that women are "coming into their own." The following day a layman declares that men "are coming into their own." Well, why don't they get together on the proposition? Efficiency is the thing. Team work will bring it about.

Tale of stamp: With apologies to Newton Newkirk and the Gimlet. I'm a stamp—a postage stamp—a two center. I make the government a profit of $62,000,000 a year. Some velvet, eh? Don't want to brag, but I was never licked—'cept once; by a gentleman, too. He put me on an envelope, perfumed, pink, square. I've been on it ever since.

The gentleman dropped us, the envelope and I, through a lot into a dark box. But we were rescued. Then a mail clerk hit us a smash with a hammer and left us black and blue. Then I went on a long journey.

When we arrived, the pink envelope and I, were presented to a perfect love of a girl. Say, she's a dream! Well, she mutilated me with a hair pin. Then she read inside. I never saw a girl blush so beautifully. Say, she kissed me—oh little godlets. We, the pink envelope and I, are resting snugly in her bosom. We can hear her heart throb and when it goes fastest she takes us out and kisses me. Ah, say, this is great. I'm glad I'm a stamp, a two center even if the one cent letter postage association is after my scalp.

Takes Poison by Mistake; Avoids Serious Result by Use of Antidotes

The Lockhart family received a bad scare Friday evening. Mrs. Lockhart, in getting some tablets for Miss Naomi, by mistake gave her bi-chloride of mercury instead of lithia tablets, and also took a part of one herself.

Fortunately, Miss Naomi recognized immediately from the taste that she had not taken the right tablets, and on investigating, the mistake was discovered. By promptly drinking several raw eggs in milk, the poison was counteracted. Dr. Mahon was called, and what might have proved very serious indeed, ended without any further consequences, other than a few hours' sickness.

Miss Myra Kelly of Sabinal, who was a visitor in Goode Hall as the guest of the McCarralls for several days last week, returned Wednesday morning to Carlton College, where she is attending school.

Ireta Robison spent the week-end with her parents at Forney.

some young gentlemen friends. One of the young ladies will be entertaining the others at a pink tea where songs will be sung and social etiquette practiced for the benefit of the audience, and fine dresses will be displayed for their admiration.
The cast for this act will include the following members of the high society of T. C. U.: Misses Marion Baugh, Una Stark, Ruth McFadin, George Hirt and Hattilu West; Messrs. McGregor, S. Sweeney, Stallings, Vaughn, Tomlinson.

IV.
Act. No. four will be a playlet called "Spreading the News." Scene—a fruit stand. The characters in the playlet will be Gladys Richards, Gertrude Davies, Anna McLendon, George Hirt, Charles Christenberry, Virgil Payne, Bevie Biggers, Clyde Grissom, Jo Edens, Tom Paul Frizzel and "Judge" Raley.

Miss Sophia Bahan is coaching the characters for this part of the show.

V.
The T. C. U. male quartette will now sing.

VI.
Prof. John Calhoun Nelson, the world famous ventriloquist, will give the audience a chance to see his wonderful ability in the art of throwing the voice. The professor has made a life study of this little understood subject and is able to exert an uncanny influence over an audience by his success in making his voice sound from the farthest corners of the chamber.

VII.
The final act will be a combination singing and ragging skit by Anna McLendon and Joseph McNamara—the two Macs.

The show will close with the singing of "When That Old T. C. U. Team Falls in Line" as a grand finale.

The producers of this show are going to the expense of great time and labor in staging it here. They have secured the services of Howard B. Dabbs as stage manager.

Joe McNamara, business manager for the Horned Frog, has general charge of the arrangements and is assisted by J. H. Irby, a man of some experience in such work.

DUNNING GETS NEW TYPE FOR PRINT SHOP

Milton Dunning, manager of the print shop, went to Dallas Monday and ordered some new type. A complete series of medium and bold Cheltenham and bold italic will be received this week and will be ready for use in The Skiff next week.

On account of the small amount of type in the shop at present it is oftentimes necessary for the editor to rewrite a head for a story three or four times because enough of one kind of type cannot be found to set the head. The arrival of the new type will lessen the work of both the printers and editors in this respect.

WANT TO TAKE UP GRADUATE WORK

Requests have been received by members of the faculty from a number of persons in the city who have A. B. degrees that special courses be established or additional classes started to enable them to take up work preparing them to take their master's degree from T. C. U. Most of the requests have come from teachers in the public schools.

Three members of the faculty at Central High School have expressed a desire to do post graduate work in the department of political science and have told Prof. Cockrell that if he could arrange to offer the necessary work, they would see that a considerable number enrolled for the work.

Wirt Blume of the city has entered the college department for the spring term. Mr. Blume finished in law at Cumberland University in 1914 and has been practicing law two years in Fort Worth and Dallas.

MUSIC IS SUBJECT FOR C. E. SOCIETY

The University Christian Endeavor Society had a unique meeting Sunday afternoon. The subject chosen was music, leader, Dorothy Agee. The meeting opened with the pianist playing certain songs, the words of which were to be sung by the society without books. After this came a general discussion pro and con, of music, and the varied influences it has upon our natures.

Some of the Endeavorers confessed their liking for the lighter forms of music, and all seemed agreed that music in itself was all good. The meeting was unique in that instead of closing the meeting after a long pause, as is the usual case, it was not possible for all to make talks who wanted to, on account of lack of time.

We congratulate the Endeavorers on their ability to keep things lively as well as consecrated. There is no reason on earth why the two should not go hand in hand. Among those making talks were M. M. Knight, Riley Aiken, John Luck, Margaret Forsythe, Franc Watkins, Claud Wingo, Martin Green, Ben Hearn, Claude Grady.

Delegates Elected.
At this meeting it was decided to send two delegates to the Christian Endeavor Convention to be held in Weatherford on April 7, 8 and 9. Ben Hearn and Margaret Forsythe were selected to represent the society.

Plans were also discussed with reference to attending the lecture of Carl Lehman, Field Secretary of United States of Christian Endeavor to be held in the First Christian Church the coming week.

Miss Franc Watkins led the singing at F. W. Strong's church at Aledo last Sunday. A Christian Endeavor Society was organized by the young people of the church in the afternoon. Miss Watkins also sang at the church service at Pilot Point later Sunday.

GAINESVILLE TREATS
GLEE CLUB ROYALLY

The last week-end, the charming little city of Gainesville was practically converted into a Texas Christian University community. Monday afternoon from 4 to 6 Miss Una Stark was hostess to the Glee Clubbers while the Glee Club was in the city.

The following were guests in the Stark home: Mr. and Mrs. Cahoon, Pansy Bozeman, Lewis Caspersen, John Keith and Aubrey Cooper. Lola McFarland was the week-end guest of Misses Mamie and Dorothy Rose.

The recital Monday night at the opera house was a tremendous success. The Club gave one of the most successful of its entertainments given this season.

Appear at Lancaster.
Thursday night the Glee Clubbers went to Lancaster by way of the Interurban and gave a concert there, returning home the same night.

The entire Glee Club will leave the first of next week on the longest round of the itinerary, going as far as Amarillo and taking in a number of towns along the way.

Nannie Lou Andrews and Margaret Bell, students of Mrs. Cahoon, sang for the Euterpean Club at their meeting Monday afternoon. Ruby Walker, student of oratory under Miss Powell, also gave a reading at the meeting.
