TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY, FORT WORTH, FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1916

NUMBER 44

MEDICAL COLLEGE OFFERS SPECIAL SIX YEARS COURSE

STUDENTS GIVEN PRACTICAL BEDSIDE TRAINING IN FOUR DIFFERENT HOSPITALS.

Texas Christian University offers to the student desiring to take medicine, opportunities unsurpassed in the Southwest. A special course is provided for T. C. U. medical students, whereby both degrees of A. B. and M. D. may be secured in six years. A total of one hundred and six credits is required from the College of Arts and Sciences, which includes also the pre-medical requirements. Thus in T. C. U. a student may not only follow the study of medicine, but at the time receive a broad cultural education along general literary lines.

The medical department building is conceded to be one of the best medical buildings of its size in the United States. It is constructed of steel, stone and gray brick, with laboratory and lecture room space over 25,000 square feet. It is made up of four

INCREASE OF STUDENTS IN BRITE BIBLE COLLEGE

For many years T. C. U. maintained a Bible College with a very strong faculty, often with an average of scholarship in advance of the faculty of the College of Arts, but it then had no separate buildings. More recently a special building for the lodging and boarding of its students has been erected. Goode Hall is a monument to the labor and the life of Prof. G. A. Lewellen, whose untimely death was the result of toils and exposures in raising the money for its construction.

During a period of twenty years the T. C. U. Bible College graduated scores of preachers and the other valuable workers for humanity. Many of these are useful friends of the University today. It was in this period the Bible College began to offer the highest degree that the University confers.

But such a College could not do its best work without an administrative and classroom building of its own. Endowment also became imperative. Mr. L. C. Brite, for whom the school is now named, gave the money for the erection of Bible Hall and $25,000 as a beginning of a permanent fund. These gifts brought to the college a new home and a new name. They

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT TO HAVE REPOSITORY.

The large room used by the Domestic Science School this last term will be converted into a museum for the Biology Department. Professor Winton, head of Biology, is planning to make this one of the most interesting rooms of science in the State. All unusual forms of nature, peculiar rock formations, etc., will be placed on display in this room. It will be modeled somewhat after the science museums of Texas A. & M. College.

The biology students who remained here this summer are doing some very interesting work, forming the nucleus of the museum display. Hugh Brewster, Dorothy Agee, and Willis Stovall have been working regularly with Professor Winton this summer. They are at present preparing and putting together skeletons of dogs, cats and alligators. Unusual pathological specimens of animals are being prepared, and rare specimens of reptiles have been secured. Altogether about 400 valuable slides of protozoa have been made, including Paramecium, Ugreina, etc.

The new equipment for the biological laboratories are being installed, and numerous improvements will be made during August.

RENOVATIONS WILL CONTINUE THRU MONTH OF AUGUST.

Improvements and renovations will continue in the three dormitories during the month of August. In Jarvis Hall, the Woman's building, the walls of the rooms are being rekalsomined and new shades are being hung. New steps are to be built in front of Goode Hall, and those of Clark Hall repainted. Also, the walls of the lower hall of Clark Hall to be kalsomined, and at present several men are at work repairing the furniture and chairs. The floor of the main dining room will be painted before the fall term opens.

The campus was never prettier. The trees set out last spring, about three hundred in all, are doing splendid, and the flowers along the walks are in full bloom. The newly built arbor between Jarvis Hall and the Administration Building is almost completely covered with vines. The Bermuda sod, spread in late winter, is slowly pushing its way through the Johnson grass, and it will not be long before the campus in front of the buildings will be one big Bermuda grass lawn.

Lillian Jackson visited the University last week. She is making arrangements to enter State University next year.

1915-1916 GREAT YEAR FOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

GIVES SPLENDID CONCERTS—PRESENTS T. C. U. LIBRARY WITH ENCYCLOPEDIA.

Texas Christian University is well known for its musical organizations and first among them is the Girls' Glee Club.

An organization to be successful must have a good leader, and to Mr. Hamilton, director, the success of the past year is due. Mr. Hamilton has put forth every effort, and has given much time to individual training of the voices which made up the club. The Glee Club met twice a week for practice, and each member looked forward to the meetings, for they were not only hours of instruction, but also hours of pleasure. Excellent training in sight-singing and voice culture was afforded the members of the club.

The special concert given in T. C. U. included several big numbers, and was considered the best ever given in the University by a girls' chorus. The

HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPT. VISITS THE UNIVERSITY

Professor Thomas V. Smith, newly-elected head of English Department in T. C. U., spent Friday visiting the University and with Professor Cantrell, instructor of Freshman English.

Prof. Smith, after having been awarded two degrees from a Junior College and having served as instructor therein, entered the University of Texas two years ago and completed his Master's Course. Besides doing assistant work in English at the University while pursuing his course, he was selected as instructor of English there for the summer term. Also, recently he was elected Professor of English in the Marlin High School, one of the best high schools in the State, but resigned in order to accept the position in T. C. U. In addition to his school work he has been for some time Assistant Editor and Book Reviewer for one of the largest religious periodicals in Texas. He comes highly recommended for his position. The Head of English in the University of Texas represented him as being the most thoroughly equipped man in his chosen line of anyone in that institution.

Professor Smith will not only be a valuable addition to the faculty of T. C. U., but on account of his genial

ATHLETIC MATERIAL THIS YEAR BEST IN T. C. U. SINCE 1912

Stars of Vernon High Eleven Will Probably Be Here. Noted Athletes of Panhandle Region Secured by Cahoon

"Athletic stock in Texas Christian University is on a boom and has gone up to about three hundred per cent above par in the last few weeks. The big training camp, which opens September 1st, will begin with about forty huskies on hand. Coach Cahoon returned from a journey up the Denver line last Saturday with a long list of experienced athletes who will be with us this year. Among those secured in Amarilla by Cahoon is "Pug" Calvert, the best baseball catcher in that part of the country, and also a splendid halfback. T. C. U. is especially fortunate in getting this man

The "prize bunch" is coming from Vernon, Texas. Cahoon reports that seven men of Vernon High School who, for the last few years, have "busted the line" against the best high school football material in the State, have practically picked T. C. U. as their University this year. Among these athletes are found such men as: William Berry, manager of Vernon football team,—a strong, smashing, half-back, with a cool head and plenty of nerve and fight; Innes McCrary, a light,—but exceptionally fast end, and a good broken field runner; John Capps, a big, heavy, hardworking guard, who more than plugs up the hole just left of center; R. Wright, tackle, who is "there" in both weight and aggressiveness; Jack Childress, end, is fast as lightning, a sure tackler, and good on receiving forward passes. With such men as these coming, Coach Daniel and Coach Cahoon will promise old Baylor a "bloody battle" next Thanksgiving.

Importance of Education Courses in T. C. U.

W. H. Batson.

The standard for teachers is being raised rapidly all over the United States. Perhaps a majority of the requests for teachers received this year stated specifically that no one without an A. B. degree would be considered. A large number of them demand at least one year's experience.

The requirements for the certification of teachers has been one of the chief ways of raising the standards. In some states actual experience in teaching is the basis of granting certificates.

In Ohio the law governing the certification of teachers states specifically that every applicant for a county school certificate must be given a practical test conducted by a member of the board of examiners, a local supervisor or a teacher of methods. Some of the subjects upon which the scoring is based are as follows: Ability to command sustained attention, correctness of speech on the part of the teacher, ability to provoke thought, skill in assignment of lessons, complete occupation of time, skill in questioning, skill in use of apparatus, ability to illustrate facts, relating to the lesson to life, etc.

No doubt the standard in Texas will be raised from time to time in the future. At present a year's college work or what is equivalent to that amount including one course or one-fifth of this work in the department of education is required for a first grade certificate unless the applicant takes the state examination. For a permanent state certificate an A. B. degree from a first class college including four courses in education is required.

The Department of Education in T. C. U. has attempted to make this work just as practical as theoretical work can be. Every effort is made to touch real school situations. While it is not true that every one that takes work in education intends to teach nevertheless most everyone comes in contact with the work of the schools in one way or another and the knowledge gained along this line does not have to depend upon the disciplinary conception for its value.

Besides the class teaching an attempt has been made during the past year to bring students of education into more intimate conception with the school situations by having them visit the schools in the city of Fort Worth. The city superintendent has very kindly given university students in Education permission to make these visits and as Fort Worth has one of the best systems of education of any city in Texas, the students have an opportunity to get first hand knowledge of a high class system of education in actual operation. Outlines are given out to aid in this observation work and afterwards class discussions bring out many points of interest and importance.

In order to meet the demand for experienced teachers, it will be necessary some time in the near future to have a training school where the prospective teachers can get actual practice under the direction of an experienced director. With the present situation at T. C. U. this work would not be difficult of realization. The Academy could be used for this purpose with little modification and the inspiration that would come from careful direction would work an improvement in every way.

As soon as it is possible to give actual practice training every competent student that intends to enter the teaching profession will be able to find a good position as soon as he is ready for it.

Few young people realize the opportunity that is open to them in public school work. The time when vagabonds and indentured servants and teachers of the Ichabod Crane time had a monopoly on education has passed long ago. Today the public educational system of the United States is demanding the best talent that the country produces. The complicated systems and the vast amount of money involved makes it necessary for the leaders in educational work to be trained to the highest degree. There is over a billion dollars invested in school property in the United States at the present time. Nearly another billion is spent annually on public education. From twenty-five to forty per cent of the public expenditures in cities and about forty per cent of the state and local expenditures go to education.

The men and women who are the leaders in education are not merely teachers. Many of them are endowed with the highest organizing and business ability. For this ability they are being well paid. The city superintendent in nearly every city is the highest paid public official. The women as well as the men are taking a very active part in the administrative work of the schools. Many of them are city and county superintendents, college presidents, high school principals and ward supervisors.

The salaries for the teachers in the United States has increased very rapidly during the last decade. The report of the N. E. A. shows that the average salary of men teachers in the high schools is over $1300 and for women more than $900. The rural schools still pay very low salaries but special emphasis is now being placed upon that work and the conditions will be improved in the near future. As the salaries go up the demand for better teachers will become more insistent. The young men and women who think they will teach because they are not sure they can do anything else had better change their mind before they start because they are going to be greatly disappointed. But those who are willing to put forth the same effort in educational work that they would in medicine or any other profession and who have the ability to manage and direct may with a reasonable degree of assurance look forward to a successful career.

The Skiff heard from two T. C. U. boys Tuesday. Guy Rozar writes from Parsons, Kansas,—"I received a copy of the Skiff the other day, and it sure did make me homesick.

If it is at all possible, I am going to be with you in September." Claud Wingo, who is spending his vacation in Uvalde, writes;—"I am still alive, and am doing all I can for T. C. U. I am just bubbling over with the T. C. U. PeP! I have taught some few to play, "When That Old T. C. U. Team Falls in Line," and it sure sounds good to hear that old song this far off.

O, MAN ALIVE!

R. Aiken

"Oh, man alive, I've got to work," Said procrastinating Bob, "It's either that, or duty shirk And then I lose my job, But since I'm down about the town I think I'll wait and hang around.

"Oh man alive, I ought to work But it's only half past one, And I've understood the show is good And has just now begun. Now let me see about three-ten, My daily work I will begin."

"Oh man alive, this world, one more, And then the fireworks come, But Ish ga worry, I'm in no hurry, I'll wait 'till then, then some, If I should die and go below I hope my job is shoveling snow."

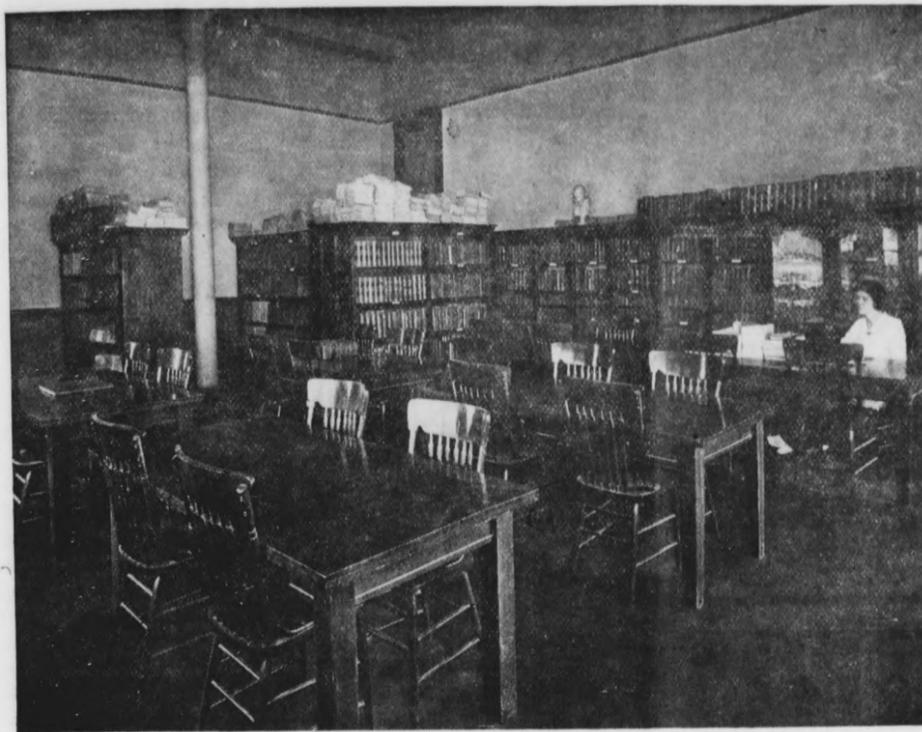

And having said his nightly prayers, As do all honest men, Our "working man" felt poorly and Turned in at half-past ten.

Locals and Personals

Grace Jones will leave Monday for her home in Kilgore.

Billie Wells has returned from a visit to Florence Young.

Anna Lee Harris and mother are visiting friends in Lampasas.

Mrs. Terry King spent Monday and Tuesday in Forney on business.

Minnie Proctor is the guest of Mary Louise Foster of Ft. Worth for a few days.

Harvey Latson has moved into Clark Hall for the remainder of the summer.

Ruby Douglas spent Wednesday night with Mary and Martha Ingalls of the city.

Gladys Richards will arrive Saturday to be the week-end guest of Ruby Douglas.

Mr. Harris, a cattleman and lumberman of Snyder, reserved a room for his son last week.

Have you reserved your room? It is only a few weeks before the regular term opens.

Vivienne Couch, student of T. C. U. year before last, will attend school in Ely Court, Connecticut.

T. W. Wade,—“Really, now, what would you do if you were a man?”
Miss Molly,—“What would you?”

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilson and Misses Anna McLendon and Beula Bell spent several days last week in Weatherford.

J. T. Cantrell, of Kansas City, general fuel purchasing agent for the Santa Fe railway system, spent Wednesday with his brother, R. J. Cantrell and his parents.

Miss Myrtle Goforth has as a visitor Miss Josephine Staben, of Laredo, Texas. Miss Staben may be in T. C. U. this September.

Thomas Robinson, of Hillsboro, visited Lorraine Dutton last Friday. Robinson is thinking of entering T. C. U. in the fall.

Otto Deats made a flying visit to T. C. U. last Friday; and made room reservations for himself and two other young men from Albany.

Mrs. Houston Reynolds, who has been the guest of her parents, Judge and Mrs. McKinsey, for several weeks, left Sunday for her home in Aledo.

Elva Baxter is visiting friends in T. C. U. this week. She made the trip with her aunt and uncle in their car. She will also spend a few days in Dallas before returning home.

Carl Tittle spent a few days at the University. Carl and M. M. Knight, Riley Aikin, and Joe Sisk went to church Monday night, and heard Brother Ham lecture on “Temperance.”

Alden Evans took advantage of the absence of his “boss” from the city, and made a two-day business trip to Temple. Evans is private secretary to Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, editor of The Record.

Mr. Lindley, of Archer City, looked over the grounds and buildings one day last week. He has a daughter who will attend college this year. Dr. Lindley seems very favorably impressed with T. C. U., and we hope to have Miss Lindley with us.

Homer Tomlinson made a business trip to Ft. Worth last Tuesday, and spent the night with Lorraine Dutton, his room-mate of last year. “Solon” reports that everything is nice and lovely in Dallas. (Yes, Homer says that Horace Jones still rushes the girls, but manages at the same time to get in some good work on the Dallas Church World).

A dance and reception, at which Mary Pickford, celebrated moving picture actress, was guest of honor, was attended by Frank Hightower and Miss Alma Hudson, T. C. U. students. These two students are spending their vacation in Chicago.

Miss Ruby Walker returned Wednesday evening from Lingleville, where she has been spending her vacation “a la Country Style.” She has gained in weight, and no wonder! Fried chicken has become to her as beans are to us.

Loy Ledbetter spent a pleasant outing last Friday and Saturday at Benbrook with nine girls. The trip was made in a car. Led says he enjoyed the swimming very much,—and also the company of the fair sex. We hear that they intended to return home Saturday evening, but were detained on account of some important engagements with Jupiter Pluvius.

AS THO THE SUN SHONE.

But a boy was he
And lived on the plains
And rode the dim trains
Thru the heat and the rains;
Alone, and for miles,
Alone without fear,
‘Til the hissing and threats
Of storms he would hear.

In the west when heads
Of thunder banked wide,
His father, he begged,
To accompany the ride;
But “My boy” he would say,
“The storm would be gone
If alone you would face it
As tho the sun shone.”

Now a man is he
And lives on the plain;
Hissing and threats
Does he calmly disdain,
He rides into sorrow
With never a moan
And alone does he face it
As tho the sun shone.

—Riley Aiken.

Athletic Material This Year
Best in T. C. U. Since 1912

Our motto this fall will not only be “Beat Baylor,” but also, “Beat Everything In The State.” And why not? The athletes named above are only a few of the warriors who will report to Daniel at the training camp. And Daniel, or “Big Dan,” as his men call him, is THE man to bring out all there is in a fellow. He is not only a shrewd, experienced football strategist, but is also a man with a personality that makes his team fight, and to the last minute.

Ralph (“Gish”) Martin, all-state tackle last year, and this year’s captain, has been receiving letters regularly from prospective T. C. U. athletes, many of whom are men with state-wide reputations. A number of them have already decided upon T. C. U., and others are seriously thinking of it. “Gish” can hardly wait for the season to open, for, from present indications T. C. U. is to have one of her greatest years in football.

Other noted athletes of the state who are planning to be in the University are: Bert Hunter, baseball pitcher of Lawton, Texas; Pete Kerns, athlete of Vernon; Paul Messer of Memphis, Harold Brashear of Plainview, and John Dillar of Albany, and a list of others who may prove stars in some branch of athletics. The University hopes that Charlie Penson, all-round athlete of Forney, Texas, will decide to come.

NEW COURTS FOR TENNIS NOW OVER HALF COMPLETED.

For the last several weeks a corps of men have been steadily working on the two new tennis courts, until now they are over half completed. The ground just south of the old courts was first leveled with plows and scrapers, and then a thick covering of fine brown clay spread evenly over it. This clay sod will be rolled with a steam roller, and then gradually worked down to a hard, level surface.

A court is also to be built in front of Jarvis Hall for the girls. Work will probably begin on this court next week.

CAHOON AND QUARTETT TAKE TRIP UP DENVER.

Mr. Cahoon and the quartett left Monday for an automobile trip up the Denver. Among the towns visited will be Bowie, Wichita Falls, Bellvue, and Vashti. Immediately following their return, they will make a three days tour of central Texas, taking in Cleburne, Hillsboro, Milford, Waxahachie, Waco, Temple, Belton and other towns and cities. These trips are being made to advertise T. C. U. Mr. Cahoon will strive to show prospective students the attractive features of the different departments of the university, while the quartett will portray to them real “college life”.

Miss Alice Long, graduate of the Art Department, ‘16, writes from Gainesville that she is certainly enjoying her vacation. Eating fried chicken and doing other fine things common to the vacation life. She also tells us that they are planning to build a bungalow near Mr. Cahoon’s residence before the summer is over.

floors. Large sums of money have been spent in the last four years on the laboratories, apparatus, dispensary, library, hospital, X ray equipment, museums, record systems, etc. Each year the faculty has been increased, until at present several of the best doctors and surgeons of Texas are paid instructors in this department.

The organization of the school was a desire on the part of the body of strong, earnest, progressive physicians and surgeons to elevate the standard of the State medical profession. Like all departments of T. C. U., the School of Medicine stands for progress and efficiency. It was one of the first colleges to become a member of the Southern Medical College Association. The advantages for student clinical work, or bedside training, are the best in the State, because Fort Worth has the largest hospital facilities of any city in Texas. St Joseph's Infirmary, one of the best equipped hospitals in the State, furnishes fifty beds which are absolutely at the disposal of the medical department for teaching purposes in medicine and surgery. Weekly clinics are also held in the All Saints

FORD'S CAFE

One Block North of Campus

Hospital and the Harris Sanitarium. The City and County Hospital, completed in 1914, is in the same block with the Medical College. The clinical teachers of this hospital are all on the medical faculty and the cases attended to here are accessible to the students and constitute a part of the assigned surgical work.

A handsome gold medal is awarded to the student who, having taken all their courses in the medical department, makes the highest general average during the four years necessary to graduation. It is not awarded except to students whose general average on final examination is 90 per cent or more. The degree "Cum Laude" is conferred upon graduates of marked ability and high moral character, who shall have made an average of 90 per cent or more on final examination in all subjects of the four year course.

Through the influence of the faculty and the courtesy of T. C. U. friends, the medical department is able to offer positions to the seniors in the different hospitals. The men who hold these internships have regular hours on duty, and thus gain practical experience in hospital work.

The courses outlined in detail, expenses, and all other particulars may be obtained from the Texas Christian University Medical catalogue. Address all correspondence to Dr. S. A. Woodward, Dean Medical Department. Hugh Brewster.

Miss Nona Boegeman is here visiting friends.

have opened the way for enlargement and new possibilities. Ample buildings are a great start for any institution of learning. It will need more gifts, and more teachers, more students, perhaps more spirit and more scholarship; but its path of opportunity is open and potentialities are unbounded.

Efforts are now being made to increase the endowment and to enlarge the new library. The courses of study have been readjusted to meet wider needs. A missionary course has been prepared to train persons for Christian work in pioneer fields in America or abroad. A course has also been planned for women or any class of pastoral helpers, for Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. workers and for persons who may wish a more thorough knowledge of the sacred Scriptures in English for their own benefit and joy.

Some special efforts are being made: (1) To urge many of the best students to take the B. D. degree; (2) To enlist a larger number of noble young men in its training for the ministry; (3) To build up a large class of women in training for various kinds of Christian work; (4) To furnish such studies for students of the College of Arts as will prepare them for honorable service in religious fields after graduation. These are great tasks and greatly deserve the aid of all Christian people.

The work is moving most hopefully. New students are arriving at Goode Hall a month before the opening of the term in September. Many letters of inquiry are coming to hand. Former students are working diligently to increase the attendance of last year. Dean Colby D. Hall is studying in New York during the summer that his work next year may be enlarged. All forces are uniting to make the coming session the greatest of all. Such a sowing will yield a rich harvest.

young ladies are planning concert tours through North Texas for next year. Although last season they did not go out of the city, several important engagements were filled in the churches and for musical organizations of Fort Worth. A special program of songs was given by the Glee Club during Commencement week.

This organization contributed to the T. C. U. library a splendid encyclopaedia, called the "University Musical Encyclopaedia." The funds which paid for this volume were raised by ice cream "sales," and by concerts.

The members are: first soprano, Ruth McFaddin, Vestal Tompkins, Una Stark, Hattilu West, Margaret Bell, Johnnie Rylie, Mary Hefner, Marion Baugh; second soprano, Inez Hudgins, Ruth Trueblood, Marguerite Riter, Bernice Holmes, Venice Luse, Grace Bailey; contraltos, Alice Long, Carrie McKinley, Gertrude Davies, Frank Watkins, Leona Anderson.

Every new girl should try out for the club this coming year. And even though you do not study voice, as a member of this organization you will receive general voice training free, and you may discover that you possess far more undeveloped musical talent than you thought. So, join the Girls' Glee Club, and be in one of the liveliest and most interesting organizations in Texas Christian University.

VASHTI; MEETING CONTINUES.

Shirley returned last Monday evening from Vashti, where he has been leading the revival singing for Dr. E. C. Wilson. Shirley took part in the revival for nine days, and it was continued by Dr. Wilson two days longer. The meeting was successful, reports showing several converts.

Vashti is a little town northwest of Fort Worth with about one hundred and twenty-five inhabitants. The people of the neighboring farms attended Dr. Wilson's sermons by making use of their farm wagons and their Fords. Shirley Sweeney reports that Fords are almost as common out there as automobiles are in Fort Worth. The weather was favorable to the revival most of the time, there being only one big rain.

Miss Anna McLendon returned to her home in Dallas Monday, after a few days visit with Beulah Bell. (Editor's note: We are looking forward eagerly and hungrily to the coming of that box, Ann).
