TRUE CARNIVAL SPIRIT SHOWN BY IMMENSE CROWD

T. C. U. Art Float Ranked High
Entire Student Body Attend.

Parade Led by T. C. U. Band.

Fort Worth ceased to be a serious, matter-of-fact city Tuesday night and abandoned itself to the weird and mystic revels of the first annual Halloween Mardi Gras.

The festivities were presided over by King Levitas and his beautiful Queen Merribelle, who were crowned amid a thunder of cheers from their loyal subjects as rulers of the joyous night. Never before in the history of its celebrations have such crowds been seen upon the streets of Fort Worth. The number has been variously estimated at from 40,000 to 60,000 persons. More than half were in mask costumes, which were of many varieties and vividly colored.

The whole scene was illuminated by a blaze of light and search lights stationed on the tops of office buildings played their brilliant shafts of light here and there over the shifting throng.

The squawks, shrieks and clatter of 10,000 horns, whistles and bells blended with the hilarious shouts of the multitude to form one wild song of tribute to the carnival spirit.

The scene was fascinating in its glittering splendor, and was comparable to the famous celebrations in Chicago, New Orleans and other great cities.

At 7:30 o'clock the grand parade began. First in line, after the guard of mounted officers was the Texas Christian university band, whose rousing music added life to the whole festival. Immediately following this came the royal barge, upon which sat the king and queen, attended by their knights and ladies. King Levitas was represented by Mr. Willis McGregor, president of our student body, and the part of Queen Merribelle was taken by Miss Ruth Culbreath, a charming student of Texas Woman's college. Then came many more beautiful floats among which was another T. C. U. entry, representing the art department. This float caused much comment because of the beauty of its occupants and the originality of its design.

The coronation took place at Sixth and Houston streets. Here the exalted pair descended from the throne and were proclaimed rulers of the night's jollity by the cardinal, who placed the sparkling crowns upon their heads. Then King Levitas and Queen

JUNIOR ENDEAVOR NOW ORGANIZED

Under the supervision of Mrs. C. I. Alexander, the Junior Endeavor of T. C. U. has been organized, officers elected, and plans for a live society have been made. The officers are Wilburn Page, president; Ray Keith, vice president; Ivan Alexander, secretary-treasurer.

The society will meet Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock in the Brite Bible College chapel.

ODDS FAVOR T. C. U. IN GAME WITH TRINITY

Nearly All Those Injured in Rice Game Are Well.

The game between T. C. U. and Trinity on the local field next Monday, November 6th, is expected to be an interesting battle. "Dope" points to a victory for T. C. U., but Coach Daniel is never a sure gauge, and Coach Daniel has put the squad through a stiff week, perfecting plays and remedying weaknesses. Several hard scrimmages have been included in the regular program of the week. The injured list has dwindled down considerably and Coach Daniel expects to be able to send full strength against the Presbyterians.

Here is the way the "dope" says that a good game will be played Monday. Baylor beat Trinity, 37 to 0, and S. M. U. 54 to 0. This comparison tends to show that Trinity has a much stronger team than S. M. U. Again, Daniel Baker and A. & M. both beat Southwestern by one T. D., the scores being 6 to 0 and 7 to 0, respectively. Here the "dope" puts Daniel Baker and A. & M. in the same class. But Daniel Baker only beat Trinity 14 to 0. Therefore, although Trinity may not be one of the best teams, she is by no means the worst, and a game with Maroon and White cannot be taken lightly.

Coach Daniel has instilled in the team a fighting spirit which forecasts splendid ending to our football season as we have had beginning. As Assistant Coach Cahoon said, "The famous 1912 squad of T. C. U. had nothing on this team." The students believe in their team and are confidently expecting the Purple and White representatives to wake up December 1st an undefeated team.

T. C. U.'s seven-seven battle with the Rice Institute Owls was really a victory for T. C. U., for it leaves the Horned Frogs still in the running for state championship and showed the football fans of Texas that the Fort Worth team is among the best.

ORATORY STUDENTS FORM DRAMATIC SOCIETY

The oratory students held a meeting last Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing the Dramatic Club and elected as their officers the following: Alden Evans (a senior), president; Gladys Richards, vice president; Ireta Robinson, secretary treasurer; Ruby Walker, publicity agent. Other officers to be elected later are business manager and critic.

The purpose of the club is to make a study of the drama and to present plays at different time throughout the year, thus hoping to create a greater interest in dramatics in T. C. U., and give the public in general a greater conception of the work being done in the oratory department of T. C. U.

Plans were discussed for the presentation of a play to be given some time in the near future under the direction of Miss Powell.

Only students in the oratory department can belong to the club. Students taking up work later in the year will be eligible to membership.

PRES. WAITS OUTLINES CAMPAIGN PLANS BEFORE STUDENT BODY

Student-Team Leaders Appointed to Aid in Raising $150,000.
Miss Roberts in Charge

The student body experienced the biggest day of the year in chapel Tuesday morning when President Waits and Miss Roberts, executives of the $150,000 campaign were present and addressed the assembly.

Pep was more than abundant and an atmosphere of hopefulness and of coming success pervaded.

President Waits in his address, told of the kindness of the Fort Worth Record and Star-Telegram in handling the publicity of the campaign. He told of the attitude of business and professional men and of the women who, when approached and asked to aid in the fund raising campaign, consented willingly.

The work of the men and millions teams was reviewed and incidents mentioned where T. C. U. had been named in bequests of fifteen to twenty-five thousand dollars. So successful was the work of these great men in this campaign that T. C. U. will receive $350,000 endowment. Drake University received a like amount and other schools smaller amounts.

President Waits is a prophet and dreamer as well as an executive. Great interest was manifested in his dream concerning the university. The dream was that in ten years the university would have an equipment of one million dollars and an endowment of like amount. Probably within the next few years the magnificent fine arts building will be a reality. Probably a $250,000 hospital will adjoin the Medical college. It is not a probability but a certainty that the next September will see the completion of a $25,000 athletic field, grand stand and club house.

Miss Roberts, who has handled many similar campaigns, has charge of the present one. She outlined the campaign and inspired the student body to action by showing them the responsibility that rested on their shoulders. Following are statements made by Miss Roberts.

The campaign will be formally launched the night of Monday, Oct. 13, at a dinner to be held at the Westbrook hotel.

Cards will be drawn by the workers at the banquet, each securing his prospective donors.

The entire affair may be likened to a battle, for there is the board of strategy, the commander, aide, other officers and also the storm centers. The storm center luncheons will be held each Monday at the Westbrook hotel. All workers will be present and reports of teams will be made.

In the campaign are 150 business and professional men of the city, 50 doctors as an additional unit, 50 women, 50 students of the university. The women represent the business, social and club life of the city and are recognized as a most potent factor in the campaign. The university students will have five teams of ten men and women each. The captains are Willis McGregor, B. S. Smiser, Gayle Scott, Shirley Sweeney and H. S. Vaughn.

Y. W. C. A. BANQUET ON MONDAY EVENING

City Y. W. C. A.'s Will Honor
Miss Wells. All Girls Invited.

Miss Edith M. Wells, foreign missionary to Tientsin, China, will speak at Vesper service Sunday, Nov. 5th. All girls are urged to be present.

The Y. W. C. A.'s of the city will give a banquet on Monday evening, November 6th, at the city association rooms. A toast will be given by a member of the T. C. U. association on, "what Y. W. C. A. means to college girls," by a member of the city association on "what Y. W. C. A. means to the city girl," and by a member of T. W. C. association on, "what Miss Wells means to us all."

Other special numbers will be rendered between courses. During the meat course yells, songs, etc. will be given by the different associations. The remainder of the evening will be given over to Miss Wells. Through the courtesy of the merchants of the city, the plates will only be twenty-five cents each.

All girls are welcome.

PROF. HALL GIVES INTERESTING TALK

T. C. U.-Rice Game and Convention Mixed in Prof. Hall's Dream.

Professor Colby D. Hall gave a most interesting account of the Des Moines convention at chapel Saturday morning. Thoughts of the T. C. U.-Rice fray were prominent when he was outlining his chapel talk Friday night. Even after retiring, his conscience and subconscious minds engaged in mortal combat with the following result. The convention platform was occupied by (eleven?) men who were on the program. Among the notables were Mr. A. McLean, Mr. Guy Inman and President Paul. Suddenly the line executed a familiar maneuver and "Keggy" Calvert bucked the line for ten yards. Again the obstinate dignitaries resumed their places, only with the result that a brilliant run of thirty yards around end by Joe Edens was executed. Professor Hall said the interference was good.

Mr. Inman was seated on the rear of the platform and was being introduced to the 8,000 people in the audience. He arose to come forward, but instead of this rapidly skirted the side line and got away with one of Quarterback Joe's sixty yard passes. Of course the thousands leaped to their feet, blooming and blossoming with purple and white pennants, colors, and streamers, a most uncalled for act on the part of the delegates.

We, the scribes, can only add that Stangl kicked goal, there were snake dances and bonfires and speeches, and in the "wee sma' hours" most every one retired only to suffer the torment of a sleepless night (or morning) because of having eaten too much Thanksgiving dinner.

Professor Hall told of Quarterback Inlay twenty years ago. The quality

SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN MEANS ATHLETIC STADIUM

Athletic Facilities Second to None in State to be provided
City Booster's Club Organized.

Twenty-five thousand dollars of the $150,000 raised in the present great campaign will be used to build T. C. U. an athletic stadium and field equal to any in the Southwest. When this announcement was made in chapel last Tuesday morning by President Waits, cheering by the students and faculty lasted about three minutes.

The exact location of the field has not been definitely decided upon. Suitable grounds in close proximity to the campus will be purchased. The field will include a gridiron, baseball diamonds, basketball and tennis courts and every facility for track work. The stadium will be a combination grandstand and club house. The club house will be comprised of club rooms fitted up with showers and lockers. The grandstand will have a seating capacity also that will accommodate not only the entire student body, but the sport loving citizens of Fort Worth.

BOOSTERS' CLUB IN CITY.

As soon as the news reached the city that the University authorities were planning to build an athletic field, prominent business men called a meeting at the Metropolitan Hotel and formed a "Boosters' Club." This club intends to back T. C. U. in all her contests, and to do their part in keeping the Purple and White in the front ranks of athletics. With such hearty co-operation from the city, T. C. U. will be able, after her stadium is completed, to bring big teams to Fort Worth and furnish the students and the Fort Worth citizens with the best there is in Texas sports.

Ben E. Keith, president of the Chamber of Commerce, believes the construction of the great athletic grounds at T. C. U. is a progressive move and is already a member of the Boosters' Club.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB GIVES MADAME HOMER BASKET OF FLOWERS

Mrs. Cahoon and the Girls' Glee Club presented Madame Homer with a beautiful basket of white chrysanthemums at the opera Saturday night. These were the only flowers presented to any artist at either opera. Mrs. Homer was delighted and carried the flowers on her arm to her taxi and expressed her intention of taking them to her state room.

The flowers from the girls were a tribute to Mrs. Homer's wonderful artistry and also because of Mrs. Cahoon's friendship and close association with Mrs. Homer during last summer.

Rollin Garrett, former T. C. U. student, now living in Georgia, was in Fort Worth on business the early part of this week and made his headquarters on the campus. Rollin is planning to enter Transylvania next year.

STUDENT LEADERS IN THE BIG CAMPAIGN SELECT THEIR TEAMS

Students Seem Ready to do
Their Share for a Bigger and Better University.

The students received the detailed announcement of the mammoth campaign for $150,000 in chapel last Tuesday with a burst of prolonged cheering and seem ready to do their part as a student body for a bigger and better university.

The team captains who were appointed from the students have already selected their ten helpers, and are making plans to do even more than Miss Roberts and Dr. Waits expect of them.

The campaign will last ten days, beginning Monday 13th. Daily luncheons will be held at the Westbrook each day of the campaign at which the members of the teams will be expected to attend regularly and make daily reports.

Mrs. Ida Jarvis, for many years a faithful friend of the university, has been appointed field marshal of the women's division. Mrs. Jarvis is the founder of the domestic science department of T. C. U. She is only one of the many influential citizens who is co-operating in the big campaign.

The university teams are as follows:

T. C. U. student teams—
No. 1—B. S. Smiser, captain; Misses Ona Stark, Margaret Kennedy, Ora Leveridge, Monette Whaley and Helen Simonds; Messrs. Homer Tomlinson, Lorraine Dutton, George Dickinson, and Charles Butts.

No. 2—Gayle Scott, captain; Misses Abigail Willingham, Vestal Tompkins, Ava Lee Mars, Ava Maud Webster, Grace Bailey; Messrs. Clyde Arnsperger, Charles Christenberry, T. P. Sweeney and W. E. Stallings.

No. 3—Shirley Sweeney, captain; Misses Annie McLendon, Bernice Holmes, Nancy Crutchfield, Ruth McFadin, Annie Joe Pendleton; Messrs. W. L. Thornton, John Sturgeon, Harry Bradford and Ed Stangl.

No. 4—Willis McGregor, captain; Misses Cleo Self, Bennie Ruth Clements, Mary Louise Foster, Genevieve Goff, Ruby Parks; Messrs. William Jones, Alden Evans, M. L. Munday and W. B. Higgins.

No. 5—Howard Vaughn, captain; Misses Annie Mae Tanner, Gladys Richards, Lola Edwards, Ruby Douglas, Carrie Cassell; Messrs. Jesse Martin, Roy Wright, John Nelson and James Calvert.

The addition of C. A. Wheeler, president of the Acme laundry, to the advance pledge committee, was reported by Miss Donna Roberts, campaign director, as a victory for the executive council.

GISH MARTIN APPEARS ON CAMPUS AGAIN

"Gish" Martin, thanks to a strong "football" constitution, has recovered sufficiently from his operation to continue his college work again. As he walked into the chapel Friday morning, the entire student body cheered. Martin is looking fine, and hopes to drop back into regular college life before many days.

HONOR STUDENTS FOR YEAR 1915-16

The records of the registrar for the past year show that there was only one student in the College of Arts and Sciences who made a grade of "A" for all work during last year. This student was Miss Ella Morrow Moseley. Miss Moseley was a senior last year and is now teaching English in the Fort Worth High school. The work of Miss Moseley while a student in Texas Christian University has been equaled by few and perhaps not surpassed by any one.

The following list shows the students who made no grade below "B" for the year: Horace Jones, Venice Luse, James McBride, Daniel K. Tudor, Lemmie Armor, Mary Louise Foster, Margaret Kennedy, Ruth McFadin, May Owen, Floy Agnew, Geo. Dickinson, Letha Easterwood, Louise Gardner, Lillian Jackson, Irene Kitchen, Elizabeth Nelson, Virgie Rouer, Bernice Holmes, J. E. Humphrise, Abigail Willingham, Robert J. Cantrell.

JUNIOR COLLEGES SEEK TO CHANGE CERTIFICATE LAW

Junior colleges of Texas have launched a campaign for the enactment of a law to provide their graduates with first grade teachers' certificates. It is claimed the four year colleges of Texas have certificate privileges for those who finish the freshman year course, while the junior colleges are denied the privilege, although their graduates have covered the same ground as the freshman in the four-year college.

Junior college presidents and representatives, who met recently at the Westbrook hotel, outlined plans for the campaign. Twice within recent years a similar bill has passed the Texas senate, but has failed in the house of representatives. The principle was indorsed at the 1915 meeting of the State Teachers' Association and has been approved by the state department of education.

The recognized need for more professionally trained teachers in the

THE CAMPAIGN.

The campaign is bound to succeed. The business men and the professional men of Fort Worth have caught the vision. They see that a bigger and better T. C. U. means much for Fort Worth, and they are rapidly falling in line.

During the ten days' campaign members of the teams will approach every business man of the city, and every one of them will be expected to aid T. C. U. according to his means.

The student captains and their teams can do much to make the campaign go. Let's go into the ten days work as if we were playing Baylor football, and show President Waits and Fort Worth that we believe in T. C. U.

We are not asking for charity. Statistics show clearly that the thousands given to T. C. U. by Fort Worth make only a mite when compared to the sums spent yearly by the students in the business houses of the city.

And let all prospective donors know this—that the success of this campaign means the wiping out T. C. U.'s present indebtedness; that as soon as this indebtedness is wiped out, there are men and women in Texas that who have promised to give huge sums to make up a million dollar endowment fund. Not only that, but there are those who have promised to erect additional buildings. They will not do this, however, until Fort Worth shows her interest in T. C. U. by wiping the University's slate clean. Will she do it? Let's go to her with all the pep and enthusiasm, and see what she will do.

YOUR SCHOOL.

If you want to live in the kind of a school like the kind of a school you like.

You needn't slip your clothes in a grip and start on a long, long hike.

For you will only find what you left behind; for there's nothing really new;

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school—for it isn't the school, it's YOU.

Real schools are not made by men afraid lest somebody gets ahead;

When everyone works and nobody shirks you can raise a school from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake, you aid your neighbor too,

Then your school will be what you want to see, for it isn't the school, it's YOU.

state will be helped if the proposed law is passed, friends of the movement believe. States ranking high in public education, including New York, Ohio, Missouri, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska, have extended the certificate privilege not merely to junior colleges, but to their best academies and high schools. Moreover, the reports of the boards of education in these states show that the certificate privilege extended to junior colleges and even high schools stimulates interest in state normal schools.

JUDGE CALVERT FINDS B. L. HIGGINS GUILTY

Law Department Has Among Its Members Able Attorneys.

Texas Christian University is going to the bad. There stalks at liberty among the students of T. C. U. a man found guilty of a grave crime. The truth of the matter is this:

The law department of T. C. U. took advantage of the absence of their professor of "Negotiable Instruments" last week and held a most realistic mock trial. Judge "Keggie" Calvert supervised the trial of Squire B. L. Higgins of Cleburne in a solemn and impressive manner. In a burst of eloquence, in which mild vituperation and violent accusations predominated, Honorable Jesse Martin, the prosecuting attorney, showed beyond a doubt that the said Higgins was guilty of— (well, anyhow, he was guilty). Martin was ably assisted by the great criminal lawyer, Howard S. Vaughn. State witnesses were John C. Nelson, an eye witness to the deed; E. Humphries, and Lee Willie.

The side of the defendant was championed by the experienced practitioners, Honorable Jewell Baldwin and Judge Raley. Judge Raley's defense was especially strong, as he had tried several cases of this nature in Jack county. Witnesses for the defendant were Eugene B. Sewell and Willis McGregor.

Judge Calvert ran court with a heavy hand. He refused to allow Higgins a trial by jury, and threw out McGregor's testimony as unreliable on the grounds that the said witness went with the ladies too often to be truthful. Higgins was found guilty and sentenced by the hefty judge to a night's sleep in his own room and also made to apologize to the law department.

BAYLOR MAN LIKES OUR FOOTBALL TEAM

The following clipping from the Denton Record and Chronicle, and the letter below it, shows how ex-students of Baylor look on T. C. U.'s team:

"I'm predicting that T. C. U. is going to be in at the end for the state championship this year" declared J. Fred Rayzor today after having witnessed the game with Rice yesterday. "I have no business rooting for the Christians but they sure have some team this year. Edens and Nelson were working the forward pass to perfection and until Edens was knocked out T. C. U. had the edge of the game. I heard Rice men say that they did not like to see a good player hurt but that they were glad he was out of the game."

John C. Nelson,
Fort Worth, Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have seen Texas University, A. & M. College, Rice, Baylor and Dallas University play football this year after careful consideration my conclusion is drawn as per clipping from the Denton Record and Chronicle enclosed. I would like to see Baylor lick T. C. U., but unless your team gets overconfident after licking Rice (though the score was a tie) I honestly believe my old college will go down in defeat before the best eleven of football players ever gathered together in Texas.

Accept my congratulations for the entire team for the magnificent game they played against Rice, and there is no doubt in my mind but that you should have won the game, but for penalties at critical times.

There is one more upset to come in the Texas football this season and that is, everyone expects A. & M. to mop up with Texas since they won Saturday's game, but in my mind Texas will beat A. & M. by a nice score this year.

Trusting that your team will do great things this year, I am,

Yours very truly,
J. FRED RAYZOR.

FIVE T. C. U. ITES BECOME BENEDICTS

The spicy autumn air seems to act upon the emotions of T. C. U. students even more than the traditional romantic atmosphere of spring. In the last week, five T. C. U. students have seen fit to take the fatal step.

KEITH-PIRKLE

Evidently the phenomenon of "Rice in the air" led Miss Maude Keith and Mr. Paul Pirkle to the altar last Friday night at 8:30. It was wholly a surprise to both families and friends. It is of interest to a wide circle of friends, as both were students in the university the past year. When Miss Keith graduated in oratory. Mr. Pirkle is in school this year and will continue his studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Pirkle are light house-keeping at the home of Mrs. Mae Blackburn, T. C. U. Heights.

LILLA BELLE LEWELLYN.

ANDERSON-DUKE

Burnie Duke, student of T. C. U. in 1914, was married last Monday evening to Miss Maggie Anderson. Both of these young people live in Forney. Friends of Burnie in the university say this union comes as a complete surprise. Miss Riter, a special friend of the groom, reports that Burnie, when last heard from was apparently in good health and showed no signs of breaking down. The students of T. C. U. wish for this young couple a happy "matrimonial voyage."

O'NEILL-McBRIDE

Last Friday at 6 p. m. Miss Irene O'Neil of 1000 St. Louis avenue and Mr. James H. McBride, 504 West First street, were united in marriage. The wedding took place at the home of Dr. Holt, pastor of the Taylor Street Presbyterian church. Only immediate relatives were present. Following the ceremony the couple left for Dallas, returning Monday. They are temporarily at home at 504 West First street.

Both were popular students in T. C. U. last year. Mr. McBride graduated in the class of 1916 and Miss O'Neil was a freshman. Their many friends in the university wish them happiness and success.

ities derived from his training in T. C. U. have enabled him to buck the line of life. Now he stands high in the ranks of those who serve the Lord. He is recognized as an authority on Latin-American questions, and holds the high position of secretary of the missionary board of North America.

Professor Hall and Professor Alexander were on the same team. Effectively filling the place of guard was Ray Eldred, a giant in stature. Seasoned physically by work on the gridiron and mentally by classes under able instructors, he heard the world call and Africa welcomed him. His physique carried him through the storms of years and through a score of years of toil. At last, attempting to swim a rapidly flowing stream to carry the gospel to a new territory, he gave way, and earth received his body and Heaven his soul.

Stories such as these of two former T. C. U. students and gridiron warriors inspire us greatly. To know that they preceded us is a spur which incites to greater effort, greater zeal and a closer walk with God in varsity years.

The executives were assured that the T. C. U. students would furnish the "required stuff" in the form of yells, cheers and various and sundry indications of enthusiasm in the highest degree.

MISS VESTAL TOMPKINS Who Sang at the Metropolitan.

Miss Vestal Tompkins, assistant voice instructor under Mrs. Cahoon, who has been ill with a cold, on the program of the Daughters of the Revolution, which was held in the Metropolitan Hotel ball room Wednesday evening. Miss Tompkins sang the "Prelude," by Resold, and "Will of the Wisp" by Spross. Although it was a late hour before her time came on the program, the audience was so enthusiastic over her beautiful voice that she was forced to acknowledge their applause.

Miss Tompkins is a graduate of voice under Mrs. Cahoon and has studied in New York with Walter S. Young, one of the foremost teachers of America. This great master was impressed with her voice and predicted a splendid future for her.

JARVIS HALL NOTES

George Hirt visited her many friends in Jarvis Hall last week.

Cora Lee Willis came over on the C. I. A. special for grand opera. While here she visited Mary and Ethel Bigerstaff.

Gladys Huckabee, piano graduate 1915, visited old friends during opera season.

Jarvis Hall tranquility has been broken into the last week by so many outside events. However, grand opera and Halloween come, but once a year and we can well afford to be disturbed for such events.

The "Miserere" sounds especially fine on the orchestra since "Il Trovatore."

Mora Moore, oratory graduate '15 was visiting on the hall this week.

Dorothy Fletcher spent the weekend at her home in Childress.

Lola Edwards spent Saturday night with Skeet Richards.

Ruby Park's father visited her Thursday.

The girls who didn't go to the Halloween festival in town Tuesday night had their fun at home.

A number of rooms were found in a peculiar ransacked condition the next morning and some of the girls went to bed that night with hair brushes, pecan hulls, etc.

Una Stark: (All over the campus): Everybody wanted me and Marney on their teams. They all had our names on their list and they finally just had to draw straws to decide it.

Lela Bates, a last year's student, was the guest of Ruby Jones this week.

Abigail Willingham was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Long, of the city at a 6 o'clock dinner.

One of the matrons is executing her duty to such an extent that she includes even the heads of the departments in calling downs.

Maxie Mae Mason, '12, visited the University rFriday.

Mrs. Kinsey and daughter, Juanita, visited friends here during grand opera.

Margaret Kennedy was guest of Una Stark and Vestal Tompkins Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Florence Harris spent the weekend at the home in McKinney.

TRUE CARNIVAL SPIRIT SHOWN BY IMMENSE CROWD

Merribelle bade their subjects to rejoice and well were they obeyed.

Upon the royal barge were King Levitas (Willis McGregor), Queen Merribelle, (Miss Ruth Culbreath), and Misses Grace Connally, Pauline Longbottom, Jerienne Sansom and Margaretta Graham; Messrs. Louis J. Wortham, T. W. Slack, Scott, Evans, Arnsperger and Martin.

Upon the float from the art department were Misses Varine Varnelle, Anna Mae Tanner, Mary Strange, Lola Edwards, Carrie Cassell and Davida Algood.

In the procession was a troupe of Klu Klux Klansmen. Some of the most attractive floats were as follows: Fort Worth Light & Power company, brilliantly lighted aeroplane mounted on a motor car; City Park Department, miniature park playground with playing children, and Y. W. C. A. gymnasium scene.

T. C. U. took a characteristically leading part in all of the various activities of the evening. Due to the generosity and Halloween spirit of the authorities, all who wished to, were permitted to go, and the greater part of the students availed themselves of this opportunity.

Two notable features of the evening were the complete good humor of the crowd and the lack of rowdiness. It is said that not a single complaint was made to the police. The crowd came for a good time and stayed late. The dancing at Sixth and Main lasted far into the night.

Next year Fort Worth is planning even a greater celebration to which all of the Southwest will be invited.
