"DOWN WITH BAYLOR" MEETING IN CHAPEL MONDAY NIGHT

Men's Glee Club to Sing—Pep Talks
By Dr. Cockrell and Prof. Smith
Special Music by University Band—Lots of Yells—
Big Bonfire

Every loyal student expected to be present.

Full preparations will be made Monday night, at the biggest "Jazz Party" ever seen in the University, for taking care of the Baylor Bear hide, on Thanksgiving Day.

A special program has been arranged for the pep meeting. Between these members, the yell leaders will give the rooters an opportunity to get rid of some of the accumulated pep, by leading them in some of the yells that are to be given on the gridiron when the "Christians" domesticate the heretofore vicious "Bear."

The meeting will be opened at 7:30 by a short musical program by the University Band, after which the yell leaders will begin to warm up the rooters for the treats which are to follow, and for the real expressions of "Down with Baylor" pep.

The second number on the program will be a five minute pep talk by Dr. Cockrell, who will remind us all of a few reasons why we want to swamp the Bears, in addition to the many reasons we may already have.

More yells!

The Men's Glee Club will lend their number to the attractions of the evening, as the third number. T. C. U. has had the reputation of having one of the best glee clubs in the State in years past. This year will be no exception. This will be the first time for the Glee Club to appear this year, because of this fact their appearance will add to the pep of the occasion, and will also furnish the students with some real idea as to how the Club is progressing in its preparation for the coming concert season.

More yells!

The fourth treat of the evening program will be a short talk by Prof. Smith, who will speak on "The idiosyncracies of the plantigrade mammal, more commonly known as the bear, and the psychological effect made upon this animal by a great noise while he is being reduced to a domestic and harmless state from his originally vicious nature."

Bonfire and Snake Dance on Football Field

Immediately following the conclusion of this program, all the rooters will be led from the auditorium of the main building to the football field where a snake dance will be held around the bonfire which will be arranged for at that time.

Every student in the University will be expected to be present at this meeting Monday night. Not only will all the students who are boarding on the hill be expected to be present, but every student from the city is expected to make a special effort to be there.

The program will be worth the time spent in attending the meeting, and also it will give the yell leaders an opportunity to practice all the rooters on the yells which will be used on the bleachers at the Thanksgiving game.

At the beginning of the year, all the old yells were printed in the Skiff, and with this list of yells was a request that every student learn them. It seems that this was not done by a good many of the students, because there are many yet who are not on a speaking acquaintance with the yells. Every student should feel that it is his or her duty to know these yells so well that when the yell leaders call for them, they will yell as one person.

The following yells are some which will be used most at the struggle between the Christians and the Bears on Turkey Day. Every student should learn these yells and be able to yell them on Monday in such a way that it will show the football boys that they are going to do their part in the winning of this game.

Every student make it his motto to "learn all the yells and help to take the hide off the Baylor Bear."

LAWYERS HAVE LIVELY TIME IN PRACTICE COURT

Many Students Attend Trial of Muder Case

A large number of University students were present at the session of the Practice Court last Thursday afternoon.

The famous McQue murder case had been set for trial, and every one felt that it would be quite a treat to see how the young lawyers of the University would act should they be called upon to act as attorney in such a case.

Every one who was present was favorably impressed, and would be willing to trust any litigation which they might have to the care of any of the young attorneys who participated in the trial Thursday afternoon.

All the preliminary matters had been agreed to or had been settled at a previous sitting of the court, and the jury was immediately selected from the number of men who had been summoned.

Prof. M. E. Daniel, who occupied the bench in conjunction with Prof. Rouer, decided all questions as to the admissibility of evidence. The attorneys for the State were Jewell Baldwin and Jesse Martin. The defendant was represented by 'Judge' Raley and John Sturgeon.

All the rules of admissibility of evidence and court procedure were observed, and the trial was as much like the real thing as might be possible for such a trial to be.

Both the prosecution and defense put up a strong fight and the spectators were held bound to their seats in strict attention throughout the trial.

After the evidence was all in, the charge was submitted to the jury by Prof. Rouer, which was immediately followed by the opening argument by the prosecution. The other attorneys followed with their arguments in the regular order until they had all spoken.

Every man did himself credit, and the sides were so evenly divided that the jury was unable to reach a verdict, and returned a report to the court of a hung jury—evenly divided.

There will be other trials had during the year, which will attract much attention. Now that the students know that they will be able to enjoy a real treat in these cases, it is expected that the next big murder case will have to be tried in the auditorium, in order to accommodate the crowd.

This practice court occupies the same place in the T. C. U. Lawyers' training that the laboratory does in the education of a physicist. This method of training has proven quite effective in making the young lawyers acquainted with court procedure. Some of the young men who were in the Law Department last year and who have already gone into the actual practice of law, are ready to say that this practice court as it is carried on here is a great thing for the young Lawyers.

ORATORY STUDENTS TO PRESENT "QUALITY STREET" NOVEMBER 28

"Quality Street," a four act comedy written by J. M. Barrie, the author of "The Little Minister," "A Kiss for Cinderella," and other well known and favorite plays, is to be presented by "Footlights" in the University auditorium Wednesday, November 28, at 8 o'clock.

Charles Frohman presented Miss Maude Adams in this comedy with such success that she continued to be the star in it for a number of seasons.

We know that the public will be glad, again to become acquainted with the quaint characters of "Quality Street," and to see them in the pretty costumes worn by the people at the time of the Napoleonic Wars.

The play is clothed in the choice and pretty phraseology that is characteristic of J. M. Barrie.

HOMER TOMLINSON

MISS MONETT WHALEY

Whaley-Tomlinson Wedding

Probably one of the most unique yet beautiful weddings that has been solemnized in the history of T. C. U. was when Mr. Homer Tomlinson and Miss Monette Whaley, both of Dallas, were married at the home of the bride's aunt at 3913 Rawlins Street, Dallas.

This was thoroughly a T. C. U. wedding. Every participant having gone to T. C. U. The house was artistically decorated in palms, smilax and chrysanthemums, the purple and white scheme being predominant throughout.

Mr. Glen Hutton sang "All for You," which was rendered very artistically. Then at the beginning strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Gladys Richards, came Miss Annah Jo Pendleton Jo Pensleton, Miss Ruby Douglas, bridesmaids; Mr. Loraine Dutton, Mr. Roy Tomlinson, groomsmen. Little Misses Dorothy Fullwood and Mary Louise Brotherton were flower girls.

The bride marched in with Miss Elizabeth Martin, maid of honor, and met the groom with Horace Jones, best man, at the altar.

During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Colby D. Hall, Miss Richards played "Barcarolle."

After the ceremony a reception was given the guests. Quite a number of relatives and friends being there to enjoy it.

Miss Cora Sue Cole presided at the bridesbook and Miss Nell Whaley at the punch bowl.

The entire bridal party was then given a box party at the Dallas Opera House.

BETA PHI CLUB ACCEPTS NEW MEMBER

Eugene Sewell was formally taken into the membership of the Beta Phi Club Thursday night. After being put through the usual formalities to ascertain whether the candidate had a sufficient desire for membership, he had extended to him all the privileges and rights of a regular member.

Immediately following this ceremony, the old members entertained the new member with an informal feast, which had been prepared as a mark of celebration for his entrance into the club. The ceremony was held in William Jones' room between the hours of 9 and 10.

COACH DANIELS ROUNDS HIS YOUNGSTERS INTO SHAPE FOR THE TURKEY DAY GAME

Purple and White Warriors Are After Baylor's Goat—Men Are Working Hard Every Afternoon.

Coach Daniel is doing everything in his power to get the T. C. U. Club in condition for the real big contest of the season—the Turkey Day quarrel with the Bears.

For several years the Baylor Bears have had the dope on the Christians, and have treated them to a good beating. Last year, the game was not such a one-sided affair as had been expected by football dopesters, although Baylor had a championship team. The game here last year was pronounced by many football critics as one of the best contests of the year. Every man out of the thousands who attended the combat was ready to make a sworn statement that the game was well worth the money.

This year, the Christians will enter the final contest of the year on a more equal footing, as far as dope is concerned, than has been the case for several years. Both teams have lost one game in the T. I. A. A. The Christians lost to the strong Owl team early in the season. Baylor lost to the Texas A. & M. team much later on in the season. Both Rice and A. & M. are undefeated in the T. I. A. A. up to this time, and will play off the championship game on Thanksgiving.

Both T. C. U. and Baylor have played Southern Methodist University. T. C. U. played them on the T. C. U. field and defeated them by a score of 20 to 0. Baylor played the Methodists' field in Dallas and were held to a scoreless tie. However, this is a hard way to come to anything like a good comparison of the respective strength of the two teams because of the fact that T. C. U. played on her own gridiron while the Baylor Bears were away from home. Again it must be remembered that this will be the case when the Christians meet the Bears on Turkey Day. The Bears will be at some disadvantage because of the fact that the Christians will be on their own home lot and the Bears will have to make a trip in order to be here.

Of course, everyone knows that dope does not always count for anything, and that it is turned upside down about as often as it remains as it was, but notwithstanding all this, everyone is prone to do a small amount of figuring before every game. All the rooters in T. C. U. have been doing a considerable lot of figuring all during the season, and they all feel that when the Baylor Bears come to meet Coach Daniels' little machine this year they stand the biggest chance of being chewed up that they have had in a long time.

All the men on the Christian squad

CHRISTIANS SWAMP KANGAROOS, 59 TO 0

Austin College Team Helpless Before the Onslaughts of Coach
Daniel's Pigskin Machine

In a onesided contest the T. C. U. eleven walked through the Austin College aggregation for a score of 59 to 0, on the Austin College field last Friday. The Kangaroos were clearly outclassed from the minute the whistle blew for the ball to be kicked, until the close of the game. The Christians seemed to be able to make a touchdown at almost any time they chose.

The special feature of the game was the broken field running by Miller and Lockman. Miller, the little wonder quarterback for the Christians, lived up to his reputation by running through the Kangaroos like a greased pig. Lockman also had a wiggle in his walk and was able to be somewhere else when one of the Austin College boys made a dive to stop his onward march toward the goal. As usual, Prinzing never failed to make his gains through the line when he was called upon to do so.

It does not seem necessary to apologize for the score, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that the score might have been even larger if Coach Daniel had not wanted his men to try out a number of plays as experiments, and also wanted to give all the men on the squad a chance to play. In the second period of the game every man on the squad was given a chance to play.

Although the score shows that the game was a onesided contest from the beginning to the end, yet the Kangaroos never did quit fighting. They showed plenty of fight up to the last and acted as if they liked it up to the very minute the whistle blew for time.

T. C. U.—Meyers, right end; Hogg, right tackle; Hayden, right guard; McGill, center; Bradford, left guard; Hewes, left tackle; Haire, left end; Miller, quarter back; Spinkes, left half; Prinzing, right half; Lockman, full back.

Substitutes — Cavitt for Green, Martin for Haire, Spinkes for Graves, Graves for Spinkes, Sharp for Bradford, Haile for Prinzing, Duttman for Lockman, Walker for Holland, George for B. Moore.

Officials—Wimmer, referee; Zimmerman, umpire; Lewis, head linesman.

T. C. U. TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS BAPTIST SEMINARY TEAM

With a picked team the Baptist Seminary was defeated by Munday and Easley of T. C. U. in a tennis tournament last Saturday afternoon on the courts at the Seminary.

With only a few minutes notice Munday picked a partner and went over fully expecting to be beaten but nevertheless won the game by hard work. The first set was lost, but the T. C. U. boys came back in the latter two sets and won the tournament 2-6, 6-4, 8-6.

This is the first match that has been played this year and it was played against an experienced team. Munday and Easley had not played together before and were rather handicapped because of lack of team work, but both men showed up remarkably.

Munday was the winner of the school tournament which was played several weeks ago. Easley, although he won neither first or second place in the tournament, showed good form and will give somebody a hard fight when the next tournament is played. The players for Baptist Seminary were Roark and Rogers.

Another match will be played sometime in the near future and also some singles will be matched. The courts here are much better than those at the Seminary and very likely the next match will be played here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks of Cooper are visiting Gertrude and Bess.

The owner of this space is too busy selling tickets and boosting Thanksgiving game between Baylor and T. C. U. to furnish printer with copy.

A PSALM OF COLLEGE LIFE

(With apologies to Longfellow)

I
Tell me not in mournful numbers:
College life's an empty dream;
That the teacher never slumbers,
Courses are not what they seem.

II
College life is real and earnest,
And the B. A. is its goal;
And you have to do your "derndest,"
If you ever reach this goal.

III
Never "flunking," never failing,
Is the way that we should be;
Always knowing, e'er rejoicing
'Xams do find us our degree.

IV
The work is long and time is fleeting,
And all of us do cram and cram,
Yet still our hearts like drums are beating,
When we tramp toward our exam.

V
In the college field of learning,
In the course of college life,
Be not like the "Freshie," yearning—
Be a Senior in the strife.

VI
Trust no "Fish," for he's a peasant;
And of Juniors, too, beware.
Court the Sophomore so pleasant,
Seniors have too many a care.

VII
Lives of graduates remind us
We can make this life sublime;
And by asking foolish questions
Take up recitation time—

VIII
Questions that perhaps another,
Who with you is wont to lurk

At some future time or other,
May find helpful in the work.
IX
Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart that's filled with glee;
Let no trouble e'er be brewing,
Only strive for our degree.
—Marie Betts.

A VISION OF MID-TERM

Last night as I musingly conned
The difficult lesson in English
The interesting lesson in Longfellow's poems assigned by the teacher,
Of fairest Evangeline's sad fortunes had in Arcadie—
My thoughts seemed to wander an infinite distance away from me;

And when I returned from that quietly pleasant day-dreaming,
In wonder I read on the page
the symbols extending before me.
Similar were they in truth to the words of the poet, Longfellow, But changing full strangely the meaning of the Arcadian poem:

This is the college eternal, the murmuring students and pupils, Buried with books, and with manners strange, indistinct in knowledge,
Stand like the masters of old with voices sad and apoleptic, Stand like sorrowers sore, with chins that rest on their bosoms.
Loud from his questioning quizzes the deep learned terrible teacher Speaks, and in accents disconsolate answers the wail of the students.

This is the college eternal; but where are the hearts that around it Thrill with joyfulness, when they hear the answering voice of the teacher?
Sad are those dismal faces from the lessons forever forgotten, Thoughts scattered like dust and leaves, when the mighty exams of the mid-term Seek them, to bring them aloft, and sprinkle them down on the paper.
Naught but tradition remains of the learning of lessons of knowledge.

Ye who believe in lessons well learned and known, and remembered,
Ye who believe in the wisdom and strength of examinations List to the mournful tradition, still told by the students at college;

List to a tale of lost memory of answers, in an exam. of the mid-term!

Here I lifted my eyes from the book, at the end of the prologue,
And thus ended this wondrous change in the poem 'Evangeline,' When again I looked at the volume the story was as the original.
—Grace Becker.

THANKFUL? SURE!

(President Wilson has issued his proclamation, fixing Thursday, November 29, as Thanksgiving Day).
I am thankful
For a tankful
Of good food three times a day.

I am thankful
That starvation
Hasn't come around my way.
I am thankful
For the codfish
That, somehow, I always get.
Hi cost of livin's humping,
But he hasn't licked me—
Yet.
I am thankful
For a bumper crop
Of fine and robust health.
I am thankful
I don't have to Lug around
A lot of wealth,
I am thankful
For my freedom.
Yes, I am a lucky mug.
Many men, no worse
Than I am
Are reclining in the jug.
I am thankful for My friendships
And the charity of man,
But, above all else,
I'm thankful
That I'm an American.
Any Yank who can't
Be thankful
And is cast down in dumps
Is a flivver,
Is a bonehead,
And the chump of all of the chumps.

LIBRARY NOTES

For some time at the beginning of school the Library was at a disadvantage because of a lack of help. Now, it has a full force and its work is progressing fine.
Miss Mary Hefner is first assistant, Miss Gertrude Davies is second assistant, and Mr. H.
E. Fussell is stenographer.
Since the opening of school 622 volumes have been added.
Over 200 of these are bound magazines. A large donation of 78 theological books was made by Mr. D. Pennington of Taylor, Texas.
The Library has the War Honor Roll. To date there are 120 names enrolled, including not only those who are actually in the service but also all who tried to get in and were refused for some reason. Come in and look over the list; you may know of others, or some more definite information concerning some already enrolled. Also the Library has begun a War Scrap Book for any clippings, pictures or notices about any of our boys. Any contribution to this Scrap Book will be very highly appreciated.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB HAS INTER-ESTING MEETING.

The Music Study Club met Friday afternoon in Mrs. Cahoon's studio at 2:30. A very interesting program was rendered. Quite a number of visitors were present and several new members were admitted into the club.

The program was as follows:
"The Evolution of the Orchestra," Miss Anne McLendon.
"Modern Orchestral Composers,"
Miss Gertrude Hendricks.
"Modern Orchestral Conductors," Miss Myra Kelly.
Cello solo, Mr. Ziegler.
"Evolution of the Violin," Sybil Black.
Violin solo, Edward Cramer.

As soon as it was announced that arrangements had been made for the photograph work on the Frog along with urgent requests that every student pay the first installment on the book and go down to Bryant's Studio and have the pictures made, these two men responded promptly. They acted as every student in the University should act.

Every student in the University should profit by the excellent example set by the two "Bills" rooming on the third floor of Clark Hall when it comes to a matter of promptness in having their pictures made for the Horned Frog.

THE FAIR

will be in good condition to meet the Bears when the final day rolls around. The Bears will probably be without the support of their most able veteran—Fouts. Fouts has been out of the game a good part of this season, and at no time has been such a power as he has been in previous years.

Every man in the Christian camp is doing his best to be in shape to help pay the Baylor aggregation off this year in the same coin they have been passing out for several years.

T. C. U. will go into this game with probably the best team that ever wore the purple and white uniform. Coach Daniel began the year with absolutely new material and has hammered out of this conglomeration of high school material one of the best football machines in the State. Coach Daniel is an old T. C. U. man himself and has played against the Baylor team when T. C. U. was located at Waco, and when antagonism between the two schools was always at white heat. Because of this fact, if for no other, Coach Daniel is going to do everything in his power to put the finishing touches on his little machine in order that they will handle the Bears in the same manner they were handled when Coach Daniel was wearing the purple and white himself.

DOUGLAS TOMLINSON MAKES A SPLENDID ADDRESS IN CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Douglas Tomlinson, one of the graduates of T. C. U. of which she is proud, gave a very interesting address in chapel Wednesday morning. Mr. Tomlinson is still a young man, and it has not been so long since he sat in the seat of a student in the chapel exercises of T. C. U., therefore he was in a better position to appreciate the attitude of the student toward all such speakers than are most of the people who appear in this capacity.

He seems to know full well that a University chapel is no place for experiment as to how well one can speak without preparation, else he is in the habit of delivering real addresses whenever he is called upon, because his message on Wednesday morning was certainly well given and to the point.

He spoke on preparation and compared the making of any great building or completion of any great structure to the moulding of the human life. He called attention to the fact that all great structures are planned in every detail before a thing is done in their actual construction. Before a piece of steel is moved toward the construction of a ship, the architect draws up a complete plan of all the details by which it is to be built. The same is true of all great constructing enterprises; they are not thrown together in a haphazard manner, but are built according to a certain plan.

The same is true of a successful life. The person has a certain plan, and builds to that end. There must be a goal to be reached and this goal must be striven for by means of real honest hard work. Nothing is accomplished by accident, which is really worth while.

All those who know the speaker felt that he was only telling of the things that he had put in practice in his own life, and those things which he is still practicing in his upward climb to even greater success.

Mr. Tomlinson graduated from T. C. U. about the year 1909; he then went to Texas State University; after finishing there, he spent a short time in Columbia University. Since that time he has been engaged in newspaper work. He has been at the head of the Dallas Church World for several years. He has recently moved to Fort Worth where he is establishing The Fort Worth Tribune.

Mr. Tomlinson has made quite a success of The Dallas Church World. All his friends here in T. C. U. hope that he will be equally successful in his new work here in Fort Worth. There is little doubt as to whether he will be successful, because of the fact that he always strives hard to do well whatever he undertakes.

P. A. L. S. ENTERTAIN WITH SUNRISE BREAKFAST.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 the P. A. L. S. met for the purpose of discussing several questions of immediate interest. The social committee reported that a sunrise breakfast had been arranged for Wednesday morning.

The entire club left the University at 6 o'clock and hiked to the park, where a big bonfire was built, and the breakfast was prepared.

The two hours spent in the delightful fresh air of the early morning made everyone express her delight for the joy of such a wonderful day.

The delightful smell of the boiling coffee and the sizzle of the meat in the open air was indescribable. After spending as much time as possible in our delight, the club adjourned and returned to the university.

SHIRLEYS TO HOLD PRELIMINARY FOR OLD MEN'S DECLAMATION CONTEST MONDAY NIGHT

The Shirleys will hold the preliminary for the Old Men's Declamation Contest on Tuesday night of the coming week, November 26. The three men who receive the highest grade in this contest will be selected to represent the Shirley Literary Society in the final contest between the Shirleys and the Add-Ranns, which will be held on the night of December 7.

It is not the usual custom for a preliminary to be held for this contest, but there were several men who wanted to be given a chance to represent their society this year, and because of the difficulty in deciding which would be the strongest representatives, the members decided that the question should be decided by a preliminary contest.

The Add-Ranns have already selected their representatives. They are John Sturgeon, Floyd Sweet and Eugene Sewell.

ALICE LONG ENTERTAINS THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB WITH TEA

The Girls' Glee Club met with Miss Alice Long Friday afternoon at 4:30. After going through the regular rehearsal, which lasted about an hour, all the members were served with tea and sandwiches. There were about twenty girls present who enjoyed Miss Long's hospitality. Everyone present had a delightful time, and wish to compliment Miss Long for her thoughtfulness and hospitality.

When that old T. C. U. team falls in line,

We're going to win again another time.

For the Varsity we'll yell a yell
For the football team we love so well well well.

Oh, we will fight, fight, fight for Circle ends and then we'll win some more,
Andw e'll roll old Baylor in the sod.
