Students May Make a Winning Season or They May Ruin the Season.

Every one has heard many times that one of the greatest factors in making a winning team of any kind in College Athletics is that the student body, from which that team comes, have plenty of pep and the right kind of pep. This has been said so many times and under so many different circumstances that it has become rather common to all of us, and we have a tendency to pass it up as being something that we are already familiar with, and consequently in which we are not much interested.

However, there are facts which have been called to our attention, which should make us reconsider this well known and well established theory. Those facts have been furnished to us by the recent basketball season taken in comparison with our glorious football season. We believe that if we will take the time to recall the facts, that during the past basketball season there was very little support for the team manifested by the students of the institution; after the last defeat the team had lost a game or two, there was very little support for the team, manifested by the students there was an added pleasure to this particular appearance—the old Baptist team which had been kept constantly at work by the Baptists. But with the assistance of the authorities of the Baptist and the Bar Association, which was kept constantly at work by the Baptists, but with the assistance of the Baptist, a pretty well evened up teams was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the entire Baptist team. From the Baptist, we found out the Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist. The Baptist team which was kept constantly at work by the Baptist.

WOMANLESS WEDDING

PROVES A REAL GRIEF KILLER

Judge Bailey and "Miss" Henry Fussell joined the Duekdale Riddles of Hastings.

The womanless wedding, which was given under the auspices of the T. C. C. Domestic Science Department on Thursday night in the University auditorium, proved to be one of the frankest and most honest things that has ever happened in the University.

It was a real novel idea, which had originated in the Domestic Science Department.

The wedding was carried out in the most perfect way, with all the girls and boys being present and with the whole world present. The women were not there because there was no women present. However, the wedding which was staged here in the University auditorium Thursday night, might be used as some evidence of the fact that the world is not made up of men alone, but of the oft considered, women's men.

Half of the boys who took part in the wedding had been dressed as women earlier in the day, as men. This was done to make it appear as if there were a number of handsome men, and then suddenly, when the men were dressed as girls, they appeared to be as beautiful as the men.

The wedding ceremony was begun when Miss Shirley Bowerman and Henry Horn sang the wedding song, accompanied by Miss Carl Rupp Doerflinger. Immediately after this the wedding march was played by Miss Bowerman as the wedding part moved gracefully down the long aisle.

Those who took part in the wedding were Miss Henry Fussell, the bride; Bailey Jodge, the groom; Shirley Shawn, the maid of honor; and Herbert Jones. Dewey Lawrence, the best man, was also present.

"All things justifiable or unjustifiable; and forever forsaking all other, and presenting all flirtations in excess, keep only the one you love, so long as you both shall live?"

"I will, sir."

"Well, then, will you have this bravesome man to thy wedded life and to thy partner in the doubtful事宜 of matrimony? With these words, the ceremony was ended and the marriage was declared valid.

The wedding was by far the most impressive of the season, after which a chair was handed to the bride's father, who gave the bride away.

Miss Shawn, the maid of honor, sang the wedding song, accompanying Miss Doerflinger. When Miss Shirley Sweeney and Howard Hill sung the wedding song, it was the most beautiful moment of the ceremony.

"Your bed sheetless,
Your coffee sweetless,
Your morning lightless,
Your evening lightless,
Your morning lightless, with a hush that is dear, and a sigh that is dear, and a hush that is dear."

The speeches which will be given at the meeting tomorrow are:

T. C. U. BREAKS EVEN WITH MINN. COLLEGE QUARTETTE ON TRIP

T. C. U. metodes should be for a gentle reminder to the fans that there is really a responsibility resting on them as to whether or not they are able to have a winning team in the University.

We all remember that when the first basketball game was lost by the team, almost every rooter in school decided to support the team, thinking that it was not possible to have the same caliber of basketball team as our most notable years. Despite the fact, the members of the team came back at the very last of the season and showed what might have been accomplished throughout the season, had every one shared the proper interest.

The first indication of this exhibi- tion of real basketball came when the Tarantines again demonstrated that the poll have Negroes in that by giving the full list in Accelerating, realising that the first Baptist Church at 24th street court.

When the team went to Florence they were up against a team which had not been defeated by a single team this year, and a team which seemed to have a straight shot at State Championship. However, the Tarantines showed the while they were of splitting the games with the Baptists and thus giving a serious blow at their championship ambitions. They showed by the last game that they were in the same class with the champions of the State at the close of the season, even if they did not arrive at this state of perfec- tion too late to figure in the advance polling of the clubs of the State.

At present the military training is not compulsory but it is entirely up to the choice of the student as to whether or not he will take the training. Because of this fact it seems that it may be a little hard to obtain the proper military discipline that is desired, or that it is usually required.

However, it is hoped and believed that since every one who enters this training class realizes the great benefit to be derived from such training, there will be an increased interest in the military service.

On Tuesday afternoon, there were thirty or forty of the students and the first actual drill under the new plan. There are many more who will join us to work as soon as you see that we are really ready to do the thing to best effect this time.

It has been rather hard to find people who have so many as different things that have come in the way of the carrying out of this work during the long time that has passed. However, everyone may feel assured that with school in the last quarter, even if they are not ready to take up the task of organizing the clubs of the State,

First Contest to Be Held Friday Night

The Add-Ran Literary Society held the preliminary for the New Men's Dramatic Contests, Wednesday night. This preliminary for held for the purpose of selecting those who would represent the Add-Ran father, who, in the final contest against the Thirilies. The men who were selected to rep- resent the Add-Ranns were: Dick Bailey, Henry Fussell, and Ben Tyler.

The Thirilies held their preliminary several weeks ago and at that time selected their team whom, would be in fine shape to battle against the Add-Ran team. The men who are to represent the Thirilies are: Jere Bloncood, Denny Bland, and Ben Hill.

In both companies there was a large turnout made the try out for the preliminary contest, and this means that there was a great deal of competition, the men who were se- lected to be the representatives in the final contest will be speakers of skill.

This contest will be the first attempt for a number of the new men in the University to show what they can do of this kind of work. Every year there is a man who makes an impression for himself in this matter. In such a contest there is no place for mediocrity, there will be given prizes for the best and the greatest. Two will be named, one for first and one for second. The winner of first prize will receive one of the most beautiful suits, and the winner of second place will receive a cash prize of five dollars.

BASEBALL SEASON REVIEWED

Basketball Very Strong

A simple review of the scores for the season shows that there are only two games which were won. However, this review does not reveal the difficulties that were overcome in the development of new material. Basketball was started with King, Long, and Dormant of last year’s quicks, Texas, as has been mentioned, Al Dr. V mask was the star last year, and Baylord had considerable of the raw material. In fact, nearly every one of the players had some weakness.

At the forward position, however, Coach Downer perhaps developed more strength. He usually got the most of the time, was a good, back strong. Haire at center, was perhaps the most consistent player in the State. He usually got the most of the time, was a good, back strong. BASKETBALL SEASON REVIEWED

After Making a Poor Beginning Team Close Season Strong.

The first few games of the season there was a decided lack of teamwork among the players. The men were off to the races and fighting each other for the ball. The starting eleven did not work together at all. At the forward position, however, Coach Downer perhaps developed more strength. He usually got the most of the time, was a good, back strong. Twelve young men were playing in the last game of the season, and the outcome was unexpected. The game was played in front of a large crowd, and the players were all enthusiastic. The game was a hard-fought contest, with both teams playing their best to win.

The game started with a strong performance by the home team, who were led by Captain Johnson. The visitors, on the other hand, were led by Captain Smith, who had been the team's star player for most of the season. The game was a back-and-forth affair, with both teams scoring goals in quick succession.

The game was halted for a few minutes due to a dispute over a foul call. During this time, the crowd grew restless, and there were some boisterous reactions from the visiting team's fans. The game resumed, and the home team continued to press forward, scoring another goal to take the lead.

The visitors fought back with a strong goal of their own, and the game remained close for the remainder of the contest. The final score was 3-3, and the game ended in a draw, much to the disappointment of the home team's fans. The players shook hands, and the game was played in good faith.

The home team's coach, Coach Johnson, praised his team for their efforts and said that they had learned some valuable lessons from the game. The visitors' coach, Coach Smith, also commended his team for their performance and said that they had played well and had learned from their mistakes.

The game was a thrilling contest, and it was enjoyed by all who were present. The players put on a great show, and the spectators were entertained by their skills and efforts. The game showed the importance of teamwork and perseverance, and it was a great example of what can be achieved through hard work and dedication.
