Number 24

T. C. U. MEDICAL COLLEGE TO RUN CONTINUOUSLY UNTIL WAR ENDS

Texas Christian University's medical department will run in practically continuous session for the duration of the war and as long thereafter as conditions demand. Formal announcement of the adoption of this plan was made Saturday by the heads of the institution.

A calendar of "war sessions" has been arranged as follows: First session, June 10, 1918, to Feb. 1, 1919; second session, Feb. 10, 1919, to Oct. 1, 1919; third session, Oct. 6, 1919, to June 1, 1920.

While under the new system, vacations will be eliminated, there will be no appreciable shortening of the actual time of instruction, but the total elapsed time between the student's enrollment and final graduation will be considerably lessened.

Means No Relaxation.

It is stated there is to be no relaxation of standards of work nor of entrance requirements. At the close of a session all classes will advance and new students can enroll for the new term.

Urgent need of more physicians in the army, navy and aviation service is responsible for the innovation.

In February at a congress on medical education and licensure held in Chicago under the auspices of the Council on Education, the principal topic for discussion was the part which medical schools must play in the present war crisis.

Program Prepared by Army.

The plan which has been adopted by the medical department of the Texas Christian University was presented by Major Horace D. Arnold, Medical Reserve Corps, of the surgeon general's office. It was endorsed by a majority of the representatives of state boards and medical colleges.

Soon after the United States entered the war the deans of all the medical colleges in the country received a communication from the general medical board of the council of medical

PRES. JONES OF MIDLAND COLLEGE, ADDRESSES T. C. U. STUDENTS

Says Hohenzollern House Has Followed Out Program of Hate.

President Jones of Midland College spoke to the students in the University auditorium at the chapel hour Tuesday morning. His general subject was, as has been the case with so many speakers recently, the war and the attitude of the German war lords. However, President Jones did not treat the subject in the usual manner. He really had something new to give the students at this time.

He called the attention of the students to the fact that the Germans who were at the head of the German nation had done everything in their power to create a sentiment of hatred among their people, for all the other people with whom they were contemplating declaring war. He called attention to the

PRESIDENT OF BOARD, McFARLAND, COMPLI- MENTS STUDENTS OF SCHOOL

Mr. McFarland Gives Splendid Chapel Address.

In a short address in the T. C. U. chapel Wednesday morning, Mr. Sam J. McFarland, president of the board of trustees, proved to the students that although he was a man who had very serious thoughts on occasions, he could loosen up and make himself really interesting to any kind of an audience.

After speaking of the exceptionally fine reports that had been given to the board from all the different departments of the University, Mr. McFarland humorously stated that President Waites had requested him to say some complimentary things about the students and the school as a whole. Following up this suggestion from the President he proceeded to get a few of his most complimentary thoughts off his system, as he expressed it.

He stated that never in the history of the institution had there been such a successful year as had been the present one. Not only has there been the largest attendance this year on record, but the character of the work that has been done has been of a superior quality. Every student or most of the students have seemed to catch the real spirit, and have come to realize the purpose for which they are sent to College.

Mr. McFarland told of his visit to the boys' and girls' dormitories. He stated that from the things that he had heard, from different sources, he had gathered the impression that the boys and girls were not as particular in keeping their rooms as they should be. However, he took particular pains to make his visits and investigations at an unexpected moment without allowing any notice to be given to the students. He stated, after making the rounds of all the rooms, that he was agreeably surprised, and that with the exception of a few rooms, no criticism could be made. In fact, he was of the opinion that the conditions were above the average, and that it would be a good thing if all the patrons and supporters of the school could be aware of the exact conditions that exist in these dormitories.

When he was through giving all his respects to the students and the members of the faculty, as president of the board of trustees, Mr. McFarland loosened up and gave an exhibition of story telling and entertaining ability that would make Al Herman or Harry Hines turn green with envy. Many of the students who really never intended to laugh, found themselves holding their sides in convulsions of mirth at the funny things that were being put before them.

It has been said that to laugh means that you will be healthy. If that is the case, it would be a good thing to have Mr. McFarland to drop around once in a while and rejuvenate the University people with some of his contagious humor.

T. C. U. STARTS SEASON IN GRAND STYLE

Though Defeated in First Game By Camp Bowie Soldiers the Boys Showed Fine Form and Prospects Most Promising.

If a defeat is ever a victory then the defeat of the Horned Frogs last Wednesday afternoon at the hands of the Camp Bowie soldiers is certainly one. The score stood 4 to 2 for the Sammys but it was this same bunch of Sammys that hatched out a score of 10 to 6 against the Dallas submarines last Sunday—incidentally the Subs won the Texas League pennant last year. Every one of the men for the soldiers were ex-leaguers. Many had seen service in the Texas League and the rest were old Copper League men. Several of them expressed the opinion that we have one of the fastest college teams that has come together for several years, and two or three said that for a first season game we showed a great deal more form than the Dallas Subs.

The outfield worked like old timers. Prinzing and Hayden each had several difficult chances and handled them nicely. Sewell, in right, just had one, but he got it in good style. The infield looks like a second bunch of McInnises, Collinses, Barrys and Bakers and handled themselves in most commendable style. Judge at catcher was the same consistent worker that has characterized him for the past several years. In the pitcher's box, though, one of the best features of the game was displayed. Meyers, who went the route for six innings, seems to possess everything he needs to bring home the bacon after several games. He was as cool as the proverbial cucumber and gave evidence of the fact that T. C. U. has a good, heady pitcher. Haire took up the bur-

BOARD OF TRUSTEES HAS LONG SESSION

Many Plans Made; Review of the Year's Work Pronounced Fine.

The board of trustees had one of the longest sessions during this week that they have had in quite a long time.

All the reports from the different department of the University were made by the heads of the different departments and also by President Waites for the University as a whole. The members of the board expressed themselves as being especially well pleased by the work that has been done in the University during the part of the school year that has just passed.

After having considered all the reports and accepted them, there were many things of interest and importance that were taken up by the board. Many of the things that were considered at this time were of such a nature, or the circumstances were such that it was impossible for the board to finally settle them.

One of the questions which is of vital interest to all the students in the University, and which has been under discussion almost continually for the past few weeks, is the matter of compulsory military training. It was impossible for the board to finally settle this question at this meeting because of the impossibility of securing the proper kind of a man to take charge of the work. However, this was placed in the hands of the executive committee and as soon as they see a solution of the problem, there is no doubt that this training will be made compulsory.

In the meantime, the military training will be carried on under the same management as it has been in the past, with Lieu-

PRESS CLUB ORGANIZED

Whenever an institution or organization is found which does not have an official mouthpiece, it may be pretty safely concluded that the organization does not possess or accomplish anything worthy of expression. The student body of Texas Christian University does many things which deserve at least statewide prominence. In view of that fact, we have the "Skiff" through which all of our activities and thoughts are expressed.

There is a power behind every throne. The Press Club is the power behind the "Skiff." This club has been late in organizing this year; but it suddenly sprung into all its power last Tuesday when it became an official body. The officers elected are: President, Mary Hefner; vice-president, Mary Biggerstaff; secretary-treasurer, Terry King.

The present club is meant only as a nucleus for a larger club. Every student, who is in the least interested in the work, is urged to hand in his name to the president, so that he may immediately be given the opportunity to show what he can do.

Through a very unfortunate misunderstanding over the date of the meeting of the T. I. & A. at Baylor it is impossible for T. C. U. to enter any manuscript in the State contest. The local contest will be held as usual. Short stories, essays and poems may be entered and there will be a prize for each of the best ones. Manuscripts must be in the hands of the president not later than 6 o'clock Wednesday, April 17. This will allow the judges a week in which to make their decisions, and another week in which the manuscripts may be prepared for publication in the Horned Frog. No manuscript may be over

DOMESTIC SCIENCE GIRLS GO ON CAMPING PARTY

Such mysterious creatures we had never seen as the first year sewing class. At least that's what we were about to decide when they continued acting so peculiar and mysterious the first of the week.

Dressed for a "back yard party," supposedly, we were to catch the 2:30 car on Thursday afternoon and were not to move until one of the hostesses should give the signal. Beyond this all was mystery. Every time we moved we ran across a group of the sewing class girls who scattered and ran like mice.

However, at the appointed time all caught cars and were signaled to move on when we came to Peter Smith street. From here we walked to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown Harwood on South Henderson. A few minutes were spent taking kodak pictures and then we were taken out and helped into a big truck which was piled high with hay and quilts—and then our journey began. We still did not know where we were going or why but we were going and had plenty of "gum and goobers," so we were happy.

Before very long we came to our destination—Hurst Art Club House. Such a delightful place it was. After spending some time swinging in a large rope we were invited to satisfy our appetites—and judging from the feast prepared for us, we decided the cook had either forgotten all about Mr. Hoover and the war, or had never heard of them. You may rest assured that we did justice to the feast, too.

The evening was spent boating, singing and setting around two large fireplaces. We told jokes, played pranks and made molasses taffy. Finally we were called in—we thought to start home, but no, we were shown a long string of cots already made prepared for us.

Since all had made good use of the time, we retired at an early hour. Beds never seemed so soft or sleep so good as on that night. The next morning we rose early and scrambled into our clothes in order to be on time to the enjoyable breakfast prepared for us. Breakfast over, we spent the remainder of the time, before we were called to start home, in the boats on the lake.

We had such a lovely time and so many good things to eat we decided the girls were not so mysterious after all but perfectly wonderful hostesses.

The hostesses were: Fern Rundle, Ruth McKenzie, Ruby Parks, Mrs. T. V. Smith and Robins Davis. The guests were: Mr. Ray Watson, Mr. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Harwood, Mrs. Charles E. Coombes, Mrs. B. S. Smiser, Miss Vesta Burford, Ruby Jones, Joan Neal, Leah Traylor, Alice Long, Florence Blanks, Hallie McClung and Beth Coombes.

Time—8 o'clock Sunday morning.

Place—The band stand.

Leader—Miss Biggerstaff.

A COTTAGE INFIRMARY

Shall we say "the" cottage infirmary soon? While talking to President Waits the other day, he expressed an idea which I am sure many of us have had but have not expressed and that is the need of some place on the campus which can be used for caring for our sick students. Can you think of anything we need more?

C. I. A. has a very complete little cottage, built expressly for this purpose, and in charge of a combination nurse dietitian. All of the larger institutions have some sort of arrangement of this kind. Five or six thousand dollars would easily build such a building on our own campus. Would not some member of the Christian brotherhood take just such an interest in T. C. U. and furnish this cottage infirmary for us? A cottage of six rooms duly arranged and equipped would amply serve the purpose. A student can't do such efficient work if his or her room-mate is ill; he must look after him more or less. Sickness in the dormitories makes extra work for the matrons and the habitual noise in the halls does not tend toward bettering the patient's condition. How everyone of us would like to even inspect a cozy little cottage all clean and white with a small buffet-kitchen attached, where delicacies could be easily prepared by one who knows. If we had such a place we wouldn't mind having the measles or even the mumps. The churches and the Sunday over the State are always anxious to aid in the up-building of their own Texas Christian University and how readily they could help by furnishing these six rooms, and the wee kitchenette. A nurse in charge would be almost the only permanent expense. Before many months T. C. U. will have a thoroughly equipped gymnasium, a wonderful church building and shall we say a cottage-infirmary to eliminate all these disadvantages?

A Flop from the Fish

We, the Freshmen class, the largest, the strongest, and most efficient class of Texas Christian University, do hereby challenge the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes combined, to a baseball game, the date of which shall be subject to settlement. The reason for this seemingly presumptuous challenge from the Freshmen being that they feel that there is no other class in the University that could possibly cope with them snigle-handed; hence the above challenge. Awaiting an immediate reply.

(Signed) Sec. Freshman Class.

JUDGE RALEY TO SUE "HENRIETTA RALEY FOR DIVORCE.

Almost every one on the University Hill was present at the womanless wedding in which Judge Raley and Henry Fussell were joined in the doubtful state of matrimony. Every one who was present was impressed with the solemnness of the occasion, and little did they think that there would ever be a break in their seemingly complete happiness. However, the unexpected has come, and Judge Raley is now suing his wife, "Henrietta" Raley for a divorce.

This intention on the part of Judge was made known for the first time late Tuesday morning, when he retained the services of Lawyers Sturgeon & Sewell. He made it known at that time that he was intending to set up as a ground for divorce, non-support on the part of his wife, and also cruel treatment from her hands. There are also other small charges which will be brought out at the trial.

Immediately after Judge signified his intention of seeking this divorce, his wife, "Henrietta" Raley, ne Henery Fussell, retained the services of Lawyers Bawldwin and Martin. Martin and Bawldwin immediately informed the attorneys for the plaintiff that the suit would be contested from every angle.

The case has been set for trial on Friday night at 8 o'clock, in the University auditorium. All the jury has been selected and all the preliminary matters will be settled between the attorneys before that time, in order that the case may move right on with the utmost facility.

In view of the prominence of the two principals in the suit, and also in view of the special interest that was manifest in the couple at the time of the wedding, to say nothing of other peculiar circumstances, it is expected that there will be quite a little bit of interest shown in the trial of this case. In fact it is expected that the court room will be crowded to the extent of its capacity during the trial.

After considering the nature of the charges and seeing that the husband is suing the wife for non-support and cruel treatment, the attorneys decided that they would have at least four lady jurors.

One of the attorneys will be costumed as a lady attorney and other things in the trial will be turned around to be in keeping with the nature of the case.

The trial will be put on under the auspices of the Press Club which was organized this week. All the proceeds will be given to that organization. There will be a charge of fifteen cents admission with a war tax of one cent.

T. C. U. HAS WAR GARDEN TO RAISE OWN VEGETABLES

It may be of interest to some of the students, who do not know what is going on in their own University, to know that T. C. U. is doing her bit in more ways than one. Mr. Durrett has made another forward move in the maintenance of a good supply of vegetables during the spring months.

It is now an accomplished fact that T. C. U. is to have a war garden. Work has been done on this plan for quite a while, but is just now that the results are beginning to come in sight.

Already a variety of vegetable seed have been planted by the University gardner, and some of them are beginning to peep their tender shoots through the blanket of the earth for the first time.

Up to the present there has been planted in this garden; one-half acre of Irish potatoes, four bushels of onion sets have been set out, and an abundance of radishes, lettuce, beets, spinach, mustard, squash and many other plants that can be easily grown during this time of the year.

Besides these there have been a number of plants which are already flourishing in the hot beds and which are almost ready to be transplanted; these are tomato and cabbage plants. All these plants are being well cared for, and it seems almost certain that the students of T. C. U. are to enjoy a good supply of fresh vegetables all during the spring months.

JOE ALLEN HAS NEW CHUMMY ROADSTER

Every one on the hill has noticed lately that Joe and Annie and the rest of the University kitchen crew have been riding around in a fine looking little chummy roadster. No doubt there has been quite a little speculation as to whom this snappy little roadster belongs. All their curiosity may be allayed because Joe would have it known that he is the proud owner of this piece of property.

Another striking thing about this is that Joe is no cheap sport who splurges on borrowed feathers, but when he went to purchase an automobile he had the necessary wherewithal to make the deal. Joe paid for the car partially with some Liberty Bonds that he had bought and paid the rest in cash.

In speaking of the car and the luxury of it, Joe said, "I should like to go to church in dat automobile. I know dat I will neber go to Church on de street car again. When I goes to town in my automobile de white folks cain't cuss de niggers befo my wimmin' folks."

We have talked about prosperity in different forms and have called attention to the fact that the University is improving in every way, but the most optimistic of us did not dream of seeing Joe and Annie "stepping out" in an automobile of their own. This is the latest mark of real prosperity on the hill.

LAWYERS TO PUBLISH NEXT ISSUE OF THE SKIFF

Because of some particular circumstances, known only to the members of the Bar Association, it was not best that they publish their issue of the Skiff immediately following the class issues which were published several weeks ago. However they will try to make up for lost time this next week when their issue appears.

Last year, the lawyers put out one of the most interesting numbers of the Skiff that was published during the year. They are planning to at least keep up their record this year.

Several weeks ago the Bar Association met for the purpose of discussing this question and every one was of the opinion that the Bar Association should not depart from their custom of putting out their regular issue of the Skiff.

NEED OF INCREASING THE SCHOOL TAX

An increase of $5 a month in the salaries of school teachers recently voted by the Waco Board of Education is probably the first in a series of such actions which The News hopes to report from various cities and towns of this State. Five dollars is not a large amount of money in these days, but it represents more than money. It is an indication to the school teachers of Waco that the Board of Education understands the difficulty confronting those who earn small salaries. Waco has, in addition to the usual increase in the cost of living, the problem of caring for a cantonment, and that inevitably has its effect upon prices. The board members evidently understand that school teachers have to eat, and sleep in houses, and buy the clothes which they wear. If five dollars is not a great deal of money, it was at least an application of it where the need is most urgent.

Salaries in Waco before the raise were about the same as in Dallas. According to figures received this month, the maximum salary for a grade teacher was $90 a month for nine months. That is the same as in Dallas. The minimum for a grade teacher was $60 a month. That is a little higher than the minimum in Dallas. The maximum salary for high school teachers was $175 for men and $110 for women. The minimum was $125 for men and $90 for women. One hundred and sixty teachers drew maximum salaries and five drew minimum salaries, while eighty-five teachers received $75 a month. The school maintenance tax rate in Waco is fifty cents on the hundred dollars of assessed valuation. This is the maximum allowed. In Dallas the maintenance tax is thirty-nine cents, and it is proposed to increase it to forty-five cents on the hundred dollars of assessed valuation at the election in April. It is to be hoped that there will be few votes against this increase, because it amounts to only six cents, while a failure of the proposed higher tax would cut off the present special tax of fourteen cent, with disastrous results to the Dallas schools.

den for the last three innings and also showed a mighty good brand of pitching for the first game. He has the steam, the curves and delivery which is sure to make him a hard man for opposing batsmen to handle. The hitting was not unusually heavy, but it must be remembered that our fellows had not been up against curved balls until the game and then again they were facing a left hander.

The Game by Innings.

Dutch started things off in grand style by striking out Miller, the first man who faced him. Barker popped up to Shadie, and White went via Stovall to Shorty. In the last part Sewell flew to center, and then Judge walked. Shadie got drunk on curves and whiffed and Judge, who became very ambitious, was caught in the act of stealing second.

The second opened with Meason going the route of one, two, three. Fulwider also fanned the breezes but Ogden got a clean single past second. However, Meyers came back and struck out Vote for the third out and the third strike-out of the inning. With T. C. U. in, Shorty struck out and Hayden got on by an error at third. However, Prinzing and Stovall retired the side with flies to left field and second.

In the third frame things started. Hornbuckle got on by an error. Weis flew out to Hayden, but Miller beat out a pretty bunt down the third base line. On this Hornbuckle, who had stolen second, went to third, and then came home on the return from left of Barker's fly. To add to the misery White singled over second and Miller raced home, but Meason got his efforts stopped by Shadie and T. C. U. took her turn. Meyers went out pitcher to first. Jones laid one down to short and Meason got so excited that he threw the ball in the stands and Jones went to second. Sewell was safe at first by an error at third, and Raley went out pitcher to first. Hornbuckle by a bad peg to third allowed Jones to score. Hale walked and Vaughn singled to right, scoring Sewell. Hayden went out at first. Score 2 to 2.

The fourth opened with Fulwider striking out again. Ogden flew to center; Vote got on by Jones' error, but Hornbuckle struck out. T. C. U. went out in one, two, three order. Score 2 to 2.

In the fifth Weis tried to stretch his single into a double and got nabbed at second. Miller laid a three-bagger down first base, but was held there as Barker went out second to first and Morgan, who replaced White at third, aeroplaned to center. The Frogs again went over the three up, three down route, the only feature being Sewell's scorching grounder which nearly killed the pitcher, and made the ump fall all over himself before Meason made a pretty stop of it at short. Score 2 to 2.

A single through short, a stolen base, a sacrifice fly and two singles netted the Sammys one more run in the sixth inning. Hale, first up for the homelings, opened T. C. U.'s part very auspiciously with a three-bagger to left field, but in trying to stretch it into a home run he was caught at home plate, Vaughn went, out, short to first; Hayden singled, and Prinzing whiffed for the third out. Score 3 to 2.

Haire replaced Meyers in the box at the beginning of the seventh and retired the soldiers defense, a part of which follow:

"It is important that this country should not repeat England's blunder at the outbreak of the war in permitting the disorganization of the medical schools by calling medical students into any line organization. Ordinary foresight demands we face the possibility of the war upon which we have entered may last for years. Medical schools to supply trained men for the future as well as for the present emergency must be kept in active operation under any circumstances.

Must Continue Studies.
"Men looking forward to medicine as a career should be made to understand that it is their patriotic duty to the nation at this time to continue their studies."

Under the provisions of the selective service law reasonable assurance is given that medical students will be allowed to finish their professional studies before being called into service. Medical students who are in the draft age may enlist in the Medical Enlisted Reserve Corps, after which they are listed by their respective boards as being actually in military service.

The effect of this provision has been to make medical colleges officers' training camps. Students must be enrolled in colleges recognized by the surgeon general of the army. The local school is included in this official list.

in rapid order. In the comeback Stovall struck out, Haire landed, by an error, at third, but Jones and Sewell proved easy infield out. Score 3 to 2.

The Camp Bowieites revived themselves and with a single, a two-bagger and a stolen base got one more score, and Raley, Hale and Vaughn went out in order. Score 4 to 2.

Weis, Miller and Barker went through the ordeal in succession. Then Hayden got on by an error, but Prinzing, Stovall and Haire ended up the game. Score 4 to 2.

tenant Kimball in charge. For the past few drill days, there has been a larger number of the boys who have been taking advantage of this opportunity of getting this training; it is felt that they are beginning to realize the importance of it, and therefore it will be possible to have good work done without its being compulsory. It was felt that it would be better to let this training be on a selective basis until it was possible to obtain the services of a military man who could devote his whole time to the training of the students.

There were many other questions which were discussed, which were of vital interest to the students and also others that would not be so interesting to them. However, one fact that previous to the date when war was declared between Germany and any of the Nations, there had appeared in many of the German newspapers glaring headlines and statements to the effect that France and England and many of the other countries were preparing to take steps to place the German people under subjection. This was done to get the German people to have the proper amount of hate and suspicion for their neighboring people.

So great was the zeal of some of these German war lords that one of the foremost men of the government went so far as to change some of the passages of the Bible to read as he would have them read. According to this war lord's version, the thirteenth verse of the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians no longer read: "And now abideth faith, hope and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity;" but was made to read: "And now abideth faith, hope, and hate, these three; and the greatest of these is hate.

After listening to the things that President Jones recounted, which had marked the carrying out of this policy of hate, and knowing what every one knows of the Germany policy in general, there is no doubt that this is now becoming the religion of the German people.

President Jones was in T. C. U. during a good part of the summer, and it was with much pleasure that many of the students and faculty members greeted him this week.

question that is of vital interest of the students and one on which they had hoped to get a report at this time, was that of athletics. This question was not given very much time in the board meeting because of the lack of time and the numerous other things that had to be discussed and settled at this time. However, this matter was also put largely in the hands of the executive committee, and will be discussed and considered by this committee at a date in the near future.
