"CONTRARY MARY" MAKES BIG HIT

On Wednesday night the Footlights gave their first play of the year before a large and highly appreciative audience. The play was given under the direction of Miss Lillian Sansom. It was a light three-act comedy portraying the financial troubles of a newly married couple. With the independence of the modern woman, Mary Erwin refused to ask her husband for money and goes to her father instead. With the departure of her father on a long journey, Mary's problem grows more and more complex. Meanwhile John Erwin learns from his father-in-law the true state of affairs and tells his wife that it is one of his fondest dreams that she shall come to him when in need of money. She asserts that she does not wish to depend on him for money and suggests that she again open her studio. John Erwin sets his foot down flatly on this proposal and they quarrel. Erwin forbids his wife to follow out the proposed plan and she immediately resolves on its execution. Mary leaves the house, sets up her own studio, and then waits triumphantly for a penitent John but the latter does not show up. He sends his lawyer instead and the latter asks what preliminary preparations shall be made for the divorce proceedings.

Mary grows alarmed and Warner, the attorney, having fallen in love with Mary's chum to such an extent that he forsakes his business and takes grotesque art lessons from Mary, arranges to bring John to the flat in order that the quarrel may be smoothed over amicably. John arrives and after discursing uneasily concerning the weather and kindred topics finally takes the first step toward making up the quarrel. All disagreements are peacefully adjusted and the happy couple are once more united by mutual concessions.

All of the characters were ably presented. Irby Carruth and Margaret Williams in the leading roles easily won the hearts of their audience. Both parts showed conscientious preparation. It would be impossible with in the scope of this article to mention one by one the other characters. It is sufficient to say that each of the characters was ably presented. Much credit goes to Miss Lillian Sansom for her painstaking work to make the comedy such a complete success.

WEDNESDAY CHAPEL PROGRAM CREATES MUCH INTEREST

Chapel Wednesday morning was featured by short snappy talks boosting T. C. U. by Messrs. Cockrell, Edwards and Elliot. These splendid talks stimulated the great enthusiasm shown by the students at Thursday's game. Mr. Luck, who is the convention chairman in charge of the T. C. U. quota to the Des Moines convention, then introduced the speaker of the hour, Mr. John A. Erhard of Dallas, who is state secretary for the Collegiate Y. M. C. A. of Texas.

GLEE CLUB GREATEST IN YEARS

The T. C. U. Glee Club gave their annual opening concert Tuesday evening in the University chapel to the largest audience that has ever attended one of these occasions and they were well repaid for their attendance for this year's club is by far one of the greatest Director Cahoon has ever turned out and he said, T. C. U. has had the leading Glee Club in the Southwest for several seasons. Mr. Cahoon possesses the power to pull music, both in quality and quantity, from boys who were never accused of showing any such tendencies and they sing with their whole heart and soul like they loved their leader and their job.

The club opened with the triumphal march from Aida which carries the audience back to the operatic treat enjoyed this fall and the grandeur of this number at once proves that T. C. U. can boast of the best college orchestra in the state. The chorus of Huntsmen was sung as only a bunch of College Boys can sing. The Violin Solo by Merrill Turner was wonderfully executed and displayed an artistic temperament only found among the greatest artists. There is a great future in store for this young man in the musical world. The Jazz band was a real sensation and the audience could not get enough. This is the organization that the Fort Worth Ad Club used in New Orleans to put over their great hit at the convention, and Mr. Cahoon has calls nearly every day from local organizations for their service.

The Violin Quartet was beautifully rendered and promises to be one of the hits of the season. Mr. McKirdy's solo was up to his usual artistic standard and he is a great favorite with the student body.

The National Melody was one of the strong points of the program and made a decided hit.

We feel sure that this club is going to score heavily for T. C. U. this year and go down as the greatest yet.

The club will give its concert in the Magnolia church next Sunday evening and has planned a ten day's Christmas trip thru the West.

The itinerary includes Wichita Falls, Dec. 26, Vernon, Dec. 27, Quanah, 28, Childress, 29, Memphis 30, Amarillo 31, Plainview, Jan. 1, Lubbock, Jan. 2, Sweetwater, Jan. 3.

The latter spoke for a few minutes on the Student Volunteer Convention which meets in Des Moines December 31 to January 5, 1920. Mr. Erhard spoke briefly on the meaning and nature of the great convention and what it means to all wide-awake students. After touching briefly on the main points he came to the main purpose of the hour, viz., to raise $400.00 to enable certain students to attend the convention. A student subscription of

On Thursday morning four hundred T. C. U. students participated in a mammoth parade through the Main streets of Fort Worth in anticipation of the Baylor game. By courtesy of the city and at the request of Doctor Waits, a bear was taken from Forest Park and cage and all was loaded on the T. C. U. truck. The T. C. U. pep squad perched upon the bear's cage and the students went marching through the streets alternately yelling "T-rah, T-rah, T. C. U." and blowing their horns. The day was a cold one for such an exhibition of pep but nothing deterred the pep-inspired students. Fort Worth turned out en masse to witness the parade and the game was given a splendid advertisement.

T. C. U. has changed remarkably in its pep during the past week. Every student in that parade believed firmly that the Frogs were going to win in the great struggle of the evening and did not hesitate to give voice to that unwavering belief. The old T. C. U. spirit was everywhere in evidence and Fort Worth found out what a peppy school there was on the hill. Baylor has said "Waco for Baylor and Baylor for Waco." It can be as truthfully said "Fort Worth for T. C. U. and T. C. U. for Fort Worth."

DR. STOUT ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Dr. Stout, one of the leading educators of the state and president of T. W. C., gave an excellent and very entertaining address before the student body Wednesday morning in chapel.

Dr. Stout's address was a man's definition of the education that he desired for his daughter. In this definition were to be found three main elements. First for a girl to be able to walk well—and here Dr. Stout emphasized the fact that to be a real woman the girl of today must be physically fit and also seemed to see in the future happier homes if our girls were taught physical training in schools.

The second element was the practice of correct dressing which meant no extravagance but harmony in dress. And third and last was the art of conversation or being able to talk well. In the words of Dr. Stout, "The lost art is the art of conversation" and more stress should be laid on this than any other. As a whole Dr. Stout's address was enjoyed very much and T. C. U. is very glad to enjoy the friendship of such men.

T. C. U. literally exuded pep from every pore Thursday.

A little bird tells us that the old T. C. U. spirit wasn't dead at all, just sleeping. Well it certainly woke up with a vengeance. Congratulations, Cobby and Fussell!

And now we are going to try our luck in basketball. Well the jink won't trail us forever.

SOUTHWICK PROMISES TREAT

On the recommendation of Professor Biggs the oratorical association has arranged for two programs to be presented by Dr. Henry Lawrence Southwick, President of the Emerson College of Oratory, Boston, which is the largest college of oratory in America.

Mr. Southwick is one of the greatest orators of America and is a national figure upon the Lyceum platform. He is a reader and entertainer of national reputation. He stands among the greatest in the interpretation of Shakespeare.

Texas Christian University and the people of Fort Worth are to be congratulated on securing a man of the type of Dr. Southwick.

The oratorical association takes pleasure in presenting Mr. Southwick as the first one of a number of national lecturers and entertainers who will appear from time to time. Tell your friends of this rare treat and do not fail to hear him.

BASKETBALL PRACTIC BEGINS

With the close of the football season the Horned Frogs are turning their attention to basketball. Prospects are good for a fast quintet. With a nucleus of last year's men out for the team and a large number of new men available the Horned Frogs have every reason to believe that the season will be a successful one. A good schedule is being arranged and it seems fairly certain that several teams representing the larger schools of the South will be brought to the local court.

Among the old men who are back are Bradford, Easley, Berry and Council. There are also, of course, a number of high school stars who will materially strengthen the team and its chances for victory. There is good reason to believe that the Frogs will have a winning quintet this season.

* Have you had your picture made? Mr. Davis asserts that his camera is of the unbreakable kind, so don't worry on that score.
* Christmas is the limit for having these individual pictures made and the holidays are fast approaching. "Look pleasant please just a moment" and help the Horned Frog staff. Do it today!

A faculty union at the University of Montana, declares the Chicago Post. The dispatch goes on to say that the new union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

But what we wanted to say is, "How much will you bet that the students ask an injunction if the union ever calls a strike."

BAD DECISIONS HURT VARSITY'S CHANCES

In the hardest fought battle of the season the Horned Frogs went down in defeat before Baylor by the score of 7-0. The game was, as it had promised, the football classic of the season. The Bears found themselves entirely unable to penetrate the powerful Frog line. Most of their gains came as a result of long sweeping end runs although a few lateral passes were completed for comparatively good gains. The first quarter found the Christians mainly on the defensive with the Bears threatening to score. In every other quarter the Purple and White had opportunities to score. The game was marred by the decisions of Touchstone of the S. M. U., a former Baylorite, to whose frequent penalties is attributed in large measure the failure of the Christians to score. During the game the penalties assessed against the Christians amounted to between one hundred and two hundred yards. Almost every decisive gain made by the Frogs was set at naught by absurd, partial, and crooked decisions made by the worst official even seen on Clark field.

The game started with a rush when T. C. U. kicked off and Baylor returned to the fifty-yard line. The Bears tested the Frog line and found it virtually impregnable. By a series of passes the ball was brought to the Christians' thirty-yard line. At that point the Christian defense stiffened and Weathers of Baylor was called back for a place kick. The kick failed and Smith receiving the ball returned to the twenty yard line. Baylor soon got possession of the oval again and by means of nominal gains and a T. C. U. penalty reached the Frogs' four yard line. In the shadow of their goal the line held and the ball went over. Fowler punted but owing to a slippery field the punt was bad and the ball once more went to Baylor on the Purple and White twenty-yard line. Again the Bears started down the field and for an instant it appeared that they would score when Long received a long pass over the goal line. But he failed in the crucial moment by dropping the ball and the oval was once more awarded to the Christians on the twenty yard line. The quarter ended soon after.

In the second quarter Fowler opened up by punting and the receiving Bear was downed on the Baylor twenty-five yard line. A series of punts were interchanged, Fowler punting better than ever before. On the second T. C. U. punt the Baylor safety was downed on the twenty yard line. Then Baylor started the rush which was so fatal to the hopes of the two thousand T. C. U. boosters. Using Dotson and Wolf alternately a series of four long end runs were carried out with perfect interference. On the last of these runs Wolf circled left end and ran twenty-five yards for a touchdown. Weathers kicked goal.

T. C. U. received the kickoff and Wilson returned to the thirty-six yard line. The Frogs started an aerial attack and began to march down the field. Two successive passes were made to Cunningham. As the first half ended the Christians had reached the twenty yard line.

In the rest period the crowd was entertained by rival snake dances. From fifty to seventy-five Baylor rooters were given the field first. They were allowed seven minutes for their maneuvers. At the conclusion of their allotted time the T. C. U. rooters took the field and executed a mammoth snake dance perfectly. Fully five hundred T. C. U. boosters participated in this snake dance. Equipped with canes and horns and marching with a methodical "T-rah, T-rah, T. C. U.-rah" the long line of T. C. U. rooters made a pleasing spectacle and showed their unalterable faith in their team.

The second half was featured by the Christians indomitable fighting spirit, by Dotson's brilliant gains for Baylor, and by the brilliance of the T. C. U. offensive. With the exception of the last few minutes the greater part of the half was fought on Baylor territory. The worst of Touchstone's decisions were also made in this period. Twice Fowler got away for a brilliant twenty-yard run only to have the ball brought back and a penalty assessed against the Purple and White. Once the Christians were penalized because the umpire claimed that Fowler was hurdling. Stroud, the referee, was heard to say that he would never have penalized any team in such an instance. It was very evident that Touchstone's decision was made because he feared that if the gain were allowed to stand the Frogs would sweep everything before them and tie or win the game. And of course we are certain that the Right Honorable Mr. Touchstone never had any other intention than that Baylor should win the game even he had to hand it to them on a silver platter.

The last quarter found the two teams battling with the same determination that had marked the game from the first. T. C. U. had in this quarter her best opportunity to score when in spite of penalties the ball was worked down to the twenty yard line. At this point instead of trying an end run or a buck, Smith decided on a pass. The ball went over the goal line in spite of Scotty's desperate efforts to catch it. The ball then went to the Bears on their twenty-yard line. In the last few minutes of play the Bears again started up the field. It was found impossible to stop Dotson. Their march was uninterrupted until they reached the Frogs' sixteen yard line. There the rankest penalty of the game was assessed against the Frogs. On the preceding play the Baylor back was seen to crawl with the ball. Harris, of T. C. U., was accused by Touchstone of kneeling and T. C. U. was penalized fifteen yards and the ball placed on the Purple and White one yard line. Roars of protest came from the sidelines and the crowd swarmed out on the field. Various individuals of influence pleaded with Coach Hackney to call his team off the

THE GAME.

We do not wish to make alibis. That is not the policy of the Skiff. Had such been our policy we should have had ample opportunity to have made them at various times during the season for on several occasions it looked as if only the breaks sent the Frogs down to defeat. Nor do we desire to detract from any of the joys of victory which has come to the Bears from winning over their old time rivals. Under the circumstances Baylor won her game fairly and cleanly and there was much good sportsmanship apparent on both sides. But the work of the umpire without doubt consisted of unparalleled partiality. By the unfair and unjust decisions of Touchstone the Frogs were cut out of their best opportunities to score.

We should like to take this opportunity of repudiating the attitude taken toward the referee, Mr. Stroud of Louisiana State. In justice to the T. C. U. rooting section it must be said that to all appearances these unjust decisions were made by him. The spirit it changed speedily when these early impressions were corrected and the Purple and White boosters found out that Touchstone was the erring official. T. C. U. does not care to go on record as a school which baits officials and the attitude of the entire student body is one of regret that so much of the blame was wrongly attributed to the referee when the latter was only carrying out the decisions of a higher authority on such matters.

As for Touchstone T. C. U. has no retractions to make. The students are generally glad that he was enabled to leave the campus before the mob spirit took full sway but this does not lessen the general indignation against him. T. C. U. believes in fair play and has little use for those who work by unfair methods. The umpire evidently decided that "all was fair in love, war and football" and he certainly acted accordingly. Suffice it to say that the general feeling is decidedly and justifiably high against him and that T. C. U. has no further use for him.

The student body of Texas Christian University makes grateful acknowledgment to the firm of A. & L. August for their generosity in furnishing canes and horns free of charge to the T. C. U. boosters last Thursday. We are given to understand that this gift was made at the instigation of Jimmy Mahon, an old T. C. U. student. To both the firm and to the individual T. C. U. extends her thanks.

December 17 is the date set for the Christmas issue. Every student is urged to make some contribution to the Skiff at that time if possible. We are desirous of making the Christmas issue the best paper of the year so far but we cannot do this without the co-operation of the entire staff and student body. An eight page issue is planned and it is to be the last edition before the holidays. Special features are planned. All copy should be turned in by the 10th of December. Begin now and help make the Christmas issue the best of the year. It is up to you to make a success of it.

UNCLE HAPPY'S COGITATIONS.

BEARS:
Wud you a think it. Well, if yer wud, then I'm a jelly fish, an' your a exception tu the rule. But exceptions er no exceptions, you can't tell me thet they give Bears pig skins fer th' purpose uv eatin'. Why pork is so high thet it would take a whole mint working double time to keep in tech with it. Then yu stand up here and tell me they give a Bear a pig skin az a reception dinner on a visit to Fort Wurth. Even the price uv one pig skin, tu say nothin' uv th' work, ur maik my bank role look like the chances ov the feller whose sweetie had sued him az to a breach ov promise, who wuz being tried before a wimmen jury. Thet's a fact, an' I ain't plumb broke either.

But what I iz tryin' to say iz, it ain't no matter how much er how often er how strong, dope sez that we were to present on a silver platter lined with gold all the pig skin a Bear that visited us last Thursday with much apogetic ceremony, cud eat, well, az you all noticed we didn't. But Mr. Bruin had tu fight hiz limit, an' a little more, tu. Yep, he had tu hav help. The help ov which I iz tu explain.

I once knew a feller thet hed too bears. They havin' been fed plenty got rollin' fat an' clumsy. These here bears followed this feller ever where he went. He went about in a wagon quite a heap and az a result ov their fatness they wuz az impossible to git in hiz wagon when the feller started, az the feller in St. Louie that broke a jaw bone yawnin' so big over the effects of a dream about real beer last week. So they had to employ a means. Their means wuz the wagon wheel uv which they wud hug with all 4's and ride her to the top after which they wud let loose and roll over the side into th' wagon.

Likewise this here Turkey day Bear wuz helped by a means—. But what we started to say iz, ain't it funny thet a umpire wud hurry off in the heat of the day in a car with cops a hangin' all over it, fer th' sake uv protectin' the feller?

SOCIETY

BRAMLETTE-JONES WEDDING.

T. C. U. witnessed a gathering last week whose mission was not solely that of seeing T. C. U. out-play (if not out-score) Baylor, but also that of attending the wedding of a member of their group. The Jarvis Hall Seniors of '19, twelve in all, were at the Baylor game Thursday and Friday eleven of them were hostesses to the lucky twelfth, Miss Grace Jones, bride-elect, at a dinner at the Metropolitan. At this, a farewell gift from the class was presented to Miss Jones, and many speculations were advanced as to who would be the next to drop out of the Old Maid's Circle, which Miss Jones was the first to break.

The wedding of "Grace" to "Fred," occurred at 4:45 Friday afternoon in the parlors of the Broadway Presbyterian church, Rev. E. W. McDairmid officiating. Miss Genevieve Goff played the wedding march and accompanied Miss Dorothy Barber, who sang "Because." Miss Ava Maud Wester was maid of honor, and Mr. Bramlette, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The bride and groom left for Dallas immediately after the ceremony.

"Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Bramlette" will be at home in Paris after December 1. This wedding comes as the culmination of a happy romance, and to say that a host of good wishes goes out to these from every T. C. U. heart is but a mild way of expressing the truthful truth.

DINNER PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Doering entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner, Dr. Waits, Dr. G. W. Dunlavy of Oklahoma A. & M., Mr. and Mrs. Sam MacFarland of Dallas, Dr. and Mrs. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. McKee, Baroness Von Eggers, Miss Smith, McKenney, Abernathy and Miss Elizabeth Waits were the guests. —Fort Worth Record.

In a Kansas newspaper there was an article last week in regard to a theft of $20.00 worth of shoes. I don't understand why he didn't take the other one too.

FISH-SOPH GAME COMING.

Arrangements have been completed for a football game between the Fish and the Sophs. These interclass contests promise to be of unusual interest and much class spirit should arise as a result.

Neither class has picked an eleven to represent it as yet. Try outs were held on Monday evening. Each class has plenty of material and the game promises to be a drawn battle between deadly foes.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Possibly no guest among the host of old students who were visitors on the campus during the week attracted as much attention as Mr. Edward Brooke, Jr., Annie Mac's 3-months-old son. A "Beat Baylor" badge was pinned most appropriately to his tiny cap and he joined unceremoniously in the yells usually taking the lead.

Hattie Lee Dudney, winner of last year's scholarship was here Friday.

H. H. Hamlin of Wichita Falls has been with Cedric in Clark Hall.

Laura Dangelisen and Nello Connell have had as their guests Miss Dangelisen's brother and sister and Lula Maye Marcus of Liberty Hall.

Fred Gamble was over from Dallas for the game and Anson Rainey, Keat Lewis and Hubert Wester spent the week end with him on his return Friday.

Miss Sarah Wallace of Blooming Grove spent three days with Mrs. H. L. Barber the past week.

B. H. Thammell of Oklahoma University and Miss Katie Dickie of C. I. A. have been guests of Sybil Black.

Raymond Dulaney of Bonham came in for the game Thursday.

Miss Helen Phoebus, sponsor for the football team and her maids, Miss Hester Brite, Ruth Myers, Bertha Hensley and June Rhodes occupied a box at the game.

Miss Inez Hudging, a graduate student of Mr. Doering and now head of the piano department at Midland College was here Thursday.

Misses Waldrine Maxwell, Lila Brooks, and Fannie Maye Brigham from Wylie visited Nellie Moulden and Janice Maxwell.

John Bradley spent Friday and Saturday at his home in Wichita Falls.

Judge Raley, a graduate of the law school in '18 was here Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Elliot of State University and Tootsie Oldham of Corsicana were the guests of Mary Strange and Cobby de Stivers for the week.

Ruth Kneeland, '19 of Dallas and Charles Bassler looked natural strolling together on the campus Friday.

Clarence Gunter of Brandon, Carl Tittle, John Keith and Virgie Payne were here to root for their Alma Mater.

Mary Melton, '19, who is teaching in Plano has been visiting Merle Holsapple and Pauline Allen in Goode Hall.

Misses Ruby and Grace Douglas of Cleburne, Genevieve Goff of Sherman, Gladys Richards of Italy, and Anna Joe Pemberton of Vernon were among the old T. C. U. students at the game last Thursday.

field rather than permit such a rank injustice. Hackney refused and by the united efforts of the players and police the crowd was finally compelled to get back off the field. The Frog line held gloriously and the Bears were unable to cross that line. The game ended soon after and there was almost a riot. Escorted by police Touchstone left the field—the object of universal hatred and contempt.

Even Baylor players admitted that he had not given T. C. U. a fair deal.

The game was a remarkable exhibition of sportsmanship and clean playing. The Baylor team conducted itself on the field in a highly creditable manner. As for "Smiling Nig" Dotson, T. C. U. to a man and to a woman takes off its hat to him. He was without doubt the greatest sportsman that we have faced during the year. No matter how he was hit he always "came up smiling."

He was easily the star for Baylor. He was a clean sportsman and a gentleman and without doubt the hardest hitting back with whom the Frogs have had to contend this season.

It would be difficult to pick a star out of the T. C. U. lineup. Every man on the team fought as if inspired. Braced by the greatest show of enthusiasm of the year by the student body, the team made the greatest comeback in Texas football during the present season. The entire team fought as one man and three times held the Baylor Bears when the latter had only five yards to go for a touchdown. The team showed much more offensive strength than ever before.

THE PROGRESSIVE T. C. U.

In all departments of Texas Christian University there is the spirit of the modern times, that is, PROGRESS. The heads of the different departments are all trying to give T. C. U. better departments than ever.

This is most especially true of the Physics Department, which under the guidance of Professors Davis, Norris and Douglas, has taken a new step forward. New apparatus and supplies have been arriving every week and still more are to come. A new physics stockroom has been built, which contains all apparatus needed for the first two years of the subject.

One of the greatest improvements has been the starting and equipping of a course in electricity. Here all the practical, elementary and advanced sides of Electrical Engineering are now offered and greater improvements are to come. The room for this subject will contain such apparatus as the X-ray machine, wireless, telephones, motors,
