

CHAIN OF VICTORIES IS UNBROKEN

BAYLOR BEARS TASTE BITTERNESS OF DEFEAT AT HANDS OF HORNED FROGS ON COTTON PALACE GRID

Perfect Aerial Machine Work Nets Two Touchdowns for Victors, and Line Plunging Brings Third.

In a spectacular game before a large and enthusiastic crowd, the undefeated Texas Christian University Horned Frogs annihilated their traditional rivals and avenged last year's defeat by downing the Baylor Bears last Saturday at the Waco Cotton Palace by a score of 21 to 9. More than four hundred spirited rooters, including about a hundred fans from the city who have supported the team from early in the season, traveled down to Baylor town on the Katy special train to the glorious slaughter, and were not disappointed. The Bears, who were reputed to be strong on the serial attack, failed to develop this department, whereas two of T. C. U.'s counters were the result of perfect aerial machine work. The consistent football demonstrated by the Frog combination showed the superior training tactics of Coaches Driver and McKnight, and the correction of all weaknesses displayed in early season. The T. C. U. eleven proved the fact that it is the best balanced and well rounded out aggregation playing football on Southwestern gridirons this season. Representative of this section, it is the best team that could be selected to meet Centre College's wonder team.

Baylor played as good a game as any this season, and have a really remarkable player in 'Nig' Dotson, who would have played havoc with a weaker team and even stole away for a good gain on T. C. U., scoring their sole touchdown. Without Dotson the Baylor game would have been not even interesting to the T. C. U. spectators.

The first score came late in the first quarter. Ryan and Harris carried the ball to the Baylor 30 yard line, and a beautiful pass was effected for a touchdown, Fowler to Meyer. The first Baylor score came soon after with a field goal from placement by Weathers. In the second quarter Douglass intercepted a pass giving T. C. U. the ball on the 35-yard line. Jackson knocked off fifteen yards, Ryan and Harris bucked the line, and Acker tried a dropkick. This was blocked, but was recovered, and a forward pass was gathered in by Jackson behind the Baylor goal line, giving T. C. U. her second touchdown.

In the last period, the husky Dotson got away for a long run for a touchdown, followed shortly by another one by the Horned Frogs just to even things up for the quarter and complete a well-rounded-out victory. Driving the ball right down the field, T. C. U. smashed through the dazed Baylor defense and pushed the pigskin right over the goal line. The consistent Acker kicked goal.

The statement has been made before, and the Baylor game vindicates the claim, that T. C. U.

has the fastest and most completely balanced backfield in the state. It has a line like the proverbial stone wall, with Meyer, Douglass, Acker, and Spiller showing up as pillars of strength. This combination can't be beaten, is strong on offense and defense, has a reliable punter in Rowson, and a steady passer in either Fowler or Jackson. Ryan is always good for a gain through the line, and Harris, Rowson, and Jackson, when they get loose, are like a cyclone in Kansas.

PERSONAL ITEMS OF ART DEPARTMENT.

The Brushes have enrolled a brand new brush, Frances Lorraine Drennon, infant daughter of Anna Mae Tanner Drennon and Capt. Claude Drennon, born Nov. 5, 1920.

Miss Carrie Cassell was a welcome visitor in the Art Department last Friday. She has just returned from Harriman, Tenn., where she spent the summer.

Mrs. Charles Stewart and daughter, Virginia, visited the Art rooms recently.

A wedding of interest to Brushes and T. C. U. in general is that of Gladys (Skeete) Richards and Jack McCarter which took place on Nov. 15, at Italy, Texas.

William C. Jones was visiting the Cockrells during the past week. He has attended the St. Louis convention and was on his way home at Longview.

FROGS TO MEET PIRATES' CREW ON TURKEY DAY

Final Victory of Season Expected to Entail Hard Fight.

The champion Horned Frog crew is scheduled to meet the eleven from Southwestern University in one of the most interesting games of the season next Thursday. The Methodists have had a somewhat successful season so far, having panted a seven to nothing defeat on Baylor, and are going through intensive training in preparation for the game with the locals. It would be quite a feather in their caps to defeat the indomitable Purple and White machine and they are going to exert to the utmost for this. Coaches Driver and McKnight are not expecting a serious opposition, but they realize that overconfidence is to be avoided.

Active training will be continued after the Turkey Day battle in order that the athletes will be in tip-top condition for the New Year's Day game with Centre. A new slogan has been adopted to meet the new situation. "Beat Center" is in the mind and heart of every loyal T. C. U. rooter, and the school will throw every pound of energy into the final and crucial game, that, if won, will secure for T. C. U. athletic recognition all over the United States.

Dr. J. Frank Norris of the First Baptist Church spoke in the chapel of Baylor University November 4th, on the subject "The Jews Again at Home in the Holy Land." Dr. Norris has just returned from a visit to the Holy Land and a tour of Europe.

High Lights From the Baylor Game

Coach McKnight said before the game that "Nig" Dotson was good for at least two touchdowns against the Frogs. "Nig", however, wasn't so sure.

The fact that the Frogs hadn't attempted a single aerial attack before the Baylor game speaks volumes for the efficient coaching methods T. C. U. has this year.

While the Frogs were rolling the Bears in the sod out on the gridiron, the T. C. U. rooting section was making the Baylor section sound like a soloist in a boiler factory.

That on-side kick-off that Baylor pulled at the first of the game was a clever stunt and cleverly executed—but it didn't mean anything.

It was very noticeable, too, that it didn't buy the Bruins

BAYLOR BEAR BURIED AFTER FIT OBSEQUIES

Marble Slab Will Mark Final Resting Place of Bruin.

Funeral services for Mr. Baylor Bear, who died at his home in Waco, Saturday, Nov. 13, as the result of wounds inflicted by the sharp horns of a Horned Frog, were held in the auditorium of Texas Christian University on the evening of Nov. 15, in the presence of the entire T. C. U. student body. Mr. Bear has been at the point of death since Thanksgiving Day of last year, his condition has gradually grown more serious, and on the night before his death absolutely no hope was held out for his recovery. Consequently, his death on the following day was a surprise to very few people.

As was compatible with the Spirit of T. C. U., Mr. Bear was given a decent burial following the funeral services, which were conducted by Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the University Place Church, assisted by J. W. Boultinghouse, Edwin A. Elliott, and W. L. Thornton, who eulogized the deceased, speaking of the many times that he had afforded amusement to the Horned Frogs. Following the services in the auditorium, the procession wended its way solemnly to the place of burial on the campus, led by the pallbearers, "Uncle Billy" Acker, "Red" Spiller, "Dutch" Meyer, and "Boob" Fowler, a quartette which had contributed much to the demise of the late Bruin, as he was affectionately called by his many enemies.

A marble slab bearing the name of every man who was in the Purple and White uniform on the Cotton Palace arena Saturday will be erected on the site where the remains of Mr. Bear rest, as a monument to a deathless spirit.

anything when they made the Hornies turn those ornaments to the back. Those little footballs weigh only the fraction of an ounce, so it must follow that the extra weight that won the game was in the heads of the Horned Frogs.

The Waco papers came out with the bald statement that T. C. U. was unable to gain an inch through the Bears' line. So far, so good. What they probably meant to say was that when Ryan got started he didn't stop with inches but buried his nose in Baylor soil several yards beyond the line of scrimmage. In fact, they were able to stop him once out of the score of times that his play was called.

When the football season is over, Acker's toe should be put in a glass case and exhibited in the museum. Three more perfect goals were never kicked than

UNDEFEATED CHAMPIONS BRING SIMMONS COWBOYS OFF THEIR HIGH HORSE WITH 31-2 DEFEAT

Rowson Knocks Off Two Sixty-Five Yard Runs for Touchdowns, and Ryan Shows Old-Time Form.

Playing what was in many respects the loosest game of the season, the Horned Frogs this afternoon forged the eighth link in their unbroken chain of victories by defeating Simmons College, of Abilene, 31 to 2, at Panther Park. The weather was ideal, and the field was in excellent condition.

The Cowboys kicked off, and T. C. U. was downed on her thirty-five yard line. The ball was snapped into play, and in one of the most spectacular broken-field runs ever seen on the local gridiron, Rowson eluded his Cowboy pursuers and had he not slipped and fallen on the enemy's two-yard line, he would have carried the ball over for a touchdown. As it was, the pigskin easily went over the line in the hands of the plunging Ryan on the next down, and Acker kicked goal. The suddenness of the attack seemed at once to dishearten the Cowboys and to make the Horned Frogs careless. The latter were able to take the ball across for another touchdown in the same period, but the second quarter was characterized by loose playing, neither side gaining much, although when the whistle announced the end of the first half, the Frogs were going according to form.

By another phenomenal sixty-yard run in the third period, Rowson planted the pigskin squarely behind the Cowboy's goal for the third counter of the game, and Acker's toe made good again. Then by a series of powerful line plunges, for which he is famous, Ryan of T. C. U. carried the oval for the fourth touchdown, Acker again kicking goal.

In the fourth quarter Coach Driver substituted several second-string Frogs for the regulars, and the best the Christians could do was to carry the ball near enough to the standards to allow Acker to drop-kick a perfect field goal. This completed the Frogs' thirty-one points. The Cowboys' two points were handed them in the last frame when Rowson fumbled behind the T. C. U. line, recovered, and was mounted by a West Texan before he could regain his feet.

Douglass, Fowler, Houtchens, and Meyer showed up well as usual, and Harris played a good game while he was in, despite the fact that he has been ill since the Baylor game, Saturday. Camp also, for the few minutes he was in the play, produced some good stuff.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAINS FACULTY

An innovation was introduced into the regular meeting of the faculty Tuesday evening, when the newly organized Woman's Club of the University took charge and entertained with a social in the Art Rooms.

Miss Turner, Mrs. Jennings, and Mrs. Billington were hostesses to the gathering. Miss Cooper and Mrs. Davis had arranged a program which was participated in with zest by all the faculty. After the business meeting of the faculty, which was presided over by President Waits, the guests were served refreshments.

During the feast, Miss Elliott Todhunter, president of the Woman's Club, called upon Dean Hall, Prof. McDiarmid, Dr. Cockrell, and President Waits to respond extemporaneously to toasts such as "How I Trained Bert Swor for the Minstrelsy," by Dr. Hall, and "What Happens When Nothing Meets Nothing," by Dr. McDiarmid. The comments by the erudite gentlemen on the unique themes of the toasts are said to have been so clever and witty as to elicit beaucoup merriment.

Devoted to the promotion of a wholesome spirit of co-operation within the walls of Texas Christian University first, last, and all the time. Pledged to the support of high ideals. Committed to the task of reflecting the progress of the school in such a way that the outside world may be convinced that T. C. U. is the center of real and broadening culture.

THE BREAKS OF THE GAME.

"I've always noticed that the breaks of the game come to the club that is playing football."—Coach Driver.

That is the verdict that comes out of Billy Driver's long and successful experience as a pigskin pilot. And Coach is undoubtedly right. The team that is always on the alert, ready to snatch everything that comes its way, is usually in position to make the best of the breaks when they come. This has been demonstrated time and again this season when the agility of the Frogs has been responsible for the recovery of the oval for good gains and in some instances even touchdowns.

The same holds true in the game of life just as in the game of football. The man who sits and waits for the breaks to come his way, nine times out of ten, is forced to let the opportunity pass when it comes, because he is not prepared to make the best of it. On the other hand, the man who keeps his nose to the trail, so to speak, seeing everything, scouting everything, keeping himself in trim to meet anything, is the man who makes the touchdown when the ball is snapped. If he succeeds, people will call him lucky. Certainly. That is to be expected. But it is a brand of luck that will not bear analysis. When all is said and done, his success is due to his alertness, his enterprise, his willingness to submerge his present desires for pleasure in favor of the satisfaction of the wants of the future.

In the last analysis, the breaks of the game are not breaks at all, but are opportunities made by somebody's energy in excess of somebody's else.

DR. SOUTHWICK COMES TUESDAY

Students of Texas Christian University are interested in the announcement that Dr. Henry L. Southwick, president of the Boston School of Oratory, will interpret "The Rivals" on the University stage, Tuesday evening. Dr. Southwick was to have given his entertainment Wednesday evening of this week, but the schedule of trains prevented his arrival here in time for an appearance. However, it is considered fortunate that the change of plans involves only a postponement and not a cancellation of the date.

The announcement that Dr. Southwick will give "The Rivals" is of particular interest in that it is considered his greatest impersonation. The play is a comedy in five acts, and is replete throughout with laughs, according to J. Quincy Biggs, head of the Department of Public Speaking.

The eminent orator is widely known throughout the United States as a reader and impersonator, and his appearance is welcomed in T. C. U. He was heard on the University platform last year, being brought here under the auspices of the Oratorical Association, the live organization which is responsible for his second engagement here.

BRITISH STUDENTS KIDNAP YANKEE

College Dry Given "Army Deportation" by Sheffield University Boys.

Harry S. Warner, Educational Secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, was carried by a bunch of students out of the University of Sheffield, England, so that he might not give his address there. The victim was not hurt in the least and was none the worse for his experience.

When Mr. Warner entered the building in which he was to give his address, he noted an ambulance at the door, and wondered at its being there. Arriving early for the meeting, he was shown over the building but with a suspicious cordiality on the part of the many students who were about. Even tho he scented mischief, Mr. Warner was determined to stick. When they gathered in the hall to open the meeting, many of the boys stood around the sides of the room despite the request of the chairman for them to be seated. Just as the meeting had been called to order the lights went off, and the crowd rushed the chairman and both Mr. Warner and another speaker. The three tried to stay together but it was impossible. The American leader was shoved down the stairs and into the ambulance. After the vehicle was on its way and Mr. Warner well guarded, he was allowed to make himself comfortable, and he talked freely with the boys.

Mr. Warner tried to challenge the students with the unfairness of the trick, wanted to debate the question with them, and "chaffed" them with being afraid of the facts. The British boys were firm, but admitted that the American was right so far as the "question" was concerned, but that they "did not want their rights invaded." Then they added: "It is the opening of the year and you would have too good an opportunity with the raw material (a lot of Freshmen). We can't afford to let you start your ideas among them for we want our beer." It was all done in a joking manner, and a jolly chat was held along the way.

After driving out about six miles, they put Mr. Warner off on the dark lonely road. The "army deportation" was ended. However, the boys pointed out some lights about fifteen minutes' walk away, and told him that there he would be able to get a bus to the city limits where he would be able to get a car to his hotel. They then returned by another route. When Mr. Warner got back, of course it was too late for his meeting.

Mr. Warner's good sportsmanship over the "ragging" made for him many friends, and the incident was given wide publicity in all British papers.

San Carlo Company To Present Operas

The two operas, "Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana," will be given by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company at the Auditorium next Tuesday in place of "Faust," as previously announced. Since the list of four operas to be given here was first announced, so many requests have come in for "Pagliacci" that the management was persuaded to make the change. "Faust" has been given here more recently, and so it was determined to drop it from the repertoire.

In "Pagliacci" this company will be heard in its most dramatic vein. Mario Valle's Canio is celebrated from coast to coast, as is Giuseppe Agostini's "Pagliacci." And in "Cavalleria"

Giuseppe Inzerillo, the young Italian tenor who has just aroused New York's enthusiasm, will be heard with Mme. Consuelo Escobar, the beautiful Spanish coloratura soprano.

For this, the ninth annual tour of the San Carlo Company, Fortune Gallo, the impressario, has recruited the strongest personnel he has ever secured.

In addition to the established favorites, including Bettina Freeman, Giuseppe Agostini, Stella De Mente, Mario Valle, Pietro De Biasi and Natale Cervi, these operas bring before us two new stars in the operatic field whose advent in New York has been hailed with marked enthusiasm. First of these is Vincente Ballester, a young baritone of Spanish descent, who is credited with giving performances in "Rigoletto" comparable to Renaud's memorable renditions of the title role in this opera.

The new coloratura soprano, Mme. Consuelo Escobar, who has just arrived in America in a double sense, will appear as Gilda in "Rigoletto." Though Mme. Escobar has quickly risen to the height of a star during the past three years in Italian and South American opera houses, hearing is believing in grand opera. So it was not until she had sung with the Chicago company during the ten weeks' season at Ravinia Park that Mr. Gallo put her under contract and added her to his San Carlo cohorts.

It is apparent that the San Carlo Company has become a national institution. Whether the future tours of this famous organization will include Fort Worth among other Texas cities will, of course, be determined by the reception accorded the company on this visit.

Edited by Reginald Martin.
Marie Rappold, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, gave a very enjoyable program Saturday evening, Nov.
13, at the First Baptist Auditorium. Her most outstanding merit was her tone placement,
in which she demonstrated more than once that she was an artist of no mean merit. Her best group was the operatic one, in which she sang arias from three of Puccini's operas, the best being "Vissi d'Arte, vissi d' amour," from La Tosca.

Lambert Murphy, member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and of concert and oratorio fame, sang Monday night
at the First Baptist auditorium to a very large audience and a most appreciative one. His classic groups were well received,
but he scored a big success in his Irish group, singing "Ma-cushla," "Molly Bawn" and other well-known favorites, and gave as an encore "Come Back to Erin." Mr. Murphy's sheer ability and gift of singing was always evident, and it can be said that he is by far the most artistic singer that has appeared in Fort Worth this season.

On account of illness and an extremely bad cold, Miss May Peterson, lyric soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company,
and the prettiest woman on the concert stage, was unable to appear Wednesday night, as had been announced. However, she said that she would endeavor to arrange it so that she could appear here next March. It is to be regretted that Miss Peterson did not appear, as she has the reputation of being the "Golden Girl of the Metropolitan," a most enviable reputation.

Antoinette von Egger Doering,
of the fine arts department,
gave the best program of the year in chapel Wednesday morning. Mrs. Doering amazed
the students by her remarkable right hand technic, which compared favorably with Josef Lhevinne, who appeared here not long ago. It appeared at times that Mrs. Doering used the loud pedal with finer effect than did Mr. Lhevinne, whose use of it was at times a bit harsh. Mrs.
Doering's tone shading of Handel's "Gavotte," which she gave as an encore, was brilliant. The "Tarantella," by Liszt, which was her big number, was faultless.

Old Stuff.

On a certain occasion Prof.
Brander Matthews, of Columbia University, speaking jokingly of his age, said he trusted that he was not so old that the students could play on him the trick he once saw tried on a senior professor in his own college days.

"Professor Blank," he said,
"was our most venerable instructor, and he could be just a trifle irritable at times. Once, noticing that a member of his class who sat right under his eye never took any notes or paid
the slightest attention to his lectures, he stopped abruptly
and demanded:

"See here, young man, what do you mean by coming into my classroom day after day and never taking notes?"

"I have my father's" was the student's complacent reply."—

Bassett Presents Cup
to Undefeated Squad

The presentation ceremony for the silver loving cup which was promised the Horned Frogs by Washer Bros. in the event of the defeat of Baylor was conducted in chapel this morning by A. S.
Bassett, advertising manager for that progressive Fort Worth firm. In making the speech of presentation, Mr. Bassett declared that the Frogs had made good in a splendid way and that he was there for the same purpose.
Capt. Jack Haire received the trophy in behalf of the squad
and of T. C. U.

Mr. Bassett told of his plan to keep the cup until the end of the season and engrave it with the words "Undefeated Champions"
instead of only the Baylor score, and this announcement met with such approval from the student body that he finally decided to do so. The Frogs are yet undefeated, and there is only one more game to play—that with Southwestern on Thanksgiving Day here. When T. C. U. wins
this game, she will have accomplished that to which every team
aspires but few attain.

2 Young People=1 marriage
1 marriage = 2 quarrels
2 quarrels = 1 divorce
1 divorce = 2 marriages

At least that's the way
Cynthia Karlslake had it
all nicely reckoned out.
But she had failed to reckon in the Greatest Common Denominator—
which, as everybody
knows, is Love.

And so the divorce she had worked so hard to get was a failure, after all.

At the last convention of the New England Music Trades Association, held in September at Boston, credit was given the Eighteenth Amendment for the overwhelming demand of the past six months for musical instruments. Manufacturers are several months behind in filling their orders.

If a fellow tries to kiss a woman and gets away with it, he's a man; if he tries and doesn't get away with it, he's a brute; if he doesn't try to kiss her but would get away with it if he tried, he's a coward; and if he doesn't try to kiss her and wouldn't get away with it if he did, he's a wise man.—Selected.

At a recent religious census taken among 2,000 students at the University of Chicago by the Board of Christian Union, it was revealed that among the 2,000 there was only one atheist, only two agnostics, and that more men go to church than women.

SHORTHORN MILK COW MAKES GREAT RECORD.

A new butter record for shorthorn cows has been made by Snowdrop, a white 8-year-old cow, owned by Sherwood farm, Far Hills, New Jersey. During the year ending Oct. 20, 1920, she gave 15,550 pounds of milk testing 4.45 per cent, 691 pounds of butterfat.

Snowdrop's largest yield of milk and butterfat in any month was in December, 1919, when she gave 1608 pounds of milk, testing 4.346 per cent, 70 pounds of butterfat. She gave over 50 pounds of butterfat during every full month of lactation, except the last, September, when she fell less than two pounds below the mark. She was kept under practical farm conditions, being out of doors every day during the winter except for two of the stormiest days, and being outdoors day and night after the middle of April. She was on poor pasture for a month prior to calving, receiving no grain.

Prior to Snowdrop's record, the butterfat record for shorthorn cows for the United States and Canada was held by Ruth 3rd, whose record was 15,559 pounds of milk and 664.8, a test of 4.27 per cent. Other records nearly as high are those of Buttercup 2nd, of Mornel stock farm, Albert Lea, Minn., 15,608 pounds of milk and 657 pounds of butterfat, a test of 4.21, and Doris Clay of Glenside Herd, Granville Center, Pa., 17,241 pounds of milk and 653 pounds of butter fat, a test of 3.8 per cent.

Snowdrop is an imported cow, bred by William Foster, a thrifty tenant farmer of the North Country, in England. A half-sister, by the same sire, Lady Favorite, is owned by Glenside Herd, Granville Center, Pa., and has English record of 13,873 pounds of milk and an American record of 11,465 pounds of milk and 494 pounds of butterfat, an average test of 4.3 per cent. Snowdrop's pedigree is a mingling of Scotch and Bates blood, which was also the case with the former champion, Ruth 3rd. Snowdrop's sire is slightly more Scotch than Bates, Marr and Duthie appearing in Snowdrop's generation on the top side, and Willis and Cruickshank in the fourth generation. Her dam is a reasonably closely line bred Ingram animal of the Bates line of breeding.

This news item is written by Roy A. Cook, secretary of the Milking Shorthorn society, Independence, Ia.

PROVERBS.

Brevity is the soul of wit but not of love letters.

Old friends are like cheese—the strongest.

Modern woman wants the floor but she doesn't want to scrub it.

Exams are like the poor—we have them always with us.

Great bluffs from little study grow.

It takes a lot of nerve for a young married man to go into a store and buy a dozen safety pins from some girl he has once sweet on.

Far be it from us to defame anyone's character, but the degeneracy of the present age is well known, and it has even struck T. C. U. In the public records, which are published in the daily papers, it was found (by the illustrious assignment editor) under District Court Filings, one Alice Bradley vs. John Bradley, suit for divorce, alleging cruelty and non-support. Girls of T. C. U., beware of these male vampires.

Seventy-three colleges and universities of this country now have correspondence courses of study. Of these, sixty-one are state institutions and twelve are privately endowed.

A teacher was having a great deal of difficulty in making clear to a boy the meaning of the word "recuperate."

"Now," said the teacher, "your father is a hard worker, isn't he?"

"Yes, sir; he is," said the boy.

"And when he get's home at night he's dead tired, is he not?"

"Yes, sir; he is."

"Then," pursued the teacher, "since it's night and he's dead tired and work's over, what does he do?"

"Ah," said the boy, "that's what mother wants to know."
