Captain Ed Weems, Chump Parker, Pete Fulcher, and the rest of the Frog track athletes are hard at it in preparation for the coming of the Texas Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association track and field meet which is to be held on Clark field this year.

To date not all members of the association have indicated their intentions as to entrance yet. However, entry blanks are coming in loaded every day, and all augers well for a bang up meet.

According to Bill Driver, athletic director of T. C. U., Viehl Crawford intends to give the trophy for the winning team, A. J. Anderson Sporting Goods Company intends to donate a cup for the winning relay team, and J. R. High is to give a trophy to the winning tennis team.

The Fort Worth University Club in the Metropolitan Hotel extends its courtesies to all members of the visiting teams.

The preliminaries begin at 10 a. m. in the 100 yard dash, the 120 yard hurdles, the 220 yard dash, and the 220 hurdles. The finals are to be run off at 3:30 p. m.

Several of the possible Frog entries are: Fulcher, discus; Weems, half mile; Parker, high jump; Ogan, javelin; McBee, jumps; Briscoe, mile; and Cantrell, weights.

VARSITY DEBATORS K. O. PHILLIPS UNIVERSITY ARGUMENT DISPENSERS

BUHLER AND McREYNOLDS PRESENT LAST ARGUMENT IN T. C. U.

Tag.

T. C. U., represented by M. A. Buhler and A. B. McReynolds, defeated Phillips University of Enid, Oklahoma, represented by C. Goddard and F. G. Davis, in the question debated here Friday night: "Resolved, that immigration to the United States should be prohibited by law for a period of two years."

The decision was two to one in favor of the negative. "Rise to the Occasion," the Christians' old battle cry, has for the past several weeks welled up in our debaters and given them the tenacity of purpose and wisdom of facts which set them forward as extremely worthy representatives of old Varsity in this debate which was undoubtedly one of the best products of clear thinking that has ever transpired on the local platform.

A decision over Phillips U. has been striven for this year because her team is considered one of the best in the south, having a coach of admirable argumentative conceptions and an enthusiastic debating department. Among the scalps added to her belt last year was that of the University of Southern California; and recently Oklahoma A. and M. and the University of Tulsa bit the dust before her onslaught.

Coach Taylor accompanied his team from Phillips to the battle ground. In reference to his methods of training he stated that he emphasized content above all else and really encourages individuality on the stage, however correcting any awkward eccentricities that arise.

A committee on debates has been giving invaluable aid to T. C. U. representatives this season, and with signal success. Mr. Buhler and Mr. McReynolds, men in their senior year who have "fussed" over many questions to the glory of the "T," took themselves into their own hands to prepare for this, their last clash as colleagues, a process which would ordinarily be dangerous, but which in their case produced a masterpiece.

T. C. U. STUDENTS TO BE AT Y CONFERENCE HOLLISTER, MISSOURI

T. C. U. will be represented at the sixth annual Ozark Mountain Student's Conference of the Y. M. C. A., which will be held at Hollister, Missouri, June 9th to 19th. Sidney Clark, who has rendered valuable service this year as a T. C. U. "Y" worker, has been selected as one of the representatives, and probably two other students will be selected between now and June 9th.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities in charge have planned to make this the most memorable occasion in the lives of the student representatives; they intend to make these ten days such that each student present will treasure them as his greatest in fellowship, in recreation, and in gaining a world view-point.

John R. Mott and other well known American and foreign speakers will be there. In fact, the whole lecture program is made up of the names of men of international reputation. Some of the subjects discussed will be Y. M. activities in colleges, and methods of meeting various opportunities for service.

Announcement has been made to the effect that the Student's Y. M. C. A. is to have charge of the evening church services in the University church Sunday, April the 30th.

What is said to be a unique program has been arranged. Speakers of the evening are James W. Bender and Wilburn Page. Ashley Robey is to give selections on the saxophone.

CHEER UP WITH T. C. U. STUDENTS FOR LEGION AMATEUR THEATRICAL

Wonderful Skits, Three Big Acts; University Students Throughout.

T. C. U. students are to appear in the amateur three-act musical comedy, Cheer Up, which is to be given the evenings of April 27 and 28 in the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce building for the benefit of the Bothwell Kane Post of the American Legion.

The first act is a carnival scene of the kind, it is said, which the American citizenry was wont to indulge in in the days of yore. It is believed by those who have watched rehearsals to be a scene chock full of events of side-splitting proclivities.

Jess Martin, assistant district attorney and T. C. U. alumnus, is the head carnival man. Martin says that one feature of the scene is that a chorus of so-called dimple-kneed young men will appear. Another feature, he says, which might be of interest to T. C. U. students is a dance contest and the fact that Miss Lola May Armstrong, day pupil, takes a part.

The second act is an old fashion garden scene. This scene is given as one of beauty unbounded. One phase of the act is that Misses Lois Woody, Lola May Armstrong, Helen Conkling, and Evelyn Bell who are vocal students here in the Institution are to give several selections in accordance with the system of the act. A quartet of T. C. U. male students also makes an appearance in this act. The four consists of McBee, Dickerman, Dudney, and Carson.

Between acts Bob Dunn of Fort Worth is to give imitations of the famous negro comedian, Bert Williams. Rumor has it that Dunn's take off of Williams is well nigh perfect.

The last act comes in the form of a carabaret. Press agents for the theatrical say that this scene is attractive and one of elaborate efforts to please the eye. They say that artistic dances are a part of the skit.

The show is to be closed with an elaborate display on an electric saw.

Misses Taylor and Hagler, T. C. U. students, are to appear also.

POPULAR ARTIST WILL LEAVE THE UNIVERSITY TO ALBION, MICHIGAN

Ralph R. Uniacke, popular artist of the fine arts department, has resigned his position as head of the violin department and has given notice of his acceptance of an appointment to a similar office in Albion College, Albion, Michigan.

During his connection with T. C. U., which has had an endurance of nearly three years, Mr. Uniacke has established a tie with the student body and faculty of the University which will not be broken without considerable regret. His remarkable ability as a violinist, his readiness to enter into all the activities of the school, and his magnetic personality, are all factors which may not easily be replaced, it is felt.

Mr. Uniacke's friends in the University and in Fort Worth—indeed, it is difficult to say which has the greater claim on him, the school or the city—are placing the young artist high up in the musical world in their prophecies, and their good wishes will go with him and his accomplished wife wherever they may go.

John A. Erhard, Jr., state secretary of the Students' Y. M. C. A., called on Edwin A. Elliott and Freeman Heath at T. C. U. Monday. He expressed himself as highly pleased with what the T. C. U. "Y" has accomplished this year. Some time next week he will appear on the T. C. U. platform as a chapel speaker.

DRAMATIC ACTIVITIES IN T. C. U. ON GO ARE NOT FLAGGING

"Grumpy," Four-Act Comedy-Drama to be Presented Soon.

Fears that interest in dramatic activities in Texas Christian University is flagging have been effectively dissipated by the announcement that members of the Footlights Club are planning the presentation of "Grumpy," a four-act comedy-drama which wormed its way into the hearts of lovers of the legitimate stage years ago with Cyril Maude in the title role. Miss Erskine Long, director of dramatics, has selected the cast for the play. Considerable work has already been done and announcement of the date for the presentation of "Grumpy" is expected soon.

The action of the play revolves around an old English gentleman, Mr. Bullivant, familiarly known to those who dare to be familiar with him as "Grumpy," a retired criminal lawyer whose eccentricities furnish one laughable situation after another. The plot affords "Grumpy" the opportunity for a bit of uncanny detective work—and the old fellow is quite equal to the occasion. The story in brief, according to information gleaned from the Footlights press notices, is as follows:

Ernest Heron, employed by an English mining firm in Africa, is sent to London with an immensely valuable diamond-in-the-rough for disposal. Instead of going straight to London he stops for a night at the home of his uncle, Mr. Bullivant, in the country, where lives the latter's granddaughter Virginia, whom Heron hopes to marry. He finds a visitor at the home of his relative, a Mr. Jarvis, who has succeeded in making quite an impression on the old gentleman and Virginia, especially the girl.

That night, after all except young Heron have apparently retired, someone enters the room where he sits, there is a struggle, Ernest receives a felling blow on the head, and the intruder escapes with the diamond. Next morning all traces of the supposed burglar appear to be obliterated. Heron has not yet regained consciousness and grave fears for his recovery are held by the family physician, Dr. McLaren. "Grumpy," fustily as is his wont, sets about to clear up the mystery. The only thing that approaches a clew is a camelia found clutched in the injured man's hand. The old gentleman is about to give this up as no clew at all when he accidentally discovers that Ernest had been wearing an entirely different camelia the evening before—a camelia which, by a caprice of the housemaid Susan to make Jarvis's manservant jealous, had a hair tied round the stem. "Grumpy" makes the significant statement that if "Mr. Ernest should go under, that hair around that camelia may develop into a rope around somebody's neck," and from there out the play is a mad rush to get possession of the camelia with hair around the stem. Mr. Bullivant finally gets it and traps the criminal, who is none other than the suave Jarvis. Ernest recovers and everybody's happy.

The cast includes: M. W. Bishop as Heron, James Slayter as Jarvis, Anne Ligon as Susan, Earl Dudney as "Grumpy," Mary Poston as Virginia, Frank Morrison as Ruddock, Lena Shelley as Mrs. McLaren, Martin Batton as Dr. McLaren, Bob Badgett as Keble, and Ashley Robey as Wolfe the Jew.

Eight reels of progressive movement vividly and faithfully pictured the story of Shakespeare's tragedy, "Macbeth," on the cinema screen in the main auditorium Thursday night to a moderate size audience of students, pupils and townfolk. A prologue by the Shakespeare class of T. C. U. introduced the picture. The release was made by the Lasky corporation to the "Y" associations of T. C. U. on a division basis, with the understanding that no release should be made to a theatre outside of the University on a previous date.

AUSTIN TEAM FALLS IN TWO CONTESTS BEFORE T. I. A. A. NEAR CHAMPS

Loovern Stars at Bat In One; Cherry Makes Rare Catch In Other.

Another T. I. A. A. baseball championship seems to be a sure thing for the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, since the defeat of Austin College's highly touted baseball nine on the local diamond in two hectic contests Monday and Tuesday afternoon of last week by the score of 11 to 8 and 7 to 5.

In the first game Dutch Meyer, pitching for Varsity, had an off day. It seemed that the T. C. U. twirler had worlds of stuff but just naturally could not control it. Peculiar to state the Dutchman struck out nine men, but on the other hand, yielded thirteen safe hits to the visitors.

Froggy Loovern was the star of the afternoon. He no doubt saved the day for the Varsity machine by his connecting with two three-baggers with men on the bases.

Meyer and McKown both made two hits for their share of the batting honors. A feature of the visitor's play was the fact that Hollis, 2d and Poole, if for that team are credited with four safeties each out of four trips each to the plate.

Second Setto. Sammy Gaun, pitching for the Frogs in the Tuesday afternoon affair, was effective all the way. Walks combined with errors are the sole reasons for the fact that the score was 7 to 5 instead of about 7 to 1 no doubt.

SHIRLEYS IN PROGRAM DELIGHT AUDIENCE TO A VERY GREAT EXTENT

Men Of All Departments Entertain With Music, Talks, Nonsense.

Music, talks, and bits of nonsense made up the open program given by the Shirley Literary Society, Tuesday, April 18.

Men from all departments of the university did their bit in entertaining their hearers.

Melvin Bishop in his "Welcome Address" made everyone feel at home. He stressed the importance of the four societies working together in furthering the best interests of the school at large.

Theodore Fulcher gave new life to that antiquated expression "Thirty Red Skins Bit the Dust." In a talk very comically illustrated by a variety of jokes he immediately won the hearts of all present.

Edward Slater in his "Tribute to the Walton Girls" quoted Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" and ended with a beautiful toast to his sisters.

Prof. Uniacke, who is always in demand at every entertainment, pleased even those lovers of jazz with two selections on his violin. His masterful beauty of technique and tone was enjoyed highly.

J. A. Chestnut gave a short sermonette on that all important subject "Service." His message brought home several facts that are needed at this time of year when every one is lulling around from the effects of Spring fever.

T. E. Dudney in a talk full of prodigious nondescript phrases made his audience believe that "Black is White." He began in a very comical manner but at the end he made some very fine points that were well received.

Emerson Holcomb's piano solo was pleasing to the ear and he very graciously responded to an encore.

"Puge" Cross nearly broke up the program in his "Miscellaneous." His partner in the skit, "Pewee" Robey, did not show up on account of being under the weather with "Lacadaisia." Humor was his watchword throughout and his friendly jabs at his fellows was highly enjoyed.

The program in all was a cure for melancholia and the efforts of the Shirleys were greatly appreciated by the audience.

SHIRLEYS WILL BRING FAMOUS LECTURER TO VARSITY AUDITORIUM

Alaska, the Land of Hardships and Romance; Travelogue.

Page.

Travelogue in natural colors—Alaska—the frontier wonderland of the world, is the sum total and gist of the Shirley program to be presented in the main auditorium of the University Friday evening May the 5th with Edgar C. Raine of Seattle, Washington the sole number on this program.

Mr. Raine has lectured in Texas Christian University in the past and was well accepted by both students and Fort Worth people.

It is stated that Edgar C. Raine knows more of Alaska by actual contact with all parts of it, than any other man in the world; having resided in and traveled extensively through the Territory during the past twenty-two years, six of which, as the representative of the United States Treasury Department, he visited every town and village in Alaska and many villages in Siberia, once a year.

Mr. Raine packed an outfit over the famous Chilkoot Pass in 1897, during the stampede to the Klondike.

It has been said that he has seen Alaska evolve from a Land of Farobanks to a Land of Savings Banks. Many of his pictures were taken when Alaska was a country of "Hardship and Romance."

Mr. Raine takes his audience through every town in Alaska and several villages in Siberia; presenting the Northland in all its wondrous beauty and scenic grandeur. The beautiful "Inside Passage" terminating in the incomparable Lynn Canal; the lofty, snow-capped mountains rising from the sea to dizzy heights; impressive glaciers and picturesque waterfalls; the seal, reindeer, caribou and walrus herds; Eskimo igloos, and Siberian Mazinka houses; Totems with their legends; the hardy Eskimos in their Omiaks and Kyaks; quaint Aleuts in their native dress; Queen Ollieka in her reindeer Parka; whaling with the natives at Point Barrow; the "Midnight Sun"; the "Northern Lights"; the customs and history of an interesting country.

An hour and a half of entertainment filled with views of compelling interest, of thrilling experiences of absorbing stories illustrative of the fascinating life of the Northland.

Seldom if ever has a Literary Society in Texas Christian University offered such an evening of education, entertainment, and stories of the lure of the North, or any other distant land.

Each Shirley member has a quota of tickets for this event.

JUNIOR WEEK IS SAID TO BE AN INNOVATION PLANS OUTLINED NOW

"Junior Week", announced by the class of 1923 some time ago is, said to be somewhat in the nature of an innovation in T. C. U.

The first week in May—next week—has been designated by the Juniors for their special activities. Committees are committing and plans are reported in a high stage of formulation for a sextet of gala days, beginning Monday, May 1.

A May breakfast on the river, it is said, will initiate the week. The annual Junior-Senior event will be during that period and will probably take the form of a picnic at Lake Worth. Another social event will be a party strictly for Juniors, to be held at some residence in the city. Other events on the week's program will be of a more serious nature, say the Juniors. Members of the class are slated to take charge of all activities of the various societies, Y. M. and Y. W., one chapel exercise, and so on.

The project is expected to gain favor with succeeding student generations, and it is thought that the class of 1923 is establishing a precedent which may in time become a tradition of the University.

THINK, PEOPLE.

Puge.

People, there are many smiling, nonchalant persons in this world. There is quite a number of happy go lucky, seemingly care free types of humans on this old earth.

Friends, you have often thought that these people had never a care in the world, or a serious idea. You have believed that they were frivolous—perhaps they were, but what of it? You imagined that they were foolish, addle-brained—mayhaps they were, but there is a doubt. Anyhow, give them the advantage of this doubt.

Do not think that just because one is merry most of the time, and does not mind seeing the comical side of life and laughing at it, that he is a fool, or in the common vernacular—a nut.

That bright faced chap with the witty tongue may be a much better man than you. He may have seen more hardships, and he may be working under heavier handicaps than are you, who knows?

Listen to this—he may be a TWO FOLD better man than you, he is an OPTIMIST. The chances are that while he is indulging in a bit of tomfoolery, he is merely masking his true and deeper inward feelings.

There is no way of finding out how many heart aches, mind wounds, and how much suffering is hidden by that smile laden countenance.

Admire that man, do not ridicule him. The man who can be hilarious at all times is a man's man.

THINK AGAIN, PEOPLE.

Puge.

Have you ever admired and kind of looked up to a man because he was a man of few words, a man of reserve, a man who seemed to be bulging with pent up wisdom which he seldom let loose for the benefit of others? Certainly you have—we all make mistakes.

There are many men of a very solemn mien, who say but little, and who seem to have this so-called quiet reserve for all occasions; and because of that the rest of us poor fools believe that in all their solemnity and their lack of conversation that they are men wise in the ways of the world, believe that they are men who have much knowledge in the affairs of life and who out of the dignity of their positions on this old earth refuse to divulge but little to us ordinary humans.

Folks, life is just one big joke. Those august appearing quiet persons are silent because in twenty-nine cases out of twenty-eight they in their ignorance have nothing to say, and you will find that that august appearance appears nowhere but in our minds.

So, hereafter do not put your trust in a man because he seems to know much and says little. The chances are that he has not as much sense as you have. It is the man who has knowledge who talks. Who knows but that the man who speaks little is similar to the stolid North American aborigine—quiet because he has nothing to think about, speechless because he is dull? Let's show a little life, folks.

ADD-RAN-CLARK SPICE BOX

Add-Rans met in weekly session, Wednesday evening, April 19, and witnessed a very good but exciting program.

Misses Fannie Mae Weisman, Ida Tobin, and Hattie Rue Hartgrove as a committee from the Clarks met with the Add-Rans to discuss the annual spring cleaning of the Society Hall.

Henry Fussell gave as his part of the program the plans of the "Skiff" for the next year.

Hattie Rue Hartgrove delighted all with a piano solo.

Dr. Bryson addressed the group with a very interesting and entertaining talk on "The Benefits of a Literary Society."

The rest of the meeting was given over to business. Much was the excitement thereof when the girls gave their plans for fixing up the room. If fifty per cent of the plans spilled in this meeting are carried out why nothing can stop us.

Adjournment closed the meeting but a small group tarried a few minutes discussing prices and labor.

The Store With Thirty-Three Years' Reputation.

It is with pardonable pride that we carry this line at the head of every one of our advertisements. For one-third of a century MONNIG'S DRY GOODS COMPANY has served the people of Fort Worth and its large trade territory. From a small beginning it has grown into one of the strong institutions of Service in Texas.

The secret of our success has been that from the very first the REPUTATION of MONNIG'S for Honest Merchandising, for Honest Quality, for Honest, Value-Giving Service, backed up at all times by a "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back" Guarantee has been zealously guarded.

On this trinity of Honest Merchandising, Honest Quality and Honest Value-Giving Service the MONNIG DRY GOOD SCOMPANY has reared its organization—on this trinity it has established that confidence which the children and children's children of the Customers of Thirty-Three years ago have in MONNIG'S. It is the jealous guarding of the trinity that makes the resulting Good Will our most highly treasured asset.

As we stand at the threshold of a new fiscal year when plans for the fitting celebration of another Anniversary are maturing, we feel it proper to assure our hosts of friends that the MONNIG policy of making every sacrifice to uphold our price-less Reputation will be as faithfully adhered to in the future as in the past, and this means—

The only complaint that I have to register is that Mabel rammed a hair pin into my wrist about four feet the other evening causing me to lose my equanimity and lots of blood. And I hadn't done a thing to her—yet.

The Walla Walla Hot Dogs is about to have a bust up. This here Doc Bender persists in going out to see that girl on Mistletoe instead of coming to rehearsals. Yeh, he claims that he is doing research work for the troupe, but we got enough data for our love scene now, and there aint going to be no pseudo comedian named Bender running around here any more if he don't start training for his skit in the Senior Majestic.

The Add-Rans put out a nifty little edition of the Skiff last week. I always did hold that that organization would be stepping right out there amongst 'em some day. I have played so much pinocle with most of them fellows that I feel like I know um better than the queen of spades is acquainted with the jack of diamonds in this same said famous game of you stack the deck and I meld three hundred.

I kinda believe it would be a good idea to agitate a inter-society pinocle meet. McCartney, Add Ran president, shakes a wicked straight and a hundred aces every now and then, but Ogan and Cantrell of the Shirleys ain't no slouches at this type of competition either.

I heard something said about all the T. C. U. societies coming together in a big picnic somewhere. I calculate that to be a pretty fair idea if we get a move on us and put the thing over in a good style. Think it over folks.

Boy, howdy! You birds who missed that Hula show in the Woman's Athletic Association Carnival the other night had better pull the moss off your backs and be prepared for the next such event. Them gals was downright knockouts. If I'd had a watch and chain those women would have surely got 'em before I could have screwed up enough courage to say no and got out of there.

This here Ida Tobin and Edwina Day was the original Hawaiian vamps, and this here Bernice Gates had Princess Ishicomuga or what ever her name is of Honolulu backed clear off the isle.

That Verda Jarrel girl and a couple of her freshmen got me and Homer cornered in one of them side shows and taught us how to make home brew, and then set us up to a chicken dinner. Hot Stuff.

Speaking of women reminds me that I still have some stationery of that wonderful type which I been selling around here for the last several months. Come on, women, be patriotic and blue blooded and buy some aristocratic Horned Frog writing paper.

Us business men are having a hard time making much profit during this period of financial depression. Yeh, selling this paper at a loss—of course.

Lord help us, darned if it isn't about the time when all these would be politicians start bleating forth on the atmosphere at large in this institution. Time for some bird to be running hisself for president of the student body, etc. Dutch announced this fact in chapel the other day.

This fellow was all-A. E. F. full-back during the war. We oughtta have one sweet football club next year.

Many a great politician has received his start here in the halls of this old institution. Yeh, and many a amateur Tammany Hall expert got it in his neck in them same corridors. It wont be long till we start getting bored to death by a bunch of everlasting stump speeches. Uh huh, Puge will be in the election-eering for some poor mutt, spoiling the mutt's chances of being chosen to office.

This little fellow named Cranfeil is training up for the coming season in football. Yours truly put on the gloves with him the other day to help him take off a little surplus weight. The son of a gun is taking the heck of it is he seems to want it off, no doubt about that, but to plaster it all onto me. Gosh, he gave me a sore eye, a wrenched lip, and a cauliflower ear all in one workout.

The big tub says he wants to take off thirty-one pounds. I asked him how much he wanted to weigh, and he says 210. Can You imagine a guy that big running around loose? What if he was to step on somebody?

Boy, aint women hard to get along with? I was out to a girl's house the other day and stepped on her dog's tail, and now she, the girl, wont speak to me. However, the only regret I got is that I was trying to step on the beast's, the dog's, head and he changed ends before I could make connections. There aint no gal going to cuddle up no dog when I am around.

Hooray for the greatest society beyond a doubt on T. C. U. hill, the Shirley. Records show that this organization has and has had for years the greatest aggregation of athletes, theologians, and orators of any literary society in the Southwest.

("Keep the lid on your skull or behold! you will be psycho-analyzed out of your thoughts.")

Mr. Dan Sewell has requested the following epitaph to be placed upon his tomb: "Here lies the bookful blockhead, ignorantly read, with loads of learned lumber in his head."

W. A. A. CARNIVAL T. C. U. RARE TREAT FOR ALL CONTEST BIG BABIES

Clark.

The Woman's Athletic Association presented a rare treat in the carnival given in the "Y. W. C. A." rooms at the gymnasium on Friday night, April 21. Every feature of a real carnival was cared for and the whole program was a great success.

Perhaps the high water mark of carnivalistic attainment was reached in the "Better Babies Show." Each entry was provided a private nurse and the whole show went off with unusual smoothness, there being only two bottles broken during the evening. The judges encountered great difficulty in the awarding of places as there were so many who were worthy of being first. After a long and heated discussion of the relative merits of each of the babies, highest honors were given to little Willie McConnell. We are proud of the progressive spirit manifested in this contest and we are sure that great good for the student body will come from it.

The next, in order of the great attractions, was the Hawaiian Dancers. These noted natives are at the present making a tour of the United States, and very kindly consented to pay a short visit to T. C. U. These girls were dressed in their natives costumes consisting of grass skirts, anklets, and a smile. Their program of quaint Hawaiian music with dancing to match was enjoyed by all, and it is hoped that they will favor us with a return program in the near future.

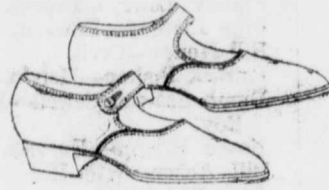

The minstrel show was in every sense a real success and the four black face comedians omitted nothing in song or story that might add to their bill. They are real fun makers of the highest type and it is certain they will experience a great season.

Other attractions too numerous to mention were to be found. It can be said that the entire program from the "shoot" by which entrance was made, to the awarding of the prizes, was indeed a great success, and it is hoped that the Athletic association will favor the students often with their interesting programs.

JOINT PICNIC OF FOUR SOCIETIES IS SUGGESTED

In recent months there has been such a fine spirit of co-operation between the four societies and at the same time all have had a larger growth. It strikes the writer that the road of friendship and co-operation is the best road to travel, and then too it is the successful route.

Now to cement this fine feeling let's have a big Shirley-Walton, Add-Ran-Clark picnic, with all sharing the responsibility for the program and eats.

I know that every one would feel the better for the action because it would give all a time of enjoyment and get together that is experienced only in the big new students reception that comes but once a year, and then when you know very few of the students.

Whatcha say fellows? If you like the idea put it into action.

The raveled carpet-rag mustache of Dr. Bender is now in evidence. We are wondering if a cat crawled in through his screen.

Ku Klux Klan Speech for the week: "Men and Brethren, what T. C. U. needs more than dress reforms or any other reform is a device which will enable asthmatic barbers like Hubert Robinson to swallow their own breath."

The smack seemed to be for a sure home run. There was a man on base. Probably this catch kept Varsity's win column from being dented up to date.
