TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY, FORT WORTH, TEXAS, MONDAY, MAY 29, 1922

NUMBER 31

PROFESSOR BRYSON DEAD

COMMENCEMENT WEEK OPENS WEDNESDAY EVE WITH MAY FESTIVAL

FORTY-EIGHT GRADUATES RECEIVE DEGREES TUESDAY MORNING.

The initial event of the 49th Annual Commencement Week will be the May fete, which will be held Wednesday, May 31. Miss Shumate of the department of physical training has worked up a spectacular program for this occasion. Miss Rosa Driver as May Queen and Miss Leona Crain as maid of honor will head the fete with a large court. A May pole dance and numerous other aesthetic dances will be carried out by some of the most beautiful and graceful girls of the University.

The Fine Arts department, under the direction of Dean Carol C. McKee, will present a large number of art students in recital. Owing to the unusual number of graduates in the Fine Arts department the program will be carried over until Friday, June 2.

The Reed Oratorical contest has been for many years one of the features of Commencement week. Malcolm H. Reed, of Austin, Texas, offers a $50 gold watch to the winner of the event. This year Vernon Bradley, A. B. McReynolds, and Henry E. Fussell are competing for the prize. The contest will be on Saturday evening, June 3.

Dr. L. D. Anderson of the First Christian church will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning June 4. On Monday, June 5, the Board of Trustees will have their annual meeting while the students are busily engaged in final examinations.

Class day exercises will be Monday at sunset. Following this the Footlights Club will present a four-act comedy drama, "Grumpy," in the main auditorium.

The crowning event of the year, of course, will be the Commencement exercises Tuesday, beginning at 10 a. m. Forty-eight graduates will receive degrees.

At 7:30 p. m. the annual meeting of the Alumni Association will be in session.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will close the school year with final examinations for the underclassmen.

Council Awards Purple "T" to 22 Athletic Frogs

The finishing touches to a successful athletic season came to pass in the big gymnasium last Saturday morning during the meeting of the T. C. U. Athletic Council. The meeting culminated in the awarding of twelve letters to Varsity's versatile track men and ten letters to the state champion Horned Frog baseball team.

Prior to the awards the "T" association met and baseball men voted Shortstop "Tan'ae" McKown to be captain of the 1923 ball tossers.

The track men receiving letters are Captain Eddie Weems, Parker, Fulcher, Cantrell, Ready, Adams, Howard, Cherry B., Briscoe, McBee, Smith E., and Manager Martin Batton.

The baseball men who are honored are Captain McDaniel, Bateman, Meyer, Gann, Livesey, McKown, Carson W., Cherry B. Lovvorn, and Manager Bill Acker.

MRS. ROBERTS WILL REPRESENT CLARKS AT NATIONAL MEET

The Clark Literary Society will be represented at the Bi-Annual National Federation of Women's Clubs at Chautauqua, N. Y., June 20, by Mrs. Chas. H. Roberts.

The Clarks are exceedingly fortunate in having Mrs. Roberts as their representative, as she has had a great deal of experience in club work, and is well informed on all the leading questions of the day, which will be discussed at the conference.

They are looking forward to accomplishing big things next year because of the information and increased interest that Mrs. Roberts will bring back from the conference.

CIRCLE GIRLS GIVE PICNIC IN HONOR OF MISS MUSGRAVE

By DOROTHY BROWN

Everybody is trying to do something different these days but it seems they all end by giving a picnic. The Girls' Circle gave their annual picnic May 26. This year they had as their honoree Miss Ruth Musgrave.

Members of the losing side in the reading contest were hostesses. Everyone ate to her heart's content but even then there was a quantity of food left. Can you feature that? After the eats were finished a short business meeting was held and new officers were elected.

The outgoing officers have carried the Circle through this year with flying colors. Ida Tobin has finished her second year as president of the Circle. In this time she has worked the Circle up from a small society to one of immense importance. A word of appreciation could be said of each of the outgoing officers.

Those to take up the work next year are—

Outgoing officers: president, Ida Tobin; vice president, Lila Murrell; secretary, Gladys Maxey; treasurer, Gladys Smith.

Incoming officers: president, Louise Jennings; vice president, Edrine Tyson; secretary, Dura Louise Cockrell; treasurer, Dorothy Brown.

The Circle girls are especially interested in mission work. Miss Musgrave's being here brings all of us into such close touch with this kind of work that we feel we are seeing wonderful results already.

We are all very proud to claim Miss Musgrave as a T. C. U. alumna. She has indeed done a noble work in Africa, and the good part about it is that her work is only just begun.

CO-OPERATION IS NOTE STRUCK IN PROGRAM OF 4 LITERARY SOCIETIES

PRECEDENT ESTABLISHED WHEN ORGANIZATIONS HOLD JOINT MEETING.

A precedent in student affairs was established when a joint meeting of the Add-Ran-Clarks and the Shirley-Walton literary societies was held Friday night in the main auditorium as the first preliminary event of the commencement exercises. Homer McCartney, president of the Add-Rans, presided as chairman, and Bill Shirley, president of the Shirleys, officiated as secretary.

The meeting opened at 8:30 with a large representation of each society present. A welcome address by the chairman, in which he delineated the work of the societies for the last year, their lack of co-operation, and the imperative need for unification of ideals of the societies for next year, drew hearty applause.

This idea was further carried out in a talk by Mr. Edwin Elliott, on "What the Society Means to T. C. U." He presented in a striking manner of any sort, and he further declared that the success or failure of the the success that accompanies union literary societies in T. C. U. depends upon the spirit of union and co-operation.

Professor Hargett, chairman of the faculty advisory committee, presented in a forceful manner the individual benefit derived from the society work, by a series of illustrations showing successes of former students.

Other interesting features of the program were piano selections by Misses Gates and Day; a reading by Miss Marjorie Diekey; and several selections by the girls' quartet, closing with a short address by Bill Shirley.

Each person present seemed to have imbibed some of the spirit of the meeting, which is the first of the kind to be held this year, and it is to be hoped that the individual spirit of co-operation may become that of the society to which he or she belongs, and then a glorious and useful future for the societies is assured.

Reception for Miss Musgrave Thursday Evening at Eight o'Clock.

A reception was held in Jarvis parlor, honoring Miss Ruth Musgrave, missionary recently returned from Africa and a graduate of T. C. U.

For several days past every one had been urged to come to Y. W. with the promise that a rare treat was in store for them, but as Miss Musgrave had been here before, all this was unnecessary, and by the appointed hour nearly two hundred guests had arrived.

The early part of the evening was spent in renewing the acquaintance of Miss Musgrave and examining her many interesting curios which she has just brought back from Africa. In this collection were weapons, trinkets, monkey skins, elephant teeth and other odd souvenirs.

Mr. McPherson made a few fitting introductory remarks and closed them by saying "It was with great pleasure that he introduced a former T. C. U. student to T. C. U. students."

Miss Musgrave then gave a very interesting clear discussion of missionary life, in Africa, relating several true extraordinary experiences. Miss Musgrave was requested to sing a song such as the natives sing, which she did much to the delight of all.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served after Miss Musgrave's interesting talk.

This was a very enjoyable occasion and Y. W. is indeed fortunate in being able to bring a young woman possessed of such a pleasing personality to T. C. U. She is the kind we would point out with pride to and say "She's a former student of T. C. U."

REHEARSALS FOR MAY FETE PROMISE GREAT SUCCESS FOR AFFAIR

STUDENTS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SELECTION OF MAY QUEEN.

T. C. U. has something to be proud of in the fact that this year a May Fete will be given. The date is Wednesday evening, May 31, 7 o'clock, and the campus is to be the stage. Miss Rosa Driver is to be queen.

Miss Driver was elected queen by the student body. Everyone is enthusiastic over the election. As everybody knows Rosa there is no need for trying to present her to the students at large.

Constant practice is going on under the supervision of Miss Shoemaker. The many different dances have required much attention and work, it is said.

The different classes elected representatives as follows:

Senior—Leona Crain, attendant, Luella Penix and Bob Badgett.

Junior—Marge Glascock, Elizabeth Wayman, Ruth Algood, and Earl Dudney.

Sophomore—Tyler Wilkinson, Millicent Keebe, and Hillard Camp.

Freshman—Maynette Moffett, Mary Leslie White, and Fielding Bohart.

The program of the May Fete will be:

Processional. Crowning of queen by Senior president. Scarf dance. English May Pole dance. Shepherdess dance. Japanese dance. Indian dance. Butterfly dance. May Pole dance. Solo, Mr. B. U. Taylor. Grand Finale.

Undecided About Your Summer Work? Come to Summer School

"Oh, Mary, I've just decided what I'm going to do this summer."

"What?"

"I'm going to summer school!"

"Oh, what are you going to do that for? It will be so hot to go to school and you'll just work your head off. I'm not going to any old summer school."

"But listen, Mary, I'm going to T. C. U. I've heard, and from pictures I've seen of it, it is simply a wonderfully beautiful place in the summer. There are so many pretty flowers and vines 'neverything, and, girl, there's a large swimming pool there and we could spend our leisure time swimming."

"A swimming pool? Oh, boy, that decides me. I think I'll give it a more careful consideration."

"And that's not all. There are five tennis courts, and we could have the best time."

Why not be like Mary, and give a careful consideration to the opportunities which are offered by T. C. U. during the summer term. The term will be a 12-weeks' term. The maximum of work to be taken is nine credits in six weeks; eighteen credits in 12 weeks; all pre-professional students, school teachers, and specially ambitious students desiring to make a record and save time by graduating in three years should make it a point to take work during the summer school.

The following courses are offered:

First six weeks— French 21, Hist. 31, Pol. Sc. 35, Eng. 43, Hist. 33, Sociol. 25, Educ. 40, Eng. 39, Hist. 11, French 11, Educ. 35, Econom. 33, Eng. 24, Educ. 21, Physiol. 26.

Second six weeks— French 21, Bible 31, Educ. 26, Educ. 47, Eng. 43, Bible 15, Educ. 41, Eng. 42, French 11, Eng. 24.

Public school music I, II, III.

VARSITY WELCOMES ALUMNA MISSIONARY HOME ON FURLOUGH

MISS RUTH MUSGRAVE.

Miss Ruth Musgrave, varsity alumna, home on furlough after her first three-year period of service in the Belgian Congo region, was the guest of the University, Thursday and Friday.

Miss Musgrave was the honoree at several social functions. The girls of the mission circle tendered her an outdoor picnic, and on Thursday evening the Y. W. C. A. honored her with a reception in the parlors of Jarvis hall. She exhibited curios collected in Africa and spoke entertainingly of her work in the mission field.

The chapel period Friday was given to Miss Musgrave and again she spoke of the work at the Bolenge mission, painting a picture of dark Africa with its hardships and joys, with here and there a bright touch of color as the missionary recalled humorous incidents in the life of her fellow-workers and herself.

Miss Musgrave will have a year's furlough, after which she will return to the Congo. She is visiting her parents in Waxahachie.

MADLINE JONES, A. B. 1921.

VISITING FRIENDS IN JARVIS

Miss Madeline Jones, A. B. 1921, is the guest of Miss Carrie Jean Davis and other friends in Jarvis Hall. Madeline has been playing the role of school mistress in the Madill, Okla., high school, the explanation she gives to allay gasps which invariably come when she speaks of "her children," with such an air of proprietorship.

She will remain here for commencement.

SURGICAL OPERATION FAILS TO SAVE LIFE OF BELOVED INSTRUCTOR

HEART OF UNIVERSITY IS TOUCHED BY CALAMITY AS NEVER BEFORE.

Professor Walter E. Bryson, head of the Department of English, died Monday at 5:30 p. m., following an operation for appendicitis.

Professor Bryson was taken suddenly ill last Tuesday morning and was moved to a hospital where he was operated upon.

The operation was apparently successful and plans were being made Saturday for moving the patient back to his home on T. C. U. Hill. Sunday, however, Mr. Bryson's condition took a turn for the worse when the wound became infected. Desperate attempts were made to save his life, but he sank rapidly until his death.

The beloved professor is survived by his wife and little daughter, Virginia.

Funeral services will be held in the main chapel, Wednesday, at 3 o'clock p. m. Burial will follow in Greenwood cemetery.

No calamity which has ever befallen Texas Christian University has come closer to the heart of the institution than the death of Mr. Bryson. During the five years in which he had been connected with T. C. U. he had become a part of the University and the University had become a part of him. His plans, his hopes, his best labors, were bound up with the spirit of the Purple and White. The administration had granted him a year's leave of absence and he was planning to use it in study at Harvard in order that he might give greater service to the school he loved. Mr. Bryson was a scholar among scholars, an exemplary Christian, a polished gentleman.

The loss to T. C. U. is only one item, for the entire educational system of the Southwest sustained an irreparable blow in his untimely death. His methods were a distinct contribution to higher learning, for there was nothing of the old-style pedagogue about him. For him the future of education wore a rosy hue because he believed in the integrity of the college student.

Surely no one will say that Mr. Bryson did not possess in abundant degree that characteristic of the truly great man—good will toward his fellows. And holding that attitude as he did, it is no wonder that it was required and that he was loved by all who knew him.

All operations will be suspended Wednesday, and faculty, students, and friends will pause to mingle their tears of sorrow and condolence with the tears of the bereaved wife and daughter.

EDUCATED MEN ARE DEMANDED BY HOTEL INDUSTRY TODAY

Opportunities for educated young men—college men—are offered in the hotel business today as in no other period of the industry's history, according to George M. Sweeney, managing director of Hotel Commodore, New York City.

"The hotel business is today looking for educated young men. What does it offer them? That is a difficult question to answer because it obviously depends so much on the individual. The modern hotel organization carries a threat as well as a promise for the man who would become a hotel manager. The threat is hard work—for the successful manager must have a thorough working knowledge of the many departments under him. At present the only way for him to get that knowledge is to do the work himself.

"Another aftermath of the war has been the cutting off almost completely of the supply of European help which used to flow steadily into the country.

HOW ABOUT SUMMER SCHOOL?

Have you made your plans for the summer? How about summer school? What's the good of wasting a summer when you can make eighteen credits and combine profit with pleasure? That old swimming pool will look mighty good during the sweltering days to come. These tennis courts will be hard to duplicate back in the old home town. And you'll pine for the flower-lined walks and other loadstone features of this old campus. Think over the advantages offered by the twelve-week's term. Then petition Dad for leave to spend it here. There will be fully a month between the close of summer school and the opening of the fall term—time enough for anybody to recuperate. How about staying?

PROUD OF T. C. U. BUT NOT SATISFIED

(Editor's Note:—The subjoined article is a reprint of an address delivered before the Texas Christian Missionary Convention at San Antonio recently by Mr. Andrew Sherry, father of Bill and Lena, and faithful pillar of T. C. U.)

Don't you think it behooves every member of our brotherhood to be deeply concerned in the progress of Texas Christian University? Its progress is the keynote of the future growth of the church in this great state of ours.

Quoting from the Dallas News of the 9th of last month, one of our good women in convention at A. & M. College said: "Our schools are not the right kind."

I wonder how much sacrifice she has made; how much unselfish service she has rendered to make them the right kind? Our schools are just what we make them. I do not know whether she referred to our state schools or our church schools, or both.

But when we count their ages, both state and church are wonderful. Especially is this true with T. C. U. It is less than 50 years old, and when we count that 11 years ago we lost our building by fire in Waco all we had left was a debt, save the love and loyalty of the few of God's own, like the Clarks and their associates. And by the sacrificing generosity of Sister Jarvis, Bro. Brite, and their co-workers we have the magnificent equipment which adorns the hill at Fort Worth today, with president and faculty as faithful a bunch as ever graced this earth.

Proud of T. C. U. to be sure. Satisfied with it. No, no. Never will be until it is equipped and endowed as well as any university in America.

We have the men, real men, and means in our communion in Texas to do this. The measure of what

We Take Pride In Our

T. C. U. Business

All Orders Are Promptly Filled.

Gordon Boswell

our brotherhood owes to our church schools should be marked by nothing short of our very best.

We are just beginning to learn the value of co-operation. Just beginning to know that without it progress is blocked. We need no better evidence of the interest of our brotherhood have in T. C. U. than the way many of our congregations answered our last emergency call.

We did not get what we asked for; did not get what we needed, but when we consider the "financial freeze" that covers our land, it was a most wonderful success.

Our earnest desire is that those who have labored so abundantly and so long will not weary in well-doing. And we who have just entered the service will work with a zeal which knows no defeat.

Let us take as our motto: "Never quit."

It is easy to drift as the current flows,

It is easy to move as the deep tida goes,

But the answer comes when the breakers clash

And strike the soul with a bitter lash.

And the goal ahead is endless flight,

Through a sunless day and a starless night,

Where the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream.

Only the game fish swim up stream.

The spirit wanes when it knows no load,

The soul tires off of the easy road,

There is fun enough in the thrill and throb,

But life in the main is an uphill job.

When the clouds bank in and the soul turns blue,

When fate holds fast and you can't break through,

When trouble sweeps like a tidal wave,

And hope is a ghost by an open grave,

You have reached the list in the frame of mind

Where only the quitters fall behind;

When the far call breaks on the sleeper's dream.

Only the game fish swim up stream.

PUGE'S PARTING POT-SHOTS

Well, gang, we have just about come to the end of the road. The Horned Frog bunch will be scattering out over the country in a few short days. The final track event of the year will take place June 10th when at the magic starting signal "SCHOOL IS OUT" most of us will make a dash for the T. & P. station and home. Some of these here ten-second men are going to be left behind in that race, I'm telling you.

Buy, mucking it out over the Chilcoat Pass in the Klondike with dog teams ain't going to be nothing compared to the migration made by the T. C. U. crowd that day. Many a darling little freshman is going to get to see mama and papa for the first time in just ages—yeh, a whole month or so.

Won't these college boys strut it over the lads in the old home village when they get back? And these college girls, oh gosh, the town belles won't stand a chance any more. Ain't it grand to be educated?

That three months until next September is going to be a long time though. There is many a fellow who will be getting powerful weary of the old homestead before that date.

And there is many a feminine butterfly what is going to tire of the gay summer life and pine for the old alma mater once more.

Most of the boys are coming back. Some of the girls say they ain't returning, but maybe they will. We need a good girl pep squad.

Speaking of pep reminds me of something. Folks, it is going to be darn hard if that S. M. U. bunch puts anything over us next year. Believe you me, them birds over there are getting downright rank the way they hate us people. We all gotta come back, and pep it up, and beat that institution to a frazzle.

I hollers down with S. M. U. Dog-gone my soul, to hear that gang talk you would think that our old rival, Baylor, was never in in the running, and that S. M. U. was due to cut our throats from every angle.

The boys in Clark Hall had a May

Pole dance the other night. The gang broke loose about twelve o'clock. Some new hot sketches in the terpsichorean attainments as well as some novel effects in costuming were discovered on this occasion.

This here Judge Green was a knockout as Queen of the May. I wanted to be maid of honor, but failed to get honored. Such is life.

I be wondering if we are going to have that old T. C. U. spirit once more next year. We surely have been dead this year. Let's all re-turn in the fall and bring some real fight back with us.

The outlook for another championship football club are as bright as old King Sol in the middle of a July day.

By the way, I still got some T. C. U. stationery for sale. And some T. C. U. girls still owe me for some of this stationery, which has already been sold. Mr. P. G. Cross has decided not to give his worthless son Bruce any more money, so have a heart, girls, and help Puge to keep from starving.

I have heard quite a bit of comment lately concerning the promiscuous donation of letters to would-be athletes this year. The gang tell me that there have been about eight letters awarded throughout the athletic seasons of this past year, which were absolutely undeserved. The bunch say that the time has come when the letter "T" means very little in regard to value.

It seems to me that the "T" association should be allowed to elect at least two athletes to the athletic council every year. If this came to pass there would be no promiscuous donation of the coveted letter, and nothing but service done would realize the reward.

She'll Tend To Him.

"Susannah," asked the preacher when it came her turn to answer the usual question in such cases, "do you take this man to be your wedded husband for better or for worse—

"Jes' as he is, pahson," she interrupted; "jes' as he is. Ef he gits any better Ah'll know de good Lawd's gwine to take 'im, an' ef he gits any wuss, w'y Ah'll tend to 'im myself."—Presbyterian Witness.

Congregationalism reached the peak in 1914 the net increase of the denomination was 17,232. Last year this record was smashed when a gain of 18,956 was registered. The total accessions during the year were 78,365, and of these 45,875 were received on confession of faith. The gain in Sunday school membership for the year was 37,563, which is also a record-breaking report.

FROCKS for summer are lovelier than they have ever been and much more reasonable.

ORGANDIE FROCKS with their characteristic crispness in charmingly fluffy styles are still the dressiest of the Tub frocks. There are Organdia ones, too, fashioned of a new fabric, like organdie in texture, like voile in weave and pattern.

VOILE FROCKS are more the vogue than they have ever been and little wonder. In this heyday of draped Frocks nothing drapes with more becoming softness. New printed and embroidered patterns add further attractiveness.

DOTTED SWISSES whose fashionable dark grounds make them so serviceable are here in a variety of quaintly bouffant styles. Of course you will choose a Swiss, maybe one made perky by a touch of organdy.

GINGHAMS in trig little styles to delight the housewife and also combined with organdie in Frocks for afternoon. Real tartan plaids and hair line stripes are most attractive in delicate and bold colors.

NEIGHBORING HEATHS FURNISH WILD BLOOMS FOR NOVEL EXPOSITION

WALTONS CLAIM DISTINCTION OF SPONSORING SECOND EVENT OF THE KIND.

A thing of beauty and novelty was witnessed on last Tuesday afternoon when the science laboratory of Clark Hall was turned into a bower of flowers under the auspices of the Walton Literary Society. For days before the exhibit girls could be seen roaming over the hills gathering all kinds of wild flowers, and one expedition even left for the search as early as 4:30 in the morning. At last the immense collection, labeled as to botanical and common names, was arranged in the laboratory, and the show thrown open to the public. Many from town took advantage of the opportunity to see the flowers. Cakes and iced drinks were served throughout the afternoon.

This is the first show of this kind ever to be shown in Texas, it is thought, and the second in the United States. The occasion will long be remembered by those attending for "a thing of beauty is a joy forever."

The proceeds of the show will be applied by the Walton on the expenses of a representative to the National Federation of Women's Clubs at Chautauqua, N. Y.

ANNUALS SLATED FOR APPEARANCE JUNE 5, SO MANAGER ANNOUNCES

PRINTERS WORKING FAST TO TURN OUT WORK IN DUE TIME.

The Horned Frogs are almost here. Every year about this time a new horde of these small animals appears on the hill.

From September until June all T. C. U. looks forward to this event with a great deal of expectation. The formal recognition will take place on June 5th, and needless to say that those wanting their annuals must present the necessary where-withal on this day.

Students, you will soon receive the greatest of all year books, for this book will contain all the things that has made this year the pleasant one that it has been. As much as we may value it now, we will value it more in the future.

The Freshmen, especially, should be proud of this book, as it is the first of the great series to be received. The Seniors should also be proud of this annual because of their last year in the old school. It will serve as a remembrance of the many happy days filled with pleasure and hard work that have been spent in T. C. U.

Robert Badgett, business manager of the book, says that the printers are working day and night to get the Frog out on time.
