

KOPENSKY HERE FRIDAY EVENING

ALEXANDER SCHWARTZ TO GIVE LECTURE ON RUSSIA

Mitry Alexandrovitch Kopensky, in Russia, and Alexander Schwartz, in America, will tell of the reign of terror maintained by Lenin and Trotsky through a monopoly of arms and food, the extreme misery of the people, and the deceit practiced by the Soviet Government to delude the foreign visitors, in a talk on "Russia from the Inside" in the T. C. U. auditorium Friday night at eight o'clock, as announced by Edwin A. Elliot, who with whom Mr. Schwartz has arranged to give fifty per cent of the proceeds of the lecture to the T. C. U. Soldiers' Memorial Fund. Admission will be 35c for students and 50c for others, a very reasonable price in consideration of the fact that Mr. Schwartz was a member of the Second Congress, Third International, at Moscow, is a native of Russia, and now a professed American.

WHITE SHOES AID MEMORIAL

Morris, of the White Shoe House, manager of the White Shoe House Baseball team on which several T. C. U. men played last summer and helped to cop the Dallas and Fort Worth amateur pennant, was out to the University Monday of last week and talked agreeable to a proposition which will help the memorial fund, and therefore should help the White Shoe House.

Mr. Morris, with the permission of Mr. White, is until May 31 going to give the T. C. U. memorial fund five per cent of all receipts from purchases made by T. C. U. students and faculty members. Messrs. Elliott and Morris have it all figured out that if each student buys on an average of $5 worth of shoes and hosiery within the next three months the memorial fund will be enlarged to the amount of $500.

There are so many students around here and we are so dull at figures that we didn't audit the figures, but as Mr. Morris is a fair fellow and knows how to pick a baseball team, we o. k. the statement. He says that he is taking special interest in getting together a line of shoes that will especially appeal to co-eds, and that the complete collection will be in this week. These will be advertised in the Skiff.

As we remember them, Kit Carson, Doc Livesey, Sam Gans, Dutch Meyer and Chilli McDaniel were the fellows that played on the team last summer.

Some of the new material looks promising enough, but is untried in college circles. Kit says the boys will be out there fighting them to the last of the ninth, and that they will all labor to sustain T. C. U.'s excellent record of the past few years. With such an amount of new material the task will prove to be no easy one.

No efforts are being spared to whip the team into first class shape. Practice games are being planned with the First National Bank team of the city which is made up of a number of old college diamond stars, for Tuesday afternoon, and with the Fort Worth Senior High School nine for Wednesday.

Thursday will see a strenuous round of batting and infield practice as a final slicking up for the Denton game Friday here, and Saturday, at Denton.

Other practice games with good clubs of the city will be arranged for the near future, if possible. Kit says that if hard work will make a championship team, we will have one, for the boys will have plenty to do every afternoon. Kit is sitting up nights figuring ways to beat Baylor and A. & M. with these games coming early in the season, it will work somewhat of a hardship on the coaches to work a strong well-balanced team into shape from unknown material, but the men are hopping and working, and believe they will make a creditable showing.

Dr. Pennington, director of the Pennington Psychological Clinic, spoke in chapel Tuesday morning on the determination of vocational talent or inclination and ability to be reckoned with in choosing a life's work. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Sweet, also of the Clinic.

Following the chapel, Professor March Merrill, at the suggestion of his French '21 class, made arrangements with Dr. Pennington to explain the psychological machine that he exhibited and make a test of one of the class members. Miss Ruth Dacus was given a short test and was, under the unusual circumstances, given a reading that was somewhat convincing to Miss Dacus and other members of the class. Verifications were made by her and one of her professors. In the sociology class of Prof. Shepperd a test was given Miss Helen Locke, which didn't miss the mark, as would probably be said by the students.

The writer had heard so much about psychology that he decided to go down to the Westbrook and get himself analyzed, the result of which was at least convincing, and even gratifying in bringing to light the marvelous possibilities for him along certain lines, all of which he wrote down to keep for evidence and encouragement in times of drowsy water blues.

Tuesday afternoon Dr. Pennington spoke at the city high schools and later gave tests to Miss Edna Wallace Hopper, the 62-year-old flapper, and another celebrity, and then performed for the Pathe News motion picture camera.

Dr. Pennington conducts clinics in Denver, Sherman, Cleburne, New Orleans, Waco, and Fort Worth. He has just returned from Waco and appointments can be made by calling M. S. Sweet, R. 4591, at 1123 Fairmount avenue.

Because of the fact that so many students, even after they have reached their junior and senior years, have not decided where their possibilities lie, Dr. Pennington will probably make his appearance in T. C. U. again, as he did not come out for the purpose of making tests Tuesday.

Writing Essays

LEONA HOOD

Our best thoughts come unbidden. Usually they come when we are trying to do something which we consider more important than meditation. When we attempt to listen to an uninteresting sermon, our minds have a tendency to go their own way. The tone of the preachers voice, like certain kinds of music, influences one to think great thoughts. I have gone away from church realizing that I did not remember a single idea the speaker had brought out, yet I knew that the time had not been wasted; because I had had an inspiration that would probably never have occurred to me anywhere else.

Another time when we cannot get away from our thoughts is at night when sleep deserts us. One may determine ever so many times to go to sleep, but the brain like an obstinate child refuses to cease its activity. Details are piled up and conclusions drawn from them. Many of these conclusions are worth while, but they are usually forgotten by morning.

On the other hand if we try to force our thoughts they come slowly and have little vitality. For instance, when I sit down to write an essay, I look over the list of subjects, and my mind begins to feel like my stomach does when I am eating things I do not want. I then decide to take a nap, but just as soon as I lie down and close my eyes these subjects begin to demand attention and to disturb my rest. A new idea presents itself to me about one of them, and I discover that it is, after all, an interesting field of thought. However I still want the nap, so I close my eyes and try to forget it all; but my brain continues to vibrate as if an electric current were passing through it. Writing the essay begins to appear more attractive than sleeping so I again take up the task which was so repulsive a few minutes before.

If we all, like some of the great men of the past, carried note books in which to jot down our thoughts, there might be other Emersons to share Waldo's fame.

FROGS WILL RIP THE ORIGINAL WITH DENTON EAGLES FRIDAY

With the initial game with Denton only a few days away, the Horned Frogs are pitching into a week of strenuous practice with plenty of pep and determination.

Captain Kit Carson is looking for a Horned Frog victory when Frog's horns are pitted against Eagles beaks and talons Friday and Saturday.

Carson says things look pretty good on the whole, mighty good, considering the fact that there are only three letter-men in the fold this season. There is a lot of new material to be worked into the machine, and with new men in six positions, it makes the arranging of a well balanced baseball team a problem indeed, especially when that team has to compete against strong Southwestern Conference aggregations.

Some of the new material looks promising enough, but is untried in college circles. Kit says the boys will be out there fighting them to the last of the ninth, and that they will all labor to sustain T. C. U.'s excellent record of the past few years. With such an amount of new

WEEK'S DOINGS OF UNIVERSITY CHURCH

The Y. W. will have charge of the church services next Lord's Day morning. Brother McPherson will preach, the subject being "A Genuinely Converted Giant." The Girls' Circle will have charge of the evening service at Brite College chapel. Brother Cook has left us and the Sunday school is in our hands. Let us do our best. Do not be a slacker toward the church. Let us all go.

Baxter and Holcomb spent the week-end with Baxter's parents at Dublin.

Bill Shirley spent the week-end at his home in Anna.

Jim Dearing has been visiting his sister in Gainesville.

Lawrence Tankersley made a (social) visit to Dallas Sunday.

"Cheese" Stewart favored the town of Strawn with his visit home Sunday.

Con Del Ellis celebrated by visiting his home in Mexico.

Tricky Ward went to Weatherford for the week-end.

Dick Gaines has just recovered from a week of "flu."

Charlie Perry, salesman of the Wood Oil Company, visited Thurman Morgan Sunday.

Howard Towery is supposed to be visiting his parents in Plainview this week-end.

A Good Council Gone Wrong

Honor systems by student government are tottering under test in Texas in a category in which in T. C. U. may be placed. The situation is here in no better or worse than in some other universities, but serious thought must be given and definite action must be taken. There is naturally some dissatisfaction under any system.

Honorable, clean-cut, men and women do not desire extreme punishment for those found guilty of misdemeanor, but it does desire a real punishment and not a mere excuse to be placed before the public as a blind for the processes of the honor council.

Without calling in the assistance of prejudicial illustrations or begging the pardon of any of our professor friends who are adverse to the common "extremity" of Skiff editorials, we believe, coincident with an invitation to any one desiring to express their differences, to use our columns, that now is the time to express a student body sentiment, to-wit:

T. C. U. is supposed to be, must be, and shall be, an honorable school, in spite of a few who would not be honorable themselves.

The Honor Council, is elected to render decisions in questions of dishonesty in school work, with the honor system as a part of student government provided for in the constitution of the Student Body Association of Texas Christian University, the officers of which are chosen by popular election. The council is composed of representatives from each of the undergraduate classes, the graduate class, and each of the colleges. Three cases recently brought to the council were:

First, in which cheating was done by copying on examination. Proof was evident. The verdict was on the surface, guilty, but the penalty was admonishing, for the guilty was only required to repeat an examination and do twenty-five pages of outside reference work.

Second, in which three persons jerked tags at the gym for undeserved credit. Two of these were punished by the removal of two credits because they failed to appear on summons and thereby angered the honor council, and one credit was removed for the act itself, making a total of three credits removed for each of the two persons. The third person was punished by the removal of one credit for the dishonest act. In other words, it was in the eyes of the council, infinitely more dishonorable to jerk tags than to copy an examination paper, and twice as dishonorable to disobey the honorable honor council as it was to jerk the tags.

Third, in which six charges were filed against as many offenders for working together on mathematics problems requiring individual effort. The verdict was guilty. The penalty was that any of these six failing to make B-plus in the course would fail to receive credit. With all respect to the mathematics department, the Skiff never expects to raise an offering that can't bone a B-plus in mathematics, whether he be honest or dishonest. This verdict discriminates between different degrees of mathematical intelligence, for those who made B-plus in the course, are at the end adjudged guiltless, while those that can't make the grades are to be guilty still. Wonderful transformation.

If popularity is the ambition of those who are failing to run their part in the relay of upholding the honor system, it is lamentable, for such popularity is purchased at a price. If the trouble is lack of confidence in the sentiment of the student body, let's give it a fair trial. If the obstacle is a lack of proper evidence, let's call an assemblage of the students and institute a pledge to investigation en masse.

University authorities gladly turned the matter of honor in examinations over to the students, in faith that the Honor Council would function. If the students do not act, in all probability the faculty committee on student welfare will be compelled to act, although no intimation of any steps has been made by the committee.

The council is not functioning as it should nor making decisions as it should. The council, with the utmost respect to the honesty and integrity of each individual member, has no backbone. This does not mean that there is no one of the council with a backbone, for there is, but the backbone is dislocated.

Are Sports in the Saddle?

The Christian Courier, an ardent weekly supporter of T. C. U. and higher Christian schools in general, published in its issue of March 1, an editorial entitled "The Sporty Element in the Saddle." We reproduce portions of this editorial without other comment than to say there are cases in which its Courier's statements are evidently true.

"It is alleged that those responsible for athletics in (name of a university, not T. C. U.) were so anxious for their teams to win that special inducements were held out to good athletes, fat jobs with little or no work were passed out to these favorites, and success was attained by violating rules governing college athletics. For some irregularities two of the young athletes were suspended, and then the big show came off, and (name of town) papers have featured the situation.

".....college authorities, out of their meager funds, will pay twice as much for a coach to train a bunch of football bullies as they will give the 'other professors'."

"The truth is, this matter of athletics in the schools is now largely a question of a few professionals among the students, while the great body get little or no benefit by actual participation in athletic exercises. Indeed, the great majority of the student body are merely the rooters and financial supporters of the few who are practically professionals.

"Again, it may be set down as a fact that it is not so much a question of athletics but of sports. And it is the sporty element who are generally in the saddle around the college today. This element sets the pace for practically everything in student life, and consequently the poor can hardly afford to send their children to college any more because of the expense.

All concerned will be better off if the college sport can be left out of the lime light, commercialism curtailed, and the chief purpose of the college given a fairer chance and a little more prominence."

In the issue of March 15 the Courier colby fairly opened the columns of its front page to an article written by Colby D. Hall, dean of T. C. U., who says under the title of "Who Put the Sports in the Saddle?"

"The editor is right in suggesting that the pressure of the sporting citizens of our cities upon college athletics is a tremendous one and full of danger; and that there has been a general tendency to commercialize athletics.

"What the patrons and friends need to know further is what the colleges are doing about it. Here are some facts to digest:

"First: The colleges are live to the situation and in the main are fighting the evil. A score of years ago colleges organized athletic associations, the main purpose of which was to enforce rules to prohibit professionalism and commercialism. Like other rules, they have not been 100 per cent effective; but they have kept the evils as outlaw practices instead of recognized ones, and have reduced them to a comparatively small amount. They have prevented commercialism from taking college athletics over bodily. Give the colleges credit for doing this by their associations.

"Second: The pressure for putting athletics on a money basis comes from the commercial world and the sport world outside of colleges. It has been the college faculties that have withstood these forces. In some cases the outside influences have advanced within the faculties; but these cases are much in the minority.

"Dig beneath the surface of any athletic move in a college and you will find in most cases the town people and not the college people are the betrayers of clean athletic ideals.

"Third: The colleges are strengthening the fight against commercialized athletics, now, because the heavy pressure has found many ways of getting around the rules. The Southern Association of Colleges two years ago appointed a special commission to work out a reform. The past year every member college had to make a long detailed report on its athletic record and conduct, and a special report was issued by the association on the results. The standards of this association on this subject are high and commendable. It is going after the offending colleges vigorously. Its influence is felt strongly in the Intercollegiate Athletic Association also and these are laying hold of the problem seriously.

"Fourth: The main points of emphasis relied upon by the association to correct the evils are (1) Faculty control of athletics, instead of control by students, or by alumni, or by the local commercial interests; including the representation in Athletic Associations by faculty members instead of coaches only, (2) the reduction to reasonable amounts in the salaries of coaches and the budget of athletics.

"Last year the Southern Association left off its approved list several colleges, because they spent too much on athletics and emphasized it to the hurt of their academic work, (3) the enforcement of the scholarship rules to allow only bona fide students on the teams.

"Sporting Elements not in Saddle in T. C. U."

"1. We have real faculty control in T. C. U. The supreme head of athletics in close touch with its details is Prof. McDermid, of the Philosophy Department, and he reports and is responsible to the faculty. The sporting element is not in the saddle in T. C. U.

"2. The money spent on athletics is not excessive. In fact the budget as made out by the budget committee and approved by the board provided the athletics must bring in all the money spent upon the program.

"None of the money contributed by the friends for general upkeep of the University goes to support athletics.

"The gate fees are the main support. The fee paid by the students is no more than is justified by the program of physical training given them all in the gymnasium, in addition to all the program of the major sports.

"3. The T. C. U. program now does away with the old sound objection that college athletics overtrains a few (not bullies, though, Mr. Editor) and neglects the great crowd of students. The gymnasium was built to overcome this very evil. Every student is required to take physical training (in first two years) and to report three times a week for instruction. The wisdom of this no one can deny. No student is neglected in the physical program.

"4. Students who do not make their grades can not play in match games. Every two weeks reports are made on the grades of team members. Several times players have been debarred by low grades. One "Star" missed the entire football season for low grades the previous spring term. But the bulk of the squad never come near the danger line. Some players are on the Honor Roll. The difficulty is with only a few, not much higher a percentage than the average of all the students.

"That's the way it is. That is not the way it would be if the situation were turned loose.

"The vast majority of the colleges and college men are fighting against this tendency to commercialism, which, by the way, is not confined to college athletics. Let the colleges have your support and sympathy in the struggle."

Spring Suits

Style, beautiful wools and the very best workmanship are the outstanding features of our new Spring Suits for men, tailored for us at Fashion Park and Kirschbaum workshops. This is particularly true of the snappy, bold-by style, misnamed sport models, for they are worn wherever well dressed men meet.

Favored materials are whipcords, diagonal weaves and light colored tweeds, in two and three-button Norfolk styles with twin pleats and three-quarter or all around belts, or in extreme high lines with narrow shoulders, expanding side pleats and bi-swing sleeves.

In the conservative styles there are all wool worsteds in small stripes and checks, all with slightly form shaped, easy fitting waists.

And—we can fit every type, the large stout man who wears up to size 50, the extremely short, the extra long, etc., just as easily as those requiring regular sizes. Prices range from Pauline Teddee is now Mrs. J. W. Hampton and lives in Handley, Texas. Her brother, John P., is a Senior this year in the School of Mines at Golden, Colo.

Myrtle Goforth is now Mrs. H. B. Beckman and lives 1105 S. Adams.

Have you written your old cronies to meet you here June 5? You are losing time!

We regret very much to learn of the death of Bennie Ruth Clements—Mrs. R. W. Smythe, who lived at Marlow, Okla. She took pneumonia and was ill only a short while. We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the parents and husband in this hour of bereavement.

Mr. Wm. Hemphill, of San Angelo, sent dues this week. His wife is also an "Ex." She was Addie Carothers.

They're coming! Are you?

Mary Grace Muse, 215 W. Steadman street, Sherman, Texas, sends dues this week. She and her mother, who was Belle Peabody, are coming to the Jubilee.

The neighbors were alarmed Tuesday at noise in the Camp Cottage when, upon investigating, they found that Ray, Jr., had sprouted a tooth—his first—and the fond parents were just celebrating.

"So you are the music professor?"
"Yes I wrote Annie Laurie, but she never answered me."

FORT WORTH "EXES" MEET AGAIN

The Fort Worth "Exes" had their regular meeting March 16 (the third Friday night) in the chapel at the First Christian church.

Plans are being made for a party soon—time to be announced later. Most interesting of all were the Jubilee plans. Those who failed to appear Friday night missed a treat. Don't let this happen again! Next meeting is April 20.

Those enjoying this meeting were: Sybal Black, president, Gayle Scott, 2743 Grand Ave., Dallas, Texas.

John W. Smith, preacher, El Paso, Texas.

Lola Stockton, Mrs. W. H. Bruns, E. Bernard, Texas.

Zemula Clark, Mrs. J. P. Farley, El Cajou, Calif.

FROM UNDER THE WANDERING JEW

Most of the Jarvis girls have absconded. (I repeat that word, because it is big and I like the sound of it, I say again, they are all absconded). The few of us that are left in Jarvis have been mighty lonesome, and the old hall is like a different place—more like a haunted house than anything else. We're hoping they won't so many of them abscond again soon.

Lewis Manley was among those who deserted old Jarvis, but she, conscious stricken returned Sunday to brighten her corner here.

week end, and we all just know that it's because she wants to get her meals brought to her. Lillian Hinson was not up Sunday but the lazy girl didn't even ask any one to bring her anything to eat. She must have been sick!

Miss Ethel Trott from Dallas is visiting Miss Phares.

Punkin and Jimmie Simpson and Eama Jones were the guests of Jo Davis at a house party, or probably more properly, a camp party, at Lake Worth this week end.

Annie Lou Kenschalo and Edna Darrow spent Sunday afternoon in Slumberland. They report that they had a very enjoyable time, but they don't remember much that happened.

Most of those who were in Jarvis

Saturday night will not soon forget Charlie Chaplin, who paraded the halls that evening.

This is the latest scandal!! Four girls went to town Friday night. We know it to be a fact that, between them, they had only fifty cents, besides carfare, and they say they went to a show, all four of them, and also bought some candy. If they did go to a show, we wonder where it was? We heard them say something about "nigger heads."!!!???

Floy Schoonover and Evelyn and Adele Anderson could not go home, so their homes came to them. Wouldn't it be fine if all our homes could come to T. C. U.? I wish my mama would come to see me!

GOLFERS ARE GETTING PRIMED

The Municipal Golf Course of Fort Worth will be open to the public by the fifteenth of April.

One hundred and forty acres have been purchased and a total of sixty thousand will be expended by the time the first nine holes and the clubhouse are completed.

Work on the clubhouse will begin immediately. The building will cost ninety-five hundred dollars and will be constructed of stucco. A fourteen-foot porch will greet the eye immediately upon entering what will be the sportiest nine-hole course in these parts. Other features of the clubhouse are the locker rooms, lunch rooms and baths. No auditorium will be built for dancing, as this building will be set aside entirely for the promotion of America's greatest game.

Nine more holes will be added to the course as soon as sufficient money has been obtained to carry out the project.

The building of the present course is under the direction of Jack Derby, an old-timer at golf, and he knows his orisons. He is assisted by Mike Strawn, who is the best left-handed golfer to be found anywhere in the southwest. The new course will be quite the elephant's adenoids, and it will relieve many of the students of the monotony of study.

It is the prediction of Jack Derby that in five years' time over 125,000 people will have played the course.

The roadway from the city to T. C. U. will soon be finished affording good facilities for travel between the city and the course in pleasure vehicles. The Recreation Board, at a later date, will build a picnic ground in the ravine near the golf course.

GOODE HALL ROUND UP

George Horton is spending the week at his home in Galveston.

The boys of Goode Hall will miss Dr. Cook's smiling face, as he is returning to Indianapolis to resume his duties as Secretary for the United Missionary Society.

When you see Marshall Crawford running toward the main building do not get excited as he is only going to the book store.

Messrs. Montgomery, Polk, Bonham and Towery left for Santa Anna Saturday night at 11:30. They are making the trip in Bonham's Ford.

Archie Gee went to his home in Waco Thursday.

After reading the Sunday Fort Worth Record, Tetens immediately shaved his mustache.

JUST PASSING THRU

Dear Pater:
The term exams are over, and almost all of the Eds and Co-eds have departed to seek the parental fire-side. Hence it is very quiet; no longer is the sound of Henry's moaning violin heard; no sound is heard except the wind whistling thru the cracks in the east side of Clark Hall; not even the leaves in the textbooks are stirring. But before everyone had gone the famous T. C. U. orchestra seized the opportunity to impress its brilliance on the student body by playing in masterful style a selection entitled, "The Fallen Arch" from "Flatfoot." The applause was deafening and the orchestra encored with "The Lost Chord" from "Wood-pyle."

The departed one will, no doubt, enjoy themselves, but they will miss the cafeteria meals. At breakfast they will miss the allotted quota of eggs—one scrambled; at noon they will not be favored with pre-fried hash, and milk ingeniously extracted from the thin end of the separator (the rumor that the cow leaks is false). And their suppers cannot compare with ours. Our supper is a deram—present in thought, but not in substance.

I have known all along that you wanted an explanation regarding my mid-term grades, but I have hesitated to explain, because I knew that you would become exceeding sorrowful if you knew your boy to be as dumb as Mr. Stewart's boy, "Cheese." "Cheese" thinks that the "Rock of Ages" is the cave man's birth record. But I will explain, to begin with, I have long waited an opportunity to afford myself some social diversion, consequently when I received an invitation to the Fireman's Ball, even tho it came on the night preceding my exams, I accepted. I could not have refused because it was the Fire Chief's Final Ball that was coming

KOMMENT KOLUMN

Folks, for one reason or another the Kommenter has overlooked something. In a conversation with Mr. Wright Sunday, about noon, he was reminded that so far, in the Kolumn there had been no mention of the fact made that we have only three letter-men on the baseball team this spring. Well, to tell the truth, the Kommenter didn't know it—or rather hadn't stopped to figure and see just how many there were. Three is correct, though. They are Blair Cherry, Froggy Lovvorn, and Captain Kit Carson. They are a pretty dern good nucleus around which to build a team though, at that!

This week, this very week in which we now live, is to see the thing started off. How many of the students will be there Friday afternoon to see Denton Normal defeated in good shape? Are you going to be there?

While we are asking questions, did you know that we play Denton Normal here Friday, and there Saturday?

The baseball schedule was printed in a late issue of the Skiff, on the front page, and every student in the school should have the clipping pinned or tacked to the wall of his room. There is also a complete schedule in the Y. M.-Y. W. Handbook and Directory.

But getting back to the game Friday. Folks, for the Love of Mike, let's show that old team a big, peppy crowd, pulling hard for them to win.

It's going to take all that everybody can do to make another winning baseball team this season. You do your share. Remember, that there are only three old-timers on the team. Get out there with all the old-time pep, and let the new off, and my absence would have insulted the big chief, so I went, and as a result I flunked my exams. But my zeroes mean nothing to me, do not let them worry you. You have enough worry now; your income tax sounds as big as the English population of London.

Hoping you get the connection. PLUTO.

FROGS BEAT U. A. A. IN PRACTICE GAME

In a practice game played last Saturday afternoon on the local field the Horned Frogs defeated by a decisive score the nine representing the United Advertising Corporation. The team from town had not been practicing together long so the game was no real test of the strength of the Frogs.

Turner and Woods worked on the mound for the purple and white and rendered excellent accounts of themselves. Woods was effective at all times and Turner showed a change of pace that was baffling to opposing batsmen.

The Frogs sticks were working over-time, and a large, one-sided score was piled up, but since there was not an adding machine around handy, no one knows exactly what it was.

Friday of this week the Frogs meet the Denton Normal Eagles on Clark Field, and play the same team in Denton the next day, Saturday.

men know that we are for them from start to finish, even tho they have so lately donner the purple and white.

We see that the Mustangs start the season right with an easy win. Fair enough. Let 'em be happy as long as they can. Their jubilee will end when they meet the battling Frogs from the Cow Town.

Young Turner and Woods showed some pretty classy looking stuff in their practice game last Saturday. They look like the real thing.

As for that, tho, the whole team looks fair enough to us. The opposition hadn't much practice tho, so the score is not a very fair estimate of the strength of the Frogs.

The Denton Eagles boast a pretty good nine, so we shall see Friday. Well, here's to the Frogs for victory. Let's both be there and see the job well done. What say? Come on, let's go.

And by the way, there is no objection to a few folks watching the practices, if they will keep off the field. Can you take a hint? If not, we'll give you a special invite.

June: "It depends where the rent was." —Flamingo.

GIRL'S CONCERT IS TOMORROW

The Girls' Glee Club of T. C. U. will make their first public appearance Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the college of Arts and Sciences. The program will be devoted to the entertainment of everyone due to the fact that classical, popular and novelty numbers will be rendered.

Part one of the program will be the rendition of the best in classical music, the second part will be taken up with popular music, a Japanese Skit, in costume, and a musical novelty by Flora Webster and Floy Schoonover.

The Japanese Skit is very pretty, the girls are bedecked in the Oriental colors and costume of old Nippon. Oriental music will also be rendered for this act. Flora and Floy are to the Girls' Glee Club what Gallagher and Shean were in the Men's Club.

The Girls' Mandolin Club will render all music for this program and everyone already knows the talent of this organization, especially since the girls removed the banjo.

The price of this concert will be two bits, twenty-five cents, or one quarter. The place is in the spacious auditorium of the Main Building; the time is 8 p. m., and the program is the best that has ever been produced in college circles or in any big city, including Dallas, in the Western Hemisphere. Everyone come out and support this talented body of prima donnas.

I thank you.

No-Pro's Will Grapple For Love of Sport

Sam Pace.

The much postponed grappling tournament, due to have been held two Saturdays ago, but postponed from then until the following Saturday when it was again postponed, will positively be held at the gym next Friday night. Such is the startling announcement as it comes from Gym Instructor Roberts. Injuries to the contestants caused the first delay while the second was caused by a conflict on last Saturday night, and my hopes that the additional time might make it possible to get some medals for the winners. Next Friday night the boys will be fighting purely for the love of the sport which they wish to establish in T. C. U., as Mr. Roberts has been advised against giving awards at the inception of the game in this school, being advised that it would be best to wait until wrestling had proven its merits to popularity.

Mr. Roberts and all of the matmen promise an interesting and worthwhile show and, incidentally, a free one, to all who are at the gym next Friday night.

FROM UNDER THE WANDERING JEW

Miss Sidna Rea Barrow, who left the university last term on account of ill health, is back in school this term.

Miss Lottie Mae Phillips, of Rockdale, Texas, has entered T. C. U. for the spring term. Miss Phillips attended T. C. U. last year, and all the old students welcome her back.

Misses Rosa Lee Wells, Mary Sue Driver, and Louise Wiggins went to the game at Denton Saturday. (No wonder T. C. U. won!)

M'MURRAY IN 10 DAY MEETING

The officers of the University Church have secured the services of Mr. Graham McMurray for a meeting to include April 6th-15th. Mr. McMurray has been pastor of the Central Christian Church at Greenville for twelve years. He is a “live wire” and our people will appreciate both his messages and his manner of delivery. Both as a pastor and in evangelism he has been exceedingly successful. He is in sympathy with young life as well as with persons of added years.

Committees will be named by the time this appears in the Skiff.

EASTER SERVICES

The Fine Arts Department has been asked to take charge of the opening church services on Easter Sunday. Immediately preceding the Lord's Supper six ladies will reproduce a brief service recently rendered at Brite College Chapel hour—a spoken tableau. Brother McPherson's subject for a brief message will be “Resurrections.”

The Christian Endeavor will have a special program at Brite Chapel at 7:00 in the evening. All are welcome.

Miss Elva Kirklia spent Saturday in Dallas, doing some Easter shopping.

Miss Jessie Taylor spent the week end with her sister in town.

Miss Helmer Oglesby and son Billie visited their cousin, Miss Ida Tobin a few days last week.

THIRD FLOOR ARTS OVER RADIO FRIDAY

“The Sheik.”

Friday night, at the usual time, all Rowland will again be delighted by the sweet strains of Miss Murray's beautiful soprano voice, the enchanting violin rhapsodies by Miss Carleton and the beautiful sonatas of Dr. Guelick over the waves that are so generously carried through the atmosphere of this mundane sphere by the Radio Broadcasting Station WBAP. It is very peculiar to note that nearly every time that T. C. U. gives a concert over this Radio, The Hired Hand usually drops in on them to pay his respects and does not leave until the program is finished, showing that even a boiler maker can be soothed by good music.

April 9th the students of the Department of Music in the School of Fine Arts will give a student's recital at Station WBAP at 7 p. m. All radio fans are requested to adjust their rubber earmuffs on that night as this program will be a good one, as all T. C. U. programs are. It is my privilege to predict these things and if this program is not what I claim it to be I will give four hundred cigar coupons to the home for tarnished gold fish.

OFFICIAL BOARD MEETING SOON

President E. M. Waits has returned from an extended attendance on a meeting of the Board of Education of the Disciples of Christ in Indianapolis, which has to do with approximately twenty of the church schools of the United States. S. J. McFarland and Mrs. L. N. D. Wells, of Dallas, also attended. After adjournment there, President Waits and Mr. McFarland went to New York for an interview with executives of the Educational Board with reference to receiving additional endowment after the $500,000 has been raised for T. C. U. by Texas supporters.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Trustees of T. C. U. some time this week to consider the matter of making formal application to the educational board for this additional endowment. The New York board will meet in May, at which time action will be taken on the application.

TWO MISSIONARIES TO SPEAK HERE

Interest will run high from Wednesday until Thursday night in the camp of those who expect to go to the College of Missions at Indianapolis or are interested in taking up missionary work. Others will derive benefits from the experiences of Miss Lelia E. Taylor, recruiting secretary for the United Christian Missionary Society, and from Mrs. Manly C. Morton, missionary to Montevideo, Paraguay.

Miss Taylor, who has been visiting colleges throughout the states, will be in Jarvis Wednesday and Thursday to talk over Mission College and Mission work with those interested, of whom there are a number in T. C. U. She will speak at Brite Chapel Thursday morning.

Mrs. Manly C. Morton, wife of the man who spoke here last year, and who is also a missionary to Paraguay, will speak in main chapel Friday morning. Mrs. Morton is an impressive speaker. She will be in Fort Worth all day Friday.

North Fort Worth and reports a very enjoyable day.

Mrs. Dora Page, who has been in a hospital at Greenville for some time has been back with us in Goode Hall for several days and is soon expected to be feeling well enough to be in the post office.

Mrs. Sheppard thought that something was breaking loose above her not long ago but it was only a little rope skipping contest going on. No danger, just a little noisy.

8000 JUBILEE PROGRAMS OUT

The Texas Christian University Golden Jubilee and Christian Church Convention, to be held here from May 31st until June 5th, now has a definite program including events that will strike the pleasure of every type of ex-student and church member. A magnificent circular letter and program, check full of interesting facts, has been devised by Dean Colby D. Hall and Homer Tomlinson, members of the publicity committee. Homer Tomlinson, '17, former business manager of the Skiff and now one of the big guns of the All-Church Press, which he admits is the greatest religious newspaper organization on earth, was the artistic and proportionate compiler of the program which appears above, and we are told (by him) that none other than he got together the advance photographs of the ex-students returning to T. C. U. in a slide and on the run, on page three. Next to us, Homer is the best compiler out. We may be out soon. But Homer will be back in when the fireworks come off in June.

Eight thousand of these letter-program-circulars have been mailed to ex-students and Christian Church members, of which 7,999.44 are expected to be here for the Jubilee and Convention. This letter is the first of a series and will be followed by later announcements. The Skiff will be the official newspaper medium for further developments.

GOLFERS ARE GETTING PRIMED

The Municipal Golf Course of Fort Worth will be open to the public by the fifteenth of April.

One hundred and forty acres have been purchased and a total of sixty thousand will be expended by the time the first nine holes and the clubhouse are completed.

Work on the clubhouse will begin immediately. The building will cost ninety-five hundred dollars and will be constructed of stucco. A fourteen-foot porch will greet the eye immediately upon entering what will be the sportiest nine-hole course in these parts. Other features of the clubhouse are the locker rooms, lunch rooms and baths. No auditorium will be built for dancing, as this building will be set aside entirely for the promotion of America's greatest game.

Nine more holes will be added to the course as soon as sufficient money has been obtained to carry out the project.

The building of the present course is under the direction of Jack Derby, an old-timer at golf, and he knows his oniors. He is assisted by Mike Strawn, who is the best left-handed golfer to be found anywhere in the southwest. The new course will be quite the elephant's adenoids, and it will relieve many of the students of the monotony of study.

It is the prediction of Jack Derby that in five years' time over 125,000 people will have played the course.

The roadway from the city to T. C. U. will soon be finished affording good facilities for travel between the city and the course in pleasure vehicles. The Recreation Board, at a later date, will build a picnic ground in the ravine near the golf course.

GOODE HALL ROUND UP

George Horton is spending the week at his home in Galveston.

The boys of Goode Hall will miss Dr. Cook's smiling face, as he is returning to Indianapolis to resume his duties as Secretary for the United Missionary Society.

When you see Marshall Crawford running toward the main building do not get excited as he is only going to the book store.

Messrs. Montgomery, Polk, Bonham and Towery left for Santa Anna Saturday night at 11:30. They are making the trip in Bonham's Ford.

Archie Gee went to his home in Waco Thursday.

After reading the Sunday Fort Worth Record, Tetens immediately shaved his mustache.

Harvey J. Palmer has accepted a position with the Walkover Boot Shop, a Skiff advertiser.

JUST PASSING THRU

Dear Pater:

The term exams are over, and almost all of the Eds and Co-eds have departed to seek the parental fire-side. Hence it is very quiet; no longer is the sound of Henry's moaning violin heard; no sound is heard except the wind whistling thru the cracks in the east side of Girk Hall; not even the leaves in the textbooks are stirring. But before everyone had gone the famous T. C. U. orchestra seized the opportunity to impress its brilliance on the student body by playing in masterful style a selection entitled, "The Fallen Arch" from "Flatfoot." The applause was deafening and the orchestra encored with "The Lost Chord" from "Wood-pyle."

The departed one will, no doubt, enjoy themselves, but they will miss the cafeteria meals. At breakfast they will miss the allotted quota of eggs—one scrambled; at noon they will not be favored with pre-fred hash, and milk ingeniously extracted from the thin end of the separator (the rumor that the cow leaks is false). And their suppers cannot compare with ours. Our supper is a deram—present in thought, but not in substance.

I have known all along that you wanted an explanation regarding my mid-term grades, but I have hesitated to explain, because I knew that you would become exceeding sorrow-if you knew your boy to be as dumb as Mr. Stewart's boy, "Cheese." "Cheese" thinks that the "Rock of Ages" is the cave man's birth record. But I will explain, to begin with, I have long waited an opportunity to afford myself some social diversion, consequently when I received an invitation to the Fireman's Ball, even tho it came on the night preceding my exams, I accepted. I could not have refused because it was the Fire Chief's Final Ball that was coming

Folks, for one reason or another the Kommenter has overlooked something. In a conversation with Mr. Wright Sunday, about noon, he was reminded that so far, in the Kolumn there had been no mention of the fact made that we have only three letter-men on the baseball team this spring. Well, to tell the truth, the Kommenter didn't know it—or rather hadn't stopped to figure and see just how many there were. Three is correct, though. They are Blair Cherry, Froggy Lovvorn, and Captain Kit Carson. They are a pretty dern good nucleus around which to build a team though, at that!

This week, this very week in which we now live, is to see the thing started off. How many of the students will be there Friday afternoon to see Denton Normal defeated in good shape? Are you going to be there?

While we are asking questions, did you know that we play Denton Normal here Friday, and there Saturday?

The baseball schedule was printed in a late issue of the Skiff, on the front page, and every student in the school should have the clipping pinned or tacked to the wall of his room. There is also a complete schedule in the Y. M.-Y. W. Handbook and Directory.

But getting back to the game Friday. Folks, for the Love of Mike, let's show that old team a big, peppy crowd, pulling hard for them to win.

It's going to take all that everybody can do to make another winning baseball team this season. You do your share. Remember, that there are only three old-timers on the team. Get out there with all the old-time pep, and let the new off, and my absence would have insulted the big chief, so I went, and as a result I flunked my exams. But my zeroes mean nothing to me, do not let them worry you. You have enough worry now; your income tax sounds as big as the English population of London.

Hoping you get the connection. PLUTO.

FROGS BEAT U. A. A. IN PRACTICE GAME

In a practice game played last Saturday afternoon on the local field the Horned Frogs defeated by a decisive score the nine representing the United Advertising Corporation. The team from town had not been practicing together long so the game was no real test of the strength of the Frogs.

Turner and Woods worked on the mound for the purple and white and rendered excellent accounts of themselves. Woods was effective at all times and Turner showed a change of pace that was baffling to opposing batsmen.

The Frogs sticks were working over-time, and a large, one-sided score was piled up, but since there was not an adding machine around handy, no one knows exactly what it was.

Friday of this week the Frogs meet the Denton Normal Eagles on Clark Field, and play the same team in Denton the next day, Saturday.

men know that we are for them from start to finish, even tho they have so lately donner the purple and white.

We see that the Mustangs start the season right with an easy win. Fair enough. Let 'em be happy as long as they can. Their jubilee will end when they meet the battling Frogs from the Cow Town.

Young Turner and Woods showed some pretty classy looking stuff in their practice game last Saturday. They look like the real thing.

As for that, tho, the whole team looks fair enough to us. The opposition hadn't much practice tho, so the score is not a very fair estimate of the strength of the Frogs.

The Denton Eagles boast a pretty good nine, so we shall see Friday. Well, here's to the Frogs for victory. Let's both be there and see the job well done. What say? Come on, let's go.

And by the way, there is no objection to a few folks watching the practices, if they will keep off the field. Can you take a hint? If not, we'll give you a special invite.
