FROG-TEXAS CLASH TOMORROW

CONFERENCE TRACK MEET OPENS HERE FRIDAY

Southwest's Cinder Path Flashes Will Compete In Brilliant Athletic Fete

Three Hundred Super-Men Of Seven Schools Will Vie For Honors; Many Records Are Expected To Fall In The Course Of The Two-Day Meeting.

T. C. U. and Fort Worth's greatest athletic meeting will begin Friday of this week and run through Saturday when the annual all-conference track and field meet is run off. Three hundred athletes will compete in the fifteen regular conference events. Many new records are expected to be set, if the weather is good. The track, which is in the Frog Stadium, is in great shape.

Big crowds are expected Friday and Saturday, especially the latter day, when finals in all events will be run. T. C. U. students have been secured a special admission rate of 50 cents, according to L. C. Wright, athletic director. Faculty members will also be admitted at this rate.

The track meet is put on under the auspices of the Southwestern conference as a whole. T. C. U. merely being the agent and Mr. Pats, the showman. T. C. U. gets no rake-off on the proceeds. The big idea is, though, to have a big crowd out to show off T. C. U. One can easily see the prestige it would add to the Frog institution to have a meet of this kind well attended.

Texas University has long been considered the mecca of track sports, chiefly on account of the Inter-scholastic meet sponsored by the university, and on account of the Texas Relay carnival given each Spring. But T. C. U., having risen to the heights in football, basketball and baseball, aspires to noble deeds in track, too, and a big crowd is the thing we want.

Coach Littlefield's Longhorns look better than ever this season, and nothing short of a miracle could point any other team to victory over them. The Aggies and Baylor will battle hard for second honors, although Rice, led by the flashy Stancliffe, will bid high for recognition. Arkansas is understood to have a good squad, while S. M. U. is something of a dark horse, as far as her potentialities against such competition are concerned.

Matty Bell's track team will probably eat humble pie again this year. But then the host should be backward at beating the visitors, although Texas U. never hesitates, but then circumstances alter alibis.

NEW DRESSES FOR CHAPEL

Behold! New curtains, new seats, new stage front-drop, new paint, and a new smile on Prexy's face. All of which embellished the university auditorium considerably.

The new taupe colored curtains will be placed over all of the windows in the auditorium, according to enunciation by Mrs. Sadie T. Beckham. The new front-drop curtain for the stage will supplant the aged old canvas on which we have looked—lo!—these many years. The whole prospect of chapel will be enhanced by the heavy painting which is going on—not only that, but it is rumored that the stage will receive a new set of scenery, at least by the opening of school next fall. The smile on the president's face is easily explained. PREXY HAS A NEW CAR!

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION INVALID

Hubert Anderson, upper left, president-elect of the Student body until the recent presidential election was contested and found technically invalid on May 8. Claude Jacobs, lower left, is vice-president-elect; Bell Burnett, upper right, will take office as secretary-treasurer next year; and Henry L. Shepherd, Jr., is editor-in-chief of The Skiff for the good year 1926-1927.

!!! PROCLAMATION !!!

WHEREAS: In a joint meeting of the Student Welfare Committee and the Student Body officers on May 11th, 1926, motion was made

TOWIT: Validity of claims made in petition to the Student Welfare Committee and the President of the Student Body is justified, and that furthermore the returns of last Student Body Election for President of the Student Body held on May 5th and 6th be voided and that another election be held as proscribed in the Student Body Constitution, Article 2, Section 4:

BE IT KNOWN: This day, May 11, 1926, is hereby issued a proclamation for the election of President of the Student Body of Texas Christian University for the academic year 1926-1927, to be held Tuesday, May 25, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. of said day.

FURTHERMORE: Candidates for said office shall cause to be made a petition, fifteen signatures of members of the Student Body attached thereto, and same shall be filed with the President of the Student Body ten days prior to the date set for the election.

Signed: CARLOS ASHLEY, President Student Body.

T. C. U. FIGURES IN CONVENTION

The combined T. C. U. Glee Clubs will journey to Dallas tomorrow afternoon to appear on the program of the Texas Christian Missionary Convention. The Brite College students will be presented to the convention on Thursday morning and the T. C. U. faculty members will be presented Friday afternoon.

T. C. U. is taking considerable part in the convention this year as is evidenced by the program. A brief history of Texas Christian Missionary Conventions may be of interest to some readers:

STUDES SEND IN PETITION FOR ELECTION

Following is a petition which was submitted to authorities by thirty students recently:

To the Student Welfare Committee of Texas Christian University. Dr. John Lord, Chairman; To the Student Body of Texas Christian University. Mr. Carlos Ashley, President.

The undersigned respectfully petition that consideration be given and action be taken upon the matters herein called to attention relative to the manner in which the election of the Student Body president for the school year 1926-27 was conducted at the general election of Student Body officers Wednesday, May 5, and Thursday, May 6. It is the opinion of the undersigned students of Texas Christian University that the method of conducting the election of president was so grossly irregular not only in technical but in very material features, that the results should be voided and another election for that office held in the manner prescribed in the section of the Student Body constitution relating to elections.

The following counts are made against the manner of conducting the presidential election:

1. The hours of balloting, instead of being from 8 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the day set for the election, as is specified in Paragraph 6, Section 4, of the Student Body constitution, were from 11 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon of May 5, and then on the following morning for such a period of time as allowed votes to be cast by the 16 men representing the University on the baseball trip to Centenary College. While the re-opening of the ballot box was made in what undoubtedly was intended by the officers of the Student Body as a concession of common justice to school athletes who had the most valid reason for being absent on the day set for the election, the procedure and a number of attendant circumstances served to make that decisive phase of the election so flagrantly violative of not only the Student Body constitution but to the basic principles of justice and non-discrimination in the conduct of an election, that the undersigned believe the wrong should be righted by means of another and more proper election.

Aside from the technical fault of being absolutely arbitrary and without constitutional justification, the matter of re-opening the polls on the day after the main part of the election was done without provision or notice being made that ballots might be cast by students other than those on the baseball team who also were as unavoidably unable to cast their vote as the baseball team

Only once before in the Southwestern conference baseball annals is there record of a final game counting as much as this game this week. That other time was when Baylor won the conference title, the only time that Billy Disch's club had not won the cup in some fifteen years. This year it looks as though "Dutch" Meyer and his charges were going to unseat the champs again.

Texas has offered but one defeat up until this time, that administered by T. C. U. at the Steer's home grounds. The thing to do now is to make it unanimous.

Of course, even though the Frogs should beat Texas, the Longhorns would still have a chance to tie for the title, as that would make two losses for each club. But then the Longhorns have several games left to play after the T. C. U. encounter, any one of which threatens the security of the Dischmen.

But if the Frogs lose, they are absolutely out of the running for the title. So it's win, or let another chance at a title slip between the Frog's fingers, or rather, speaking of the amphibians, we should say claws.

Hezzie Carson, captain, pitching his last year and living up to all expectations, will get the call from "Dutch." Hez would sacrifice his right to salvation to beat Texas. This will be his last college game.

Hezzie is a quiet sort of chap, unobtrusive and quite self-possessed and calm. But he is having a hard time keeping his tranquility in the face of the coming game, realizing all that hinges on it. So are the rest of the members of the ball club. They have worked like Trojans this year for this chance, and they are not going to throw it away.

In the three years of T. C. U.'s competition in the Southwestern conference, Horned Frogs have come very close to winning championships, but have been left at second or third in the final accounting. But this is the big chance. Let's not lose it!

B. C. B. TO HAVE BIG BANQUET

Word has just been received that Missionary Ray Rice will be the chief speaker at the B. C. B. Banquet to be held at the First Presbyterian church on the night of May 18. Tickets for plates must be secured by Saturday, May 15, as the sales will be closed then. Tickets may be secured from Joe Fowler, Bessie May Rogers, Julia Ellison, Ruth Hilger, Glen Canfield, Maymie Garner and Pearce Burns.

The Program Committee promises Henry Elkins' Orchestra, good speaking, good singing, and much pep, all of which go to make up a real banquet. All Brite College students are expected to attend, as being members of the Brite Student Body, and anyone interested and wishing to attend is invited. Tickets sell at seventy-five ($.75) cents a plate. The Banquet will be served at 7:45.

BEAT TEXAS!

SO much depends on the outcome of the game with Texas University tomorrow that it little behooves one of us to tell the rest of us about it. However, it is well that part of us be reminded that T. C. U. has a heavy chance to win the SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP IN BASEBALL if we pull over the Purple Team on Clark Field. If we beat the Steers—and it's going to take all of Frogland to do it—we will annex our first conference pennant in baseball, our first conference championship in anything.

Hot after 'em! We need the gonfalon more than does Texas. If we play heady, fast, and careful baseball, and if the students pack the stands and permeate the field with that we've-got-to-win psychology, the Steers will have a hard row.

Heretofore, we have slipped up on a championship and fallen just short of a firm grasp on it. Second Place! (That doesn't sound so well.) Let's cinch a first place tomorrow!

BE GOOD HOSTS

BEGINNING Thursday, the campus will be crossed and recrossed by scores and scores of athletes, here from every school in the conference. They will compete in the Southwestern Conference track and field meet here, and during their stay will be our honored guests.

While we do not believe any of the visitors will be made to speak to us in chapel, they will be made as much a part of the school as possible during their stay, and made to feel at home. It is up to the student body, and to the students individually, to see that the visitors are hospitably treated while they are here.

This meeting comes to a conference school but once in every seven years. It will be 1933 when the next meet comes here. By that time all the present students will be out trying to earn a living. Since such another opportunity to show the hospitality of T. C. U. will not come to us, let us make the most of it. Thank you!

HELKAN THELPIT

SOMETHING happened the other day which we have long expected, but which came as a surprise nevertheless. One of our favorite professors in now the hero of a 1926 novel. In the simple statement of the fact there is something interesting between the lines there is something amusing.

Our own Errett McDiarmid, sage professor of philosophy, sometime youthful teacher in the mountains of Tennessee, is now before the literary world as a very considerable young Don Juan who—but you'll have to read the story. The name of the book is "Evelina of Old Virginia," and the funny part about it all is that the professor doesn't remember little Evelina, nor the authoress of the volume. He admits that they must have been school mates at Bethany. He is going to have to admit before long that he was the S. L. of half the little ladies of his alma mater, if many more rose-pink books are written about him.

(We suggest that a marked copy be placed in the "Have You Read This?" book-stand over in the library.)

NO PREXY!

THERE is no student body president! And furthermore, there will not be any prexy for at least 15 days.

It all came about in this wise: The recent election was contested, and the welfare council and student body officers of the current term decided, on account of certain violations of the constitution committed in the last election, the race for president of the student body should be thrown open again, and a new election for that one office be held Tuesday, May 25.

Any one can enter the race, provided that he get his petition, signed by at least 15 names, in by the latter part of this week to Carlos Ashley.

A big vote is expected in the coming election and some new entries in the race forthcoming.

BEYOND MY WINDOW THERE A ROSE ONCE GREW

Beyond my window there a rose once grew,
A morning rose—unfathomed childhood flower—
Deep colored in the cool and even hour
Of dawn, a wild and sweetly rendered hue,—
A quaint thing bathing in the lovely dew
Of dawn, that tender bloom beneath my bower!
No sparkling rose in painter's earthly power
Could match the one within my window's view.

I little knew that petals fall so soon,
That roses turn to patterns by and by,
And dreams go tumbling down beneath the moon:
I little knew my darling rose could die,
And so I call the vision back anew,
Beyond my window where the rose once grew.
—Robert Mason.

Every once in a while we come across a rare bit of college philosophy. The following editorial from The Oklahoma Daily is a rather unique expression of a lot of things:

About The Graduate.

"Almost time to graduate for lots of people. The time when one begins thinking about all the books one should have read, all the things one should have written, all the things one should have met, all the things one should have done—and didn't."

"It's about the time when one alternately curses the institution which he is about to leave, and blesses it for the variety of experiences and acquaintances which it has brought him."

"There is the tendency to underrate the valuable things one receives from college life."

"But the benefits derived generally outweigh the disgusts and heart-aches."

"College means in the lives of most individuals, the departure for the first time from the maternal apron-strings, and paternal razor-strap."

"It means the necessity of assuming responsibility in the matter of thought and action."

"It is often a first lesson in discrimination."

"It is an initiation into the idiosyncrasies of other individuals."

"It proves startling contrasts."

"It gives the opportunity to exercise original thoughts."

"It introduces one to a variety of cultures."

"It is a laboratory in which one finds incongruous elements fused."

"Here one finds stupidity, and neurotic brilliance. One gets bored with the intimacy that living with unlike individuals creates; one gets tired of philosophical pyrotechnics."

"But here one finds life in capitals."

"And so it is that even in rabid moments it is hard to say that four years in a college are wasted, no matter how little one actually learns from text books."

We thought that we were coming into the land of milk and honey when we were fortunate enough to become heirs of the $5,000,000 Burnett Estate. Well, comparatively speaking, T. C. U. did come into a pretty plot of ground. But think what a land of diamonds and whip-cream the University of Texas fell into recently!

Income.

present enjoying, from one impersonal benefactor alone, an income of about a million and a half dollars a year. It is not a case of some preposterously wealthy and generous retired capitalist. It is not revenue from an enormous endowment fund. The income is the university's one-eighth royalty on the output of the Group 1 Oil Company, organized three years ago to drill on land that the university chanced to own. Last week the company's directors declared three monthly dividends of $250 a share on the 2,048 shares outstanding, which, when paid, will bring the total dividend for the year ending in July to $2,415 a share. Last year Texas soil yielded 3,726,000 barrels of oil to grease the wheels of higher education in Texas."

had been. However, much the University wishes to honor its athletes, it is only common justice that other students should be allowed equal privileges in the casting of ballots in a popular election. No such provision was made. It was the observation of the undersigned that the student body members generally were surprised when it was announced following the close of the polls of the first and supposedly only day of the election, that the vote of the baseball squad upon its return from Shreveport on the following day, would decide the presidential election.

The winner of the presidential election on the first day of balloting, thought himself to be the winner and it was not until later in the afternoon that he was given the first intimation that another period of voting was to be opened on the following day. Another feature of injustice was the re-opening of the polls, the standing of the vote as taken in the first day of the election, was known generally by the students with the result that when the team came to vote, it knew, or at least had ample facility for learning, just how the vote stood and just what it could do in swinging the election. That bizarre feature of the election, whereby a small and restricted group is given the facts as to count and as to its ability to determine the outcome, is cited by these signatory to this petition.

2. Petitions endorsing the candidacy of the contestants for the office of president were not submitted 10 days prior to the date of the election, that fact being in violation of Paragraph 3, Section 4, of the constitution of the Student Body.

4. The ballots were not counted by a committee of three election judges appointed by the president, as is specified in Paragraph 5, Section 4, of the constitution of the Student Body.

No proclamation, as such, was made and published calling the date of the election, as required of the president of the Student Body, as is prescribed in Paragraph 5, Section 4, of the Student Body constitution.—Signed.

Scholars Will Select Officers For Coming Year

The Scholarship Society will hold a meeting in Jarvis Hall tonight, at which time much pending business will be attended to, including the election of officers for the year 1926-1927.

Mr. Jerome Moore is now president of the organization and Miss May Kemp is secretary-treasurer. The reins of office will go over to officers-elect at the beginning of next fall semester.

RECITALS TO BE NUMEROUS

A series of recitals will be given by the Fine Arts Department in music on succeeding Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 o'clock each morning, according to information received from Dr. H. D. Guelick, head of the department. It should be made clear that these recitals are not final graduation affairs but are more of the nature of practice recitals which are open to the public.

The regular spring recitals will probably begin some time next week. A program of all the recitals will be posted on the bulletin board and published in The Skiff.

BOOK HOUNDS READ "PORGY"

The Bryson Club met at the home of Miss Marian Mullins last Monday evening and discussed one of the most bizarre and entertaining books on the current market, viz., "Porgy." The round-table talk was stimulated by the leadership of Miss Rebecca Smith and Miss Mabel Major, and weighty opinions on fiction and sociology exuded therefrom in fair profusion. The discussion, in brief, was well directed.

Refreshments of the delightful sort were served by the hostesses, much to the reserved enjoyment of the guests. Approximately thirty-five members of the club were present.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET COMES MONDAY NIGHT

Crowning the social events of the year will be the Junior-Senior banquet Monday night, to be held at the Woman's Club banquet hall, on Pennsylvania avenue. Beginning at seven o'clock, the ever-present spectators will see close to 150 members of the two classes seated at the long tables eating like good trenchmen.

Henry Shepherd will act as toastmaster for the occasion. Professors Baird and Rebecca Smith will make the main talks of the evening, while several short expressions will be made by various luminaries among the assembled students. A program has been arranged in addition to the post-prandial wind-jamming.

Coming so late in the year, the banquet will assume somewhat the aspect of a valedictory affair—a farewell to the seniors who are about to take leave of things scholarly, as far as T. C. U. is concerned. However, be it known there will be no sobbing or weeping on each other's shoulders, for it will be an occasion of merriment.

An excellent menu has been selected, and a number of the girl members of the Junior class will decorate the hall befitting the school and season.

The tax assessed the juniors of $1.25 per head is being levied this week, and the list of seniors having been turned in, the "dates" for the affair can be arranged through Shepherd, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

PICKUPS

By H. L. S., Jr.

CHARLIE "Rabbit" Dickenson was quite peeved last week. He was justifiably peeved too, because in all the flurry accompanying the International Boys' Week, not one mention was made of the boys at T. C. U. Curtis thinks that in the future all boys' week celebrations should include the good boys of T. C. U.

COACH Frank Bridges is having a good time while yet he may. At the game last Saturday while his Bears were being soundly thrashed, the retiring coach was enjoying himself trading wise observations and humorous quips with the crowd behind him. He and his lim hurler contributed largely to the afternoon's merriment.

"CHILLI" Pruden, editor-elect of the Horned Frog, is back in school leaning on a hardwood cane for support. "Chilli," in his emaciation, caused by a long diet of soup, looks like one could imagine a starving French attic-dwelling poet would appear. All he needs to fit the part is a two week's growth of beard, and with that glittering eye and sunken cheek—it aural le semblance of a poet francis.

SPEAKING or growths of beard, the next time you see Mr. Jack Hammond, genial history instructor, take a good look at him and figure out for yourself how he would look if he let his beard grow out all over. If you get a chance, tell the writer and see if we form the same opinion.

MONDAY night we Juniors will give a valedictory banquet to the Seniors. The festive board will be set and appropriately adorned at the beautiful banquet hall of the Woman's Club building, on Pennsylvania avenue. The Seniors and Juniors will sup and make merry just with one another, and many fair maidens will come with their swains decked, the girls, in pretty evening smocks, all dolled up for the occasion. Ah! 'Twill be a glittering affair.

EVERY dog has his day. Harve Light et al had theirs when the frog trackers won their first and only dual track meet of the season last Saturday against Austin College. Bandy legged little Josephus Fowler ran in ahead of the field the two mile to win his letter after four years of continuous unwarded effort. Robert Howard leaped high and far to win the broad jump first in that event. Bab may get a letter. If so, there will be one more B. B. A. in the hall of fame.

PROF. Ballard is inclined at times to boast of the exploits of his department. He has the football captain, basketball captain, possibly the next season's track captain, the president of the student body, the school's bad boy, and a score more of letter-men et al.

If your light tan-Shoes are soiled save them dyed black. Peter Bros., 913 Houston Street.

DAMSELS BAT HIGH IN LOCAL LEAGUE

Here are ten Frogettes who are hittin' 'em far and wide in the bitter battles which are featuring the Girls' Indoor Baseball Contests being held each night this week in the gymnasium. They'll all be out tomorrow to help T. C. U. pour it on the Steers.

W. A. A. NOTES

The WAA will hold the last dinner of the season tonight at the Blue-Bonnet and F. & M. Cafe, at 6 o'clock. All members and pledges are urged to be present as an interesting program of musical selections, toasts and election of officers has been arranged.

TCU varsity girls have had a good season in league baseball, and are playing off a tie with Kelsay this week. The first game was played Monday night, which TCU won 12-11, and the other two will be played Wednesday and Friday nights. The girls won first place in the league last year. Let's come out and boost them to championship again.

The inter-class baseball games will be played off next week.

The new Pep squad met Friday night to discuss work for next year. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. Suits for next year were discussed. The Pep squad for next year shows signs of developing into the best organization in school.

A thief was apprehended at the gym last Saturday when two or three plugs of "Star" tobacco and several bananas were found in Judy's pocket. The ever constant Al who proved to be the real thief took the stolen property back to the University Grocery.

The Freshman baseball and basketball girls entertained at the home of Lois Hautchens last Thursday in honor of Mrs. Donaldson who will not be back next year. She was presented with a gift from the freshmen to whom she has been truly a friend.

Letters to those who have finished their hours in baseball, basketball and swimming were awarded this week.

BAND BOYS TO GET SWEATERS

Members of the Horned Frog Band who have been active during the current year will receive sweaters for their services, according to a statement made by Professor Claude Sammis, head of the violin department and director of the band. The expense of purchasing the sweaters will be chiefly defrayed by the band's slush fund which mounted to a very considerable sum a few weeks ago after the gate receipts of the band show had been turned in to the treasurer.

For some time, it has been thought that activity in the band and Glee Clubs should be recognized by the university in practically the same manner in which activity in athletics has been recognized. Dr. Guelick started the movement to award Glee Club members gold pins, emblematic of the activity, and Prof. Sammis has carried out the plan to award band members with sweaters.

Cooperation is what makes a kiss stronger.

Here lies the body of Joe Ebenezer Funnell, he took the wrong girl in his arms, as he sped through a tunnel.

The love race between "Hot-Lips" Briscoe and "Bull" Chapman were brought to its zenith on Mother's day. Both tried to out do each in showing the mother of the lass just how "sweet" they could be. From all accounts the ex-rancher is now a hair in the lead.

The third act of Junior Frolic was held in the balcony of the auditorium where the "balcony scene" from Shakespeare's "Hand in Hand" was performed with great skill. Belle Burnett and Harold Evans were the major performers while "Pee Wee" Cantelmi and Nell Byrnl carried the minor roles.

The world's greatest drama entitled "A Kiss in the Dark" will be enacted on the bandstand by Herman Clark and Ilene Moore. Grandstand seats have already been purchased by Billy Ashburn, Doug Bush, "Bear" Wolf, and "3-pint" Washmon. Clark gives assurance of a great show. Tickets are on sale by Ilene Moore and Eckham.

SOCIETY

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

Everyone senses the proximity of one of the most extensive and most enjoyable social events of the year, Ye Rare Olde Junior-Senior Banquet. One always speaks in superlatives of this affair—more than an affair, and institution of merriment and geniality, an occasion of good cheer and pledges to long-standing friendships. It is thought that about one-hundred and fifty Juniors and Seniors will surround the heavily laden boards next Monday night—the place: Fort Worth Federation of Women's Clubs Building, Pennsylvania Avenue.

PUBLIC RECITAL

The Public Speaking Department will present Elaine Self, accomplished dramatic reader, in public recital next Friday night, May 14, in the university auditorium. Her program is well selected, consisting of two one-act plays, a choice selection from "David Copperfield," and some classic violin pieces, played by Henry Elkins. Those who have seen the past performances of Ruth Draper and Elaine Self anticipate eagerly the pleasure to be derived from Miss Self's recital the night after tomorrow night.

MOTHER'S DAY

Mothers of T. C. U. students were entertained most hospitably last Saturday and Sunday. The tea which was given on the campus Saturday evening was well attended by both mothers and students and the affairs Sunday were enjoyed fully. Dr. Lockhart preached at the Mother's Day services—a well-attended devotional and sermon-talk in the auditorium. Among the entertainments for the mothers Sunday afternoon was the attractive little tea in the Jarvis Hall parlors, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

SENIOR CLASS ENTERTAINED

Seniors and their mothers were entertained with an afternoon tea by Miss Rebecca Smith in her home last Sunday. Miss Smith, who is Senior Class Professor, was assisted by several of the luminaries of the university in receiving the guests—guests who found the sociable chat, the well-served tea-luncheon, the music furnished by Mr. Elkin's Orchestra, and the exquisite interior of the home very, very pleasing. The seniors and their mothers were entertained from four until six o'clock.

Miss Shirley Gibson and Elizabeth Molyot spent the week-end in Waxahachie.

Misses Grace and Tott Burks spent the past week-end in Pilot Point.

Mrs. Riley's daughter, Mrs. Lockhart visited her the past week-end.

Misses Louise Wiggins and Bernice Gates spent the week-end in Grapevine.

Miss Mary Helen Payne was in town over the week-end.

Misses Louise Anderson and Emily Lou Phillips were in town with Mrs. Holland for the week-end.

Miss Nolene Simmons visited her parents in Sherman.

We were glad to see so many mothers in T. C. U. Sunday.

Miss Emily Lou Phillips was hostess at a dinner given Thursday evening in the Science Dining Room. The guests were, Misses Major and Logan and Messrs. Dunlavey, MacDiarmid and Wright.

Miss Abbie Dalton spent the week-end in Mansfield. She was accompanied to school by her mother.

Miss Frances Stevens was the guest, Sunday, of Miss Mabel Mills.

Miss Catherine Ellington spent the week-end at her home in Hillsboro.

Mr. John Oakes of Amarillo, former student in T. C. U. has been visiting friends on the campus the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis of Italy visited their daughter Evelyn in Sterling Cottage, Saturday.

ENDEAVOR SOCIETY

Competition is the life of trade, so leaders of the Freshman-Sophomore C. E. society staged a contest to enliven things in general and better Sunday school, church and C. E. attendance. Leaders for two sides were chosen. Weir McDiarmid was chosen leader of side No. 1 and Anna Lee Bush was chosen leader of side No. 2. Draws were made for sides, and the contest began. Competition rose to fever heat, so if one is accused by some one asking one to join side No. 1 or side No. 2, one need not be amazed.

At the last counting side No. 1 led side No. 2 by a score of 941 to 856 but side No. 2 says that is only a small indication of what they are going to do in the future. However side No. 1 says they are only starting and so the contest rages. If you happen to be on side No. 2 be sure and come and save your side from certain defeat. If you are on side No. 1 come out so you will get to attend the party given by the loser.

SPORTS

By Carlos Ashley

COACH Myer has not announced who will be on the hillock tomorrow for the Frogs, but it would not be surprising to see Captain Hezzie Carson take over the duty. He opened the season against S. M. U. with a 7 to 2 victory and it would be quite fitting if he were allowed to close his college athletic career with a victory against Texas!

The Steers eked out a victory over the Aggies Monday which gives them a commanding lead in the conference average today. But tomorrow is another day and when Old Sol creeps behind the western horizon Thursday evening the color of the uniforms of the club who are conference champions may be PURPLE and WHITE instead of ORANGE and WHITE.

The boys from out on the Forks of the Concho, where the jack rabbits play hiding seek with the prairie dogs, have certainly performed yeoman service for Frogland this baseball season. Hezzie and Hobo Carson, both of San Angelo, have started every conference game with one exception. Tubby Brewster took the first turn on the mound against Baylor last Saturday. But even then Hobo was rushed into the fray and succeeded in cinching a win for the Mineral Wells Mountaineer.

This is the biggest week on the T. C. U. Spring Athletic Calendar. Thursday the Frogs and Steers tangle in the crucial game of the baseball title chase and without a doubt the winner of that battle will be the winner of the championship. Then Friday and Saturday the lithe limbed youngsters from all over the conference gather in the Purple Stadium to match their speed, strength and endurance, in the Annual Southwest Conference Track Meet. A great host of athletes will be the guests of Frogland these two days and the stadium should be well filled with spectators to witness this greatest of Texas track events, for the first time it has honored T. C. U. by being held here.

Matty Bell can not boast of much talent on his cinder squad this year but he has a few men who should take points for the Frogs. Young Kenneth McCorkle has been showing remarkable form in the hundred yard dash. He was recently clocked at 9.45 seconds, which time should easily take first place. Captain Harry Light takes the low hurdle well, despite constant trouble with shin-splints. Cunningham has not lost an intercollegiate meet this year in the high jump. Last week against Austin College he negotiated better than six feet. "Charley-Rabbit" Dickenson is a mighty good man in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He has nosed out McCorkle several times but the latter has improved recently until now he takes all the boys and wins going away.

Joe Fowler has been going out for track almost four years. He never seemed to have much luck because his event was one that required a half-a-day's endurance as well as a considerable amount of speed. Joe specialized in the two-mile run, not because he could run the two miles at a rapid clip for because he could run far at all, then he first went out, but because here was no competition for that place on the track team. No other track man wanted to work himself to death in such a strenuous event. But Joe kept plugging along, never receiving any recognition at the end of the track seasons that dragged slowly by, until last week he won the first track race he has ever won in inter-collegiate competition, and Matty Bell says that, "Joe will receive his bitter if I have to buy it myself."

The Senior Class finally decided to present the university with some cement blocks as a parting gift. Instead of donating a thing of beauty, such as one of the oil paintings which first attracted the members, the class came to the decision that the most utilitarian thing to do would be to place said cement blocks end to end for a matter of a few yards, thus forming walk on which future students may tread, over which future wagons may roll smoothly, and through which future cracks may form grotesque canyons and writhing subterranean passages. Many an illustrious name will be door-matted when the hapless slab is placed. We trust that our posterity will duly have a concrete idea of appreciation.

GOLF TOURNEY WILL BE HELD AT RICE SOON

TCU will be represented in the first Southwest Conference Golf Tournament, to be held soon on the Golf links at Rice University, Houston. The Purple team will be composed of seasoned and consistent players, among whom are Hughbert Anderson, newly elected president of the student body, and Harold "Hobo" Carson, star pitcher on the Frog Nine. As the first inter-collegiate contest of its kind to be held in the Southwest, the golf tournament will have a large and enthusiastic gallery.

It has been the aim of Mr. L. C. "Pete" Wright, athletic director of TCU, to gradually and steadily broaden Frogland's athletic activities to include various sports which are not recognized by the conference as "majors." By thus expanding the athletic interests, more students will be brought into the health-giving games, and intra-mural and inter-collegiate contests will furnish exhilarating recreation for a great number of students.

B. B. A. STUDENTS TO GIVE FOURTH ANNUAL PICNIC

The fourth annual picnic of the Department of Business Administration will be held in Forest Park on Thursday afternoon, May 20 at two o'clock. The first event will be a baseball game between the Accountants and the "Ain't-Accountants." Albert Acker, "Keeper of the Bees," will captain the Accountants, while "Red Grange" Andrews will captain the "Ain't-Accountants." Each captain has been asked to select a team of sixteen men. The reason sixteen are selected instead of nine is to make the score closer so that the "Anti-Accountants" will be able to keep it. It is uncertain who the officials will be for this contest, although heavy pressure is being brought through the Board of Trustees and E. S. Smiser to have Dutch Meyer and Matty Bell available to handle the game. Pete Wright and Ed. Kubale will umpire from the opposing benches. Great ceremonies will take place at the beginning of the contest. A baseball autographed by Mr. Volstead will be given to anybody who will have it.

After the main ball game, a second ball game will be played between the factory employees composed of Mr. Scott's eleven o'clock class and the girls of the department. Odds of two to one are being offered on the girls. A straw hat has been donated by Washer Brothers through Marion Weil, former B. B. A. student, and will be given to the boy who guesses to the nearest to the correct age of Ann. In other words, How old is Ann?

Other prizes have been donated by Jack Uherman through Claude Jacobs, Crouch Hardware Company thru Frank Goldthwaite, University Coffee Shop, University Barber Shop, W. B. LaCava, University Grocery Store, University Beauty Parlor, University Drug Store, and University Book Store. Three hundred pounds of ice will be donated by the Ballard Ice Company through James Pitts, and one Firestone tire by Gregory Tire Service through Jack and Forrest Gregory. Some supplies have been donated by Waples-Platter Company through J. W. Shugart, Jr. and a special prize of one pair of mourner's gloves will be given by Robertson and Mueller through Louis Mueller, supposed to

Banquet Tonight For WAA Members

The W. A. A. Banquet will be held at the Wayside Inn tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock. The officers of the organization predict good attendance and state that the dinner will perhaps be very compatible with the gourmand tendencies of all those who may attend.

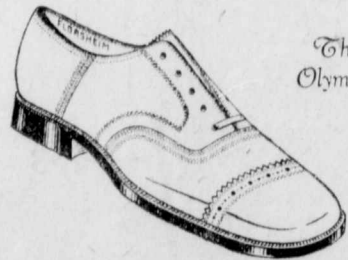

This organization has been very active throughout the year, the activities including dinner, hiking trips, camping parties, and many informal entertainments.

The committee in charge of prizes is composed of "Cheese" Stuart and "Concho" Cunningham. It has been decided that prizes will only be awarded to students who are taking courses in the Business Administration department. It is hoped that every member of the department will be present at the picnic and have a good time.

Walter Friberg is organizing a band to play at the picnic and, as a special inducement each member of the band will be given a goose-liver sandwich. Mrs. J. W. Ballard, Mrs. Dutch Meyer, Mrs. E. S. Smiser and Mrs. M. J. Scott will be present to act as chaperones, all of whom have poor eyesight.

Boys who are taking work in the department will be allowed to bring a girl as a guest provided they will inform the committee before hand, so that they will know how many to plan on. A hat will be passed around in all classes on May 17 and May 18 and the proceeds used for the picnic. Effort is being made to serve fried chicken at the picnic if there are enough young chickens within twenty-five miles of the University which can be secured without bodily injury. A committee consisting of Wanda Schmidt, Wilma Lockett, Mabel Mills, Hazel Kinney, Hazel Nelson, Winnie Phillips, Jessie Seay, Marie Thorne, Ellen Waldron, Ruth Williamson, and Elizabeth Glenn will have charge of the refreshments. All B.B.A.'s. out on May 20th at Forest Park.
