T. C. U. - A. & M. FOOTBALL SPECIAL

CAMBRIDGE MEN TO DEBATE IN TCU NOV. 17

When debaters from Texas Christian University meet the Cambridge University meet the Cambridge citizens will have the opportunity of hearing one of two debating teams from England which are touring in the United States this fall.

Debating teams from Cambridge University have been sent to the United States for the past several years. This year, as a new departure, a team selected by the National Union of Students, including one representative each from an English, Scotch and Welsh University, is also being sent.

Both teams are made up of men graduating next June. The Cambridge team, which is the one that will debate against T. C. U., will land in New York City Friday and sail again Nov. 25.

Last year the Cambridge team toured the East and South. This year the team is covering the West and Southwest, or beyond a line drawn from Chicago to New Orleans. The Union team will remain in the East and South, on the other side of the dividing line.

The Cambridge University team is prepared to debate upon any one of four subjects during its fall tour in the United States. The home debaters are permitted to make a choice. T. C. U. has chosen to debate on the negative of the subject: "Resolved, that this house thinks that the ethics of the business world are incompatible with sound morality."

Debating at T. C. U. this year is in charge of Lester C. Boone.

The three Cambridge debaters are M. A. B. King-Hamilton, Herbert Lionel Elvin, and Hugh Mackintosh Foot. The students who will represent T. C. U. have not yet been chosen.

Frogs Down Kangaroos

After showing a brilliant offense and leading the Kangaroos by a score of 20 to 0 at the end of the first half the Frogs were outplayed and outscored by the Presbyterians during the last two periods. Pass after pass flung from the hands of the elusive Keeling sailed through the air to find refuge in the hands of Price or Lingo, Kangaroo ends. The Frogs were unable to stop the aerial attack of the Kangaroos and the Presbyterians completed pass after pass to score two touchdowns in the later stages of the game.

The offensive strength of the Frogs swept over the Kangaroo forward wall in the first two periods and the Frogs piled up a lead of 20 points during the first half. Coming back into the game in the second half the Kangaroos displayed a fighting spirit that drove the Frogs to the defense of their goal line. Pass after pass was completed, and the Frogs who were not playing their usual brand of fighting football were unable to break them up.

Capt. "Blackie" Williams who sat on the sidelines in civilian clothes robbed the Frogs of much of their offensive power as the powerful plunging captain and heady field general undoubtedly is the offensive star of the Frog machine. However from the fight that the Kangaroos displayed they were not to be denied in the second half and it is a disputed question whether the presence of Captain Williams could have spurred the Frogs on to greater defensive strength.

"Rags" Matthews great Christian end who played the entire game with a severe cold and an infected leg played an excellent game against the Presbyterians, although it was not up to his standard, his play would have been a great game for many ends. However, with a week's rest

Pollywogs Have Great Crew

Where do the Fighting Frogs come from, anyway? From the "Peppy Pollywogs," of course! The majority of the student body is not aware of the fact that there really is a Freshman team at T. C. U. with a real coach and two real assistant coaches, but nevertheless there is just the same.

With the opening of the '27-'28 season, L. R. "Dutch" Meyer began his fifth year as Freshman football coach, with Harold "Hobo" Carson and Raymond "Bear" Wolfe as his assistants. All three have, in the past, reached the heights of stardom while in T. C. U. Dutch was a stellar end on the football team a basketball forward and a pitcher of no little renown during his days as a student. Hobo and Bear played their last for T. C. U. in the spring of '27 when both were outstanding members of the baseball team; the latter winning All-Conference honors for the second year, while the former won fame by pitching a no-hit, no-run game against Rice. Bear went to the Cincinnati Reds during the summer. In football Hobo toated the mail at half back and Bear again won All-Conference honors playing guard.

The coaches think they have the best material that has ever graced the campus of Frogland. Nearly twice as many Frosh answered the call on Sept. 15, as did varsity men, but the squad has been reduced to twenty-nine "Future Frogs." One enemy scalp has already fallen into the clutches of the boys, that being Ranger High School. The score was 13-0. Dutch thinks they are awfully dumb at times but he doubtless has forgotten that all freshmen are dumb. Four games is all the conference heads will allow the Dutchmen to participate in, and as this goes to press they will be taking on the Decatur Baptist College in the annual tilt, on the local gridiron. The Indians, according to advance statements, are coming down from Decatur to avenge the defeat handed them last year by the now haughty Sophomores. Nov. 4 will find them in action against the Weatherford Junior College aggregation and on Nov. 23, Tricky Ward '27, will lead his Ranger Junior College gridiron warriors against the freshmen of his Alma Mater. And nothing would suit Coach Ward better than to show T. C. U. his ability as a coach by upsetting the Pollywogs.

Men have gathered from all parts of Texas to represent their home town on the "Famous Frosh" team Oklahoma has one representative on the eleven. Among the players are those who shown potentialities of real varsity timber by their actions while wearing the mokeskin they are such men as: Leo Butler Holland; Austin Griffith, Oak Cliff; Clifton Bruce, Stamford; Les Swafford, Ranger; Sam Sain, Terrell Prep; Bob Minton, North Side; Othol Martin, Jacksboro; Howel Hopkins, Oak Cliff; and Gordon Copeland, Cleburne. Other members of the squad are Carlson Wells Olney; Aaron Hays, Poly and N. T. A. C.; Dave Russell, Central; John Simmons, Eastland; Bruce Gibson Sweetwater; Harvey Wright, Poly; Paul Middleton, Arlington Hts; Huber Dennis, Oak Cliff; Joe Galloway N. T. A. C.; Bill Boyles, Sweet water; John Lebus, Electra; V. C. Roberts, John Tarlton; Cyrus Leland Lubbock; Clark Lee, Cleburne; A. T. Barrett, Central; John Hirstine North Side; Howard Carroll, Goddard; Albert Flynn, Poly; Clyde Roberson, Hugo, Okla.; Chas. Griffin, Eastland and Ben Curran, North Dallas.

The teams of '25 and '26 were undefeated and each man on the squad is trying his best to live up to the standard set by the boys who are now performing on the varsity.

Band Will Go To Ranger

The T. C. U. Band has been selected by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce to accompany them and "Rusty" Veale of Jarvis Hall, T. C. U. representative, to Ranger on Friday, October 21 for the Chamber of Commerce convention and celebration. This is quite an honor to T. C. U.

The Band will leave in busses early on the morning of the 21st and will parade in several towns between Ft. Worth and Ranger. In Ranger it will take part in a gigantic parade to be held that morning by the numerous Chambers of Commerce, and will be official Band of Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. The busses will return to Fort Worth late that evening.

Vera Turbeville, officially known as Band Sweetheart, will accompany the Band on the trip to Ranger.

Bowden Completes Texas Tour

Henry Bowden, vice president of Texas Christian University has just completed a tour of Texas and Louisiana cities in the interests of T. C. U. Mr. Bowden spoke before Christian church gatherings in Crowley, Shreveport and New Orleans in Louisiana, and at Tyler, Sherman, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Breckenridge, San Angelo Temple, San Antonio and Houston.

"Our purpose," said Mr. Bowden "is to enlist every church, every alumnus and every individual in the interest of Texas Christian University.

"To this end we are planning to organize local chapters of the T. C. U. Ex-Students Association in all parts of the state. These groups will be used to stimulate interest and enthusiasm in the expansion program of the institution.

Dallas Students Form T. C. U. Club

Monday night all of those students who live in Dallas at the present time, or who have lived in Dallas within the last few months, met in the parlors at Jarvis Hall, and elected the following student officers: Howard Baxter, president; Mary Nell McCants, vice-president; Geraldine Sharpe, secretary; Howell Hopkins, treasurer; Thelma Hampton, reporter, Pauline Richardson, social chairman. Committees were named, and resolutions will be adopted at the next meeting which will be held in the parlor at Jarvis next Tuesday evening.

A Message

AGGIES ANXIOUS TO DEPART ON CORPS TRIP

For the first time in the history of the athletic era the Aggies are going to make a Corps Trip to Cow Town and it is with the greatest anticipation and anxiety that they await the final whistle of the "Coal Eight" that will start them on their way to that rendezvous toward which they have been looking since the people of Ft. Worth announced their intentions of having the Corps visit them this year. The Corps Trip is always the one important even in the fall that each man looks forward to with much pleasure.

This year it is indeed more than a pleasure, it is an opportunity, for the Cadets to get to make this trip to a place where they will receive such wonderful treatment and unlimited courtesy. The Aggies like T. C. U. and many opinions have been expressed that they are the best fellows and real sportsmen in the Conference. Year before last when the small group of Cadets went to Fort Worth they were treated royally and every man expressed his heartfelt thanks to the students who arranged such a nice reception for us. The opinion was also expressed that they had rather it was T. C. U. that beat them than any other team in the Conference.

"The Rock" to Be Produced Again

"The Rock, a tableau of the apostle Peter's struggle toward Jesus which was presented at the state convention of the Christian Church at Houston last Spring by ministerial students of Brite College of the Bible, T. C. U., will be presented this fall by essentially the same cast. Ministers who would like to have this presentation given in their churches, may make arrangement with Harvey Redford, president of the B. C. B. Association at T. C. U.

Proceeds of the presentations will be used to help defray expenses of representatives of Brite College at the various conventions throughout this year-brotherhood convention-Student Volunteers, Christian Endeavor, etc.

It is planned to take the tableau to any church asking for it, satisfactory arrangements can be made.

A "Trip Around the World" is to be given on the T. C. U. campus December 9, to help raise funds to send delegates to the various conferences. Missionary entertainment will be provided, representing various countries of the world. This is also sponsored by the B. C. B. Association.

S. M. U. Ministerial Students Entertained

Theological students of T. C. U. entertained about 50 ministerial students of S. M. U. with a welcome roast at Top-o'-the-Hill terrace Thursday evening, Oct. 13 at 5:30 p. m. Cars and trucks afforded transportation for the students.

The entertainment was a part of the contribution of Brite College to the Inter-Seminary Movement being sponsored by American colleges.

Purple Takes On Farmers At Three Bells

Fighting against superior odds but with a fighting heart the Horned Frogs will battle the A. & M. Aggies in the Frog Stadium Saturday.

The Aggie team which has run rough-shod over its opponents in three of their games this year has one of the greatest teams in the history of the schools. Led by the brilliant Joel Hunt the Farmers possess great offensive power and their line from end to end averages 190 points. The flying feet of the great Joel Hunt and the stalwart line play of the forward Aggie all has spelled dismay for Cadet enemies this year.

In all the games played by the Aggies this year the fine interference running of the Farmer backs have enabled the fleet Alsbrook and Hunt to scurry around enemy lines or good yardage. However, if "Rags" Matthews, greatest end in the conference, lives up to his standard the end play of Hunt and the other canny Farmer backs will be stopped dead. This is Matthews' last game against the Aggies and the husky Christian end doubtless will fight the greatest battle of his brilliant career.

Last Saturday the Farmers swamped the Razorbacks 40 to 6. The victory although it was not a great surprise to the Southwest gives an indication of the great offensive and defensive strength of the Aggies. Doubtless after the farmers had piled up a high lead he Razorbacks quit fighting and succumbed to the great offensive drives of the Aggie machine. Mettly Bell's "Fighting Frogs" have defeated Daniel Baker, Austin College, Texas Tech, and tied the Texas Steers. The game Saturday will be the crisis for them and if they fight as they have in the past the Aggies with their highly touted machine will have to put forth a great offensive to defeat the Frogs. However, only a great fighting spirit will place the Frogs on par with the Aggies.

The Frogs who have the habit of going into a game the underdogs but who always have a fighting team will take the field Saturday with the tradition of a name won after years of fighting against great odds, namely, the "Fighting Frogs." The Frog machine this year although it does not possess the stars of the past two years will present a group of young fighters who will give their all to the defense of the name of the "Fighting Frogs."

In 1925 the Farmers played the Frogs on the Frog field and the Frogs who possessed the greatest fighting spirit but the inferior mechanical machine outplayed, outfought, and outscored the Aggies who became the Southwestern Conference champions that year. Last year the game was played at Aggie land and the Aggies and the Frogs tied 13 to 13. This year the game will be played on the Frog gridiron and the team that fights the harder and gets the breaks will win the game. And a fighting team usually gets the breaks which spell victory or defeat.

Capt. "Blackie" Williams who was unable to enter the Frog-Kangaroo tussle last week because of an injury but who has been in uniform this week will lead his team mate against the Aggies. The powerful chief is one of the great offensive stars of the conference and is a triple threat man. Aided by good interference the husky back and heady field general will be hard to stop.

Odie Thompson, Merlin Toler, and Lowell Parrish will probably start the game abetted by Capt. Williams. Thompson, a big plunging fullback

OUR GUESTS.
 Today is the day of friendships. Today two of the greatest student bodies in the conference meet for an amiable holiday. T. C. U. and A. & M. have always been friends, and it is the great hope of T. C. U. that they shall ever remain so.

When teams meet on the gridiron it is undoubtedly the aim of both to do their best and win if they can. They will fight and fight hard. But between our two institutions let us remember we are all of one clan—seekers of education. As such, we are brothers, and as brothers, true friends.

Let us be happy today then, for we are united. Let the best team win, and the winner be praised and the loser honored. Above all, let us remember that we are—just friends.

Two Leaders RAGS and

Song Rules Are Approved

The rules for the Texas Christian University song contest have been passed upon by the student body and songs may now be submitted, according to an announcement by Jerome Smiser, student president at T. C. U.

There are two contests—one for a new Alma Mater song and one for a new athletic song. A prize of $50 is offered for the winning song in each contest. Students, former students, alumni and faculty members may take part in the competition.

Songs submitted for the prizes must be entered in the contest under a non-de-plume and public performance of the contest entries is forbidden before the close of the preliminary contest on Dec. 29. All songs submitted become the property of T. C. U., subject to revision by a musical committee. All contest songs must have original melodies.

In addition to the two song contests there is a move under way at the school to publish a T.C.U. Song Book. Songs handed in for use in the song book and not entered in the contests are not required to have original melodies and may be produced in public at any time. If a copyrighted melody is used, however, permission should be obtained from the owner of the copyright, Mr. Smiser points out.

"Considerable interest has been shown in the contest announcements," says Smiser, "and it is expected that many songs will be submitted in the two contests."

MODERN LANGUAGES AT T.C.U.

Parlez-vous francais? Habla Ud. espanol? Sprechen Sie Deutsch? This year T.C.U. is starting out with a bang in modern languages. Look back, if you will, to the year 1920, when the department had only two or three instructors, and around a hundred and twenty-five students. Today it boasts of eight instructors, and between seven hundred and fifty to eight hundred students. One-half the entire student body is now "parley-voicing," "hablaing," "Deutsching," (or trying to).

The courses in three modern languages have been extended until they now compare favorably with the best colleges of this kind in the country. Nineteen different courses are offered, including a course in conversational French, offered by Madame Combs. German, which at the outbreak of the World war began to suffer from a "dislocation of the status quo," has rapidly picked up, until we now offer three years of that language. Miss Carter's class in the Spanish Novel numbers around fifty.

The head of the department, Dr. Combs, is highly elated with the esprit de corps among his assistants. It looks as if the department were able at last to sit up and take substantial nourishment. Next year it is probable that a number of new courses will be offered, also that Italian will be resumed. Dr. Combs holds a doctor's degree (summa cum laude) from the Sorbonne (University of Paris).

"Stop sniffing, little boy. Can't you do something with your nose?" the austere old lady asked.

"Yesum," returned the lad politely, "I can keep it out of other folks' business."

showed great promise in the Frog-Kangaroo game and if he is in there fighting will be hard to stop Toler and Parrish, who round up the backfield are both fast men. Toler will probably do the punting for the Frogs.

Jake Williams who has been nursing an injury the past few weeks should be in prime condition to start the game and if ready will add strength to the Frog forward wall. Bill Palmer and the other injured Frogs will also be in condition to be hurled into the fray if needed.

The Frogs have only a fighting chance in this game and if they go into Saturday's game with great fighting spirit will give the powerful Aggies one of the greatest games of this season.

The entire cadet corps, bands and Aggie pep organizations will accompany the Aggies to Frogland and the Southwest will see one of the greatest games of its history with the team that possess the greatest fight the winner.

Game starts at 3. Frog Stadium

Frogs Down Kangaroos

the stellar wingman should be in excellent condition for the A. & M. game.

Odie Thompson and Nasty Clark also played fine games for the Frogs. Time after time Thompson pierced the Kangaroo line for gains while Clark's end runs and line plunging was also a feature of the clash. Clark's handling of the team was good at stages of the game although he had the misfortune to have one of his passes intercepted close to his own goal line. Felix Reynolds Reid, and Bass played consistent games.

Keeling, Price, Lingo, and Muse were the stars for the Kangaroo aggregation. The Combination of Keeling-Price-Lingo worked consistently during the last two periods. Time after time passes flung from the hands of the Presbyterian field general fell into the waiting arms of Price or Lingo. The punts of Muse were driven far down the field which enabled the Kangaroo ends and backs to stop the Frog safety for small gains.

The game ended with the ball in the possession of the Frogs on their own 43 yard line.

NELL RUSSELL ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FROGETTES CLUB

Miss Nell Russel of Ballinger was elected president of the Frogettes Freshman club at a meeting held in Jarvis. Miss Mary Nell McCouts of Dallas is vice-president and Pauline Richardson of Dallas is secretary. Miss Thelma Hampton also of Dallas is treasurer.

Studes Doing Odd Jobs For Schooling

Did you ever hear of a boy working his way through college milking goats? Well, there are students at Texas Christian University doing that very thing and holding down other menial positions all the way from bell hops to cashiers, in order to secure a coveted education. Approximately 350 students, both boys and girls, are working their way through T. C. U. this year according to Prof. John W. Ballard, chairman of the Employment Committee of T. C. U. Others on the committee are Athletic Director L. C. (Pete) Wright, and Butler S. Smiser, business manager of the university.

There is not much of anything that these boys and girls can not and will not do. Positions which working students are holding include such jobs as waiters, elevator boys, janitors, bread wrappers, cashiers, soda jerkers, meat checkers, draftsmen, tracers, stenographers, ticket takers at theaters, ad writers, blue print workers, insurance salesmen, street car conductors, bell hops, sign sellers and taking care of children.

About 65 students have already been placed by the committee, in downtown businesses, besides those working on the campus and in private homes. Practically every business establishment downtown has some student representative from T. C. U. Last year some 287 boys and girls were placed by the committee. When a call is received for a job, the call is placed on the bulletin board and the student who first sees the notice goes after the job. Thus, no partiality is shown.

Professor Ballard also says that he has had more calls this year for girls to stay in homes and do housework for their room, board and carfare, than he has girls for the places. He also has had a good many calls for house-to-house canvassers, but it seems the students do not take to this sort of work. Many people think that the boys want charity, but this is not so. Boys who have to work their own way through college want jobs in which they can truly work and make good. All they ask is a chance. A number of boys are still hunting positions and Mr. Ballard has five girl stenographers which he would like very much to get placed.

Texas Christian University has done more than most schools in that it provides positions for a number of students to work on the campus. And they are real laboring positions, too. No student fails to earn his salary who is working for this university.

The downtown merchants have also co-operated unusually well in student employment, according to Professor Ballard. In the three years that the student employment bureau has been organized at T.C.U. Will Mommig, Jr., has used more T. C. U. boys, for part-time work than any other department store in the city. Charles Grady Cotten of Victory Wilson, employs several T. C. U. boys and Harry Gould, manager of the new Worth Theatre, which will open soon, plans to use a number of college boys as ushers in his new theatre. All the business men are well pleased with the work of the T. C. U. boys and girls, says Professor Ballard. Many of the boys prefer a commission basis to working on a salary.

Boys who are working their own way are not always the poor boys however. Many well-to-do parents think a son's real education comes in making his own way, but this only puts a burden on the poor boys who really have to work, and often causes them to lose out altogether. Mr. Ballard further says that, if possible, the parents who are able should bear their son's college expenses and leave the job for the boys who really need them.

Working boys and girls are some of the best students that the university has, according to Professor Ballard, for they learn the value of time. The school would really prefer that Business Administration students would work and thus combine practical with university training. Those who do work are advised by the administration, however, not to carry full-time courses. This is thought best in order that the students may do proper justice to both their school and their outside work.

Miss Etoile McFadin of Dallas represented T. C. U. as Miss Texas Christian University at the All Collegiate Circus which is held every year during the State Fair in Dallas, Saturday.

Miss McFadin chose as her escort, Mr. Willis Hewitt.

Miss McFadin wore a gown of green chiffon beaded in crystals and pearls. She is a sophomore in the university and stays in Jarvis Hall.

W. A. A. Seeking Recognition

A plan is being sponsored this year at Texas Christian University by Mrs. Helen Murphy, instructor in physical education for women, and Miss Eula Lee Carter, student advisor, by which the Women's Athletic Association of T. C. U. hopes to receive national recognition.

There will be a W. A. A. camp at Camp Civitan, Lake Worth, this week-end after the Austin College-T.C.U. football game, for all members. Regular meeting will be on the second Tuesday night in each month in the girls' gymnasium, where it is planned to fit up a W. A. A. club room.

The officers for the W. A. A. at T. C. U. this year are: President, Lois Houtchens; vice president, Edith Hudson; secretary, Gladys Van Horn; treasurer, Dorothy Stowe; social chairman, Mrs. Helen Murphy; parliamentarian, Merle Williams; and publicity manager, Phyllis Bope.

Athletic managers for the various activities have been elected as follows: Volley ball, Maurine Rankin; basketball, Isabel Stroud; swimming, Leo Hubert; track, Mildred Meggs; archery, Betty Glenn; hiking, Sarah Beth Boggess; baseball, Martha Van Zandt; and Tennis, Elizabeth Harris.

W A A HOLDS INITIATION

The W. A. A. had a camp at Lake Worth this week-end to initiate new pledges and members who had not been initiated before. A number of freshmen who were interested and who are working for W. A. A. membership this year, also went to Camp Civitan, for the camp.

The girls left immediately after the football game for the Lake, all being carried on the school truck, and returned Sunday afternoon. That the pledges and initiated failed to have a "hot" time is not doubted by anyone.

Girls initiated were, Edith Hudson, Mildred Meggs, Anna Lee Payne, Thelma Nelson, Allene Allen, Phyllis Pope, Leo Hubert, Sara Beth Boggess.

Madison Bell, T. C. U.'s head coach and the youngest coach in the conference, has an enviable record. Starring on the famous Centre College football team he received wide notice. After leaving Centre he successfully coached the Haskell Indians for two years. While there he was offered the position of head coach at T. C. U. He accepted this offer and for the past six years has built teams which have earned for themselves the name of "Fighting Frogs."

Matty is a Ft. Worth product, having received his early education in the Ft. Worth public schools, and graduating from the North Side High School.

Since taking over the reins as head coach at T. C. U. he has made the older coaches of the conference sit up and take notice. The largest score that any conference team has been able to pile up was in 1922 when the Aggies piled 28 points. This year Matty has taken a bunch of so called green material and made a serious bid for the Conference Championship so far.

There are lots of good women in the world in spite of the men.

From out of the land of the Steers, just over the river, North Side, came a leader of the thundering herd to put T. C. U. Horned Frogs on the Map, to lead the Frogs as he had led the Steers, one Herman Clark.

As he led the Steers, and the Frogs, so leads his bud, Nasty, a fighting brother of a fighting family, from a fighting North Side, where came the famous Bo McMillian, who beat Harvard, and many other wearers of the maroon.

For years North Side has furnished the Frogs with REAL football fighting material, with men of stellar strength, with men who fight for the sake of the fight, and with men who fight fair and square. They have come, and they have gone, but always they are remembered as the boys from over the river, the fightingest fighters to ever make fighting Frogs.

This year, T. C. U. boast another stellar performer from North Side, Amos Melton, the Frogs coming star center. North Side will be proud of the performance of these boys forever as she has always been, because of their marvelous fighting ability, their strength, their valor, and their heart for football.

They are hard fighting, football winning men, built of the North Side material, the kind that stands the bumps, and comes out the winner. Always the fighters. The North Siders.

T. C. U. FACULTY ENTERTAINED

T. C. U. faculty members were entertained Tuesday evening, Oct. 4, by the School of Fine Arts and the Home Economics department in the first monthly social meeting of the year. The meeting was held in the newly-equipped studios of the School of Fine Arts.

A musical program was given by the Fine Arts faculty as follows: Misses Balch and Willis, piano; Professor Sammis, violin; Professor Ziegler, cell; Professor Klingstedt, tenor, and Mrs. Bales, reader.

Ice cream, mints and cakes were served in the purple and white of T. C. U. by the Home Economics department.

BEAT A. & M.

The last half of the Frog-Kangaroo games demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt that the fighting team is the team that gets the breaks. Coming back into the second half with a will to win they showed a fighting spirit seldom equalled on any gridiron. The Kangaroos out fought and out scored the over-confident Frog machine in the last two periods.

STOP THOSE AGGIES!

The Frogs must fight against odds in the Aggie game. The Aggies with a powerful scoring machine have run roughshod over all opponents up to date. However, the Frogs gave a wonderful exhibition of a fighting machine in the Texas game. If they display the same fight against Aggies the Farmer lads will have a real struggle on their hands.

BACK THOSE FROGS!

Odie Thompson, giant Christian fullback played a good offensive game against the Austin College club. Time after time the Poly lad drove through the Presbyterian line for gains. When tackled in the middle of the field in the third quarter three Kangaroos tried to pull the big fellow down but was only stopped when one of the defensive backs came to their aid.

IF WE WON'T BE BEAT WE CAN'T!

The veteran Kangaroo passing machine, Kelling-Lingo-Price opened up a flock of passes Saturday that kept the Frogs in danger especially in the last two periods. These three boys have been together for four years and often work effectively even to the disadvantage of conference clubs. However, many of the passes that they have completed were due to the thargy of the Frogs.

BACK THOSE FROGS!

Fort Worth fans were well pleased at the snappy drill of the crack city cadet corps. These cadets went through all the drills of a regular army division between periods and should do well at the state contest at the Dallas Fair. At least the hopes of Fort Worth and local fans are with them.

STOP THOSE AGGIES!

A fighting football cannot be defeated and a team with a will to win in spite of any odds will beat any machine in the world. If the Frog warriors go into the game Saturday resolved to win they are going to be hard to stop. If they go in the fray without this spirit they are going to face distaster. Frog clubs in the past have done this and this year's club seems to be made up of the same type of men.

STOP THOSE AGGIES!

If the Austin College team show the same fight against their Texas conference opponents as they did against the Frogs they should place high in the Texas conference. Doubtless the Kangaroos were primed for the Frogs and will suffer a let down next Saturday, however—STOP THOSE AGGIES!

Proffs Opine On Word "Cute"

"Cute," that descriptive adjective which may mean anything, is, without a doubt, the most over-worked word in the American vocabulary. We use it to describe, to our own satisfaction, anything from Miss America to a Mexican flea-hound.

Miss Bess Jane Logan, a former professor of Journalism in T. C. U. once made the remark that the word "Cute" always made her think of a mule, because one day while she and a girl friend were riding on the train they passed an old lop-eared mule standing by the side of the railroad track. At sight of the mule the girl friend gasped, "Oh, how cute!"

Miss Rebecca Smith says that the word cute has world of meanings, but that she gets the impression of something small, attractive, up-to-date, apt-to-be-pretty, and generally frivolous.

Miss Mabel Majors says that girls use the word "cute" more than boys do. Girls use "cute" in every manner and for any or no purpose while boys use "cute" only when they can think of nothing else to say.

Dr. Hughes frowned, then laughed, and asked if I were really serious when I went to him for his idea of "cute," and when I assured him that I meant business he told me that he thought the use of "cute" was all right in its place but that it seldom had a place. The use of the word is hardly noticed and is to be expected when used by a person who keeps up with the popular slang terms of the day and who is in the habit of using slang. "Cute" is incomprehensible to most. It may mean anything or it may mean nothing. Very handy when you want to be conventional.

Mr. Raymond Smith is afraid that he has missed something because he has no idea at all about "cute." To him it is just a term that he hears

People who think much of themselves really do little thinking.

Darn that Packard, she's had another litter of Whippets out in the garage.

"Have you ever given your husband the acid test?"

"It's no use; he can drink anything."

"I hear your son's at college."

"Yep."

"How's he doing?"

"Pretty good, I guess. He's taking three courses. I've just paid out $10 for Latin, $10 for Greek and $100 for Scotch."

all the time and pays no particular attention to.

Mr. Riley Aiken thinks that when we say a girl is "cute" that we have paid that girl an insult. To him the word conveys the meaning of frivolity, feather-mindedness, or the ability to put-over these rabbit-brained stunts that we read about in college stories. Mr. Aiken classes "cute" with the many other slang terms that are worked to death on the college campus! such as, "hot," "hectic," "sweet," when used in connection with sight. He calls it a poor attempt to mis-apply adjectives. Terms such as these are used for want of something else to say and because we seem to think that they bring our conversation up to date. "The educated man," said Mr. Aiken, "uses 'cute' only with a spoken or an understood apology for its use." It is with his suggestion that I close this article with a list of words that could easily take the place of "cute," and so, when we want to make the remark that such-and-such a person is "cute" how about saying that they are attractive, sharp, clever, likeable, up-to-date, classy, full of life, modern, pretty, or unusual. If we find it impossible to put a fit substitute in the place of cute, it will be up to some one to find a "cute" slang term.

"Hey-Hey" Will Be Senior Class Play

"Hey-Hey" will be the title of this year's big annual vaudeville show sponsored by the senior class at Texas Christian University, according to Arthur Graham, senior president. The show will be given some time in December, the exact date to be announced later.

It has been the custom of the senior class to give a big vaudeville show each year, but this year the class is planning to give at least two of these entertainments, reports Graham.

The committee in charge of arrangements for "Hey-Hey" is: Arthur Graham, chairman, Margaret Cameron, Everett Shipp, and H. F. Baugh.

SOCIETY

The first luncheon of the T. C. U. Woman's Club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. E. W. McDiarmid, 2627 Rogers street Tuesday.

Meetings of the Texas Christian University Woman's club are in the form of luncheons this year instead of evening meetings as in the past.

Other officers of the Texas Christian University Woman's Club are Mrs. Henry Bowden, vice-president; Mrs. C. C. Guiley, secretary; Mrs. H. L. Hughes, treasurer.

The wedding of Mr. Old Girl and Miss New Girl was solemnized in Jarvis Hall parlors, Thursday evening before an improvised altar of ferns and flowers.

Mae Nell Elliot, as mother of the bride, entered before the wedding party, wearing a black velvet evening gown. Mable Cline sang "I Love You Truly" as a pre-nuptial solo, accompanied by Miss Olive Chambers who also played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and played softly during the ceremony.

First bridesmaid to enter was Miss Lotena Onstott, dressed in peach taffeta, and accompanied by Mr. Mary McGee.

Next was Miss Lillie Bell Sloan, dressed in green taffeta, accompanied by Mr. Dorrit Moses.

Miss Theima Hampton in a frock of pink crepe with tiny tulle ruffles was the next bridesmaid, with Mr. Ruth Burman.

Miss Texera Price wore a peach taffeta frock trimmed with roses on the skirt. She entered with Mr. Katherine Rice.

Mrs. Sadie Beckham, dean of Women, was the Matron of Honor, and wore a lovely black and white georgette dress with shoes and hose to match.

All of the bridesmaids carried bouquets of sweetheart roses. Next to enter was the maid of honor, Miss Jennie Louise Copeland, in a rose taffeta frock trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of ranunculus roses.

Two little flower girls next entered. The first was little Nina Jahn Elliot, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Edward Elliot. Mrs. Elliot was the Y. W. C. A. president in 1917, and took part in the wedding that year. The other flower girl was Jean Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curry.

The bride, Miss Helen Jenkins, as Miss New Girl, entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Ione Way. She wore an exquisite frock of ivory satin combined with lace and embroidered in seed pearls. The veil, Juliette style, was wreathed in orange blossoms.

The groom, Mr. Gladys Simons, as Mr. Old Girl entered with Mr. Charlotte Housel who was best man. The groom met the bride at the altar and the impressive friendship ceremony was read by the minister, Rev. Mr. Leo Hubert. The uniting of Mr. Old Girl and Miss New Girl is a traditional affair on the T. C. U. campus.

After the ceremony, the bridal party formed a receiving line, and at the reception, refreshments were served by Misses Bernice Badgett, Loyce Price, Janie Miles Monroe, Corrine Cunningham, and Gladys Bush.

Among the guests were the girls of Jarvis, Gibson, Reed and Sterling Cottages; Mrs. Ratliff, McCartney, Harmon, Terrell, Wells, Miss Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curry.

Miss Sarah Beth Bogges dressed in an orchid evening dress, acted as hostess for the Y.W.C.A.

Alexander Completes Field Work

C. I. Alexander of Fort Worth, a graduate of the Science department of Texas Christian University, has just completed a summer of field work and geological research in Fort Worth and will soon return to Princeton University to complete work upon his Doctor's thesis.

Mr. Alexander obtained his B. S. degree at T. C. U. in 1924 and his M. S. degree two years later, under Prof. W. M. Winton, chairman of the natural science departments. During the past year he has served as part-time assistant in geology at Princeton, where he is also a graduate student.

Mr. Alexander plans to return to Fort Worth about May 15, where he will become a member of the geology staff at T. C. U.

Graduate School Gains Rapidly

With 70 graduates of 16 different universities enrolled in the Graduate School of Texas Christian University, that department has started work this fall with the largest enrollment it has had since its founding.

The Graduate School has drawn its enrollment all the way from Pomona College in California to Queen's University, Ontario, Canada.

There are 14 candidates for the Master of Arts degree next June and eight for the Master of Science degree. There are also 10 fellows and 7 graduate scholars doing graduate work in the school.

Departments of T. C. U. which offer work in the Graduate School are: Bible College of the Bible, Greek, Semitic, biology, chemistry, economics, education, English, French, geology, government, history, mathematics, philosophy, physics, religious education, sociology and Spanish.

In the early days of T. C. U. when opportunities for graduate study were very slight in the Southwest and travel was difficult, an earnest attempt was made to bring opportunity to many who desired higher learning beyond the Bachelor's degree. Dr. J. W. Lowber, a scholar of broad learning and numerous degrees and titles, conducted advanced courses to a large extent by correspondence.

Finally, it was felt that if the whole level of education was to be raised in the great Southwest, more opportunity for graduate work must be provided within the territory itself. The school had an enrollment of 32 during the school year 1926-27 and the increase to 70 this year indicates that the administrative officers of T. C. U. were correct in their estimate of the demand for graduate work.

After 1900 the extension work at T. C. U. was discontinued. For 20 years the M. A. degree was granted occasionally to students who, under the direction of selected professors had carried on some advanced work of more or less graduate nature.

With the constantly rising standards in the educational world, the faculty became more conservative even than before in undertaking to offer graduate courses in an institution primarily designed and equipped for undergraduate work. The demand for higher degrees, however, increased insistently. During the period from 1920 to 1926 about five Master's degrees a year were granted and several times that many applicants for courses were not accepted.

Several forces operated toward a decision in 1926 to establish a distinct graduate school at T. C. U. according to Dr. Lord. One was the foundation of several years of preparation, which put the success of the work beyond experimentation.

Another was the assurance of sufficient funds to justify the permanence of such a school, as well as adequate library and laboratory equipment. Another factor was the requests of many of the alumni, and other college graduates, for further study, proving a genuine demand.

Kampus Kat's Kollom

It was during the English lesson and those who had been sent to the blackboard had been told to write a letter ordering something. It remained for freshman Butler to order a set of false teeth. Well, we're glad to see that he received them and can smile again.

Arden Ray Douglas said that he liked for the upperclassmen to poach him. When asked why he replied, "Cause it makes me so happy when they quit."

Horace Backus has just received a box of home-made candy from "the girl." Horace complained that it was a little too sweet. Tell her to wear gloves next time she makes it, Horace.

News item: The freshmen who were not stood up one time during the prom held a convention in the telephone booth yesterday.

Girls I Have Lost

I go no more with Mary Kate, And oh my, how I miss her. I went to see her three nights straight And didn't try to kiss her.

I know why I fell out with Dot. I was too bold a man. I took her to a quiet spot And asked to hold her hand.

An ad in last week's SKIFF was signed by Ford Shook. Well, most of them do.

It used to be that where there was chicken Johnny didn't want the neck. Johnny's in college now and where there's chicken, neck is all he wants.

Prof. Morro: "And why aren't you paying attention to what I'm saying, Miss Lusk?"

Ruby Lusk: "Well, doesn't the Bible say to take no heed of the Morro?"

The following dialogue was overheard in the dining room the other day.

Finglestein: "Do you know Theresa Green?"

Addie Goates: "No, I don't."

Finglestein: "Well they are."

Which reminds us of the time that the same Finglestein was giving a talk in the English class. This is a part of the talk. "The president then appointed three other girls and myself on a committee. After some discussion, we girls decided on this plan."

One of the girls at Jarvis Hall was overheard to say that she wanted a "tall, handsome brunette," "passionate" and "fearless." Pray, sister, Pray.

Note to Skiff Editor: The words in quote marks are the nicknames given to freshman Fred Pray.

We found our brother humorist (?) A. M. W. writing a theme on "THIRTEEN YEARS." We wonder if this comprises his plans for his stay at T. C. U.

Elsie Fay Carson: (In history class) "Columbus stopped at the Canary Islands for fuel." Was it coal or oil, Elsie Fay?

While in Jarvis Hall the other day Kampus Kat came upon some bits of paper which he pieced together with the following verse as a result. Judging it to have merit Kampus passes it on for your approval: Inez, you are the sweetest girl by far, That walks about the campus here, you are, And I have found my greatest joy in life

Is to look at you and wish you were my wife.

You may not believe me, sweet Inez, But I really mean each word this poem says.

Opal McE.—"Go ahead and spring it."

Helen J.—"I Aint Got Nobody."

Kampus Kat's Question Box. Dear Kampus Kat, I have been studying astronomy and I find numerous references to the "Dog Star." Can you tell me what they mean by "Dog Star?"—Wanna Noe. Answer: Probably Rin-Tin-Tin.

Kampus, Can you tell me why a girl can shoot her sweetheart and not be punished?—Lawyer Sawyer. Answer: All's fair in love.

Dear Kampus: Has Jack Dempsey ever contributed anything to science? Answer: In his fight with Carpentier he exploded the popular theory that "Fifty Million Frenchmen Can't Be Wrong."

Prof. Morro: "Now Samson carried the gates of the city to the top of the hill and we had the first Hallow'e'en."

First Freshman: "Why the grin?"

Second Fish: "She loves me."

First Freshman: "How do you know?"

Second Fish: "She told me so."

First Freshman: "Who is she?"

Second Fish: "My mother."

Mr. Clark: "Are you sophisticated?"

Miss Jarvis: "Of course not."

Mr. Clark: "Do you know what the word 'sophisticated' means?"

Miss Jarvis: "Certainly."

Mr. Clark: "Then you're sophisticated."

Prof. Bentley: "In the early days of the West, the men branded their cattle. But there was one man who didn't brand his. Can anyone tell me who he was?"

Wolfenden: "Robinson Crusoe."

Miss Major and Miss Shirley have found out quite a bit about their students by making them write those "Concerning Myself" themes. Now, if

Brushes To Hold Initiation

"The Brushes," art organization of Texas Christian University, has announced a meeting for Thursday, Oct. 27, at which between 20 and 25 new members will be initiated.

Officers of The Brushes this year are: "Miss Vera Turbeville, president; Miss Betty Southwell, vice president; Miss Ilene Timmerman, secretary; and Miss Dorothy McGonagill, treasurer. The last two officers were elected at a meeting of the club Wednesday, to replace Miss Lucia Magee, secretary-elect of last year, and Miss Helen Spencer, treasurer-elect, neither of whom returned to school this year.

For 20 years The Brushes has afforded a medium of expression to those of artistic talent in T. C. U. It was organized in 1907 under the direction of Mrs. Dura Cockerell, wife of former Mayor Cockerell of Fort Worth, and the name of the organization was bestowed by her. It was during a sketching trip with Mrs. Cockerell as leader that the members of the party decided to organize a definite group of student artists, and elected the first officers. The original membership was eight, whereas the present roster includes 35 members. The aim of The Brushes at the time of its organization and throughout its history has been to furnish a means of intercourse among art students, and to provide an organization capable of supervising exhibits of student work. The first meetings were held out of doors in the form of picnics. Later it became the custom of The Brushes to invite lecturers to address the club members, and to present exhibits in the Art Department at T. C. U. These exhibits are now conducted under the supervision of Prof. S. P. Ziegler, head of the department.

The annual award of the cement bath sponge for the dumbest idea of the term is to be given to the freshman who was driving to Arlington and suggested that horses should carry tail lights.

The motto of the club is "Once a Brush, Always a Brush." Its colors are the three primary colors—red, blue and yellow, and its pin a "B" with three brushes thrust through it.

Dramatic Club Has Change In Program

The Dramatic Club production scheduled for the twenty-eighth, as announced in last week's Skiff, has been changed. It will be produced on the twenty-sixth and instead of the play, also mentioned last week, the Riotous Revels will feature a big circus scene, pop-corn, peanuts, lemonade and balloons.

The Riotous Revels is under the joint supervision of Pi Kappa Delta and the Dramatic Club. Some of the most talented performers of the university will entertain you. There will also be introduced at this time many of the newcomers who will have a chance to display their histrionic ability. There is a large cast of about 50 members who are rehearsing daily under the supervision of Mrs. Bates and Miss Harrison. We are offering you something entirely different, new, spectacular, wholesome and entertaining. The twenty-sixth, come along and enjoy yourself.

Junior Play Is Well Received

"It," the entertainment sponsored by the Junior class of Texas Christian University, was produced last Wednesday night in the university auditorium before an audience of 600 students, faculty members, and townspeople.

The program took the form of a vaudeville bill of six acts. David McNaughton and Dick Long opened the program with songs and dances with Miss Maxine Garrett at the piano. Long, accompanied by McNaughton on his ukulele, sang "Consolation" and an original waltz song entitled "When I Was Far Away."

The Happy Harmony Hounds, Hollis Jenkins, Warren Day, Weir McDiarmid and Ralph Sanders were next on the program with a selection of popular songs. They sang "What a Day Was Yesterday," "Medley," "What Do We Do?" "All God's Chillun Got Shoes" and "I'm Looking Over a Four-leafed Clover."

Charles Proctor, Robert Qualls and Fred Erisman had a black face act entitled "Briscoe's Home Life," depicting the domestic adventures of one of the campus janitors. Girlie Dane and Don Stegall, in "Novelties," entertained the audience with a duet, "Shine On, Harvest Moon," with accordion accompaniment. Stegall had several accordion solos: "The Song of the Wanderer," "Breeze," "The St. Louis Blues," and "The Weary Blues."

"Blunders," the fifth act, comprised musical offerings by Olive Wise at the piano, Coy Poe with his trumpets and Russell Ward with the clarinet and saxophone. Dean Kuykendall sang "Bye, Bye, Pretty Baby" and an original parody "We're Gonna Win That Conference Now."

The Carson sisters, Nadine, Elsa Fae and Dorothy, accompanied on the piano by Miss Virginia Knox, sang "Side by Side," "Russian Lullaby," "Just Once Again," "If I Were the Only Girl in the World," "Breeze That Blew My Gal Away," and "Sundown." Miss Nadine Carson had two vocal solos, "Monhomme" and "One Sweet Letter From You." Misses Helen Boren and Virginia Knox, with two pianos, rendered "Doll Dance," "Honolulu Moon" and "Twelfth Street Rag."

NOTICE.

Mr. J. W. Ballard requests all students desiring to work to help pay expenses through school to please watch the bulletin board at Brite College, because all letters and positions are placed there until filled.

Juniors Are Excused From Chapel

Juniors as well as senior and graduate students will not be required to attend chapel services at Texas Christian University this year, Dr. E. M. Waites, president of the university, announced at a Junior class meeting Monday afternoon.

Juniors who desire to be excused from chapel will file their names with the registrar, and will spend the chapel hour in the library. Attendance will be checked in the library, and students who do not report there at chapel hour will be charged with absence, as is done in checking chapel rolls. For each unexcused absence after the first three, one semester hour will be deducted from the student's credit.

This arrangement has been devised as a means of offsetting the inconvenience caused by limited seating space in the auditorium. President Waites explained. Enrollment has increased to such an extent during the past two years that only about three-fourths of the students can be accommodated at chapel exercises. The drive for building funds which is being conducted by the board of trustees includes provision for a new and larger auditorium which will seat all the students of the university.

Plans To Be Made For Home-Coming

Plans for the entertainment of the alumni and former students of Texas Christian University will be made at a meeting of the executive board of the Fort Worth chapter of the Alumni and Ex-Students' Association, to be held immediately before the quarterly luncheon at the University club here Oct. 22.

"In the past Homecoming Day at T. C. U. has been celebrated in June, but because of the large crowd of former students and alumni expected back for the T. C. U.-S. M. U. football game on Thanksgiving Day, it has been decided to celebrate Homecoming Day on the same date," according to Mrs. Elster M. Haile, president of the Fort Worth chapter of T. C. U. alumni.

Curry Indorses New Carnegie Plans

Arthur B. Curry, librarian at Texas Christian University, expresses himself as heartily in favor of the campaign for an improved public library for Fort Worth.

"I am glad to indorse everything which has been said by the authorities at the Carnegie Library, and assure them of my support," Mr. Curry said.

"There is a great need for a much more extended service than is provided for at the public library. Many patrons from town come to the T. C. U. library. We are always glad to render this service, and will always give them all special aid and attention possible."

BOOK REVIEW

REVOLT IN THE DESERT by T. E. Lawrence. Heat that burns eyes from their sockets; cold that relentlessly kills; eternal sand in the desert; squalor and filth in the towns; Arabs in flowing robes, who fight like demons until they are weighted down with loot; British soldiers in khaki who plan carefully and fight scientifically; Romance; History; but above all the fight for freedom from the Turks, inspired and directed by a young Englishman. These, in brief, are my outstanding impressions of REVOLT IN THE DESERT.

The subject is fascinating, but its treatment is even more so. Lawrence makes you see the desert, feel its heat and cold, and know its power. Someone has said that he paints a graphic picture, but he does more than paint a picture—his work is real. It is more real than even a moving picture for it reacts on almost every sense that the reader has. One sees the desert with its Arab army, feels the heat and cold, hears the noises of the camps and of explosions, tastes the Arab feasts, and smells the odors of camp and village.

It may be that much adverse criticism of the book could be given, but when one is under the spell of the story and the description, it is hard to find defects. The fact that the published work is an abridged edition of a complete autobiography makes it necessary to read the introduction in order to get a good background for the story, but the introduction is nearly as interesting as the rest of the book. The story is well arranged and works up into a strong climax in its very last words.

Anyone who likes stirring adventure, fascinating history, or graphic description should be sure to read this book.
