VIEWS 'N VIEWPOINTS

By HERMAN PITTMAN
(Proctor of Goode Hall)

Thanks for the freedom to think out loud on the campus of T. C. U. and the opportunity afforded by The Skiff to voice all the heresies which one might entertain. Students, as we all know, are full of protestations, criticism and suggestions, which usually center around their immediate environment. This is the kind of student I want to be in this article.

First, I would like to suggest that the present student body do something for their Alma Mater. Of course, the present student body has been preoccupied with politics, concerning themselves with their individual groups, thus expending their opportunity for doing something and sacrificing their vision in the greater work as a student body.

However, it occurs to me that this present student body can bring to consciousness some of the needs of T. C. U., and then enlist others to regard them. For example, some of our outstanding athletes and successful ex-students could be interested in building a greater T. C. U. Without a question, students and ex-students are greatly indebted to T. C. U. In fact, their whole success is quite dependent upon the influences of T. C. U.

Without a doubt, Sam Baugh could start a fund for the building of a new gymnasium, or science hall, or girls' dormitory, and I wager that thousands of his friends and the friends of T. C. U. would catch the spirit and be ready to cooperate in the enterprise. This occurs to me to be one of the most effective ways for Sam, or any ex-student of T. C. U., to go down in the history of the school as immortal.

In recent months Joe Frederick was heralded as the ugliest man in the world. Now we all know that Joe, even though he is ugly, is not the ugliest man in the world. Personally, I think Paul ("Scop") Ridings could have as easily been this outstanding figure. But the fact remains that through propaganda Dear Old Joe is advertised as the great chief of all ugliness. This all goes to show that the improbable can be done and that those promoting T. C. U. have not been as successful as those who promoted Uncle Joe.

Next, what has the city of Fort Worth done in the way of helping T. C. U. realize some of the objectives (buildings) that are needed for the institution? It appears that our so-called Cowtown has for a number of years been chewing her cud of contentment, while cities like Waco (a smaller city) has been helping their school. Waco recently built Baylor University a new auditorium which seats around 5,000. The building also has adequate space for housing the School of Fine Arts. Fort Worth is missing a splendid and grand opportunity by not making some answer to the needs of her outstanding university.

This brings to mind the fact that Dr. M. D. Clubb teaches a fine course in "Appreciation of the Arts" and has no laboratory in which to work. For each class meeting, he unpacks and then packs up his equipment (or is forced to take the class into his home). Often he may be seen climbing around on third floor, trying to get a light socket to work.

Again, there is a feeling often voiced by the students that their heads are not getting the job done. True or not, sour grapes or no sour grapes, a little reformation in the Head Office does a lot of good for the T. C. U. and its relationships. "Ho 35 pound buggy" ideas are out of the idea of having some position filled by a fluid which is recom almost poisonous to the present tur and growth of the ideals fostered by T. C. U. stands is graduating, ang to an end.

Open House In 'Big Gym' At 7 o'Clock

"Bull" Rogers to Meet Don Loos in Feature Fight of Silver Gloves.

Seeks New Record

Seniors, Juniors to Play for Intramural Cage Championship in Carnival's 1st Event.

BY BILL HAWORTH

Tonight's the night! Beginning at 7 p.m. this evening the biggest, most colorful Open House in T. C. U. intramural history will be reeled off for an expected crowd of more than 500 persons. The big athletic affair will probably last around four hours.

The closing event on the program will be the finals in the Silver Gloves Tournament, always the highlight of the Open House. The "Wild Bull of the Campus," Glynn Rogers, will meet big Don Loos, whom he once conquered.

"Bull" will be attempting to set an all-time intramural record by winning the heavyweight boxing championship of the campus for three consecutive years.

Another treat in the boxing events will be Travis Griffin, pitted against rugged Ned James, for the championship of the light-heavy division.

The athletic carnival will be opened with the championship intramural game, which will see the Seniors, with such stars as Bobby Bass, Rogers, "Red" Phares and Abe Walker, against Juniors I. B. Hale, Russ Hensch, Davey O'Brien, John Hall and Ki Aldrich. The game will be played in the Basketball Gymnasium.

Swimming, Diving Next

The second event on the program will be the swimming races and diving championship. The swimming events include a four man relay race, 100-yard breast stroke, 40-yard back stroke, 40-yard free style, 100-yard free style and 120-yard medley relay.

Included in the swimming entries are Buster Reynolds, Lawrence Schenck, Bob Ragland, Marne Sanford, Woodrow and Paul Lipscomb, Carmen Schenck, John Hayes, Howard Ashley and Eltinge Porterfield. Jack Fry, state diving champ, and Lee Dunnivant will compete in the diving contest.

The badminton exhibition match, featuring the faculty champion, Dr. Willis Hewatt versus the student champion, Olin Jones, and the handball matches will be run off concurrently with the swimming events.

Math Students Take Competitive Exams

10 Persons Enter Intercollegiate Test—Final Winners to Be Awarded.

Ten members of the mathematics department entered the competitive math examinations last Thursday against the 24 other members of the Southern Intercollegiate Mathematics Association.

Each school in the association entered a team of 10 students. Five different tests were given, with two persons per individual exam.

Dan Jarvis and Robert Glaze took the algebra exam, and Miss Frances Porterfield and Howard Rector had the trigonometry test. Miss Miriam Glaze and Landon Colquitt were given the analytical geometry exam.

Miss Marjorie Jones and P. I. Nichols took the calculus test, and Miss Marjorie Volkel and Charles Robinson had the comprehensive exam, a combination of the other four quizzes.

"Results of these tests will be known soon, as the papers have been sent to the officials of the Southern Intercollegiate Mathematics Association for grading, and the teams with the highest percentage will enter a final test, with honors to be bestowed upon the winners, both as a team and individual," said Prof. Charles Sherer, head of the mathematics department.

Purple Parade To Screen Again

The second edition of the "Purple Parade," campus news film will be unreeled in the Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. a week from tonight.

An even better show than the first one is promised by the promoters, Ben Dyess, Allyn Berry and Tom Roberson.

They have built this news reel around the experience gained from the first showing, with particular emphasis on shots similar to those that gained the most applause from the audience.

Shots taken during the recent show will be featured. The producers promise a picture that will let you know how it feels to have a snowball thrown at you—even if you are in the Auditorium.

'Pics Galore,' Says Belzner

Photos Will Show School-year Highlights in '38 Horned Frog.

Life, Look, Pic, Click and all the other picture magazines that are setting the style in photography and pictures today will have their influence on the 1938 Horned Frog.

Believing the old axiom that one

The Horned Frog needs an assistant business manager. Business is so rushing, and time for publication is so near, that Bill Wilson, business manager, needs a helper. Any junior interested in making some extra money selling yearbook ads should see Wilson or report to the Horned Frog office in the Administration Building.

good picture is worth 1000 words, Editor Bob Belzner is going to cut words to the very minimum in this year's annual.

Particularly will this idea show up in the club section, where in the past lengthy essays and lists of meetings have told of the various organizations' activities for the year.

In this issue of the yearbook, the story of the clubs will be told in pictures. That is, provided the club pays its $15 for a page in the annual.

And this money is due by March 15, Belzner has announced. Miss Anne Whitley is in charge of this phase of the club section and wants all club treasurers who desire pages in the book to contact her at once.

This same theme of "say it with pictures" will run throughout the 1938 Horned Frog.

For the first time in the history of the book, an effort will be made to tell, pictorially, of course, of the work of the various departments. This section will be built around the "Most Representative Student" of each department.

Also included in the book will be a series of photographs showing the story of the Skiff from its inception to the finished product being passed out on Fridays.

Band to Play Again For Fat Stock Show

The T. C. U. Band will play for the Stock Show this month for the eleventh consecutive year.

The concert will consist of popular tunes "swing music," and symphonic jazz, played each evening for a half hour, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Four members of the band will play under Capt. Cecil Meadows, who directs the band that plays for the rodeo. They are Don Gillis, Jimmy Petty, Wayne Dunlap and Jack Harrell.

Glee Club's TSCW Date Postponed to March 21

The Men's Glee Club concert, originally scheduled for March 7 at T. S. C. W., Denton, has been postponed until March 21.

This change was made because of the conflict with the Civic Music program in Fort Worth.

Honor Roll Puts Frosh As Leaders

231 Total Lists 72 Freshmen, 38 Sophs, 54 Juniors, 67 Seniors.

12 Make All 'A's'

Seven Boys, Five Girls Make 'Super' Grades to Score Fall Semester's Perfect Cards.

Nearly half of the senior class, 67 to be exact, made the fall semester honor roll to prove that there must be something to four years of college training.

However, the senior class did not take top numerical honors in the list, as announced today by Registrar S. W. Hutton. The freshmen led with 72.

But, of course, this was to be expected, as this year's first year class numbers more than 300.

The juniors ranked third with 54, while sophomores proved the poorest students with only 38 second year men making the grade.

In all, 231 students made the honor roll. Twelve students were in a class by themselves, on what might be termed a "super" honor roll, with straight "A's."

These were Misses Ann Day Jarvis, Frances Marie Porterfield, Dorothy Ridings and Clara Shelton, Mrs. Robert Allen Maxey, Landon Colquitt, Robert Duncan, Hal Gardner, Kenneth Hay, Dan Jarvis, C. H. Richards, Jr. and Gordon Smith.

To be eligible for the honor roll a student must be carrying at least nine semester hours in courses that count toward a degree; must make an average of B (2.00); must not have any grade less than a C (1.00); and must not have an I grade in any subject.

The complete list of the 231 students making the honor roll, and their average, will be found in column two on page two.

Four Musical Units In Concert Sunday

Band, Orchestra, Glee Club, Trio to Give Program at Paschal Auditorium.

Four T. C. U. musical organizations—the Symphony Orchestra, the Concert Band, the Men's Glee Club and the Girls' Tri—will combine to give a concert Sunday.

The concert, under the auspices of Moslah Temple Shrine, will be given at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Paschal High School Auditorium. Prof. Claude Sammis has announced that there will be no admission fee.

The Symphonic Orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Sammis, will open the program with selected American melodies, followed by "Gypsy Airs," by Sarasate, with David Montgomery as violin soloist.

"Song of Thanksgiving," by Allitson, will then be presented by the Men's Glee Club, directed by W. J. Marsh. This will be followed by the singing of "The Sword of Ferrara," by Bullard.

John Crawford will be presented as soloist in the number, "Old Religion is a Fortune," arranged by Mars. The Glee Club will close the second portion of the program with a popular selection.

The Concert Band, directed by Don Gillis, will open the third portion of the program with George Gershwin's famed "Rhapsody in Blue." This will be followed with "Seriramide Overture," by Rossini; "On the Trail," by Grofe; "Flight of the Bumble Bee," by Rimsky-Korsakov; "Humoresque," by Dvorak, and the "Golliwog's Cake Walk," by Debussy.

The band will close the program with three popular numbers, "Temptation," "Stardust" and "Once in a While." The last number will be sung by the Horned Frog Trio, composed of Misses Mary Frances Hutton, Helen Miellmier and La Verda Sessions, with Wayne Dunlap.

Constitution Revision To Be Put to Vote

Students to Be Given Opportunity to State Preference on Three Plans for Representation and Other Government Changes.

A revision of the student body constitution and a chance to select the form of representation desired on the Student Council is near for the student body.

Under the leadership of Student Body President Dick Poll, the student body constitution has been rewritten by the Student Council constitutional committee.

Included in the proposed constitution is a provision for referendum of any action by the Council, at its request or on a petition of 50 students; a definite outline of the dance policy; and clarification of many minor difficulties that have arisen under the present document.

Three plans for representation, the one getting the majority approval to be included in the constitution, are to be submitted at the same time, according to the plans.

These plans are built around proposals gathered in The Skiff's survey of students' wishes along this line. One plan will be representation by popular vote of the student body, another along dormitory and town line, the third the plan used at present.

A definite plan for recall of officers, which is not in the present document, will also be submitted at the same time. Again, a majority approval will mean inclusion in the constitution.

Final discussion of the proposed revision of the constitution and the other proposals will take place at Monday's Council meeting. At the same time, an election date for the proposals will be set.

The revised constitution, the representation plans and the recall procedure all have the unofficial approval of the administration.

"The students have asked for these changes, and now most of the 'red tape' has been conquered, except final setting of the election date," says President Poll. "I feel confident that the issue is now ready to submit to a student body vote, and that in the next Skiff we'll be able to publish the proposed constitution and the various plans."

Varsitonsians To Play Hop

Admission to tomorrow night's dance will be by activity book or guest card, which may be obtained from Dean Elizabeth Shelburne.

Any student's guest, any ex-student or any night school student may get one of these cards. They may be obtained until 9 o'clock tomorrow night at Jarvis Hall.

but it is to be their first engagement under the new name.

Also, tomorrow night will be the first dance under the new dance policy as formulated by the Student Council. The new policy contains no new rules, but is a redraft of former regulations.

"Particularly important," says Dick Poll, student body president, "is the carrying out of the 'No Smoking' ruling. The violation of this rule has led to much complaint about the fire hazard involved."

Poll adds, "Dances were secured with the provision that this rule be observed, and so we must not make it necessary for the administration to take steps to enforce the rule."

Violin Choir to Play On Collegiate Series

Group to Play 9 A. M. Saturday Over WBAP—Sunday Hour to Honor Dr. Lord.

The recently-formed Violin Choir will be presented at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning over WBAP when T.C.U. talent is presented for the third time on the intercollegiate broadcast series sponsored by the station. The program is given weekly from Southwestern university campuses.

The members of the choir are Misses Doris Commander, Beverly Vaughn, Margaret Sanders, Hazel Thompson, Ruth Mulkey, Ruth Clark, Wynette Story, Lola Lolar, Geraldine Sheffield and Jennie Tolbert, and David Montgomery, J. C. Niel, Jr., Earl Clark, Monroe Bicknell and Harry C. Knight.

Dr. John Lord, head of the graduate school, will be honored on the regular "T. C. U. Personality" broadcast at 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Stewart Hellma, president of the class of '30, will be the speaker. A short violin recital by David Montgomery will be presented. Prof. Keith Mixson will accompany Montgomery and Miss Betty Dyer will be the accompanist for the Saturday broadcast.

Miss Gwendolyn Mann, contralto, is now appearing on a sustaining radio program at 10:45 o'clock on Tuesdays over Station KTAT. She is accompanied by the KTAT staff organist.

Best Budget Will Receive 'Dream' Date

Skiff to Give $5 to Couple Planning Best 'Perfect Evening.'

No Coupons to Save

Skiff Staff and Faculty Members Barred—All Others Eligible for Competition.

BY PAUL RIDINGS

What would you like to do tonight?

Boys, how would it feel to be able to ask her this question with out trembling with anxiety as to what her answer will cost you?

Or, girls, how would you like to give an honest answer, without stopping to consider what it will cost him?

Well, here is your chance. The Skiff will provide you with $5 (cold American cash) for an evening's entertainment. That is, provided you win the contest.

But that should not be hard, for the contest is built on the same idea—what would you like to do tonight?

Everybody talks about an "ideal evening," "the most fun I've ever had," "if I only had the money to do that," etc.

What Is 'Tops' With $5

So The Skiff has decided that it wants to find out just what a campus couple would consider the absolute tops in an evening's entertainment—within the limit of one fin.

All you have to do is to get with her, decide how you would spend $5—down to the 500th penny—write it down and bring it to The Skiff office, or hand it to any member of the staff.

To authors of the best answer as to how to spend $5 for the night of nights will go the five bucks, to be spent for a "perfect evening."

Spend the money any way you please on your entry (just as if it were your own), but you must enter the contest by couples, must provide for the expenditure of the entire sum and must have your entries in by next Wednesday afternoon. The limit will be one entry to each couple.

Staff and Faculty Barred

The Skiff staff and faculty members are barred, but outside of that it is a wide open contest. So be your own judges (of how to spend the money—The Skiff will provide impartial judges for the contest) as to how you would spend a perfect evening.

There are no official entry blanks, no tops to tear off of cans—all you have to do is write down how you would spend $5 on a date, and maybe you will with The Skiff's money.

Famed Violinist To Teach Here

Francis MacMillen, famed violin virtuoso, has been engaged to conduct master violin classes at T.C.U. April 11 to May 14. Prof. Claude Sammis has announced.

"Owing to Mr. MacMillen's unparalleled successes on this year's European tour and the numerous requests for concert appearances in this country, his classes will not begin until April 11 and will conclude on May 14," Prof. Sammis says.

"Macmillen, who is now on a concert tour in Italy, has studied under such outstanding teachers as Litemann, Markees, Joachim, Thomson, Flesch and Auer," Prof. Sammis continued, "and is noted for his ability to play the works of the German, Russian, French, Italian and Spanish schools."

Prof. Sammis is in charge of reservations for Macmillen's classes here, and has asked that all inquiries for information be directed to him.

Powell Visits Gainesville

Earl Powell spent the week-end at his home in Gainesville and adjoining towns.

'Tuff' Dance Is Scheduled

Junior Class Plans Bowery Affair Thursday in Gymnasium.

Get out your oldest clothes and your toughest look, because the Bowery Dance given by the junior class is coming up.

The dance is the class' second activity sponsored for the purpose of raising funds for the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. It will be given in the Basketball Gymnasium from 8 until 11 o'clock Thursday evening.

The affair will be a costume, all-tag, all-tag affair, and prizes will be given to the boy and girl with the best costumes.

Records will supply the music. Admission will be 20 cents per person. "Everybody come and have a good time. You can wear your oldest clothes and be comfortable. The big attraction will be a big Big Apple dance," said Miss Anne Whitley, chairman of the class social committee.

Ridings Names Rumph As Associate Editor

J. C. Smith Succeeds Edward Bilheimer as Feature Editor on Skiff's Staff.

Clarice Rumph was named associate editor of The Skiff today by Editor Paul O. Ridings.

Rumph who has been acting as assistant feature editor, was promoted because of exceptional service, according to the editor.

His new duties will be to aid in proofreading, the distribution of The Skiff and other work that falls outside of the regular routine of journalism classwork.

Another staff change was also announced, as J. C. Smith was named feature editor to succeed Eddie Bilheimer, who is no longer a member of the staff.

Ernest Peyton, managing editor, Miss Frances Taylor, society editor, Miss Mege McClinton, exchange editor, and Bill Haworth, sports writer, will continue to act in their regular capacity.

A Need—Read, Head

Can you read? The signs in the Basketball Gymnasium say "No Smoking," and if the student body wants to keep holding dances, it should start reading these signs. And it should start obeying the signs too, for there is to be "No Smoking" in the Basketball Gymnasium. The fire hazard is too great.

Blow, Whistle, Blow

At 7 o'clock tonight, a referee's whistle will blow and the intramural championship basketball game will be on, thus raising the curtain on the fourth annual Intramural Open House. And even though it will not, the whistle should blow 21 times—a sort of a "presidential salute" for Prof. Thomas Prouse.

Nothing Ever Happens

"Nothing ever happens" may be a favorite complaint, but it is not true in Frogland—if The Skiff can help it. As the "Official Student Body Publication of Texas Christian University," it attempts to go further than just to report the activities of the campus.

Out of this has grown the annual "Most Representative Student" awards. The selection of a representative couple, Joe College and Betty Coed, was sponsored last fall.

Last year's selection of the campus' ugliest man, then a challenge to all Texas collegians from The Skiff and its Joe Frederick is one project that brought more than campus or even statewide interest, bringing national fame.

Off the contest idea, but for the same purpose, was the selection of a mythical all-girl football team and the publication of imaginary odds on various campus couple's chances.

Now comes the newest "brain storm"—a contest to find the ideal entertainment for a date, and then to provide the funds for carrying the plan into effect.

An "Honor" Editorial

"Names are news," but today The Skiff goes this old newspaper axiom one better and makes names an editorial. The Skiff presents the honor roll of the 1937-38 fall semester in its editorial columns.

Why? Because here are 231 good examples of real students; 231 persons who have achieved their purpose (which presumably is to learn something) exceedingly well. Not only that, but to those whose names are listed will come satisfaction and a determination to stay in this exalted group.

What more could any editorial hope to do? This honor roll is truly a fine message for every student:

A NEW record—that's what the Dutchman's and the Pirates Cave claim in these days of records—was set last Saturday night as 34 Frog socialites were sighted in each of the downtown "class rooms."

Prof. Auf Wiedersehen had on his class rolls Olin Jones, Mary Jane Groom, Tom Holden, Margie Foster, Gwen McSweeney, Jack Fry, Russell Hensch, Esther Turner, Elizabeth Ann Perry, Slim Mabry, Bob Childress, Red Phares, Jimmy Pratt, Jack Reedy, James Herring, Paul Ridings, Martha Majors, Guy Daniel, Mary Lois Springer, Jimmy Hampton, Benton Beasley and John Kimble.

While cavorting at the Blackstone to the rhythms of Lang Thompson, whose band has rated a four-week holdover in the Venetian Ballroom because his music has pleased so well, were another group of Purple playboys and girls.

AMONG these were Laura Jones (with her little hat with the black and white ribbon), Bill Nunn, Cordelia Carter and Joe Clarkson—all of these used their charms' on dates outside our sacred halls.

But among the campus couples present were Mason Mayne and Emile Mae Bass, Jack Tittle and Gwen Mann and I. B. Hale and Virginia Kingsbery.

And flowers were the order of the same night, at least where Jack Phenix and Helen Hale were concerned.

What do you think of intramural and W. A. A. sports? "They form the best common ground for the mixing of town and dormitory students" . . . Lu Ellen Evans.

"Field hockey is a sport that is popular at many schools. It might well be added to the program here."—Fenton Clark.

"W. A. A. offers a social as well as an athletic opportunity for the girls. The intramural program might be devised to do the same for the boys."—Ruth Qualls.

"The two programs could be advertised better, all over the campus."—Tommy Bredthauer.

"There should be more divisions, so that the less skillful student would have a chance and not have to compete with a trained athlete."—Lamar Stuckert.

"Better competition might be developed if teams were organized along departmental, or club lines, similar to the fraternity teams on other campuses."—James Matthews.

Lowell Bodford, ex-student and now manager of the Parkway Theatre, is glad that his theater is close to his old Alma Mater, and the various other schools near Frogland.

This has made his show house considered an "intellectual center," and this has secured for him the first showing of "Victoria the Great" next Tuesday through Thursday.

The film, a movie version of the play "Victoria Regina" in which Helen Hayes will appear here later this spring, was filmed in England by RKO with the cooperation of the British government, the first ever given to a movie company to film a historical picture.

Students hardly need to be told to attend, but John Rosenfield, premier movie critic of the Southwest said after seeing the film in Dallas:

"No apologies are needed. . . it is the easiest history lesson that one ever took.

Nor are any apologies needed for the rest of Fort Worth's film calendar for the week-end.

"Gold Is Where You Find It" with Olivia de Havilland, George Brent, Claude Rains and Margaret Lindsey will be at the Worth. Supporting it will be an outstanding short, "Donald Duck's Ostrich."

While that football classic "Navy Blue and Gold" will be at the Tivoli, and "Rosalie," starring Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell, will be at the Majestic.

Jack Crannell and Ed Cobb spent the week-end with their parents in Dallas.

There is also much excitement being raised constantly over this Elizabeth Jordan affair—what with C. T. Ware, Dub DeWees and Willis Love all in the race. Dub objects to her habit of giving C. T. the preference, however, even to the extent of breaking dates.

SIGHTED horse-backing last Friday afternoon was this odd sextet—Tom King, Tom Brittan, Winton Mitchell, Bob Harrell, "Poppy" Bass and Dorothy Finlayson.

A pair who apparently appreciate the higher things in life are Jack Shirley and Olive Thomas (not together) who were seen at "Yes, My Darling Daughter" last Saturday afternoon.

To go highbrow, myself, I might report that Francis Macmillen, the "big shot fiddler," is coming to the campus to instruct our scrappers of the cat guits.

And it turns out that Frogs are like postmen (but not at the game of postoffice) for Ed Bilheimer, the "Duke of Conoco," whose throne is a "can," went to the automobile show on his night off Monday.

To the tune of: "The Martins and The Coys" and "Barnicle Bill" the junior class had their jam session theater party in the wee small hours last Saturday night.

Charles Garret, Bud Ziegler and George Mosshart had in mind some other show as they got the "bald-head" row, right down in front.

At the Den: where Friday night has been designated as T. C. U. official "cut-up" session were Horace Carswell and Miss Lu Ashley, Bob Harrell and Miss Mary Louise Childress were down last Friday as were Miss Elizabeth Hager and Frank Agee.

And the final paragraph, as usual, awards the "streamlined" free malts to four more dormitory studes, boys this time: Guy Daniel, Dick Oliver, Charles Graves and Larry Harrison.

To the tune of: "The Martins and The Coys" and "Barnicle Bill" the junior class had their jam session theater party in the wee small hours last Saturday night.

Charles Garret, Bud Ziegler and George Mosshart had in mind some other show as they got the "bald-head" row, right down in front.

At the Den: where Friday night has been designated as T. C. U. official "cut-up" session were Horace Carswell and Miss Lu Ashley, Bob Harrell and Miss Mary Louise Childress were down last Friday as were Miss Elizabeth Hager and Frank Agee.

And the final paragraph, as usual, awards the "streamlined" free malts to four more dormitory studes, boys this time: Guy Daniel, Dick Oliver, Charles Graves and Larry Harrison.

Jarvis "Janes" Make Countless Collections

What do Jarvisites do in their spare time? What are the hobbies of these young misses? What various and sundry collections are made by them? By a general survey it has been decided that Jarvis Hall could be used for book, toy, art, florist, beauty and antique shops.

A number of the girls could contribute to the book store. Scrapbooks are kept by Fenton Clark, Frances Slaton, Jean Ely, Shirley Jenkins, Margaret Sayles and Mary Jo Brady. Fenton's scrapbook is for men, only—football. She says that about all she does is cut out football pictures. Her room is filled with pennants, miniature ships, lamps, paper weights, and bookends—souvenirs from football trips made this year.

Although she did not make every trip herself, a representative went for her. Frances and Jean are roommates and they seem to be running a race to see which can fix the nicest T.C.U. scrapbook. Shirley, the Frogeette president, keeps a T. C. U. scrapbook and also one containing modern poems. Margaret's book is composed of football pictures and Mary Jo's contains "Little Lulu" cartoons and drawings by Petty.

Some of these book makers are poetry lovers. Elma Cudlipp keeps "pretty" poetry in her book-poems about children, animals, and nature. Jo Martin has a collection of original poetry. Mary Sam Locke and Madeleine McCarty are the stamp collectors of the group and Betty Giles keeps snapshots.

In the toy shop would be toy elephants, dogs, monkeys, and mice. There would be 150 big, little and middle-sized elephants belonging to Mary Jane Groom. The dogs from the room of Frances Carper and Frances Donovan would be three, Miss Carper, by the way, prefers little dogs while her roommate is not particular about the size but she "loves fuzzy dogs." Lillian Stuermer would have four scotties.

The elephants, monkeys, mice and 200 dogs from off Ceville Moore's what-not shelf would be contributed; Ceville has not brought her what-nots to school yet because she thinks they will be "so much trouble to dust," but she plans to bring them soon. Maxine Wilton's 50 monkeys would not be left out and the 50 elephants owned by Jean Turner would join Mary Jane's. Jean's elephants all have their trunk up because "it is bad luck to the owner if the trunk is down."

She has them from all over the United States.

Lucille Meyer can help the art shop with her own paintings and sketches. Margery Foster and Margel Atwood have plans to make their room into a hothouse. "Wandering jew" is wandering all over the place and we have some ivy, too, and Mrs. Bogues has promised us some more stuff," says Margie. Ada Helen Reed has a collection of about 50 cacti but she left them at home because "this room is too tiny to hold them all and somebody might get stuck."

Mary Sam Locke has a compact to help her remember each important place she has been. Vineta Worthington's dresser, table, desk, and what-not shelf are covered with perfume bottles. She buys the perfume for the bottle and not for the scent.

Betty Reagan has a more educational hobby. She collects Indian relics and you probably will not visit her room without being shown her Indian doll which has human hair. Billie Stoker is the antique gatherer. She says that this hobby is too expensive to do much with but she cannot resist some of the antique she sees. "When I was a kid," she says, "I collected stamps."

Misses Deprece and Patsy Foster had as their guests last week-end at their home in Nocona Miss Martha Olive.

Miss Jean Marr spent last week-end at her home in Bonham.

Miss Helen Hale left yesterday for her home in Spur, Texas. She will return after a short visit with her parents, Sunday.

RIDINGS RITINGS

BY "SCOOP"

BOWLING may not be a Southwest Conference sport, but apparently it is going to fall to yours truly to uphold the Purple's laurels in this sport, for the Baylor scribes are really panning my ability with the pins. However, it seems that Jack Dillard, erstwhile sports authority and now editor of The Daily Lariat, still cannot be original—even in his new column "And So." All it needs is a "What" added on to the end of the title.

The head of the Bruin journalistic clan has pulled a Westbrook Pegler on his public, both of them, and has graduated from a sports column and now in "And So . . . What" tells just what's going on in the world in general. Last Thursday, he was kind enough to write the following in his journalistic masterpiece (?):

"Paul Ridings, editor of T. C. U.'s Skiff, attended the Baylor-T. C. U. basketball game Tuesday night. Ridings, who is considered an expert at picking winners (out of a hat) in sports circles, has finally quit panicking this writer in his column and has started a verbal altercation (the dictionary may be one of the books that Pat Neff hasn't censored for Jack's reading) over our sports editor, Smith Tarrant. Ridings and Tarrant were arguing Tuesday night over which was the better bowler, and promised to settle the controversy at the journalism congress here March 25 and 26."

And the reason I say that Jack still isn't original is because that "out of a hat" business is a moniker that was tacked on him at last year's congress in Denton. I even have a photograph of the man taken in Denton illustrating how he makes his famous predictions—he is reaching into a hat, his own, surprisingly enough. But to make sure that they get their bowling match (they must be practicing) Smith Tarrant came out with the following in his column "Sport Graphs" in the next day's (lucky it wasn't Saturday, Sunday or Monday) issue of The Daily Lariat:

"Paul 'Scoop' Ridings was in town with his Frogs Tuesday. 'Scoop' is a great fellow, his only failing is his fatal attraction for women. He took the journalism convention by storm in Denton last year and left word Tuesday that he would arrive in Waco a day early to get his dates lined up. Seriously speaking, however, Ridings is a fine fellow and newspaper man and an unusually good bowler—Oh yeah?"

So it seems that your editor will have to become the upholder of Frog-land bowling honors, if any. Now who would like to donate the first lesson? The Daily Lariat is also quite proud of the fact that their cagers won Baylor's intramural race, so here is a challenge from The Skiff for them to meet a five of Christian scribes on the hardwood floors during the convention. And we'll even add tennis and a few track events to the challenge if they can work it into a program of the meeting.

But in the same Daily Lariat may find some good writing (when Jack Dillard lets a faculty member, Elton Miller, the publicity director, write for his paper) in the Sports Mill, by Miller. Said 'Miller' in a discussion of Slim Mabry's superb guarding of Hubert Kirkpatrick, the leading scorer: "From this vantage point, it looked like Mabry was better at the job than was the red-headed Hog from Arkansas, Ray Hamilton."

While the Frogs may not have finished so high in the current cage race, at least they were the leading "record breakers." Their 20-game losing streak is a record that will probably go untouched for some time (at least, let's hope so, if the Purple is concerned.) The new records for points scored by an individual player in one game was also made in a game with the Frogs, when Kirkpatrick made 16 field goals and three free throws Feb. 1 in Fort Worth for a total of 35 points. The old record was Jack Gray's 33-point evening a few seasons ago. And for the final new record of the season, again one must turn to the Frogs—points scored by both teams in a game. Meaning, of course, the 119 points

Track Team Entry Lists Take Shape

Frog Thinly-Clad Hope to Capture Points at Fat Stock Show Meet.

Powerful in Weights

Capt. Clifford to Enter Both Hurdle Events—Lee Duvivant Is Vault Specialist.

BY BILL HAWORTH

Although Coach Mack ("Boss") Clark has not definitely decided on his entry list for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show track and field meet, two weeks from today and tomorrow, he has lined up a possible team.

The Frog track men are not slated to startle the world this season, but they are expected to win some points. Purple Has Good Chance

In the Stock Show meet, which annually attracts the Southwest's classiest cinder path performers, the Purple has a good chance of rolling up points in several events.

In the weights, the Clarkmen look particularly potent. Powerful "Puss" Erwin in the shot, smilin' Ward Wilkinson in his favorite event, the javelin, and husky Bob Cook in the discus and shot are the best bets for the Frogs.

The exact condition of Cook's injured thumb, which is on his throwing hand, is not known. Clark said Wednesday that the big sophomore would probably be ready.

Capt. Pat Clifford will be entered in both hurdle events this year and the dashes and broad jump. Sophomore Jack Perryman and Brad Snodgrass will also be in the high sticks event.

Five Veterans in Dashes

In the dashes, "Boss" has the veteran Bob Harrell, Hugh Hanley, Erwin, Snodgrass, Clifford, Hanley, Harrell and Gail Smith, frosh flash of last season, will probably run the 440-yard dash. Smith and Perry Gandy, lanky newcomer to the squad, looking good in practice, will carry the Frog hopes in the half-mile race.

Jim Nicol and Bill Chappell are the milers, and Guy Wilson, Bill Jennings and Jimmy McGalliard will run the two-mile.

Clifford, Perryman and Snodgrass will do the high jumping. Snodgrass and "Red Dog" will take care of the broad jumping chores. Lee Duvivant, pole vault specialist, will also do some broad jumping. Jimmy Pratt will be in the pole vault with Duvivant.

Johnny Hall to Throw Discus

Speedy Johnny Hall may run the dashes and the quarter mile and will throw the discus. The "Indian" will probably fight it out with Smith for the anchor position on the one mile relay team.

The freshman team has been working out with the varsity and will be entered in the academy division in the Stock Show affair. The squad was strengthened this week with the disbanding of the cagers.

Robert Groseclose, James Lasseter and several others reported to the oval with the close of the basketball season.

Clark is counting on Lasseter in the pole vault, Groseclose in the jumps and hurdles, Floyd McRoberts in the jumps and Elting. Porterfield in the weights as the mainstays of the frosh.

Concert, "Booster Trip" Highlight Week for Band

The two main activities of the Horned Frog Band this week consisted of a concert Monday night and a trip to Houston on Wednesday and Thursday on a "Booster Trip."

Featured on the concert were Miss Marifrances Bibbs, harpist, and the Horned Frog Trio consisting of Misses Helen Miellmer, Mary Frances Hutton and La Verda Sessions.

While in Houston the band and the "boosters" attended the rodeo.

talled, as Rice downed the Frogs 62 to 57 in Houston.

But now that the 1938 round-ball race is over, the time has come to pick all-conference teams. This department, however, renigs, as it is willing to let the Purple's all-opponent team announced on this page serve as its mythical selection. No Frogs will get much consideration on these various teams, so certainly the all-opponent should be satisfactory. But Jack Reedy, as a member of any other team, would deserve an all-star berth, for the Indiana Frog has stood out well above other players in the Southwest circuit.

Hard Luck Hits Frogs As Four Gridders Hurt

"I knew it couldn't last!" Such a declaration might well have been the wail of Head Coach Dutch Meyer after football practice Tuesday afternoon.

And why not? After almost three weeks of hard spring practice without a single serious injury, four gridders came out of the smoke and fire of a scorching scrimmage session with injuries that may or may not be of serious consequence.

Earl Holland, big promising sophomore tackle, A. P. Love, frosh star of last year who is running at half, fullback Lacy McClanahan, letterman, and Logan Ware, back, were the injured players. Holland suffered a

Pitching Is Puzzle As Opening Nears

Baseball Candidates Practice for First Game of Season in Three Weeks

Exactly three weeks from today the 1938 edition of the Frog baseball nine will bow into the Southwest Conference flag chase, against S.M.U. here.

Sixteen diamond aspirants were issued equipment Monday, but the first official practice session was not held until Tuesday because of a Conference ruling prohibiting practice before March 1.

At least four candidates reported Wednesday afternoon after the cage season closed Tuesday night. The full squad will probably be around 20.

The pitching problem is probably the biggest question for Coach Howard Grubbs. Back from last year's squad are long-armed Paul Tankersley, letterman who should be greatly improved, and 6-foot, 6-inch "Slim" Mabry.

Sophomore Durwood Horner may share the twirling duties. Horner was a star hurler back in his high school days at Poly High and was a member of last year's frosh.

Besides Tankersley, Grubbs has only four lettermen—Ki Aldrich behind the plate, Davey O'Brien at shortstop and Ben Dyess and Horace Carswell, outfielders.

In order to help whip the Frogs in shape, Grubbs is planning on several practice tiffs before the S. M. U. game.

"We will probably pick up a few practice games with amateur teams as we go along," the mentor stated.

In addition to the lettermen, the squad's outstanding candidates include Ben Abney, Ralph Corbett, Woodrow Duckworth, Mack Best, Bob Childers, Logan Ware and others.

Business Women Award 2 Evening College Prizes

Two Evening College scholarships were awarded formally this week by the Fort Worth Business and Professional Women's Club at a luncheon at the Blackstone Hotel.

President Mary Jane Higgins presented the scholarships to Miss Madie Park and Miss Maurine Dickey.

Dr. A. L. Boeck spoke on "Scholarships in the Evening College." Mrs. Mabel G. Bennett, former president of the Fort Worth B. and P. W. Club and present member of the advisory committee of the Evening College, spoke on the "T.C.U. Evening College."

Keeds, "Trucking" 'Ain't So Modern, It Came In 1598

There has been trucking since 1598. Who said that Ina Rae Hutton, Martha Ray or any other modern "belle" originated the "Truckin' craze?"

John Florio, an English author, used the word "truck" in 1598 to mean "to trudge, skud or tramp."

An example of a use of the word, as found in the New Oxford English Dictionary, "for leaving her cellar doors so wide open at that time a night, yet on her trucks."

In 1661 the word "Trucking" appeared in a phrase: "unloose yourself from the worldly bondage from trucking with the world."

And in 1705 appeared, "you like your neighbor's wife better, what a pity it is the law don't allow trucking."

Miss Mable Major, who teaches advanced English grammar, says that "it is an interesting note that the word 'truck' meant something besides a vehicle at such an early date. "I wonder what future generations will think when such words as 'Big Apple,' 'Trucking' and 'Suzy-q' are found in their dictionaries."

Miss Janie Hawkins visited at her home in Ennis last week-end.

knee injury, as did McClanahan, who is an crutches, and Love also got a bad knee out of the fracas. Ware sustained a sprained ankle.

Tomorrow's practice will end the third week of spring practice, the past two of which have seen lots of hard scrimmage. Up until Tuesday everything had been running smoothly, but all of the Purple's bad luck seemed to come at once.

Despite the fact that the injuries might keep the four lads out of the final week of practice, the squad will not be greatly weakened.

It's not because they will not be missed, but simply because this is one year the Purple forces are so strong and reserves so plentiful that other capable boys are ready to step into their shoes.

All four will, of course, be ready to go next fall, and Love and Ware might get in some work next week.

The intersquad game which usually winds up the annual spring practice may not be held this year, Meyer said. "These intersquad games aren't what they're cracked up to be," Meyer stated.

Regardless of whether a game is played or not next week is sure to see some "rough stuff."

Mixed Basketballers To Perform Tonight

Boys Will Again Be Required to Wear Boxing Gloves, Play by Girls' Rules.

The mixed basketball games of last week met with such popular approval that Prof. Thomas Prouse has asked for a return match to serve as "the hilarious, fun provoking, laugh getter" of the fourth annual Intramural Open House.

The W. A. A. girls will be led by Miss Fannie Ruth Kellow and Miss Helen Ruth Braselton, the intramural team by Bob Harrell and Ki Aldrich. The game will be played at 8:00 p.m. tonight under the same conditions as before, the boys wearing boxing gloves and playing by girls' rules (if some more potent handicap isn't necessary).

The last game ended 40 to 11 in favor of the boys after the girls had been reversed and their wrists tied together. The final quarter was played by boys' rules and without handicaps "just to give them a fair chance."

The first long hike of the season for the W. A. A. will be held at 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, beginning at the Gymnasium and ending at the Rose Garden.

"I would like to remind the girls that everyone signed up for hiking must make two of these long walks this year, and also that they may bring visitors if they like," said Miss Emajean Haggard, manager.

Juniors Versus Seniors In Open House Tonight

The Juniors in the Red League intramural basketball race won a decisive victory over the Blue League runner-ups, the Sophs, Monday night, 72 to 28, to earn a place in the Intramural Open House play-off tonight for the campus champs.

The Red League Seniors will be the Juniors' opponent by virtue of their victory over the Blue League champion, the Frosh, 33 to 30.

Contact: Ed Cobb, Linnon Blackmon and Carmen Schenck are gonna be air-men, or at least that's the plans now, as the "high hurdle," the physical examination, is over.

These three Frogs are part of the eight who passed out of 108 taking the exam.

The work starts at Randolph Field Flying School in San Antonio July 1. T. C. U. has one other boy who passed the examination, Grassy Hinton '32; He is stationed at Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La.

So it's heads up, and watch the women and small children if these "Devil Dogs" ever take to the air.

Ponies Blast Frogs' Last

Purple Leading at Half, 23 to 16, but Loses by Score of 37-30.

Reminiscent of the Frogs' football luck last fall was the basketball melee Tuesday night in which "fisherman's luck" was the fate of the Purple cagers when "they had 'em but they got away!"

In a valiant attempt to win their last game of the season and their second conference victory, the Brumbelemen played a great game of first-half basketball against a classy S. M. U. five, leading 23 to 16 at the close of the first period. But they couldn't hold the sharp-shooting Ponies in the last half, and went down 37 to 30.

The Christian team was a smoothly functioning outfit during the first half, looking better than they have all year. With Jack Reedy, big Slim Mabry and Capt. Jay Smith hitting the bucket with unusual accuracy, and Brad Snodgrass turning in a peach of a defensive game, the Frogs took advantage of an early lead and were leading 23 to 16 at the intermission.

The S. M. U. flash, Forward J. D. Norton, was held to one field goal by Snodgrass during the initial period. The Amarillo ace fouled out early in the second half and the Mustangs began cutting down the Frog lead immediately.

With 10 minutes to play, Mustang Homer Barnes sank a pretty crisp shot, to give S. M. U. a 31 to 30 lead which they never relinquished.

From that point on the Frogs were through for the night. Their shots, short and long, crisp and free tosses, were all to no avail. The S. M. U. quintet, led by Norton and lanky Billy Dewell, poured six more points through the hoop before the final whistle blew.

Reedy, who was a marvel with his one-handed shots and nifty ball-handling and floor work, shared scoring honors with Norton. Both tallied 13 points.

Capt. Smith and Mabry scored five points in the first half but went pointless in the second.

Wogs Close Season With Victory, Loss

Defeat Junior College Cagers, 62-44 — Drop Game to Colts, 56-35.

Coach Walter Roach's Polliwogs closed their season with a victory Monday night over the Wichita Falls Junior College cagers, and a loss Tuesday night to the Colts from S. M. U.

Dennis Tankersley and Robert Groseclose totaled 47 points in the first game to help defeat the Junior College five 62 to 44. Tankersley made 24 points and Groseclose was a close second, with 23.

The Wogs' ability to hit the basket apparently deserted them against the Colts Tuesday night. The S.M.U. freshmen defeated the Wogs 56 to 35. Dennis Tankersley, again high-point man for the Wogs, making 15 tied with Wilbur Keith, Colt forward, for scoring honors.

Cagers Set One Record Out of Losing Season

To the purple basketball followers comes one drop of victory in an almost empty glass! Tuesday night in the game here with the S. M. U. Mustangs a Frog cager set a new record.

When Capt. Jay Smith rang up his first field goal of the evening he smashed a record of the purple cagers, in that he had scored more points than any other Frog guard since the entrance of T. C. U. into the Southwest Conference.

Also, Smith's 76 points for the season made him the leading scorer of the Horned Frog team.

Wog Baseballers Start March 14

"Freshman baseball workouts will probably start March 14, two days after the close of spring football practice," Coach Walter Roach says.

Little is known of the nature and number of candidates who will report, but Coach Roach is hopeful of making a creditable showing with the first-year men.

As in the past, the Frosh will probably play games with the Fort Worth high school teams and junior college nines of this section.

Seven Prelims Held For Gloves Finalists

"Bull" to Meet Loos for Heavy Title—Rumph vs. Brown in Bantam Class.

Seven preliminary matches were held this week in the opening rounds of the Silver Gloves Boxing Tournament, held in connection with the Open House, to determine finalists for the bouts tonight.

In the bantamweight division Clarence Rumph defeated Bill Douglas and Louis Hoblit won over Winton Mitchell Tuesday. Rumph will meet Tom (Deacon) Brown for the bantamweight title tonight.

Wednesday night O. A. Richey, last year's runnerup for the middleweight crown, got the nod over Willis Lowe. On the same program Walter Bradley, lightweight king for two years, scored a technical knockout over Bill Kline. Floyd McRoberts punched his way to a victory over Robert Groseclose in the welterweight class.

Tonight's finals will see the mighty "Bull" Rogers against Don Loos for the heavyweight championship, Travis Griffin versus the winner of the Ned James-Clarence Alexander scrap (fought last night) and Richey against Ted Cartwright for the middleweight title.

McRoberts will meet the winner of the Dick Oliver-Heard Carter fight (held last night) if that fighter survives in his scrap over Hoblit which is being held this morning.

Bradley will meet the winner of the Don Thompson-Don Vachon battle for the lightweight honors.

Miss Vineta Worthington spent the past week-end at her home in Jacksboro.

Miss Lillian Stuermer visited an aunt and uncle in Dallas last week-end, for scoring honors.

Businesses Give TCU More Than Supplies

T. C. U., like any other big organization, depends upon various Fort Worth business concerns for the necessary supplies and services used in its day-to-day activities.

Naturally, the University pays for these supplies and services; but the consideration given the school in matters of price, quality, special service, and various other things, makes this relationship more than a matter of money.

The firms listed in this department are among those with which T. C. U. has business relationships. But in addition to that, these firms—and the men and women associated with them—are friends and supporters of the University and its varied activities.

Because this is true, The Skiff feels that students, faculty members, alumni and friends of the institution—whenever the opportunity offers—should co-operate by patronizing these business firms.

Baylor and Arkansas took two places and S. M. U. one position on the Frogs' 1938 all-opponent cage team, which included only their conference rivals.

Towering Hubert Kirkpatrick, of Baylor, holder of the new Southwest Conference individual scoring record, Jack Robbins and Don Lockard of Arkansas were unanimous choices of the Purple cagers.

Kirkpatrick, who rang up 35 points against the Christians for a new game record when Baylor played here, was placed at center. Lockard and Robbins were chosen for forward and guard, respectively.

The other forward and guard positions went to big Billy Dewell of S. M. U. and Bubba Gernand of Baylor. Dewell's teammate, J. D. Norton, was barely beat out of a first team berth, but landed a forward position on the second team.

has arranged a boys' and girls' mixed basketball game in which the boys will be handicapped with boxing gloves. The boys won last week in the same event.

Bob Harrell, "Footh" White, Ward Wilkinson, et al. are slated to meet a girls team of Gwendolyn McSweeney, Jessie Van Horn, Mary Sam Blanton and others.

Novel Saber Match

The fencing matches, featured by a novel saber duel in which the lights will be turned out and the sabers will be electrified, will have Clifton Morgan of the Y. M. C. A. versus Max Ellis.

Medals will again be given to tournament winners, and miniature glove trophies will be given to the boxing champions of the various weight divisions.

Tackier You Can Get Better'll Be Your Bet

By FRANCES TAYLOR

Here's your chance to wear that hat you decided to give the Negro cook, to express your suppressed yearn for vivid make-up and to wear your skirt just a little shorter than you ever dared before (if that's possible). The worse you look, the better dressed you will be, for you'll be going to the the Bowry Dance.

The junior class is sponsoring the dance, to start at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Basketball Gymnasium. Recordings will furnish the music and everybody's bound to have a good time. There'll be no evening dresses to step on and sweep the floor with, and no tight collars or new shoes to hurt your stubbed toe.

Eddie Deem's orchestra has coined a new name which makes them especially suitable for college hops. Anyhow, the signs ballyhooing the "Varsitonians" looks good, even if somebody did spell the name wrong.

The Varsitonians will play for the dance in the Basketball Gymnasium Saturday night, beginning at 9 o'clock. It is formal for the girls, as usual. The ruling concerning the presentation of activity books at the ticket window will be enforced. This is a warning, so you won't have to leave your best girl leaning on the door (and probably flirting with the doorman) while you fly on the wings of the wind (preferably the north wind) to go through the pockets of your other suit to find that book.

THUMBNAILED SKETCH: You're a Sweetheart. Beautiful Lady in Blue. Bei Mier Bist du Shoen. You're the Top. You Ought to Be in Pictures. (Ema Jean Haggard).

COLLEGE LIFE: You've heard about the man who fell four stories down the elevator shaft. When he opened his eyes for the last time, an elderly, excited lady rushed up to him and asked anxiously, "Are you hurt?"

That man could sympathize with the students in the Library, the registrar's and business offices. Crazy questions keep them laughing between times when the saner and less interesting people ask for information.

The Library assistants tell tales of the student who calls up and asks them to look on page 85 of "that" blue book with the red lettering which was turned in yesterday morning. The surprising thing is that somebody can usually find it.

The English workers spend much time looking up the spelling of some word in the dictionary, while the patient inquirer waits at the telephone. There have been as many as five persons, all trying to find the correct pronunciation of "prenuptial."

The registrar's office is asked to answer questions running from "What parish is L. S. U. in?" to "Who's the little blond who sits in front of me in chemistry?"

Mrs. Otto Nielsen, in Dean Hall's office, says she is not bothered by questions so much as by the person who comes silently into the office, leans patiently on the desk, points, shakes his head at her when she replies negatively, and leaves without having said a word.
