VIEWPOINTS

RED PENCILS
FRIENDLY SPIRIT
PHENOMENAL FOOTBALL
DEMOCRACY

By PROF. PAUL DINKINS

When Ernest Peyton asked me a day or so ago if I would write this week's Views and Viewpoints, I thought of my current mountain of Blue Books and themes, and I winced.

"If I do it," I said, "they may not get their papers back on schedule." Ernest knew exactly whom I had in mind.

"They won't care," he said briefly. That is what I call an unambiguous answer. And by "they," he meant and I meant, of course, "my friends the freshmen."

Every week since school began I have been writing things to freshmen—writing with red pencil, here and there along the margins of their themes. Now it is only fitting, I think, that there should be a turning of tables and it fall my lot to write the theme. Out then, with your red pencils. When I tell you that my subject is "The Friendly Spirit at T. C. U.," you may want to print a big red "RITE" in the margin of your Skiff.

And it is a rather trite subject, I suppose. Our student body is almost as used to being described as friendly and democratic as our football team is to being described as phenomenal. We even admit the virtue to ourselves, and perhaps are inclined to take it for granted. Undoubtedly, then, it is something no more trite than true—and I, for one, marvel at it, and never cease to marvel.

We have Percy Mark's word for it that the most priceless gift of a university education is the acquaintance which it gives one with the wise and noble dead—the deep joy of walking and talking with Shakespeare, say, or with Thoreau. But have you ever been to a university so large and so impersonal that—for your first few months, at least—you have nobody but the illustrious dead to talk with? They are rather overpowering company: you are mute before Shakespeare, shy before Thoreau. You wish with all your heart for some lesser, more human contact—that some sophomore, even, would not consider it too unsophisticated to persecute a freshman.

Assuredly, T. C. U. was never like that. If we err, it is rather, I think, on the side of informality. Some of our chapel speakers, for instance, may have wished for a little less industry and vivacity on the part of our manufacturers of paper airplanes. But even so—even so, the spirit is essentially as it should be. Nobody really wants his university to be an ivory tower.

So let us cherish our informality, our democracy, our real friendliness for one another. Learning does not suffer by it, and life certainly profits greatly.

Let us make that candle, at any rate, shine in a naughty world; let our good-will be felt by everybody here at T. C. U.—and yes, why not let it extend, even, to include other campuses as well?

Tuesday Night Broadcast Will Include Two Skits

The two radio skits which were to have been presented last Tuesday will be presented next Tuesday night. "Makes the Whole World Kin," an O. Henry story dramatized by Miss Mary Paige Covey, a student of last year, will be presented. The characters will include Bowley and Frank Crumley, students in the Evening College. The second skit will also be an O. Henry story, "Sound and Fury," and the cast will include Miss Ruth Cathcart and Frank Crumley, also students in the Evening College.

The musical portion of the program will be furnished by the string trio.

Students List 52 Nominees As Favorites

8 Winners of '37-38 Pages Named on Annual Ballots Wednesday.

Only Nine Juniors

Freshman Nominations Lead, with 17 Girls—Preliminary Voting on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

The student body nominated 52 girls Wednesday in the first voting in the Horned Frog contest to name two girls from each class to the "Favorite" section of the 1938-39 annual.

Of the 52 nominations the freshman class topped all classes by naming 17 girls. The sophomores followed closely with 16 listed. Senior nominees came third, with 11, and the juniors lagged behind all classes, naming only nine girls for candidates.

Eight of last year's page winners were named again this year. These include Misses Poppy Bass, Frances Buster, Florrie Buckingham, Helen Connor, Betty Dyer, Elizabeth Hager, Emajean Haggard and Martha Ceil Graves.

Preliminary voting will be held for freshmen and sophomores in Chapel Wednesday, Nov. 9. Juniors and seniors will vote in the "Y" room from 10 to 12 o'clock the same morning. This will be for the purpose of selecting four girls from each class as candidates for the "favorites" pages.

The following girls were nominated, Miss Frances Taylor, editor, announced today:

Juniors: Misses Priscilla Boyd, Frances Buster, Helen Connor, May Helen Ede, Elwyn Espy, Winifred Gillespie, Lois Herz, Beth Lea and Lenora Salmon.

Seniors: Misses Connie Clark, Marjori Gibson, Martha Ceil Graves, Emajean Haggard, Dorothy Jordan, Jewell McCall, Clara Shelton, Virginia Simons, Billie Stoker, Frances Taylor and Anne Whitley.

Views Are 'Pro,' 'Con' About Pay for 'Prexy'

"The student body president should be paid because he does more for the interest of the school than any other student."

"The student body president should not be paid; he should feel proud to be able to represent the student body and the school."

These two views, the first expression by Don Looney and the second by Willie O'Gara, represent the two evenly divided schools of thought on the campus.

About one-half of the students interviewed agreed that the presidency of the student body is a position that involves so much time and work that the holder should receive a scholarship. The rest said the position is an honor and should be regarded as such.

Garland Montgomery, one of the "no pay" group, advanced the suggestion of presenting the student president with a gift at the close of his term in office.

"I think he should be paid," says Miss Mary Harding Dillin. It would encourage the more active, enterpris-

"Swing" Is Here, "Sling" Is Near, TCU Out of Gear

By FRANCES TAYLOR

Jam session—sandblasting—shagging—in short, swing goes to college. The eighteenth century danced the minuet; the nineteenth century waltzed; twentieth-century America swings.

Last week's prom showed that T. C. U. students have taken up swing with a vengeance. Slower than Eastern colleges and even other Texas universities to recognize the scope for individuality on the dance-floor, the purple "jitterbugs" started the season conservatively.

Students are finding that a chance to put their own ideas into a dance is exciting. At present, there is a tendency for the other students to turn and watch their more enthusiastic classmates as they shag and improvise dance steps. The majority of T. C. U.'ers still prefer "Stardust" to "Red, Hot and Blue."

Swing, when danced without exaggeration, has grace and charm. Aunt Effie, weight 510, couldn't shag and get away with it, but Josephine College can even "peck" and make it an art. It's a case of "swing" versus "sling."

The prediction for future dances is more and more improvisation and individuality in dancing. There will be that inevitable period of stomping and noise, but the gaudiness will soon disappear.

To keep up with the times, as students always have, we must keep step with a restless, fast-moving age. And the dance of that era is called swing.

Contest Plays Will Be Given

Freshmen - Sophomores Will Compete for Honors in Auditorium Tuesday.

The annual freshman-sophomore play contest will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the Auditorium. Admission will be 25 cents a person.

The freshman play, entitled "The Wedding," written by John Kirpatrick, is under the direction of Miss Jean Lipps. The cast includes the following: Miss Betty Patton, Alfred Shepherd, Howard Collier, Miss Marie Seaberry, Kenneth Griffith, Miss Rosella Porterfield and Paul Nelson.

"The Advantages of Being Shy," written by Miss Phoebe Hoffman, is the sophomore play, under the direction of Miss Betty Putnam. The cast includes: Miss Jane Manning, Miss Christine Smith, Bill Crossfield, Beryl Wallace, Miss Frances Drennon and Miss Shirley Jenkins.

Big Reception To Welcome Baylor Fans

Horned Frog Swingsters and Visiting Band Will Lead Downtown Parade.

Train Due at 10:20

"Joe College" Will Accompany 1000 Bears on Their Official Student Trip to Frogland

A huge parade and student demonstration has been planned to welcome the 1000 or more Baylor students who will descend on Fort Worth and the Frogland campus tomorrow morning.

Baylor students have chosen the fray with the Horned Frogs as their official student body trip and will attend the game in large numbers. Word has been received from Waco that at least one, and possibly two, special trains will bring the Bear fans and band to Fort Worth.

The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce has announced that the special train from Waco will arrive at the T. and P. station at 10:20 o'clock tomorrow morning. A reception at the station has been planned, after which a parade will march up Houston Street to Second Street, over to Main Street and down to the Blackstone Hotel, where a student demonstration will be held.

All Frogland students who can have been urged to attend the parade and demonstration downtown, which will be led by the famed Horned Frog Swing Band and the Baylor Band.

In addition to their band and team, Baylor will bring with them "Joe College," their mascot. "Joe," a husky bear, is quite an actor and is expected to provide plenty of amusement for the fans.

Following the game, all Baylor students will be honored guests at the big dance to be held in the Basketball Gymnasium, with the music furnished by "Boots and His Buddies."

"As this is Baylor's official trip and as the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the reception downtown, I think that the least we can do is to meet the special train and prove to Baylor that we are really glad to have them with us," Guy Daniel urged today.

Noted Author To Speak Here

Mrs. Laura Krey, author of the recent best seller, "And Tell of Time," will be presented in a lecture and discussion at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in Brite College Auditorium.

Her appearance at T. C. U. is under the auspices of the lecture committee. All students, faculty members and their friends are invited to attend reports Dr. Willis G. Hewatt, chairman.

Tea will be served to guests following the lecture. There will be no admission charge.

New Freshman Group To Be Organized by SCA

Because of the increased interest that members of the Student Christian Association are taking, another freshman group will be organized, officers have announced. The new group will be supervised in the same way as the other three freshman groups, but the sponsors have not yet been chosen.

In the early part of November there will be a combined meeting of all of the groups at Eagle Mountain Lake. Plans for this meeting have not been definitely made, reports Wilbur Mendel, president.

Pat Neff to Be Guest Of Dr. Waits Tomorrow

President E. M. Waits will have as his guests at the game tomorrow President Pat M. Neff of Baylor University, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Speer and Dr. and Mrs. Everett Kin.

Tonight's Rally To Broadcast

Frogland will be reviewed tonight for the radio public! Time: 7 o'clock tonight. Place: Auditorium.

The pep rally, announced earlier in the week to be held at 7:30 p. m. will begin a half-hour earlier, and the place is being changed. The Texas State Network will sit in on the activities tonight, with their hook-up of 23 stations.

Zach Hurt, commentator who is well known to Texans, will be there. Guy Daniel, student body president, and Dean Colby Hall will talk.

Yell Leader Tom Swiley has asked that all students come at 6:30 o'clock tonight in order that they might go over the program and acquaint themselves with the procedure.

"The program is to be a non-commercial affair, crammed full of entertainment throughout," says Swiley.

The Horned Frog Band will be there with some brand new stuff.

Student activities will continue under way with a parade tomorrow morning, originating at the T. & P. Railroad station, in which the Baylor and T. C. U. student bodies and bands will take part. The parade will be immediately after the arrival of the special train from Waco. This is to be the Bears' official student body trip.

Ministerial Students Close Two-Day Meet

Representatives From 6 States Attend—Kenneth Hay President, Dean Hall Sponsor.

Ministerial students and ministers from six states will close a two-day meet on the campus at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting has been that of the first Southwestern Regional Inter-Seminary Conference, with Kenneth Hay, '38, president, and Dean Colby D. Hall, sponsor, in charge.

The theme of the conference, which has been attended by representatives of various churches from Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, is "Cooperation and Understanding Among Christian Churches."

The three chief speakers of the conference were: Dr. H. E. Dana, president of the Kansas City Theological Seminary; Dr. Floyd Poe, pastor of the City Temple Presbyterian Church of Dallas; and Dr. J. N. R. Rose, Fort Worth, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Roy McCorkel, New York, secretary of the national interseminary movement, attended the conference also.

Murals Are Started For English Office

Actual Painting on Walls Begins Next Week—Manuscript Used as Model.

Painting of the murals for the walls of the English office will probably begin sometime next week, according to Miss Beth Lea, who with John Goodspeed, is doing the work. Most of the 24 figures to be represented in the murals have been sketched on paper, and the painting, in oils will be done directly on the walls.

Each figure will be on a horse, just as they are in the Ellsner manuscript, a woodcut, which is being used as the model, said Miss Lea. The manuscript is in black and white, but colors will be used for the murals.

"The horses and even some of the figures may not look so real, but we intend to make as accurate a duplicate of the manuscript as we can," Miss Lea said.

Each mural will be in a separate frame, making a collection of 24, with the name of the figure below it in old English.

"The work may take two years," Miss Lea said, "and someone else may have to finish them, but John and I hope that we may be able to. They will be the only murals in the University."

Howard Carrell, secretary-treasurer of the Ex-Students' Association, will serve as general chairman of T. C. U.'s Homecoming.

Alumni Plans Homecoming

Howard Carrell Appointed General Chairman For '12th' Celebration.

"The Biggest Homecoming Yet" campaign was officially launched at a dinner last night in the Oak Room of the Texas Hotel, with Ex-Student President Roy G. Tomlinson presiding. Sixteen invitations to be dinner guests of the alumni group were mailed to officers and directors in all parts of the state, and plans for the Homecoming game and its accompanying festivities were made. The official schedule will be announced later.

Howard Carrell, secretary-treasurer of the Ex-Students' Association, and former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed general chairman of Homecoming Day which will be November 12, when T. C. U. meets Texas University at the Frog Stadium. Committees to work with Carrell have not yet been appointed.

Other officers of the association are Dr. Abe Greines, vice-president, and Mrs. Flake Z. Williams, vice-president.

Invitations were also sent to the following: Alumni Directors Dave Leavell, Frank Ogilvie and R. F. Holloway of Fort Worth, and Bill Dickey of Houston; Regional Vice-Presidents Judge Green, Vernon; Carlos Ashley, Llano; Sidney Latham, Longview; Mrs. S. H. Jenkins, Athens; Mrs. Buck Barr, Kingsville, and Mrs. Charles A. Stephens, Fort Worth; and to Mrs. Gayle Scott, president of the Woman's Branch of the Association and Rowland Broiles, Ex-Students publicity chairman, both of Fort Worth.

TCU String Trio to Play 3 Programs This Week

Three programs are on the calendar this week for the String Trio, one an out of town engagement, and two Fort Worth organizations.

This evening the trio goes to the Baker Hotel in Mineral Wells, where it will appear before the district convention of Federated Music Clubs. The trio will represent the Francis Macmillen Club, new name for the Music Club, which is a federated member. Prof. Claude Sammis, faculty sponsor, and Wayne Dunlap, president of the club, will attend. Arthur Faguy-Cote and John Brigham will sing on the same program.

Today the trio will play at the luncheon at the Woman's Club, honoring Laura Krey, author of the new novel, "And Tell of Time."

Wednesday the trio played at the Harmony Club meeting held at the Elk's Club.

Exam Week Shortened Because of Rice Holiday

Midsemester examinations must be completed by Nov. 18 instead of 19 as the catalog says, since that will be a holiday for the student body trip to Rice, Dean Colby D. Hall has announced.

Colored Band To 'Give Out' For Students

"Boots and Buddies" Will Play It Soft and Sweet or Fast and Scorchy.

Tickets 65 Cents

Organization Recently Opened Local Dance Spot—Baylor Students to Be Honored at Affair.

You like your music soft and sweet, don't you?

And you like yours with plenty of "hot licks" mixed in, don't you?

Well, both of you should grab your girl friend and truck on down to the Basketball Gymnasium at 9 o'clock tomorrow night.

For "Boots and His Buddies" can play the music of both "schools" in a highly satisfactory manner.

"The price to dance to this swell musical organization will be only 65 cents per couple," says Leroy "Jew" Gideon, dance manager.

"This group of colored entertainers is really good. It is not any 'pick-up' organization such as we had on the campus last year. Several members of the Student Council heard the band play before giving me permission to sign a contract, and they all agree Boots has one of the best swing bands in this part of the country."

The band recently opened a local night spot, after playing several long, successful engagements in South Texas during the summer.

Baylor students will be honored at the dance.

Band on Air Monday Night

Optimists to Sponsor Broadcast—Regular Series to Begin Later.

The Horned Frog Band will make its first radio appearance of the year Monday night over station KGKO. The swingsters will present the program under the sponsorship of the Fort Worth Optimist Club.

The program will be broadcast from 8:30 till 9 o'clock and will present both classical and popular music. Don Gillis plans to feature Wayne Dunlap in a vocal arrangement of "Mist On the Moon" and a quartet in a presentation of the new school song, "For the Glory of T. C. U." This program is not one of the series to be heard throughout the year.

The regular series of broadcasts by the band will begin a week from Monday night, over WBAP. Programs will be presented from the Band House every week thereafter.

Library to Observe National Art Week

Display of Books on Graphic Art Is to Be Main Feature of Week of Nov. 1 to 7.

A display of books on graphic arts will be the Library's contribution to the observance of National Art Week, Nov. 1-7, Mrs. J. E. Motherhead has announced.

S. M. Gaines, who loaned the Library the oil paintings found there, has consented to write something about the artists and their paintings. These articles will be put in pamphlet form and placed with the display of books.

Dr. Rebecca Smith recently donated three books to the library. They are: "A Southerner Discovers the South," by Jonathan Daniels; "Thrice a Stranger," by Vera Brittain; and "College Square," by Susan Goodyear.

Other books that have been received this week are "Legends of Texas Rivers," by Fannie May Barber Hughes; "The Best One-Act Plays of 1937," by Margaret Mayorga; "The Life of O. O. McIntyre," by Charles B. Driscoll; and "The Middle Way," by Harold Macmillan.

Why All the Shootin'?

Do the students of T. C. U. realize that they have finished high school and are now college men and women?

An affirmative answer to this question would be doubtful, as evidenced by the conduct of some of them in painting the Baylor campus, during the past week.

A little fun is all right in its place, but this disorderly rivalry between Baylor and T. C. U. is on the order of high school pranks, and it dates back to before-the-war days. We should realize that there is nothing but ill-will gained from demonstrations of this kind, and in some cases (A. & M. and Baylor) the results were disastrous.

Back long years ago, the same sort of rivalry existed between T. C. U. and several of the conference schools. In recent years the students have seen fit to discontinue a dangerous practice. That is, all except the Frogs and the Bears.

But they have not discontinued a practice which stamps them in the minds of disinterested outsiders as childish. Instead, they persist in doing what they know is wrong—in direct opposition to the best interests of the student bodies.

Why all this continued agitation?

Your Representative

"To pay or not to pay"—and the student body, judging from a poll conducted this week by The Skiff, is fairly evenly divided on the question of giving the student body president a salary.

It has been suggested that to pay the student's official representative would cause the entrance of too much politics into student affairs.

On a larger campus—such as a state university—it is possible that charges of commercialization might be brought successfully, but it is doubtful if that would be true on a campus as small as ours. Although the T. C. U. total enrollment this year is the highest in the history of the University, it still is not too large for the student body to know the campus and student leaders, by reputation if not personally.

And because they do know the leaders and the type of persons they are, it is doubtful if the student body would allow any money-grabbing, glory-seeking individual to be their official leader.

There is no doubt that the job of leading and representing the student body of a college that has received as much national publicity as T. C. U. has in the past four years is a difficult and time-taking one. Your student body president represents you in everything with which the University is connected. T. C. U. is judged by Fort Worth business men by their contacts with him. Students and faculty members on other campuses evaluate Texas Christian through him. He is your representative to the Administration.

It is admitted that the University is not judged solely on the basis of the student body president. People also form opinions of T. C. U. on seeing the student publications—The Skiff and the Horned Frog—and by our faculty. The heads of all these departments are also your representatives. The chief difference between them and the student body president being that they are paid for their work. The editors and business managers of your publications, the manager of your dances, your faculty heads all receive something besides honor for their work.

Why should not your official representative—the student body president—be given a scholarship for his efforts in your behalf?

A Word to the Wise

Why do T. C. U. coeds refuse to go "stag" to the dances?

At the last two Jamborees, Leroy Gideon has emphasized the point that girls were urged to come alone (or in groups if you're that scared) to dance. That means you would pay your money at the door, choose your dancing partner, have a good time, and go home.

"I might as well not be going to T. C. U." one girl was overheard to say. "I've been here two years and never been to a dance in the Gymnasium." And that girl is a good dancer (and attractive).

For the last 20 years women have been fighting for the right to vote, to be in business, to take their place on equal standing with the men. They've trudged miles on hard pavement, they've slaved over committees, they've spoken from platforms about women's rights.

Today the fight is considered won. They have supposedly made and kept their place in a democratic nation. There is no doubt about a woman's right to an education, her right to take an active part in the administration of college machinery.

So why should she be denied the right to have a good time? The school dances are the highlight of college social life. Other colleges recognize this. It is no unusual sight to see a group of girls tagging on other college campuses. The practice is not only encouraged but a natural development, growing out of the same situation that is present on our campus.

It is a problem that only the coeds can meet. It will take courage to start the new practice of girl-stags at every dance. It will take understanding and chivalry on the part of the boys. Is the student body capable of progressing toward this solution that will mean a better time for everybody? Do something about it!

Just A Trick

NOBODY EVER READS this part OF THE PAPER because THEY THINK it's dull.

THIS is also dull, BUT YOU'LL probably read TO THE end, BEFORE YOU discover it.

THE PURPOSE behind THE WHOLE IDEA is to INFORM YOU that a COLLEGE DIPLOMA may ac-TUALLY BE a hazard TO A GIRL who wants to BE MARRIED some day UNLESS SHE IS a psychologist.

THAT, IT IS said, is DUE TO THE FACT that husbands cannot be happy UNLESS THEY feel superior TO THEIR wives.

MORAL: MAJOR in psychology.

For Profs Only

The Student Council is based on the idea of a "go-between" between the student body and the faculty members.

Co-operation should be the main objective in the group, and co-operation will be the only way that the Student Council can function properly as a governing body of the students and by the students.

There should be more representation from the faculty group. The Council has problems that cover other things besides the campus, and advice on these problems could be had for the asking if the faculty would or could co-operate.

Would you, faculty member, be interested, or do you consider that the problem is well taken care of as it is?

Would you be willing to do your part if the Council called on you for help?

Our Neighbors Say

A Campus Newspaper

College students and faculty members quite often lose sight of what their school paper really is. They forget that it is the voice of their college, and hence becomes an all-campus activity.

The college paper does not belong to the journalism department—No more than W. S. A. belongs strictly to the physical education department, the chapel and college chorus to the department of music, Players Guild to the speech department, or that the B. S. U. is solely for the department of religious education.

What makes up the paper? The activities of individuals and group, the accomplishments of the students, interesting happenings in the various departments, announcements by our leaders, recognition of outstanding occasions, clever sayings heard on the campus, fashions exhibited by the students help to make the college paper. And all that includes the entire student body and faculty. Why, then does the college paper belong to the Department of Journalism?

It is the student's privilege, however, to make criticisms and offer suggestions for improvements. Contributions to the college paper may be brought to the staff. Above all, it should be remembered that the college paper is an all-campus activity; that it belongs to the student body as a whole and to no one department.

MOVIE PROGRAMS

By ERNEST PEYTON

Top attraction along Show Row this week-end is the personal appearance of filmdom's greatest portrayer of mistakes, Miss Sasu Pitts, she of the fluttery hands. Miss Pitts will be seen on the stage of the Worth Theater starting tomorrow and lasting through Tuesday in a highly entertaining stage show.

Peter B. Kyn's famous story "Valley of the Giants," has been screened and will be shown at the Worth this week-end with the presentation of Miss Pitts. Starring Wayne Morris and easy-to-look-at Claire Trevor, the picture is an outdoor one, filmed in Technicolor. The plot deals with the efforts of a few to prevent unscrupulous lumbermen from destroying the giant redwoods—the pride of California.

Who-o-o-o . . . those spooks are here again. They will make another of their annual appearances at the Parkway Theater tonight at 11:30 in a "Spook Show" and Halloween party. The picture, "The Bat Whispers," will be shown and various seasonal contests, including bobbing for apples, will be held.

The week-end attraction at the Parkway will star Robert Taylor, Maureen O'Sullivan and Frank Morgan in Taylor's latest and best effort, "The Crowd Roars." The story is that of a boy who rises from the slums to become a great boxer, and of his struggles to quit the "game" after accidentally killing his best friend in the ring. The resulting complications provide plenty of entertainment.

The following students may, by presenting some form of identification at the box office, receive two passes to the Parkway Theater. This offer is good for one week only.

Over at the Tivoli Theater this week-end will be lovely Loretta Young with Joel McCrea in "Three Blind Mice." This is the old story of three sisters, left penniless, who sell their home and attempt to find wealthy husbands for themselves. Of course true love conquers crass materialism and everybody is happy about the whole thing.

"Love Finds Andy Hardy" at the Majestic Theater this week-end in the fourth and best of the series of films depicting the life of the "Hardy" family. It stars Mickey Rooney, funnier than ever, Judy Garland, who is more beautiful, and that old standby, Lewis Stone. It's a comedy and provides plenty of amusing entertainment.

Dunlap Sings Ballads For English Classes

Wayne Dunlap sang English ballads for the sophomore English classes of Miss Mabel Major and Miss Lorraine Sherley Wednesday morning.

He was accompanied by Keith Mixson, who also made the arrangements for the songs.

The ballads were selected from Miss Major's collection of British ballads in Texas.

T.C.U. Students Attend Baptist Conference

Three T. C. U. students left Wednesday for the All-Southern Baptist Student Conference at Memphis, Tenn. Those attending are Miss Katharine Johnson, Miss Ruth Eleanor Storms, student secretary of the University Baptist Church B. S. U., and Tom Dixon. They will return some time Monday.

Miss Jean Lipps, social chairman of B. S. U., reports that the tentative date of Nov. 17 has been set for the next social. It will be either a wiener roast or steak fry at her home.

Do you know, that last year's loss to Baylor was the first a Meyer-coached Frog team ever suffered? ... that a Frog freshman eleven hasn't dropped a game on the grid to the Baylor Cubs since '34? ... that "Joe College," Baylor's Bruin mascot, tips the scale at nearly a quarter of a ton? ... that Davey O'Brien has a better passing record on yards gained this year than Sam Baugh did over an equal period his senior year? ... that Allie White missed the Frog train out of Kansas City going to Marquette and had to sprint a fast 100 yards to catch it? ... that Bob Cook tabs himself as "Fairfield's Favorite Son"? ... that Keith Guthrie, The Skiff's intramural reporter, called the Frog-Marquette score perfectly last week? ...

... that Baylor has upset the Frogs more than any other conference team? ... that the Christians and the Bears have one of the oldest feuds in this section, dating back to 1897? ... that the Bruins lead by a one game margin, 20 games won to 19 with five ties mixed up in the 44 brawls? ... that Baylor's head coach, Morley Jennings, is the Southwest Conference's oldest mentor in years of service, having been at the Bear's helm when other conference coaches were playing sandlot football? ...

... that Clifford Kellow, the Frogs' colorful guard, pedals a bicycle to work and back daily? ... that a photographer liked to have worn O'Brien out before Tuesday's practice, putting Davey through his paces for a full hour in an attempt to get different "shots" of the devastating Davey? ... that the Frogs may get one of the best high school gridders in the state in big Bill Ramsey of Breckenridge, who is reported headed this way? ... that Dutch Meyer played end on the only undefeated, untied football eleven in Frog history back almost two decades ago? ... that the closest approach a frog team has had to that record since then was the two great championship teams of 1929 and 1932—both tied a game but dropped none? ...

... that Dutch Meyer is a Waco boy and that Waco is the home of the Bears? ... that Billy Patterson, the Bear's big threat tomorrow, wanted to come to Froggie-land to get higher education and to exhibit his athletic prowess but that parental religious faith changed his mind and guided him to the Baptist institution? ... that Patterson and Charlie Williams, the fine Frog end, played together at Hillsboro High School? ... that Red Webster of the Dallas Dispatch-Journal picked S. M. U. to beat the Frogs and to win the conference championship? ... that we'd like to have some of that dough? ...

The Bears' weakest spot tomorrow is likely to be at center, according to reports. Letterman Hoyt Williams left the Aggie tilt with an injured leg, and Robert Nelson, burly sophomore pivot man, is still in bad shape with a foot infection. Probably at no other position could a Frog opponent be weakened so much as at center, what with O'Brien's passes and the team's power plays working. Good linebacking is necessary to hold those kind of plays, or even to make an attempt at it. With an inexperienced center in the game the Bears are due lots of misery.

J. Willard Ridings brought back word of an amusing incident from Milwaukee, in connection with the Frogs. It seems that a cartoonist of the Brewery City had an idea for a picture about the Marquette-Frog game which involved the drawing of a Horned Frog, but he had never seen one. Ridings had to show the artist a mounted Frog before he could sketch his idea. So enthused was the cartoonist that he took it in to his editor and asked him if he wanted to see a Horned Frog. "I'm from Dallas, why should I want to see one?" exclaimed the ed.

Frogs' Sights Set for Bear And Revenge

Boys Still Remember Their 6-to-0 Setback of Last Season.

No Squad Injuries

Reserve Strength May Be Deciding Factor in Contest Between Southwest Giants.

By BILL HAWORTH

For the first time this season the Frogs are really gunning for a team—the Baylor Bears whom they meet here tomorrow. Yes, they were gunning for the Aggies two weeks ago. In fact, they have been out hustling in every game this season. But tomorrow's conflict is the first this season for which the boys have been fired up to a really great height. The reason, you see, is because of a little matter that happened down at Waco last year. The story is best told in the fewest words: Baylor 6, Frogs 0.

Frogs Anxious for Revenge Every griddler on the squad remembers that defeat clearly. Mixed up in the brawl was a questionable piece of officiating at a crucial moment, if you remember, which doesn't help soften the attitude of Dutch Meyer's boys a bit. There isn't a Frog footballer who doesn't want to stomp those Bears "so bad he can taste it."

Now, that takes care of their mental frame, but what about physical condition?

Physical Shape Favors Frogs The Purple players stepped off of the train Monday morning safe and sound, none the worse physically from the Marquette game. The team is 100 per cent okay as far as injuries go, with the exception of a few minor ails and aches.

Baylor, on the other hand, took a terrific rocking and socking from the tough Texas Aggies last Saturday in holding them to a 6 to 6 draw. It is true, the Bears played a great game, and the Green and Gold line put up a magnificent performance in staving off Aggie rushes on the goal line, but the Baylor forwards left the field in bad shape.

Baylor's reserves are not as capable nor as plentiful as the Frogs' reserves. And going through the mill like they did last Saturday hurt them considerably. They are due for a letdown.

Baylor's line will probably be the deciding factor in the game. An analysis says it is due to crumple against the big Christian forward wall. If it does, the game might turn into a rout.

Patterson to Lead Bruin Attack Leading the Bruin attack, will, of course, be Billy Patterson, all-conference back last year and one of the nation's best this season. His chief cohort will be Sam Boyd, who undoubtedly is one of football's greatest ends.

Boyd turned in the greatest piece of end play against the Frogs last year that a Baylor wing ever exhibited, some say, and most of the Frogs will agree.

If the Patterson-Boyd passing combination is clicking the Bears can give the Purple lots of trouble tomorrow.

Coach Meyer will pit Davey O'Brien against Patterson, or against any other passer for that matter. Both are just about tops in the pigskin chinking business.

If the field is dry, the Frogs might do more running than is usual, especially if the Bruin line doesn't offer too much resistance.

Record Attendance Expected Needless to say, the game is the most important one played in the conference so far, as both Baylor and T. C. U. are the only undefeated elevens in this sector. The biggest crowd since last year's A. & M. game is expected—approximately 25,000. And if you think those Frogs aren't bent on taking Baylor tomorrow just say "Bear" to one of them and listen to him growl.

Folk-Lore Will Be Theme of Anglia's Programs

"Folk-lore" will be the theme of study for the Anglia Club this year, Miss Marjorie Sewalt, sponsor, has announced. The fall semester will be devoted to the study of the cowboy and the Negro.

One of the programs this semester will be a real production by Negroes at the City Recreation Building, according to Miss Sewalt. There will be two socials for the club this fall and two in the spring.

'Earn A Sweater; It's Very Easy,' Says Tom Prouse

Say fellows, how would you like to win a leather jacket? It is easy, says Prof. Tom Prouse, all you have to do in order to get one is just play.

These intramural jackets aren't a bad buy either, they are of the same grade the varsity men wear. Each year Prouse awards eight of these jackets to men who take part in all of the intramural sports. They are awarded according to a point system: the eight highest point winners of the year receive one.

Following is the point system by which the jackets are awarded:

Football 90, basketball 60, baseball 60, volleyball 30, handball (single) per match 10, track per event 10, golf per match 10, boxing per match 10, tennis singles per match 10, soccer 15, badminton per match 5, swimming per event 5, diving 5, fencing per match 5, tennis doubles per round 5, handball doubles 5, rifle marksmanship 2 1/2, ping pong 2 1/2, horseshoes singles 2 1/2, horseshoes doubles 1. For a winner of any event except a class championship, 10 extra points. Officials and scorers are allowed 10 points, providing they meet the test requirements.

Frosh, Cubs Battle Today

Improved Wogs Have Only One Injury—After 2nd Victory.

By CHARLIE GRAVES

Thirty-three T. C. U. Pollowogs and their coaches are in Waco today, preparing for their encounter with Baylor University's Cubs on Carroll Field. The freshman game between the two schools will be a fitting prelude to the tense excitement and rivalry already aroused.

Coaches Walter Roach and Ned James have devoted much of the past week to the improving of the Wogs' offense, and the boys should seem a different team from that which met the Weatherford Coyotes and squeezed out a five point victory recently.

"One Man Injured" Scrimmage with the varsity during the past several weeks has tended toward a few bruises and bumps for the frosh, but only one man will be definitely on the injured list Friday. He is "Beans" Browning, 190-pound right guard, who twisted a knee severely in last week's scuffles with the Frogs. However, Coach Roach reports that Browning could play if necessary.

There will be no new men in the starting lineup, as the same eleven who started in the first game will hold forth at their respective positions for this, the second tilt.

Reese at Quarter The forward wall will read as follows: Roach and Brumbaugh at ends; Everett and Adams at tackles; Lowden and Crawford at guards; and Nicks, center.

The Wogs will take signals from Danny Reese at quarterback, and Nolan Sparks and Dave Wofford will be in the secondary. Big Frank Krings will start at the fullback slot.

The first-year men won their first encounter of the season, a 12 to 7 triumph over the Weatherford Junior College Coyotes. Last year, the Pollowogs defeated the Bear Cubs by a count of 7-to-6 here at LaGrave Field.

Sophs Remain 'Tops' In Intramural Play

Freshman Team Beats Juniors for First Victory—Now Tied With Seniors.

A desperate last-minute pass with the score 19-18 in favor of the Juniors set the stage for first victory of the season for the Frosh. With just 45 seconds to play the Freshmen got the ball on the 50-yard line and in three plays they had carried it across the pay line. The final score, 24-19.

This victory brought the Frosh into a tie with the Seniors for third place. The defeated eleven put up a strong fight all the way paced by Bob Parker, W. F. Rankin and Eulis Hill.

The high-g geared Sophomore machine moved still farther into the lead of the intramural race with a smashing 39 to 12 victory over the Seniors. The Sophs, paced by Malven Stevenson who lugged the leather across the double strip three times, Harry Withers and Robert Groselose had little difficulty in scoring almost every time they got the ball.

'Top' Scribes Like O'Brien

Milwaukee Fans Amazed at Ease With Which Frogs Cross Pay Line.

"A 150-pound Dead Eye Dick, Davey O'Brien, pitched Texas Christian to three touchdowns and a 21 to 0 victory over an outclassed Hill-top team here Saturday."

This was the way one Milwaukee sports scribe summed up the Frog victory over the Golden Avalanche last week. It was another case of O'Brien's lethal leather tossing—impossible to stop, as most Frog opponents will agree.

All Milwaukee was buzzing about the ease with which the Frogs downed Marquette after the game. It took the Christians exactly 12 minutes to prove why they are undefeated and untied. In business-like, machine-like fashion, the big Frogs took the ball the first time it came into their possession and marched down the field to score.

O'Brien tosses seven passes in the first quarter—completed all of them. That's passing with a capital 'P'.

Second Team Plays Half of Game After rolling up two touchdowns, the first string came out and the second team went in and played the second and third quarters. The fourth saw the big first team come back in, to shove over another score with apparent nonchalance.

Ward Wilkinson and Pat Clifford, two of the Frog seniors who have not seen much action this year, really turned in great games against the Hilltoppers.

Wilkinson picked up some nice yardage from his fullback post, averaging 3.5 yards per carry. Clifford played a great defensive game, intercepting Marquette passes at the right time all afternoon. "Red Dog" also averaged 4.1 yards per carry which is not bad at all.

Clark Averages 10.8 Per Try Earl Clark continued to stamp himself as one of the best backs in the Southwest by doing a dazzling bit of open field running before and after snagging O'Brien's touchdown toss to him. He also had the best yard, average of the day, 10.8, and that's real ball toting.

By keeping his lads under wraps Coach Dutch Meyer has the eleven in tip top shape for the Baylor Bears here tomorrow. And besides that, as one Milwaukee scribe said, "We saw enough of that first team in the opening quarter!"

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Swing, Colored Version, For Student Steppers

By FRANCES TAYLOR

The new dance manager seems to be living up to his promise of different orchestras to play for the school dances. Boots and his Buddies, scheduled for Saturday night, may not be a big name in the Benny Goodman sense of the word, but at least it's a stab at something different.

Boots and his 14 Buddies are a colored band with a reputation for both hot and sweet swing. But, of course, we'll miss our Dictators who will be playing at the regular week-end dance at the Casino.

Incidentally the new Dictator song-bird, Evelyn Woodley, is going over in a big way with the flat-foot-floogies at the different dances. We saw her in a new white slipper-satin evening dress the other night. Take it from us, she could croak like a raven and still go over. She looked that good. What's more, she can sing too.

BEAUTY NOTES: Ampersand, senior girls' society, is advocating the idea that beauty in the stands will go far toward winning a game. We don't know about the effect of beauty on the Frogs, but it surely does add to the stands to see the flower-bedecked coeds yelling for the team.

Ampersand girls will sell chrysanthemums in the halls Saturday, to bring about the scene of smiling faces above huge white mums. They want everybody to know that the 50 cents asked for the flowers is just half the price you usually have to pay.

The flowers will have wrapped stems and will be tied with purple ribbon. You may place your orders with Misses Martha Cell Graves, Dorothy Jordan, Frances Porterfield or Virginia Barkley. There will also be someone at the desk in the main hall Saturday to remind you to buy your best girl a posy. In fact, if sales go over as well as it is hoped, you will look positively undressed without a flower in your button-hole.

WHO'S WHOOEY: She is a striking brunette. Likes to wear black and everybody agrees with her about it. Speaks like an English major, which she is. Wears her little brother's sweater at times that keeps people asking who "he" is. Stands out in a crowd. Occasionally models for downtown department stores. Name—Miss Katherine O'Gara.

Phi Sigma Iota Initiates 8

Eight new members were initiated into Phi Sigma Iota, foreign language society, last Thursday night at a meeting of the club held in the Men's Lounge.

Those initiated were: Misses Jewel McCaul, Wynette Story, Jane Berry, Rebecca McCoy, Virginia Simons, Mary Ellen Owen, Frances Harris and Mary Louise Craven.

This year the Society will meet the first Monday of every month. Miss Katherine O'Gara will be hostess at the next meeting.

Bookstore Staff Is Entertained

Miss Laura Shelton entertained the members of the bookstore staff with a Mexican dinner at her apartment last Friday night.

The dinner was served at quartet tables decorated to carry out the Mexican theme.

Members and guests attending were: Misses Dorothy Fox, Bertie Jane Henderson, Clara Lee Jones, Alma Lowther, Rebecca McCoy, Doris Roberts, Ora Shelton, Oleta Steinmetz and the hostess; Chester Coltharp, Leon England, Eugene Haley.

Ampersand to Hold Fourth Coffee

Plans for the fourth in a series of coffees for transfer students were made by members of Ampersand at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Gayle Scott, sponsor, Monday morning.

The coffee will be given at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the parlors of Jarvis Hall.

Plans were also made for selling chrysanthemums for the T. C. U.—Baylor game Saturday.

Dramatic Club Adds 11 Members

Eleven new members were taken into the Dramatic Club last Tuesday night at a meeting in the Brite College Room.

The new members are: Charles Cope, and Misses Margaret Holcomb, Earline Beck, Mary Helen Lancaster, Betty Putnam, Elizabeth Johnston, Peggy Johnston, Pat Shannon, Cornelle Webster, Dorothy Lynn Sears and Nauty Byrd Pelphrey.

Tryouts for new members will be continued Wednesday, Nov. 2.

Los Hidalgos Initiates 21 New Members

To the accompaniment of soft music and candle light, 21 new members were initiated into Los Hidalgos Wednesday night.

Those who performed the initiation ceremony included Misses Virginia Simons, Loretta Houtchens, and Frances Chandler, and Eugene Haley and Lon Davis, president.

The following are new members: Misses Patricia Ann Pearson, Jean Ely, Vivian Bell, Helen Farrington, Beryl Wallace, Mildred Strong, Louise King, Wanda F. Lindley, Margaret Duncan, Berta Henderson, Josephine Eaton, Jeanne Burkett, Elois Ellis, Helen Hudgins, and Josephine Williams; Charles Amyx, Jack Phenix, James Duncan, Joe Wallis, Wilbur Mendel, and Charles Cope.

Bryson Club to Have Hallowe'en Party

The Bryson Club will have a Hallowe'en party at 8 o'clock Monday night at Dante's Inferno on Camp Bowie Boulevard.

All members are allowed to bring two guests who will be admitted by cards which can be gotten from Miss Hazel Smith.

"This party will be informal," Russell Williams, president, says, "and we want everyone to wear exactly what he wants to."

There will be transportation for the members and their guests.

Brigham Representatives To Attend 3 Affairs

Miss Ann Cole and Miss Dorothy Nell Godley will represent the Brigham Studio Music Club at the "True Art's" program to be presented tonight.

Miss Cole and Douglas Martin will also represent the club when they sing before the Harmony Club at its Reciprocity Program to be given Wednesday night at the Elks Club.

Mrs. Young Brigham is attending the District Convention of Federated Clubs in Mineral Wells today and tomorrow.

Hallowe'en Party to Be At Christian Church

The Meliorist Club and the All-College Sunday School Class will have a Hallowe'en party at 8 o'clock Monday night at the University Christian Church.

All members and their guests are invited to attend.

Gibson Girls' Party Attended by 69

Nine Freshman Boys Suspended From T. C. U.

Nine freshman boys were suspended from T. C. U. for the remaining part of the fall semester, yesterday after a meeting of the Student Government Committee.

The penalty will be withheld pending good behavior on the part of the boys. Also the nine boys have been deprived of the right to attend the Baylor game here tomorrow. The reason for their suspension was the escapade that occurred last Monday night in the painting of the Baylor campus.

Should the boys go to the game tomorrow, the suspension will be made permanent. When the committee announced its decision they also said, "These or any other students making like excursions will be suspended from school and the sentence enforced without delay."

"The committee plans to ask the Student Council to take such action as it deems fitting in cooperating with Baylor University student body to bring about a higher type of athletic rivalry."

Music Club Renamed In Honor of Macmillen

The Music Club has been renamed the Francis Macmillen Club in honor of the distinguished violin virtuoso. Wayne Dunlap was elected president at the first meeting of the club last week. Other officers are: vice-president, Jimmy Petty; secretary-treasurer, Miss Eileen Gillis; publicity manager, Julius Winkler.

The club will meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays of every month.

Col. Easley, 1890 Grad, Is Pecan Growers' Head

Here's another T. C. U. success story.

In 1890 A. C. Easley, now Col. Easley of Waco, took his B. A. degree from the old Add-Ran College at Thorp Spring. In 1893 he received his M. A., and for many years following, was bursar of the school and also head of the College of Business.

When the school was moved from Waco to Fort Worth, Col. Easley stayed there and went into the pecan business. He has recently been elected president of the National Pecan Growers Association.

He is also one of the Horned Frogs' most enthusiastic rooters, and will be here for the game Saturday.

Miss Evelyn McCoy, a student in T. C. U. last year, will be married at her home in Port Arthur to Charles Ingalls Nov. 6.

"Check Everything but the Chesterfields"

You'll find smokers everywhere keeping Chesterfields with them all day long. They add to your pleasure when you're on the job and when you take a night off.

It takes good things to make a good product. That's why we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have—mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper—to make Chesterfield the cigarette that smokers say is milder and better-tasting.

They Satisfy . . . with MORE PLEASURE for millions
