VIEWS 'N VIEWPOINTS

By Dr. John Lord

Fortunately for you and me, the editor of The Skiff has limited this article to approximately five hundred words...

In his 18 years as a member of the faculty of this institution, the writer has had occasion to witness a tremendous expansion and development in every phase of our University life...

In 1920 there was a total enrollment in the College of Arts and Sciences of 546-286 men and 260 women. Last year in the College of Arts and Sciences alone there were enrolled 2037 students...

Best of all, our expansion and growth have been recognized. Now and then the writer is asked about the standing of our institution in the educational world...

If "a man's reach should exceed his grasp," the same should be true of a university. To this end Texas Christian University is denoted. Past expansion and present achievement are but a challenge to patrons...

When I am asked by patrons and students what Texas Christian University needs most at present, I invariably answer a science building. It is my hope that the next step in our expansion program along physical lines will be a large, well equipped building to house all our science departments...

In my opinion, Texas Christian University has almost unlimited possibilities to expand, progress and make an ever increasing contribution to the service of mankind. It is your task and mine to carry forward this expansive life, and we shall do so as we sense the place of education in the promotion of human culture.

Sunday Morning Sermon Is 'The Incarnate Word'

The topic of the Rev. Perry Gresham's sermon Sunday morning will be "The Incarnate Word." John Hays, soloist, will sing Mendelssohn's "It Is Enough," from the Oratorio "Elijah."

The Music Study Club of Fort Worth, directed by Arthur Faguy-Cote will present the evening service. It will be a sacred Christmas program of choral music.

Footballers Dance Free Tomorrow

Student Council to Honor Frog Squad for Being Rated Nation's No. 1 Team.

Ike Silvers to Play

'Usual Admission of 65 cents Will Be Charged for Couples and Stags,' Says 'Jew' Gideon.

Another honor for the Fighting Frogs!

As a salute from the Student Council and from the entire student body, the Council voted Tuesday night to honor all members of the varsity football squad with a big dance in the Basketball Gymnasium tomorrow night.

"This is just an effort to show the boys how we feel about them," said Student President Guy Daniel.

So, all members of the nation's No. 1 football team and their "dates" will be admitted free to the dance tomorrow night.

Music for the "Gridiron Hop" will be furnished by Ike Silvers and his orchestra from Dallas, Dance Manager Leroy Gideon has announced, and will start at 9 o'clock.

"We are going to charge the usual price of 65 cents a couple and stag," Gideon says, "for everyone but the players. We are hoping to have one of the largest dance crowds of the year—to prove to the team that we are for them all the way."

T. C. U. to Present 4th Broadcast

The University will broadcast its fourth intercollegiate program over WBAP from 9:30 to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning featuring a short talk by Dean Colby Hall, and the T. C. U. Women's Choral Club.

W. J. Marsh, director of the choral club, has written a number, "Tyrolienne," and dedicated it to that group. It will be played for the first time on this program.

A girls' trio, composed of Misses Jeanette Hopkins, Evelyn Woodley and Laura Jones, will sing. Chadwick Vandervort and Misses Hopkins and Betty Magoffin, who make up the T. C. U. string trio, will play.

The program will originate from the campus broadcasting studio, with Prof. Claude Sammis announcing.

Frosh Social Offers Various Amusement

Hayride, Picnic and Dance Are Entertainment Features of First-Year Class.

The freshman class will have a hayride, picnic and dance tonight starting at 6 o'clock. The class will meet in the Basketball Gymnasium and go from there on trucks covered with hay to the home of A. M. Pate in Glen Garden Addition, where the picnic and dance will be staged.

The charge will be 25 cents per person and the entertainment is exclusively for freshmen.

"We are expecting this to be one of our biggest occasions of the year and invite you to come after paying your quarter to either Miss Ethel Cheatham, Miss Mildred Smith, Paul Nelson, Selwin Browning or me," says Bonnie Westbrook, president of the class.

7 of Faculty to Attend Biblical Society Meeting

Seven faculty members will attend a meeting Dec. 27 of the Southwestern Society of Biblical Study and Research at Trinity University in Waxahachie.

They are Professors F. E. Billington, W. C. Morro, past president, S. W. Hutton, Clinton Lockhart, W. V. Roosa, the Rev. Perry E. Gresham and Dean Colby D. Hall, corresponding secretary.

The society is composed of Biblical scholars who report each year on topics of research in which they have been engaged. Dr. Morro will read a paper at the meeting.

Named in 'Who's Who'

These 15 T. C. U. students have been named in the 1938-39 edition of 'Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.' A biography of each will appear in the publication. Landon Colquitt and Kenneth Hay are the only "repeaters" among the group, having made last year's edition.

Concert Band Sells Tickets

Group Pushes Plans to Present First Program of Series Wednesday.

The first concert of the annual series given by the Horned Frog Concert Band will be next Wednesday. The program will be presented in the Auditorium at 8 p. m.

Each concert will follow a definite type of music. The first half will consist of serious music, and the second half will be devoted to modern music and will be entitled, "Backstage With the Horned Frog Band."

The lighter part of the program will be in the form of a broadcast with the band presenting skits of the type that the members give over the radio. This part of the program has been added this year so that the audience may benefit from the concerts without being students of serious music.

Ticket sales will begin Friday. A ticket for the entire series of five concerts is $1, the admission for a single concert is 25 cents. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the band.

Collection of Etchings To Go on Exhibit Here

A group of prints, including etchings and lithographs, will go on exhibit Monday in the art galleries and will remain up for the balance of December.

The prints, from the American College Society of Print Collectors, will be augmented by some of Prof. S. P. Ziegler's etchings. The exhibit will contain works of leading etchers of today.

Sunday School, Traps Suggested for 'Rats'

What would you suggest as a solution of the campus rat problem? Answers to this question ranged all the way from violence to George Cherryhomes' idea of a Sunday school class to change their attitudes.

Jack Reedy favors calling the parents, and this falling, taking a club to them. Miss Minnie Ursula Frank also suggests parental co-operation as the most effective treatment. Miss Josephine Carrell advises having a few arrests made "to put a scare into them." Spanking is Miss Dandy Holte's remedy.

Miss Tommy Gracey says, "We should have someone whose official duty it is to question the presence of anyone under age found on the campus and to send trespassers off if they have no purpose here." Marcella Bus thinks all children will have to be excluded from the grounds so there will be no doubt as to what can

Tuesday Deadline For Bowl Ducats

All students must purchase their tickets to the Sugar Bowl game by next Tuesday night.

This warning was issued this week by Athletic Director Howard Grubbs.

"After Tuesday the tickets will be sold to the public," he said.

The section in which the students will sit is located between the goal line and the 12-yard line, it was announced. Price of the tickets is $3.50.

Colquitt to Try For Scholarship

Landon Colquitt has been invited to appear Tuesday before the Rhodes Scholarship committee for a personal interview at Rice Institute in Houston.

Entrants not eliminated by the interviews will then compete in examinations to determine the final candidate from this region for the scholarship to Oxford University. Colquitt is a Fort Worth senior.

Lucky One of 3 Will Go and See Sugar Bowl Free

Now is the time for all good T. C. U. students to come to the help of their three coeds featured in the Miss Goodfellow contest at the Worth Theater.

The three girls from T. C. U. who have been selected to enter the contest are Misses Betty Davison, Elaine Garrison and Evelyn Woodley. The contest is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The girl winning the title of "Miss Goodfellow" will be presented with a free trip to the Sugar Bowl. There are 14 entries in all.

The first contest is only the elimination; it will be held tonight. Three winners from tonight's contest will enter the finals to be held at the Worth Theater Midnight Frolic Dec. 19.

The winner will also receive tickets for an escort to the game.

The winner of the contest last year was Miss Martha Cecil Graves. The prize was a diamond dinner ring.

More Honors Go to Frogs

Lions Club, Worth Theater and The Press to Give 2 Annual Parties.

And still more honors come to the Frogs!

During the next few days the Frog squad and coaches will be the honorees at two annual events—the Fort Worth Press-Worth Theater party tomorrow night and the Lions Club Frog Day Tuesday.

In addition to the entire team and the coaches, the Horned Frog Band and the pep leaders will be on hand for the theater party at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Worth. Pop Boone will preside over the program and gifts will be presented to the Purple and White players.

The Lions Club event will be a luncheon for the Frogs at noon Tuesday in the Crystal Ballroom of the Texas Hotel. They will also present the team with gifts.

'Fairy' Ball Plans Made

'Magic Mirror' to Be Used in Presenting Popularity Candidates.

Carrying out the fairy tale motif, Miss Frances Taylor, Horned Frog editor, has announced that the Basketball Gymnasium will be decorated across the back and the south side in white scenery with murals for the Cinderella Ball Dec. 17.

The popularity candidates will be presented from a white fairy tale book, and the escorts will meet the girls at the edge of the book. A large "magic mirror" will be used to introduce the girls.

The "Dictators" will play for the presentation which will be at 9:30 o'clock a week from tomorrow night. Miss Beth Lea, Joseph Ashley and George Loudon are doing the art work for the scenery, under the direction of Miss Taylor.

New Hours Are Arranged For WSA Swimming Class

W. S. A. swimming class has been changed from 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoons to 3 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, Miss Eloise Ellis, manager, reports. The swimming club will now meet in conjunction with Mrs. Kay Spearman's swimming class.

Miss Ellis says that any girls in Mrs. Spearman's class who are not registered for W. S. A. swimming and would like to join may do so by paying their dollar dues to Mrs. Spearman. It is not too late to get credit in the club.

Regular members of the swimming club may meet on either Tuesday or Thursday or on both days.

Miss Buster To Be 'Maid' At 'Bowl Ball'

Frances Receives 238 Votes Out of 297 Cast in 'All-Campus' Election.

Ball to Be Jan. 1

Misses Lady Katrine Fine, Jean Lipps Are Nominated in Voting With Miss Fine in 2nd Place.

Frances Buster

There is no doubt whom T. C. U. students want to represent them at the Sugar Bowl Ball the night of Jan. 1.

Wednesday they named Miss Frances Buster as their selection by an overwhelming majority. She will act as "Maid of Honor" to the "Queen" of the ball, who has not been named yet.

The Fort Worth junior received 238 of the total 297 votes cast in Wednesday's election. Miss Lady Katrine Fine and Miss Jean Lipps trailed, with Miss Fine in second place.

The ball will be held in New Orleans Municipal Auditorium Sunday Jan. 1, with coeds from many southern colleges and universities acting as maids of honor in the queen's court.

Miss Buster, as T. C. U.'s representative will be provided with a seat at the Frog-Carnegie Tech gridiron battle and to all other sports events on the Sugar Bowl Classic's calendar, according to Irwin Poche, member of the executive board of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association. The Sugar Bowl Ball will be a glamorous affair, similar to the carnival affairs for which New Orleans is noted. Poche says, a floor show and other feature attractions will be presented with the crowning of the queen as the climax of the evening.

Lest We Forget

DURING this period of hero worship through which T. C. U. is passing, it is evident that the students may forget those "other" men who are essential to the moulding of a championship football team.

Giving credit where it is due is worthy, and David O'Brien, I. B. Hale and Ki Aldrich certainly deserve it, but, we should realize that without some 20 or 30 other men, the efforts of these three would have gone for naught.

Davey, Ki and I. B. are the first to point out their teammates as essential factors. It took some 40 or more men to make the Frogs a championship unit.

Down on the practice field these unsung heroes labored from day to day, some of them realizing that their work would go unheralded. These boys had many a word of encouragement for those men ahead of them, and took many a knock and bruise in order to show the No. 1 team the way other elevens ran their plays.

On Saturday, the public saw the work of only a few. If this same crowd had visited the practice field during the week, they might have seen the cogs which made that Purple machine function, in the form of 20 or 30 other men sweating and working.

Lest we forget, the Horned Frog championship belongs to a squad of more than 40 players.

Let's Do Something!

Memo: To: The Administration and the student body of Texas Christian University. Subject: "Campus rats."

Gentlemen: The situation has been mentioned and discussed several times in these columns, but, as yet, nothing has been done.

There is no doubt among clear-thinking individuals on the campus that the depredations and destruction of campus property by these "rats" must be stopped. Such unlawful actions as breaking into the Gymnasium, the destruction of property and such slightly less serious, although more annoying, things as playing games in Britte College and roller-skating in the dormitories, have been condemned before. But nothing has been done.

Among the suggestions that have been made to remedy the situation is a most sensible one. It might not be practical to employ a 24-hour watchman and police service on the campus, but a little co-operation from students and faculty alike would go a long way.

The Skiff suggests that students and faculty members make an effort to learn the names of the intruders who daily, or occasionally, invade the campus; then give the names to some member of the administration who would call the parents of the trespassers and inform them of their children's actions.

It would be possible to make the parents realize that their children were making nuisances of themselves without being harsh or in any way making "enemies of the university."

So The Skiff says: "Why isn't something done?"

This campus has the No. 1 football team of the nation, the No. 1 individual player of the nation, the "Outstanding Citizen" of Fort Worth for 1938, and the No. 1 Men's Glee Club of the state. T. C. U. is "tops"!

Duke University Blue Devils—"Stand In" team for the Texas Christian Horned Frogs in the Rose Bowl.

Lethargy

The old American academic idea behind a college education was preparation for future participation in life. The modern conception is action—participation in world affairs while you are being educated.

Look at student participation in South America, Cuba, Mexico, the Argentine. Look at the youth movement in Europe. Students in Russian universities do constructive work in the formation of the national policy. They have an intense interest in the labor problem, nationally and internationally.

The lethargy of Southern and Southwest campuses on national affairs is appalling. It involves not only disinterest but ignorance of what is happening outside of the campus life. Nonchalantly, the American student allows himself to be "prepared" for future action.

Three years ago the Texas University school paper erroneously attacked the Colorado River project then under way at Austin. The statement was retracted, but the paper was placed under a state censorship. The mandate obviously was a case of restriction of freedom of the press. The excuse was: The Texan is a student publication.

In short, when the American student body boldly steps from his cocoon of lethargy, he is effectively stuffed in again. Prepare for life, says the state. Prepare, say the professors. Action is unseemly for a student in America. Education is subjective, not objective.

I'm An Upperclassman

Usta's was the time that the "frosh" ran away with the elections no matter what the issue was. Second in line were the sophomores with their lackadical attitude on the campus.

Wednesday, when the students were all a dither to know who was the lucky one to make the trip to New Orleans as "Miss T. C. U." 297 votes were cast with the Seniors and juniors being greatly outnumbered.

Hats off to the two "voting classes" in T. C. U.

If it weren't for you, T. C. U. would be without sufferage on election days, but would "suffer" plenty.

This Odd World

Hitler Is News

Hitler and Germany dominated the news of 1938 just as they dominated affairs in Europe. At least that is the opinion of students in the department of journalism.

These students, asked by Prof. J. Willard Ridings, to select the "Ten Best Stories of 1938," decided that Hitler's actions made the top three stories of the year.

Altogether, the students nominated 37 stories in their lists of the "Best Ten," indicating that 1938 has been a year of important news breaks.

The Hitler stories—ranking one, two, three—were: The Munich Pact, the annexation of Austria, and the persecution of the Jews.

Big news breaks that polled heavily in the voting but failed to find a place in the first 10 included such items as the new U. S. Defense plan, Los Angeles flood, labor troubles in France, Pan-American Conference, California forest fires, wage-hour law, C. I. O.-A. F. of L. labor war, civil war in Spain, and others.

The students' "Ten Best" list, with typical comment, is as follows:

- 1.—Munich Pact. The Czech crisis could have (and may yet) involve the whole world in another war. A new balance of power and a new map of Europe.
- 2.—Hitler's Annexation of Austria. The greatest territorial conquest, without resort to arms, of modern times. Hitler's "trial balloon."
- 3.—Hitler's Persecution of the Jews. One of the most appalling instances of intolerance in history. Interest appeal involves American love of fair play and equal opportunity, as well as instinctive sympathy for the under dog.
- 4.—Japanese War on China. A slaughtering conquest that also finds Americans on the side of the under dog. World trade repercussions will be far-reaching if Japan succeeds. For one thing, it may spell the doom of the American cotton farmer.
- 5.—Corrigan's "Wrong Way" Flight to Ireland. The American public loves daredevil adventure and practical jokes. When the two are combined they make page 1 headlines for weeks.
- 6.—New England Storm. The major disaster of 1938 in the U. S.
- 7.—Howard Hughes' Flight Around the World. A great and daring piece of work for the advancement of aviation.
- 8.—Roosevelt's Purge and the Elections. Government and politics have been steadily increasing in news value. The President's participation made this year's elections top news.
- 9.—Mexican Seizure of Foreign Oil Properties. Economic interests, diplomatic relations with a neighboring country, and European entanglements (because of Mexican oil sales abroad) are all involved here.
- 10.—"Men From Mars" Radio Broadcast. A revealing incident as to the state of nerves in this country. Real terror combined with ludicrous incidents. The most unusual page 1 story of the year.

Around and About

Remember at the first of the year when we mentioned the SOPHOMORE GIRLS in school who only last year were cute little helpless FRSHMEN? Add to their ranks LOUISE FLACK. Still as cute as ever, it's somewhat ironical that she should lose out to a freshman of this year's crop, JACK HERRING, the HILLSBORO HURRICANE, has given her the gentle go-by in preference to "STEVE" STEVENSON—(no, we mean, little Steve).

Word drifted to this column that THE SKIFF doesn't have complete campus coverage. One lad is a dashing junior this year, and his name has never appeared in the pages of this worthy publication. So, ladies and gentlemen (and SKIFF READERS), we give you the ENNIS ENCHILADA—one hundred and twenty pounds of muscle and massacre. BATTLING BENTON BEASLEY.

Personal nomination for prompt extinction: the COLLEGE BOYS, who originated all this "SOMEWHAT" stuff, and that nauseating, ultra-debonair off-hand manner of speech that has every spineless male in the school trying to emulate it. (You know, it's hard to talk like that.)

Lost—to the stage—one of the greatest (probably the only) jumbie-bug teams in T. C. U.'s history: BILL DOUGLAS and MARY HARDING DILLIN. Deciding that the publicity they were receiving from their efforts was unsavory, to say the least, they have renounced the show business. Now, we didn't say they were dopes, or anything, did we?

The adorable JIM NICOL—the same one HELEN HALE wanted so badly to meet last year—seems to be doing all the good at JARVIS this year. BETTY GILES is the frau he rings down. Incidentally, if you want to laugh, get PETE BECKER's views on the extensive courtin' activities carried on around here by the PREACHERS. Which reminds us, it's been a long time since anyone noticed PETE'S ENORMOUS SHOULDERS—we mean publicly. Watch the girls' heads turn when he drifts by.

And mo-o-ore lads and lassies have been seen stompin' at the Den in recent weeks. Down to help the SHERLEY HOUSE coeds and their dates celebrate last Friday were PRISCILLA BOYD, VERNON LEWIS, DANDY HOLT and PAULA MURCHISON, with a couple of outsiders, ELAINE GARRISON, BOB MEASKY, the usual STAN WILSON and CHRISTINE SMITH, plus KILE MISER and JANE MANNING, BILL EWELL, HELEN FARRINGTON, not to mention the one and only "FOOTS" WHITE with BECKY TAYLOR (they were amongst those from Sherley). Yes, 'twas quite a party Mrs. Cox gave her girls.

And will someone please tell ELIZABETH ANN JORDAN that it really isn't polite to ask the boys not to date other gals just because they won't ask her? Tch, tch, and a couple o' pishes.

Did you hear about the fireman's dream coming true early in the week? There was a great deal of confusion and running about down at Gibson when something started blazing. 'Tis said that ANN GOODNER (who, by the way, has a birthday Wednesday week) was a little slow waking up.

Speaking of Gibson, what, oh what were LOUISE KOST and ELIZABETH BISER doing out on the roof of that respectable house at the unearthly hour of 11 p. m. last Monday? Most amazin'.

Girls in 'Outside Dorms' Begin Christmas Season

Miss Jessie Van Horn and Miss Ora Shelton are the first to open the Christmas season in the outside dorms, by decorating a Christmas tree and putting it in the window of their room in Sterling Cottage. Following suit, Miss Louise Kost and Miss Vineta Worthington in Gibson Cottage have hung tiny Christmas wreaths in their windows.

A lighted wreath is in the parlor window of Sherley Cottage.

By BILL HAWORTH

THE all-American teams are flowing in fast and furious now, and O'Brien, Aldrich and Hale are being mentioned on most of them. The trio of great football talent is being feted and honored on every hand. It is well, for if any three players ever deserved praise they certainly do. They have been the mainsprings in one of the greatest gridiron machines the nation has ever seen.

Aside from this mighty threesome, however, there are eight other stalwarts who make up the Frog team, and who are as individually responsible for the success of the 1938 Purple football edition as they. It's time for Looney, Horner, White, Kline, Taylor, Clark, Sparks and

SPARKS

Hall to step forward and take their bow. Each is great in his own right. Let's start with ends. Looney and Horner made up the finest end combination in the conference for 1938. There is very little to choose between these two sterling flankers. Both are fine pass receivers and great defensive men. Their blocking gets the job done.

Then take Allie White at tackle—and we'll take him any day. Allie was responsible many times this fall for the fine showing of the Frog right end on defense. He stripped the ball carrier of blockers in the S. M. U. game many times and Looney followed through by making the tackle.

WHITE

The Frog guards, "Bushes" Kline and Bud Taylor, were veritable rocks in the middle of the big Christian line. Opponents gained a amazingly few yards through the center of that line.

KLINE

Credit Bud and Bushes. And did you notice that Bud made Paul Mickelson's all-American eleven? Mickelson is one of Associated Press's ace scribes.

B. TAYLOR

In the backfield the terrific blocking and tackling and the hard-running of Earl Clark, the line smashing of Connie Sparks and the all-around play of Johnny Hall were all vital factors in the mightiness of the nation's No. 1 team.

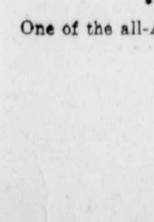

CLARK

To this writer's mind, the most important element in the Frogs' success this year, even more than Davy's phenomenal passing and field generalship or Ki's workhorse defensive labors was cohesion — teamwork or the ability to work as a unit. This year's eleven has been described the nearest thing to a football "machine" that ever hit a gridiron. That's exactly what it was — a machine with 11 parts.

King Football Is Dethroned By Basketball

Purple Coggers Take On Denton Teachers in First Non-Conference Game.

6 Lettermen Return

Judy Truelson Will Have Charge of Basketball Team Until After Sugar Bowl Game Jan. 2.

By BILL HAWORTH Football is still the topic of the times on the Christian campus, but the Frog basketball five will try to wedge its way in the sport limelight tonight when it opens the season with the North Texas State Teachers College in Denton.

The Frog coggers have been working out for about four weeks now, although members of the football team weren't able to start regular practice until last week.

The Denton crew is usually tough for the Frogs, especially early in the season, and a close tussle is expected. Neither team can be put in the favorite's role because little is known about either. The Frogs are definitely an unknown quantity this year. Whether their replacements from last year's freshman group and the return of six lettermen will improve them is debatable.

Purple to be Improved Coach Mike Brumbelow thinks the Purple will make a much better showing this year over last season's outfit, which finished last in the conference chase.

Last Thursday night, against Wolf & Klar's local team, the Frogs looked ragged at times, flashed good form in other spots. The Purple got the best of the scrimmage but no score was kept.

Brumbelow had Capt. Slim Mabry, Woodrow Duckworth, Jack Reedy, Brad Snodgrass, all lettermen, and Robert Groseclose, soph, running on his first five. The combination worked better than any other Mike put on the floor, and, with the exception of Snodgrass, will probably open against the Teachers tonight.

SNODGRASS

Snodgrass, the blond Amarillo ace, was suspended this semester because of his secret marriage, and will not be eligible until mid-year. Jack Billingsley, lanky soph, will probably sub for Snodgrass.

While Brumbelow was away the early part of this week on the New York sojourn, Judy Truelson, Frog ex and all-around athlete, has had charge of basketball. Truelson will take the team to Oklahoma City for the tournament there during the holidays.

Tonight's tilt in Denton will be the first of three scheduled affairs before the tournament opens. Tuesday night the team will journey to Commerce for a go with the East Texas State Teachers College. The Commerce lads will return the visit here the following Tuesday, Dec. 20.

will probably not receive as much publicity as those picked by the big news services and press associations but which is, nevertheless, a fairly-picked team, is the one released by Bob Kunkel, sports editor of radio station KYSM in Minneapolis. Kunkel's team is selected by sports editors of student publications the nation over. O'Brien and Aldrich made the team with ease and Hale missed the first team by a single vote! Wolf of Santa Clara beat Insall Bailey out by the narrowest of margins at the tackle post.

With the S. M. U.-Rice game last Saturday, in which the Owls upset the Ponies, the Southwest Conference football season officially closed for another year. Final scoring records reveal some interesting facts . . . for probably the first time in history the backfield of a single team, the Frogs, led the conference in point-making man for man . . . Sparks, O'Brien, Clark and Hall standing in that order . . . Of the 97 points after touchdowns kicked all year by all conference teams O'Brien kicked 28, almost a third of the entire total.

Eighty-four players broke into the scoring column and rolled up 975 points in the season's games . . . four field goals, probably the lowest number in modern conference history, were kicked this year . . . and the Frogs for the first time in five years did not kick a field goal . . . The Meyermen had 13 players who scored this year . . . six of the 13 were linemen, ends Looney, Horner, Williams and Ehlers and guard Fred Sheek and center Lefty Alexander.

'Southern Hospitality' Shown Trio in Big City

"I never ate so much in my life!" "I'm spoiled forever now!" "Airplane riding isn't so bad!"

Monday night, the party's first in New York, Davey and the rest visited night clubs galore and other places of interest. Casa Manana, Greenwich Village, Jim Kelley's and others were viewed with all of the glamor of a Big City welcome as a background. Celebrities were constantly crowding about the Frogs.

At the Downtown Athletic Club's banquet, at which the trophy was awarded, the little Frog quarterback sat next to United States Postmaster General Jim Farley. Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia accompanied him about the city personally Tuesday afternoon.

Davey said the only money he spent on the trip was at the beginning of the trip when he tipped the porter getting on the plane and when he tipped said porter upon alighting. Everything was on the house during the entire trip.

The only disagreeable thing about the whole affair was the thought of returning to classes after such a glorious two days. "Now we've got to start thinking about books," the three footballers agreed, "and Carnegie Tech," they hastily added.

Big Interest Shown In Gloves Tourney

Many Entrants to Start Early Training to Lose Weight for Boxing Affair.

T. C. U. will be well represented in Fort Worth's annual Golden Gloves tourney this year if the present interest in boxing holds up, according to Prof. Tom Prouse.

Prouse reports that even at this early date numerous boys have contacted him about the coming boxing matches held each year on the campus in connection with the annual Intramural Open House.

Interest is so keen that boys are doing their "daily dozens" in an effort to work off that surplus weight in order to be able "to fight that fellow who whipped me last year."

The complete weight lists that will prevail in the campus boxing matches are:

- Heavyweight — 180 up
- Light-heavy — 165-180
- Middleweight — 150-165
- Welterweight — 135-150
- Lightweight — 125-135
- Featherweight — up to 125

Resting S. W. Champions To "Hit the Ball" Dec. 15

"Hi ho, hi ho, it's back to work we go," is the theme song of the Horned Frogs as they prepare to go back into training for the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans, Jan. 2.

The boys are rarin' and anxious to get back to the daily grind, almost to a man. The few days of rest have served to make them restless and keen upon the subject of practice.

"We will only have about 15 days of practice, and after this two weeks' lay-off, both offense and defense will need polishing," commented Earl Clark.

Forrest Kline, adds: "We are meeting a team that is ranked in the first 10 of the nation, and that should make us want to be ready."

For Woodrow Duckworth and Mac Best, the holidays have been work days, as both boys have practiced daily on the maple court with the Frog basketeers. However, both of them speak enthusiastically of the coming "labor days."

A few of the boys will go back to the practice field with some reluctance, as the holidays have given them time to taste of evenings "under the covers in slumber," or of interesting pastimes.

However, the squad as a whole will overcome once more the preparation licks which must be put in.

"If we don't have to start out too strenuously and run a whole lot, everything will be fine," sighed Charlie Williams.

Weekly T. C. U. Broadcast Will Be News Program

The T. C. U. string trio will furnish the musical portion of the program.

Gift Problem Analyzed For Despairing Lovers

Since Santa Claus comes but once a year, we want to dedicate this column to him this week. Probably the most helpful thing for you busy collegians would be a list of gift suggestions. Here's a contribution to a cause that should solve your Christmas problems.

To the gentlemen: If you've about decided to give up in despair and break up your thriving friendship until after the holidays are safely over, don't. Give her perfume. The only catch to such a gift is that it must suit her personality.

Is she gay and full of fun? Give her perfume that has spice. Is she thoughtful, moody, grave? Then it must be a scent that is warm and deep and subtle. Does she like the outdoors, working in the garden? She'd like blended, flowery scents.

Is she young and very dear? Springlike flower mixtures should please her. Is she tall and very chic? There's gardenia or carnation. Has she favorite flowers or colors? Does she lean towards facts or poetry? Does she go in for red nails, crazy hats, curly hair-do's, careful make-up?

Then there are big, showy bottles for a mirrored dressing-table, plainer bottles with an atomizer for spraying. Or one she can carry for easy reference, a smaller bottle for her purse. The whole point is: give her perfume.

If you want to be different and present a gift to brag about, how is this for a complicated gadget? It's a monogrammed bracelet with a concealed clasp. You lift one portion and a tiny mirror and powder puff is revealed. On one side is a watch, on the other a lipstick. The trouble will not start until the bill comes in.

To the coeds: Your problem is easy. Just buy a tie, any color, shape or design. Polka dots are always good. He's bound to think you have good taste and point it out with pride to his friends.

The next best thing is a book of poetry. We won't suggest any titles, because you know your man, but there's no point in giving him poems on horses or taxidermy.

Then there are studs, cuff-links, waistcoat buttons, pins, tie-clips and suspenders with gold-plated fittings. And just to be snazzy, you might try a fitted dressing case, on which it would be a good idea to leave the price tag.

If there are any special problems which the above does not solve, this department will be glad to offer suggestions. However, we will not answer for the consequences.
