This campus has quite a distinction, it seems to me, in that it has an organization which has been labeled "communist" and which has not as yet been investigated by one Mr. Dies. Probably if one of Mr. Dies' spies ever got into a T. C. U. "discussion group," he got so involved himself in the discussion that little evidence was gathered. The Student Christian Association has never quite claimed for itself the name of "Student Communist Association," but can hardly be surprised at anything it might be called.

Bull sessions and midnight arguments have long been an acknowledged part of university life. But this idea of semi-civilized bull sessions has taken a quick and deep root here. Two years ago there was only one group on the campus; today there are seven. And it is no wonder. Besides being informative, the exchange of individual ideas is almost a basic desire. Some call it "blowing off steam," and it is undeniable that much hot air is given off at S. C. A. meetings.

An educated person is, almost without exception, a tolerant person. At discussion group meetings one certainly gains respect for the other fellow's point of view. I might say in passing that these opinions may be widely divergent ones, for all kinds of students make up the meetings—conservatives and liberals and radicals; capitalists and socialists and pacifists. There is much questioning of old ideas in the nip-and-tuck of discussion, and (though nobody will admit it) many new ideas are formed.

Freshmen are the most numerous and perhaps the most loyal members. It is quite appreciated, I'm sure, to have someone to go where you look into a ring of friendly faces and may criticize the upperclassmen to your heart's content. I'm positive this is a minor consideration, however. Freshman discussion groups have proved a means of helping ease the strain of adjustment to college life. That looks very prosaic as it's written down, but I know no better way to express it. Many sophomores will say their "discussion group" meant more to them than any other single factor of their freshman year.

Behind these meetings is a band of hardy faculty members who open their homes and make friends of all who come. Not enough could be written in their praise. Chiefly by example, they give to the groups an inspiration and upward lift. The two who have worked the hardest for the whole idea are Mr. and Mrs. Sherer—she, who has fed waffles and scrambled eggs to hundreds of students, and he, who always has a word of good cheer. To them falls not only the distinction of being among the most beloved of faculty members, but also of giving to many students wider horizons and ideas of a better way of life.

I've often thought there was nothing so stated in the catalog, "integrating personality," but no other thought can quite express what the S. C. A. accomplishes—it is a grand way to help make "integrated personalities."

Christmas Holidays Start At 1 P. M. Wednesday

The Christmas holidays will be held as stated in the catalog, starting at 1 p. m. Wednesday, according to Dean Colby D. Hall.

"Double cuts will be charged for all absences Tuesday and Wednesday and students should weigh the values to see if the need for leaving early is worth more than the effect the cuts will have on their grades," the dean says.

George Cherryholmes, B.D. '39, visited the campus Saturday.

Dream Show Of Frogland Coming True

Some People Laughed When Told "Broadway Production" to Be Staged.

C. of C. Is "Angel"

3-Day Run Is Scheduled for Revue. Feb. 20-22—Erle Powell Is Aiding "Boss" Stan Wilson.

By FLOYD McROBERTS

A dream is coming true on the Frogland campus. Many people laughed when a few students stated there would be a Varsity Show this year, with all of the trimmings of a Broadway production.

These several students have been dreaming of such a venture for the past three years. Most of them are seniors, and they want to see such an all-college show inaugurated before they graduate. They needed money and they got it.

The campus Chamber of Commerce is acting as angel of the revue.

The music of George Campbell, with lyrics by Troy Douthitt, was played over the Campus Varieties radio program, and some of the tunes were highly acclaimed by listeners.

Stanley Wilson, senior class president and producer of the show, has set the date for the revue. It will run for three nights, starting Feb. 20 and running through Feb. 22.

Wilson is being assisted in the producer's role by Erle Powell. John Goodspeed, Hal Gardner and Pat Steele have written the script. Roy Duncan of the C. of C. is purchasing agent. Bill Patton is business manager.

More than 100 students will be used in the show, and not half that many have been selected. Miss Laura Jones is taking applications for roles in the women's side of the Gymnasium.

Band Will Give Final Broadcast

The last program of the 1939 series of "Backstage With the Horned Frog Band" will be broadcast at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night.

The final program will feature an arrangement of "I Can't Give You Anything but Love," by Ed Loe. It will also include the "Bach Chorale," the finale from Hayden's "Military Symphony," "Great Gate of Kiev," "Fugue Modernistic," "Cypress Silhouette" and "His Honor March."

Director Don Gillis says that the Band will play for the first home basketball game with N. T. S. T. C. Monday night.

Broadcast, at New Time, To Have Mixed Chorus

The T. C. U. Variety Hour next Tuesday night will be broadcast over KFJZ from 8:30 to 9 p. m., instead of the regular time 9 to 9:30 p. m.

Guest speaker on the program will be Marvin D. Evans. Also on the program will be music by the Mixed Chorus under the direction of Prof. W. J. Marsh.

The broadcast will include the regular sports talk and campus gossip.

This will be the last program until Jan. 9, Prof. Claude Sammis reports.

Waits, Hall See President Of Texas U. Inaugurated

"A great occasion" was the way President E. M. Waits expressed the inauguration of Homer Price Rainey as president of the University of Texas as Saturday in Austin.

President Waits was among the 47 college presidents present. He took part in the procession and attended the dinner following the ceremonies.

Dean Colby D. Hall also made the trip, representing Transylvania University.

Mrs. Artemisia Bryson spoke on "Modern Poetry" last week to the Sorosis Club at the Woman's Club.

Christmas Comes But Once a Year; But Birthday Too!

Having birthday candles and Christmas presents on the same day seems to be a good idea. At least, five students in T. C. U. who do have a birthday on Christmas Day approve of the doubling up.

"I think it's grand," says Miss Berta Jane Henderson. "Everybody feels so sorry for me they make doubly sure I get plenty of gifts."

"I wouldn't have my Christmas birthday changed if I could," insists John Collier. "It's all right with me for Santa Claus and my parents to submit gifts at the same time."

Persons who develop a stomach ache on a mere Christmas dinner may wonder how one survives a double-header celebration.

"I get twice as many gifts and have twice as large a celebration," reports Miss Mary Ray, but fails to tell how she feels the day after.

"I'd rather have my birthday on Dec. 25 than on Dec. 24 or Dec. 26," Miss Bobbie Davidson points out. "That would be just too early or just too late. As it is, I usually get two sets of presents."

But having a Christmas birthday may present a few disadvantages. For instance:

"It sure is funny to wake up Christmas morning with someone spanking you!" observes Don Wilson.

Choral Clubs Will Present Chapel Songs

Christmas Selections Will Be Featured Monday—Program Moved Up.

Bagley Gets Trophy

Award Given by Exchange Club to "Most Popular Wog" Is to Be Annual Affair.

Featuring Christmas musical selections, the Men's Glee Club and the Women's Choral group will present the program in chapel Monday.

The date has been moved up two days this week because of the holidays which start Wednesday.

Last week's program featured the band playing nine numbers, including three songs concerning T. C. U.—"The Horned Frogs on Parade," "For the Glory of T. C. U." and "The War Song."

Another feature was the presentation, for the first time, of the Exchange Club trophy, to be given each fall to the most popular Wog football player, to Dean Bagley by Frank Fillingim, president of the club.

George Saam, secretary-treasurer, and Freshman Coach Walter Roach were also present.

Lubbock Exes Are Organized

With 19 exes present, and Alumni Secretary Kenneth Hay presiding, a branch of the Ex-Students' Association was organized Monday in Lubbock.

Officers elected were Judge J. A. Raley, president; E. J. Lowrey, vice-president, and Mrs. E. L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer.

Committees were appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws and to make arrangements for another meeting within 60 days.

Included in the organization are seven ex-students now attending Texas Tech.

FFF Will Debate Team From NTSTC Monday

Members of the F. F. F. will have a series of debates with teams from North Texas State Teachers' College, Denton, at 4:30 p. m. Monday here.

The group engaged in a practice tournament with San Marcos State Teachers' College in San Marcos Friday and Saturday, represented by Rufus Whitley, Arthur Norred, George Stroud and Joe Day. They debated the Pi Kappa Delta question.

The organization, sponsored by Dr. Allen True will have a Christmas party at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home of George Stroud, 3132 Odessa Street.

Charity Dance Funds Buy 42 Goodfellow Tickets

Forty-two tickets to the annual Goodfellows Frolic to be held tonight on the stage of the Worth Theater were purchased with proceeds from the charity dance sponsored by the T. C. U. Chamber of Commerce last Saturday night.

The proceeds totaled $42, according to Dance Manager Jim Nicol's report. The Chamber decided to buy the tickets and give them to the University's representative in the Goodfellow contest tonight, Miss Elaine Garrison. She will distribute them among her friends.

Whitley, Fine Are Elected For National Assembly

Rufus Whitley and Doyle Fine, members of the F. F. F., have been elected by the Lower Mississippi Province to represent this territory at a national student assembly to be held this spring at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville. Four others from this territory will attend.

The purpose of the convention is to ascertain student opinion on various problems of national significance. It is held in conjunction with the Pi Kappa Delta meet.

Choral Clubs Will Present Chapel Songs

Christmas Selections Will Be Featured Monday—Program Moved Up.

Meliorist Has 75 Members

Club Offers Devotional, Educational, Fellowship Programs Each Week.

"Life's not all bad, not all good." This sums up the philosophy, as well as interprets the name, of one of the largest organizations on the campus—the Meliorist Club.

Boasting a membership of between 70 and 80 members, the club is composed of both town and dormitory students. There are no requirements for membership and any one who cares may attend any of the meetings, which are held each Sunday night at the University Christian Church.

Program Divided Into 3 Periods

"We really have three different periods on the program for each meeting. The first part of the program is a devotional and inspirational period, followed by an educational or entertainment period. We usually conclude the meetings with a good fellowship period," says Dick Clayborne, president.

Speakers are brought before the group, and such subjects as personality development and social trends are discussed with the members. Dr. A. L. Porterfield has appeared before the organization this year in such a discussion.

Social Meetings Are Frequent

Besides constructive and discussion meetings, the club entertains frequently in conjunction with the socials of the All-College Sunday School Class. A Halloween party and a Christmas party are the main social activities of the fall semester.

"The organization offers a well-balanced program for all students who are interested in applying religious principles to all phases of life," says the Rev. Perry E. Gresham, sponsor of the club.

Miss Evelyn Watkins, ex-president, says the Meliorists "strive to combine their efforts for fellowship and instruction, and to learn to take into consideration the other person's opinion."

Officers of the club for this year include: President, Dick Clayborne; vice-president, Don Ver Duin; and secretary-treasurer, Miss Irene Arnold.

Prof. F. W. Hogan Is Ill In Methodist Hospital

All classes of Prof. F. W. Hogan have been suspended as a result of his illness in Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital, however, labs will continue to be held.

Prof. Hogan is expected to resume his duties after the Christmas holidays.

Wars Abroad Dominate 10 Best Stories of 1939

"There shall be wars and rumors of wars" might be taken as the text for the news columns of 1939 as evaluated by the students in the department of journalism.

Seven of the stories rated by the students as the "Ten Best of 1939" have to do, directly or indirectly, with the fighting in Europe.

The war between Germany and England and France rated almost a unanimous first choice as THE story of the year. No student placed it lower than second.

The three non-war stories placed among the first 10 included the visit of England's royal couple to America, the "New Deal Thanksgiving" and the death of Pope Pius XI.

Big news breaks were so plentiful during 1939 that 32 stories were nominated for inclusion in the first 10.

Among those that just missed being included were the stories of the attempted assassination of Hitler, the financial scandals in Louisiana, the Dies Committee investigations, the Chino-Japanese war, the "mystery"

Council to Elect Delegate to Meet

A student delegate will be elected to represent Frogland at the annual convention of the National Student Federation of America that will be in session Dec. 27 to 31 at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, at a meeting of the Student Council at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

The representative will be chosen by the Council and will probably be a member of that body. He or she will have all expenses paid by the Council.

Student welfare, government and other subjects concerning student life in general will be discussed at the conclave.

S. C. A. Leads Basket Giving

Food and Toys to Be Given by 36 Clubs—Groups Plan Parties.

Forty-two Christmas baskets will be delivered to needy families over the city Monday and Tuesday by various campus organizations, in connection with the Student Christian Association "Fill a Basket" campaign.

Gifts of food, clothing and toys have been donated by members of 36 clubs as well as six groups of the S. C. A. The social service group of the club is in charge of this activity, with Chester Gleason serving as general chairman.

Several groups of the S. C. A. are planning to have Christmas parties this week. Tonight a group will meet at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Whitman, 2517 Shirley Street, for an informal party. Members will exchange small gifts, play games and have refreshments. Several new members will be initiated.

Another party will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Pendleton, 2916 Princeton Street. After gifts have been exchanged, the group will deliver their basket.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Mundhenke will entertain their group at 7 p. m. Tuesday, when members will deliver the basket they have filled.

The group sponsored by Prof. and Mrs. C. R. Sherer discussed religion at their meeting last Tuesday. The Rev. Bert Helm of St. John's Evangelical Church was discussion leader.

The social service workers' last meeting was devoted to distributing the families who are being helped to the campus organizations.

Armadillo Eaters Are Still Feeling Hale and Hearty

Armadillo a la king! Well, not quite that fancy—but, "It was meat, anyway." So says Dan Jarvis and James Roberts.

The animal was captured by E. R. Boren in his back yard and given to Dr. Willis Hewatt, who, after having his office wrecked on two successive nights by the animal's escape, gave it to Dr. J. Clark Street.

After several hours on the dissecting table under the knife of Dr. Street the animal was again passed on to the boys, who ended "Arnold's" career for good.

The rest of the meal consisted of buns and lots and lots of salt. Both boys were present at classes the following day.

The Rev. and Mrs. Gus Ramage of Waxahachie visited their daughter, Margaret, Monday.

Bringing old clothes and food for the needy, the sophomore class met last night at the Landreth Lodge on Eagle Mountain Lake, for a Klondike party.

A large number of guests took part in the dancing and games under the direction of Miss Betty Davidson, who had charge of the music, and Kenneth Griffith, game chairman.

'39 'Beauties' To Take Bow In 10th Ball

12 Favorites, With Escorts, to Be Introduced at 9 Tomorrow Night.

Scene Is Changed

Woman's Club Is New Location of Presentation—Misses Connor, Buster in 4th Revue.

By HELEN RUTH VERHEYDEN

For the tenth time in the history of the school, 12 lovely coeds will step into the limelight at the Horned Frog Presentation Ball to be held at 9 p. m. tomorrow at the Woman's Club.

The Revue originated in 1930, when it was known as the Horned Frog Style Show and was held in the Auditorium. The girls modeled evening gowns furnished by downtown department stores. Intermission at the affair was filled by a clog dance and a feminine impersonation presented by two husky boys from Goode Hall.

In 1932 it was a Beauty Revue; in 1933 it was a Popularity Revue, presented on a flower-decked stage representative of a garden. Formal gowns and tuxedos were modeled by the girls and their escorts, and a two-act dancing feature added spice to

"I've just bought a new tuxedo and a pair of shoes for the occasion," says the master of ceremonies for the Horned Frog Presentation Ball, Homer Tomlinson, A.B. '17.

Noted for his wit and humor, Tomlinson will be remembered by students for his numerous after-dinner speeches, radio lectures and pep talks at student rallies. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, vice-president of the All-Church Press and is active in many downtown political and business organizations.

When asked about his appearance as master of ceremonies he said, "I'm going to wear those new shoes—isn't that proof of my love for my alma mater?"

The Revue made its Basketball Gymnasium debut in 1934, when for the first time the presentation was followed by a "strictly formal free dance." Since then it has been held in the same place.

The sixth annual revue was known as the Greater Horned Frog Revue, and last year it was called the Cinderella Ball, complete with a large fairy tale book and a magic mirror.

1st Time Off Campus

This year marks the first time the "presentation" has been held off the campus, and the Woman's Club has been well-groomed for the event. Fern, smilax and mistletoe mixed with hundreds of flowers will decorate the club and stage where the girls will appear. Jimmy Petty's Orchestra will play. Homer Tomlinson will be master of ceremonies. The price will be 65 cents a couple.

Homegoing Time

Wednesday is not Homecoming time to the Alma Mater but rather homegoing time to the Mater. Or is it?

It is no sin to kiss mother a fond hello and to give dad a brisk handshake. Even the little members of the family would enjoy some recognition when you arrive in all your Yuletide splendor. It might not be bad at all to spend at least a couple of evenings at home, just talking to the family. They are terribly interested in you, interested enough to spend plenty of money to keep you in school and bring you home at vacation time—to breeze around in the family car, sport your newest "University slang," and talk about the football team A. & M. has this year.

Why not be just a little bit different when you are home this time, and show your folks you really appreciate and love them? Don't let them be among the parents of returning collegians who say, "I think son or daughter must be back from college; the car hasn't been in the garage since Wednesday afternoon."

Sex Goes to College

Some students jokingly refer to T. C. U. as Texas Courting University and say they are majoring in campusology. Modern college students are naturally interested in social hygiene, and there is a need here for sex education to prepare them for the life they are about to enter.

Twelve years ago at the University of North Carolina such a course was added to the curriculum, at the request of students. Since that time more than 225 colleges and universities in the United States have installed similar courses. Such courses are not merely "bull sessions" presented in a classroom manner; they deal with such practical subjects as courtship, choice of a husband or wife, engagement, finances, birth control and marital adjustments, and not with mere sociological theories.

T. C. U. has no such course. Instead, the students "study" campusology—which is all right, but not of much value in preparing for a successful married life. The Administration may realize the need for a social hygiene course and provide one. Quicker action might be realized through a Student Council petition to the proper authorities. In the meantime, T. C. U. students make their jokes about Texas Courting University while real sex education remains a taboo subject.

From the Front

Dear Mother:
Things are getting a little worse now that Christmas is drawing near; I haven't slept more than one or two hours a night in several weeks. I almost drop off to sleep when there is a barrage of firing from across the way that makes me jump to my feet. Sometimes an aerial bomb plummets to earth from somewhere above to burst only a few yards from me.

Something just screamed by me a few minutes ago and ended with a loud bang a little way off. I didn't see it, just heard it. Remember what dad used to say about the last war?—"There is only one that you don't hear and that's the one that doesn't go by you."

I have been fairly safe by sticking to quarters, but yesterday they got my buddy. He seems to have pulled through without serious physical injuries but I know he will never be the same after this ordeal.

I will be glad to get home, if I ever do. If I come through o.k., I'll always be nervous. Why does this have to happen? There are so many of us here who don't deserve such a fate. We want to make something of ourselves in this world.

Well, there's not much else to say. I'll sure be glad to get home but I don't know what I'll do if these guys here in the dorm don't stop shooting firecrackers day and night.

Your Son at T. C. U.

Needed One Brain Cell

How would you like a few more rules to put in your book of "Do's and Don'ts"?

Most regulations are made because the majority of persons are too thoughtless or too careless to think for themselves. That's the reason the Administration is going to be forced to solve one of our problems for us.

We're talking about the speedway back of the campus. The Skiff has warned, lectured and preached against the dangers of speed and careless parking, but to no avail. Faculty members and the Student Council have discussed the situation, but the Administration has hesitated to block the street because of the traffic complications that would result.

So the speedway dangers remain. Why? Because the average student is too lazy and indifferent to ease up on the accelerator or to walk the few extra yards from the parking lot, instead of leaving his car in the middle of the street.

A little co-operation would solve the problem; but, no, the student had rather be inconvenienced by having the roadway blocked than to exercise the one brain cell that would cure the situation—without any more rules.

Christmas, 1939

Big guns seem to be drowning out the carols in war-torn Europe today and Dec. 25 "over there" will find homes broken by strife.

Today in a land of holly and mistletoe, toys and warm clothes, we have only to feel a generous impulse and spend a few dollars to bring the Christmas spirit by giving to the needy; but Europe's money, like its freedom, is so red-taped and supervised that any burst of generosity must fall on barren soil.

Europeans today are thankful to be alive—Americans are thankful not to be Europeans.

However, in this "much gifted" country of ours we too often forget others. Too often we make commands: "I want this and by all means that." While in Europe you will hear, "I want something to eat and—peace."

Santa Claus will soon be dropping down chimneys, bringing happiness to hundreds of boys and girls—but hundreds of others may be passed up by this bearded gentleman.

Let's enjoy a merry American Christmas. Make it a birthday for all the unfortunate on the most famous birthday of the year!

Who's Got the Books?

"I thought this was supposed to be the Library. It is? I'd never have been able to tell it. I can't even get a reserve book. Seven copies of the book I want on reserve, and not a one in the Library.

"Why don't you do something about it? Why don't you fine 'em? Who do they think they are? We have to study too, don't we? Huh? You DO fine 'em? Well, it must not be much.

"What? Do you really fine the guys that much? Why, the book's not worth that much. Why in the world do they take books when it's going to cost them that much money? I'd rather just use the book here.

"You must not let 'em know how much the fine is. You tell them? Well, you'll have to do something else. Why don't you take their Library privileges away from them? When I have a test over this book, I want a book to study. I don't care how much fine they pay when I flunk the test anyway.

"What? You're right I'll tell 'em. They aren't the only ones who have to study."

A Religious Campus

Religion on this campus plays an important part in every day life. The school is maintained with religious purposes in mind and the faculty is selected from those wishing to share the religious ideals which are basically T. C. U.

Rev. Perry Gresham, leader of much religious activity on the campus, believes that there is a larger percentage in proportion to the size who are interested in church work than in the general population of Fort Worth.

With the interest of the students at heart, various organizations have been formed to create a feeling of brotherhood between different denominations as well as to improve the student in his particular field of belief. Students should take advantage of these opportunities.

The faculty does not dwell extensively on this subject of religion in itself but attempts to connect it with all subjects.

Religion is not that we go to church on Sunday but that it becomes a part of us—in the classrooms, in the dormitory, at home.

Night of Glamour!

It has a touch of magic to separate it from the other "Big Events" of the year.

The girls you've known all year in their anklets, oxfords and sweater-shirt combinations, will blossom forth swathed in net and gauze and silver brocade. There'll be flowers and veils and soft music. There'll be your usual sport-shirt boy-friends dressed within an inch of their lives, a little nervous at the attention they'll receive. There'll be a master of ceremonies—surprising combination of dignity and wit, of poise and humor. There'll be proud mothers and fathers on the sidelines, beaming.

Through it all there will be a little something different to make this Horned Frog Presentation Ball linger in the memory of all.

Around and About

Since the regular writer of this column is at home getting ready for the wild holidays and the editor of this rag is in bed with the "D. T.'s," it falls to the rest of the journalism department to continue. So here goes!

Last seen of EARLE CLARK, after he had taken LOUISE DUNAWAY to Sterling, he was leaving the dormitory with a blanket under his arm. It wasn't very cold that night, either.

Here's three of a kind. No one has found exactly what kind, but PAT STEEL, HAL GARDNER and JOHN GOODSPEED are going around with that "I Own the Campus" air. Maybe the fact that they are the big script writers of the Varsity Show has gone to their heads.

There's no maybe to the fact that being arranger of the musical part of the show has made GEORGE CAMPBELL rise in the air, he even announces himself as the assistant director of the show when he makes reports in class.

One wonders what goes on in the stage of the Auditorium on a quiet, dark night when the curtains are drawn. GLORIA SADLER and MARJORIE STEVENSON were supposedly practicing a song the other night but with JOE RUSSO and TROY DOUTHIT around, one wonders.

Incidentally, BOB "PUDGY" SIKES has started going steady and he really has a wow. Her name is ZILA MANKINS, and although she doesn't go to T. C. U. she is still well known on the campus. She's about BOB's size too, weighing in the neighborhood of 175.

And speaking of wondering, it is a puzzle (or is it?) why BETTY SEATON had to go home so early after the Los Hidalgos party Wednesday. TOM TAULBEE, her date, wonders too.

Christmas has hit the campus early for two Frog coeds. Could it be the band on that certain finger that is causing all the sick look from MARGARET HARRIS AND ADALE REIGER. Also in the near-future stage is MILDRED SMITH.

It seems as if the new flames couldn't satisfy that certain longing because the BUSINESS MANAGER of the campus rag has gone back to the original. Is it true, SUE HAZEN?

"Los Pastores" Discussed By Miss Eloise Ellis

A paper on "Los Pastores" and a discussion of opportunities for American students in France were featured at the regular meeting of Phi Sigma Iota Tuesday at the home of Miss Bita May Hall.

"Los Pastores" was discussed by Miss Eloise Ellis.

Howard Griffin, who has been in Paris for the last few years and studied at the University of Paris, spoke about his experiences in France. Jimmy McGalliard, vice-president, was in charge of the program.

Money Need Of Students Starts Skiff

Ed S. McKinney of Amarillo Began Paper in Waco As Freshman.

First Issued in 1902

"Rowing, Not Drifting" Was Motto in Beginning 32 Years Ago—Rival Was Baylor Lariat.

"Rowing, Not Drifting" was the motto that appeared on the first Skiff a little over 37 years ago. It was born Sept. 19, 1902, at Texas Christian University, then located at Waco.

Its originator and the first man on the staff was Ed S. McKinney, now a life insurance salesman in Amarillo. The Skiff was born of necessity. It was the enterprise that took McKinney through his college days. In 1902 he landed in Waco with a small leather hand bag, $13 in his pocket, and a strong determination to have a college education no matter what the price.

Gets Idea From Legend McKinney got his idea for The Skiff from Jason who rode the good ship Argo in quest of the golden fleece. McKinney, too, was in quest of the "sheepskin," a college diploma. He decided that The Skiff could be his dreamboat which would take him to that final goal. On its sides he painted the motto, "Rowing, Not Drifting," one he had found would work earlier in life.

With this dream well in hand, he submitted the idea to the faculty, which was then headed by President E. V. Zollers. To his surprise, it was met with hearty approval, but all were fearful that the enterprise could not last long. It is here that The Skiff first began to help. T. C. U. allowed McKinney his tuition, room and board for advertising the school. Subscriptions sold for 25 cents, and at one time there were 900 on the mailing list.

Baylor Lariat Is Rival The Skiff's greatest rival in its early days was the Baylor Lariat.

The policy of The Skiff first set forth in the first issue has been maintained almost perfectly since that date.

"Do business through merit, not pity; give honor to whom honor is due and grovel in the dust for none. Its efforts will be to keep the different departments and classes in touch with each other; to keep alive the interest in athletics; and to keep the college spirit at a white heat." The first six-page paper appeared in 1908. The largest issue of The Skiff ever to appear was on June 3, 1923, when The Skiff celebrated T. C. U.'s golden anniversary with a 32-page edition.

Religious Education Class Hears Talk by Meacham

W. A. Meacham, assistant superintendent of the Fort Worth public schools, addressed Registrar S. W. Hutton's class in "Religious Education" last Friday on "The Program for Superintending and Administering the Public Schools."

After the lecture, an open forum was held.

Students Stay Up, Check Books Out, Jot Themes Down

From The History of Lipstick "to Aeschylus' "Agamemnon Trilogy"—thus run the topics for the timely research papers.

The Library is crowded. Bewildered freshmen and all-too-wise upper-classmen roam the building. The desk is merely a nucleus around which flock a score of worried collegians. Everyone has suddenly turned book-worm!

Librarians are confronted with countless questions, both tragic and amusing.

"What shall my term theme be?"

"Show me that red book I used yesterday!"

"You'll just have to take this off reserve for me!"

"Find that, please. I must study it during the holidays!"

"How do we make a bibliography?"

"Is this the way to take notes?"

"Imagine having to do this all by myself!"

Proof of term theme efforts are evident. Saturday, December 9 there were 93 reserve books issued. The highest total to date of 2-week books was Tuesday, December 5, when 273 books found their way from the hallowed walls to cluttered desks of industrious theme writers.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

(The Skiff welcomes comment from its readers. No unsigned letters will be printed but the writer's name will be withheld from print upon request. Mail or give letters to the editor.)

Dear Editor: T. C. U., being a Christian university should love and strive to obtain truth from its students. Perhaps the administration is unaware that its action regarding girls smoking is engendering falsehood from every side.

Five years ago a rule forbidding young ladies to smoke would have been respected by both students and parents but at present such a rule is out of place for the social world has accepted the fact that young women will smoke if they so desire.

Girls are not, as a rule, breaking the smoking ban simply because they want to be bad but simply because they enjoy and desire to smoke just as much as the young men and it does them just as little harm.—M. R.

Dear Editor: The Skiff certainly should be praised for publishing an official student directory with an issue of the paper. The directory is so complete and handy, too.

This is just too wonderful, having a free personal copy of the student directory when last year there was only one battered copy to a dormitory and office unless we forked over some cash.

I know I am speaking for the majority of the student body when I say, "Thanks for giving us all a free student directory."

V. W.

Dear Editor: What I want is a little consideration! I've struggled all this fall to exist in spite of the fact that every day about 1200 students walk over me and grind me in the dirt.

I try very hard to do my bit toward making T. C. U.'s campus attractive, but the students DON'T do theirs.

Every afternoon from 15 to 30 boys play football on top of me in front of the boys' dormitories. But that isn't all. The girls do their part in tramping the campus to go to the drug store or to go to Brite College from the Administration Building.

What is that field for south of the Gymnasium? Why can't the boys get their exercise there? What are the walks for around the campus? Why can't the girls, as well as the boys, walk on them, instead of wearing paths across the campus that look like old short cuts across the pasture from the farm house to the brook?

If the students don't care about the way the campus looks, maybe they can be prevailed upon to give me a chance to come up in this world.

Hopefully,

2 Bucks to Do Honors At Miss O'Fiel's Party

Venison will be the main course served at a dinner party to be given by Miss Betty O'Fiel at her home, 1108 Fifth Avenue, at 2 p. m. Sunday. Two eight point bucks killed in Mexico by Miss O'Fiel's father will do the honors.

Names were drawn and gifts will be exchanged among the following, Misses Elaine Maxwell, Marjorie Chumbley, Nadine Messic, Lillie Mae Richter, Wanda Robbins, Mint Oliver, Lois Puckett and Dorothy House.

Freshman Can Lecture On Art Or Architecture

She studies architecture, poetry and painting and still has time left to horseback ride, skeet shoot and practice archery. The girl with these widely differing interests is Miss Patricia Caldwell, freshman from Oklahoma City.

"I have always been interested in art and writing, particularly poetry," Miss Caldwell says in explaining her more-than-usual knowledge of these subjects. "I have definite ideas on what I like and dislike, but of course, these are merely personal opinions."

Miss Caldwell has been interested in architecture and stained glass for several years, and has studied them enough to speak with a certain amount of authority. For Oklahoma and Texas, she suggests Tudor or Georgian architecture as being the most suitable.

"Personally, I like an adaptation of Southern Colonial, but the growth in Fort Worth is hardly lush enough to permit proper landscaping," she points out. "I consider the impressive Gothic and the personal South-

Alpha Phi Omega Survey Reveals 18 Have Highest Rank in Order.

There are 18 students on the campus who have obtained the highest rank in scouting, according to a survey taken last week among the men students by the Alpha Phi Omega, honorary service fraternity recently formed on the campus.

Out of 114 scouts and scouters who registered at the fraternity booth, 18 had obtained the rank of "Eagle Scout," many having been honored with palms, the highest honor within the ranks of the Boy Scouts of America. Of this group of "Eagles," 13 are still active in scout work.

The two scoutmasters are Prof. A. L. Crouch and C. L. Collins, senior from Cleburne. Crouch has been in scouting work for 13 years. Collins, scoutmaster of Troop 248, Cleburne, has had 11 years experience in scouting and is quartermaster in the Sea Scouts. Dick Isaacs, freshman from Gaylord, Mich., is the assistant scoutmaster of his troop in his home town and is honorary scoutmaster of Camp Haley, summer camp in Michigan.

The complete list of "Eagles" who registered at the A. P. O. booth are: Tom Barber, Monroe Bicknell, E. R. Boren, Jr., Walter Beck, Fred Cruseman, Collins, Crouch, Bill Douglas, Frank Groat, Isaacs, Wayne Knipe, Bill Parker, James Robinson, Edward Rizer, Hal Siros, Walter Spilsbury, Homer Tally and Don Wilson.

The complete survey showed the enrollment of 16 "Life," 11 "Star," 23 "First Class," 25 "Second Class" and 17 "Tenderfoot Scouts" in T. C. U. This includes 13 members of the Sea Scouts.

ley Wilson and she will appear to "Blue Orchids." She is a brunette and is a member of the Science Club and the Bryson Club. She is majoring in biology.

Miss Elwyn Espy, blonde senior, from Longview, will be escorted by Bob Johnston to the tune of "Running Through My Mind." She is majoring in elementary education and is a member of the Bryson Club.

Miss Helen Connor has been beauty queen for four years. She is a senior brunette from Fort Worth, will be escorted by Bud Taylor, has selected "My Prayer" as her favorite tune. She is majoring in journalism and is a member of the Bryson Club, the Dana Press Club and Sigma Tau Delta.

Kampus Keyhole
By Helen Ruth

If you can't find that Christmas cheer through the spicy smells of pine cones and holiday fruit cake, maybe you'll adopt a happier outlook when you hear that JEAN LIPPS' late date waited one whole hour in vain last Saturday night . . . or remembering how TOM TAULBEE looked sprawled out on the dance floor . . . or how certain boy friends (meaning GEORGE STROUD and TOM ROBERSON) feel when their Class Beauty Girl Friends choose someone else to escort them at the Presentation Ball . . .

Speaking of beauties, little WILMA RUTHERFORD was worrying about how to wear her hair for the Big Event . . . She might go to the HOTEL TEXAS BEAUTY SALON to get a really glamorous hair-do. FAYE GARNER and her assistants know all about new curls. Call 3-3983.

And if you want to feel your very prettiest, ask your boy friend to get YOUR corsage at BAKER'S FLORAL SHOP, 807 Lamar . . . He can get them for $1.00 up by calling 2-3119 . . . Spot the beauties' bouquets at the dance for several of them came from BAKER'S . . .

Maybe a slinky evening turban is just the thing you need to set off your frock tomorrow night . . . Wear a black one with a shiny clip in it that can be removed for later street wear . . . or a glittery one or a colored one for other holiday festivities . . . You can afford several at only $1.00 . . . HAT LAND, 507 Houston.

Here's a star-studded tip to KENNETH GRIFFITH about a Christmas present for BEAUTY POTSHMAN . . . She couldn't resist a gift from CHENEY'S. You'll find anything she'd desire there . . . tiny clips of gold and rhinestones formed like animals or birds . . . snuff box vanities with downy puffs or round ones to match the gold of her sandals . . . a necklace of cellophane glass on a bright red strand . . . A bracelet she'll always keep in remembrance of you . . . boxed imported linen handkerchieves that are hand-embroidered . . . All these and more at 602 Houston . . .

DANDY HOLTE: Your girl friends, PAULA MURCHISON and MILDRED SMITH will have an uplifted spirit when they look down if you give them KOLLEGE WOOLIES from PAUL'S for Christmas . . . They're those delightful, fuzzy slides of all colors that any girl would enjoy wearing . . . or get a pair of pajama sandals of satin to match her robe, with platform soles to match her eyes . . . Or—and here's a real bargain—for TODAY and TOMORROW ONLY you can get PAUL'S $1.00 hose for only 87c . . . Two-thread and three-thread variety . . . Buy them now for Christmas presents to make any feminine heart glad . . . 606 Houston . . .

BECKY TAYLOR or ELMA CUDDLIP or MADELINE MCARTHY: If you're wondering what to take home for Mother or Big Sister or Cousin Sally, why not handmade lingerie from GAN'S? A fragile white slip with heavy lace at top and bottom . . . A bride's gown of peach satin . . . pajamas of soft blue with frills at the neck . . . a satin robe with full skirt, puffed sleeves and fitted bodice? Why not a shirred blouse to go with her tailored suit? Or hose at only 79c a pair done up in a gift box with a sprig of holly to add a glamorous note? . . . We could go on and on suggesting magical gifts to fit your Christmas-budgeted purse, but you can find them yourselves on first floor at 610 Houston . . .

BETTY DAVISON, who's engaged but DOESN'T go steady with her betrothed, might appreciate a suggestion for the holidays . . . Even the most collegiate of us will admit there's nothing like Christmas . . . Remember LARRY KENT'S orchestra that played in the auditorium the other day? And charming HARRIETT KAYE who stole your heart away? They're going to be playing for you at THE DEN, HOTEL TEXAS, right on through the holidays . . . for festive luncheon dancing; for Thursday T. C. U. Nite, which gives you a chance to see all your friends after school's out; for all the HOLIDAY NIGHTS . . . There's nothing quite so much fun as dining and dancing at THE DEN, gala in your new Christmas clothes, excited at having such a grand time at such a grand place with such a grand orchestra at such a GRAND low price!

I'm all out of superlatives! Merry Christmas!

Frog Cagers, Denton Eagles Play Monday

Neither School Boasts Victory On Basketball Court This Season.

Abney Leads T. C. U.

Gregory Senior Only Letterman on 'First' Squad—Heads Team Scoring and Sparks Defense.

The Horned Frogs' new hopes for a bright basketball season will make a home bow to Purple and White fans at 8 o'clock Monday night, with a strong Denton Teachers team furnishing the opposition.

The Denton Teachers always boast a strong team, but this year they have run into a little difficulty in their first games. Rice downed the Teachers by a wide margin the first part of the week. Last year the Purple Cagers were defeated by the Teachers in Denton 34 to 28.

Team Heads for Shreveport.

This morning the Cagers leave for Shreveport, where they will engage Louisiana Tech Friday night and Centenary Saturday night. Not much is known about the Tech team except that they dropped a close game to the Stephen F. Austin team the first part of the week.

Centenary has a strong team this year, headed by five lettermen, including such stars as Weenie Bynum and Bob Barrie. The Gents have played only one game up to date, that being with Ouachita College, which they defeated.

Despite the two set-backs that the Frog cagers have suffered this year, Coach Mike Brumbelow is still high on the Frogs' chances for a good season.

"I believe that the boys have what it takes this year. With a little more training they should be able to give a good account of themselves by the time the conference schedule gets under way Jan. 6," he says.

Frogs Drop Two Close Ones

The Frogs lost their opener to the East Texas Teachers in Commerce last Tuesday 34 to 28 and dropped their second game to the Southwest Teachers of Oklahoma in Paris Tuesday 42 to 33.

Shining light of the two defeats has been big Ben Abney, who has led the Frog offense in both games, being high point man Tuesday night. Also the two hot-shot sophomores, L. A. Monroe and Buddy Baron, have been living up to expectations. Leonard Canady, junior college transfer, has also been showing up well at the pivot post.

IRC Members Guests At Jacksboro Church

I. R. C. members were guests at the Jacksboro Christian Church last night with Dr. W. J. Hammond as the principal speaker. Dr. Hammond spoke on the probable outcome of the present conflict in Europe and the possibility of America entering into the war.

Miss Mary Simpson also gave a talk on, "Keeping America out of war through a better understanding of the causes." Rawlins Cherryhomes discussed the consequences of war and how America can profit by looking at these consequences.

Wednesday night the club had a wiener roast at the home of Dr. Hammond and plans were completed for a Christmas basket.

Football Is Tops With "Mr. Pete," Ex-Frog Gridder

Signing his name is his biggest job. To most of the students he is known as "Mr. Pete," and although he is a very busy man, he often arranges a golf game.

L. C. Wright, has 'grown up' with T. C. U. from captain of the football team to his present position as business manager. "Mr. Pete" played tackle on the Frog team for six years, and finished his work in 1911. In those days a student was allowed to complete the last two years of his high school work in the academic department of the university and then go in to college work.

He was captain of the '07 and '09 teams, and although the tackle position was his favorite 'spot,' he did play fullback at one time. Such men as Milton Daniel, Major Blue Ration, Manly Thomas, William Massie, John Pyburn and M. A. Baldwin were his squadmates.

After graduation he worked for a bank in Dallas, then in 1922 returned to his Alma Mater to take a job as athletic director. He held this position until 1932 when he was appointed business manager.

With his friendly manner and his extreme height, he is a 'stand out' with the students—with the faculty.

Football—well, it is naturally one of his greatest interests, although fishing and hunting run close seconds. Smoking cigarettes is a constant pastime with "Mr. Pete."

"I will have been here 17 years the first of August and I haven't missed a home game so far—missed a few of those 'abroad,' but I just can't keep going all the time," he says.

Buckaroo Picks Frogland As Next Alma Mater

Mark up a fine all-around back for Coach Walter Roach's 1940 Wog football squad.

"Spot" Collins, ace blocker and ball-toter of the Breckenridge Buckaroos visited on the campus several days last week and made known his intention of entering Frogland next fall.

Collins weighs 180 pounds and from all reports is the best blocker in Texas high school football. "He'll sure fit into our plans for the next four years," says Roach.

'Prepare Ye the Way' To Be Sermon Topic

"Prepare Ye the Way" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Perry E. Gresham at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning at the University Christian Church. The anthem will be "Rest in the Lord," by Burdett.

The Evensong sermon topic will be "When Shadows Shorten." John Hayes will sing "It Is Enough," from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn.

Wog's Coach Goes Hunting

Frosh Work Without Supervision—Sherman, Tomlinson Show Promise.

Members of the freshman basketball team are "on their own" this week. Coach Walter Roach "took a powder" and went deer hunting, leaving the Wogs to scamper and scout as they see fit, and they're doing just that.

Visitors will see the Polliwogs in action for the first time Monday night they will put on an intra-team squad tussle as a curtain raiser for the Frog-Denton Teachers game in the Basketball Gymnasium.

Most of the Polliwog cagers were members of the untied, undefeated freshman football squad and are thankful for the relaxation they are getting this week from supervised workouts.

Some of the most promising looking boys on the first year squad are Odell and Marcell Harrison, Bud Tomlinson, Billy Blackstone and Billy Sherman.

"T" Initiation Planned For Early Next Week

Plans for the initiation of new members, which will take place early next week, were discussed at meeting of the "T" Association last night.

"All new lettermen in football are eligible for initiation," says Bud Taylor, president.

The new lettermen are Phil Roach, Ronnie Brumbaugh, Woodrow Adams, Carl Anderson, Linden Binion, Bill Crawford, Jack Herring, Frank Kring and Kyle Gillespie.

Vickery Takes Tennis Crown

Dick Vickery, freshman, became campus tennis champion this week after more than two months of tournament play. This was due to bad weather and delay in running off the earlier rounds of the tournament.

Vickery's opponent in the finals was Phil Mahaffey, last year's runner-up. Score in the final match was 6-3, 6-4. Mahaffey ousted Tom Brown in the semifinals and Vickery trounced Malvin Stevenson.

For the past several years Vickery has been one of the local tennis stars. In 1935 he won the Fort Worth city boys' title and in 1937 captured the East Texas singles championship. While in high school he was district champion for two years.

Both Vickery and Mahaffey will be welcomed additions to Coach Tom Prouse's net squad this spring.

Miss Hamlet's Canvass Most Popular in Show

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE DURHAM, N. C.

Four terms of eleven weeks are given each year. These may be taken consecutively (graduation in three- and one-quarter years) or three terms may be taken each year (graduation in four years). The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and three years of college work, including the subjects specified for Class A, medical schools. Catalogues and application forms may be obtained from the Admission Committee.

Girl Volleyball Victors Led by Miss Howze

Final play-off between the girls' intramural volleyball teams in the Gymnasium Wednesday night resulted in the defeat of Miss Daysie Rhome's team, captained by Miss Lois Jeanne Cayce, by Miss Gwendolyn MacSweeney's team, captained by Miss Dorothy Howze. Miss MacSweeney's team won two out of three games, to take the girls' intramural volleyball championship.

Physical education classes in sports were divided into teams, and, after eliminations, Miss Rhome's and Miss MacSweeney's team were the finalists. The physical education classes will begin playing basketball after the holidays, and will follow the same routine of intramural play as in volleyball.

Members of the winning team were: Misses Dorothy Howze, captain; Lois Noble, Kathleen Parker, Mammie Shaw, Emma Jean McBride, Mint Oliver, Virginia Ulrickson, Nancy Cagle, Violet Elliott, Nadine Messick and Rosella Porterfield.

Aggies in 36th Spot

Baylor Is 23rd and Southern Methodist 35th—"Dutch" Has Outstanding Record.

Football champions don't repeat in the Southwest Conference, but Texas Christian University rolls along as the all-time champion.

A compilation covering the five-year records of all major elevens gives the Horned Frog 16th place in the national picture.

Three other Southwest teams placed among the first 50 teams—Baylor was 23rd, S. M. U. 35th and Texas A. & M. 36th.

During the six years that Coach Dutch Meyer has been head coach his teams have compiled the best record in the conference, ranking first in conference games only and also first when all games are considered.

The Frogs have the best offensive record during the six-year period, both conference and total games, while S. M. U. has amassed the leading defensive record in both competition.

T. C. U. was admitted to the Southwest Conference in 1923 and during the 17 years of conference competition has piled up the highest percentage of games won, to make the Frogs the all-time champion.

The tabulated records:

Campus Sports Add Water Polo

Amid loud splashes, gasps and strangle holds, the intramural department introduced a new sport—water polo. To say that the game was rough, is putting it too mildly. The first contest was just short of murder. Referee Fred Nemitz tried to keep order but finally gave up.

The Sophomores nosed out the Freshmen 6 to 5. Led by Frank Krings, the Sophs came from behind in the final three minutes to cop the match. Homer Baughman and Blair Kirkpatrick sparked the Frosh. Baughman is a great swimmer and should be one of the best polo players on the campus. The Seniors forfeited their match to the Juniors.

Tuesday night the intramural volleyball season got under way with a pair of games. The Freshmen downed the Sophomores twice, 15 to 11. The Seniors defeated the Juniors 10 to 15, 15 to 8 and 15 to 8.

The lineups:
Freshmen—Harmon Hightower, Blair Kirkpatrick, Homer Baughman, Don Wilson and Bill Seltzer.

Sophomores—Rom Orgain, Leslie Hightower, Brents Wooten, Vic Weingartner, Richard Allen, Jody James and Buster Nicks.

Juniors—Jack Billingsley, Jack Fry, Bill Crossfield, Rex Howard, Paul Sorrells and Bill Trust.

Seniors—Tom Keplinger, Bill Sinclair, Tom Brown, John Estill, Ben Pendarvis, Bob Parker and Frank Horak.

Three Coeds Furnish Music at Two Banquets

Three students from T. C. U. will furnish the music this week for two banquets. The students are: Miss Jane Puryear, violinist; Miss Dorothy Nell Godley, soprano and Miss Marcia Gallagher, accompanist. They also played and sang last night for the banquet of the principals of the Fort Worth Public Schools.

The girls will appear tonight at the Lions Club annual ladies' night in Jackboro.

Mike 'Looks Up' At Cannaday, Holt

"Things are looking up for the Horned Frog basketball team." So says Coach Mike Brumbelow, referring to Leonard Cannaday and Guy Holt, the two latest additions to his Purple cagers.

The towering Cannaday stands 6 feet 4 inches, weighs 190, and hails from Mount Vernon, where he made quite a reputation for himself as a basketball player. After leading Mount Vernon to two district championships and making all-district center, Leonard attended Tyler Junior College and played guard on their state championship teams of 1937 and 1938. He was selected all-state guard the second year.

This year, however, Cannaday has gone back to the center position, which is his favorite. He is the tallest man on the Horned Frog squad and has two years of eligibility here. Leonard received offers from every Southwest Conference school but chose T. C. U. because, as he says, "It's always been my favorite."

Holt is a quiet, 160-pound lad standing a little over 6 feet tall. His home is Hutchinson, Kan., where he attended both high school and junior college. He played guard on his high school team two years and on the Hutchinson Junior College team one year. That year his team won the Kansas Junior College Conference championship.

Guy will also be a track candidate next spring. He runs the half mile and low hurdles. He came to T. C. U. because of its School of Business and because his mother attended here also.

These two boys are both regulars on Coach Mike's present five, and if history repeats itself for them, they'll play on a winning team.

Rule Changes Not Important

"Main Difference," Says Brumbelow, "Concerns Free Throw."

"They're all good, but they are minor changes and will not affect the game noticeably."

This sums up the opinion of Coach Mike Brumbelow concerning the changes in basketball rules for this season.

One of the best changes, Coach Brumbelow says, is the one which, during a free throw, requires that the ball pass through the basket or touch the rim before being touched by a player.

"This change cuts down the tall boys' advantage," he points out. "Previously the big boys could reach up and tap the ball into the basket for two points on a free throw."

This year, in the event of a tie game, the rules grant each team an extra time-out in each overtime period.

"This is a change for the better," Brumbelow thinks. "With the game speeded up, the boys will need all the rest they can get, especially in an overtime period."

On a technical foul this year the opposing team, after the free throw, puts the ball in play out of bounds at mid-court.

"This rule may be all right, but we'll have to wait and see how it works out," the coach says.

This season, in case of a personal foul, the offended team may waive the free throw and elect to put the ball in play from out of bounds at mid-court. In case two throws have been awarded, the choice applies to the second.

"I don't believe this will be used very much," Brumbelow says. "There are few times when a team will refuse a free throw. But a team that is behind one point near the end of a game may elect to take the ball out of bounds and attempt a field goal, which would put them ahead one point."

Troubles Double With These Four There to Dribble

T. C. U. athletic opponents may think they are afflicted with double-vision this year when they see two sets of twins come scampering out on the field of play. Not at the same time, however, because one pair of the brothers are members of the freshman class and the other two are varsity players.

Ralph and Dennis Tankersley are the twins who are playing on the Purple basketball team this year, and Odell and Marcell Harrison are the freshmen who play both basketball and football.

Dennis is a basketball letterman who is returning to see lots more action this season. Both Odell and Marcell received their freshman number for football.

It's bad enough on the enemy to have one set of twins to keep an eye on, but wait until next year when both pair will be playing together!

Basketball Next For Wog Stars

T. C. U.'s Poliwoog athletes went into their second event of the season last week. Seventeen hopefuls were issued basketball shorts Dec. 4.

Eight of these frosh cagers are already in shape due to the fact that they were members of the Wogs' championship football team. They are Billy Blackstone, Odell and Marcell Harrison, Bill Thompson, Bruce Alford, Billy Sherman, Trotter Adams and Harry Jennings.

The nine other embryonic Frogs who will suit out for the first time in college athletic togs are: Jimmie Pattee, Dallas; Orvil Jones, Douglas, Arizona; Bud Tomlinson, Canyon; Pitts Cudgington, Amarillo; Raley Dunn, Dallas; "Lefty" Davenport, Dallas; Sul McGown, Houston; Floyd Casstevens, Fort Worth and George Casey, Crowley.

The Frosh tore into the varsity basketballers, who have been working out about three weeks, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and gave them a run for their money.

Tomlinson, Blackstone, the Harrison twins, Alford and Davenport have shown up well this week and, according to Coach Walter Roach, are the most promising lads on the squad so far.

Hall Will Attend Meeting Of Bible Society Dec. 26

Dean Colby D. Hall will attend the annual meeting of the Southwestern Society of Biblical Study and Research Tuesday, Dec. 26, on the Baylor campus at Waco.

Dean Hall is executive secretary of the society.

Freshman Actors to Give Contest Play at OLV Today

The second public presentation of the Freshman Play will be given this afternoon at Our Lady of Victory. The play, "Murder in Hollywood," is directed by Miss Jean Lipps. It was also presented Wednesday night at a banquet at the First Methodist Church.

The cast includes Misses Peggy Green, Janis Warren, Marinel Carson, Laura Jane Smith and Wanda Gordon, and Robert Milling, Harry Jennings and Jimmy Moore.

Mrs. Bryson's Daughter Is Here from Arkansas

Mrs. Artemisia Bryson has as her guest, her daughter, Mrs. Witt Blair, A. B. '32, from Fort Smith, Ark. She will be here until Christmas.

Mrs. O. H. Dengler of Little Rock, Ark., visited recently with her son, Anthony Dengler.

Frosh Golf Aces Aim at National, Study in Paris U.

Two students at the University of Paris and two national open golf champions!

That statement can't be made truthfully yet, but if two freshmen on the campus realize their ambitions, it will become a fact.

Both Buster Adams and Jimmy Moore want to attend the French university and both have been working on their golf games for many years with the gleam of the national open tourney in their eyes. If Buster wasn't a decided blond and Jimmy definitely a brunet, one might take them to be twins, because they have the same ambitions, the same ideals and, surprisingly, actions alike.

Both Buster and Jimmy are pre-law students and want to continue their education at the University of Texas. It is Buster's grandfather's idea that the boys attend the University of Paris, his alma mater.

The boys have played golf together for many years. In Paschal High, Buster was captain of the golf team that won the city championship the three years he was there. Jimmy played the No. 2 position, right behind Buster. They have played in around 20 golf tournaments. Buster has a slightly higher average in the outcome of these since he has won the Glen Garden Country Club junior golf championship for four consecutive years, and the City Junior Tournament championship in 1938. In 1937 and 1938 he fought as far as the semi-finals in the state high school play and he was qualified in both the national and state open tourneys, showing up well in the National Open in Dallas in 1937.

Jimmy has not been quite so lucky, but has proven his golfing ability by winning the first flight in several city tournaments and playing in the semi-finals of the state open's first flight. Both play the Glen Garden Country Club course most of the time and consistently shoot par. They plan to try out for the freshman golf team next spring but will be glad when they are eligible for the varsity and can get into conference tournaments.

Freshmen and Seniors Lead Volley Ball Race

The Freshmen and the Seniors this week took a commanding lead in the intramural volleyball race. Both teams have won two matches and have lost none. The Juniors and the Sophomores have each failed to win a match.

Last Wednesday night the Seniors downed the Sophs in straight games 15 to 10 and 15 to 13. Tom Keplinger, Bob Parker and Bill Sinclair led the Seniors, while Rom Orgain, Brents Wooten and Richard Allen sparked the losers.

The Juniors won the first game from the Frosh 15 to 12, but could not keep the Freshmen from taking the two remaining games 15 to 7 and 15 to 6. Homer Baughman and Harmon Hightower were the Frosh stars. Jack Fry was the outstanding performer for the Juniors.

The much heralded water polo matches are not going off so well. Last week only one match was played, while this week no class had enough boys out to make up a full team.

"If the boys are not interested," says Prof. Tom Sprouse, "we will drop the sport and take up something else."

C. of C. Party to Honor School of Business

Henry Swain will play "Santa Claus" tonight when the Chamber of Commerce has its Christmas party.

The fun is due to start at 8 p. m. in the Basketball Gymnasium, and all members of the School of Business will be honored.

Presents of the 10-cent calibre will be handed out and dancing to the latest recordings will be in order according to Erle Powell, president.

Senior Class President Says 'Order Rings Now'

"All seniors who are interested in getting their class rings after the Christmas holidays should turn their orders in before Wednesday," says Stanley Wilson, class president.

Mrs. Lucy E. Barber of Tullulah, La., spent a few days on the campus recently visiting her son, Tom Barber.

Six Jarvis Girls Hold 'Private' Christmas Party

A Christmas tree, gifts, and refreshments sent from home, constituted a gala party held by six Jarvis girls Tuesday night. Gifts were exchanged by roommates and names were drawn among the six for another gift. The girls were Misses Gerry Sharp, Wilma Creager, Forrest Dennis, Nauty Byrd Palphray, Katherine Clarke and Fay Schmacher.

Beauties to Make Bows In Whites, Nets, Sequins

By LOIS HERZ

In the soft light of crystal chandeliers and with a background of arched doorways and palms, the 12 class beauties will resemble a group of glamorous debutantes making their bow to society when they are presented Saturday night at the Woman's Club.

To be among the "chosen few" at the Presentation Ball is one of the most coveted honors of the campus coeds, since the affair is always the high point of the fall social calendar.

It will be a super-special fashion revue too. Miss Frances Buster will make her entrance gowned in beige-colored net with gold sequin bands on the bodice and gold straps. She will wear gold slippers and carry a small net muff covered with flowers.

White net sprinkled with star sequins is the choice of Miss Helen Connor. The bodice is fitted and has silver shoulder straps. Silver sandals and blue carnations will complete her outfit.

Miss Elwyn Epsy will make a demure picture in a blue net dress with bustle back, basque waist and puffed sleeves. The silver and blue lame bodice has silver clips for trimming. She will carry pink flowers.

Miss Dorothy Finlayson will make her "bow" in a pink embroidery net gown with a full skirt. She has chosen silver accessories.

Blue net with a criss-cross draped blue lame top will be Miss Elizabeth Hager's dress for the occasion. Silver sequins on the skirt and silver sandals will carry out the color scheme. Her bouquet will be red roses. A wide girdle of rhinestones will trim the white net and lace gown of Miss Florrie Buckingham. White is her choice of flowers.

Miss Maxine Shaw will step into the limelight dressed in white net sprinkled with gold sequins. The fitted bodice is topped with narrow gold straps brought to a V at the neck. Her arm bouquet will be of Talisman roses.

Miss Ethel Rae Cheatham has chosen a dress with a blue net skirt, a taffeta bodice trimmed with gold thread and puffed sleeves. A gold necklace will complete her outfit.

Miss Jeanette Hopkins will wear a dress of white bengaline with a full skirt, halter top, and fitted bodice. In her hair she will wear a silver wreath with a silver veil. Red roses are her choice of flowers.

White and silver will be the keynote of Miss Janis Warren's costume. The full skirt is of net and the halter top is silver. She will wear her arm bouquet will be of hair and white elbow-length gloves. Her corsage will be of red roses.

Brocaded metal cloth with drop shoulders and fitted waist is Miss Wilma Rutherford's choice for the affair. She will wear silver accessories and carry yellow flowers.

Miss Anne Hutton will be gowned in a Schiaparelli replica of romance blue slipper satin with a long waistline, billow skirt and draped shoulders.

All in all, Saturday night should be a positively "glittering" evening.

Frosh Wiener Roast Attracts 100

Approximately 100 students attended the freshman wiener roast and dance held last Friday night at Eagle Mountain Lake and in the Gymnasium.

President Jimmy Woodyard says that a guest book has been obtained that at each freshman social those attending will sign it. Ninety-one signatures were placed in the book Friday night.

"This was one of the largest and most successful class parties ever held on the campus," says Miss Lorraine Sherley, class sponsor.

Alpha Phi Entertains NTSTC Chapter

Members of the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity acted as hosts to the North Texas State Teachers' College chapter with a dinner-dance Monday night at Glen Garden Country Club.

Toastmaster Walter Spilsbury introduced the speaker, Scout Executive A. J. Fulkerson, who pointed out the advantages of the fraternity on the campus.

The dinner-dance committee was made up of Spilsbury, Clayton Odum, Robert Lamsens and Jack Bauter.

Waffles were in order when the All-College Sunday School Class met at the home of their instructor, Cecil Morgan, Sunday evening. About 40 students attended the waffle supper.

Christmas Comes but Once a Year Look at the Parties It Brings Here!

4 Houses Decorate For Christmas

Colored lights, bright tinsel, shiny icicles and green wreaths decorate the four girls' houses on the campus in the true Christmas spirit.

Sherley House has put up a silver table tree which is decorated in blue. Tomlinson House has decorated a small green tree with various colors. Sterling House boasts a floor tree banked in cotton snow, and Gibson House plans a tree to be decorated with electric lights.

Girls in Sterling House will begin their holiday festivities with a Christmas party Monday night.

"That's the night of the Christmas dinner in the Cafeteria, and after that, we're all coming back over to the house while we're still in the Christmas spirit," says Miss Ceville Moore, house manager.

Girls in Sherley and Tomlinson Houses will have their Christmas trees next Tuesday night. Gibson House residents have not set a definite time for their celebration. Girls in all the houses have drawn names, and presents will be exchanged.

Mrs. Johnson to Give Christmas Dinner

Mrs. F. L. Johnson, housemother at Tomlinson House, will entertain the 14 girls in the house with a Christmas dinner tonight.

The menu will be creamed turkey, frozen salad, baked potatoes, asparagus, hot rolls, fruit cake, brulee and coffee.

Those attending will be Misses Mary Frances Neal, Elizabeth Story, Florrie Buckingham, Eleanor Jennings, Isabel Hill, Frances Stevens, Betty Mitchell, Margaret Pierce, Mary Alice Ayres, Elizabeth Ann Fields, Marion Briggs, Kathryn Johnson, Adale Reiger and Madeleine McCarty. Miss Shelburne, is to be an honored guest.

Bryson Dinner to Be At Colonial Hills

Bryson Club members will have their annual Christmas dinner at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, at the Colonial Hills Country Club.

Keeping up a tradition set in 1933 when she took the sponsorship, Miss Lorraine Sherley will tell a Christmas story. Arthur Moseley will be toastmaster.

Christmas carols and yuletide thoughts of each member will accompany the program. Miss Elizabeth Sanders and Miss Evelyn Woodley will be in charge of music.

Miss Helen Connor is chairman of the program. "Members are collecting toys and gifts for a poor family," says Miss Sherley.

An old member, and guest at the affair, will be David O'Brien, A.B. '39.

Poetry Club Entertained By Miss Moseley

Miss Millicent Moseley entertained members of the Poetry Club with a Christmas party last night at her home.

"All members brought gifts which were placed in a basket for a poor family," says Miss Yvonne Buster, president.

Parahola Party Is Set For Monday Night

Informality will be stressed at the annual Christmas party of the Parahola to be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the home of Miss Frances Porterfield, 3116 Rogers. About 30 are expected.

Catholic Club to Have Party Tuesday

Miss Kathleen Parker will entertain members of the Catholic Club with a Christmas party at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at her home on the White Settlement Road.

Dramatic Club Has Christmas Party

Featuring the exchanging of gifts around the Christmas tree and the singing of carols, the Dramatic Club held its Christmas party Tuesday at the home of Miss Jean Lipps on the Crowley Road.

Refreshments were served to 17 and a collection was taken up to be used in filling a basket for some needy family.

Those present were: Misses Betty Claire Pray, Peggy Green, Lois Noble, Nell Rose Heister, Merna Carson, Jimmy Langford, Nellen Paul, Claire Nell Gleason, Elaine Garrison, Betty Belle Hunter and Jean Lipps, and Alfred Shepherd, Harry Maloney, Gene Reynolds, James Moore, Harry Jennings and Billy Jennings.

Natural Science Club To Have Party

The annual Christmas party of the Natural Science Club will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Miss Frances Buster, 3133 Wabash.

Gifts will be exchanged and are not to exceed twenty-five cents in cost. The club is also sponsoring a basket for a needy family.

Amperand Luncheon To Be in Den

Amperand will have a Christmas luncheon at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the Den.

Members met last Friday at Mrs. Gayle Scott's home and completed plans for a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Miss Mamie Louise Shaw Entertains Anglia

The Anglia Club had its Christmas party last night at the home of Miss Mamie Louise Shaw. The entertainment was in charge of Miss Barclay Ann Bogel. Games were played and refreshments served.

Jarvis Christmas Service To Be Sunday

All Jarvis Hall girls will take part in the annual Christmas program and worship service, to be held at 10 p. m. Sunday in the Jarvis parlor.

Miss Elizabeth Baldwin will have charge of the carol singing, and Miss Elsie Porter will sing a Christmas song. Miss Gerry Sharpe is arranging for an orchestra made up of Jarvis girls.

Miss Pat Warnick will read an original Christmas story, and four girls will read the story from the Scriptures. Miss Elizabeth Shelburne will preside.

Several Jarvis residents helped decorate the parlors Thursday. A large electric-lighted tree was put up. Many small trees have been decorated for different rooms.

Joint Skating Party Is Held by Clubs

The Maverick Club and the Foreign Legion Club had a joint Christmas party last night at the Pullman Skating Rink.

The groups met at the home of Mrs. Artemisia Bryson and went to the rink for the party. Miss Carol Gowan, president of the Mavericks, was in charge of the arrangements.

Bridge Party Adds To Bryson Fund

Bryson Club members added to their scholarship fund by a bridge tournament held recently at the Lone Star Gas Co. hall.

Miss Helen Connor was chairman of the affair and Miss Ethel Rae Cheatham and Miss Anna Duncan assisted.
