

How To Cure Blushing

Your face turned a ripe tomato red that time your forks didn't come out even at the big six-course banquet, didn't it? Or perhaps "which fork to use when" has never been a problem to you; but every one has some questions on social matters he would like to have answered.

On this campus, most students find out about "what's being done" and "what isn't being done" by the trial-and-error method. Of course, experience is a good teacher, and in the long run the student may find out a few of the social niceties. But by that time every one will consider him a social bore and boor. So the trial-and-error method is not so satisfactory in this case.

But on some campuses, students are not thrown out on their own in the cold cruel social world; regular courses are given, covering everything from foibles of freshmen at football games to slips of seniors while Sat-evening. It is not to be supposed that T. C. U. students are bulls in the social china shop—or perhaps some of them are—but certainly everyone needs a bit of polishing done on rudimentary manners. A collegian's life is rather complicated, including all sorts of situations which cannot be correctly handled by an embarrassed blush or mumbled excuse.

A lot of "hokey" has been written and spoken about personality and manners. But this is no "hokey"—a good personality and good manners go a long way toward helping to liquidate that frozen asset you've spent four years getting here at school. For education is only a frozen asset unless the student has acquired a pleasing social presence; nobody will ever discover how interesting and well-informed you are unless they will listen to you in the first place.

Every one has made a social error at one time or another, and has blushed from embarrassment. Perhaps you could, in time, train your red corpuscles to stay where they belong; but the best way to keep from blushing is to remove the reason for embarrassment. A good practical course on "how and what to do when" would help students in dealing with the many problems of college life. The trial-and-error method so far has been running wild at T. C. U.—and the china shop is pretty badly damaged by the un-social bulls.

SWIS-S-S-S-S-SHH!

What about University Drive? The back road will soon be closed to speedsters, according to administration plans, but what about the street in front of the school that will get the overflow traffic?

Almost never has a policeman been seen patrolling the "main stem" of the T. C. U. district. Seemingly there are no traffic regulations. Yet hundreds of students have to cross the street every day. It is unfortunate that the campus has to be divided. If the campus has to be divided, it is unfortunate that the dividing line is one of the busy streets of the south side of town.

These conditions accepted as facts, if said busy street is not patrolled in some way, it is not unfortunate—it is an act of criminal neglect.

Students have to go to the Library. It is one of the busiest buildings on the campus. Why should the "cultural" be isolated from the "academic" by a herd of unrestricted automaniacs?

A boulevard stop sign at both ends of the campus would greatly help the situation. Marked off walkways would be good. Why not, while on the subject of traffic hazards, say, "What about University Drive?"

Now Is The Time

A crucial moment is upon T. C. U.! Here it is spring—the birds are twittering, the buds are budding, politics are almost in full bloom, and the whole world is awakening, all except the college student who will go into the throes of spring fever any day now.

For years, college students have missed the most inspiring time of the year while they have gone about in a dazed condition that can be roughly described as a hibernation of the mind.

The Skiff can not stand idly by and see the campus go into a state of coma without doing anything about it. So it advises this certain-to-be-effective routine to ward off the disease: clear the head with vigorous exercises each morning. Then interest yourself in some campus issue. If you work up sufficient steam about it, unburden yourself in the Open Forum. Find the candidates that you like and give them a big boost. In other words, get in the swing of things this spring.

What's the Difference?

A student has a guest in his home for the evening. Being polite and attempting to make his visitor feel welcome, the host gives him the most comfortable chair. Any humorous story the visitor tells is extremely funny; his arguments, whether on war or on beautifying the campus, may not be particularly interesting, but his host is respectful enough to act attentive and interested.

On the other hand... a guest comes to this campus to appear in chapel. His "host"—the students—greet him warmly, if the rattling of notebook paper, the tearing open of letters and commenting to the neighboring student the hope that "today's speaker won't be as dull as the last" can be called a "warm" greeting. A "host" makes a futile attempt from the balcony to amuse his visitor in the middle of the program by sailing a paper airplane across the platform; the visitor ignores the trial. Another "host" thinks that the visitor perhaps would like his program punctuated with a few snores. Some other one has the idea that a little competitive talking will suggest to the guest that it is time to "break it up."

In both instances the "hosts" are the same. It is only the conditions that are changed. Why the difference in attitudes?

US EDITORIALIZERS!

Along about this time each spring things get kinda slow, football's gone, dances lag—and we can't find any place to go. Woe it is to us editorializers, with no subjects here at hand, what we need is a lot of life and a real big, loud brass band.

We got the telephone in Goode, more lights in class rooms, too, helped Tom Prouse get varsity courts, so we'll now have four, not two. Been writing about this campus, and how it looked, till now, from every class room we can see, the mules pulling the plow.

Wonder when things'll start rolling, around this campus here, better start things humming or we'll be out on our ear. Grouching's not doing any good, we've talked long enough—should start finding subjects and stop thinking all this stuff.

Around and About

This KNOCKY PARKER, who takes piano under PROF. KEITH MIXSON, is a very amazing character indeed. He's sincere.

If you've ever heard him play the piano, blues, boogie-woogie, walking bass, different rhythms in each hand, etc. you know he's good. He's not only a technical master of the keyboard but he has feeling. When kids in school here or anywhere get him to play "Honky-tonk Train" or "Pine Top" they yell for more and more.

But like the famous PECK KELLY of Houston, KNOCKY has something of an inferiority complex, doesn't think he is so good as other people think he is. When recently asked to play on the Campus Varieties, he refused, saying he didn't think he was good enough and that "that's out of my class." Can you imagine?

He is sincere, however, in his study and love of jazz, swing, blues (which he calls the only original American form of music) and the like. He has a record collection numbering 1000 or more in which almost priceless copies and originals of early recordings of such immortals as PINE TOP SMITH, BIX BEIDERBECK, MEADE LUX LEWIS, et. al. are abundant. KNOCKY doesn't care for commercial stuff and has not one copy of the "Little Red Fox" in his collection.

Bashfulness carries over into his love life, too, although he does claim that he had a spat recently with swing scholar, CHARLEY RICHARDS, who accused him of alienating the affections of a young lady and called him a "love thief."

Hash again: Spring and PEGGY GREEN are having their due effect on BILLYE JENNINGS... ALTA WILDERSPIN hit a long shot down at Hot Springs, Ark., during the holidays... BILL CHAPPELL is just chivalrous enough to always say goodbye to you know who between classes...

How many of those census-takers have come to you asking where that room it? ... Well, don't DANDY HOLTE and FLORENCE BEHELER, who both fence and wear the same fads, look cute in those turbans? ... J. D. McCUTCHAN has a mighty good looking brother he's been carrying around, name of GORDON—a redhead too... Oh, well—one toot and you're out.

Horned Frog Tracks

By KEITH GUTHRIE

With graduation just around the corner, the boys who have given for the Alma Mater in athletics begin to scout around for a place to continue the T.C.U. system.

Several of the other boys have good prospects of landing fat coaching jobs if everything turns out. Almost all of the seniors on the football and basketball squads are planning on entering the coaching game except Bob Cook and Spud Taylor.

And again Coach Mike Brumbe-low has started on what he hopes will be the come back trail for basketball. Spring workouts started Tuesday and will continue for about 30 days.

The combination of twins that the Frogs might have had on the basketball floor next year in the Tankersleys and Harrison may not materialize after all.

The challenge that the faculty softball team issued last week through Prof. Tom Prouse didn't go unheeded. The preachers, who boast quite a hurler in Don Ver Duin, accepted the bluff.

The Frogs made a good showing against the Cats the first of the week, even though the score (10-3) didn't indicate it.

Showings Against Semipros Make Prospects Appear Strong for Frogs.

Veterans Numerous Duckworth to Start This Afternoon's Game, Backed by Ben Abney or Thompson As Relief.

With their hopes considerably helped by their good showing against several semipro teams and against the Port Worth Cats, the Frogs will tee off this afternoon on what looks like a good season for the Purple baseballers.

The Mustangs are considered in about the same class as the Frogs in baseball circles, so with a little luck the Purple may be able to take the game today and also the one tomorrow.

Duckworth to Start

Woodrow Duckworth will start on the mound for the Frogs, and, in case he runs into trouble, will be assisted by either Ben Abney or Preston Thompson.

Frogs Enter Texas Relays

Clark Is Not Certain of Team for Meet—3-Way Affair at N.T.S.T.C. April 9.

Next meet on the Frog track schedule is the big carnival, the Texas Relays at Austin, April 6. The meet at Denton featuring the Frogs, S. M. U. Mustangs and Denton Teachers, has been moved up to April 9 and will be held at night.

Coach Poss Clark has been sending his boys through their daily routines, with concentration on starts for the sprinters and 440 men, and time trials for his distance men.

P. C. Taylor is coming along in the 2-mile run and may develop into one of the best in the conference. He ran his fastest race in this event last week without competition in 10 minutes and 36 seconds.

Ronnie Brumbaugh and Howard Pope are developing fast in the century and 220-yard dash. Pope ran a 9.9 hundred in the Stock Show Meet, and both boys will win points in some of the minor meets.

To date Clark is not sure whom he will send to the Texas Relays. Usually he enters a medley relay team. This year, however, the lack of good boys may keep him from throwing in a foursome.

If Clark does enter a middle distance medley relay it will include Brumbaugh and Pope running the 220 legs, Capt. Smith the 880 and some one to be chosen to run the 440 lap.

Clark will take a frosh squad to Denton to contest the first-year men of the two schools. Happy Curb and Paul Lander in the sprints, Gene Martin in the hurdles and jumps and Herschel Brown and Mickey McGuire in the 440 and 880 will probably be the chief point gainers for the Frogs.

Other likely looking freshmen are Richard Jokol, John Elstrand, Johnny Gifford and J. B. Pitzer.

Golfers Fight For Positions

Revercomb Still No. 1 Man After Defending Crown Against Beasley.

Prof. Tom Prouse, golf coach, is pulling his hair in despair as the positions on the golf team change as frequently as the may of Europe. Under the newly installed challenge system, drives and puts are flying fast and furious out at the Glen Garden Country Club as nine niblick-wielders fight it out for positions.

Ed Revercomb, No. 1 man, defended his position against Benton Beasley, No. 2, and recent winner in the Fat Stock Show Meet. Dub Rankin fell to the fourth spot as Capt. Gilbert Jackson won his challenge.

Wallace Fitzgerald and Eddie Jackson, fifth and sixth respectively, are the only ones who have not played a match. They will square off this week in a fight for the fifth position.

Those attending the hunt were: Misses Violet Elliott, Jo Marie Hutchison, Mint Oliver, Nadine Godfrey, Ermine Johnson, Ann Kiechle, Carole Tillman, Jean Walker, Justine Moore, Edleen Armstrong, Joyce Tillman, Mary Allene Ingram, Beverly Thaxton and the hostess.

Miss Johnson was awarded first prize—a large chocolate Easter bunny. Miss Walker, Miss Godfrey and Miss Joyce Tillman received consolation prizes.

Miss Jarnagin Has Hunt For Elusive Easter Eggs

There are six Easter eggs still unaccounted for in the field behind Jarvis Hall. But there's no reward for them.

Netmen to Play O. U. Tomorrow

The tennis team will engage in their second match of the current season at 1:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when they take on the Oklahoma University netters.

In their first match the Frogs suffered a 5-to-2 defeat at the hands of Commerce Teachers. The game was played on the varsity courts before the Easter holidays.

In the match tomorrow, Carl Poll will play in the No. 1 position and team with Edgar Shults, the McKinney mauler in the top doubles match.

Dick Vickery and Jack Billingsley will play the third and fourth positions, respectively, and also form the No. 2 doubles team.

Shrimp, Worms, Fish Are Result Of Biology Trip

A pistol shrimp, some new worms and some strange crabs have been added to the marine life collection of the biology department as a result of the annual field trip to Galveston last week under the direction of Dr. Willis Hewatt.

The group searched for the marine life on the West and East Beaches and in the bayou. All the meals were prepared by the students.

The shrimp trip was made by Miss Sue Hazen, Miss Molly Malmberg, Heard Carter, Jimmy Hampton, Price Roberts, Bob Cook and Bud Mills.

Only one casualty resulted from the trip. Dr. Hewatt came back minus $30!

Ralph Frame Receives Appointment to Annapolis

Ralph Frame, freshman from Washington, D. C., last week received an appointment for next fall to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He will complete the present school year here, however, before returning to the East.

Outlook Gloomy For Wog Nine

Coach David O'Brien doesn't expect to win many games this year with his Pollywog nine. After starting out with about 19 men, the squad has dropped to 11 candidates who report consistently.

Gus Bierman and Trotter Adams look like the best bets to do the hurling chores, with Melvin Levine doing the back stopping. Bierman is also a catcher.

Infielders reporting include Roger Neely, Ed Ammerman, Ed Brimager, Johnny Gifford and Leroy Shell. Outfielders are Pitts Crudington, Archie Barnes and Beecher Montgomery.

A game with the varsity will probably be played next week. No schedule has been made out, but games with local high schools and junior colleges will be booked.

Miss Ara Bella Ragsdale, former student from Santa Anna, visited friends on the campus Monday. Miss Ragsdale is now attending T. S. C. W.

Lova Lorn Gives Advice On Courtship, Marriage

By LOIS HERZ

Since it's spring and the young man's fancy is wandering again, a little research in love might be in order. That gay sprits, Cupid, refuses to be ignored these days, so you had just as well give a bit of thought to the problems he brings along.

For instance, how are you going to treat the new girl or boy friend in your life?

Have you ever noticed the free advice that goes along with the wedding gifts to a young couple? Most of it concerns suggestions to each party on "the best way to handle" the other. But all that is sometimes a little late, since the boy and girl have fairly well established their habits of treating each other before they ever reach the altar.

So, feeling that the college courtiers need that advice as much as anyone, we hid away to see what Dr. A. L. Porterfield, campus expert on such matters, had to say.

His theory is that how you regard other people depends on what kind of a person you are.

"There are two kinds of people," he said. "One uses his friends as an instrument or a means to an end and when that friend has served his purpose, he is cast aside. The other type of person regards his friends as individuals with feelings like his own."

The first type is the gold digger, he went on to explain. She is only on the lookout for a free meal or a theater ticket, and she is not interested unless the boy can furnish those things. Or she may be the kind of girl who adores her athlete in his victories but deserts him in his defeat. And such selfish attitudes don't belong exclusively to the girls, either.

In a nutshell, Dr. Porterfield's advice to those in courtship or marriage is to treat the other fellow as a real person instead of a means to an end.

All of which has the ring of an sound advice as any Dorothy Dix puts out.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

EDITORS NOTE: The Skiff will publish any letter from its readers as long as it is in the bounds of decency and signed. The name will be withheld if desired.

Dear Editor: In reply to the editorial in a recent issue of The Skiff, concerning grass walkers, we make this answer.

Confucius say, "There's no need locking the barn after the horses have been stolen!"

By this we mean, The Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity has made an investigation of the grass walker's situation. There is a beautification program now underway to reseed the campus. As soon as this is completed the fraternity will assist in keeping the campus beautiful.

Yours for service, Bill Caudle, president ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Dear Editor: Congratulations to "Another Student," who authored the Open Forum letter revealing the Bryson Club for what it is in last week's Skiff.

The students of this University clearly showed their attitude toward this organization last spring when the Progressive Party, a political organization ramrodded by the clamish Brysonites, proved a complete flop.

The Progressives, in attempting to place Bryson Club members in key campus political positions, were successful in electing only one of five Brysonites running for office. It is rumored that they will attempt a similar political stunt this spring.

Like "Another Student," this writer agrees that any group has a right to organize and form a clique if it so chooses, but in doing this on the T. C. U. campus it certainly shouldn't masquerade as a body spreading charity and goodness on its "less fortunate" fellows.

Dear Editor: I see by the signs around the campus that there is to be a Bowery Dance tomorrow night.

Recently I wrote a letter in this column in regard to having a variety in school dances and whether the letters had any effect or not—something has caused a 'mix-up'.

The main reason that our two big projects of the year—the Varsity Show and Ranch Week—were such a huge success is that there was cooperation not only from the members of the Chamber of Commerce but from the entire school. Why, then, shouldn't we put every campus activity on this basis? A Saturday night dance, in its way, can be just as successful as the "Put Your Little Foot" craze.

For those who aren't quite certain about what Esquire or Vogue would recommend for that evening I would like to say—Girls, get out that old plaid skirt, the one that is too short, and, boys, remember that turtle-neck sweater!

If the Student Council is going to give us specialty dances, then it is the place of the students to show appreciation in return—that is 65 cents per—

Tomorrow night the 'toughies' will be on dress parade. Why not enter into this thing and show those in charge, by dressing up, that a variety in the dance program is what the students want.

A Student

Dear Editor: "In the spring a college student's thoughts turn toward politics." Already petitions have been turned in for almost every student body office, with competition evident in almost every instance. The bad thing about the situation is the methods that some of the candidates are employing in an effort to influence votes at this early date. The well-known term "mud slinging" has started with a bang, much to the disgust of a majority of the students, who don't care much about the private life of any of the candidates.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to keep the campaign above board and let each candidate run on his qualifications and not try to blacken names unnecessarily. Maybe if each candidate would stop calling the other names, their names in turn would cease to be dragged through the mire.

"From one who is tired of having dirty linen aired in public."

Dear Editor: May I take this opportunity to tell a story of woe and disappointment that will touch the heartstrings of the general reading student body?

Last year about this time the political pot was beginning to boil on the campus of Frogland. The races in general were run fairly clean. Some mud was thrown, but on the whole all were good sports, both the winners and losers.

The students that voted, you know—the usual 10-per cent, apparently elected those officers that they thought were the best qualified. They made the mistake that has more or less changed the T. C. U. of yesterday to the one of today . . . A T. C. U. THAT IS CONTROLLED BY THE BROTHERN OF THE CLIQUE!

This clique is one that formed during the first few weeks of school. This clique calls meetings of the Council and then changes the meeting date to suit only the clique so that anything and everything that they want can be put through without any apparent dissension. Another weakness of the present Council is the apparent ease with which the faculty can dictate the policies it wants put into effect through the student governing body. This appears to me as being very undemocratic.

The reason for this long winded dissertation on the wiles of politics is simply this: a student this semester should think twice before casting his or her ballot in the spring election.

He or she should always remember that the vote of today rules the campus tomorrow . . . DON'T MAKE THE SAME MISTAKE TWICE!

If you want a harmonious student government vote for those candidates that SAY they will do their best with the welfare of the student at heart. If the candidates that are running don't come up to your standards, get your own man and BACK HIM TO THE LIMIT!

Singers Need Another Stop

Glee Clubs Want One More Concert to Finish Tour to New Orleans.

Wanted—more confirmed stop. It might be added that, if found, Jack Sherley, business manager of the Men's Glee Club and Women's Chorus, would like to hear about it.

For two weeks, Jack has been one short of the number of concerts necessary to carry nearly 40 members of the two organizations to New Orleans and return at no expense to themselves, but as yet can get nothing better than a tentative promise.

Several weeks ago, certain people in Tyler showed interest in having the groups stop over on the return trip, but plans there fell through. A similar procedure took place as Sherley dickered with Longview officials last week, leaving nothing definite on the slate for one night of the tour which will last from April 25 to May 5.

Jack hasn't given up yet, however. He has prospects of scheduling an appearance in Lake Charles or Crowley, La., which will follow the con-

KAMPUS KEYHOLE

by Helen Ruth Verheyden

Since TOM SWILEY and MILDRED STRONG are so reluctant to part that TOM just CAN'T get to class on time . . . and since GENE DAWSON spends his time roller skating and VIRGINIA ROBERSON has started playing light frolicsome melodies on the backstage piano, it leaves us with the belief that Spring must have invaded the campus. Or maybe the proof lies in the fact that WALTER SPILSBURY (whom EVERYBODY knows is a confirmed bachelor) is hunting a beautiful girl to escort to the B. B. A. banquet. . . .

Whoever she is, we'll bet she'll be wearing the new Lucien Lelong POKER CHIP RED lipstick that JANIS WARREN and FRANCES STEVENS are primping with these days . . . it's that scarlet (not O'Hara) color that brings Goode Hall men a-wooing, and comes in the most oomph container we've seen about the campus. Get it at RENRO DRUG STORE No. 4, 715 Main or No. 16, 2200 Forest Park Blvd. . . .

in—you know, one like those that FRANCES DRENNAN and LORETTA HOUTCHENS wear!

Spring isn't spring without waltzes . . . and DUSTY RHOADES to play them for you. Which is just what he's doing at the HOTEL TEXAS DEN, every evening and especially on T. C. U. evening (Friday) . . . you'll like the sweet sing of his four violins . . . the ballads sung by vocalist KEN SWITZER . . . the hot tunes jittered by EMORY HAMMER and the glamorized swing as displayed by HELEN NASH. That's not counting DUSTY RHOADES himself who takes the baton for everything from jive to Strauss—and who sings sweetly in the bargain. In case you didn't know, the DEN invites you down for luncheon dancing, too, with luncheon priced at only 45¢!

And now for your more informal moments . . . for those times when you slip into a pair of wedge heels to run downtown, or go to the druggy for a coke or just walk across the campus. If you want a shoe that will fit every costume in your wardrobe, choose a wedge heel from PAUL'S, 606 Houston, in BANANA BUCK! It's the most delicious color you'll ever meet, and you can get it in wedge heels, straps or ties or oxford styles. For more dressy occasions, choose a pump in BANANA BUCK, and you'll have a shoe change for every hour that will match every dress . . . Choose your sports and play shoes from PAUL'S, too, for they have top styles in pastels and polka dots and stripes—in fact, everything you'd want. Spot the ones ALLIE SUE BUTLER and HELEN JANE THOMAS are wearing. We don't have to give any more examples—go down and see for yourself . . . 606 Houston.

It's only a short walk down to one of the Forest Park bicycle academies, and still shorter over to the tennis courts. That's not counting the picnics and outings you'll be going on in the next few weeks. All of which adds up to the fact that you'll be needing lots of changes in slacks suits, and GAN'S, 610 Houston, has them at only $2.95 up . . . Choose one suit in blue and yellow stripes or a tailored pin stripe combination of various blues and greys. You'll like the rose colored slacks and rose-shaded top, or the combination striped top—plain bottom ones. Whatever your taste in slacks suits, you'll find them at GAN'S, and priced so that you can afford several complete changes. Buy a couple of suits and combine, if you like to mix your colors!
