HAVE A LITTLE FUN!!!!

Students and especially seniors, have a little fun before you leave this dump. Pleasure is the spice of life; get your share of it right here at T. C. U.

Your library deposit will afford a full day's diversion of the finest type. Swipe a few current magazines, buy yourself a first edition, CHEAP, and lift a set of reference books. After this you should have enough ideas to start on a real good time.

Dormitory students, you, too, have money invested in the University. Might as well get it before they beat you to the draw. Six dollars will provide no end of the most delightful pleasure even in your dormitory. Set fire to your roommate's mattress, flood the works by letting a plugged lavatory run all night in a vacant room or better, in your neighbor's, break out all the hall lights, and finally (accidentally) turn over every fire extinguisher you see.

The University really expects you to do these things. . . Don't let the administration down.

Looking Back At Building Plans in 1965

Milestones in T. C. U.'s history: 1915: "Plans are underway for a building program for T. C. U.," reports the president of the University.

1925—"Plans are underway for an expansion program for T. C. U.," reports Prsident Waits.

1935—"Plans are progressing for the new buildings for T. C. U.," reports President Waits.

1945—"Our building plans are completed and work will soon be started on several new campus buildings," reports President Waits.

1955—"Building work will positively begin shortly, as soon as construction contracts are signed," reports President Colby D. Hall Jr.

1965—"Expansion work in T. C. U. has been indefinitely postponed until new blueprints can be worked out," reports President Waits (he's back again). "The old set died of old age."

Shelburne Saves Snipes To Remember "Her Girls"

One of the most unusual hobbies on the campus is pursued by Miss Elizabeth Shelburne. In the top drawer of her dresser repose hundreds of cigarette stubbs that "her girls" save for her. She keeps these little mementoes to remind her of each girl. She has each tagged with the girls name and the year she went to school.

Each stub is regarded with extreme sentiment. When she gets a duplicate, she unrolls it and puts the tobacco in a large can for the boys who drop in and are out of tobacco.

There is a rumor that she is the originator of the term "snipe hunting."

Around and About

By JOHN FRAZIER GOODSPEED Who is still running

JIM NICOL really put up a howl when the Student Council cancelled the dance Saturday night. Made a noise something like "o-w-o-o-o!" Pigs came in from miles around.

You and what army will ever convince ROGER NEELY that anybody can beat him in a snooker game when he isn't sick.

GUY BAIRD must really have the "sweet head" over W A H O O MEADOR — or maybe he's the only one left who doesn't know. Incidentally t h e r e was really a piper-oo of a story about L O I S and that ex-Frog playboy photographer, ROY HEARNE, that was confiscated by the British censors on the high seas.

TOM SWILEY, who had to back down recently over an editorial about P. T. and varsity athletes offered this handsome, smiling personality plenty of samolas for the original cartoon that appeared Friday. We will keep him bidding, however.

Little old BETTY DYER has purchased a copy of Pine Top Smith's original boogie-woogie piano solo and can really break it up.

ALLIE SUE BUTLER has really been leading GEORGE CAMPBELL a dog's life. When not with GEORGE, she keeps company with HARRY HITT, WOODROW LIPSCOMB, O. T. CLARK and most anyone else.

TOM EVANS and blond CLARA LEE JONES have trouble keeping things straight between them, since CLARA LEE is trying to take care of two Romeos at the same time but getting mad at TOM if he takes a trip off the straight and narrow.

How did CLELAND EARLY manage to have his car break down in the most convenient spot, a roadside park, when returning from the Press Club picnic last week? He was escorting JIMMIE LEE SCHROEDER. Also in the car were: KEITH GUTHRIE and MILLICENT MOSELEY and JIMMY MCGALLIARD and JUSTINE MOORE. They almost lost MCGALLIARD in G r a n d b u r y where a penny picture show was advertised. Double feature at that.

Here we go again! EARLE CLARK threatened to tear BILL PATTON limb for limb if he connected his (EARLE'S) name with any other girls except LOUISE DUNAWAY. Do you have a guilty conscience about inviting MARGARET KUNDTS home with you for the Easter holidays, EARLE? BOB COOK and CHOYCE POPE have called the whole thing off for the 65th consecutive time a (conservative estimate). CHOYCE got too bossy; so BOB decided to get even and not ask for a date. Result: he got his ring back.

Why doesn't JEANETTE HOPKINS try getting herself a boy friend of her own for a change? Some of her 'friends' might enjoy a rest. JACK LEARY and KATY DEVOL, now on the Glee Club trip, vowed to stay yaah their entire stay in New Orleans. New Orleans of all towns.

Nobody tags you at a dance with the chilling touch of BILL BACHMAN—bless his soul. TANCE NEAL and "FAIR ELIZABETH" STORY really like the convenience of their first floor room in Tomlinson. If the front door didn't squeak, they could slip in at any wee hour they wanted too.

We can't keep up with the love life of FRANCES STEVENS. She refused to go steady with "ITASCA," but she has plenty of dates with him. Then there are BUNNELL, PRYOR, HARTLE, etc. whose faces are familiar around Tomlinson.

HELEN FARRINGTON has been getting in all of her friends hair lately . . . First she and DANDY HOLTE are having it out over SONNY GROSST. Helen took DOROTHY GARNER'S boy friend from A. & M. out and it is said she did all the good. She did enough to make Dorothy phone her up and give an old time cussing.

L. H. McDANIEL spends most of his time social climbing via GLORIA LUPTON and her super convertible Packard.

It was a day in May And there sat one DICK JAY He had his arms about her And said he'd never doubt her. She said I cannot love you For this is how they dub you— The boys who play will pay and pay 'Cause the Purity Squad is headed by JAY!

SCRANTON JONES says that PEGGY JOHNSTON hurt his heart and his pride, she promised to stay by his side, so this time he's really through! Oh Yeah!!

Artie Bryson To Investigate Studes' Morals

Executive and administrative officers of the University were in an uproar yesterday after Mrs. Artie Bryson, faculty radical, announced that she had appointed herself a committee of one to investigate "immoral" activities on the campus.

The colorful, ebullient Mrs. Bryson, in a statement to the president's cabinet, said that she was horror-stricken at the antics of University students.

"The moral plane of the students here is at a deplorable level," she spieled to the cabinet in its weekly executive session at the Clover Grill.

"Why, only day before yesterday I saw two boys smoking in the Main Hall and later I caught Cleland Early holding a girl's hand on the campus—in plain sight!"

She went on to say that "they didn't do that in my day," and "I'm going to stage an investigation that will put that small-timer Martin Dies in the shade."

President Waits approved her action, but added that the investigation must not include faculty members.

Farrington & Simmons 'Storm Bastile' at A&M

Misses Helen Farrington and Betty Simmons spent the weekend recently visiting friends at A. and M. College. While there, they made their headquarters at the Bastile. Miss Farrington was the guest of Chip Rountt, and Miss Simmons visited (?), just anyone who will foot her bills.

Misrepresentative Studes Named In Recent Poll

In a poll taken by the Yellow Peril staff, it was found that those who were suspected of being "Misrepresentative Students" really are. Eighteen were chosen including several boys and several girls.

Everyone voted (including Jarvis Hall), because they admitted that it was a good idea to give those credit who really deserved it. As one of the contest winners put it—"Anybody can be representative, but only a good man can misrepresent."

You know who they are, but here they are anyway:

BIBLE—Joe Russo: This boy with his disciples and followers congregate usually at the Wayside Inn. He is a smart kid, all right. Joe takes his lessons to the Wayside to study, but usually ends up at 511 Burnett. Yep, we think Joe fits this position of honor perfectly.

JOURNALISM, Spud Taylor: Spud doesn't really take Journalism, and really shouldn't have this honor. It was a close race between him, Ben Pendarvis, Duane Kellam and Bill Haworth, but Spud is in the Journalism lab more than anyone of the aforementioned; so he gets the honor of misrepresenting the Journalists. Nice work, Bettye Bob.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION, Don Looney: When Mr. Prouse was asked who was the worst in his class, he immediately mentioned Looney. Looney is still classified as a freshman, but has played out his eligibility in athletics. Nice goin', Ipana, maybe you'll repeat next year in this same column.

ENGLISH, J. D. McCutchan: This boy, ladies and gentlemen, would misrepresent anything. He is the fat little red-headed guy who runs around popping off all the time. He is a chum of Pat Steel. Yeah, they both major in English. McCutchan is the misrepresentative one though, because he is a stooge of Steel! Get that! Yeah—a stooge of Steel's.

Walker: His nickname is "Mustardseed." He is a pet of Prof. Fallis, but can muster no more than a "D." He easily won the title because he doesn't drink beer. Yes, Betty Claire Pray takes P.S., and was voted near the top.

MATHEMATICS, Frank Kring: Frank is a pretty good football player and student in History. "I like arithmetic," said Kring with his tongue in the corner of his mouth and tearing his trousers leg to shreds, when interviewed by the Y. P. reporter.

BIOLOGY-GEOLOGY, Rex Culbertson: Rex has taken frosh Geology for three years. He is a pitcher on the baseball nine. He got to pitch to batting practice once, too. If he doesn't watch out, he will be taking frosh geology again three years from now and will again repeat as most misrepresentative.

CHEMISTRY, Wilma Rutherford: This little girl just loves to make "stench bombs," and toss them in the halls. She is okay in the subject despite the fact that she was advised to drop the course at midterm. She dropped it.

PHYSICS, Bill Ewell: He doesn't even go here anymore. Excuse us.

SOCIOLOGY, Elizabeth Ann Jordan: Since Rumph has left for Washington, she has been getting around pretty well, and has been using her Sociology to a great extent. But she is still the worst in her class, because the guy named Al is almost as bad as Rumph.

MUSIC, Dick Everett: One only has to listen to Everett sing one note, and then they know that he is pretty bad. No, he isn't a musick major, in fact, he doesn't even take music, but he hangs around outside the music room with a gleam in his eye.

ART, Woodrow Adams: He can't even write, much less draw. During football practice he points his toe downward and draws in the sand all the time. It really is sorry.

Pleasure Spots to Hold "Free Week" for TCUs

Billingsley's Bull Corn

By "BOAR SHOAT JACK" BILLINGSLEY

O. K. So this has got to look like a real newspaper and all papers have a sports column, so we gotta have one too.

This has been a great sports year for Texas Court- ing University. Led by Capt. Joe Russo, the Frog Muggin' Team went through their schedule without a defeat. The squad, made up of Russo, the Breckenridge Trio (Bob Groseclose, Lester Rector and Floyd Thompson), Bob Johnson and "Lover" Looney, defeated T.S.C.W., Hockaday, Smith College, Vassar and Sweet Briar on successive Saturday nights. The final homecoming game with the Sweet Briar "Rowdies" was a run-away for the Purple. The gals gave up without a struggle, almost.

The Yellow Peril at this time wants to dish out oodles and gobs of praise to the men's physical education department for the fine pageant that they presented at the Pioneer Palace last week. Director L. R. Meyer and his assistants, Poss Clark and Al Smith, put out an exquisite production. The highlight of the pageant was the sweet little nymph dance that Howard Grubbs, Don Looney, Bill Crawford and Durward Horner put on. Looney made a magnificent picture with his huge muscles bulging forth from beneath his cute little gown of chese cloth. Grubbs, as Queen of the May, wore a stunning ensemble of muslin and net, with oilcloth boots. The finale of the pageant made a beautiful spectacle when Earle Clark, Bill Jones, Jack "Fats" Waller and Carl Anderson came tripping out from behind the bar, waving wands of glittering silver dust. Meanwhile, Lester Brumbellow crooned "Flat Foot Floogie" in his throaty baritone voice.

The faculty football team won their annual game with the Jarvis Hall gridders 1 to 0. However, the contest was played under protest by Coach Shelburne of the Jarvis team. She claimed that the extra point that "Tiger" Gayle Scott booted through the uprights in the third inning was illegal in that no touchdown had been scored that necessitated an attempt at conversion. The matter will be decided at a meeting of the athletic committee of which the "Tiger" is chairman, so you know the outcome.

This corner has had thousands of letters asking what has become of our gridiron heroes of that national championship team of 1938. Heer is what some of the boys were occupied at when last heard from: I. B. Hale—After his coaching contract at Kilgore High School ran out, he opened Hale's Tasty Tavern in suburbs of that oil metropolis. Forrest Kline—In December 1939, "Bushes" was thrown into jail in Vera Cruz, Mexico, for

Waits Abolishes Football; Meyer Not to Be Prexy

Football is to be discontinued on the Texas Christian University campus, beginning next year, according to a late release from the office of Pres. Eddie Waits.

Waits' explanation of the action of the school board in deciding this is that Coach Meyer is being privately boosted as the next president of the school. Clearing his throat, Waits said to a visiting reporter, "Harrumph! Quite obviously this would be undemocratic. We can't allow our athletics to govern the school. Besides, Meyer is too young to be a responsible president. He lacks in dignity, and his after-dinner speeches aren't long enough. Why he can't even quote 'Than-topis!'"

So, in order to forestall the movement of "Meyer for President," the source of the movement is being done away with.

Husking bees, pie baking contests and quilting parties will take the place of football. Waits and Business Manager Pete Wright have been secretly working on this for some time. They think it will be more in accord with the atmosphere of the school. It will also make them feel at home.

Meyer's only comment is, "That's a lotta boloney! I wouldn't be president of this place if they didn't allow anyone but football players to go here. Besides, the boys are wanting too much salary to play next year. That's the real reason they're doing away with football. It's all right with me. I can retire on the proceeds from my next book, "PUNT, PUNT, PUNT."

Waits countered with the statement, "So they were trying to get me outta here. Ha! By the time I get tired of making speeches, the grass on this campus will be growing through the floor of Goode Hall."

Boys Decide to Go Pope Gregory One Better

Not to be outdone by Pope Gregory, Clark Hall boys have named the days of the months after girls of T. C. U. It seems that the months were all already named and there were not enough weeks to go around, so the boys named the days as a fitting tribute to the fair damsels.

forgery and has not been heard from since.

Allie White—Allie's married. 'Nuff said.

Ki Aldrich—Last November Ki Aldrich was discovered playing center on the Fordham football team under the name of Andres Froloskopitz.

Bud Taylor—After trying to play football at T. C. U. for one more year, Taylor went back to Schreiner Institute for a post graduate course in fifth grade geography.

David O'Brien—After trying for two years to get his degree in geology, The Mighty Mite switched to home management and will be graduated in June.

Brumbellow Suspended; Bryson to Prep Cagers

Lester "Mike" Brumbellow, Texas Christian University basketball and assistant football coach, was today suspended indefinitely by the Board of Directors of the Southwest Conference. Dr. Gayle Scott, T. C. U. representative on the board reports that Brumbellow was discovered going from one conference school to another trying to bribe basketball stars into coming to T. C. U.

"Why, in one case," Dr. Scott reports, "Brumbellow offered to send one player's four sons to college if their father would represent the Purple and White on the hardwoods."

When told of the board's action against him, Brumbellow twisted his long black mustache, downed another "shot" of Doc Cyrus' cherry coke and growled:

"I don' keer. Th' game wuz gettin' too sissy anyway."

Meanwhile, until Brumbellow's reinstatement, Mrs. Arty Bryson will have full charge of the cage team. The new coach's first act was to announce that next Saturday's game with the University of Hawaii would be cancelled because of a showing of "Hamlet" at Ye Literature Lovers Theatre at Third and Jones Streets.

Lot of Leg Is New Coed Style

The new styles for next year have been forecast by Dean Ellie Hellburne this week. "I hope that my selections will prove satisfactory to the entire student body."

For the girls she has chosen slacks and halters for all laboratory work. And for classroom wear she predicts that shorts and halters will be the rage. Tennis skirts will be the prevailing style for the dances.

Miss Shelburne plans to rig up a secluded place for the girls to take their sunbaths, but she will not disclose the location because it would be too easy for the boys to peep.

"The shorter the shorts (isn't that cute?) the more stylish they will be. I intend to make the girls feel free to wear what I have suggested by starting the craze myself," disclosed the Dean of Women Hellburne.

"Tourist Camp" Woodyard Praised by S. W. Hutton

Triple promotions have been received by several boys since they started their life's work here in the University. Bob Ferguson and Jack Leary, though only freshmen, have been put in the fourth year course in Campusology.

Jimmy Woodyard, also a major in Campusology, has been praised as a shining example in his academic work by Registrar S. W. (Morning After) Button and has been put in the graduate school. Jimmy is minoring in Arborology. He formerly lived in Clark Hall, but now stays in various tourist camps around the town, dividing the business about equally. His protegee is Beeky (will ya, or won't ya) Ezell. In another year he should equal the record of Woodyard if he will drop the strong arm technique.

Here's Advice To Help Gals Be 'Stacked Up'

The Department of Why Take Physical Education for Girls has prepared a series of exercises for all coeds who wish to go into training for the annual Whya-pageant. If directions are followed accurately, the gal should have no trouble in—well, just no trouble.

Pupil will please strip for comfort. This includes removal of all top clothing or anything else that may get in the way.

Exercise 1. This is the limbering up exercise. Place feet forward with toes pointed outward. Touch floor with palms of hands. Do this until the creaking has stopped or until you think it (or you) are silly.

Exercise 2. This is the toughening process. Put left leg over right shoulder. Put right leg over left shoulder. The fall shouldn't be too hard and it is not cricket to use pillows.

By this time you should have worked up a good sweat. Remove rest of clothes to prevent b. o. You can also pull down the shade, as the fellow across the street has seen enough.

Exercise 3. Rise on ball of right foot and kick left leg straight out. Throw shoulders back and shake head. Boy, do you look funny!

After completing exercises dress quickly and see nearest doctor. If you take these exercises, please answer the following question:

Don't you think these exercises have helped you or don't you or do you?

Williams, Ayres Fix Courlin' Bench

Taking their cue from recent operations abroad, Charley Williams and "Yo" Ayres recently spent a day camouflaging the "courtin' bench" of Tomlinson.

The "courtin' bench" is a regulation size iron bench such as are commonly seen on the Texas Court-in' University campus. These two "benchwarmers," however, spent a day redecorating their favorite spot. The bench has now been painted a dull green.

"We painted it green," says Williams, "so it wouldn't be so noticeable back there behind the cedar trees. We've heard some complaints from the neighbors," he explains.

The bench has had a hectic life, according to reports from Tomlinson Madhouse (as the dormitory is called). Mrs. "Be-Sure-You're-in-by-Eleven" Johnson, house-mother, is reported to have hidden the bench in the garage under lock and key. "She's such a timid soul," explains her stooge, Tance Neal. "She was afraid we'd be criticized by prexy."

"Tance wouldn't know, anyway," counters Charley's girl-friend. "She and Dub never leave the divan in the living room. Charley and I are more the out-door type."

Hammond Out to "Get" Dize If He'll Fight

"As hoid a woikin' bunch 'a guys as I've evah had de privilege 'a tutorin.'" That's the way Eddie "Walloper" Waits feels about the other members of newly-organized boxing squad for profs, the Frog Faculty Fist Flingers, of which he is both captain and trainer, due mainly to his long years of experience in pugilistic circles.

Seeking the flyweight post are two boys who, according to the Walloper are "naturals." They are F. E. "Blaster" Billington and "Pound 'em Paul" Dinkins, with the former favored to win out due to his excessive amount of vim and vitality.

Newt Is Cinch.

Nimble Newt Gaines is a cinch to get the call in the bantamweight division, mainly because his clever footwork and strong leg action, built up over a period of years from riding a bicycle, make him well nigh unbeatable.

One of the brightest lights on the squad is Jolting Jack Hammond, who not only is in the pink of condition, but pronounced by his trainer last week as being a bit red. Jack is now gunning for his archenemy and chief rival, Martin Dize, who he promises to give "a thorough lickin' if he'll just fight."

Feud Bitter.

Slugging Sammie Hutton and hard-hitting Holby D. Call are slated to vie for welterweight laurels. A bitter rivalry has grown up between the boys, the intensity of which can only be realized by listening to the continuous bickering between the two camps. Typical of the smirking remarks was that by Hutton recently, when, from the confines of his training quarters at the Dutchman's, he said, "Call is a skonk; I'll moilder him."

Larruping Lew Fallus, because of his terrific and brutal hitting power, is a sure bet for the middle-weight bid. "Dat Lew really knows his stuff when it comes to swingin' dem fists," opines Waits. Durable Don Gillis is "in" as light-heavyweight representative. Trained to a point where he's as hard as a rock, Gillis' natural ability to swing will no doubt win for him many fights during the summer campaign.

Heavyweights Hot.

The heavyweight position is the most hotly contested. Such naturals as Waits himself, "Oh Johnny" Lord, Rowdy Ralph Garrett and Powerful Pete Wright are out for the position, and the outcome appears to be a toss-up.

Mrs. Arty Bryson has been named feminine sponsor, because of her exceptional amount of charm, according to Waits.

Administration Seeks to Insert Life Into Campus

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

We, the administrative officers of Texas Christian University, are thoroughly convinced that life on our great and spacious campus has struck a stale-mate and we are determined to do away with the situation at once. We, then do hereby propose, and put into immediate effect, these rules by which further students will labor.

1. Effective this p. m., the establishment known as Varsity Grill will be converted into a place to quinch the thirst and elevate the spirits. (The moon table in the rear will also be hither-to placed in the front with a faculty representative holding the stakes.)

2. The chairs in the girls lounge will be brought up to the auditorium in order to better accommodate the Auditorium Rats.

3. A banquet hall will be established adjoining the School of Business office, so the Chamber boys won't have to go all the way to the downtown joints. The soft drink bar will be presided over by "Sermon Builder" Bill Patton.

4. All classes, by one-third majority, will meet at the place picked by the class. We, as the administrators advise the wholesome atmosphere of the drug store, however, Billingsley's "rat hole" would be more convenient for some classes in order not to disturb the championship affairs.

5. Beginning today, bells will be placed in the drug stores and the "rat hole" in order that the more industrious students may catch up on back work.

6. These articles have been arrived at after long consideration and after approval of the board, but if we have overlooked anything to add to the students life, the matter will be quickly attended to on the presentation of a petition signed by 10 qualified gripers.

(Signed)
President McShane Gaites.

Cullen Keeps Out Of Jail; Marries

Friends of the former Miss Frances Nell McGee and Frank Cullen were surprised by the news of their marriage at 4 a. m. Monday morning (after the Glee Club's farewell beer bust) in Weatherford. "We realized that they were fond of each other, but we never dreamed that Frances loved him so," said Miss Jane Nicholson and Jack Rollow, attendants.

Mrs. Cullen wore a Worth gown of green crepe bespangled with sequins, with a gold chain that is an heirloom of her family. Her accessories were brown and black, and her bouquet was of purple forget-me-nots. Miss Nicholson wore a plaid ensemble with red accessories. Her bouquet was of pink cobra flowers.

Jack (the "old Bat") Rollow was the best man.

The young couple will room with Miss Mary Frances Cobb until the close of school. Mrs. Cullen is withdrawing from school for the rest of the term.

Hear Ye! Varsity Show To Be Done By Profs

Unable to make the grade when it came to creating a brand new idea for their annual stage show, the T. C. U. faculty has decided to present their own version of the highly successful Varsity Show of this year.

When asked the reason for this decision, the official "you-can-quote-me" reply was that the investigating committee "feels that there is nothing wrong in using the Varsity Show plans since nobody will recognize it anyway when the faculty cast gets through with it."

The forthcoming colossal calamity will bear the title of "Faculty Folderols" and Laurie (Baby Doll) Surley will have charge of direction.

Believing in going the original production one better by having a bigger and better stage, the unfinancial committee has arranged for use of Casa Manana. (Of course, this isn't supposed to be published, but the committee just had to boast to the inquiring reporter the simply ducky bargain they got on use of the famous show place.)

On with the show! In the "Glimpse of You" waltz number, Hula Lee Garter will have the lead with Johnnie Lord as her main partner. For this routine, Miss Garter will wear a white satin hobble skirt, slit to the knee. Other chorus men will include S. P. Zigzagler, Wean Dall, S. W. Mutton, Butch Meyer, Gail Blott, La Dunigan, and Billie (Pudgy) Morro.

In the "Flash in the Pan" sequence, little Becky Smith will play the part of the dazzling colored damsel and swing it in the very hottest manner. Advance reports have it that this kind of a part is right down her alley. Cortell Horsapple will be her great big "gambler man."

Peter (Limber Legs) Right and Artesia Briceson will take care of the jumpin' and fivin' in the jitterbug solo. An ambulance and two attendants will stand by in case of a forced landing.

Be A. Grouch and Frances Howell will take care of the torrid tripping in the tropical number with Frances swathed from head to foot in yards and yards of ruffles. The chorus girls dressed in costumes "simply radiating oomph," according to Lizzie (Pure as a Lily) Shelly, will include Helen Lurphy, Lettie Jo Bummings, Bonnie Lass Inlow, Babel Bajor, Katrina Mooranovich, Hazel (Bib An') Tucker, Hortense Hinton, and Haha Sherer.

Ham-on, Dies Plan Big Investigation

By VERNIE BARBER

Word was received on the campus this morning that Dr. W. J. "Red" Ham-on has been appointed to act in collaboration with Martin Dies in his sweeping investigations. The announcement from Washington stated "This appointment should aid materially in 'the cause.'"

Various business big shots and corporation heads have expressed the same sentiments.

Although proud of the honor bestowed this outstanding citizen, many expressed extreme dissatisfaction toward the action. Dr. Jawn Lawd is spokesman for one of the dissenting groups. De Lawd says, "I don't know who we will get to run for mayor now."

Ham-on released a statement to the press stating, "I guess I will accept the appointment, but I certainly do hate to give up my duties to the American Legion and advisory position to the DAR's. I am going to put those co-operatives where they belong."

Mayor Maury Bronco, prominent Southwestern showman, when reached for a statement was quoted as saying, "That figure-head, what's this country coming to? A fellow can't enjoy his breakfast for reading something in the paper like this."

Dengler, Caskey Wed After Snappy Romance

"He swept me off my feet, but it was fun," says the former Miss Margaret Caskey with a gleam in her baby blue eyes, which gazed with dog-like devotion at the blushing bridegroom.

"Shucks," stammered the Hon. Mr. Antonio Dengler, "Don't believe a word of it. She wouldn't even let me hold her hand until we were engaged." (Note: Woo! Woo! Tony.)

Dengler is now serving as the whole United States' head G-man—"G for garbage," he states unassumingly. "But I can stand a little of that for a little of this," he said with an adoring glance at the bride.

"Our romance started at the T. C. U. Varsity Show," Miss nee Mrs. Dengler informs the press. "Yes," says Dengler, "And a bright idea if I do say so. We could dance to the tunes of the show's orchestra backstage. (Aside.) It saved me the price of a honky-tonk."

Quick, The Flit, Campus Pests 1&2 Are A Feuding

Warning! You and YOU as students will have to come to a decision. Will you be on the side of the knee-panted, good deeding Boy Scouts, or will you go the way of the gun-shooting, rip-roaring, tobacco chewing cowboys of Cowntown? A feud of untold intensity has been smoldering under the surface of the School of Business office, and the heads of the Junior G-Men—Bill (Wanted 1000 votes) Caudle and old business scion Grandpap Erle Powell can't control themselves any longer—to quote Powell—it's either us or them.

A strict division has been made—all of the cowboys must stay on the grass. The Junior G-Men are broken hearted about this. "If they just refuse to CO-OPERATE in the KEEP OUR CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL project, we will carry on alone, unaided, unprotected," says Chairman of Brawls Walter Spillsbury. "But if one of those nasty old drug store cowhands dares set foot on our clean white sidewalks, I'll get him with my little hatchet," and he glanced menacingly at his tree chopping apparatus.

However, old grandpap Powell has high hopes for the grass: "Tobacco is good for grass," he insists, demonstrating with a squirt from his cud, "and between us cowhands and the grasshoppers we are going to put on the lawn, the lawn will probably thrive in spite of all we can do."

In the future, all easter egg rolls and hide-and-seek games will take place under strict supervision of the C. of C. but if you prefer wolf over the river, see the Boy Scouts.

More than 100 duels have been fought already over the question: "Who has the best brawls?" C. of C. claims credit with the S. of B. banquet, for which they furnished the gags. "If you can think up any worse ones than we did, call me up," said a C. of C. to a G-man. "And, by the way we made two of your members the goats, so there. Some chumps! Showing up in tuxes. Too good for the common herd, I guess."

So remember, if you go west, grab a six-shooter and take up with the cowhands. If you stay on the sidewalks, hold up three fingers in the scout salute, and you will receive a knife to defend yourself with.

First Reunion Held By '25 Club'

First annual reunion of the "25 Club" was held on the campus last week-end. Past experiences and old times were discussed at the meeting. Each member voted 25 dollars to a scholarship fund for the future betterment and maintenance of club property.

Several novel stunts comprised the entertainment program, among those being the reading of several pages from each others' diaries.

Among those present were Gene Scrugum, George Campbell, Chili McKinney, Ki Aldrich, Davey O'Brien, Allie White, Red Hoyle, Bill Crossfield, Herschel Gibbs, Danny Hamilton, and many others.

Committee Holds Investigation on 'Show' Technique

By MILDRED SMITH

One of the largest petting rings in the history of Texas Courting University was revealed last night by Special Investigator E. Mortimer Pantywaist in regard to the happenings backstage at the recent Varsity Show.

A group of couples (and some triangles) always managed to find a secluded corner while they were off stage, he revealed. "Some of the oddest formations (of people, I mean) appeared that I have ever seen," Pantywaist declared.

Dutch Ehlers, supposedly going steady, took nights about with Misses Justine Moore and Jimmie Lee Schroeder. "Very irregular," commented the investigator.

Malven Stevenson came dutifully out to the show to be a stagedoor Johnny to Peggy Johnston, but he got side-tracked by Margaret Helen Pyron. The result is history on the campus.

That Vance Gorman and Frank Boggeman couldn't find them a petting partner, even in their twin set of polka dot shorts, was pointed out by E. M. P. "That, I couldn't understand, because they are both such cute kids!" he commented.

Then (naturally) Roy Hearne managed to get two or more of the girls from off the stage and even some of those from out front. Notably in his list of victims were Katy De Vol and Allie Sue Butler who came with George Campbell. "George was too busy to care for Allie Sue in person, I guess," surmised E. Mortimer.

Those who just mildly entered into the festivities were: Clarence Easter and Margaret Head; Allan Kysar and Jeanette Hopkins; Duane Kellam and (she's a mystery yet); Jack Leary and Georgia Ratliff; and the rest of the cast.

"Poor Lois Meador. She didn't get a chance to do her stuff because her mother was always hovering protectingly near," wailed Pantywaist.

Marcella Bus was the lonely one in the show. Her one and only, Jack Sherley, was prohibited from the show cast because of his being a ministerial student. He feared that his participation would reflect upon his profession unfavorably.

"This is a thing that only comes once in a school's history, if the school is lucky, and we are extremely pleased at the marvelous publicity this has brought T. C. U.," declared Dean Oldy B. Lall, expressing the opinion of the administration. "We just hope you are able to do better next year."

Jean Walker has finally got Cleland Early where she wants him—up a tree.
