Prexies Cancel Previous Plans To Honor Dads

Banners to Be Furnished by Clubs—Special Day For Fathers in Spring.

By BETTY CLAIRE PRAY
After plans were under way to honor the "Dads" at Homecoming it was decided that it would be impossible to honor both the dads and ex-students at the same time. President E. M. Waits, Ex-Student Association President Harold Carrell and Student Body President Malven Stevenson agreed to have the Homecoming just for ex-students and to have a special day in the spring to honor the dads.

Fifteen banners will be displayed on the campus welcoming eyes back to their Alma Mater. At the President's Club meeting Wednesday it was decided that the senior class would be responsible for the banner on the Arch; the front of the Administration Building, the Chamber of Commerce; north door of the building; the Business and Professional Woman's Club; the main hall, Alpha Chi; the Cafeteria, A. P. O.; and the South door, the Mixed Chorus.

The Skiff will furnish the banner for Clark Hall; the junior class, Goode Hall; the Library, Bryson Club; the side arch, the Poetry Club; Jarvis Hall, Leti and Froettes; the Gymnasium, Brushes Club and W. S. A.; the Basketball Gymnasium, Los Hidalgos and the Mavericks; Brite College, the Dramatics Club; and the Band House, the Band.

Hostesses for Jarvis Hall and each of the houses have been named for Homecoming. Dean Elizabeth Shelburne announced that Miss Peggy Greene and Miss Sue Shipp will preside at Jarvis; Miss Marjorie Stevenson, Sterling House; Miss Frances Stevens, Tomlinson; Miss Clara Mae Jones, Gibson; Miss Frances Jones, Reed; and Miss Jean Sisson, Van Zandt.

Girls from each of the houses and an equal number of town girls will be in charge of the registration booth in the main hall. Ampersand will sell chrysanthemums in the Administration Building.

Scriptural Quotation To Be Walker's Sermon

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."
This verse of scripture will be used as the basis of a sermon, "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart," by the Rev. Granville Walker Sunday morning. "Sanctus," by Gounod, will be the anthem.

"Sight and Insight" is to be used as the Evensong message. Walden McIver will sing, "O'er the Stars There Is Rest."

Alpha Chi to Help Dress Campus for Homecoming

Alpha Chi will discuss the club's participation in the decoration of the campus for Homecoming at a call meeting 11 a. m. Monday in Brite Club Room.

Social activities and "important business" will be discussed also, according to Robert Glaze, president.

Seniors to Plan Social At Wednesday's Meeting

Plans for a social to be held in the near future will be the chief topic under discussion when the senior class meets at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Amphitheater.

"We want as many members to be present as possible, as attendance at meetings thus far has been poor," says Charlton McKinney, president.

Student's Sister Names Toy Cat "Jarvis Hall"

"Jarvis Hall, Jarvis Hall." No, this isn't a telephone operator in the girls' dormitory, but it is five-year-old Janice Cayce, sister of Miss Lois Jeane Cayce, Fort Worth sophomore, calling her toy cat.

No one knows why she so named the cat, but that was the first thing she ever called it. If Jarvis Hall is represented in the person of a cat, one is prone to wonder what animal she would name "Clark Hall" or "Goode Hall."

OFF TO DETROIT

Wednesday went these three Frog gridgers and 27 team-mates for tomorrow's game with the Titans. Top to bottom are Leonard Pugh, tackle; Bill Ramsey, halfback, and Beecher Montgomery, quarterback.

Dancers Must Pay Piper!

T.C.U. C. of C. Will Sponsor Dance to Aid Goodfellows

Charity begins at home, and tomorrow night it is going to begin over in the Big Gym at 9 o'clock. For the second time, the T. C. U. Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a dance to aid the Goodfellows with yuletide work.

"Every cent taken in will go to charity," says Harold Caylor, C. of C. president, "and we would like to see as many out as possible. We hope to make this an annual custom."

The chamber is co-operating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its yuletide work.

Admission will be only 25 cents a couple, and the music will be by the latest recordings. Festivities will last to the 12 o'clock deadline.

So stretch your muscles, rustle two-bits, come to the tussle and shuffle.

Freshman Elect Ramsey To Sponsor Class of '44

Professor Louis W. Ramsey was elected as sponsor of the Freshman class in a meeting Monday, Nov. 4.

Plans were also made for the first Freshman social of the year which is to be a picnic at the home of Earnest Allen Nov. 20.

National Evening Colleges Elect Dr. Boeck Officer

Dr. A. L. Boeck was elected vice-president of the Association of University Evening Colleges at its annual meeting in Omaha last week.

Serving with Dr. Boeck as officers of the association are: President, Dr. Caswell Ellis of Western Missouri University and secretary-treasurer, Dr. Willis P. Spivey of Drexel Institute in Philadelphia.

Class Favorites To Be Named On Wednesday

Six Boys, Six Girls From Each Class Having Most Votes to Be in Run-off.

"Nominations for class favorites in the yearbook will be made Wednesday morning between 9 o'clock and 1 p. m. in the main hall of the Administration Building," reports Miss Mildred Smith, Horned Frog editor.

The six boys and six girls in each class who receive the largest number of votes will be in the run-off. The top three boys and girls from each of the four classes will be given a page in the annual and will be presented at the Presentation Ball Dec. 14 in the Basketball Gymnasium.

According to present plans there will be no outside escorts for the favorites, that is, each of the boy favorites will escort one of the girl favorites in his class.

The top boy and girl in each class will be given a large picture and then a smaller informal campus shot. The other winners will be given the regular page picture.

"Deadline for senior pictures has been set for Dec. 20. There will be a very important staff meeting at 11 o'clock this morning," says Miss Smith.

F. F. F. Discussion Set for Thursday

"The Merits and Weaknesses of Hemispheric Unity" will be the subject of a discussion over KFJZ at 4:15 p. m. Thursday, by Rufus Garrett, representative of the T. C. U. Frog Forensic Fraternity, and a representative of Cumberland University.

That night at 7:30 in Brite College Club room there will be a debate on "Resolved: That Nations of the Western Hemisphere Should Form a Permanent Union."

Cumberland will have debated 10 universities before coming here.

Dr. C. Allen True was made chairman of the nominating committee of this province of five states at a meeting of the directors of debate of Lower Mississippi. The election of officers will be held at a provincial meet in Abilene March 27-29 of next year.

"Check Up on Grades" Seen on Dorm Lists

There has been an academic list posted in both Goode and Clark halls concerning individuals who are below, or on the line in their university studies.

Students whose names appear, are requested to see Dean Pittman concerning possibilities of additional counsel or help in their studies. Through this help the student will have a good chance to improve his grades before mid-semester examinations.

All boys who reside in the halls are requested to review this list, and if their names appear, to report to Mr. Pittman for counsel between 9 a. m. to 12 a. m. and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

B. C. B. Chapels to Observe Thanksgiving Theme

"November is the time of Thanksgiving" is the theme that will be carried out by the B. C. B. Association this month when they present a series of chapel services concerning the various attitudes of giving thanks.

"Thanksgiving for the Ideals of Peace" is to be considered today when the Rev. Patrick Henry, Jr., pastor of the Preston Road Christian Church, Dallas, will address the group.

Devotional committee members for November are Harrell Rea, Clinton Bradshaw, Hal Sirois and Clyde Nichols.

'Show' Dates Set As March 4-5

Final arrangements have been made for the use of the Municipal Auditorium as the scene of the Varsity Show of 1941. Charlie Prior has talked to several officials, and the dates for the show has been set as March 4 and 5. Arrangements have been made with the stage hands union and the musicians union and they granted every possible concession.

The final writing of the show will be started this week and as soon as it is finished complete casting will be made and rehearsals will begin. This will be just before or after Thanksgiving.

Additional try-outs were held at Miss Maria Domino's studio Tuesday night. Those present were Misses Frances Mitchell, Virginia McCorkel,

S. C. A. Retreat This Afternoon

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott Will Be Principle Speaker At Club Dinner Tonight

"The Social Aspects of Religion" will be the theme of an S. C. A. cabinet retreat this afternoon and evening when the cabinet members go to the Eagle Mountain Beach Club.

Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, regional director of the N. L. R. B., will be the principal speaker. Dinner will be served to the members at the club.

Cabinet members include faculty sponsors, student leaders, and S. C. A. officers. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Sherer and Jim Gean, president, are in charge of arrangements.

"Morals" will be discussed at Dr. William V. Roosa's upperclassman group next Monday night. The members will meet at the home of Miss Millicent Moseley.

"The Psychology of Alcoholism" will be the subject of a speech by Dr. Philip B. Marquart, psychiatrist, when he speaks to Dr. A. L. Porterfield's social service group next Wednesday. The meeting will be at Dr. Porterfield's home.

"The Presidential Election" was the topic of discussion when Dr. H. R. Mundhenke's freshman S. C. A. group met at his home last Tuesday. The members listened to the election returns during the discussion.

"Dormitory and Town Student Relationships" will be discussed next Wednesday at C. H. Richards' freshman group. The meeting will be at Mr. Richards' home.

A skating party downtown was given for the members of Dr. John Lord's upperclassman discussion group Tuesday night. Those attending returned to Gibson for refreshments, and listened to the returns on the presidential election.

Women's Alumni Branch To Meet Tomorrow

The Woman's Branch of the T. C. U. Ex-Students Association will honor the Dallas Branch of the association at their meeting to be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Jarvis parlors.

Miss Siddle Jo Johnson will review and discuss the history of her book "Debbie."

C. of C. Names Bob Sikes Alumni Party Group Head

The Chamber of Commerce will be the luncheon guests of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company Wednesday.

Bob Sikes has been named chairman of the committee to plan a party for alumni members next Friday night. Special invitations are being mailed to all alumni members.

Stringfield to Lecture On Modern Chemistry

"Modern Chemistry in Everyday Life" will be the subject of Dr. R. B. Stringfield's lecture at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the Auditorium.

This is the first in a series of lectures sponsored by the T. C. U. Lecture Committee. There will be no admission charge.

DEAN HALL

left Wednesday for Detroit along with the football squad. He will visit his brother there and attend the game Saturday.

Other contestants were Joe Russo, Miss Daisy Rhome, Bobby Childers, Wayne Knipe, Charlton McKinney, Bob Johnston, R. D. Madland and Jack Reedy.

In the junior class race, Miss Gerry Sharp led Miss Helen Stallings by one vote with a total of 16 tallies. Jack Bauter was third with 10 ballots, and Aaron Barker's 9 votes were enough to put him in the finals. Other contestants were Miss Betty Ogden, Vardeman Shultz, Miss Kathleen Parker and Clarence Easter.

The sophomore contest ended in a deadlock between Miss Lois Jeane Cayce and Loyd George Whitley, both of whom polled 15 votes. Other finalists are Joe Campbell, with 12 ballots, and Jimmy Moudy with 6.

Other contestants were Misses Janis Warren, Jayne Maxon, Marcia Mills, Peggy Greene, Georgia Lee Norris, Dorothy Wingo and Virginia Tomme, and Lambuth Tomlinson, David McKee, Houston Foster and Harry Ward.

Miss Elizabeth Epperson passed the freshmen, her 23 tallies giving her a lead of 7 votes over her nearest rival, Marshall Mason. Misses Jean Vogtel and Sara Mae Sandifer are the other finalists, having polled 11 and 9 votes respectively.

Misses Jean Wray, Margaret Porter, Ellen Day, Doris Olson and Elma Flo Alexander, and Dan Wray, George Towles and Preston Stedman also participated.

Psychiatry and Religion, Homiletic Guild Theme

"Psychiatry and Religion" will be the theme for all ministerial students Tuesday noon when Dr. P. B. Marquart speaks to the Homiletic Guild. Dr. Marquart has been connected with the Federal Narcotic Farm, but at present is practicing psychiatry in Fort Worth.

"A perfect mental attitude is essential in the treatment of patients physically and spiritually," was the theme of the talk showing the relationship of minister and doctor given last Tuesday at the luncheon by Dr. Charles Harris of Harris Memorial Hospital.

Music as a Profession' Is Prof. Sannis's Topic

Prof. Claude Sannis spoke on "Music as a Profession" Thursday morning before the State Convention of the Parent-Teachers Association at the Baker Hotel in Dallas.

"One billion dollars is spent on music annually," said Prof. Sannis. "The world still remembers Brahms, Beethoven and Bach but not the rich men who lived in their time. A musician has a better chance of leaving his footprints in the sands of time than has a rich man," according to Prof. Sannis.

He added that he is not adverse to becoming a rich man.

Timothy Club Wiener Roast To Be Held Monday Night

"Crusted 'wieners' and hot cross buns!"

This will be the theme song of the Timothy Club Monday evening when they "troop" to the park for a "wiener roast," weather permitting. The occasion is the second monthly social held by the club, the second Monday per month being the date set.

Big Rally Planned For Friday Night

Say, what a pep rally! Its going to be gigantic, stupendous, colossal, crowded and loud! Head Yell Leader Bill Boren isn't putting out any information yet, but he says the students can look out for the largest rally next Friday night ever held in the history of Froglond.

"Keep your eyes open for clues," says Boren, "because we are going to toss you one surprise after another."

The school spirit of the Purple and White received a good brushing off at the T. & P. station Wednesday when the grid stalwarts were shoved off for Detroit by the Horned Frog Band and the student body.

The College Student and Patriotism

In a recent open letter to American undergraduates, Arnold Whitridge charged that students today are not only un-American and pro-Nazi, but downright immoral because they don't grab a gun and charter the first boat to England.

This opinion has been shared and similar ones voiced by a goodly number of individuals in a campaign which has seen the wholesale condemnation of the American college student as far as patriotism is concerned. He has been called everything from an intelligent talking, shallow thinking moron, to a coward of the lowest degree, a disgrace to the old families of trail blazers.

But if these quick talkers who criticize the intelligencia of tomorrow had a clear perspective, if they actually viewed the conditions as they are, would they be so quick to serve judgment?

The rush of youth, and of it a more than proportionate share of college students, to volunteer for service in the armed forces as part of the defense movement, to set aside personal plans and ideas at a time when the world and life are still to be faced, certainly goes a long way to prove the fallacy of such contentions.

Polls of student opinion conducted recently in several colleges bear out the belief that college students are not slackers. They are opposed to intervention in European conflicts because they are aware of the fruitlessness of war. They see that nothing is to be gained by trekking to Europe to be killed in a war which is being fought for the same reasons all other wars are fought for—greed, personal gain and self-preservation. American collegians are opposed to intervention not because of a sluggishness as far as the defense of ideals is concerned, but rather because it is obvious that alliance with England or anyone else is no way to defend these ideals.

In short, American students are afraid of having to fight someone else's war. They are not afraid of fighting their own fight if they are put to the task.

Some students, in parking near the school, believe in an eye for an eye and a fender for a fender.

We Won Anyway

A pep rally was held in the Auditorium last Thursday night. The yells of the few students who bothered to come reverberated against the many empty seats and were occasionally drowned out by noises coming from the boys over in Clark Hall. However, a reliable source reports that a few of the yells were heard all the way to Goode and Jarvis Halls—disturbing those who remained at home to "study."

In spite of the lack of school spirit, the Frogs won a football game when they were on the spot. Who put them there? The students!

"If the Frogs don't win this game, I'm through with them," a student was heard to say before the Baylor game.

Well, we won it—so now what is the student body going to do? The odds are against the Frogs tomorrow and they might lose another one. But win, lose or tie, don't lose your spirit. Yell so loud for those Frogs tomorrow that they can hear you all the way to Detroit. And next week—put on a real show of Frog spirit for the homecoming crowd.

Why College?

There have been thousands of words written on why one should go to college. There have been as many thousand words written on why one should not go to college. Some people contend that college is a bad influence—that it undermines the foundations and bases laid in the home—that the individual turned out by our colleges is an egotist, expecting the best in life to be handed to him on the proverbial silver platter.

Perhaps this was true in previous years. But the generation reared in the years of the depression does not belong to this group. This generation, to which we belong, is appreciative of the opportunities and advantages which are offered in the chance to attend a college.

In our day almost everyone has a college education. Lack of a degree is a strong detrimental influence in the attempt to get a job. For in our day, it is not hard to get an education if the driving obsession—the unquenchable urge for knowledge—is within the heart.

It may be true, as many argue, that the individual learns habits in college which he would not otherwise have picked up. Habits which do not further his best interests in society. But how can we be sure that this same individual would not have acquired these same habits once he was out in the world? Why blame all the bad and unhelpful habits on college?

Even if we should grant that this were true, there would still be the indisputable fact that college is a universal developer. The freshman learns that his own is not the only right viewpoint. He learns of the cultures and opinions of philosophers and thinkers of ages past which infinitely surpass his own. Thus he comes to realize the value of other people—his contemporaries. He begins to learn something of toleration. The sophomore generally is a carefree soul who learns the value of pleasure and recreation. He is fully aware of his own potentialities. A junior in college is a grand composite, holding some of the sophomore characteristics and promising some of the senior characteristics. These seniors usually wake up during their last year in college to the realization that their life will not always be one of pleasant undemanding associations. They soon learn that there is work to be done in the world and that they are the ones who must lead in its accomplishment.

And these college seniors—these young men and women who enter the world with four years experience in associations with their own generation and with the trained minds of their professors—enter the utilitarian world of today unmeasurably better able to cope with the problems which will beset them than those men and women who do not have such an education. The graduate will naturally have much to which he must adjust himself; but his training will enable him to accomplish this adjustment less painfully and with deeper, more influential results, than the knock-about training received by those who never graduate from any college.

WINNING CAST

was the group of sophomores below who defeated the freshmen in the play contest between the two groups Monday night. The cast of the winning play, "Bread," is from left to right Misses Peggy Greene, who won individual acting honors for the girls, Mary Charlotte Faris, Janis Warren, and Sara Ann Cabell and David McKee, winner of the individual acting honors for the boys, and Homer Baughman.

Class of '41 Clinches Fourth Straight Intramural Football Championship

By DUANE KELLAM

Like Old Man River of showboat fame, the big Senior team just keeps rollin' along.

Having already romped through a tough schedule undefeated and untied, the fourth year men clinched their fourth consecutive Intramural football championship Wednesday by trouncing the Juniors 33 to 19.

However, the game was a lot closer than the score indicates. It was a nip-and-tuck affair between the two teams until the last quarter, when the Seniors forged ahead with the two winning touchdowns by playing heads up football and taking advantage of their breaks.

The Juniors, the only team on the schedule given a chance to stem the Senior tide, played their finest game of the season and made the fourth year men hustle to stay in the ball game.

Dyess, Revercomb, Rankin and Allen accounted for all of the Junior tallies while Groselose, Billingsley, Lacy, Hoyle, Allen and Stevenson chalked up the Senior counters.

After the Seniors had chalked up their championship victory, the Sophomores spanked the Freshmen to the tune of 45 to 12.

The Frosh drew first blood with a tally in the first quarter. This didn't set so well with the Sophs but there wasn't a thing they could do about it until the opening of the second quarter and then they tied it up. After that it was the Sophomores the rest of the way. They ran, passed and blocked as never before and the score shows the results. The Frosh managed to get another tally across in the final quarter but it was a little late to start a rally on their part.

Dunn, Seltzer, Gifford, Kirkpatrick, Shreves and Padon made pay dirt treks for the Sophs while Huffman and Winel made the two Frosh tallies.

When the final game has been played and all of the statistics are in, this corner will pick an all-Intramural team. These players will be picked on their ability at defense as well as offense.

There are two more games left to play. It looks as though the Sophomores might have a chance to break the Seniors undefeated record if they can play the same type of ball next Wednesday.

OPEN FORUM

Open Letter to The Skiff:

Dear Editor:

The time is drawing near for the nomination of favorites for the 1941 Horned Frog. Each year this honor is bestowed upon a small number of students, and it always happens that the same students receive the honor each year, which hardly seems fair in such a large institution as T. C. U.

The honor is so great, it seems that the student body would confer it on different students each year. In other schools the favorite pages are passed around from year to year, and no student is allowed to be nominated for the position two times in his college career.

This seems a good idea, but the students of T. C. U. don't realize the necessity of variety in the favorite section. The passing of the honor around would tend to make the favorite section more interesting and would make the campus have a more democratic reputation. One person who is lucky enough to make the section the first year is therefore conceded the honor for three more years, because the students don't want to take the effort to pick out another one because the effort is too great to arouse interest in a new face.

The fact that boys will be included in the favorite section this year may be what the student body needs to bring to their attention the necessity of changing the faces in the favorite section from year to year, and may probe them away from the idea that it is impossible to elect another favorite because her opponent has appeared in the book last year, maybe the year before and maybe the year before that.

Wouldn't it be grand if this year the book could be new from cover to cover with lots of new faces and the real favorites of the school represented instead of the ones who have been represented before?

The students should keep the fa-

SPORTS SHOTS

by JACK BILLINGSLEY

If Coach Dutch Meyer carries out his plan to start his No. 2 backfield tomorrow afternoon up in Detroit, there are going to be some mighty determined boys in that starting line-up for the Frogs. It's when the reserves get a chance to start a ball game that hustle and determination become evident. Of course, the other starters that have been answering the opening whistles of these first six games have been in there giving all they've had, but they have gotten accustomed to that all-important moment when the game gets under way. In that starting backfield tomorrow will be three boys who have never actually started a varsity game for T. C. U. Beecher Montgomery at quarterback, Bill Ramsey at right half and Paul Smith at full. Smith kicked off to open the A. & M. clash this year, but came out immediately after. Gus Bierman, the other halfback, started the Baylor game last week. So it will be these boys' big opportunity tomorrow 'way up on that strange field in the big automobile metropolis.

While the season is far from over yet, one boy made the Frogs' all-opponent team last week. He was Jack Russell, the huge Bruin end from Cleburne. This big fellow was the outstanding Baylor player on the field in the Frogs' estimation and the best end they had played against all season. And the Purple has gone against some highly touted wingmen this year. But Russell ranks above such ends as Paul Severin of North Carolina, Jim Sterling of A. & M., Red Hicksey of Arkansas, and others. Russell is a sophomore and should really make Coach Morley Jennings a hand before he graduates.

Two boys who have been waiting a long time finally got their chance last Saturday against Baylor and they certainly made the most of it. Leonard Pugh, the big North Sider, and Paul Smith, the little Mason, were the two boys finally given an opportunity to show their wares. Pugh played about 55 minutes of hard bruising football at his tackle slot and while Smith only played about 20 minutes, he shone brightly. Both these boys are seniors and not until this year have they been in a ball game. Incidentally, both were given their chance through injuries to first stringers. Pugh took over right tackle when Darrell Palmer was injured shortly after the opening kickoff and Paul got in when Frank Kring got shaken up after a hard tackle. Pugh and Smith will be on the starting lineup tomorrow and will be trying to show Coach Meyer that he has been making a mistake by not playing them before now. We would like to see some other boys get their chance.

Who was the man that was causing so many injuries to the Frogs last Saturday? Well, you won't believe it, but it was none other than Kyle Gillespie, the Purple's own quarterback. Kyle accidentally was the cause of most of the players leaving the game in the last quarter. For instance, it was a Gillespie shoe that caught Logan Ware in the stomach and knocked all the wind from the co-captain. And it was also Gillespie who knocked Willie Roach out when the two hit a Baylor ball carrier at the same time. All of Kyle's unfortunate "damage" was not done to the Frogs. When Jimmy Witt, Baylor ace, was knocked out of bounds and suffered a twisted knee—yes, you guessed it, Gillespie was the lad who had tackled him.

"That's why we opened those holes for him," explained a Frog lineman after the game. "We were afraid he would just run us down if we didn't."

The Skiff Sports Prediction Board, that highly efficient collection of prognosticators, are not available this week (reason unknown but suspected), but we want to hereby go on record as favoring the Frogs over Detroit tomorrow by from anywhere from one to three touchdowns.

Frogs Ready For Detroit

'Young' Backs Head Lineup Against Titans

By JACK BILLINGSLEY

The T. C. U. Horned Frogs are 'way up in Automobileville, Mich., today where tomorrow, they will give their final performance in an intersectional game. The Froggies haven't fared too well in out-of-the-conference battles this season. In fact, their first victory of the season against Centenary has been their last win against "foreigners." The Tar Heels from North Carolina and Tulsa's Golden Hurricane treated the Purple pretty rough in their frays. However, tomorrow against Gus Dorais' Detroit Titans, the Frogs hope to smooth over their intersectional wounds.

T. C. U. is liable to catch the Titans in a very sour mood. Up until last Saturday Detroit U. was enjoying an undefeated season. However, those ornery Tulsa fellers came up to Detroit and handed the Titans

Capt. Alexander Leads Invasion

Frogs are a little cramped at the tackles. Bill Crawford and Bobby Sherrod, the dependable North Siders, will open at guards. Captain Clarence Alexander will be at the pivot post.

However, they will be four new faces in the Purple starting backfield. Meyer has indicated that he will give his "youngster" backfield a chance to go from the starting whistle. In this quartet Beecher Montgomery will be at quarter, Gus Bierman and Bill Ramsey at the halves, and Paul Smith at full. This is not a very hefty foursome, but it packs worlds of speed and hustle. The No. 1 outfit of Kyle Gillespie, Nolan Sparks, Logan Ware and Frank Kring will be ready to take over if anything goes wrong with the "youngsters."

For the Titans the main spring in their backfield will be a well built six-foot, 178 pounder from Grand Pointe, Mich., Al Ghesquire. This lad is a triple threat in the real sense of the word. He passes, kicks or runs with equal ease and is also an ace punt returner. Ghesquire has been the spearhead of the Titan attack this fall.

At the quarterback position the Titans have a fine performer in John Biringer. He is a fine passer and play selector, while letting his mates carry the ball. At the other halfback post will probably be Bob Keene. However, Jim Ellis and Paul McErean also start at this post. Fullback will be handled by Clyde Johnson, a hard running 190 pounder.

The Titans always have a stubborn forward wall and this year is no exception. Vincent Banonis will open at the center post and will be flanked by Captain Casimere Brovarney and John McManigal. Brovarney is the Titan's all-American prospect. At the tackle slots are found two big, rough lads, Ted Pavelec and Ed Rice. These boys were regulars last year and are winding up their eligibility this season. Howard Keating, Meryl Toepfer and Frankie Hayes alternate at the wings.

Horned Frogs Bounce Bruins By 14-12 Score

'King Kong' Kring Tosses Two Tallies—Willie Roach Boots Purple to Victory.

The Horned Frogs, after three weeks of vainly trying to find violets by outlasting a fighting Baylor afternoon and entertained the home folks by outlasting a fighting Baylor eleven 14 to 12. The win put the Frogs only a step behind the Aggies, Ponies and Owls in the conference and boosted the highly touted Bruins clean from the picture.

Phil Roach's accurate toe proved the margin of victory between the two teams. After each touchdown in the second and third periods, "Willie" dropped back and booted two squarely between the uprights for the difference. The Frogs tallied both times through the air, their old dependable way. "Manager" Meyer sent a new hurler, Frank Kring, to the mound and the big fullback fired two perfect pitches for the scores.

After feeling each other out for the first quarter, the two clubs really got down to the business at hand soon after the second period started. With the ball on the Bear 43, Kring took the pass, shot a short heave over the center to Connie Sparks, Sparks, just as he was hit by the Baylor halfback, lateralled off to Kyle Gillespie, who raced down the sideline and into the end zone. Roach's all-important toe made the score 7 to 0. The Bears lost no time in bouncing back when, on a tricky reverse on the next kick-off, Jimmie Witt scurried back to the 50 before Roach drug him down. They drove to the Frog 27 before relinquishing the leather.

Co-Captain Logan Ware was one of the standouts last week in the Frog backfield, doing his part in ripping the "good ole Baylor line" to shreds.

Wogs, Cubs Battle Today

Nix Will Lead Frosh Aerial Attack

The Polliwogs and the Baylor Cubs will furnish an anti-climax for the Frog-Baylor game when they meet in Waco this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock—"ole Jupe Pluvius" and the Waco officials permitting.

Originally scheduled for last Thursday, the game was postponed when a cloud burst deluged the Brazos River via the Waco Municipal Stadium, causing the Baylorites to postpone the game until this week.

But this brought no serious objections from Coach Walter Roach who is building his attack around quite an aerial bombardment, with Emery Nix, a boy who didn't play much in the N. T. A. C. game, doing most of the firing. Nix reported to practice late and played only a short time in the Wogs first game. But since then he has shown real promise with his bullet like passing and, while he may not start the game, he will still see lots of service.

Wog 'Power' Backs

Fred Taylor, who proved himself a powerhouse in the junior Aggie game, has been shifted to fullback, and with Bob McCollum, a Waco boy, gives the Wogs plenty of strength there. McCollum has been bothered with a leg bruise but should be ready to blast the future Baylor line into the past.

Coach Roach has indicated that his starting lineup will probably include Carson Kincaid and A. D. Hogue, at ends; Clyde Flowers and Bob Balaban, tackles; Dee Ezell and Allan Pike, guards; and Eugene Williford at center. The backfield will include either J. T. Webb or Emery Nix, quarterback; Frank Medanich and Don Ezell, halves; and McCollum or Taylor at fullback.

Last year the Polliwogs, headed by Dean Bagley, beat the Cubs by a 28-to-7 score. This season the two teams have both won one game. The Wogs downed the Junior Aggies from Arlington and the Cubs scored a stunning upset over a previously undefeated Kilgore Junior College.

From the showing made by the Cubs in this game, the Wogs have quite a task this afternoon if they are going to continue the string of victories started last year by the undefeated freshman eleven. And the report comes from down Waco way that the frosh have shown real improvement since their opening victory.

It is reported that Coach Jim Crow has molded a much better team out of his charges, since they downed Kilgore three weeks ago. The backfield is reported to be one of the strongest in many years. The opening quartet is composed of Kit Kittrel, Bo Robinson, John Curry and Paul Cook. The two C-men, Curry and Cook are both 200 pounders, good power runners and above par passers. Kittrel and Robinson are of the elusive type and have been dubbed "hipper-dipper" runners by the Waco scribes.

The Cub line is well fortified in all spots except guards. Here there is a weakness in reserve strength but the starters, Jim Bean and John Lampkin, are capable.

The only remaining game on the freshman schedule after the Baylor affair will be with the S. M. U. Colts here during the week preceding the Frog-Mustang battle.

Willie Roach Will Start at End

a bitter 7-to-0 setback, the same as they did the Frogs. So the Meyer-men are looking for a pretty serious afternoon against the Titans.

Coach Meyer has about decided to start a combination of first and second stringers against Detroit. The first string forward wall is sure to start. Connie Sparks and Phil Roach both turned in sparkling games against Baylor. Sparks probably played his best game since being shifted to end. Woodrow Adams and Leonard Pugh will start at the tackle posts. Pugh, who replaced the injured Darrell Palmer in the opening minutes of last Saturday's contest, was one of the outstanding men on the field and will probably play most of the game tomorrow since the

'We're Town Boys' Say One-Third Of Grid Grinders

Almost one-third of the entire T. C. U. football team played high school football here in Fort Worth. North Side leads the list of 14 players with 6. Paschal has 3, Riverside 2, and Masonic Home, Arlington Heights, and Poly each has 1.

Five linemen, Bill Crawford, Floppy Blackmon, Leonard Pugh, Enis Kerlee and Bobby Sherrod, with one lone backfield man, Charlie Conway, come North Side. Fullback Frank Kring, tailback Harmon Hightower, and tackle John "Pop" Cyrus are all from Paschal.

From Riverside come end Ronnie and halfback A. J. Brumbaugh. Paul Smith, fullback from Masonic Home, Mike Harter, guard from Arlington Heights, and Phil Roach, end from Poly round out the local boys.

W. S. A. to Sponsor Folk Dance Tonight

Mrs. Helen Murphy, sponsor of the Women's Sports Association, invites all the students to a blue bonnet square dance from 7 until 10 p. m. tonight at the Basketball Gymnasium. Many variations of the schottische, polka, put your little foot, rye waltz, square dances and cowboy dances will be taught by Herb Gregerson, who is director of the blue bonnet team of El Paso.

This presentation is sponsored by the W. S. A. and the admission will be 50 cents.

All W. S. A. members will meet today at 11 p. m. in the Gymnasium for discussion of future plans and a report of the annual state W. S. A. convention last week-end at Austin. Plans for a skating party will be announced. The tentative date has been set for November 21.

SKIFF SOCIETY

Chaucer's Anniversary Celebrated by Dr. Brown

By MILDRED SMITH
Through the waning din of political clatter, Geoffrey Chaucer returned to the earth and to T. C. U. campus Wednesday afternoon in the person of Dr. Carlton Brown, noted authority on the beloved English poet.
The eminent Mr. Brown helped us celebrate the 600th anniversary of Chaucer by carrying his small but interested audience back into the 14th century and into the work of Chaucer. Dr. Brown looked much as Chaucer must have looked. He was an impressively sweet looking man with white hair and a white mustache. His throaty reading of passages of Chaucer's works sent a thrill through the English students who attended.
Of course, there were also those students who came to gape, no doubt. Much disturbance was caused by jangling heart bracelets and the coming and going of non-interested students who kept the really interested from hearing parts of the address.
Dr. Brown will not be forgotten soon, especially by the sophomore English students. The professor made a recording after the address, for the use of the English staff in presenting Chaucer to the second year students and the advance classes. He read in old English, selections from Chaucer.

All that was needed to give a perfect setting for Mr. Brown was the background of the wall of the English office which has all the characters from "The Canterbury Tales" painted in blocks. The wall could have been moved, but maybe the Administration Building would have collapsed. It was interesting to visualize the characters discussed by Prof. Brown in the proportions of the drawings in the office, which were done by Miss Beth Lea, A. B. '40.
When this comes out in print, the majority of the students who attended the lecture will have buried Chaucer again, but it was worth the hour and few minutes it took to hear about the poet from one who really knows.
Now, back to the Twentieth Century for two items which Chaucer would surely have approved. First, the Goodfellow charity dance in the Basketball Gymnasium tomorrow night. The best way in the world to spend 25 cents. And second, the Red Cross is issuing an S. O. S. for girls who are interested in learning the art of handage making. Please apply at headquarters in the Majestic Building.
That's all for now. Come to the charity ball.

Miss Laura Shelton will be hostess for the bookstore employees at a dinner party at her home on 3050 Rogers street tomorrow. The Spanish theme will be carried throughout the menu and color scheme.
Those invited are: Misses Lois Puckett, Rose Alice Palmer, Clara Lee Jones, Vesta Lee Newsome, Joy Hart, Georgia Ratliff, Evelyn Old and Bob Mecaskey. Misses Mary Dee Rowland and Helen Butler, former employees in the bookstore, are also invited.

Miss Jean Marr was given a chicken dinner on her birthday Tuesday by the residents of Van Zanit Cottage.
Misses Mary Lois Springer, Helen Hale, Mozell Veale, Mary Frances Armor, Louise Flack, Jane Adams, Suzan Earhart, Jean Sission, Frances Shook and Marguerite Grey attended the dinner.
Los Hidalgos held its annual informal dinner dance at the Colonial Hills Country Club last night.

Miss Jo Marie Hutchinson entertained a group of her Jarvis Hall friends Halloween night at her Lake Worth home. A picnic supper was served on the terrace to Misses Ermie Johnson, Nadine Godfrey, Edleen Armstrong, Beverly Thaxton, Ann Kiechle, Mary Allene Ingram, Carole and Joyce Tillman.

Coles-Tomlinson Wedding Nov. 19

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Ann Coles to Homer Tomlinson, Jr., was made at a tea last Sunday at the Woman's Club given by Mrs. J. D. Buckalew, great-aunt of Miss Coles.

The wedding will take place November 19 at the University Christian Church, with Dean Colby D. Hall officiating.

Miss Coles was entertained with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday by Misses Gerry Sharp, Mary Lou Jordan, and Miss Anne Hutton will give a kitchen shower for the bride-elect this afternoon. Miss Betty Tomlinson, sister of the bride groom, will be hostess at a luncheon for the girls in the bridal party tomorrow at the Woman's Club.

Miss Rosemary Willeford, Miss Evelyn Weissenborn and Miss Jean Albrecht will be co-hostesses at a crystal shower for Miss Coles Wednesday. The following day Colby Hall will entertain the bridal party with a buffet supper at his home.

Twelfth Man Benched Because of Knee Injury

Trying to keep pace with the football team, George Hamilton, cheer leader, missed the game with Baylor due to the rehurting of an old knee injury.

George was on crutches and had to watch the game from the stands. His knee, which he hurt while playing football at Arlington Heights High School, had been bothering him again for some time, and the pep rally and snake dance before the Baylor game climaxed the reinjury.

By staying on crutches for a while and resting the leg George will be back with the rest of the yell leaders for the Texas University game to be played Nov. 16.

HAPPENINGS ON THE HILL

By BETTY WILLIAMS

Who said college students don't have any social life? Just to take this week as an example of what goes on in T. C. U. in the way of campusology, there was plenty going on. To start with Thursday, Halloween night, there was the traditional Bryson Club party. Playing Bingo were DUB RANKIN and TANCE NEAL, MILDRED SMITH and HOBBY STUCK, CEVILLE MOORE and "LITTLE FOOT'S" WHITE... YO AYRES dancing with BILL RAMSEY, HELEN HALE jittering with DICK HADEN. JACK ROLLOW showed up with a mystery woman, who wore a Hindu costume and didn't remove her mask all evening.

The juke box got a rest while GEORGE CAMPBELL played his Varsity Show tunes for GLORIA SADLER and FRANK BOGGEMAN to sing. BETTY DYER gave the piano a fit with her version of the BOOGIE WOOGIE.

Friday night we all (?) turned out at the pep rally in the Auditorium to practice up on the yells for Saturday's game, when GUSSIE PERRY turned out with a Hicks Field Cadet. JACK LEERY and KATY DEVOL were together as usual... Ex-Band Sweetheart HELEN MOODY turned up... KENNETH HAY sat in the student section... MARJORIE SHORT sat with the band to be near JULIUS WINKLER... EVELYN WOODLEY was there too with JIMMY PETTEY, OVETA STEINMETZ wore a mum and laughed when Baylor made the supposed touchdown on the second kickoff.

Then at the big hop Saturday all the girls looked like angels, sirens or something in their formals... LOUISE FLACK was radiant in red Miss Minnie O. Gilliland of T. S. C. W. will spend the week-end with Miss Janis Warren, sophomore.

Two weeks ago it was stated in this column that Harry Shear has a steady girl in Waco. To Jo Wingo and the others here, Shear asks us to say he was misquoted. But if the girl in Waco reads this, he's only kidding.

BETTY SIMMONS and BETTY BECKHAM thrilled the stagline in their white and silver dream dresses and FLORIE BUCKINGHAM was beautiful as usual in her white net... so was MARGARET HELEN PYRON... crooner TED NORMAN made quite a hit with his rendition of "Blueberry Hill," and PITTS CRUDGINGTON shined at the drums in a jam session... LAMBETH TOMLINSON showed a Baylor girl what T. C. U. dances are like... DOTTIE CODY, who went here last year, came up from Baylor... AFTER THE DANCE practically the whole crowd adjourned downtown to that Frog hangout on Main Street... where they heard BILL CHIL-DRESS whistle like a train and talk Spanish to BOB JOHNSTON... saw stags WOODY HALL and BOB KIRK leave for another spot while making the rounds... and VIRGINIA WILSON in a cross-fax coat...

Two lucky people from T. C. U. are with the football team on the special to Detroit... LORETTA HOUTCHINS and SWEETIE EDWARDS. BILL DUNIGAN has tentative plans to go and bring back a new car.
Did you hear the one about the two little urchins who went to the zoo for the first time? No? Well they saw an elephant, so one said, "Oh, I know what that is, its an elephant." "Naw," said the other, "That's a GOP."
