

C. A. A. Students Mixed Fun With Thrills in Learning to Fly

Now that most of the aspiring pilots on the campus have completed the preliminary course in the Civil Pilot Training and have learned a lot of technical flying terms, with which to confuse their friends, maybe it would be a good thing to get a little low-down on what went on behind the scenes—or maybe it should be, up in the clouds.

Jordan "Downwind" Jones sort of "starred" when the motor quit during his final test, 3200 feet above a night spot just off the Northwest Highway.

"It was as quiet as a graveyard up there, but I didn't have time to get worried about anything but where to set the plane down," Downwind says.

Incidentally, he landed just 30 feet in front of the inspector on the auxiliary landing field and was congratulated on his good work.

During the course quite a romance sprung up between Jack "Cocky" Fry and Miss Janet Ross, a railroad hostess and flyer. They got a little mixed up one night and were found out on the practice field in, not an airplane, but an automobile. What a mistake!

It is rumored that Cleland

"Ace" Early and his flying hat, the "Homberg Special," barely got past the inspector. Must have been embarrassing to "Ace" after remarking he was, oh well, you know Early.

Bill "One More Pound and He Wouldn't Have Made it" Caudle is still on a diet. He has to stay under the required weight limit or else.

Miss Jean Shoemaker and Hal Avants had a little trouble in keeping the planes all in one piece.

What a 720 power turn consists of is still a mystery and how a plane that is so far up in the stratosphere it is just a speck can be identified as a 65 horsepower Aeronca is more mysterious.

C. of C. Plans Rootin' Tootin' Ranch Week

THE EDITOR SAYS:

By V. G. SMYLLIE, JR.

With nearly everyone's resolutions having fallen by the wayside at least a week ago, it is heartening to see that the Student Council is still pushing its recent proposal to effect better lighting in the Library.

Pamphlets setting forth facts and pointing out the inadequacies of the present set-up, as revealed in recent investigations, are now at the printers. They are to be off the press and distributed soon among both students and faculty members to better acquaint them with the problem as it actually exists.

This corner fully endorses any such move to improve the lighting system in the Library, and hopes the Board of Trustees will see the light—or the need for it—when the matter comes up for consideration next month.

The need for more and better lights in the Library, however, is probably no more urgent than the need for signal lights on University Drive in front of the campus.

During the week before the Christmas holidays, two people were struck down by automobiles. These accidents were not the first of that nature to happen in front of T. C. U.—and probably will not be the last unless the City Council sees fit to install the signals.

While such a move would not assure immunity from accidents, it would certainly lessen the hazard and probably prevent the fatality which is certain to come eventually if pedestrians are forced to continue weaving through a maze of speeding automobiles each time they want to go to the drug store or library, or catch a bus.

A column of this type would not be complete without a dash of the humorous (well, a stab at it, anyway). To provide that, we called upon the poet laureate of Frogland, and here's what he turned out—

Basketball games the Frogs seldom win.

And there's a reason for it we're sure.

It might help a lot, If Bill Boren we got, To lead us in yells some more. Well, the idea is good anyhow.

The good will committee of the Council—assigned the difficult task of promoting unity among form and town students—is to be commended on its proposal to set aside one night each week for a general all-campus get together in the Basketball Gymnasium. Re-

Dead Week, Then Exams

Dead Week is defined by Miss Elizabeth Shelburne as "that time during which no T. C. U. organizations can have business or social meetings." This time will arrive for 1941 on the morning of Jan. 15 and will last until Jan. 22.

Each year before examinations a "dead" week is announced. This was started in 1934 under much protest by the students, who had the impression that all activity would be stopped.

"The individual privileges of the students are in no way interfered with," says Miss Shelburne. "I believe that the students welcome this period of relief from club duties, and are beginning to realize that their personal privileges are not hampered."

10c Frosh Hop Tonight in Gym

To have a last bit of fun and frolic before final exams start, the freshman class is sponsoring an informal party and dance tonight at the Gymnasium.

"All freshmen will want to be on hand for this gala affair," says Marshall Mason, class president.

Dan Wray is chairman of the committee on arrangements and his committee members include Miss Peggy Hancock, Miss Barbara Bracey, Gene Douglas and Bob Magoffin.

"Admission to the party will be 10 cents, stag or drag," says Mason.

Saturday Is Deadline For Annual Pictures

"Tomorrow will be the last day possible to have pictures made for this year's annual, and this deadline can not be extended," reports Miss Mildred Smith, Horned Frog editor.

Those who wish to have their name embossed on the front of their yearbook should make arrangements either with Harold Caylor of Miss Smith. The cost of this service is 25 cents and the amount will have to be paid before Feb. 1.

$19 a Minute Is Cost of Call To Betty Jones

"Drop another $50 please!" said the operator as Miss Betty Jane Jones talked to her brother, Gerald Jones, who called the family from the Dutch East Indies Tuesday, talking for six minutes at the rate of $50 for three minutes. Jones, an A. & M. graduate of 1938, is employed by a major oil company at Palembang, Sumatra.

Besides talking to his family here in Fort Worth, Jones conversed with his father, Enoch E. Jones, who is in Beaumont and was connected by conference wire on the same line by a San Francisco operator. Interested listeners to this $100 conversation across 12,000 miles included Miss Jones, David McKee, Woodrow Wilson, Miss Pat Talley, Earl Singleton and Joe Campbell.

Miss Woodley to Speak

"Classicism in Music" is the subject of the Recorded Musical Research Society when it meets at 1:30 p. m. Monday in Room 306. Miss Evelyn Woodley is the speaker.

To Have Dinner Trial, Dance

Now is the time for all you guys to lay aside your razors and for all you gals to put on your bonnets and calico dresses.

Just three weeks from today, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1, Frogland's favorite frolic, Ranch Week, will begin.

Such activities as a square dance, a ranch style dinner, a "Judge Roy Bean court trial," a rootin' tootin' western picture at one of the local theaters, a cigarette rolling contest, a trick and fancy roping contest and many other contests in connection with the square dance, will be featured in the second annual Ranch Week sponsored by the T. C. U. Chamber of Commerce.

Prizes for the best beard, the best costume and other such contests will be presented at the square dance at 8 p. m. Feb. 1 in the Basketball Gymnasium.

A parade through downtown Fort Worth is being contemplated. Invitations to take part in Ranch Week have been sent to Gene Autry, Gary Cooper and several other western movie stars.

A special invitation to take part in the affair has been extended to members of the Evening College by Harold Caylor, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Arrangements for put your little foot, the schottische and square dancing lessons are being made and further plans will be announced soon," says Bob Johnston, chairman of the Ranch Week committee.

CAA Training Finished by 11

Eleven students have completed the preliminary course of the Civil Pilot Training that will end Monday.

Those who have finished the course are Miss Jean Shoemaker, Winifred Cooper, Jack Fry, William Prewitt, Hal Avants, Paul Nelson, Spencer Smith, Joe Douglas Bauer, Bill Caudle, Cleland Early and Jordan Jones.

The ground course was taught by Dr. J. E. Evans and the flying by Leslie Bowman. The secondary course under the same instructors was completed last week.

New courses will begin Jan. 29. Both preliminary and secondary applications are being taken by Dean Colby D. Hall or at Mr. Bowman's office at Mescham Field.

"The quotas have not been set but we are expecting them soon and applications must be made as soon as possible," Dean Hall says.

The Next One May Be Fatal

A T. C. U. student and a T. C. U. housemother have been injured in two accidents which occurred on University Drive just before the holidays. The heavy traffic on the Drive has not been decreased; no precautionary measure has been taken to lessen the risks of accidents. There is no reason to suppose that there will not be another accident soon. And the next one may be fatal.

Are we to content ourselves with idle talk about the deplorable condition which now exists? Are we . . . the students, the faculty and the administration . . . going to wait until death changes our warnings into an ultimatum? Let's DO something before it is too late even for regrets.

The Skiff suggests that a petition for traffic lights at the dangerous intersections of University Drive be presented to the City Council. We must insist on the vital necessity for quick action if we are to fulfill any sort of responsibility for our students' safety.

Traffic lights alone will not completely solve the problem. But they would be a distinct help in reducing the possibility of future accidents. Without them, we are deliberately inviting tragedy.

Acc bogey man on the campus now seems to be "Flu Man Ah-choo."

A Divining Rod Of Student Opinion

Brought into the news by virtue of a spectacular break with the American Youth Congress amid cries of "Communism," the 16th annual meeting of the National Student Federation of America last week in New Brunswick, N. J., served a more vital yet less apparent purpose than the effecting of such a separation.

It exhibited the beliefs and showed the sentiments of the mass of American students in regard to the United States' position in world affairs.

A majority of the delegates, representing more than 100 schools from all 48 states, indorsed peacetime conscription and aid to Britain. In so doing, they placed the N. S. F. A. on record as one of the first influential student organizations to express openly an opinion on these vital issues. It was this move that was largely responsible for precipitating the split with the Youth Congress.

Whether or not any one student is in accord with the conscription measure and the aid-to-Britain program, this fact, thanks to the reliable segment of collegiate opinion brought to light by the meeting, remains self-evident . . . the average student believes in them and holds them to be the surest way to retain peace in America and facilitate further academic progress.

"Light of Faith" Shines in Church

The church is not, as some persons think, a passive organization. The record of growth of the University Christian Church under the leadership of the Rev. Perry E. Gresham is a fine example of the aggressive planning, thinking and acting that goes on behind the peaceful exterior of the modern church.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. Gresham, the church has increased in membership from about 200 to more than 700 in about eight years. A new church building, valued at $100,000, has been completed and paid for. Expansion of the physical plant, involving the erection of a $40,000 educational building, is projected for the near future. The church's annual budget, for local expenses and missions, now totals more than $15,000.

The University Christian Church has grown in the past decade from a small campus worship group into one of the outstanding churches of Fort Worth, even of Texas and the Southwest.

All this has been accomplished by the exercise of faith plus hard work, together with enthusiastic leadership.

The range of the human voice now may be classified as tenor, bass, alto, soprano, and Bonnie Baker.

A Scholarship For a Poet

Some young poet now in high school or in a junior college, will receive a Christmas gift from T. C. U. this month or next September. The establishment of a Poetry Scholarship by the Dallas T. C. U. Woman's Club has made it possible for the University to offer $75 a semester to some new student who shows promise in writing verse.

This type of scholarship is the first of its kind in Texas, and is one of the pioneer developments anywhere in the nation. It is already creating interest in Fort Worth High Schools. Besides providing recognition for students with a talent for creative writing, its aim is also to promote poetry as an avocation.

With its establishment, students interested in creative writing will feel as much of a spirit of welcome and interest from T. C. U. as do musicians, athletes and high-ranking scholars at the present time.

Registrar S. W. Hutton preached at the First Christian Church in Cleburne and McGregor during the Christmas holidays.

Varsity Show Under Way

Production Will Receive Publicity in Rotogravure Section of Star-Telegram

The first full Varsity Show rehearsal of this year was held Wednesday night. The parts were assigned to all cast members in the different activities and work is now underway to complete the show. The scripts will be handed to the various members who have speaking parts and the copying of the orchestra parts will be started by Walter Hopper soon. The orchestra is to have 21 pieces and will be directed by Jimmy Petty.

Several pieces of the Casa Manana scenery will be moved to the Gymnasium the first of next week to aid in practices. The costumes and sets for the show are to be started Monday.

Bumper signs and billboards will be used to advertise the show. Miss Bettye Williams has been assigned to handle publicity for the downtown papers. The show will be featured in a layout in the rotogravure section of The Star-Telegram.

"The real work is just now beginning on the show. Within the next two or three weeks the show should give evidence of the final form. I want to urge everyone who is taking part in the production to prepare to do their share of the work. If every one will make all rehearsals and be on time, much confusion will be eliminated and it will be possible to make the rehearsals fewer and shorter," says Director Prior.

T. C. U. Debaters Compete With California U. Team

A visiting debate team from the University of California competed with the T. C. U. team yesterday afternoon at Paschal High School.

With T. C. U. taking the affirmative and the visitors the negative, the subject at hand was: "Resolved, that the nations of the western hemisphere should form a permanent union."

W. R. Rucker, junior from Stamford, and Arthur Norred, junior from Fort Worth, formed the Frog side. This team won the Southwest Forensic Tournament held in Austin in December. Norred won individual speaking honors at the Austin meet and also at the fourth annual Intercollegiate Forensic Institute at San Marcos in November.

Besides T. C. U., the University of California will include several other Southwest schools on its itinerary.

AMUSEMENTS

It seems that T. C. U. students really do continue their education outside of class hours. Yes Gene Beecher, the musical teacher, is now holding forth at the Den where Frogites congregate to make their study of rhythm.

Annette, the "teacher's pet," is the featured vocalist for the pleasure of Den patrons. And, too, Beecher plays many old favorites which are always enjoyable to hear.

Virginia Roberson and Paul Lipscomb were taking their music lesson Monday night, while Tuesday night found Elizabeth Ann Fields dancing with former Frog Bud Taylor to the strains of Beecher's melodies.

Drama, Music Highlight Today's Radio Broadcast

A dramatization of the childhood of Ernestine Schumann-Heink and music by the String Trio will highlight the T. C. U. radio program to be given at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon over station KFJZ.

The skit is an original composition written by Miss Ruth Clayton, public speaking student, who attended T. C. U. last year. The cast, under the direction of Miss Katherine Moore, consists of: Misses Peggy Greene, Harriette Runge, Frances Coats, Janis Warren and Dorothy Howze, and Douglas Drysdale, Eddie Walker and Wayne Knipe.

Miss Elsie Porter, as vocalist for the program, will sing Brahms' "Lullaby." Selections by the String Trio will be played throughout the program.

W. A. Welsh is announcer for the program.

National C. of C. Meet To Be Announced Soon

Harold Caylor, president of the C. of C., reports that plans as to the time and place of the next meeting of the National Intercollegiate Chamber of Commerce are under way and will be announced in the near future. A booklet of information on the organization, to be distributed to colleges throughout the United States, is being contemplated.

Tomorrow night's dance will be more or less an entertainment sandwich, being thrown in between the Christmas holidays and New Year's Eve. It will be the last dance until next semester.

Vernon Finley and his orchestra will provide the necessary music. This is the only one in town that can and will last three hours, from 9 till 12 to be exact.

The price will be 65 cents and may be obtained at La Club Gym down behind Goode Hall.

 Creation Night will be held for the first time during "Ranch West" and then continued until June. Students will have the opportunity of either playing games (ping pong, etc.) or just socializing generally.

The success or failure of such a venture depends wholly on the support it receives from members of the student body. They can make it one of the high spots on each week's social calendar, or they can cause it to die an early death. Recreation Night deserves the hearty support and co-operation of every student in T. Frogs Drop Opener to Baylor, 32 to 40

SPORTS SHOTS

By WALLACE FITZGERALD

The Frog basketball squad made its first effort to climb out of the conference cellar Wednesday night and was able to tally only 32 points on the right side of the new scoreboard. In spite of a last minute scoring spree by Al Wagler, Leonard Cannady and Robert Groseclose, the Frogs trailed by eight points at the final whistle. But the Brumbelow-men set some kind of a record by leading the Bears in the first minute of play—2 to 0. Floppy Blackmon canned a crisp, shortly after the tipoff. He scored one more point all night while his mates fared little better. They just couldn't hit the basket.

Basketeers Wagler and Groseclose . . . They looked best for the Frogs Wednesday

The Frogs' weakness was the Bears' strength. Little Grady Vaughn dropped 'em in from every angle and in every manner. A sigh went up from the audience (especially the coeds) when Jack Wilson, walking ad for Charles Atlas, entered the game. But from the showing Wilson made, he should confine his athletic ability to the gridiron. Several times he evidently thought he was still playing football and tried running the ball under the basket.

But, though nobody ask it, in spite of all his brain and brawn, when it comes to hittin' the basket, we'll take little Grady Vaughn.

But maybe Wilson felt pretty much at home after all. Wednesday night's game was as rough as many a football game. In between sensational shots, Vaughn spent most of the time sprawled on the hardwood. L. A. Munroe gave a perfect imitation of a short stop sliding into second base when he dived for a free ball. Even Referee Ab Curtis mixed it up a little when he collided with a group of unsuspecting spectators in a sprint down the sidelines. But the first game of the season is now history and the Frogs have an engagement with S. M. U. in Dallas tomorrow night. They still have some of the best material in many seasons and if they can start hitting the basket will surprise somebody. Maybe it will be the Mustangs.

"One of the best golf teams in the history of T. C. U.," is Prouse's opinion of his 1941 squad. 'Agitators' Are Agitatin' Bang 'Bruisers,' 'Ramblers' for 2

Woody Adams' "Agitators," after losing their first game, came back to win two straight in the tough football contests between members of the football squad. Tuesday afternoon, they tromped over Ronnie Brumbaugh's "Bruisers" by a score of 18 to 13.

Kyle Gillespie kicked, passed, and ran the "Agitators" to victory, as he also did Wednesday afternoon against Phil Roach's

"Ramblers." The Ramblers were humbled by a margin of six points, the score being 18 to 12.

The game against the "Bruisers" was won by a lucky underhand pass from Gillespie to Bill Ramsey. Van Hall made both touchdowns for the "Bruisers."

The stand-out play of the game between the "Agitators" and the "Ramblers" was performed on a punt on his own 40 yard line, to Drummond Slover, who did a great piece of broken field running to take it over for a touchdown.

"These games are improving the boys in the way they move around in the backfield," said Coach Meyer. "Also it is making them get off their kicks quicker."

Reds and Blues Plan Basketball

Members of the intramural Red League basketball will officially open their roundball season with a game between the Frosh and Sophs at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday in the Gymnasium and a tilt between the Seniors and Juniors at 2:15 o'clock.

These four teams will make up the Red League and will play all of their games in the afternoons.

Six teams will be featured in the Blue League. These roundballers will open their frolic with a brawl between the Frosh and Sophs at 6:30 p. m. Thursday in the Gymnasium. This contest will be followed by tilts between the Juniors and Seniors at 7:30 p. m. and the Parsons and Fifth-Year Men at 8:30 p. m.

"The captain of each team must have his group organized and ready to play when the opening whistle blows," says Ed Revercomb, intramural student manager.

The final championship game between the Red League and the Blue League will be played when the Intramural Open House is held.

Handball Tournament Slated for Monday

All handball "bugs" on the campus have only today and tomorrow left to sign up for the intramural handball tournament, slated to start Monday.

"The Gymnasium is the place and now is the time to sign up," says Ed Revercomb, intramural manager.

A medal and points toward an intramural jacket will be awarded the winner.

Cubs Pulverize Wog Hawkers

Those Baylor Cubs really "chawed up" the Polliwogs Wednesday night in the basketball game preceding the Varsity tangle. Led by two small but fast boys, the Cubs carried the battle all the way, winning by the oversized score of 36 to 17.

Balaban, Kincaid, Bond, Grinnell and West made up the starting line-up of the Wogs, with Williford, Webb, Looney, and Elliot also seeing action. Williford rehurt his bad knee and had to be taken out.

The Wogs will play the S. M. U. Colts before the Varsity game tomorrow night in Dallas. Beside another game with Baylor at Waco and one with S. M. U. here, the Wogs are scheduled to play two games with N. T. A. C. on Jan. 18, and Feb. 18., one in Arlington and one on the home court.

Easter Brightest Date Appearing on Calendar

By BETTYE WILLIAMS

Perhaps it's too soon to start thinking about spring, but with the Christmas holidays over, Easter is practically the only thing that holds promise for another sojourn to the home town, or a chance to be relieved of the "burden" of study. . . It isn't exactly new to mention New Year's resolutions, because no one ever keeps them anyway, but for the next two weeks at least, no one who cherishes a desire to pass can hope to break the one about, "I'm going to really study this year." (Own, up, you thought it at least once, now didn't you?)

This is just another way of bringing up the subject of Dead Week, which is on the calendar and coming right up, too. These term themes are getting to be quite a problem, especially if you try to have the longest one in the class. Have to be going some to keep up with one student, who cut hers down to 67 pages in long-hand.

Just in case you can spare the time, there will be a dance Saturday, which will be the last until the Ranch Week festivities, more than likely. Vernon Fenley, who played for presentation, will be the maestro, at 65 cents a pair.

I'LL TAKE VANILLA: This is the slogan of an article which came out recently, written by a long-ing brunette, to the effect that gentlemen definitely do prefer blondes. The author pointed out that a blonde does not necessarily have to be pretty to attract attention—she just has to be a blonde. With a brunette it's different—she has to be a knockout. Hollywood has capitalized on blondes so much that there are now a great many different shades of blonde hair—such as the strawberry, blonde, honey-colored hair, platinum and red-gold. There is also the brownnet, but she's a little disappointed. The closing sentiments of the article are what a lot of brunettes think, "Blondes are awful. I wish I were one." But, you raven haired lassies, don't feel too badly. Hedy Lamarr is still a brunette.

HAPPENINGS ON THE HILL

By MILDRED SMITH

Unhappy day, this getting back into the mood of studying for final examinations, studying in general and writing term papers for every subject. All this makes it easy to see why HELEN RUTH VERHEYDEN and MARJORIE STEVENSON are smiling all over the place. They will be away from it all in no time keeping house. Their third finger, left hand rings are real sparklers. The boys don't belong to us.

JEAN SHOEMAKER doesn't have a ring yet, but she has been turning down dates for the simple reason that she will soon be going down that aisle with a flyer. JACK FRYE still doesn't believe it's true, because he knows the boy from Paris, and he is supposed to be engaged already.

The holiday season was a quiet one for some people. Namely, FRANK BOGEMAN who spent a large portion of it in a "very dead Austin." But take from him, he made up for wasted time when he got back. And HELEN FARINGTON topped her holidays off by spending New Year's Eve at home in order to try to get in the good graces of her mother, and found it didn't do any good anyway. She is now worried for fear the boy friend, ex-student, DON McLELAND will be away awhile working.

For a Christmas present GEORGE LOUDEN received a third interest in a new car, having difficulty in deciding third to take—the stirring of the tires or the body. CAUDLE and CLARENCE TER spent the majority of holidays in bed with the flu, several other unfortunates.

As a post-season gift, CER SMITH received an invitation to a dance at Stevens College, famed Glenn Miller Orchestra play. Is he going? You must keep him away with any amount of money.

FRANCES DRENNON has praying her family would transfer to San Antonio. She has her wish, but doesn't like it because she has to stay here out a car and can't be there to be near all her former Field friends. LORETTA BACHES is doing her best to sole her.

Christmas didn't slow down dance manager, BOB JOHNS and he is planning a big tomorrow night to prove he don't let him down, boys and since he is doing it all for See you at nine tomorrow
