Student-Faculty, Athletic Committees Discuss A. & M. Seating Problem

Frogland has had its share of excitement this week. Groups in the halls, conversations on the campus and discussions in meetings have been evidences.

Dissention among the student body concerning the proposed seating arrangement for the T. C. U. students at the A. & M. game has kept the Student Council busy.

The protest was against seating the Frog students on the west side of the field in Section G, seats extending from the 18 to the three yard lines, inasmuch as all of the east stand is being chartered by the 5400 Aggies who expect to arrive in Frogland on their corps trip.

Monday night at their regular Council meeting, members expressed themselves as being in favor of protesting this arrangement.

A meeting of the student-faculty committee was called for 3 p. m. Tuesday, and as no decision could be reached without consultation with the athletic committee, the group met wih them at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

At these three meetings the Student Council presented its protests somewhat as follows: (1) The seats given the student body are among the worst in the stadium (2) The student body was not notified publicly that this arrangement was being made. (3) The cheering section of the T.C.U. students would be on the same side of the field as the spectators, and therefore could not be seen by them.

(3) Tickets at one dollar and ten cents are being sold to T.S.C.W. girls for "standing room," when it is believed that these girls will sit with the Aggies. T.C.U. students are not allowed to bring friends into the east stands for less than two dollars and fifty cents, if then.

(5) T.C.U. students have not received such courtesy at all their out of town games.

(6) The students should be considered in the arrangement. (7) The Student Council should be consulted by the athletic council before the arrangement is made.

The Student Council made the proposal that the A.&M. students be seated from the 30 yard line on the south end through the end zone on the north end, enabling T.C.U. students to sit from the 30 yard line through the goal line on the south end of the same east stand.

Dr. Gayle Scott and Howard Grubbs represented the athletic committee and gave the following answers to the protests made

(1) Section G consists of 1128 seats reserved on the west side. There will be 41 rows of these seats. "I don't believe the students can ask for any better seats in the stadium under these conditions," said Dr. Scott.

(2) Dr. Scott said that he asked Dean Hall to let him speak at the first meeting of chapel concerning this arrangement, but that there was no time open until after this came up for discussion

"However," he stated, "The athletic committee is a business unit, and the plans were made long before school started. We feel no responsibility for having not notified the students."

(3) The cheering section is mainly for the team and the students, rather than for the interest of the spectators.

"The T.S.C.W. girls were refused bargain tickets, but were sold standing room in the end zones. If they sit with the Aggies they will have to slip in, and I guess 5000 policemen couldn't keep them out."

(5) There was not one formal protest made against the seating arrangement at other schools, "A.&M. is our most satisfactory opponent. We hope this friendly relationship may con tinue, but it cannot do so without the sacrifices of the T.C.U. student body

(6) The students must be considered first, including the A.&M. students. Two years ago protest was made about having to sit on the same side of the stadium with the Aggies, and therefore, this arrangement was made. (7) All arrangements are made ahead of time, and the committee relies on its own judgment. However, a year from next spring, the Student Council may contact the athletic council concerning the next home game with A.&M.

no more than their rights as students

The promise of a hearing from the Student Body Council by the athletic committee for two years hence was made, which gave some comfort to the compromise.

At the meeting of the studentfaculty council and the athletic committee the agreement was made to continue as planned this year, with hopeful eyes cast toward the future. Letters have been received by The Skiff, editorials have been written, all in protest of the arrangements for this year.

The students were absolutely sincerg in their convictions but they are agreeable in the fact that "divided we fall," and have decided to cooperate with the ruling this year. This is truly T. C. U. Democracy! Paper for Defense-

How about a defense program on the T. C. U. campus? Not a military campaign, but one in which every scrap of paper may be saved to be used in defense work.

It would be possible to save such paper for the program, helping the national situation and certainly improving the campus in looks and attitude

Thanks to the one who made this suggestion, and a challenge to those who might help carry it out.

S. C. A. to Elect Vice-President

The S. C. A. cabinet has started drawing up the plan used by discussion groups this year and will present it to the regional office in booklet form for use in developing other associations.

A cabinet meeting will be held Tuesday night at which time a vicepresident will be elected. Joe Timmons, formerly vice-president, has become president since Dick Jay withdrew from school.

"Approximately 125 student attended discussion groups this week. All members are urged to pay dues and Church to Honor receive membership cards," says Timmons.

How're Chances? Slightly Improved

The latest idea is to turn Ton. linson House into a student union building. The possibilities for a real student union seem pretty slim, but this house is not in use and could be used by all students, Tomlinson House is across the street from the Library, there are several good sized rooms that could be used very well by students. One room could have a coke machine and a nickleo. deon. For those who really love dancing that is all the furniture necessary. The floor could be waxed.

There could be lounging room for boys and for girls. Off hours could be spent here and for those who seem alergic to the Library it would provide a place for quiet contemplation.

Two or three of the rooms could be made into club rooms. With the kitchen close by, it would be easier to refresh the wilting club members mid-way in the meeting.

Town students who suddenly get weak in the knees, or discover too late that "something they 'et'" doesn't agree with them, could retire to the solitude of one of the back rooms and eat aspirin and mourn their fate.

The furniture that was used by the girls while living there. is still in the house. Some of this might be used, the other distributed among the other houses.

How about that student union building?

Need for Check On Football Trip

Selection of the student body trip is important, but still more important is finding out if the railroads will furnish a special train for the trip. A recent art-icle in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram stated that the railroads have already refused to give special rates, and may not be able to run football specials this fall, because of defense requirements.

the student government. It isn't one of those organizations that function in name only, but one that can render a valuable service to the student body.

It is the judiciary committee of the Student Council, made up of three seniors with "B" averages. Their purpose is, primarily, to decide, when there is a disagreement, how the Const tution should be interpreted. They attend Council meetings regularly to hear proceedings.

The existence of such a group means there will be no more times when the Council cannot agree on the meaning of a clause and members waste valuable time bickering and quarreling among themselves.

The power vested in the judiciary committee makes it an organization of serious responsibility, one that can aid the students in acquiring and maintaining more efficient student government.

THE SKIFF

34 Frog Squadmen Make Trip For Game With Indiana Hoosiers

Has anyone noticed a modest young quarterback that around the campus wearing a big grin and a floppy = of house shoes?

He's the lad that personally lugged the ball 10 contive times, by the order of Coach Meyer, in the fourth arter of the Porker game to keep the slim nine-point og lead protected from a last minute Hog drive.

He's the lad that slips through the strongest desive Frog line in a decade for 50 and 60-yard touchn runs in scrimmage. He's the lad you'll be hearing about before this gridiron season is over. His name is Beecher "Yardbird" Montgomery.

Many people are wondering where this strong Purple nse came from. Team work is the answer. Team work and some topch planning and preparation on the part of the coaching staff. A tripleeat back is a great asset to a team but to have a great team you have have team work. For example-in the Arkansas tilt "Big Daddy" Adams tted a weakness in the Porker line and reported it to Gillespie in the dle. Kyle called the play and Roach strolled into pay-dirt for the tally. ral-it takes 11 men.

Though by-gones are by-gones and we won the game anyway, there as an "official boner" pulled in th Arkansas game. It seems that Nolan Sparks' beautiful touchdown run the ball was snapped. The official said the man was Center Billy Blackstone. All we can say is that it takes a mighty fast center to pull out before he snaps the ball. If Van Hall's ailing leg allows him to see action in the Indiana game he will bear watching. A "charley norse" has kept Hall on the sidelines since the Purple season opened but he should be ready to go against the Hoosiers. He's a fine punter and lugs the leather with

was called back because there was a Frog in motion before elenty of drive. The '41 edition of the Horned Frogs have set a record of some sort in holding their opponents to a total of four

HALL first downs in their first two tilts of the season. Tulsa ade two and Arkansas made two. The Porkers netted a measly 12 yards r the day last week. Running they gained 32 and lost 32. Passing, they upleted one for a gain of 12 yards. . . .

In 18 seasons of Conference play, the Frogs have finished lower than d only six times. At present they lead the Conference since they have the only game that has been played in the conference race.

End Bruce Alford is being hailed by sport critics as the greatest defensive the Frogs have had since the days of Rags Matthews. More than once the battle of the Hogs and Frogs Alford broke through Porker interfere to throw the Razorbacks for a loss.

Five Indiana stations and a network of Texas stations give a play-by-play coverage on the T. C. U.-Indiana ne tomorrow afternoon.

Since we have predicted large scores for the Purple its last two encounters we'll be a little more conservae this week and see what happens. The Frogs should two touchdowns better than the Hoosiers, but with so ch celebrating going on in Bloomington the home team do well to take the Indiana squad by one tally. It'll about 7 to 0-T. C. U. Just remember that powerful tre Dame licked the Hoosiers 19 to 0 last week, and they

Game to Be at 2 o'Clock Tomorrow—Opponent Loser In Its First Two Battles

With Indiana on their minds two. The University of Detroit and the Horned Frog footballers pulled out of the T. & P. station at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Bloomington, Ind., where they intend to find out Hoosierhoody at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Hoosier Stadium.

Though Indiana and T. C. U. have never met on the gridiron before, Coach Bo McMillin of the Hoosiers does hold a victory over the Frogs. Back in 1923 when Bo was coaching Centenary College, he brought the Gentlemen to Fort Worth and licked the Purple 23 to 0. In the Indiana squad the Frogs will meet a team that is out to win a game after dropping their first

Frog Club to See Movies Of Arkansas, Indiana Games

Movies of the Arkansas and Indiana games will be shown members of the Frog Club Wednesday night in the Auditorium. Coaches Meyer and Mike Brumbelow will comment on the movies and talk about preparations for the Texas A. & M. game.

Jack Buckler and Baron McCulloch were re-elected president and vicepresident, respectively. New officers are Burdette Brants, secretary-treasurer, and John L. Lewis, vice-president.

President Buckler urges all last year members to renew their memberships and attend this pre-Aggie rally. A bigger crowd is expected for this meeting than the last which was hampered by bad weather conditions. The present membership is 600 but officers hope to increase this to 1,000 this season.

Mrs. B. E. Shaw of Marshall, Mo., visited her daughter, Pauline, in Jarvis Hall last week-end.

Notre Dame have both handed the Hoosiers a licking. To top this off the Hoosiers are having Homecoming Day, Dad's Day and High School Day. It's going to be a tough tilt for the Frogs

It has been raining up there for a week, and unless the weather changes, tomorrow's game will be in the mud. The Indiana team is reported to be weak on pass defense, so if it isn't raining the Bloomington fans will think it is raining footballs.

Thirty-four strong, the Frogs will arrive in Terre Haute, Ind., at 3 o'clock this afternoon, where they will spend the night. They will work out at the Rose Polytechnic field there this afternoon. Tomorrow morning they will make the remaining 60 miles to Bloomington by bus. The Frogs will have an edge over the Hoosiers in experience, but the weights will be about the same. However, in Bill Hillenbrand, the Hoosiers have a back who is a bigger running threat than anything the Frogs have to offer. He tipe the scales at 190 pounds and does the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds. He is a standout both offensively and defensively, so the Frogs will have to watch Hillenbrand if they beat Indiana.

At the tackle posts for Indiana are Tiny Trimble, a 230 pounder, and Fred Huff, a 200 pounder. Both boys are vell-seasoned tackles and may give the Frog line a real test. At left guard is Capt. Gene White, an artist at line play and a great place-kicker, while Al Bragalone seems nicely settled on the other side. The center slot is the weakest point in the Hoosier line, and that may beat them. The combination of a stout defense, which they have been working on all week in preparation for the Indiana tilt, and an improved offense sums up T. C. U.'s side of the story. Though the Frogs have been victorious in their first two encounters they have looked far from perfect. Three times in last week's tilt with the Hogs the Frogs bogged down on touchdown drives. All week the boys have been putting a little polish on their goal line punch.

If old man weather lets the sun shine, the Frogs will probably play before their biggest crowd of the year. More than 20,000 spectators are expected to be on hand.

Dance, Style Show, Aggies, T.S.C.W. Gals in Spot Light

By LOIS JEANE CAYCE and VIRGINIA TOMME

After the President's Reception last Friday night, the social calendar was not too full over the week-end.

Tomorrow night the silver lining on the social horizon will be a dance celebrating the Arkansas win and the Indiana victory (we hope). Informal attire will definitely be the style. Once more music will be to the sweet and hot strains of Tommie Fisher's band. Starting time as usual is 9 o'clock.

A change from the regular atmosphere along the extra-curricular lines is the Bryson Club style show set for next Wednesday night. Members promise latest styles, good looking models and plenty of entertainment. Not too far in the future is the big

Aggie week-end. Some 6000 Aggies will be roaming around the campus, not to mention that about 1000 T. S. C. W. girls will be down for the oc-

School spirit is really soaring high this year. One of the loudest, lustiest send-offs we can remember saw the Frog train pull out for Bloomington, Ind., yesterday.

The yell leaders have plenty of vim, vigor and vitality. In turn, the students are catching this contagious enthusiasm. The Band, as we have said before, is the best ever. And what's more, it gets better week after week. A lot of new formations are being planned and will make their bow to the student body next week for its approval.

Just a style note or two - While this uncertain Texas weather continues, it's hard to predict any set rules as to what to wear. Just as sure as we do, the weather will disagree so if we don't predict, we won't have anything to take back. Use your own judgment-it's as good as anybody's. Don't forget, though, to have a "beau" in your hair no matter the occasion.

Don't forget-let's put on those dancing shoes and come out to ye old Gymnasium tomorrow night.

Geologists to Meet Every Monday

Plans have been announced that the Fort Worth Geological Society will meet at 7:30 o'clock every Monday night in the Amphitheater. They will hold a series of lectures and discussions in the form of a course for nine weeks.

The mounted figures on the plate are a group of nine of Chaucer's "Pilgrims to the Scene of Bechet's Martyrdom." The Wife of Bath is the
