Students Will Make Trek to Austin Tomorrow

Anne Faris Wins Contest

Better Library Lights, Ordered Last Week, Will Become Reality

A new $1500 lighting system will be installed in Mary Coats Burnett Library as soon as the materials are received from the manufacturing company!

This brings to success the work of The Skiff and the Student Council who, over a period of years, have campaigned for better lighting in the Library.

The new lights, ordered last week through the engineering firm with whom the contract was let, are the ceiling fluorescent type. They will hang in clusters of six lights, extending some 15 feet from the ceiling. Fourteen big sets will be placed in the main reading room, two in each alcove, one over the desk and a smaller one of appropriate size for Mrs. Bertie H. Mothershead's office.

The lights will be of standard power. The footcandles will be of adequate strength in the most remote parts, with most of the lighting far above the standard, it is reported.

There will be a new system of wiring, connecting the Library with the main trunk line. The system, having, heretofore, been on a separate circuit, will have a decrease in operative price, and will soon save enough to equal the cost of the new lights.

During the past month three firms have made investigations on the present lighting system. Each report was checked by the Texas Electric Company, which was consulted during the summer and which made a check in September.

At the Board of Trustees Meeting Tuesday, the action taken by the administrative committee was presented and heartily approved by the board.

President M. E. Sadler, directly responsible for the action taken on the long awaited improvement, commented, "It makes us all very happy to look forward to a new light on the subject."

Soph Guess Of 7 Games Gets Prize

Miss Anne Faris put the boy football forecasters in the shade by missing only three games in last week's Saturday of upsets, to win The Skiff's prize of a ticket to the T. C. U.-Texas game and a free trip on the special.

Anne, a sophomore from Fort Worth, and a real football enthusiast, missed the Tulane-Alabama winner, along with the two games missed by everyone, the Fordham-Pittsburgh upset and the Baylor-Texas tie.

Two boys, Lonnie Dowell and L. A. Monroe, and Miss Mozelle Rankin tied in the number of games missed, but Anne was far ahead in coming close to the actual scores.

All entries selected the Horned Frogs to whip Centenary, the only game no one missed. Miss Mary Charlotte Faris, Anne's sister, had the least confidence in the Frogs, giving them only a six-point margin.

No one, of course, guessed the Baylor-Texas tie or the Fordham-Pittsburgh upset. Miss Bonnie Hall, however, gave Texas only a seven-point victory, to be the nearest to foreseeing a close game.

Miss Mary Charlotte and Eugene Coleman thought Fordham would have a hard time with Pittsburgh, giving the Rams a mere five-point margin.

John Carlson, Bill Welsh and Misses Shirley Hall, Katherine McGraw and Judy Dickson had T. C. U. and Centenary making the right number of touchdowns, but not the correct number of conversions.

Houston Foster and Charles Fucci, however, had more faith in the Frog defense and extra point kickers, giving T. C. U. 35 points but forecasting Centenary to be held scoreless.

The only consolation the boys can have over this contest is that a girl, Miss Gerry Sharp, had the least number of winners. She won only two games, putting T. C. U. out in front and naming Northwestern over Indiana.

Dr. Anderson to Speak At Timothy Club Supper

Dr. L. D. Anderson will speak on "The High Calling of the Preacher to Preach," at the Timothy Club supper meeting at 6:15 p. m. Monday in the alcove of the Cafeteria.

"The Preacher and His Money" will be the theme at the Homiletic Guild luncheon at 12 o'clock Tuesday in the "Y" Room. Dr. W. C. Morro will speak on "Jesus' Teaching About Possessions."

A banquet for E.C.B. members will be held next week at the Colonial Cafeteria. The Rev. Marshall Steele, pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Church in Dallas, is the probable speaker.

Dr. W. V. Roosa to Speak On 'Thankfulness' at B.C.B.

Dr. W. V. Roosa will speak on "Thankfulness for Wide Inner Faith Fellowship" at the B. C. B. chapel program at 11 o'clock next Friday morning.

"Thankfulness for Newer Ideals in Education" is the subject at this morning's chapel. Dr. Cortell Holsapple is the speaker.

LIGHTS FOR THE LIBRARY will be far from a dream when installation is begun in a few weeks. Mary Coats Burnett Library will be well lighted with a $1500 system of fluorescent illumination. The materials were ordered last week and the campus awaits the delivery for the dream to come true.

Let's Taste Longhorn Meat— Blood Curdling Cries To Ring Tonight As Frogs Hold Rally

Movie, Jamboree Will Give Frogs Chance to Yell

There will be pep and mystery a-brewing next Friday night.

A "T. C. U. Jamboree," which will include a pep rally, featured floor show and mystery movie, will be in store for Frogland patriots at the Parkway Theater at 7 p. m. next Friday.

The motive of the occasion is to prepare for Homecoming. A commission on the movie receipts will be divided equally among the various floats to appear in the Homecoming parade.

Along with the surprise movie, there will be cartoons and other short features. If possibly available, the first serial installment of Sammy Baugh's movie "King of the Rangers," will be shown.

Tickets will be 30 cents. Ticket sales made at the door will not count on the T. C. U. proceeds.

Wilson Baugh and Frank Benton are in charge of ticket sales, which will be handled through club presidents.

Mrs. Scott Reviews Book For Dallas T. C. U. Club

Mrs. Gayle Scott reviewed A. J. Cronin's "Keys of the Kingdom" Saturday morning at a seated tea given by the Dallas T. C. U. Club.

Porterfield's New Book Recently Off Press

"Creative Factors in Scientific Research," by Dr. A. L. Porterfield, has just been released from the press. He received his first copy Monday. The book is the third in a sociological series printed by Duke University.

The Basketball Gymnasium will ring with blood-curdling cries tonight when a pack of hungry Frogs swarm there for a giant pre-student-trip pep rally.

These Purple and White rooters are anxious to taste some Longhorn meat and don't intend to see any fried frog legs in Austin this weekend.

Head Yell Leader Jo Thompson has gone to his knees to plead, "The Texas boys will be waiting for our team after the tie and struggle that Baylor had with them last week. It's gonna be tough, so we need plenty of pep and yelling at the game."

The program tonight includes a big jamboree featuring the Horned Frog Band's new arrangements and a yelling practice to loosen up those ole lungs.

"If you want to see T. C. U. knock those Steers for a loop, come to the pep rally tonight and plan to aid them with your yelling support," adds Jo.

Boys Are Asked to Write Selective Service Boards

"Students who are registered under the Selective Service Act, as soon as they receive their questionnaires, are expected to take the initiative in correspondence with their local boards," says Dr. Cortell Holsapple, chairman of the University committee on student deferment.

"They should write to the board, giving their order number, academic classification, major subject and any statements which they think should be presented," Holsapple points out. "A copy of this letter should be sent to the T. C. U. committee, in order that the information may be before it in taking action," he continues.

Faculty members will find details of the procedure outlined in the Faculty Bulletin of May 22, 1941, and are asked to consult that statement before conferring with students about the selective service system, Dr. Holsapple comments.

Big Dance Will Entertain Frogs at Texas—Special Pulls Out at 6:30 A.M.

Board Plans Religious Week

Educational Institute to Be Held With Inauguration Of Pres. M. E. Sadler

"Religious Emphasis Week" will be inaugurated here during 1942-43, upon President M. E. Sadler's recommendation at the fall board meeting held Tuesday. An appropriation for the week was passed by the board.

An educational institute will be held Thursday and Friday, April 9 and 10, in conjunction with formal inauguration ceremonies for President Sadler. Several persons of national importance in the field of higher education will be invited to speak at the institute. Colleges and universities throughout the nation will be invited to send representatives.

Report was made on the progress of the new girls' dormitory, now under construction. A recommendation was made and approved that, if building conditions permit, the letting of a contract for the proposed new science building proceed as soon as possible.

Ed Landreth, co-chairman of the building committee, resigned because of ill health.

The filling of six vacancies, two of which exist because of the deaths of R. H. Foster and L. C. Brite, was referred to a committee, to be named by the Rev. L. D. Anderson. The committee serves one year.

The remaining four appointments will be additional board members, authorized by action of a year ago, which enlarged the board from 26 to 30.

Historical Books Sought By Disciples of Christ

Edgar C. Riley of Mediva, Ky., and Claude E. Spencer, librarian of Culver Stockton College, two members of the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, were on the campus Monday as part of a nationwide search to find historical books and periodicals relating to Disciples.

Mr. Riley and Mr. Spencer are working on a union catalog so that students may know what is available on the Disciples and where it can be found.

The main purpose of this society is to stimulate interest in the collection and preservation of various historical materials relating to Disciples.

Dean Colby D. Hall is a member of the society.

Horned Frog Loses Business Manager

Ros Covey, business manager of the Horned Frog, will soon keep in step with Uncle Sam's army instead of campus activities. He will report for duty Dec. 2.

"Ros has always been prominent in campus affairs and will be sorely missed by us all," says Harry Rex Davis, Horned Frog editor. "The publications committee will appoint a new business manager when Ros has to report to the service."

With hopeful hearts and a care-free air some 500 Frogs will leave the "Katy" station at daybreak tomorrow, headed for the state capital. In their spirit of Frogland will be determination to throw the Steers.

Six o'clock will be the time for the T. C. U. gang to assemble at the Missouri-Kansas and Texas train to board the special. With the student body will be the guest of the day, Anne Faris, Skiff contest winner, the Band, yell leaders and Fort Worth patrons.

Arrival in Austin will give the rooters time to eat and dash to the stadium for the T. C. U.-Texas football game.

Tickets round trip on the train will cost the patriots $3 plus tax and the gate receipts for students will consist of only $1.10, the regular student rate.

An early special will leave Austin at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, but for those wishing to stay for the dance or other activities, rates on the Sunday trains will be honored.

Train chaperones will be Prof. and Mrs. B. A. Crouch, Prof. Witt Blair and Mrs. Helen Murphy.

Several students will participate in vocal, instrumental and dancing numbers on the program, which will be directed by Prof. Claude Sammis.

SCA to Present Rev. Mackie

Monday Chapel Program Topic Is "Christian Faith In a World at War"

The Rev. Robert C. Mackie, general secretary of the World's Student Christian Association, will be presented in a special chapel program by the S. C. A. at 11 o'clock Monday morning in the Auditorium. His subject will be "Christian Faith in a World at War."

In 1937-38, the Rev. Mr. Mackie was chairman of the Chinese student relief campaign in Great Britain and visited in China. He returned to Geneva, Switzerland, and became a member of the European Student Relief Committee. He brings to American students the graphic story of the plight of students and prisoners of war.

The S. C. A. is in charge of the chapel program Wednesday, presenting the I. M. Terrell High School chorus.

All groups of the S. C. A. will meet jointly at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Meliorist room of the University Christian Church. The Rev. Mr. Mackie will be guest speaker, and the meeting will be conducted in the form of a forum.

Mrs. Brite, Rev. Cuthrell Elected to Brite Board

Mrs. L. C. Brite of Marfa was elected to the Brite College Board of Trustees at its meeting Monday.

She succeeds her late husband, for whom the college was named. The Rev. George F. Cuthrell, pastor of the First Christian Church in Tyler, was named president of the board.

President M. E. Sadler presided at the meeting in the absence of the board's vice-president.

Resolutions of respect were passed for the two late board members, Brite and R. H. Foster.

Students Are Making Plans for Homecoming Rally, Parade, Floats, Queen, Game, Dance Nov. 29.

Frogland will find itself a bee-hive of activity at Homecoming.

The annual celebration of the SMU-TCU game, when the exes return to the scenes of their care-free college days, will fall this year on Saturday, Nov. 27. Despite the fact that this will be during the Thanksgiving observed by T. C. U., many plans are being made to keep exes and students busy.

A "super-special pre-Homecoming pep rally" is under preparation by Yell Leader Jo Thompson. There will be surprises at this free yell practice in the Basketball Gymnasium at 7 p. m. Friday night, preceding the great day.

Nucleus of the celebration will be the Homecoming parade to be staged the morning of the game. The idea, originating with the Student Council, has been developed by the Council Club organization, which consists of all club presidents.

A queen will be elected by the student body. Nominees will be two students chosen from each of the four classes. The queen will ride in style on the Student Council float, with her "court" following in convertibles.

Election for the queen will be held Wednesday, Nov. 26, when the entire student body will vote for the choice.

The floats, each sponsored by one or more campus organizations, will be judged according to beauty and originality. There will be no prizes given.

The council committee, in grouping the organizations, endeavored to link those having common interests and also those of different size, so that the projects would be of fair proportion.

Other than the Student Council float, and those sponsored by the four classes, there will be approximately 15 representations. The B. C. B., Timothy Club and Homiletic Guild will sponsor one, and the S. C. A., Meliorist Club and the All-College Sunday School Class will combine also.

A. C. S., the Natural Science Club and Parabola will have a float, as will Leti, Frogettes, B. and P. W., Amperсанд, W. S. A., Mavericks and the Dames Club.

One project will be sponsored by the Home Economics Club, A. C. E. and the B. S. U. The musical clubs, Orchestra, Recording Society and the Mixed Chorus will combine for their part, as will the modern language organizations, Les Grenouilles, Los Hildalgos and Phi Sigma Iota.

From the literary departments will come the float sponsored by the Poetry Club, Anglia, Sigma Tau Delta and the Dramatic Club. The publications organizations, Dana Press Club, The Skiff and The Horned Frog will present a float.

The I. R. C., F. F. F. and Alpha Chi will work together. The "T" Association and the band have not been placed as yet.

Single clubs furnishing a float each will be the Brushes, Chamber of Commerce and the Bryson Club.

Following the game with S. M. U., the day will close with a combined student-exes Homecoming dance in the Basketball Gymnasium.

There will be special activity for the exes, with plans under way for a coffee and a luncheon for the Frogs of yesterday.

Class meetings during the next week will determine the eight nominees for the queen election. The seniors will meet at 11 a. m. Wednesday in Room 105. Juniors will convene at the same time in the Amphitheater.

The freshman and sophomore classes will hold sessions at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, with the first-year students in the Auditorium and the sophomore class in the Amphitheater

Veteran TCU Friend Gone, Not Forgotten

"Hound dog" is no more. The friendly wag of the tail is forever stilled. The beseeching eyes, hungry for love from a kind human being, have closed eternally. A familiar figure is lost from the campus.

A car sped past the university, heedless of a dumb animal, and ceased the life of the black and brown hound that frequented walk and corridor.

Even in his last hours he was of no trouble, for he crawled onto the grass and there lay breathing his final gasps.

He asked no favors of humanity, only kindness. He had no vicious intentions, only the friendly wag of his tail. He did not know enough in his doggy world to blame the driver of a speeding car for thoughtlessness.

He was killed. Will you be next?

The Dances Came... Don't Let 'Em Go

Not too many years back students waged a strong and successful effort to have campus dances. With students enthusiastic over the victory, dances in the Gymnasium became the place to go, Saturday night and the school dance became practically synonymous, and there was no question of the success of the dances.

Now, as the students who waged and won that battle for dancing on the campus have passed from the roles of T. C. U.'s undergrads, as the dances have become ordinary and commonplace to today's students, the enthusiasm has disappeared. Each Saturday night's crowd grows smaller and smaller.

This situation has been consistently becoming more noticeable. Students who are now seniors remember the dances of their freshman year to be affairs well-attended. Within the college life of these students, the situation has greatly changed.

Surely there is some reason for the change in student attitude. Surely there is some solution to the problem.

A number of reasons have been suggested, probably many others exist. Here's what has been heard about the campus:

"The dances are stale, with new ideas appearing too seldom."

"The dances are not exclusively for T. C. U. students. The intrusion of numbers of outsiders, mostly high school students, is resented."

"The dances are not widely advertised."

"The gymnasium is frequently uncomfortable, being either too hot or too cold, according to the weather."

Perhaps none of these is THE reason. Nevertheless, there is some reason and this disinterest on the part of the students could easily lead in time to the abolition of campus dancing.

If this were done, dances might be lost to the campus for a long time. It took many years to get them established. It took untiring effort on the part of both students and faculty who favored the dances. Today's students must not let the time and effort of their predecessors go for naught.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE!

Have 'Guest' Spirit On Austin Trip

Recent grievances over the Aggie's mistreatment of the T. C. U. flag brings to the mind the suggestion of what might happen this week-end in Austin.

Of course, University students are adult, civilized human beings. But often the excitement of a spectacular event brings out the barbarianism in even the most civilized people. The results: Mad pushing, shoving, as grid fans seek the stadium; youngsters forgetting the m-selves, damaging property in a childish prank.

This brings about only one result. The guilty party may have a moment of pleasure. But later payment of damages and a hint of disgrace to his school overshadow the hilarity of a moment.

As guests of Austin's school and the city itself, leave all "mutilation" to the men on the grid-iron!

Student Defeatism On Campuses

Student defeatism—two words that sum up the worry and discontent and fear of the future that is so noticeable at T. C. U. and other campuses over the country this year. Just two words, but they carry a wealth of meaning. Meanings of irrational fear before there is anything to be afraid of, of students feeling that nothing of the whole and sane life is of any value, of alternate despair and feverish restlessness and recklessness. Many are crying that all the security and standards are in discard, quite as if they had not felt that way during the depression; more are saying that their golden opportunities have gone with the draft.

Another Orson Welles' Mars broadcast on the campus would leave numbers moaning with fear, gibbering of German invasion. The strain of the "war of nerves" technique would do the same thing. War should sober a person, leaving him ready for sacrifice in his field. It should not completely knock him dazed and helpless.

Adjustment to a world of war-time may not have been in the plans of many students. Nevertheless, it can be made if intelligence and not blind unreason is used. The world will not come to an end in two days, nor will the lives of many be radically different. Preparation for a well-rounded life can be just as much needed this year as last. Even those students who are registered and waiting their call can be finishing up work, and making plans for the continuance of that work. Going to pieces long before open warfare is an actuality is not a sign of acute sensibility and concern for others. It is a sign of lack of intelligent planning. Education will be needed during and after the war. Those years afterwards will be long. This turmoil will not likely be the whole life to a student.

Certain positions have been closed temporarily. In place of these a score of opportunities have opened. And many of these demand just that education that are calling useless. All are not jobs for the moment. The defense effort is a long-range movement.

The highest standard for education of an individual has always been that of developing to the fullest his latent powers and abilities, so that he may live the richest life possible. It has not been, and is not now, that of quitting when plans miscarry and disappointments are many. Education may be harder to acquire in times of stress, but it need not be nullified by defeatism.

Student Council Communique

Discussion of Homecoming plans occupied most of the time at the regular meeting of the Student Council at 6 p. m. Monday in Room 7.

Plans were begun for the selection of a queen for the parade, and it was decided that she will be elected by the entire student body from eight nominees, two being chosen from each of the four classes. Wednesday, Nov. 26, was set as the day of the election.

A committee of three was appointed to see downtown merchants about trucks to be used in the parade.

It was decided that another meeting of the club presidents would be called for noon Wednesday when plans would be discussed concerning a promotion Homecoming movie to be shown at the Parkway Theater next Friday night.

She's Runner Up To Golf Champ, That Is Marcia

T. C. U. gained recognition last spring in the golf field when the boys' team made a fine record, but this year the girls are going to have a large part in spreading that fame.

The main reason is Marcia Mills, who was runnerup in her first competition last week at Glen Garden Country Club. Marcia is the W. S. A. manager for golf on the campus and entered the tournament to show her pupils that the instructor was worthy to teach them.

It was the Glen Garden Women's 9-hole Tournament and the first day found the T. C. U. girl second in the qualifying round. She won her first match, 5 to 4. In the semi-finals she came through with a 4-to-3 score card.

The next day Marcia went on the course with the wrong psychology for a victory over Mrs. E. W. Russell, the medalist of the tournament. And when they came in, the score read in Mrs. Russell's favor.

Disappointed because she didn't win the match, brown-headed Marcia came back to win the putting tournament with 2 under par. Her prize was six golf balls.

This helped her forget her defeat, and she carried a silver trophy home for being runner-up anyway. To be second to the medalist, play in the finals of a tournament and win the putting tournament is enough for any young golfer to do in first competition play.

Marcia has been playing golf for several years, but it was not until she became interested in the W. S. A. last year that she began to concentrate on her game. With a year's experience in the golf group, she was elected the manager this year.

"I really enjoy playing and hope that I can win something else sometime. It hurts to lose, but I was scared to death," smiled the future Southern Golf Association Champion.

Most Any Time You'll Find Them Working, Talking

Students drift in any hour of the day. They stay one, two, three hours or more. And they do the same thing the next day. They gather over typewriters, dictaphone, calculators.

In short, this is the typewriting room but almost every student in the School of Business will be in here for work. It is the equivalent of a laboratory, a laboratory where no one is forced to come. However, most of those who do say that they really enjoy coming down for practice. It's easier than piano practice or anything like that. You can actually hear a few bemoan the fact that practice-teaching or other labs keep them from working.

It is probably one of the world's quietest labs, too. While there are no hard and fast rules about talking or visitors, every one respects the rights of others. It isn't a place to loaf because almost everyone is there for work, not just study or time wasting.

But the main reason why students gather there is probably the fascinating array of machines. Working the calculator is enough to make you want to go to class to learn. That is, if you like to fool with gadgets.

Miss Ruth Ridings went to Denton Wednesday to visit Miss Jane Lauderdale, former student in T. C. U. who is now attending T. S. C. W.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Houtchens of Dallas visited their daughter, Natalie, and their son, Loren, last week-end.

'Straight A' Faculty Pets Do Not Attend Classes

By MARGARET CASKEY

One little doggie is an English major, one little doggie is allergic to students, one little doggie doesn't have any trick and one little doggie howls like the yodel in his master's beloved cowboy ballads. That isn't all, by any means, of the odd personality quirks and actions of the dogs owned by the T. C. U. faculty.

Perhaps the most famous and best known on campus is Miss Peggy O'Neal Tucker, whose idiosyncrasies have been recounted to sophomore psychology classes for nearly ten years. She is a small Boston terrier with all the tenacity of a hundred pound Bull dog. Every afternoon at three o'clock she must have her rubber doll to play with or else—and her mistress, Mrs. Hazel Tucker says that or else is rather bad.

People are her favorite company, and men in particular. In fact, she has such a definite preference for people that she will fight any other dog. Her mistress states that Peggy has a very unusual vocabulary, and is very quick at getting clues in psychological experiments. Recently she celebrated her tenth birthday with a cake and candles. Always she gets postcards from students who have remembered her.

Dr. W. C. Morro's Chow, Chiang Kai-Chek, has a martial name, but that is the only thing about him that isn't friendly and quiet. His family insists that he is just a completely normal dog, with no particular tricks except an ability to wangle car rides on all occasions. The Morros have raised him from a pup, some four years ago.

Happy Rossa is hardly old enough to qualify as a dog, but already she is learning tricks to attract attention and affection. She begs, turns a somersault when anyone starts opening a can of food, bites softly at people's ankles, and comes to the windows and tries to get in. Unfortunately, at the same time, she is acquiring the technique of chewing the neighbor's papers. However, she may outgrow this, as she is only a two months old Collie pup.

Tops Mundhenke, brown Irish terrier, is the antisocial member of the group. When Tops was a pup, students used to come to the house and make faces at him. And while the faces might not have frightened children, they did give Tops a lifelong fear and dislike of students. Tops is the self-appointed guardian of the whole neighborhood, however, and does protect everything.

A vocabulary of 50 words is the proud boast of Coo Foo Porterfield, three-year-old white fox terrier. He knows the family's names, can get the keys from Dr. Porterfield's pocket, go out, and get in the car with them. And Coo Foo knows most of the routine tricks, too.

Betsy Bell Gaines' real name is Red Duchess of Gainesworth, but she graciously allows everyone to call her Betsy. Her first year, she won first prize in the Fort Worth Cocker Pup Show. Tricks don't interest her very much, but she will run from the laundry man and the grocer boy because the rattle of paper reminds her of puppy days and whippings with a newspaper.

However, her distinctive trick is to howl exactly like one of Dr. Gaines' beloved cowboy ballads that he plays and sings.

Blitz (krieg) Hewatt is really a go-gutter, all right. He is the only dog that actually came to the reporter and volunteered for an interview. He wanted to be sure that nothing would be misrepresented, and also he inquired slyly about leg art. Blitz is that white (more or less) French poodle that has been haunting the campus lately, always in connection with one of Dr. Hewatt's daughters. He will sit up, beg, roll over, play dead, push the door open and play continually. He is always with the children and waits for them to come or go.

Butch Holsapple, brindle Scottish terrier, is the only one reluctant to have information about himself. His master says that his one accomplishment is to "wag his tail."

The Bishop is the reddish blonde Cocker of Miss Lorraine Sherry. The Bishop is not much interested in formal tricks, but he enchants everyone with his friendliness and good nature. He is obliging about eating, and enjoys most just romping around the large yard. There he will sit where he can see Miss Sherry, and when anyone starts for the kitchen he is an expert at getting there first. His greatest delight is in rolling on a rug tied by Miss Sherry.

Buster Meyer is the most exuberant of the group. And when a large police dog gets exuberant he really creates a stir. Several people have been frightened by the spectacle of Buster advancing for a romp. Buster loves to play ball, and according to his mistress, just won't be ignored. He will come and poke at your hand until you play. His famous trick is to back up to a chair, sit in it with his hind legs on the chair and his front legs on the floor. It is guaranteed to throw almost anyone into convulsions. Buster is allergic to bicycles, garbage men and newspaper boys in about that order. Virgil the Great To 'Pull the Wool Over Your Eyes'

It's fun to be fooled! And fooled you will be when you witness the performance of Virgil the Great, top-ranking exponent of the art of hocus-pocus. On a pre-season tour, Virgil has been receiving "rave" notices, and once again is listed among the top three magicians in America.

With nothing (much) up his sleeves, he will start his spectacle at 8 p. m. Monday, Nov. 24, in the Auditorium. Aside from the regular display of rabbits-in-the-hat and changing spots on the cards, Virgil is offering many entirely new routines, and defies you to tell him how he does them.

General Admission will be 44 cents; student price is 22 cents.

This program is for the benefit of the Junior-Senior Banquet, sponsored by the Junior class, and advance sales of tickets have begun. Tickets may be obtained from David McKee, president.

Two candidates for "Homecoming Queen" will be selected from the junior class at a class meeting at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Amphitheatre.

Miss Louise Moss, student last year, visited Misses George Ann McInnis and Elizabeth Patterson last week-end.

Dan Jarvis, '41, visited friends on the campus last week-end. He is now employed in Abilene.

VERSE Or Worse

When we two were together, then We reveled in delightful play And thought how deathly dreary when I'd have to go away.

Whenever we touch We touch too much. The touchings are such— As to get us in such— But, oh! That clutch!

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS

By RALEY DUNN

Tomorrow, Nov. 15, has, since the baby days of August, been marked with a bright red pencil on almost every Frog calendar. When the report first came out that the Texas Longhorns were nothing short of world-beaters, jaws set in a hurry down at the Stadium, just as they did in stadiums all over the conference. Came to mind memories of the last two games, which were enough to excite a dead Eskimo—but the Frogs lost those games. T. C. U. has always played good ball against Texas, but thus far has managed to lose by a very few points too many times.

Wouldn't it be keen if the Frogs poked and socked enough tomorrow afternoon to put that "world-beating" and "rebound-from-upset" stuff where it oughta be?

Big Frank Kring, senior fullback playing his third year as a Frog starter, isn't diddling around a bit after he catches those long aerials from the arm of Emery Nix. The Rough One has caught fewer passes than any other leading pass receiver in the conference, 11, and still has made more yards on them.

Marshall Spivey, of A. & M., has caught 18 for 289 yards, while Frank has stretched his 11 receptions for a total of 301 yards. "Goover-lip" has gone over for six touches, for 36 points, putting him in a tie for fourth place in conference scoring.

Starting his first game as a varsity grinder last Saturday, Fred Taylor, sophomore from Denison, came through in even better style than was expected of him. Fred missed scoring in his first start by a hair, when a pass from Emery Nix into the Centenary end zone was barely tipped from his fingers by a defending Gent back.

TAYLOR

No demon offensively, the 185-pound wingman is a veritable "racker-stacker" defensively. Being mature for his years, Fred is gifted with a natural poise that stands him in good stead as a football player. A likely starter against the Steers tomorrow, much is expected from him by Coaches Meyer and Brumblow.

The corner has sacrificed not only its personal dignity, but no less than two pairs of its Sunday britches in having a fling at this ice-skating deal in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, but heartily recommends it for great sport, nevertheless. The skate blades are thin and the ice is slick (but SLICK), but 15 minutes of valiant effort gives the beginner courage to let go of the rail and swing out on his own. Results are damaging, if not disastrous—but fun!

In three more week-ends, the '41 football season will be over as far as T. C. U. is concerned. After that the Frog basketbatters take over under new Coach H. R. "Hub" McQuillan, fresh from A. & M. Bouncing balls can be heard over in the Basketball Gymnasium, and regular workouts have already begun. A bounty of material is on hand for the first time in several years, what with the induction of several junior college transfers, and the return of some '40 regulars. Here's to a bigger and better basketball season.

See you in Austin!

Frogs Back In Shape For Texas

Drill Fundamentals To Stop Longhorns

By RALEY DUNN

Fully respectful of the good chance that the Longhorns will be on a terrific rebound after last Saturday's surprising 7-to-7 stymie by Baylor, Dutch Meyer's T. C. U. Horned Frogs will go into tomorrow's game against Texas University in Austin with a week's ration of hard blocking and tackling drill under their belts, as a preparation for a team that has size, numbers and speed all at once.

With the exception of Quarterback Kyle Gillespie and John Bond, who is out for the season, the Frogs will be at full strength for the first time in three weeks. Gillespie's injured foot, which has kept him out of the last three games, will probably give him only an outside chance to see a great deal of action.

Acting on the idea that the powerful Longhorns have run up heavy scores in almost every game this year on broken field sashays and punt returns, Coach Meyer has meted out a maximum of "plain vanilla" fundamentals this week, believing that sure tackling is the thing that will stop Cowboy Jack Crain and running mate Pete Layden. Defensive backs have received more than their share.

The return of first-string guards, Leonard Pugh and Capt. Bill Crawford, to action brought a note of cheer. Halfback Gus Bierman is also sufficiently recovered from a knee injury to see a little service if needed.

It is probable that Emery Nix, sophomore passing demon, will again be at the reins of the Frog offensive. Nix has connected consistently in the last two games, specializing in heaving long lofty ones.

Unless a last-minute decision calls for a change, Sophomore Fred Taylor and the veteran Ronnie Brumblow will open on the wings in place of Co-capt. Phil Roach and Bruce Alford. At tackles will be Woody Adams and Derrell Palmer, with Jim Hampton and Bob Moss to back them up.

Crawford and Pugh will probably start at guards, Mike Harter and Joe Rogers relieving. Center Billy Blackstone, who has been out with an injured knee, may start, but it is more likely that Sophomore Jim Woodfin will open at the pivot post.

Rounding out the back field will be Frank Kring at full, Van Hall at one half, and Frank Medanich or Charlie Conway at the other.

The Longhorns will start no less than 10 seniors, having a last-year man at every post except center. Preston Flanagan and Malcolm Kutner, pass-snatcher who is touted for all-American, will open at the ends, Bo Cohenour and Julian Garrett at tackles, Chal Daniel and Buddy Jungmichel at guards, and Junior Henry Harkins at center.

In the backfield, Noble Doss will start at a wingback, Vernon Martin at blocking back, and "big guns" Layden and Crain at fullback and tailback respectively.

TCU to Play UCLA, Kansas

Frogs Will Meet Bruins In Los Angeles, Jayhawks In Fort Worth in 1942

Interseasonal games with the U. C. L. A. Bruins in Los Angeles and the University of Kansas Jayhawks in Fort Worth headline T. C. U.'s 1942 football schedule, announced today by Howard Grubbs, director of athletics.

Next year will also mark the resumption of play between T. C. U. and Texas Tech. The two teams have not met since 1936 in Lubbock, although six games have been played between the two schools. The Frogs won five of these, the Raiders one, this being the '36 encounter.

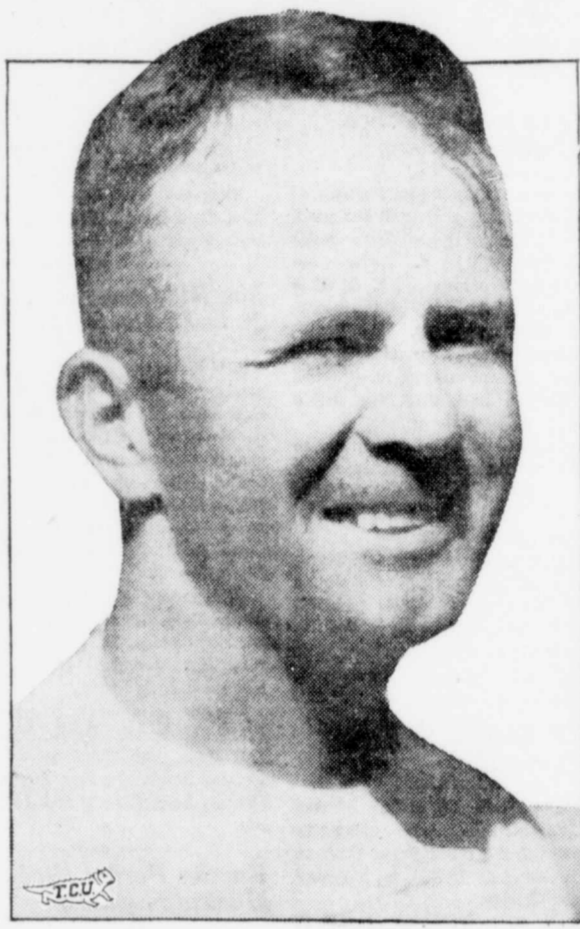

As the '42 schedule stands now, the Frogs have only nine games, with Oct. 24 as an open date.

"Another game may be added," Grubbs reports, "but if it is, it will probably be an early season contest, in the week preceding the U. C. L. A. game."

T. C. U. has never played Kansas before. The Frogs have met the Bruins once previously. They opened against them in Los Angeles in 1939, the Californians winning 6 to 2.

The 1942 T. C. U. football schedule: Sept. 25—U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles (night), Oct. 2—University of Arkansas at Ft. Worth, Oct. 10—University of Kansas at Fort Worth, Oct. 17—Texas A. & M. at College Station, Oct. 24—Open Date, Oct. 31—Baylor University at Fort Worth, Nov. 7—Texas Tech at Lubbock, Nov. 14—University of Texas at Fort Worth, Nov. 21—Rice Institute at Houston, Nov. 28—S. M. U. at Dallas.

'It's Humiliatin' Says Blackstone As 'Arky' Wins

It is not just "Arkansas" Hampton, but "Speed Demon" Hampton now.

In a matched race after football practice Tuesday, "Speed Demon" barely nosed out Billy "Flash" Blackstone in a fifty yard dash on which many wagers were made by enthusiastic onlookers.

Blackstone tried gallantly, falling across the finish line but in vain. Amid the boos of the spectators, and especially his backers, "Flash" got up complaining that he had injured his leg but insisting that he had won.

Hampton had little to say in the dressing room after the race. He did state, however, "I knew I could beat that bum Blackstone."

Frogs Jar Gents 35-7 As Bagley, Kring Shine

By RALEY DUNN

After quailing through the first two quarters with a scant lead, the T. C. U. Horned Frogs exploded in the last half to roll to a 35-to-7 victory over the hapless Centenary Gents in Shreveport Saturday.

As late as the third quarter, the Frogs held a lead of only seven points, but in the latter stages even the third-stringers threatened seriously.

Big Derrell Palmer started things off in the first two minutes of play when he fell on a Gent fumble on the Centenary 33, from where a short pass and run put the ball down to the 27. On third down, Emery Nix floated one of his "sideline specials" down to Frank Kring, open in the end zone for a quick Frog score. Frank Medanich converted with a low hand one straight between the uprights.

Bagley Scores Next
Little Dean Bagley piloted the Meyerment to their second touchdown early in the second quarter, after returning a Gent punt from his own 36 to the enemy 32. A pass from Bagley to Bruce Alford stretched the ball to Centenary's 23 yard line, but an off-side penalty shoved it back to the 28. From there, Bagley hit Kring over the middle. The senior fullback evaded two tacklers on the five, and rumbled over for his 36th point of the season. Co-capt. Phil Roach converted.

Centenary narrowly missed scoring on the last play of the half, when Linebacker Birtman intercepted a pass from Beecher Montgomery on T. C. U.'s 27, and ran to within inches of pay dirt. He was brought down there by Bob McCollum, sub for Kring.

Gents Score on Kick-Off
Truman "Chief" Johnson, big Gent speed merchant, took the opening kick-off of the second half on his own 17, and sidled 83 yards to score, being almost entirely in the clear after passing the mid-field marker. Parks converted to put Coach Jake Hanna's men definitely back in the game.

The Frogs went back to work almost immediately, with Emery Nix returning a punt to his own 43 and then finding Kring with another "sideline" to the Gent's 32 yard line. Nix and Charlie Conway ambled to the four on two consecutive tries. It took two pileups for Nix to score, and Roach kicked his second extra point of the day.

Bagley glittered in the final frame. Taking the ball from the Centenary 40, he jittered off to the right and straight down the sideline to tally

Renaud, Admire New Wog 'Finds'

Big Paul Admire had the varsity boys and the railbirds buzzing in practice this week with his rugged defense play at end on the Wog squad.

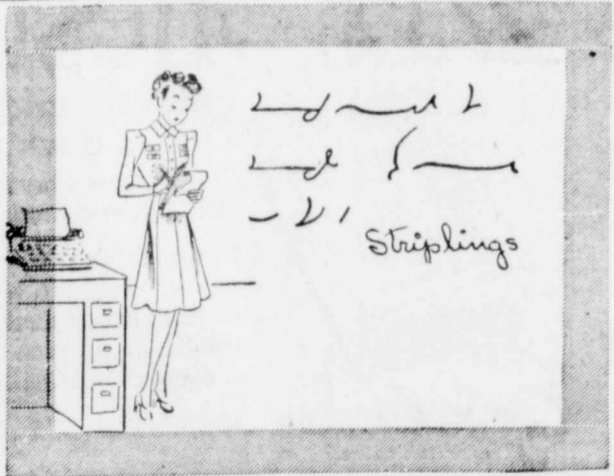

Paul literally ran over blockers while rushing the passer and stopped plays around his end with regularity. Before he was through the passers were gun shy and the runners hated to take out around his end.

Arthur Renaud, a new found guard star who is now running first string, also gave blockers trouble as he charged the passer with lightning speed.

Only new injuries on the squad are two knocked down shoulders. J. C. Oneal went down last week and Punk Smith was hurt Monday.

Wednesday, Nov. 26 has been announced as the date of the Wog-S. M. U. Colt game in Owenby Stadium, Dallas. The game will start at 2 p. m.

Miss Dolores Isen will spend this week-end in Houston, where she plans to attend the Rice-Texas A. & M. game.

8 Debate Club Members Attend S.M.U. Meeting

At the next regular meeting, to be held at 7:30 p. m. in Room 205 of the Administration Building, four members will work as two teams and debate on the subject, "Federal Aid Education."

Rucker and Norred will compose one team and Heslop and Newkirk will make up the opposing team.

Ex-student Mitchell McGraw, who is now stationed in Corpus Christi in the Naval Air Corps, plans to be present for the T. C. U.-Texas scramble next week-end.

Students To Take Austin By Storm For "Big" Game

BY LOIS JEANE CAYCE and VIRGINIA TOMME
With alarm clocks set to ring in the wee hours of the morning, students of Frogland are ready to converge en masse upon Austin tomorrow.

We'll literally take the place by storm and there's a sneakin' hunch we will be noticed plenty even if Texas does outnumber us about 11 to 1.

Heading the special train will be Miss Anne Faris, who won The Skiff's free trip contest; the Horned Frog Band, which is really ready to show off some good swing and super formations; and the five yell leaders, appropriately clad in their classy uniforms.

By the way, that "special" is pulling out at 6:30 a. m. so good advice would be to be sure you have everything ready tonight. It's easy to forget at that early hour.

The student trip is something you shouldn't miss. There's always a good time on the train, a great football game and dances or other entertainment at the host school.

Many persons will visit friends, some will see parents and relatives, while a large per cent will have their one-and-only waiting at the end of the trip.

Don't forget to wear something purple and white on your costume. We want them to know we're from T. C. U. Girls, a large mum with purple ribbon will be the ideal thing.

C'mon, Betty Coed and Joe College, pack those bags and let's go to Austin! Let's show everybody the true spirit of Frogland—loyalty, respect for others and a genuine faith in our alma mater, in the team and in our fellow students.

See you at the train. If you're driving down, we'll see you in Austin. The main thing is be there one and all.

HILLTOPICS

By Virginia Tomme and Lois Jeane Cayce

All eyes are on Texas this week-end. Rumor has it that a super time will be had by all who invade Longhorn territory tomorrow.

ELLEN AYRES RICE is mighty anxious about this trip. The reason—her longtime romance with ARNOLD LEE STEVENS, a U. of T. student.

HELEN BUTLER'S one and only from Ft. Sam Houston will be in Austin which makes her happy about the whole thing.

HARRY WELCH, Texas ex, has a busy time planned, for he'll be seeing many former classmates and friends.

MILICENT MOSELEY, SAMMIE MARIE COOK, COURTNEY WRIGHT, BILLIE MAE FAIRN-KAMP, PAT and BOB HARTLE and many others will be on hand to greet T. C. Uites. They're all at Texas now.

PRESTON THOMPSON is in the hospital recuperating from a recent operation. We hope he'll be back soon.

Constant twosome these days is that of FLO ALEXANDER and BUSTER KIRKPATRICK.

Word comes from the I. R. C. picnic that JIM KENT and GERRY MEYERSONS, ROSEMARY ERWIN and CHARLES HORAN were having quite a good time.

MARJORIE CHUMBLEY received a visit from "the" boy friend, PAUL McCLUNG, last week-end.

Home Ec Girls to Hold Doughnut Sale Wednesday

A doughnut sale will be held by members of the Home Economics Club from 1 until 5 p. m. Wednesday in the Home Ec Lab.

"Girls are taking orders now for the doughnuts, which will cost 25 cents a dozen, or two for 5 cents," says President Leola Myatt.

Plans for a social will be made at the next meeting of the club, Nov. 21.

OLD STEVENSON are seen together a lot lately.

Another new twosome to add to your list is that of BETH McHANEY and RUSSELL WHATLEY.

We'll close this chatter for now 'cause we've got to get ready to go to Austin.

See you at 6:30 on the special. Yippee . . . ! !
