Voice of the Editor

by
Lois Jeane Cayce

Within the realm of T. C. U. life is an organization which functions by and for the students, yet has the direct approval and support of the faculty and Administration.

Following a pattern of simplicity, nevertheless this group is forceful in carrying out its aims and policies. Need any more be said for readers to realize that the organization in mind is the Student Council?

For the benefit of newcomers and as a reminder to oldtimers on the campus, it might be well to explain a little about the Council and its functions.

It is composed of three officers—a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. There are six representatives-at-large, as well as one member to represent each of the four classes. The president of the freshman class and a graduate Councilman round out the official membership. Serving as ex-officio members are the head yell leader, dance manager and editor of The Skiff. The Council also has a faculty advisor.

Meetings are held weekly and are open to anyone who desires to attend. Student problems and welfare are the particular aims of this group.

The Council is responsible for that highly successful Prom. It supervises all campus dances. Elections also come under Council responsibilities.

Each spring the Council scholarship is awarded for the coming year to the person having contributed the most to student welfare.

These are but three of the numerous functions belonging to the Student Council. It is a group which looks not only to the improvements for today, but attempts to accomplish those things worthwhile to T. C. U. in the years to come.

Evening College Adds 4 To List of Instructors

The T. C. U. Evening College has added four new faculty members to its ranks.

Mrs. F. R. Palmer will instruct a class in "General Psychology." Under the auspices of the history department is a special course, "History of China," which is being taught by Prof. C. A. Burch.

Edwin Wiggins, who is associated with the Panther Oil and Grease Company of this city, will teach "Salesmanship."

Owen Cobb and Robert G. Henry are instructing the ground school of the C. P. T.

Club Leaders Will Discuss Homecoming

Presidents Are Urged To Attend Meeting In Amphitheater Thursday

Plans for the annual Homecoming, to be held Nov. 14, will be discussed at the meeting of the Presidents Club at 1 p. m. Thursday in the Amphitheater.

"All club presidents are urged to attend the first meeting of the club," says Dunny Sims. Sims hopes this organization will convene regularly this year and work with the Student Council and other campus organizations in planning and directing student body activities.

Provision for this club is made in the student body constitution, "for the purpose of gaining wider appreciation of student opinion, to aid the Council in carrying its work more completely to the student body, and to gain greater co-operation between the student governing body and campus organizations . . ."

The constitution also provides that the club shall meet with the student body president at least once a month.

New Orleans Editor To Speak to Journalists

Major James Crown, fighting editor of The New Orleans States—the man who uncovered much of the information that unseated the Huey Long regime in Louisiana—will be the principal speaker at the 16th annual meeting of the Southwestern Journalism Congress, to be held at College Station next week-end.

Several students from the department of journalism will attend the meeting and stay over for the T. C. U.-Aggie game Saturday afternoon.

Thirteen schools in Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas, which offer accredited courses in journalism, are members of the congress.

Dr. John Ashton of Texas A. & M. College is the current president of the organization. Prof. J. Willard Ridings is the secretary-treasurer, serving his 11th year in that capacity.

Campus to Join Nation In Scrap Metal Drive

A scrap metal drive on the campus is being sponsored by the student affiliate of the American Chemical Society.

A container in which the scrap will be deposited will be placed near the rear entrance to the cafeteria.

"Start bringing your scrap as soon as you possibly can," asks Miss Gail Kissinger, vice-president of the society.

19 New Students Hold Scholarships

Nineteen students have entered T. C. U. this year on high school or junior college scholarships. Eleven Texas cities and towns are represented among this group.

These students are: Raymond Atherton, Fort Worth; Miss Tinka Atkins, Christoval; Miss Edith Faye Ball, Pecos; Shelton Berry, Ropesville; Richard Lee Brown, Fort Worth; Miss Shirley Wayne Brown, Fort Worth; Howard Gregory, Fort Worth; Ernest Clay Griffith, Wier; Miss Geraldine Kissinger, Fort Worth; Miss Mary Nell LeBus, Electra; Miss Lillie London, Hereford; Miss Winifred Jeanne Main, Tyler; Miss Max Helen Pickens, White Deer; Miss Nelda Rhea Roberts, Archer City; Miss Frances Elaine Shefflett, Fort Worth; Miss Gloria Sheinberg, Fort Worth; Miss Mary Lou Slay, Rhame; Miss Janetha Walton, Fort Worth; and Miss Pender Elene Wood, Nocona.

BCB Retreat Is Oct. 28, 29 At Camp on Lake Worth

"Finding Myself" will be the theme of the annual B. C. B. Retreat October 28 and 29 at the Boy Scout Camp on Lake Worth.

Chairman of the planning committee is Bill Wright. Others on the committee are Dick Clayborne, program chairman; Jack Shirley, finance, place and transportation chairman; and Hugh Baker, recreation chairman.

Speakers for the Retreat will be members of the Brite College faculty.

PLANS ARE CANCELED FOR DANCE TOMORROW

There will be no dance tomorrow night as was planned. No orchestra was available for booking.

Melvin Dacus has resigned as dance manager. Applications for this position must be turned in by noon Monday to Miss Mary Charlotte Faris or Dunny Sims.

Yell Meeting At 8 P. M.

Pep Rally Will Begin At Foster—Where Rooters End Will Be Surprise

Tonight's night, Foster Hall's the place and 8 p. m. is the time for that big pep rally to get everyone in the spirit for the Kansas game tomorrow.

The rally will start at Foster, but where it will end will be the surprise you read about last week in The Skiff.

The band and yell leaders will be out to help get the ball rolling, and the students will keep it going from there.

"Let 'em see you tonight at the pep rally," be the topic of conversation today," ask Marshall Mason and the rest of the yell leaders.

Homiletic Guild Members Discuss Summer Activity

Members of the Homiletic Guild discussed their summer activities in an informal meeting Wednesday.

Miss Bramblett To Teach Math

Miss Ina Mae Bramblett, A. B. '32, is an instructor in mathematics, succeeding H. J. Jones.

Originally from Cleburne, Miss Bramblett graduated with an A. B. degree in mathematics and physics. She took her Master's degree from the University of Texas in 1937. She and Mr. Jones, honor students, graduated in the same classes, both at T. C. U. and the University of Texas.

Since that time, Miss Bramblett has been teaching in the high school and junior college of Tyler.

She is co-author with Prof. C. R. Sherer of a workbook for plane geometry.

Sermon Topic Sunday Is "Children of God"

"Children of God" will be the Rev. Perry E. Gresham's sermon topic Sunday at the University Christian Church. Services will begin at 10:50 a. m.

Mrs. Q'Zella Oliver Jeffus will open the service with "Beside Still Waters," by Thompson. Prof. Arthur Faguy-Cote will lead the choir in the anthem, "Now Let the Heavens Adore Thee," by Bach.

Miss Rosemary Willeford and Mrs. Jeffus will give an organ and piano recital at Evensong at 7:15 p. m. They will play "Romance," by Wieniawski; "Cradle Song," by Brahms; and "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Dvorak. Miss Elizabeth Faguy-Cote will sing a solo, "Ave Maria," by Schubert.

The Rev. Mr. Gresham's subject at the evening services will be "Be Careful When You Pray."

Run-Off Will Be Held For Freshman Prexy

Sanders, Glasscock, Elliott Other Officers—Blackstone Fills Senior Class Vacancy

Baton Twirler, Sweetheart Add "Color" to Band

"Honestly, I'm just so proud of the band that I could just pop!" is Miss Rose Ann Pearson's favorite comment these days. She is the new "Band Sweetheart."

Rose Ann is a sophomore. She transferred from Gulf Park College in Gulfport, Miss. Her home is in Fort Worth. When Rose Ann was attending Arlington Heights High School, she won several medals in tennis and swimming. She was also active in hockey at Gulf Park, Keesler Field, an air corps detachment, elected her "Sweetheart of the Field" last year in Gulf Park.

Just a plain academic course is her program this year, but she has always wanted to take hostess training. She has brownish-green eyes and brown hair and a ready smile for everyone. She's "crazy about T. C. U."

Rose Ann believes she could eat Mexican food and listen to Debussy and Chopin any day of the week. She plays classical piano, but she also likes swing when it's good. "Serenade in Blue" is her favorite.

"Five foot two, eyes of blue"—is the new nickname of Frances Louise Hall, freshman drum majorette from Lufkin.

Frances graduates from Lufkin High School in June, where she had been drum majorette for a year. She likes to sing and take part in dramatics. Her senior year in high school she was voted most beautiful girl of the school and was given the lead in the class play.

If you ask her what her hobby is, she says "Well, its just twirling, I guess."

"And oh, how I like to eat steaks," she adds.

Increase in Evening College Expected by Prof. Oliver

The total enrollment of the Evening College is not yet available, according to Prof. Clifton Oliver.

"However, we expect the enrollment to be even larger than last year's," he says.

With 110 votes cast in the freshman election yesterday, a run-off will be necessary for the presidency of the first-year class.

Charles Martin and Jack Wilson each polled 39 votes. A run-off election will be held from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. Wednesday in the Auditorium. John Steele tallied 32 votes for the same office.

Bill Sanders defeated Miss Mary Nell LeBus for vice-president by a count of 70 to 38.

Miss Elizabeth Glasscock was unopposed for the position of secretary-treasurer.

Miss Nina Elliott will represent the freshman class on the Student Council. She received 60 votes to 48 for her opponent, John Kiseleff.

In the other election yesterday, Billy Blackstone became vice-president of the senior class by defeating Miss Justine Moore.

Physics Department Adds Four New Instructors

The physics department has added four new instructors to teach wartime subjects.

Kenneth Boyle, KGKO engineer in charge of the Arlington transmitter, is teaching "Elementary Radio."

Alan G. Wood, foreman of the night radio crew at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, and Leo Clardy are also teaching radio courses.

Raphael McAllister is teaching a course in radio code, and Colby D. Hall, Jr., is teaching one in physics.

Juniors to Discuss Plans Wednesday for Socials

The junior class will discuss plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet and other socials to be held during the year at its first meeting at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Amphitheater.

Officers of the class are: President, Preston Stedman; vice-president, Frank Benton; and secretary, Miss Gerlyne Schmidt.

300 Enroll for ESMWT; Six Courses Are Offered

The Engineering, Science and Management-War Training courses have an enrollment of 300.

Six courses for war training are being offered by the University. They are sponsored by the government and are tuition free.

T. C. U. SERVICE HONOR ROLL OF WORLD WAR II

(The following list is an attempt on the part of The Skiff to present as complete a list as possible of T. C. U. students, exes and alumni in the service. It is recognized that the list is incomplete, for there is no way in which an absolutely perfect check can be made. No doubt there are also numerous errors in the list, for the same reason. The Skiff, as well as the "Committee on Recognition of Boys in Service," headed by Dr. Rebecca Smith, will be glad to receive additional names and corrected information.)

If Discipline Necessary, YES!

Should discipline be enforced on the T. C. U. campus? Is the discipline committee a disgruntled group of profs who are out searching for trouble?

Quite apparently these questions need an answer. In some instances recently this committee has found it necessary to act—not as overbearing persons who believe in no student rights, but as sympathetic and unbiased friends of students.

The aforementioned committee is composed of five faculty members, each from a different department. Their duty is to act as intermediary between the students and the Administration.

Rules pertaining to campus conduct are contained in the catalog. These are set forth by the board, and to the discipline committee falls the task of putting them into effect.

Committee members are not out spying on students nor trying to find charges against them. They merely consider cases which are brought to their attention. These persons are a disinterested unprejudiced group, hearing both sides of a case and acting as it sees fit.

Its policy is to enforce such regulations as need be, but not any more than is necessary.

But what are penalties for disciplinary charges? No one case which was found punishable could be given the same attention and penalty.

Maximum of penalties, quite naturally, is suspension from school. Other cases might be punishable by loss of credit, grade points, job at the University or activity. In some instances persons might be kept from representing the University in public. Also various kinds of probation might be enforced.

These penalties are not mentioned to scare students. They are set forth in the event that occasions arise where they are needed. It is the committee's hope that such action will NOT be essential.

Should discipline be enforced? DEFINITELY, YES! If persons at college level behave like kindergarten pupils, they must be disciplined as younger persons are.

Students should live comparable to the ways of home. University property and students should not be damaged. With these rules of behavior, discipline will take care of itself.

Frog Games Follow Fairy-Tale Form

"In the closing seconds of the game, the quarterback threw the winning touchdown pass, and the team, the coach and the rooters lived happily ever after."

Sounds like the ending to one of the fairy-tales children read, doesn't it? But it could well be the ending to some of T. C. U.'s football games.

Who will ever forget the game with Texas last year? According to sports writers, the Horned Frogs didn't have a chance. But predictions were thrown to the wind, and the Frogs came out as victorious as "Jack the Giant Killer." A pass in the closing eight seconds of the game scores the winning touchdown, and the Frogs walked away with the game, 14-7!

In this year's game against U. C. L. A., the Frogs were on their own 1-yard line in the early part of the fourth quarter. By a series of running plays and a pass, they marched 99 yards to a touchdown, with only minutes to play.

Even the Wogs have had their share of the story-book endings. In the last two seconds of their game with N. T. A. C., a pass added the winning score and victory for the "Junior Frogs."

Fairy-tale endings aren't "kid stuff" anymore. Look into T. C. U.'s growing album, and you'll find that they even happen in college football!

No Football Special This Year, Students

Tough luck, students, but it's a positive fact now that there can be no student body trip to any of the out-of-town football games this year, due to recent action of the government.

Troop movements and an increase in general passengers because of the tire situation keep the trains crowded to capacity. Since there aren't any available coaches, there can't be any special trains. Even the football team cannot reserve a car.

Gone then are those long nights on the chair cars when students used to huddle on the small seats trying to catch a little shut-eye, and some smart freshman would walk up and down the aisle hollering, "Hot coffee."

Gone also are such events as when the train hit a cow coming back from Austin and when one special was held up for several hours because of a flood on the trip back from Houston.

Beauties at their worst—with no make-up and stringy hair—were plentiful on the mornings when those specials finally arrived home after that tiresome but unforgettable night of fitful napping. But no one seemed to care just how she looked.

Yes, it looks as though football specials are gone for the duration. Gone, but not forgotten.

Why Go Again To Assembly?

"I went to Assembly for two years and I don't see why I have to go again," says a junior.

"I had my share of chapel and I can't see a bit of use in sitting in there again," says a senior.

Yes, that is the opinion of almost all of the upperclassmen before they stop to think. They were told they had to go only two years; now they must continue.

But just stop and reason. An Assembly for the entire student body is the only way to have complete unity. The only way word can reach all at the same time.

President M. E. Sadler felt that Assembly was the place to get all the war news and views and plans to all. Leaders in the war will speak. T. C. U. will not lag behind other colleges in the war effort.

That is definitely reason enough for compulsory meeting of the entire student body. But think of other advantages. Announcements of club meetings, class meetings, pep rallies and all school social activities can reach all. No one may say he missed a meeting or activity because he missed reading a small poster or "nobody told me about it."

Because of announcements reaching all in plenty of time, all activities should be bigger and better. Dances flopped, for the most part, last year because students did not know about them and were too lazy to want to find out.

Need More M. P.'s At Football Games

Much has been said, and volumes have been written on the rights of individuals. Every individual has definite rights. In fact, the constitution of our country puts some of them in black and white. However, there are some rights that should be naturally accorded individuals and do not need, or should not need, to be placed in print.

These rights are, for example, the right to respect and to expect respect from your fellowman, the right to treat him and be treated by him with politeness, and the right to appreciate and to expect appreciation and gratitude for favors that are granted.

Men in the armed forces are admitted to football games at a special and much lower price. Their right to sit where they please in the student section of the Stadium is respected nor is there, nor could there be, any restriction on "what they bring with them," for that is termed their business. However, since their rights are respected, it is only logical and reasonable to expect these men to respect the rights of the students and to appreciate the favor the University gives them.

There could be a separate seating section for those of the armed forces, but that would mean some students could not sit with their dates, and that would not be satisfactory.

The best and most logical method would be more Military Police, for they are equipped and familiar with such duties. The student's rights would be protected, and the seating of those of the armed forces would not be restricted.

Student Support Needed by Team

A. & M. has its twelfth man, but T. C. U. has only eleven men—the football team. At every game it is obvious that the noisy individual is missing.

Capable leaders have been elected to direct the school yells and songs. Each week, pep rallies are held in order that students can learn and practice the cheers together. When they fail to attend a rally, they get to the game and then discover the crowd is yelling something they never have heard before.

The team spends many hours a week in practicing for a game. They run through plays whether the sun is shining or the rain is pouring. Their training period is extensive and strict. It is discouraging to them to hear only the faint and feeble mumble coming from the grandstand.

The student body should show the team the faith they have in them by keeping that faith throughout the entire game. They should yell all the louder when the team is up against hard going, for it is at times like this that the boys need encouragement. Prove to them that you believe in them by attending the pep rallies, learning the yells and co-operating with the leaders at the game.

Are You to Be A 10 Per Center?

Complying with the nationwide movement of investing 10 per cent of earnings in war stamps and bonds is the student who contributes 10 per cent of his weekly allowance in stamps. He is not only helping himself by beginning a tangible saving in the form of bonds, but at the end of the school year will feel that he has had a small but vital part in the war effort.

Such a plan for saving could be carried further by the Student Council and other organizations. If one dance each month were called a "Victory Hop," with the admittance price being war stamps, the stamps could be used for the purchase of bonds.

Following the war, when priorities are lifted, needed camp improvements could be provided and paid for with money from this sound saving plan.

Clubs also might charge war stamps instead of tickets for various entertainments, and thereby set up an endowment fund for those who follow.

The best saving policy both for the individual and the organization today is in the purchase of bonds—helping yourself and your government at the same time.

War Gives Liberal Arts Curricula "Somewhat Disturbing" Kick in Face

By Associated Collegiate Press Latest Washington figures show that college enrollment has fallen off at least 10 per cent; the final figure may prove to be much higher. Nobody knows yet exactly how drastic the drop.

War needs for technical and professional men have probably kept enrollment in such courses at a relatively high level. However, the liberal arts curricula have taken a kick in the face which, as an official in the Office of Education here put it, is "somewhat disturbing."

What's the answer? Apparently there isn't any while the war lasts. And it's a moot question whether an answer should be sought before the war's end.

Manpower Commissioner McNutt has said that "nonessential courses we have come to regard as essential to a classical education must be replaced. This war demands chemists, engineers, doctors, experts in nutrition, public health and agriculture."

When there were Secretary of War Stimson's two contradictory statements of recent date which, once unraveled, seemed to echo McNutt.

Since there's nothing to be done about war-inspired curriculum changes, the attention of educators here is now focused on two problems: getting a specific policy on the Selective Service status of college men, and clearing the way for much more government-financed college training.

The former presents some knotty problems. Shall deferment depend entirely upon the courses taken? Then what courses shall be basis for deferment? How far along in his studies should a student be before he is considered for deferment, if at all? And what about the 18 and 19-year-olds if the age limit is lowered?

Some of these questions have been partially answered, but on the whole the answers have been inadequate and confusing. A clear-cut system is needed.

The question of getting more funds to finance capable students was answered in small measure last spring when Congress appropriated $5,000,000 for student loans. The money is being loaned to students majoring in physics, chemistry, engineering, medicine (including veterinary), dentistry and pharmacy.

But sources here point out that the fund is not nearly large enough. Four millions have already been allocated to 240 colleges, and the balance of $1,000,000 will be parceled out soon. On the average, the schools got only half the money requested. And requests were presumably based on direct need.

In order to get a loan from this fund, a student must be studying under the wartime speedup plan, a situation that makes it virtually impossible for him to take a job on the side, or to work during the summer. If he can't get a loan and must have help to get through school, there is only one answer—get out! Which may mean that a man already partially trained for highly specialized work goes into military service to do a job that might be done by any one of thousands of untrained recruits.

Severe, war-time logic leaves no room for argument on the question of whether there should be more funds for this purpose. The question of who shall have an education should never be left to economic chance, or mischance. In wartime it cannot be.

An official here points out that "if need can be shown, supplemental funds may be forthcoming." It is Congress, of course, that must be "shown." The question is do congressmen recognize "need" when it scratches their eyeballs?

Band Work to Count As Physical Training

Band will count as physical training because of the extra amount of time required of band members for practicing and drilling, Dean Colby D. Hall reports.

Band will count as physical training, if the members are faithful in attendance and are recommended by Prof. N. J. Whitehurst in his semester report.

Members will take regular physical training at the beginning of next year. "All members enlisted in Navy V-1, or any other reserve that requires a definite physical program, will have to take physical training all the time despite this regulation," says Dean Hall.

Mo's Musings

by Elmo "Mo" Webb

If Arkansas could have whipped the Frogs Saturday, this corner would have had 100 per cent on the forecast of games last week. Yeah, 100 per cent wrong!

One opinion given last Friday was, "You know about as much about picking football games as Paul Admire does about geology." Big Ike had better give up geology then.

At least the Froggies won, so this writer will keep on forecasting (for superstition's sake) until they lose. Here goes for this week.

Arkansas to whip Baylor in the Ozark hills.

Texas to down the Oklahoma Sooners.

If things go as they have and Rice and Tulane play good ball just every other week, this should be a victory for the Green Wave, but the Owls will remain the choice here.

From the same crystal ball that said Texas Tech over A. & M. comes Hardin-Simmons over S. M. U.

The Aggies to down the Corpus Christi Flyers. Hmm-m, wonder what happened to Texas Tech.

AND—T. C. U. over Kansas.

The officiating here Saturday was little short of terrible. Several times an official would not call a play the way he saw it because the referee saw it differently. Big Jawn Bond says he did intercept that pass that was ruled incomplete. If John says so, it is certain he did. Twice the ball was left where the runner felt rather than at the point of his forward progress, costing the Frogs a first down both times. And since when can a team be penalized 15 yards for a man in motion from the shift if the team does not have a shift?

It seems a certain sophomore football player is being made an example of in regard to hazing freshmen. This corner has no sympathy with hazing, but camping a boy for a month, causing him to miss the A. & M. and Florida trips, is a severe penalty.

Before punishment was dealt out, no consideration seems to have been given his character or record as a hazer. Probably no player in the dorm hazes less or is a better all-around fellow.

Inflicting a heavy penalty for hazing is all right to stop the boys from using paddles, but why pick on a boy who doesn't deserve it to put the point over. Past record and the character of the boy should hold some weight. Is it too late to reconsider?

Two Wog backs who caused comments of praise from Coach Dutch Meyer in the scrimmage with the varsity Monday were Martin Jarrell and Tom Bishop, the boys who teamed together to score that final touchdown against N. T. A. C. Jarrell passed well and had drive on his runs. Bishop gained praise for his drive also. He dashed 70 yards to score the only Wog marker against a mixture of varsity second and third stringers.

Another Frog doing all right with a service team is Allie White of the great 1938 team. Allie is first-string tackle on the Georgia Pre-Flight eleven. Coaches for that team are two more Frogs, Bear Wolf and Mike Brumblow.

Not only is Bruce Alford captain of the Frog team but he is also in demand for a coaching job. He was requested to take Saturday morning off before the Arkansas game to give "Clark" and his mighty team of eight-year olds a few pointers. As an official, Bruce is a good pass receiver. What refereeing he did in scrimmage Monday!

Personnel Office Moves To Second Floor, "Ad" Bldg.

The personnel office has been moved from the mathematics office to Room 208, Administration Building, Prof. C. R. Sherer reports. This office was formerly occupied by Dr. John Lord, who has moved to Brite College.

Evans Is Kansas Threat

Meyer Hopes For Chance To Test Subs

TWINS Dee (left) and Don Ezell are sure to see plenty of action against Kansas tomorrow. Dee plays right guard, and Don is the left halfback who made a 50-yard run against the Arkansas Porkers last week.

By ELMO WEBB
Scheduled to have a breather, the Horned Frogs may find Ray Evans of Kansas the difference between a walk-away and a real football tussle tomorrow afternoon at the Stadium.

A sophomore who gained conference mention in the Big Six as a half-back on a losing team, Evans is a triple threat—averaging almost five yards per try running, 48 yards per try punting, and completing one third of his passes. Besides that he is a 60-minute performer and a first rate defensive back. He received mention as a star even while his team was going down in defeat 61 to 0 against the Iowa Naval Pre-Flight eleven.

Jayhawks in Best Shape of Season
Battered after the Iowa defeat, the Jayhawks lost to Marquette and Denver but will be in their best shape of the season for the Frog contest. Coach Dutch Meyer will take no chance and will start his best team of able regulars, with the hope that they can run up a score large enough to give his able subs a chance to show what they have.

Trotter Adams has been running the right end assignments this week. He may be used there tomorrow and try his hand at punting. Ralph Porter should see much action at full-back, relieving the ailing Bob McCollum, who needs a well-deserved rest.

Joe Rogers will start at right guard in place of Mike Harter who is still nursing a bruised knee. Billy Blackstone and Barney Carroll both should see service at the pivot post.

Dutch hopes to get a look at End Billy Hearne, Halfback Sam Weatherford and several other prospects yet to see action. All of this depends, of course, on the success of the opening squad to move ahead of the Kansas boys.

Altman, Linqvist, Sherwood Starters
Harlan Altman, 150-pound quarter back, Ed Linqvist, veteran senior fullback who will open at half against the Purple, and Gene Sherwood, 200-pound sophomore fullback, will round out the Kansas starting backfield, along with Evans. Sophomores Hoyt Baker and Gene Roberts will add speed to the backs.

Game time again will be 3 p. m.

Tennis Is Too Popular With Girls' Gym Class
Unusual as it sounds, there were too many girls who wanted to play tennis this fall. In fact, 50 girls signed up for the 10 a. m. tennis class.

"I'm in a quandary," says Mrs. Helen Murphy, "I don't know what to do with all these girls."

However, some of them are transferring to W. S. A. sports and some are changing to other periods.

Miss Suzanne Stinette, former resident of Fort Worth and student at T. C. U., who is now living in Graham, is visiting Miss Virginia Honea, who attended T. C. U. also. Both visited the campus this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Watkins of Grand Saline spent the week-end here visiting with their son, John.

Mrs. J. H. Eubank and Cadet William Drake visited Mrs. Eubank's daughter, Polly, last week-end.

Miss Ann Fentress of T. C. U. visited Miss Jane Connors last week-end.

Major Holloway Bush, ex '31, is in the Army Medical Corps, stationed in India.

Bill Harris, seaman second class at Hensley Field, was a week-end visitor of Miss Jo Boynton.

Victory Over Arkansas Places Froggies on Top

Emery Nix to Bruce Alford was the play that "brought home the bacon" and put the Frogs on top of the Southwest Conference with a 13-to-6 victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks in the fourth period, Saturday.

With Nix running and chunking, the Frogs moved 85 yards in five plays after the Porkers had tied the score 6-all on a recovered punt in the third period. The drive started with less than seven minutes to play. Capt. Alford gathered in the touchdown toss on the Porker 22 in the open and outraced a lone Arkansas defender to the double stripe.

K. U. Number 14 In Frog List Of Grid 'Firsts'

For the first time in the history of the two schools, the University of Kansas Jayhawks will tangle with the Horned Frogs at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Since 1934, when Dutch Meyer became head coach, the Froggies have met 13 teams which had not previously appeared on their schedule. Out of these "firsts," they have won five, lost six and tied one.

All of the "firsts" besides the one tomorrow have been played on the opponents' field. The Frogs don't plan to let the home fans down on this inter-sectional game.

"First" victories of the Frogs have been: 9-7 over Santa Clara in '34; 16-6 over Marquette in the Cotton Bowl in '36; 28-0 over Temple in '38; 15-7 over Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl in '39; and 20-14 over Indiana last year.

A scoreless tie was played with Mississippi State in 1936.

Defeats in "firsts" have been: 0-14 with Ohio State in '37; 6-7 with Fordham in '37; 2-6 with U. C. L. A. in '39; 14-21 with North Carolina in '40; 0-3 with Detroit the same year; and 26-40 with Georgia in the Orange Bowl last New Year's.

Strong Seniors Pounce Sophs

Juniors Down Frosh in Other Game—Fourth-Year Men Intramural Leaders

Strong as a pack of wolves full of vitamin B, the Seniors ate up the Sophs in intramural football Wednesday afternoon by a score of 55-to-12, making a total of 70 points scored in two games for the fourth-year men.

Floppy Blackmen managed for 26 of the points for the Seniors, catching passes for three touchdowns and two extra points, and grabbing a blocked punt in the air which he carried across the goal line for the fourth.

After three scoreless quarters, the Juniors finally got hot and made two touchdowns and an extra point to down the Frosh, 13-0. Frank Benton passed for all of the tallies.

As a result of Wednesday's battles, the Seniors remain in the lead with no games lost. The Juniors and Frosh are tied for second with one win and one lost, while the Sophs hold the tail end with two lost.

Next Wednesday, the Seniors meet the Frosh, and the Juniors tackle the Sophs.

Early to Sleep, Early to Rise Is CPT Boys' Theme

Persuading his C. P. T. boys to turn in at 9:30 p. m. is easier than one would imagine, says Dr. Cortell Holsapple.

The fliers rise at 5:10 a. m. and clean their rooms, from 5:20 until 5:50 a. m. they practice calisthenics, at 6 a. m. they have breakfast, from 7 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. they attend classes, at 12:45 p. m. they catch buses for the flying field, at 6 p. m. they have dinner and at 7 p. m. they are back in class where they remain until 9 p. m. Curfew is at 9:30 p. m.

They follow this schedule six days a week and usually fly all day Sunday. When they are not busy, they serve as guinea pigs for aptitude tests which the Army Air Force Flying Command gives.

These fliers who have overflowed Goode Hall and are rapidly filling Jarvis Hall come to T. C. U. from Illinois, Arkansas, Oklahoma, North Dakota and all parts of Texas.

Among them are college graduates, college students and non-college men.

"This is perhaps T. C. U.'s most direct contribution to the war effort," says Dr. Holsapple.

The C. P. T. co-ordinator also suggests that students in the Cafeteria allow the fliers, since their schedule moves so rapidly, to move ahead of them in the line.

Both men and women are invited to attend, says Miss Enlow. Certificates will be given at the end of the classes.

Lieut. and Mrs. Haldeen Braddy were visitors on the campus yesterday.

Cason Gets Victory With 1 Up, 18 Holes

Spud Cason, a member of the Frogs' freshman golf team, defeated Bobby Schuts of T. W. C. 1 up, 19 holes, Tuesday, to advance to the finals in the Press-Worth Hills Golf Tournament. Both boys carded 70s for the regular 18 holes, and it took a mighty birdie on the extra hole by Cason to eke out the victory.

Bulletin boards have been assigned, announces Registrar S. W. Hutton.

The presidents of all clubs and organizations may learn of their assignments by coming to Registrar Hutton's office.

Naval Uniforms Revive Coeds' Interest In Jarvis

By EDLEEN ARMSTRONG and MARY ALLENE INGRAM

Coeds are developing a renewed interest in Jarvis Hall since it is being converted into quarters for commissioned officers of the navy. This added attraction causes favorable comment among the girls, but the college boys are foreseeing difficult dating competition. Wishful thinking is being indulged in by them for a training unit of WAVES to be stationed on the campus.

Not only the navy, but also the army is well represented at all times. Every rank from private to lieutenant is on hand for social activities, football games and dances. Many exes and graduates from all branches of the service visit on the Hill while on leave, and before going to foreign service.

War-time trends in beauty are also being observed by coeds. The "spic and span" appearance of a man in uniform tends to make the girl more conscious of the importance of being immaculate in dress and make-up. Nonessentials of yesterday should be discarded, and simplicity should be the keynote today. The ideal coed is neither a dashing outdoor girl nor a glamorized beauty. She should just be natural.

A pep rally, with surprise features, will be held tonight on the front steps of Foster Hall, preceding the game with Kansas University tomorrow.

Last week's Freshman Prom and President's Reception, the two first formal functions of the year, successfully launched the students into the social whirlpool for the year.

Virginia Hillyard, Ex-Frog, Now Is "Enlisted Man"

Not only does T. C. U. boast a large number of boys in the service of our country, but several girls are also "enlisted men." Outstanding among them is Miss Virginia Hillyard, A. B. '41, who is a commissioned officer in the "Waves," women's naval corps.

"Although Virginia only attended T. C. U. her senior year, she made quite a record for herself in the history department," asserts Dr. W. J. Hammond.

"She also made a fine record at Paschal, where she attended high school," says Miss Ruby Mixon, Paschal teacher who persuaded Virginia to come to T. C. U. her last year.

When Virginia graduated, she went to New Orleans to clerk in a department store. Up until the time of her enlistment she was buyer and manager of her department.

"She was a girl of considerable initiative and poise," Dr. Hammond recalls, "and one that would be suitable to administrative work."

"The fact that her father was a high naval officer killed not long ago, may have been the reason for her keen interest in the "Waves" and her determination to be one of them," Dr. Hammond adds.

Coeds Give Up to Navy—

Girls of Jarvis Abandon Old Home for Uncle Sam

The sentiment attached to Jarvis Hall is great, as any girl who has lived there can readily tell you. Had the world not been at war, there is not a doubt but that coeds would have preferred Jarvis to Foster. But with boy-friends overseas and elsewhere, each girl feels it her duty to do something for her country. Consequently, the greatest sacrifice they could make was to relinquish their beloved "home" to Uncle Sam's men who are in training on the campus.

The navy men will realize this sacrifice after they have become accustomed to the comings and goings of the four-legged patrons whose favorite habitat is Jarvis!

(Befriend these varmintes, fellows, or you will never be popular with the coeds. There is hardly a girl who has not stood atop her desk or dresser and conversed with these "roommates" far into the night!)

Besides the merits of these lovable playmates, there was the familiarity of the four plastered walls. You could paint on them or drive nails into them and your handiwork would never be discovered among the arts of those who came before you.

Then too, each girl has left marks which give the rooms that homey, run-down look. Not so with Foster. Every room is fresh and new. Why, you can't even hang a picture for fear it will leave a mark on the wall, and the floors are so shiny and bright that they must be swept almost every day. The furniture, too, is minus all those characteristic carvings, cracks and rocking-chair habits which were common to Jarvis.

The coeds try to look cheerful and be gay about their life in Foster Hall. But now-a-days who doesn't try to keep smiling in the face of such trying ordeals as being robbed of the home which they and hundreds of other girls have helped to dismantle so thoroughly!

The campusites should sympathize with the girls who are making out the best they can in Foster Hall. Proof that it is trying to them lies in the fact that some 10 or 15 town students have taken up residence within the new dormitory!

"All are invited to attend," Prof. Ziegler says.
