Married Students Agree Marriage and School Mix

"There's definitely an advantage to being married and attending school at the same time," says Mrs. Harry Tompkins, Jr., freshman. "Your husband can help you with your homework!"

This is one of many answers made by married students when questioned by Skiff reporters taking a poll on "What Married People Think of School" or "What Students Think of Marriage . . . for THEMSELVES." Mrs. Tompkins, a graduate nurse, has been married nine months.

Roy Towery and Mrs. Joseph Morgan share the belief that married students have an advantage over unmarried ones because they aren't always worrying over "losing his gal or her man to somebody else."

Mrs. Rebecca Fitch, senior, says that it isn't any harder to keep house and go to school than to do any other single job. "Besides, my husband likes for me to go to school because he says it keeps me beat down to his size. He means that when he comes home tired he knows I am too." Mrs. Fitch was married in 1941.

"Marriage has made me surer of what I want . . . settled me down," says George Stuart, ministerial student with a wife and two children. Bill Shropshire, ministerial student with a baby girl, feels that married life and school mix well. "Before I married I made C's and D's, now I make the Honor Roll."

Mrs. Dorothy Bryant Montgomery, married since June, a junior who was a class favorite in both her freshman and sophomore years says "I get a lot more studying done now, 'cause Beecher makes me stay on the Honor Roll!" He is at Parris Island with the Marines.

Mrs. Willard B. Simpson went to T. C. U. in 1935 and dropped out to get married. Her husband is a civilian instructor at Meacham Field. "We have a lot of fun together because Willard is a graduate of the University of Texas . . . and anybody can see what that would mean!"

"My husband is in the Air Forces in England now and I especially like going to school because it gives me something to do and to think about," says Mrs. Ruth Woodson VanTassel, senior, who was married last year.

Otto Marshall, a graduate student who received his degree in June, has a church at Smithfield and a 6-year-old son. He thinks all his jobs blend well together.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Payne, juniors, were married in June and both think marriage is "great". Mrs. Dale H. Brown, whose husband is a local paint salesman, is going to school taking only one subject—"Music Theory"—because that is her hobby.

Mrs. Dorothy Pugh is going to college so that she can help her husband in his work as minister of the Polytechnic Christian Church. Mrs. Ann Hutton Hightower feels that being married gives her an incentive to study. Her husband is in the Army Air Forces at Miami, Fla.

"I feel that both partners of a marriage should go to school or neither," says Mrs. Mary Dee Gleason, wife of Chester Gleason, who is a graduate student.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Felkel, sophomores, have been married eleven years and have two children. They feel that by both of them being in school they can help each other.

"I hope to get my degree so that I can start a metaphysical college," says Mrs. Nell Truesdell. Her husband is a metaphysical minister.

Initiation Held For Frogettes

Audrey Naas Elected
Head of Club—Committee
To Nominate Sponsor

Let's informal initiation for the Frogettes was held last night.

The freshman girls put on individual and group stunts and did their best to keep a solemn face. The girls who were unable to keep quiet paid a penalty. Junior and senior dormitory girls were guests of the two clubs.

Plans for the initiation were made by a committee composed of Misses Doris Hampton, Elizabeth Glasscock, Betty Lou Cobb, Dannie Danenberg, Margaret Ross, Josie McClellan, Laura Kirk, Joan Gardner and Mary Lou Slay.

Miss Audrey Naas has been elected president of the Frogettes. Miss Elizabeth Duncan is vice-president and Miss Dorothy Moseley is secretary-treasurer.

Miss Naas has appointed a committee to consider nominations for a sponsor. The committee will report and the sponsor will be elected at the next meeting.

Council Discusses Eligibility Of Yell Leader Candidates

Plans for today's election was the business on hand when the Student Council met Monday. A discussion was held concerning the eligibility of certain yell leader petitioners. All were voted eligible.

At a called meeting of the Council Tuesday, held after three letters requesting the meeting were submitted by members, a provisional amendment to the constitution was made which states that any person having had two semesters in college and one year as yell leader in any college is eligible as a head yell leader.

Stage Receives New Personality

Repairs to the Auditorium stage have been completed, reports Dr. T. Smith McCorkle.

An acoustical ceiling has replaced the old one, making the top of the stage sound proof as well as throwing the voices into the Auditorium. The hangings have been raised to accommodate the higher ceiling.

A new set has been ordered that will cost $300. Arrival of the set is due sometime before the production of the first play of the season, "Death Takes a Holiday,"

American Girls Mystify Him—

Polish Boy Recalls Ravages Inflicted by German Army

"Poland" they call him. In reality he's a dark, timid boy who unwittingly watched Central Europe crumble under Nazi propaganda and power.

The name is Emmanuel Gitlin. Born in the Polish Ukraine, a bone of contention between Russia and Poland, he watched the beginnings of Nazism in Europe, from the rise of Hitler to the time that his country was invaded in 1939 and war was declared between Germany and England.

"Poland," an American by birth, since his parents were naturalized citizens, came to America for the first time when he was 6 years old. His father, the Rev. Moses Gitlin, an evangelist and educator, presented the report of his activities and work, and the family returned to Poland in 1928.

Emmanuel went to elementary school in Poland and to high school in Wales. When he left Poland in 1935, the Polish dictator had been

"Camps Need Entertainment;
Let's Start Working On It,"
Is Typical Campus Opinion

Reaction is generally favorable on the campus to The Skiff's suggestion last week that a Varsity Show be organized to serve as an entertainment unit for nearby army camps and hospitals.

Most students share the opinion of Miss Mary Lou Slay, who says: "It seems to me to be more important to have a Varsity Show during wartime than during peace."

"Other schools are doing this same thing—why can't we?" asks Miss Gloria Bushon. Miss Betty Lou Cobb adds, "We did it at Christian College last year, and the boys at the camps really liked it."

"We need to do something like that," comments Miss Shirley Glasscock. "The truth is that the show could easily enough fill a need here on the campus as well as in the camps."

In that connection, Apprentice Seaman Russell Vinson says, "You've no idea how well such a show will be received."

Like Miss Barbara Bundock, many students think that "It's a good idea, and there's enough talent here to put on a good show. But it won't be good unless everyone will back it."

Clyde Foltz, too, comments on the need for everyone to work. "A really marvelous idea," says Clyde. "The biggest need is for a good manager. After this thing gets to going, it might be used to benefit the Frog War Fund as well as service men."

Miss Gloria Sheinberg comments, "I'm sure it will have the backing of every student, and especially the ones who are interested in music and stage production."

Mrs. Dorothy Bryant Montgomery, who teaches dancing, offers to help with the dance routines. "I think that if the idea were carried out, it would make the boys and girls here at T. C. U. feel as if they were doing something worth while toward the war effort," comments Prof. B. A. Crouch.

"Mr. Fred" Dies Following Operation

Fred Stromberg, campus gardener since 1920, died Wednesday at the Methodist Hospital, where he had been taken for an emergency operation some 10 days ago. The funeral will probably be held Monday at the University Christian Church.

"Mr. Fred," as he was known to all, took a great pride in his work of tending campus shrubbery and lawns. He gave many of his evening hours to the care of the church grounds. In his earlier life, he had worked as a sailor "before the mast," living in Galveston.

shot, Nazi propaganda was strong, and anti-Semitism ran high.

When the Gitlin family left England in 1939 for America, they just missed the beginning of the end. Two and one-half weeks after they sailed, war was declared as the Nazis invaded Poland.

"No, we were not exactly expecting war," he says. "Poland was strongly pro-Nazi even while we were there, and it never occurred to us that Poland would be invaded by Germany. However, it was not so much an invasion as it was the overwhelming strength of Nazi propaganda. I actually feel that for the most part, the Polish people did not mind being put under the Nazi regime."

In America, the Gitlins settled down in Detroit to live as normal Americans do. The Rev. Mr. Gitlin continued his theological work, and began conducting a weekly radio program known as the (Continued on Page 4)

Entiende usted? We Said 'Thanks'

Los estudiantes de la tienda por Libros respondian a los gritos de "Amigos, uno de otro" con esplendida. En las palabras del Tejas Cristiano Universidad, congratulations and many thanks for co-operation of students helping out in the Bookstore.

The Skiff ran an editorial a couple of weeks back that was directed by the student body in the hopes of correcting a little unthoughtfulness on the part of fellow students helping in the Bookstore. The editorial was a success and a failure. It was a success in that it brought to light this little shortcoming and corrected it. It was a failure because it unmeaningly stepped on some individual toes.

Apologies on both sides and explanations of who and why are settled. So, repetiamos, muchas gracias, estudiantes.

Town Students Are Organizing

"We don't get a fair deal on the campus!" is the cry of any number of town students who, unorganized, are missing much of the fun of college life.

Now the chance has come. A group of town girls, aware of the possibilities of a town club, has begun to organize all town girl students into a group that may, if it gains the proper support, be a solidifying factor between town and dormitory students.

Object of the group will be to see that town students get into the spirit of things at T. C. U. just as much as those living on the campus. It is not intended to be an opposition group, but rather one interested in having a voice in campus affairs.

B. C. B. Plans Fall Retreat

"Fellowship" Is Theme Of Program to Be Held At Lake Worth Camp

The fall B. C. B. Retreat will be held Wednesday and Thursday at the Leroy Schuman Boy Scout Camp at Lake Worth. Participants will leave the campus at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and return late Thursday afternoon. All ministerial students are invited to attend and will be dismissed from their Thursday classes.

Marshall Masters and Jack Shirley are in charge of the program.

The theme will be "Adventuring in Fellowship."

The following addresses will be given: "Qualifications for Fellowship," by Thomas F. Richardson; "Resources for Fellowship," Dr. William V. Roosa; "Adventuring in Campus Fellowship," Dean Colby D. Hall; "Adventuring in the Wider Ministerial Fellowship," Prof. D. Ray Lindley; "Adventuring in Intellectual Fellowship," Dr. Cecil Cheverton; and "Adventuring in World-Wide Fellowship," President M. E. Sadler.

Bookstore Tells Coke Situation

Mrs. Pat Donham in an explanation to students concerning the campus coke situation, reports that four cases of cokes, in addition to the eight already being received each week, may be had if she can secure at least two cases of empty coke bottles.

Any student who has one or more coke bottles which were originally used for trade in the Bookstore is asked to return the bottles so that these extra cokes may be obtained.

No cokes will be reserved for anybody in the future. We will serve only those who come to the window and wish to drink there," says Pat. "If you want to be sure of getting a coke each week, you had better scout around and find some empty bottles.

"Because of the coke machine in Clark Hall, we will not serve cokes to the V-12 men anymore," she adds.

Contract Signs 465 Navy Men

President M. E. Sadler has signed a contract for a maximum of 465 Navy men, including V-12 and V-5, to be stationed at T. C. U.

"Of course the exact number may vary," says President Sadler, "but at the present time our facilities can not accommodate many more."

(One of a Series)

"Just as I was ready to be shipped overseas, the Armistice was signed," Dr. Austin L. Porterfield says, recalling his "squad right" days of World War I.

Dr. Porterfield admits that he sometimes got his feet mixed up at drill time.

"If I hadn't, who knows, I might have been a corporal instead of a Pfc.!"

He was a machine gunner in the 13th Infantry, Eighth Division. When the Armistice was signed, he was stationed at Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y. He served in the Army for six months.

The thing that gave Dr. Porterfield the most trouble when he was in service was fighting an ardent desire to sneak out of camp to visit his first-born, his daughter Frances.

Mystery Mr. Z. Worries 'Lizzie'; Friend or Foe?

It's not Mr. X who's worrying Miss "Lizzie" Faguy-Cote—Mr. Z.

Just who Mr. Z. is, is causing Elizabeth some concern. He creeps into her life by interfering in some nice little written conversations which she and Mr. X were carrying on on the door of Elizabeth's locker. Mr. X, she knows, is Apprentice Seaman Kenneth Womack. But who is Mr. Z?

The locker notes begin like this:

"I say again. Why don't you come to your locker?" (signed) Mr. X.

"Because I'm simply scared to death of mysterious Mr. X." (signed) Miss F.

This playful banter of words continues in the same vein. Then comes the villain:

"Dear Miss F: Mr. X is trying to string you along. Don't believe a word he says!" Mr. Z.

Replies Mr. X: "Just wait until I get my hands on Mr. Z!"

Town Girls Organize To Increase Activities

SPORTS FORUM

By Richard Moore

Southwest Conference teams are into action tomorrow, with members except the Frogs fitting their schedule.

T. C. U. will wait until next Friday before beginning its first-game schedule against Arkansas University at Little Rock, which will be the first time in the history of the Frogs-Porkers rivalry that T. C. U. has not played least one game ahead of this annual conference curtain-raiser.

It is time for the starting another Southwest Conference race, it comes time again for a paper's prediction as to how race will end. So here is this year's "guess" as to how the box score will read about Nov. 28:

Team	Won	Lost	Average
Rice	4	1	.800
Texas	4	1	.800
T. C. U.	3	2	.600
S. M. U.	2	3	.400
Texas A. & M.	4	2	.200
Arkansas	1	4	.200

It may seem odd that a green crystal ball reader should step off the Texas band wagon, in which all the experts are going to predict a tie between Texas and Rice. However, Texas has been chosen by most predictors because of the quantity of material on which Coach Dana Bible has chosen his squad. For that matter, Coach Jess Neeley has 90 men from which to select his 60-man ad, which is a rather large amount of material.

The Texas team is being built around a high school star who may be called to service at any time. The Owl's team will depend upon Bucky Sheffield, sophomore V-12 trainee, who will play Rice until July 1. T. C. U. will lose too many men Nov. 1 to be considered a threat for the title. S. M. U. does not have the line. Texas A. & M. is depending upon high school graduates and 4-F's, as Arkansas, another Army school, also doing.

Ed Cornelius, Jimmy Tinkle and Fred Foltz returned Monday from Troy, where they preached the Sunday morning and evening services, respectively, at the Christian Church there.

Frogs to Hold Final Extended Work-Out Tomorrow Before Opening Game, Oct. 2

'Purples' to Battle 'Whites' In Practice Game—Meyer Is Scouting Razorbacks

By RICHARD MOORE

The Frogs will hold their last extended work-out tomorrow before meeting the Arkansas Razorbacks, Oct. 2. A regular game is scheduled, Coach Hub McQuillan says, with a regular kick-off to be used for the first time since practice began. The battle is scheduled to start around 4 o'clock.

Coach Dutch Meyer will be in Fayetteville, scouting Arkansas in the Missouri Mines game. He will be back Monday.

Meyer was disappointed with the work of his men last Saturday. The boys showed little hustle, and the first team, which had made scores of yardages against the second team

The White team's defense also fell apart, as the Purple eleven had a field day compared with the previous week. Although the second team did not score, they drove to the 3-yard line once before being stopped by an intercepted pass.

James' Work Impressive

The impressive work of Royal James in the Saturday's scrimmage caused Meyer to move this lad up to the first team, replacing Quinten Lawrence. James is a V-12 boy who comes from Abilene Christian College. He lettered last year, playing in the blocking back spot. Meyer has him running from the wingback position.

Three boys have been missing the head bumping scrimmages this week because of injured ankles—James McGehee, Owen Lease and Duke Bolen.

Passing Game Looks Better

Meyer spent Monday and Tuesday sending the backs, ends and centers through short dashes, and passing and punting exercises. The passing of Arthur Teixeira and James Lucas continues to improve and the receivers are holding on to the ball better.

Tuesday afternoon the White and Purple team paired off. The Purple eleven, with Teixeira doing the kicking, spent a half hour going down under kicks. Two of the punts were brought back for touchdowns, one by James, and one by Lawrence. Both "touches" were made behind beautiful down-field blocking.

And they all lived through it and went to the Freshman Prom just as beautiful as freshmen always do. That will be the ending of the Frosh story along about Saturday night. The sophs are just revelling in the glory of 'lording' it over others as they were 'lorded' over last year. It's all in fun, so more power to 'em!

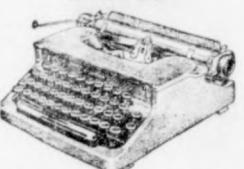

Practically every night this week the soph girls have had "secret" meetings with the Frosh in Foster, and it seems that they can still think up untold things to make them do. Like, for instance, wearing the same dress for a solid week and carrying dolls around on their dates. Well, so much for them . . . We'll be seeing them at the Prom Saturday night.

JACK CEDERLUND and BONNE HALL did a fine job of starting the tea dances from 4:30 to 5:30 . . . They ought to turn out to be fun for everybody. We hear they might become a permanent fixture if they keep turning out so successful.

Something given us: "Notice to the cute little freshmen girls. WENDELL TOWER received his intramural jacket last week, and since he is in the V-12 and has no need for the jacket, any girl who would like a nice looking jacket, start to work on Wendell. No strings are holding him down at the present time, girls."

MARY JO HORTON makes a visit to the campus every night after getting off from work at CONSOLIDATED. It's to see JO ED HILL. HELEN ZIEGLER and W. K. McCONNELL have been making it a constant twosome . . . BETTY BECKHAM, ELIZABETH EPPERSON and JEANNE GRACEY have gone in for CADETS . . .

Well, here's for everybody seeing everybody else at the Prom tomorrow night.

Plans to help at the U. S. O., already made by the Campus Club, will be discussed at a meeting at 12:30 p. m. Monday in the Amphitheater.

Polish Boy Recalls

"World-Wide Jewish Broadcast." Emmanuel attended Columbia Bible School, the University of South Carolina; he won two scholarships offered by Henry Ford to deserving students before coming to T. C. U., where he is a senior.

His chief interest lies in religious publicity. He wants to establish Protestant newspapers in Roman Catholic countries of eastern Europe after the war.

"I feel that the press is the best means of publicizing and popularizing Protestantism," he says. "And Protestantism, in turn, gives much to democracy."

Now, during odd moments, he writes articles for Russian publications, and often writes sermons for his father. He is also a dabbler in poetry, although he writes it mostly in Polish. He speaks English, Russian, Polish and Hebrew, and has a knowledge of most languages of Central Europe.

Of America, Emmanuel likes best of all "its glorification of originality and individualism of expression." He likes the friendly atmosphere of T. C. U. and says that "it's easy to get acquainted." However, Emmanuel says that "these American girls" are just too much for him to understand.
