

Student Council to Buy Smaller Service Flag

A new and smaller service flag for the University was ordered by the Student Council last week.

The action was taken after the War Fund committee of the council failed to find a satisfactory flag to hang the present 46-foot flag. It can no longer be hung on the stage in the Auditorium, and it must be taken down to make a play or other entertainment is presented.

The new flag will contain only two stars, one blue and one gold. The number in the center will indicate the number in the service and those killed in action. The flag will be sewed to the two stars.

The service flag was in demand by men who have attended

T. C. U. also will be represented on the flag, in keeping with the University policy which says that any person who has earned credit toward a degree at T. C. U. is an ex-student.

Dr. John Barclay, minister at the Central Christian Church in Austin, will be the principal speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, May 2-4, Neill McFarland, chairman of the religious activities committee, told the Council. There will be no Easter assembly, as the committee had planned.

A closing time for Council meetings was set at 12:40 p. m.

Students Can Get Names on Annual

Students will be able to have their names put on the cover of their annuals in gold lettering again this year, says Miss Bettye Flo Baker, editor. Those wishing to have this done must see Miss Baker, Miss Mary Lou Slay or Albert Bristol and pay 25 cents before Wednesday.

Bristol has been recently appointed business manager of the Horned Frog. Others who have been added to the staff are Misses Cassie Aucoin and Hattie Stanley and Joe Shosid.

'The Life Eternal' to Be Sermon Topic Sunday

"And the Life Eternal" will be the subject of the Rev. Granville Walker's sermon at the University Christian Church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Q'Zella Oliver Jeffus will play "An Easter Pean," by Mueller and "Spring Song," by Mendelssohn. The choir will sing Handel's "Hallelujah."

Neill McFarland will speak at Evensong and Fred Parker will play a violin solo, "Adagio," by Riese.

Easter will be the theme at Meliorist immediately following Evensong.

Sadler, Three Professors Attend Dallas Meeting

President M. E. Sadler, Dean Jerome Moore, Dean Cortell Holsapple and Dr. T. F. Richardson attended a meeting of the Texas College Association Wednesday in Dallas.

Students Follow Parents to T C U

"Second Generation Frogs" is a good name for them. There are lots of them on the campus, too. Frogs, in this case, doesn't mean all the little horned toads that run around over "the hill," but the human frogs—T. C. U. students.

Many of the present students had members of their families here before them. Quite a few of those students have one or both parents who are T. C. U. exes. These are the "Second Generation Frogs."

Among those students whose parents are exes are Misses Betty Jo Gambell, Carolyn McCartney, Nina Elliott, Betty Tomlinson, Betty Thompson, Edith Jones, Sadie Beth Tevis, Helen Ziegler, Polly Clark, Norma Purvines, Mary Lou Slay and Mary Gene Carter and Bob Maxey. Bob and his mother were on the campus at the same time last year.

Personnel Office Center For Blood Bank Donors

The office of student personnel has been assigned to take care of applications from students who wish to donate to the Red Cross Blood Bank, according to Dr. T. F. Richardson.

Students who wish to obtain applications may do so from this office. Faculty members should see Dean Jerome Moore.

Miss Bonnie Hall, chairman of the Frog War Fund Committee, asks that all students who have donated blood turn their names in to her, so that they may be added to the honor roll which is posted in the main hall of the Administration Building.

Hammond Will Lecture On "Mexico" at Baylor

Dr. W. J. Hammond will speak at the Latin American Workshop at Baylor University on "Mexico, Our Good Neighbor to the South" next Friday.

Ray Swartz's Band Will Play For Annual Event, to Begin At 8 in Basketball Gymnasium

Next Friday is the date for the annual Spring Formal, which each year welcomes T. C. U.'s favorite season to the campus. Ray Swartz and his 12-piece band will play.

The dance will be held from 8 to 11 p. m. in the Basketball Gymnasium.

Admission will be $1.25, couple or stag. All Navy men will be allowed to attend, and the curfew at both the U. S. S. Clark Hall and Foster will ring at 11 p. m.

Dance Manager Dick Geib promises good music and colorful decorations for the affair, which probably will be the last formal dance of the year. Miss Roxie Hart and Billy Neil, members of the dance committee of the Student Council, are in charge of decorations and publicity. The "Y" will handle the cold drink concession.

The band, which plays regularly at Danceland, has one T. C. U. student in its personnel. He is Don McGeehee, trumpet player.

The Wednesday matinee dances are continuing successfully, says Geib. The jukebox was taken to a repairman Thursday and will be returned in good shape before Wednesday's informal hop.

Bryson Considers Musical Show

The presentation of a musical show, similar to the Variety Show which was presented before the war, is being considered by the Bryson Club.

The members of the club have pledged their co-operation, and Miss Bettye Flo Baker and Miss Mary Lou Slay have been appointed to write the script. Miss Georgia Collins and Miss Norma Purvines will have charge of the dances.

Plans are at a standstill until Miss Collins returns from New York, where she hopes to get some ideas for the dances. The money raised by the musical will be used to buy war bonds.

Hutton, Brite Quartet, To Attend Convention

Registrar S. W. Hutton will be in charge of worship and music at the State Convention of Christian Churches at Waco, May 8-11.

Rabbi Philip Graubart will speak on the subject, "In Judaism, the Accent's on Ethics," at Brite Chapel Wednesday.

Dorothy Carries T. C. U. to Sailor On Pacific Duty

There's a sailor out on the Pacific Ocean whose job prevents him from attending T. C. U. But, it didn't keep him from finding a way to learn all the things he wanted to know about the campus.

For this sailor had a friend in Dorothy Nies. And Dottie was willing to answer all of "Gibbs'" questions. And when "Gibbs" ran out of the usual questions, he became curious about the campus.

Now, Dottie isn't one to do things by halfway means; so she began a series of sketches of points of interest. The Arch was her first subject. Braving a stiff March wind, and a pre-April shower, Dottie sketched the Arch, complete to the red-bud trees blooming along the walk. Painted in water colors, the picture was shipped out to "Gibbs," who can expect to receive other sketches in the near future.

The honeysuckle arbor, the bandstand, Brite College, the U. S. S. Clark, the Administration Building, Foster Hall and even the Gymnasium will come to life under Dottie's pencil.

Why Eat Breakfast?

Early arrivals at the Drug: First, business men on the Hill—coffee slurpers. They toss a cup of coffee down and sprint off to open up for business.

Second, Navy personnel, from the big chief on down. They tease the waitresses, use many napkins, eat everything in sight.

Last, the "before 8 o'clockers." They keep one eye on breakfast, the other on the clock, and generally rush into class still carrying the last piece of toast.

Then the Drug settles down to serving people who just aren't in a hurry.

The Skiff's baby is at long last being considered for adoption. For weeks last fall, the Skiff presented the possibilities of a Varsity Show, and pleaded that some organization take it over and produce a war-time version. Now, just when all hope had been abandoned, the Bryson Club decides it would be the thing to do to have a musical show to raise money for war bonds.

In the good old days, the college boys serenaded their girl friends. Now the girls come out and sing to the boys. It's the war—or, at least the version of it as offered by the V-12 restrictions. Six Fosterites serenaded the Clark Hall sailors the other night just as the ship's lights were being doused. The stunned crew was too surprised even to howl back in true sea-wolf style. The men say they enjoyed the music, even if one girl did sing a bit off-key!

Some hold that breakfast is an abomination unto the Lord. Others regard it as the high point of the day's activities. Whatever your opinion may be, you will agree that breakfast is an established American institution. The Skiff, determined that its readers shall be informed about all things, inquired around, "Do you eat breakfast, and why?" Here are a few of the answers:

Jack Vaughan, "Uncle Sam says eat breakfast, so I eat breakfast." Betty Waldrop, "Cause you can't play a piano on an empty stomach." Colleen Padden, "Mother drags me downstairs and pours it down me." Joe, "Because Connie does"; Connie, "Because Joe does."

Two Books Are Added To Southwest Collection

Two books by Mary Austin, "Santa Lucia" and "Christ In Italy," have been added to the collection being made for the Southwest Room of the Library. This completes the collection, except for two books.

Humorous books to offset serious war reading which have been received include "The Queen's in the Kitchen," by Daphne Alloway McVicker, and "The Gay Illiterate," by Louella Parsons. "The Loom of Language," by Frederick Bodmer and edited by Lancelot Hogben, is also among the newcomers on the shelves.

About 100 periodicals are being prepared for binding, estimates Mrs. Bertie Mothershead.

Betty Hart, "I eat because it's already paid for in the Cafeteria!" Most of the others divide into two classes. The first do not eat breakfast, because they'd rather sleep. The second do eat breakfast, because they're hungry.

Wonder how many students made the same observation that Ruth Taulbee made after seeing "Life With Father"? Commented Ruth, emerging from the theater with a laughing crowd, "I could see my father in that every other minute!"

'Y' Groups Hear E. Stanley Jones

All groups of the "Y" are attending a series of lectures by Dr. E. Stanley Jones, lecturer, missionary and preacher.

April 18, the social group, under the direction of Dr. H. R. Mundhenke, will continue its discussion of inter-racial problems. Miss Nina Elliott will lead the discussion on the "Value of Inter-Racial Discussions."

Tentative plans have been made for a dance for members only to be held sometime in April.

Letters + +

Letters of not more than 150 words from either student or faculty members will be accepted for publication. They must be signed, although the name will be withheld if requested. Anonymous letters cannot be printed.

Editor of the Skiff and Members of the Student Body: At the end of the winter trimester, the total amount which we had already turned in to the World Student Service Fund was $380.20. All but $70.16 (the W. S. S. F. share of the Frog War Fund) was given by individuals in our recent drive. This is a remarkable improvement over last year's $100. It is my hope that next year we will surpass our goal of $1 a student.

To those who worked in this campaign and to those who gave, be assured that you have made a real contribution to building the peace by helping to educate those who are studying in war-torn areas. Thanks to all those who co-operated with us so well in this drive.

Sincerely,

Your Easter

In a theater once, a song gave birth to a thought.

The song: "Easter time is the time for eggs, and the time for eggs is the Easter time."

The thought: Is that all Easter really means to us—a day for colored eggs, new clothes, boy friends sending their best girls candy and flowers?

On an Easter day have the words ever occurred to you: "The third day He arose again from the dead . . . He ascended into heaven . . ." On Easter morn is it that thought which comes to your mind as you prepare for church, or is it the preparing (in your new dress or suit) that dominates?

What does Easter mean to you?

Many campus groups might have good reason to envy the Mavericks and Dames, who have decided to reorganize. Few clubs have a chance at a fresh start.

The Mavericks and Dames have held no meetings this year; they were quietly laid in their graves many months ago. There are numbers of clubs, still supposedly active on the campus, which are virtually "dead on their feet." They meet, that's all. They have no real purpose, nothing toward which to aim. The members get together more or less spasmodically, make plans, discuss plans, let the fall through.

Wanted: A Purpose

The clubs that all students know new students want to join, are the clubs which have something in mind. They have an aim—whether it is a constant one or only an immediate one. Their purposes are not always glorious, but they are purposes nevertheless.

The Dames and Mavericks can start with a clean slate. They can profit from their own past mistakes and those of others. They can start with an ideal reason for maintaining their organizations, and keep it going. If they do so successfully, they will walk off and let their less fortunate fellow clubs, who have neither the opportunity nor the initiative to start anew.

Football Squad Narrows

28 Men Left of Original 45 As Coach Meyer Continues With Only Light Scrimmages

With only 27 or 28 boys reporting for practice each day, Coach Dutch Meyer announces that he will hold only light scrimmages for the remainder of the spring training period and says definitely that no intersquad game will be played this year.

Several scholastic difficulties and a few more who dropped out of school caused the sharp cut in the huge squad of 45 boys that reported three weeks ago.

Five boys continue to look like the cream of the crop in the backfield—Joe Kucera, Clyde Flowers, Harry Mullins, Scotty Rainey, and Jesse Mason.

Kucera brought praise from Meyer with his passing and punting exhibitions early in the week and should have no trouble gaining a starting berth if he keeps up the good work.

Flowers continued to improve in his new post as the flankerback and played good ball on the defense as a linebacker.

Mullins, Rainey and Mason—all first-year men—will be battling for the other two places on the starting quartet, and up until now it's been nip and tuck.

Mullins and Mason play the same type of ball. They are hard runners and hard to knock off their feet. Both are outstanding on defense. Rainey, who is the midget of the backfield at 165 pounds, is a speedy, elusive back who should get his share of the passing and punting duties next fall.

Another quintet of boys were particularly noticeable on the line throughout the past few days. They are Carl Jones and Embry Walton, tackles; Charles Houdek at guard; center Bryan Taylor and end George Gartner.

Houdek and Gartner are in the V-12, while the other three are civilian freshmen. All are experienced at their respective positions except Taylor, who was moved to the pivot post by Meyer when no experienced centers showed up. And popular opinion has it that Taylor should really be an asset in the middle of the forward wall next fall.

Meyer will continue spring drills until either Friday of next week or the following Tuesday, which would get in a full 30 days as specified by the conference rules.

Stories.

But Coach Hub can sit back with pride after he begins to think about the upset of the Texas Longhorns and the way his boys continued to improve game after game and finish in a third place tie.

All this was accomplished with a squad that had three men on the starting team with no high school experience at all—a tribute to a great coach and a grand fellow to work with.

Cougars Rout 'Jackets', 11-0

Hellcats Defeat Seadogs 15-2—Goode Hall Frogs To Begin Play April 15

The Admiral Halsey Cougars, paced by the two-bit pitching of Al Barker, shut out the Admiral Dewey Bluejackets 11 to 0 in Wednesday's intramural play.

In the other league game, the Admiral King Hellcats routed the Admiral Nimitz Seadogs, 15 to 2.

The Cougars scored three in the first inning and exploded with six runs in the fourth frame to account for most of their tallies. The Cougars touched pitcher O. C. Brown for nine hits.

The fast ball of Al Barker kept the Bluejacket bats silent for the most part of the game. Barker was credited with 10 strike-outs and faced only 23 batters in the seven inning fray.

The Hellcats had little trouble in downing a hapless Seadog club. The Cats pounced on the deliveries of Cliff Akers in the first inning for six runs to begin the rout. Beryl Whitaker replaced Akers in the second frame and finished the game.

The Cats and Cougars are now tied for top place in the intramural race with one win each. The Admiral Farraguet Crows were inactive this week but will begin tourney play next Wednesday. The Goode Hall Frogs will begin play April 15, after spring football.

Naval Officers to Inspect V-12 Unit This Week-End

Comm. A. S. Adams and Lieut. Mode L. Stone of the Navy will visit T. C. U. this week-end to inspect the V-12 unit, according to Lieut. George C. Decker.

Lieut. Decker says the main purpose of the visit is to investigate the difficulties encountered by the unit since the beginning of the V-12 program, July 1, 1943.

Comm. Adams was a leading figure in the organization of the Navy college training program.

Phobias Strike, Bringing Coeds Jittery Moments

"Will you marry me?" might well be followed by a dose of, "Do you have a phobia?"

A hint should be sufficient to all wise maels. And if they doubt that the advice given in the above statement is good, they might take a look at a few examples of phobias that can be found on the campus.

For instance, if you want to marry Ellen Becker, and try to hug her after the proposal—no soap—she's afraid of being crowded (of course we're speaking from the technical standpoint, not quoting Ellen).

Never take Tina Allen to the roof of the Empire State Building to propose—the high altitude might make her say no.

Speaking of odd phobias, you might mention Margie Mae Luxa. Her pet "never do" is sitting with her back to a door.

Now, Patty Ann Patterson has a really good reason for abhorring elevators. Pttty's mother fractured her skull in one, and Patty's in no mood for same.

You can say things sound fishy, but when speaking of Mary Lou Morrow, one would be obliged to say her phobia sounds sort of snakey—and that's just what it is, a phobia for snakes. When she gets on a spree of dreaming of snakes, she dreams about them for several nights in a row, and every day it makes her jittery.

But then, after all this evidence has been shown in favor of finding out a girl's phobia when you pop that $64 question—there still will be a majority of males who find themselves saying, "Will you marry me?"

Then six weeks later—same male—"Gosh, I forgot, have you got a phobia?"

Girls to Start Playing Softball Games Monday

Students Look Forward To Easter Trips, Guests

"Easter time is the time for eggs," goes a little song. And around the T. C. U. Hill it looks as if it's also the time for play and travel, in spite of a shortage of vacation hours.

Many will take short trips. MARJORIE McKENNA will visit friends in Wichita Falls, while sister MARGARET spends her week-end in Aggie land. ALICE INSKEEP will go to New Orleans, La., and PHYLLIS TOMBAUGH, to Houston and Beaumont.

It will be a real holiday for MRS. MARY WILSON, who will go to Corsicana to see her children. EMILY LAMAR will go home with BETTY JO GAMBLE to Dallas, and CAROLYN McCARTNEY plans a trip to A. & M. to see Cadet Forrest Upshaw.

KAY and BETTY HANNIFAN and RUTH TURNER will spend Easter with Ruth's mother in Atoka, Okla. Many will go home—like JOAN GARDNER and MONA MOORE.

Some of those who can't travel will have visitors. GLADYS SMYTH will be welcoming her mother, down all the way from Chicago. BARBARA NELSON will have as her guest her cousin from Milwaukee, and BETTY JEAN HAASIS will be saying "hello" to her mother, dad and brother.

The two opera performances on Easter Sunday will be a treat for many. NORMA STILLEY, MAYME CONNOR, MARY LUCILLE TERRELL, BETTYE FLO BAKER, SHERLEY GLASSCOCK, MARGARET McKENNON, FAY GARNER, MARGARET CULP and MARY LOU SLAY are among those you're likely to see there. GEORGE VILFORDI, NEILL McFARLAND and SPOTSWOOD BOTTS will catch a Dallas performance.

Then, of course, don't forget the Easter bunny. He has already brought a little stuffed rabbit to BETTIE TODD and a card from California, from "the one" to JESSIE FAYE PUCKETT. HERMAN BECKMAN and L. D. AT-AWAY have put in their request with Peter R. for a blonde and a redhead, respectively. Holiday, you know.

MALCOLM WILSON, E. G. BROWN and JOE SMITH will be over Dallas way, taking in the Ice Capades. AUDREY NAAS will be in charge of an Easter egg hunt for Meliorist, and ADELINE DANIELS will be visiting with brother Paul, ex '41, who will be home on furlough.

HELEN ANDERSON looks forward to Easter as a time to catch up on her sleep. MRS. MARY SCHMIDT will have a fried chicken dinner at her mother's while Eddie goes flying.

But for some it's no vacation. BILL COOK will be holding down his job as announcer at KFJZ—and doing a little Greek assignment on the side. And JOYCE BUSH will work all day Easter on the switchboard.

In Your Easter Bonnet— Girls Pick Various Colors For Sunday Fashion Parade

"In your Easter bonnet, with all the frills upon it, you'll be the grandest lady in the Easter Parade."

Coeds still believe that this is true, and the flurry on the campus this week has been the girls rushing to and from town gathering their "bait" for Eastertime.

Lora Dell Harwood, Bonnie Faye Osburn, Doris Mahon and Alice Kiser all favor white suits. Helen Anderson and Jean Ann Ward prefer white wool dresses. Jean Ann's dress is trimmed in kelly green, and she has sandals to match. Ellen O'Brien also chooses white, in a two-piece wool jersey dress.

Mary Lou Morrow has turned dressmaker deluxe for her Easter outfit. She is making a navy blue hat, purse and dress. Madge O'Neal favors blue too, but hers is a suit. Pat Ritenour combines a navy blue two-piece suit with powder-blue accessories. Margaret Brown and Eugenia Kraft will wear white accessories with navy blue, and Mrs. Mary Schmidt intends to wear the outfit she got married in.

Aqua is a popular color this year. Dorothy Nies has an aqua suit which she will wear with black accessories. Cassie Aucoin, Norma Stilley and Ernestine Wooten all choose aqua. Mary Potter will wear royal blue crepe, with brown accessories. Blue-green is the choice of Mary Elizabeth Roulledge to go with her brown accessories.

Miss Culp to Marry Lieutenant April 15

Miss Lorna Culp, A. B. '44, will be married to Lieut. Travis Budlong at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, April 15, in the Presbyterian Church at Gainesville. Misses Margaret Culp and Billie Jean Boney, A. B. '44, will be the bride's attendants.

Miss Culp was a member of Alpha Chi, Sigma Tau, Ampersand and the Student Council, secretary-treasurer of the senior class and chairman of the Frog War Fund Committee of the Council. Budlong is an Army Air Force instructor, stationed at Walnut Ridge, Ark.

4 Girls Will Appear Before 93 Club

"History of Texas and Its Music" is the theme of a program to be presented by Misses Dorothy Forrester, Ann Barham, Dorothy Nuss and Betty Waldrop Monday afternoon for the 93 Club.

Miss Forrester and Miss Nuss will sing. Miss Barham will narrate and Miss Waldrop will be piano accompanist. The program will be at the Woman's Club.

Sigma Tau to Elect New Members

New members will be elected to Sigma Tau at a meeting at 12:15 p. m. today in Room 217 of the Administration Building.

President Clarence Westapher has appointed three committee chairmen. They are: Miss Frances Stearns, social committee; Miss Madge O'Neal, membership; and Miss Fay Garner, entertainment.

Bryson Will Honor New Members

Members who recently have been elected to the Bryson Club will be honored with a wiener roast Wednesday afternoon in Forest Park.

The group is asked to meet at 5 p. m. at the east door of Foster Hall.

Faculty Women Plan Dessert Party

The Faculty Woman's Club is planning an evening dessert party, to be given April 18 at the home of Mrs. Gayle Scott, who is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Foster "Chefs" Cook Soap Candy For Unlucky Gals

If you've seen any Foster Hall girls foaming at the mouth lately, take it for granted that they aren't really going mad but that they have just been eating soap.

It all comes from a typical April Fool's joke played by Misses Frances Stearns and Jo Bowden. When they were making fudge recently, they decided nothing could be funnier than to chip up a little soap in it, plus a tiny bit of horse radish. The candy turned out looking good enough to fool Jo and Frances' friends.

But, after one bite, they were sadder but wiser girls.

Speech Festival for Girls Will Be Given June 2

A "Festival of Vocal Interpretation of Literature" for girls will be presented June 2 by Prof. L. D. Fallis.

If enough girls enter the contest, they will be divided into classes and the classes will compete against one another. If only a few apply, it will be more an individual contest.

The class, or individual, that wins the contest will receive a plaque.

"All girls are eligible," says Prof. L. D. Fallis. "They must turn in an application before the end of the trimester."

"Bundy's" Veins Are Beautiful—

Blood Bank's Pretty Nurses, Doughnuts Attract Students

It's already replacing "have you heard about my operation" as a topic of conversation. You aren't keeping up with the Jones if you haven't been there. It's interesting, exciting and after you've been there, you feel as patriotic as a military band.

That's right, it's the Blood Bank—the place where coeds enter, wondering if they'll faint, and where fellows try to leave a quart so they can stay longer with the good-looking nurses.

Barbara Bundoock hasn't been the same since she went last week. In a word, "Bundy" has become conceited—about her veins. If you've had a conversation with her since the fateful day, then you have already heard. What happened was something like this: "Bundy" was lying quietly on a cot, while a nurse adjusted the equipment. Suddenly the nurse let out an "Oh!" which brought Barbara straight up in bed.

"You have the most beautiful veins!" the nurse exclaimed. "Just like a man's!"

Emily Jane Lamar has been twice, and now she's quite used to the procedure. "There's nothing to it," says Emily, although, on the night after her first visit, she fainted on a date and frightened her poor escort nearly to death.

Dorothy Nies was "scared green" when she went in, and doctor, detecting it, tried to her at ease. He came in with long needle ("seven feet long looked to me") and said cheerfully "I'm going to insert this into your shoulder so we can get the pure blood." That really made her feel swell.

The nurses at the blood center apparently are some to write home about. Frances Anderson was so busy watching a particularly cute blonde treating lieutenants that she completely got to watch what was happening to her.

"That must be the blonde took my pulse," said Jary He cutt, when Frances told him about it. "They had to let me lie for 30 minutes after she held hand before I was strong enough to give any blood."

Refreshments, as well as the nurses, appealed to Bob Mat when he visited the center. He keeps wondering who made those wonderful doughnuts that went to him.
