Queen and Duchesses

Sally Moler Will Reign As Homecoming Queen

Miss Sally Moler, Tulsa, Okla., freshman, was chosen Homecoming Queen this week by the Frog football team as the T. C. U. campus laid out its party dress and prepared to greet exes and Texas.

Miss Moler will reign during Homecoming festivities and will be presented at the half of the Frog-Longhorn game next Saturday.

Duchesses will be Miss June Burrage, Fort Worth sophomore, and Miss Carey June Cameron, Austin senior. Miss Burrage was last year's queen.

With Homecoming a week off, final plans are being rushed through to make this year's affair one of the best and biggest. Between 10,000 and 15,000 Frog exes are expected to swarm onto the campus next Friday and Saturday, according to Noel Keith, special assistant to President M. E. Sadler. Around 6,000 University of Texas rooters are expected for the football game, Mr. Keith said.

Deadline on float entries for

It Was No Joke, So Sally Learned

Stunned.

That was Miss Sally Moler, blonde and blue-eyed freshman, when she learned she had been chosen Homecoming Queen.

She didn't know anything about it until one of The Skiff photographers told her when he went over to take her picture.

"I thought he was kidding me," beamed Sally.

But he wasn't—and later, when she telephoned home to Tulsa, one of her friends had to tell her parents.

Sally had choked up.

The annual Homecoming parade has been set up to Monday, it was decided at a meeting of the Homecoming committee Tuesday.

Also, the limit on floats ban has been lifted. At the meeting, it was decided that there could be as many floats as desired. Previously, the limit was 10.

Entry fee is $10 for the floats, and cash prizes for the best entries will be awarded on a 50, 30, and 20 per cent basis.

The parade is scheduled for 10 a. m. Saturday. For the first time in its history, the parade will not be staged downtown. The line of procession will be west on Berry St. from McLean Junior High School and north on University Dr. to the Fine Arts Building.

All plans for floats are to be submitted to Miss Dee Porter, float chairman and Student Congress member. Miss Porter may be contacted at Foster Hall.

A pep rally is scheduled for next Friday at the quadrangle. Yelling will start at 8 p. m. and a bonfire will follow.

The Student Congress has planned to be host to student officers of the University of Texas at a banquet after the game.

Classes will be dismissed at 10 a. m. next Saturday, it was announced this week by Vice-President Otto Nielsen.

Dormitory residents have been asked to decorate their abodes for Homecoming. A prize will be awarded to the dormitory doing the best job. The prize will be awarded on the basis of neatness, cleverness, originality and sportsmanship.

Visiting exes will not have to worry about being idle. The Ex-Students' Association has outlined several activities.

Class reunions will begin at 9 a. m. on Homecoming Day in two dormitories. Classes of 1930 and 1940 will gather in Foster Hall and classes of 1920 and 1925 will meet in Jarvis Hall.

The T. C. U. Women's Exes coffee will be held in Waits Hall from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. next Saturday.

The annual barbecue is scheduled for 11:30 a. m. in the Field House, Homecoming Day. At that time new ex-student officers will be installed. Students and faculty members are invited.

The Ex-Letterman's Association will hold its meeting and banquet at Hotel Texas next Friday at 6 p. m., it was announced this week by George Gartner, president of the group.

Journalism exes will hold their second annual meeting at 6 p. m. next Friday at the Worth Hotel, according to Bill Haworth, B. A. '40, chairman.

Homecoming Skiff May Be 24 Pages

Next Friday's issue of The Skiff will be the official Homecoming edition. About 24 pages are planned, including a special four-page photo section.

One thousand extra copies will be printed for distribution to exes. They will be distributed at downtown alumni gatherings and at the women's tea and the barbecue on the campus Saturday.

The Homecoming edition will be the last Skiff in November because of Thanksgiving holidays beginning Nov. 23.

Congress Hears Olsen Defend Dance Losses

"Methinks the gentleman protesteth too much" might have been in the thoughts of congress members Monday, as James K. "Chic" Olsen, dance manager, launched a defense of the loss of $299.12 on his first congress-sponsored dance.

Tickets and decorations for the Field House cost $24.12; two pianos had to be moved by bonded movers at $10 per piano; and Ken McGarity's fee was $300. Receipts totaled $45, according to the dance manager's report.

However, Olsen said, the Administration will refund congress' expense for moving the pianos.

"It was cold Saturday night . . . there wasn't enough publicity . . . students had made prior arrangements to entertain Baylor visitors elsewhere . . ." said Olsen to an unchallenging, but silent, congress.

"I wish congress would tell me whether it wants to make money on the dances or get the best bands for the students, regardless of cost," continued Olsen in an attempt to get the assembly to state a definite policy on dances.

"If you make money, you're a crook; if you lose money, you're a crook," concluded the dance manager as he sat down to await an expected storm of criticism.

After a momentary hush, David E. Trevena, San Angelo sophomore, moved for a vote of confidence in the dance manager's action. It was quickly seconded.

Congress then moved into a discussion of a proposed student directory. Bill Hooser, Student Association president, told members that congress would put out the directory.

"Maybe that's why we didn't have good dance attendance," cracked Hooser. "The boys don't know where the girls live."

Congress appropriated $20 to pay for a pennant given to Baylor at half-time during the game Saturday and $99.12 to add to the $200 set aside last week for the Baylor dance.

"A pencil-sharpener in every classroom" will be requested in a letter to be sent to Business Manager L. C. Wright. Congress approved a motion to that effect made by Melvin Shupp, San Antonio sophomore and chairman of the welfare committee.

Hooser announced that Miss Susanna Landers, Menard junior and 1950 Sweetheart, will represent T. C. U. at the Cotton Bowl game.

Richard L. Ramsey, Fort Worth junior and Student Association vice-president, distributed typed copies of the constitution among congressmen.

"If any other students want a copy, they will find a whole stack in the congress office," he said.

Nielsen Named Director Of State Association

Vice-President Otto R. Nielsen was elected to the state advisory board of the Texas Personnel and Management Association at its recent meeting in Austin.

The association is a state-wide group, made up of personnel managers and other businessmen who have 10 or more persons in their employ.

Favorite Nominees Parade at Ball

A huge freshman cap centered the setting in which 40 favorite nominees were presented at the annual Presentation Ball at the Casino last night.

As the nominees emerged from the sides of the cap, Prof. Warren K. Agee, acting chairman of the journalism department and Horned Frog sponsor, narrated the script by which each couple was presented. The couples then paraded down a long, grass-covered aisle to the strains of their respective class tunes.

Ballots were cast for three boy and three girl favorites from each class. Choices for "Mr. and Miss T. C. U." were written in on the ballots.

Identity of the 24 favorites and Mr. and Miss T. C. U. will be kept secret until announced in the Horned Frog in the Spring, when they will be honored with full-page pictures.

The remaining 16 nominees will be runners-up.

Music for dancing was played by Curley Broyles and his orchestra.

As the freshman song, "Sweet and Lovely," was played, Miss Jo McNeil, Denver City, and Don Boswell, Fort Worth, led off the favorites. She wore a white dress and carried red roses.

Miss Myra Lee Adams, New Braunfels, escorted by Glenn Spearman, Amarillo, carried red roses with her white nylon net dress.

Ren Kent, Houston, escorted Miss Dee Porter, Vernon, who wore a gold metallic and white net dress and carried wine roses.

Miss Carolyn Byrd, Grand Prairie, was dressed in white lace and net and carried red roses, as she was presented with Glenn Thompson of Katy.

Dressed in wine velvet and satin and carrying yellow roses was Miss Sally Moler, Tulsa, Okla., escorted by Ike Billings, Del Rio.

To the tune of "I'll See You in My Dreams," the chosen sophomore song, Miss June Burrage of Fort Worth and Jim Amburg of Henderson led the sophomore procession. Miss Burrage wore an emerald green gown and carried red roses.

Miss Lerla "Tootsie" Gibson wore white net over yellow taffeta and carried red roses. Her escort was Norman Bantz, Lubbock.

Bob Blair, Texarkana, escorted Miss Barbara Kasmier, El Reno, Okla., who wore white satin and net and carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

Carrying white roses with her American Beauty dress, Miss Joanne York, San Antonio, was presented with Teddy Vaught, Lubbock.

Miss Barbara Buschman, Dallas, was escorted by Chris Perner, Ozona. She wore a leaf green net gown and carried yellow roses.

"Memories" was played as the junior couples were presented.

First of the juniors to be presented were Miss Susanna Landers, Menard, and Gilbert Bartosh, Graninger. She was wearing red velvet and carrying white mums.

Dressed in beige and brown satin and carrying yellow mums, Miss Charlene Whitehead of Pettus was escorted by John Ethridge of Sundown.

Bernie Robertson, Amarillo, escorted Miss Wanda Bizzell, Overton, who wore red marquisette and carried white mums.

Miss Amelia Douglas, Electra, wore American Beauty net and satin. Her bouquet was of white roses. She was presented with Jack Truitt, Longview.

Miss June Pritchard of Seymour wore light blue net with an arm bouquet of pink roses when she was presented with Bill Tatum of Lubbock.

Miss Ann Price, Longview, and Bil Moorman, Odessa, led the senior favorites as the senior song, "Deep Purple," was played. She was wearing flamingo net and carrying pink carnations.

Carrying white mums with her black velvet and red net dress, Miss Ann Matney, San Angelo, was escorted by Max Eubank, Waxahachie.

Bil Hooser of Honolulu, Hawaii, escorted Miss Dorothy Phillips, of Uvalde. She wore emerald green satin. Her bouquet was of white roses.

Miss Billie Hooks, Carlisbad, N. M., carried bronze mums with her green satin dress as she was presented with Johnny Dunn, Stephenville.

Miss Lois Long, Edwards, Miss., and Bill Bishop, Los Angeles, Calif., were the last favorites to be presented. She wore pink net and carried a bouquet of white and pink mums.

Banquet Is Planned By Journalism Exes

Journalism exes will hold their second annual reunion and banquet at 8 p. m. next Friday at the Worth Hotel.

The association will select a name, and permanent officers will be elected. Bill Haworth, B. A. '40, assistant city editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, is serving as temporary chairman.

Henry Edens Succumbs; Services Will Be Today

Henry J. Edens, 71, storekeeper and laboratory assistant in the chemistry department, died early yesterday morning.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon. All chemistry laboratory classes will be dismissed and the flag will be flown at half-staff today.

Mr. Edens had been at T. C. U. since 1946. He was a principal and public school teacher from 1904 to 1944, and then served for two years as food inspector for the Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot.

Roger Hughes Appointed University Statistician

Roger T. Hughes, Fort Worth junior, has been appointed University statistician, Registrar S. W. Hutton announced this week.

Club News

Wednesday will be initiation day into Leiti for freshman girls, Miss Barbara Buschman, Dallas sophomore and president, stated this week.

Plans for a Homecoming float will be discussed at 8 p. m. Monday in the Modern Lounge in Waits Hall.

Dr. Walter Volbach, associate professor of speech-drama, will discuss the Fine Arts production, "Nathan the Wise," at the Tuesday meeting of the Anglia, club for freshmen and sophomores interested in English.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Radio Room of the Fine Arts Building. Festival dates are Dec. 10-17.

Otis Brooks, Fort Worth graduate student, and Theron Oxley, Fort Worth senior, will speak at 7:30 p. m. today at a Parabola Club meeting in Room 1, Building 6.

Baptist Student Union will sponsor a "western party" from 3 to 8 p. m. tomorrow at Jimmy Jeffries' Ranch.

A film on molecular theory will be shown at 7 p. m. Monday by the Chemistry Club in Building 5.

Phone Situation Still Considered

The Administration this week is considering plans for additional telephones in the girls' dormitories.

A letter drafted last week by the Student Congress welfare committee, was submitted to Business Manager L. C. "Pete" Wright early this week.

Mr. Wright's decision as to whether or not he will issue the work order rests upon a consultation with President M. E. Sadler, who was out of town when the congress letter was received.

Exes' Art Exhibit Will Begin Monday

An art exhibit of works by ex-students will be held from Monday through next Saturday in the gallery of the Fine Arts building.

E. C. Council to Pick Scholarship Winner

Either one or two Evening College students will reap the benefit of a $200 scholarship to apply on this semester's work when the Student Council meets at 6:15 p. m. today.

At the meeting tonight it will be decided whether to divide the award between two students, $100 each, or to give the total $200 to one student, reported Lt. Joseph Matlock, president of the council.

Pot-Luck Supper to Fete Business School Faculty

A pot-luck supper will be given for faculty members in the School of Business and their wives at 6 p. m. tomorrow at the home of Henry Key, associate professor of business administration.

Lounge Opening Attracts 200

Approximately 200 persons attended the opening of the new Study Lounge Tuesday.

Dr. Thomas F. Richardson, dean of students, during a brief ceremony praised student leaders for their work in bringing the lounge into existence. He also reminded students that the proposed student union building depends on continued student interest.

Movies on Mexico Will Be Shown Here

Four films on Mexico will be shown Tuesday, Nov. 21, from 12 noon to 1 p. m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium, according to Dr. Sarita de Soto Zajicek, assistant professor of Spanish.

KTCU Goes on Air After Three Years Of Delays from 'Technical Difficulties'

6:58 p. m.
Only three men are in the control room.

A tall slender fellow looks over some large, long-playing records, selects two and places them on the dual turn-tables on the radio console.

He glances through the plate-glass window at the studio clock. 6:59 p. m.

The two others shift from one foot to the other, causing the operator to grin as he eyes the clock.

7 p. m. straight up. Clearing his voice, he flips a switch marked "Studio Mike" and begins speaking.

"Good evening. This is KTCU, your campus station."

Thus, without failure, and without apparent effort, a campus dream, preceded by three years of disappointment, came true Tuesday night.

KTCU, 1000 on radio dials, went over the airways, and for the first time since late in 1948 showed promise of being a successful station.

Joe Simpson, Jacksboro senior and a program director of the station, was announcer for the opening, aided by Jim Mondier, Fort Worth junior, and Bill Tatum, Lubbock junior.

"We've been three years and one night," said Simpson, "trying to clear our radio signal and start operating."

Most of the credit for getting the expensive ($700) set in working order goes to a former T. C. U. student, R. L. McAllister.

A former physics major, he is

'Musically Yours'

KTCU is back on the air and Jay Disney, Amarillo senior, and Bobbye Russell, Fort Worth junior, are rehearsing the "boy-girl" dedication show. (Skiffoto by Bill Jamison) now an engineer with station KCUL, and is responsible for the installation of that station's transmitter.

KTCU began operating in 1947 from the barracks but due to "technical difficulties" the program was never heard distinctly, if at all.

The station is operating from 7 to 9:45 p. m., Monday through Friday, on a power of 10 watts, regulated by the Federal Communications Commission. The station cannot be heard off the campus. (By comparison, KFJZ operates a 5000 watts.)

There have been many previous disappointments, delays and expenses. Programs have been arranged, everything set to go. "On the Air" goes the program . . . but not a single listener.

Technical difficulties! Barring telephone line troubles (there is an obscure tie-up with the system) and transmitter trouble (vandalism necessitated a steel outer-case), the programs will continue.

The variable schedule includes musical recordings of all types, news (campus, sports), a request program, one in which students speak their minds on campus events, a "swap-shop" and even a lost and found program. Still dubious, after so many let-downs, the announcers plead: "If you are receiving our program, we would appreciate a call. Our extension is 241."

4 Attend Music Session

Four T. C. U. students attended the annual convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs in Stephenville last Friday.

Students who made the trip were Misses Ruth Cannon, senior, and Mona Norten, junior; Kenneth Schanewerk, graduate student, all from Fort Worth; and Walter Caughey, Arlington junior.

School Choirs To Participate In Clinic Here

The second of a state-wide series of one-day choral workshops will start at 9 a. m. tomorrow when students from 10 towns convene in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Sponsored jointly by T. C. U. and the University Interscholastic League, the workshop is one of six to be held over the state.

Program directors will be Dr. T. Smith McCorkle, dean of the School of Fine Arts; Dr. C. J. Best, chairman of the music education department; and F. W. Savage, director of music activities of the league.

High-school choirs will perform before the assemblage, then hear comments and suggestions for improvement from the directors.

Pross to Represent TCU At Fayetteville Program

Dr. E. L. Pross, chairman of the speech-drama-radio department, will represent T. C. U. Thursday at Fayetteville when the University of Arkansas officially opens its new University Theater.

String Quartet to Play, Greer to Sing in Recital

The Fine Arts String Quartet and Norris Greer, assistant professor of music, will be heard in a recital at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

'F' Slips Due Monday

"F" grade reports are due in the Registrar's Office Monday, reminds S. W. Hutton, registrar. Faculty members should note "F" grades on separate green slips, available at the office.

Thursday Opening Night For 'The Damask Cheek'

Rehearsals for "The Damask Cheek" are making the stage of the Little Theater a hub of activity as the first night's performance draws near.

The three-act comedy, to be presented in the arena style, will open Thursday night before a sell-out audience of the Texas Chapter of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Second performance will be held at 8 p. m. next Saturday. Price for the play will be 30 cents, tax included.

Costumes are nearly completed and women members of the cast are rehearsing in long skirts and the oddly shaped shoes of the early 1900's to familiarize themselves with the apparel.

Bleachers accommodating 200 persons have been erected.

Leading roles will be played by Dick Osburn, Dallas senior; Misses Ovella Hall, Hot Springs, Ark., senior, and Beebee Baker, Fort Worth junior.

Supporting actors include Misses Nancy Roberts, Rotan senior;

Elizabeth Satterwhite, sophomore; Peggy Meade, freshman; and Jo Ann Sarazan, Evening College student, all from Fort Worth; and Lewis Davis, Philadelphia junior and Tommy Inman, Fort Worth junior.

Advertising Winners Now On Exhibition

Annual award winners of the Affiliated Advertising Agencies Network will be on display through tomorrow in the art gallery of the Fine Arts Building.

A member of the network, the Thomas L. Yates Advertising Agency, is sponsoring the exhibit.

The gallery is open to the public from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Oboist, Flutist to Play

A faculty recital by Dr. Ralph Guenther, associate professor of music, and Daniel A. McAnich, instructor in oboe, will be presented at 8:15 p. m. Monday in the Little Theater.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Homecoming plans alternately progressed and regressed this week, leaving us both encouraged and discouraged. One thing's for sure, however. The plans are in motion.

The Administration gave Homecoming its biggest boost of the week with the announcement that classes will be dismissed at 10 a. m. Nov. 18. The decision was prompted, we feel, by reasoning that parades have failed in the past because of their conflict with classes.

Homecoming Gets Boost

Setting the parade on the Hill undoubtedly influenced the Administration in its plan to dismiss classes—since students can attend school until 10 a. m. and then see the parade.

We were glad to see the site changed for more than one reason. After all, no group of merchants really "lives" through a year at T. C. U. any more than those on the Drag. This year, for the first time, they can view the parade and possibly have a part in Homecoming by decorating their storefronts.

More Welcome news greeted us in the form of the Homecoming committee's decision to lift its ban on the number of floats in the parade. The sky's the limit now.

Other information dribbling its way into The Skiff office wasn't so bright, however. A poll taken by reporters revealed that only three departments and two clubs are making definite arrangements to honor their alumni and exes with reception. We hope the dismissal of classes will prod the less active groups into planning such activities.

When we are eligible to homecome in another year or so, we'd like to find a few journalism majors on hand down in Goode basement to prove that the old department is creeping along without us.

We'd be willing to wager that the returning exes this year feel the same way about their respective departments.

They Finally Made It

T. C. U. students acquired a new medium of expression Tuesday night. KTCU went on the air.

The program, emanating from 1000 on the radio dial, isn't exactly unheard-of around these parts. Those two hours and forty-five minutes of entertainment Tuesday night were the product of three years of hard work and set-backs.

Three years should have been enough to discourage even the most determined radio enthusiasts, but it didn't—and KTCU is the happy result.

Besides providing entertainment, the new station will go a long way toward solving a serious problem on the Hill—lack of sufficient publicity.

The Skiff would like to be one of the first to say, "Congratulations and Welcome, KTCU."

Gay Nineties 'Tin' Player Outlives Modern Ten-Player

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage beast."

This quotation might have been applicable 60 years ago, but if a modern day savage should hear the sounds emitted by the ancient music box in the physics lab, he probably would not be soothed.

This grand-daddy of all juke-boxes was first thrust upon the public in 1890, about the time the Republicans were blaming Grover Cleveland and the Democrats for the depression of 1888.

"Regina Queen," as the box is named, uses records with hundreds of tiny holes cut in them. The record is turned by a hand crank, and the holes came in contact with a ratchet wheel that plucks tuned reeds.

Evidently the inventor of the contraption built in for long wear, because of records are much more durable than those made today. As a sales incentive, he probably gave the customer an oil can with each sale—so he could keep his metal records from rusting.

Dr. Newton Gaines, chairman of the physics department, conjectured that one of the records, a rusty recording of "Dixie," might be the first one ever waxed—or tinned as the case may be.

A friend of the University gave the music box to T. C. U. about 20 years ago. It is used by physics majors for the study of mechanical problems and the physical theory of music.

Awaken Schlamiels

Be Campus-Wise; Heed This Advice

BY DAN JENKINS

If Edgar will refrain from setting fire to his text, and if Johnny will stop tying Mary's hair in sailor knots, we'll call the class to order.

Today we're going to offer helpful hints toward being collegiate. So pay attention you schlamiels, whilst we ramble.

In order to be judged strictly collegiate, the student must follow these rules:

1) Boys must wear only dirty levis. A male student found clad in clean levis or trousers of any other make is subject to almost certain expellment and at least 10 turns on the stretching rack.

2) Athletes must never be seen on the campus without a white T shirt on, and varsity lettermen must carry their letter jackets with them at all times. A violation of this rule would endanger the athletes scholarships and in habitual cases it would necessitate a cut in salary.

3) Girls must wear only tight skirts, sweaters and loafers with white socks. The skirts and sweaters may be any color, however, purple and white is preferred. Violation of this rule is punishable by no entrance in the Drug on rainy Fridays during Lent. Or, they will be allowed to date only non-athletes. The decision will be made by Cowboy.

4) Students with dual-straights on their automobiles must not be seen driving in front of the Drug slower than 75 miles per hour. And students owning convertibles must have the top down at all times with no less than five coeds riding in the back seat, waving empty Hadacol bottles. Violation of this rule is punishable by restricting drivers to stay within the city speed limits.

5) Students in the Lounge for reasons other than to raise their voices as loud as possible are subject to severe punishment by the Lounge committee. A student who refuses to talk at the top of his/her voice in the Study Lounge stands the chance of making good grades. One "A" puts the collegian on probation. Two "A's" could mean banishment.

6) Out-of-town female students must never date the same boy twice in the same month. Unless, of course, the boy is an active member of the varsity grid team. Then, she is subject to call at any hour. Female students who refuse to accept the call of a football warrior for any reason (death included) are subject to penalties as seen fit by a panel of judges from Tom Brown Hall.

7) Athletes are not required to speak to civilian students during season. However, non-athletes must greet the players at all times during the school year. Failure to do so may cost a non-student several week's allowance and a vital limb.

8) Boy and girl students should never be caught walking together without holding hands. T. C. U. is a friendly school and a display of this sort is helpful in publicizing the fact. (If, however, the gentleman is an athlete and he is hand-cuffed, entwined toes will suffice.)

We had some other rules here, but a member of The Skiff staff stole them to print in the paper. Oh, well, class dismissed, and last one to the Coffee Cove is a slimy, low-down honor-student.

Glancing through the latest issue of Life, we noticed a spread on the recent S. M. U.-Texas football game in Austin. We understand the magazine sent 11 representatives to the capitol for coverage.

However, we can't help but envy the photographer who snapped the shot of the Longhorn rooster planting a smooch on a University of Texas lass simply because Kyle Rote was thrown for a two-yard loss.

Judging from the minus-68 yards gained by the Mustangs, we sorta wish we had been sitting in the Steer section that day. Yiiiiipppeeeeeee! as they say in the dormitories.

Professor Speaks

To the Editor:

I hope you will permit a professor just a short space to make a modest request.

Some of the students apparently do not know that the entrance to our campus, just in front of the Administration Building, is a memorial to men who have served our country in time of war. Those of us who have been on the campus a long time remember these young men and it hurts us to see their memorial plastered by all kinds of placards and marks.

I wonder if there is some sort of campaign that The Skiff or the student body would develop that would bring more consideration from the students for the proper appreciation of this memorial.

It isn't that these students deenerate this memorial PURPOSELY, but they do it thoughtlessly. I am sure everyone will cooperate in making the memory of these men, who have given their lives for our country, a fine appreciation and honor for the sacrifices which they have made.

We Ain't Helpful

To the Editor:

As I picture you in your "roach, fly and idiot infested basement," I can't help but believe that your heart is not the only pumper "dripping tiny tears of rejection."

Years ago The Skiff had the slogan: "Rowing, not Drifting." As I scan the pages of the paper today it seems to me that the whole bunch of us is still rowing, but in different directions. I am referring to the subject which you mentioned in your column last week—the student directory.

Being a red-blooded American boy, I have come to dislike the monopoly—and a monopoly is exactly what your paper, The Horned Frog and the athletic department with its programs, has managed to obtain. Mr. Editor, the congress would also like a pipe line to papa's pocketbook.

Most students have said that congress and The Skiff would never be able to get together. I had this in mind when I approached you on the subject of joining forces to put out the directory. What could be better for public opinion than a directory with the title: "Published jointly by The Skiff and the Student Congress?"

In short, I feel that you are not inclined to be helpful. If you'll remember, the students elected you as well as congress. Clyde Moore.

The Oct. 19 Marriage . . .

of MISS CAROLYN BIRD, Fort Worth freshman, and RICHARD CREE, Odessa sophomore, was announced this week. They are now residing at 3244 Cockrell. Both students plan to stay in school.

In New Mexico . . .

honeymooning, are the former MISS WILMA RUTHEFORD, ex '50, and ZAC P. RUSSON, Jr., after their marriage recently. They were married in the First Presbyterian Church, and the reception was held at the Fort Worth Club. Miss Beverly Criner, Fort Worth senior, was included in the house party.

After their return from New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Russon will reside at 1915 Hervie.

Mr. Russon is a graduate of Austin College.

Miss Gloria Yvonne Meyers . . .

ex '50, was married recently to HAROLD HOFFMAN of Dallas. The wedding was at Temple Beth-El, with the reception in the Temple Center.

After a honeymoon trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside in Dallas.

Dr. Comer Clay . . .

assistant professor of government; his wife, and 5 year-old daughter moved into their new home at 2621 Boyd St. recently.

DR. CLAY built the curbing, and did several odd jobs on the house himself. Work on the house was started last summer.

A Fashion Note . . .

for girls is the T. C. U. Horned Frog bracelet now on sale at Mary Evelyn's Dress Shop. Gold letters spelling out "T. C. U. Horned Frogs" and attached to a heavy gold chain constitute something new in "arm wear." They sell for about $1.

A Daughter . . .

was born Tuesday to MR. AND MRS. FRANK KUDLATY of Fort Worth. She was named Kathryn Lynn. Mrs. Kudlaty, the former Miss Billie Marie Meyers, ex '50, was an editor of the Horned Frog. Frank, B. A. '49, was captain of the 1948 Frog basketball team.

16 Students Added to List For Alpha Chi

An additional 16 students were named this week as eligible for membership in Alpha Chi, national scholastic society, announces Dr. Troy C. Crenshaw, faculty sponsor and chairman of the English department.

Kenneth G. Mathis, Fort Worth junior, has the only perfect grade average, 3.00. Miss Carolyn Christopher, Fort Worth, topped the senior list with a 2.945 rating.

Other seniors named are: Miss Mary R. Boone, Woodboro, 2.42; Miss Sherry Bouchard, Fort Worth, 2.40; Mrs. Doris A. Disney, Paducah, 2.79; Wayne E. Brice, Sulphur Springs, 2.54; David F. Lee, Fort Worth, 2.41; Ronald Henderson, Fort Worth, 2.33; and Cauthorpe Hinton, Fort Worth, 2.80.

Other juniors eligible for membership are:

Miss Ann W. Boyton, Fort Worth, 2.36; Miss Frances A. Abbas, Cleburne, 2.69; Miss Alice Langford, Lampasas, 2.62; Miss Florence A. Walker, Fort Worth, 2.25; George R. Montgomery, Fort Worth, 2.66; Oscar Millican, Fort Worth, 2.38; and Buford Latimer, Fort Arthur, 2.28.

Names of 99 students eligible for the society were announced last week.

Copies of Constitution Given U. R. C. Members

Copies of the new constitution of the United Religious Council, mimeographing of, which was completed Tuesday, are being distributed this week by the council's officers.

Council officers are: director, Miss Ann Underwood, Fort Worth, sophomore; associate director, Joe Bryan, Kansas City, Mo., junior; and recorder, Miss Clem Hardy, Waycross, Ga., junior.

R. S. Wetherell, dean of men, is faculty advisor.

Italian Rye Being Sowed On Entire Front Campus

The entire front campus on the west side of University Dr. was seeded last week with 2000 pounds of Italian rye.

M. A. Doss, superintendent of grounds says the new grass will perform a dual function.

"It's blades will cover the grounds with a green carpet this winter," he points out. "When it dies next summer, its roots will decay and aerate the roots of the Bermuda, helping the growth of that grass."

Mr. Doss asks all students to help the school have an attractive campus this winter by walking on sidewalks only.

"Walking on the newly-planted grass will interfere with the germination of the seeds," he says. "Then, too, we can't remove those unsightly temporary fences until students stop walking on the grass."

Loss of shrubbery at T. C. U. has been only about 2 per cent of the total planted this year. This is an exceptionally small percentage, according to Mr. Doss.

"I gnu the answers...but I wasn't talking!"

The debating team couldn't make much use of this non-talkative baby...but one look at his "literary leanings" tells you that tests don't buffalo him. 'Specially those tricky cigarette tests! As a smoker, you probably know, too, that one puff or one sniff—or a mere one-inhale comparison can't prove very much about a cigarette!

Why not make the sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test. You judge Camel mildness and flavor in your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) ...for 30 days. Yes, test Camels as a steady smoke and you'll see why...

TOM TOM

Tommy Thompson

Right now the Frogs' chances of defeating the mighty Texas Longhorns Nov. 18 appear mighty slim, especially since the Steers performed so capably against S. M. U. Saturday.

After their impressive 23-20 triumph over the Mustangs, Coach Blair Cherry's men logically must be given the inside track to the Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1.

Baylor's Bears will present the biggest road block on the Longhorn schedule, if (and this is a big "IF") the Texas eleven does not keep on its toes tomorrow.

The Bruins are certain to be "up" for this one, and the Steers undoubtedly will be a little "down" after their Pony peak.

Remembering how Baylor turned the trick in 1941, however, the Longhorns are a fairly safe bet to make it over this hump and start the down-hill slide.

We haven't overlooked Texas A. & M., either. The Turkey Day shindig should be a bruising affair between two power-type teams.

Both teams always get primed and cocked for this traditional contest. If the Longhorn line matches its effort of Saturday's game, Texas should be able to cope with anything the Cadets can field.

Now, if the Frogs were playing Texas tomorrow, and if the Longhorns were coasting, it might be a different story. But you can't have everything.

We noticed the other day where one of the local columnists came out in favor of abolishing the point after touchdown.

The subject has been mentioned before but never has gained any weight. It is just as well, too.

The extra point isn't much from the scoring standpoint, but it has a definite place in football. We'll hazard a guess that one of the biggest thrills of the Texas-S. M. U. game, from a Longhorn rooter's viewpoint, was the one the Mustangs didn't get.

Last week we figured the Frogs would make their yardage rushing through the weak Baylor line, while the Bears would travel by air.

That was logical, since Baylor was strong on pass defense but short on ground defense. And the Frogs were doing fair work in the rushing department but rated fifth among conference schools on pass defense.

So we took Baylor by six points. But that was all we got right. Something went haywire and T. C. U. passed while the Bears ran.

Yet life would be rather boring were it not for these little unexpected moments.

This week you can have: Texas over Baylor by 13 points—Here's where Dutch gets an eyeful.

Arkansas over Rice by 6 points—Or Douglas might fire two or three more players.

S. M. U. over Texas A. & M. by 14 points—The Cadets can blame Texas for it.

Oklahoma over Kansas by 12 points. The Sooners will go on forever, apparently.

Army over New Mexico by 35 points—Or maybe even 135. Line up some more pushovers, Col. Blaik.

California over U. C. L. A. by 12 points—After all, this is for the Rose Bowl.

Ohio State over Wisconsin by 13 points—But the Badgers may put up a pretty good scrap.

Kentucky over Mississippi State by 20 points—The Cats are getting meaner all the time.

Princeton over Harvard by 14 points—The Crimson is now just a slight shade of pink.

Michigan over Indiana by 18 points—They've been in a slump.

Repaired Frogs Plotting To Derail Steer Express

A freight train about to hit a kiddie-car is what the T. C. U. Texas game may be likened to. And the Longhorns are the engineers.

Eight days hence a band of repaired Frogs will attempt to hold Texas to a minimum of touchdowns.

As it looks now, all but two Frogs will be able to play. Both men were defensive backfield starters when the season opened.

One, Malvin Fowler, has not played since the first game against Kansas. The other, Dan Wilde, was injured in the Texas A. & M. tilt and it is doubtful if he will play again this year.

Billy and Bobby Moorman, Willson George and Teddy Vaught will all see end duty against the best line in the conference.

In the backfield Johnny Dunn may see his first action since the opening play of the Arkansas game.

The first and last time that a T. C. U. football team ever finished in the cellar in the Southwest Conference was in 1924.

And Gil Bartosh should be able to run and pass equally well, as he hasn't done since the Aggie tussle.

Bobby Jack Floyd, who has apparently come to life after a slow start, has a swollen hand but he'll get his chance to "beat Texas."

Frog victory hopes at present are not too bright.

But don't forget the old equalizer, L. R. "Dutch" Meyer. Meyer will be down in Waco tomorrow and if the Longhorns have a weakness he'll find it.

But . . . Too Little Too Late

Bartosh Passes Click

Gilbert "The Ghost" Bartosh, hobbled by a leg injury, unlimbered a sling-shot arm Saturday which pierced what was previously the fourth best pass defense in the nation.

If Bartosh had thrown a little more earlier, the 20-14 Baylor victory at the Stadium might have been a different story.

After a comparatively uneventful first half, the air developed a slightly pinkish hue as the officials flagged down an action-packed second half which saw the Frogs out-score the Bruins, 14-13.

Bartosh turned in his best aerial show of the year, completing 19 of 30 passes for 246 yards, and added 40 yards rushing to emerge easily as the game's outstanding player.

It was his throwing, aided by the spectacular catches of Wilson George, Bill Moorman, John Morton, Bob McFarland and Jimmy Hickey, which kept the Bears on edge until the last second of play.

Those same Bears went into the game with a pass defense which was ranked first in the conference and fourth in the nation. They are now second in the conference—A. B. (After Bartosh).

Baylor scored 50 seconds into the second quarter after a drive which carried 53 yards. Later in the second period the Bears twice stalled Frog bids which had carried to the six and one-yard lines.

Midway in the third quarter Baylor traveled 69 yards in seven plays to increase the margin to 13-0.

The Frogs took the kickoff and promptly drove 71 yards to their first touchdown. Bobby Jack Floyd rammed through the last two yards and Homer Ludiker came in to cut the lead to only six points.

Baylor retaliated quickly with a 70-yard surge, Larry Isbell passing to Buddy Parker for the last 24 yards.

Then it was T. C. U.'s turn again. Striking with devastating swiftness, Bartosh's aerial darts led the Frogs

Glue-Fingered Frogs

Billy Moorman, left, and Wilson George are T. C. U.'s pass-catching ends, both ranking among the conference leaders. George is seventh with 14 catches for 226 yards and two touchdowns, Moorman is ninth on 12 receptions for 198 yards and one touchdown.

from their own nine to the Baylor goal. From the 11-yard line he passed to George, who caught the ball while falling out of the end zone.

During the last eight minutes Baylor missed a try for field goal, and on the last play of the game, a long, desperate heave by Bartosh was plucked off by Robert Reid on the Bear goal line and returned 37 yards.

Frequent penalties slowed the action. Baylor ended up with 11 fouls for 129 yards; the Frogs were set back 98 yards on 13 infractions.

Former Frog Star May Pilot Eagles

L. D. "Little Dutch" Meyer, former T. C. U. football and baseball star, was reported to stand first in line to succeed Charley Grimm as manager of the Dallas Eagles.

The former Detroit and Cleveland infielder led the Gladewater team to the East Texas League championship last summer as manager and the league's leading batter.

Meyer scored all 16 points in T. C. U.'s 16-6 victory over Marquette in the 1937 Cotton Bowl game.

Wogs, Texas to Tangle Thursday Night at Taylor

With only a mediocre record in three appearances this season the T. C. U. Polliwogs prepare to tangle with the University of Texas freshmen at Taylor Thursday.

Both Texas and the Wogs have played the Baylor Cubs. Baylor defeated Texas 12-0 and just last week took the measure of T. C. U. 23-0.

Comparative scores would seem to indicate that Texas at least has the better defensive team, but as intercepted passes set up all the Baylor scores against the Wogs, the defense can not be accurately gauged.

Earlier this year T. C. U. tied Abilene State College 6-6 and defeated Texas A. & M. 60-0. Texas, besides its defeat at the hands of Baylor, lost to Rice 20-16.

The Wogs came out of the Baylor encounter with no major injuries.

Ronald Dublin and Jack Logan, defensive linebackers, came in for praise this week from Coach Walter Roach.

Plenty of scrimmage is in store for the freshman crew before the Texas game, Roach said. Offensive work will be stressed since the attack failed to click against the Cubs.

McLeod's Fouls May Be Cured By Experience

"George McLeod won't foul out as much this year as he did last."

These welcome words are the opinion of Coach Byron "Buster" Brannon, who believes a lot of McLeod's fouls came from over-anxiousness, which should now be cured by experience.

Brannon praised the work of Dick Allen and John "Bud" Campbell. Allen is very much in line for a first string forward berth, while Campbell, who has worked hard all fall, may be rewarded for his efforts.

Ted Reynolds also came in for a share of commendation. Brannon said Reynolds has lost some weight and is faster than he was last year.

The guard problem, or lack of one, finds Brannon still undecided about his starters. All four Johns—Swaim, Etheridge, Taylor and Campbell—are fighting along with Tommy Taylor for a place on the starting five.

Ticket Deadline Extended

Deadline for obtaining student tickets to the Texas game has been extended to Tuesday.

All tickets that have not been claimed by that time will be put on sale Wednesday morning.

Prouse Sees Better Year For '51 Team

Although the season is a long way off, Coach Tom Prouse is certain of at least one thing today—the Frogs are going to have a golf team next spring.

This announcement should relieve the minds of worried Southwest Conference members who have relied on the Purple throughout the past for sure links points.

T.C.U. has not won a conference championship since 1927, the year that James Wilson Jr. copped the individual title.

Prouse expects the Frogs to be somewhat stronger in experience in 1951, but so are the other schools. Texas, Rice and S.M.U. should produce powerhouses.

Returning to help out Prouse will be lettermen Richard Patton, Bill Tatum, Jim Hickey and Dan Jenkins. Two up-and-coming sophomore swingers—Grover Swift Jr. and Art Hoera—will add reserve.

A squadman from last spring's group, John Hanrahan, has decided upon the United States Navy instead of T.C.U. this term. His loss is sure to be felt.

Last year the Frogs tied for fourth in the conference and produced a season record of six wins, three ties and two losses.

Spending $1500 Is Task Of Inter-Dormitory Men

The Inter-Dormitory Council will hold its first meeting at 10 p. m. today in Tom Brown parlor.

Representatives from each men's dormitory and the barracks will meet with Dean of Men R. S. Wetherell to organize and determine how to spend the council's capital, which now is more than $1500.

The I. D. C. receives a contribution of $2 from each dormitory resident at the beginning of the school year.

Representing Tom Brown Hall will be seniors Austin Denny, Houston; James "Chic" Olsen, Texas City; Nolly Vereen, Greensboro, N. C.; Ted McElroy, Paris, Texas; Rodney Lee, Colorado City; Clarence "Red" Marable, Waco; Joe Malavear, Ennis; and junior Harvey Fromme, Sinton.

Representing Clark Hall will be sophomores Paul Murphy, Augusta, Ga.; Joe Enochs, Tyler; Charles Cobden, Mineral Wells; Don Brewer, Waycross, Ga.; and Jerry McElroy, Paris, Texas.

From Goode Hall will come freshman Danny Powell, Archer City; Melvin Reed, Denver City; John Ramfield, Fort Worth; Hal Lambert, Port Arthur; R. C. Harris, Vernon; Ronnie McBee, Fort Worth; Don Ford, Farwell; and Ronald Dublin, Artesia, N. M.

Representing Barracks W will be George Hays, Fort Worth senior; and Barracks Z, Al Stewart, Camby, Ore., freshman.

Last year's council installed the two washing machines and driers now in Clark Hall.

Sadler in West Texas To Talk With Friends

President M. E. Sadler left Wednesday for a series of personal conferences with friends of the University in West Texas. His first stop was to be in San Angelo Wednesday night for a discussion of the School of Religion building plans with Robert A. Carr, member of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Sadler expects to return to Fort Worth Thursday or Friday.

4 to Attend D.S.F. Meeting This Weekend

Three T. C. U. students and a faculty member are on the program of the State Disciple Student Fellowship Planning Conference which starts today at Camp Nor-Tex in Mineral Wells, and ends at noon Sunday.

They are Dean A. T. DeGroot of the Graduate School, who will present a series of three sessions on "The History of Our Brotherhood," Miss Betty Clay Shank, Fort Worth senior, who will lead the workshop on study; Neil Guy, Brite junior from Corpus Christi, who will be in charge of the publicity workshop; and Jeff Hassell, Childress sophomore, who will speak at the Sunday morning service.

Miss Ora Shelton, director of religious education at University Christian Church, and Chester Crow, state director of religious education, will serve as resource persons for the workshop on worship and officers, respectively.

About 25 of the local group plan to attend.

535 Business Majors Lead Enrollment List

Future teachers and businessmen dominate the educational picture at T. C. U. this fall, according to a registration breakdown by majors and schools issued by the Administration this week.

Business and education majors alone account for more than one-third of the total enrollment.

Business administration majors lead the tabulation with a total of 535 students.

Following in order are general education majors, 251; elementary education, 231; and accounting, 221.

Others majors, not given in numerical order, are:

Architecture, 1; advertising, 18; biology, 39; chemistry, 37; economics, 47; engineering, 122; English, 96; French, 5; geology, 131; German, 2; government, 48; geography, 8.

History, 43; international affairs, 7; languages, 1; library science, 1; home economics, 38; journalism, 72; math, 54; philosophy, 6.

Physics, 48; psychology, 99; social science, 4; sociology, 44; Spanish, 29; religion, 122; medical technology, 23; pre-dental, 21; pre-medical, 68; pre-law, 30; pre-optometry, 2; pre-pharmacy, 4.

Church history, 7; church music, 11; doctrine, 11; New Testament, 10; Old Testament, 3; religious education, 39.

Business education, 19; commerce, 9; finance, 4; management, 44; marketing, 19; secretarial science, 29.

Educational administration, 30; secondary education, 94; physical education, 192.

Nursing, 103; art, 121; music, 157; and speech, 125.

Of the total enrollment of 4259, there are 232 students who have not declared majors and 492 are Evening College students with no major listed.
