Sadler Advises Men To Remain in College

President M. E. Sadler made an effort to allay the wave of draft hysteria currently sweeping the campus this week by urging all students not to quit school.

"Students should think twice before enlisting in the service," the president said. "The 82nd Congress may pass new draft laws."

Only Congress can change the student's status, the president pointed out.

It has been reported that a number of students enlisted in the service during the holidays. This is an unconfirmed report, because a complete record is kept of those students who leave for the service. Students who are drafted or volunteer receive the grades they are making at the time of their departure provided they have completed half a semester's work.

Under today's draft laws, those college students in the upper 50 per cent of their class are exempt from military service until June. Students in reserve units are eligible for call to duty at any time.

According to Major Gen. Lewis D. Hershey, selective service director,

Uncle Sam Called? Let Skiff Know

All students who will leave school to enter the armed forces—by special request or otherwise—are asked to turn in their names to The Skiff office.

Also, anyone knowing of persons who plan to enter, or persons who have already entered the service are urged to report their names. The Skiff number is 323.

Congress will be studying draft law amendments before January is over.

Many questions have arisen as to how college students are to be regarded in the draft calls of the future.

One group of educators has recommended two years' service for virtually every young man reaching 18. Six committees set up to advise Hershey have approved a plan to defer "promising" youths so they can go to college and become specialists in essential fields.

This plan would permit their being called up for active duty later, but the problem in its administration are numerous.

One, for instance, would be the "selling" job the government would have to do with the parents of boys who were drafted.

Paganini Quartet Will Play Sunday for Students, Faculty

Stradivarius instruments, insured for a quarter of a million dollars, will be played by the Paganini Quartet at 3:30 p. m. Sunday in the Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The instruments are said to have been made by Stradivarius more than 200 years ago and were owned by Paganini.

The viola, played by Charles Foidart, was made when Stradivarius was 86. According to experts on stringed instruments, this viola is still in a perfect state of preservation after more than 200 centuries.

The cello, played by Adolphe Frezin, dates back to 1736 when Stradivarius was 91.

Two violins complete the quartet. They are played by Gustave Rosseels and Henri Temianka.

Sponsored by the Lectures and Concerts Committee, the concert will be free to T. C. U. students upon presentation of the student activity card.

Faculty members may attend free of charge; wives of the faculty will be charged 20 cents tax; husbands of the faculty will be charged full admission price of $1.20.

Fort Worth school students may buy tickets for 30 cents.

General admission for the public is $1.20.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Skiff has always prided itself on giving due recognition to gifted students. However, we feel we have neglected our duty in one instance this year.

We have deprived a talented group of Goode and Clark Hall residents of the publicity they deserve.

Members of this group present an interesting personality case. We presume that each has his own individual personality, but they all have one characteristic and talent in common—making life miserable for their fellow residents.

The War Of Nerves

These men—and we call them men on the basis of years, not maturity—take particular delight in shooting firecrackers, flooding rooms, jerking telephones off walls, setting wastebaskets afire and yelling in the halls—all of which serves to wake up apparently abnormal students who have peculiar affinities for wanting to sleep after midnight.

Perhaps the blame lies with a lack of recreational facilities or a form of war hysteria. We doubt the latter, however, because practically the same conditions existed in years when we were supposedly at peace.

The rowdiness seems to us to stem from a simple lack of respect for others, along with a lack of control by the monitors, which is an administrative problem.

We understand the dean of men is aware of the situation and a special monitors' meeting was held Wednesday to plan rectifying steps.

We hope such steps are taken soon. Many students would like a chance to study for exams during the next three weeks.

'Hang' the Cost?

We had hoped to get through the first week of 1951 without mentioning congress, both to preserve our peace of mind and to prevent our readers from thinking we're in a rut.

But alas! the congressmen's attitudes toward recreation have forced us to change our plans. While trying to form a definite dance policy they have shown an alarming trend toward "bigger and better dances and hang the cost."

Don't get us wrong—nobody loves a good dance any better than we do. It's just that we hate to see congress use all its funds—plus some money it doesn't even have—on one big shindig such as they're proposing to sponsor in February.

Present plans are to invite Les Brown to play for a Friday night informal dance, limiting the cost of music to $2250, a sum in excess of what congress will have on hand. By the time they rent the Casino, decorate it, have tickets printed and advertise, expenditures will rise considerably. A ticket price of $3 has been suggested.

On the other hand, Louis Armstrong is already contracted to play at the Casino Saturday night, Feb. 17. If congress could persuade him to come to town on Friday night the dance would be far less expensive for both the legislators and students. Armstrong doubtless would be just as big a drawing card as Brown.

Far be it from us to throw a wet blanket on what might be a truly successful dance—or to try to tell the dance manager how to handle his business.

Still, we hate to support any single event which might leave congress without funds to function on all spring. We'd personally rather have two or three good dances than only one extravaganza.

Second Ballet Is Scheduled For Next Week

"An Evening of Ballet" will be presented at 8:15 p. m. next Friday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

This will be the second full ballet program since the department's inception two years ago. David Preston, ballet master, is director and choreographer.

Students in the ballet department and those in the preparatory workshop will appear on the five-part program.

The program will be presented in co-operation with several other departments in the School of Fine Arts.

Admission will be 50 cents per person.

February Hop May Feature Les Brown

Les Brown's orchestra will play at a congress-sponsored Friday night dance in February, if plans initiated by congress at its last meeting are fulfilled.

James K. "Chic" Olsen, dance manager, was instructed to contact the band leader over the holidays to arrange for a Casino dance next month. Olsen wrote to Brown but has not received a reply. Congress set the maximum music cost for the dance at $2250.

Congress shelled out $249.20 to cover loss on the Dec. 13 Christmas dance. Approximately 160 tickets were sold to bring gate receipts of $328. Total expenses for the dance were $577.20.

Congress Appoints Publicity Group

Three members and three non-members were appointed to a publicity committee at the last meeting of the Student Congress.

The committee was formed to comply with terms of the "Congressional Publicity Bill of 1950," passed Dec. 11. Congressmen named were Harold P. Alderman, Pharr senior; Clyde J. Moore, San Angelo junior, and Carl E. Graner Jr., Fort Worth freshman. Non-congressmen named to the committee were Miss Jean A. Kingsbury, Fort Worth junior; Miss Irene Rountree, Boone, Ia., sophomore; and Jerry D. Dublin, Artesia, N. M., junior.

Periodic reports on the actions of congress will be issued by the committee.

Advantages of Reserves Explained to Athletes

Representatives of the Navy, Army and National Guard met with more than 100 T. C. U. athletes Tuesday night to tell them of the opportunities offered to college students by their respective armed force branches.

Programs offered are: Naval Reserve—Students must be in 2A classification and have at least two more summers remaining in school during which they can go on cruises.

They must attend at least 36 of 48 weekly meetings for drill each year.

Upon graduation, students will receive a commission in the Navy, provided they complete requirements. There is a strong possibility students may be able to finish school before being called, it was pointed out.

Army Reserve—Students will go into the 90th Infantry Cadre Division. They will be accepted on the matter what their classification. The division is made up of officers and non-commissioned officers.

They must enlist for three years and go to two drills each month plus a two-week summer campment.

National Guard—Students will be assigned to the 49th Armored Division at Fort Hood. Training program and requirements are the same as for the army.

No one can join after receiving a call for his induction physical it was emphasized. Other students interested in joining the reserve under these plans should contact Dr. Thomas F. Richardson, dean of students.

T. C. U. Entertains 80 Texas Debaters

T. C. U. debaters will be hosts to teams from three Texas schools when a practice tournament is held here Saturday.

Approximately 80 persons, representing North Texas State College, Baylor and S. M. U., are expected to attend the invitational tournament.

Sixteen T. C. U. students will participate.

Classrooms in Alice Carlson Elementary School will be used for the morning session. The afternoon session will be held in the Administration and Fine Arts Buildings.

The school gaining the highest percentage of debates will be considered the winner, says Jim Cunningham, Fort Worth senior and member of the squad.

Faculty members will be asked to judge the sessions.

"Resolved: that the non-communist nations should form a new international organization," will be the topic.

Faculty Club Will Hear Prof. Causey Tuesday

Prof. O. H. Causey, director of the reading laboratory, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Faculty Newcomers Club at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Mexican Lounge of Foster Hall.

Fowler Allowed Extra Eligibility

Malvin Fowler was granted an extra year's eligibility by conference officials in their Dec. 15-16 meeting in Dallas.

The Van sophomore played only three minutes in the opening game with Kansas this season before sustaining an injury which kept him out of play the rest of the season.

One other decision came out of the meeting which will affect T. C. U. An annual conference basketball tournament will be staged during the Christmas holidays beginning this year.

Cagers Thump Mustangs, 57-46, to Lead SWC Race

George McLeod kept his near perfect record intact by fouling out for the seventh time in 11 games, but T. C. U. won in spite of that, 57-46, in S. M. U.'s Joe Perkins Gym Wednesday night.

Before the game had ended two more Frog stalwarts—Fromme, Reynolds—amounting to nearly all the rebounding strength on the team, left the game after too many rule infractions.

And yet the Christians won as Fromme hit 16 points prior to his forced retirement, to lead all scorers for the night.

Johnny Swaim changed the scoreboard 11 times while "Big George" was held to but two baskets and six free throws.

The previously unbeaten Wogs suffered a 41-58 defeat at the hands of the S. M. U. colts. Henry Ohlen and Virgil Baker registered 14 points apiece for the losers.

McLeod lived up to pre-season publicity, but the rest of the team didn't and T. C. U. split a double-header last Friday and Saturday at Joe Perkins Gym.

Texas Tech made up for an earlier loss to the Frogs by taking the long end 51-45 score.

McLeod tosed in 17 points

Room Applications To Be Filled Easily

There will be plenty of dormitory room for new men students after mid-year, Ralph Wetherell, dean of men, said this week.

"There won't be too many vacancies, but applications will not be so numerous that we can't accommodate each one," he said.

Dean Wetherell said a large number of students will enter the armed service after mid-year, and others will drop out for various reasons. He said every new student can be given dormitory room easily.

Applications are running at about an average rate, Dean Wetherell said.

Miss Elizabeth Shelburne, dean of women, said a poll of girls planning to leave is incomplete, but a small percentage is expected.

Max Eubank Linebacker As Rebels Down North

Although he bruised his shoulder which was injured this fall, Max Eubank played defensive linebacker for the entire Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., Saturday.

Eubank also played center on offense for punts and extra-point attempts as the South routed the North, 31-6.

as did Paul Nolen, the Raiders 6-10 center. George had little help, however, as his nearest teammate competitor scored but six points.

Saturday night was a bit more successful. McLeod hit the enemy basket 15 times for 21 points and Ted Reynolds managed 15 markers to net the Frogs a 63-59 victory over North Texas. T. C. U. held a 33-29 halftime advantage.

For the first time in two years Oklahoma City University lost a game on its home floor and it was 58-45 to the Horned Frogs on Dec. 22.

McLeod and Reynolds both hit double figures with 14 and 12 respectively. Harvey Fromme and Swaim had nine apiece.

Frogs Tackle Arkansas In Coliseum Tomorrow

Tallest team in the conference is the title that goes to Arkansas, whom the Frogs play at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Bob Ambler and Jack Hess are the Razorbacks' principal point getters. Ambler is 6-8 tall and has been secure in his position even though completing with seven-foot Billy "Toar" Hester for the pivot post.

Hester, chosen to Stanley Woodward's pre-season all-American team has yet to prove himself, but in spite of this Arkansas is potentially the best in the conference.

Last year the Frogs lost twice to the Razorbacks, 45-39 in the coliseum and 52-43 in Fayetteville.

The preliminary will see the T. C. U. Polliwogs playing Tyler Junior College at 6:15 p. m. In 1949 Tyler won the National Junior College Championship and got to the semi-finals of the same tourney last year.

O'Neal Weaver, who was Class B all-state in 1949 for Martins Mill and last year Tyler's leading scorer, will lead the Apaches to Fort Worth.

At this writing three of

CONFERENCE SCORING	FG	FT	TP

Brown, S. M. U.	55	36	146
Davis, A. & M.	57	22	136
Johnson, Baylor	56	24	136

the first 10 scorers in the Southwest Conference are members of the Rice Owls, whom the Frogs play Tuesday night in the coliseum.

Joe McDermott leads the conference with 168 points. Sixth place goes to Jim Gerhardt with 132 tallies. And last is J. D. White, who holds down the eighth spot in the conference standings having totaled 128 points.

The Owls don't want to finish last in the conference two years in a row and T. C. U. can't afford a let-down.

Before the varsity game gets underway, the Wogs will meet John Tarleton at 6:15.

Kyle Rote Chosen For Kiwanis Award

Kyle Rote, the S. M. U. all-American, has been chosen for the first Fort Worth Kiwanis Club Sportmanship Award.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 10...THE PANDA

"Let's get down to bear facts!"

The sudden rash of quick-trick cigarette tests may have caused panda-monium on the campus — but our scholarly friend was unperturbed. He pondered the facts of the case and decided that one-puff or one-sniff tests . . . single inhale and exhale comparisons are hardly conclusive. Proof of cigarette mildness doesn't come that fast!

And that's exactly why we suggest . . . The sensible test — the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone"

(T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
