Hip, Hip Hooray

Swing, Sway in Hawaiian Way

Charity Ball to Say 'Bill, Happy Birthday'

"Admission to tonight's charity ball is not by invitation only," announced Miss Sue Scott Wednesday.

The event, slated to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Study Lounge, is open to any and all students. Admission will be $1 per couple.

"It was originally planned to send all students an invitation, but as the committee progressed it was decided the job would be too great," Miss Scott added.

Proceeds will go to the current World Student Service

Fund drive, which will close tonight.

Morris Repass and the Collegians will play for dancing.

The occasion is the celebration of the birthday of student body president Bill Hooser. The Hawaiian motif will be followed.

"Along about 10 p. m., we'll have a genuine Hawaiian raffle," announces Miss Barbara Buschman, social chairman.

Apparel from Hooser's homeland will be auctioned to the highest bidders. They include shirts, scarves, a grass skirt and a hand-made native purse.

Refreshments with the flavor of pineapple and coconuts will be served.

Miss Janan Hart will dance and model a grass skirt following the auction. A sing-song with accompaniment of uke will close the event.

Leis will be given to each couple upon entrance. Decorations will be limited to the serving table where members of the Horned Frog staff will be in charge.

Those who plan to attend are urged to dress in colorful clothes, as near as possible.

"We want everyone to appear native, up to a point," Miss Buschman added.

Farewell Dance To Be May 11

The annual farewell dance will be at the Casino next Friday night, announces James K. "Chic" Olsen, dance manager. Dress will be informal.

Leon Breeden and his orchestra will play for dancing from 8 p. m. until midnight.

Breeden was director of bands at T. C. U. from 1944 to 1949. He recently returned from New York City, where he did graduate work in music at Columbia University.

Tickets will cost $1.50 in the lounge and $2 at the Casino, stag or drag.

After One Hour Debate

Move to Recall Wood Defeated in Congress

After debating for almost an hour Monday night, congress killed, 9 to 7, a motion by David Trevena, Corpus Christi sophomore, to recall Dick Wood from the Student Court.

Trevena said Wood was heard to have expressed an opinion before a court hearing last Friday concerning the general elections of April 19.

Furthermore, Trevena said, Wood would be directly affected in a hearing (which was held Wednesday) involving a protest of the recent cheerleader elections.

The constitution states that a Student Association officer may be removed only by two-thirds majority vote of congress or by a petition signed by 10 per cent of the student body.

Congress did not decide whether a court justice is considered a student association officer.

In other action, congress approved the $24.70 expense account of Miss Leta Eubank, representative to the Rice Rondelet last weekend.

A $7 bill for flowers for Miss Margaret Pankey was approved. Miss Pankey will represent T. C. U. at A. & M.'s Cotton Ball tomorrow night.

A letter was ordered written to Dean of Men R. S. Wetherell asking that all non-student solicitors be prohibited from entering men's dormitories.

Miss Billie Bushong was named delegate to a dance at Texas Wesleyan College May 26.

Harold P. Alderman moved that congress award a plaque to The Skiff for its co-operation this year, but later withdrew the motion.

Flowers to Frank Magers For 'Crest of the Wave'

BY JIMMY PASCHAL

CREST OF THE WAVE: A three-act comedy with dancing, by David Preston. World Premier. Directed by Frank Magers. Costumes and scenic designs by the director. Little Theater opening at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Nightly through May 15, except Sunday. Nightly through Verdict: This one has possibilities.

Red roses, obviously representing his bloodshot eyes, to Frank Magers for his thesis-requirement production of "Crest of the Wave."

It's Magers' show. He has been up late many nights designing one of the season's finest sets; sketching new, colorful costumes and moulding characters with his direction.

Tuesday night, at a world premier performance, Magers' work will be exhibited to the public to pass judgment.

The story itself is a playwright's and actor's dream. It has allowed the writer, David Preston, ballet instructor, to release one of the wildest of fantasies from his pen. It is also one of those deals where actors can really get wrapped up in a part, and do some of those things they've always wanted to do.

The plot concerns the fads of Mrs. Lottie Featherbottom, wife of a manufacturer of, whisper the name, long undies.

She has brought rhythm into her home, via troupe of brokendown dancers. They keep her domain shaking with stylized rhythmic body movements, and drive her husband, August Featherbottom, almost out of his mind.

August agrees to Lottie and the dancers taking over the factory to get them out of the house.

The end of it all is not so surprising, but should be saved for the viewers.

Outstanding performances are again turned in by two of the School of Fine Arts mainstays, Miss Sara Rhodes and Floyd Lisle, who play Mrs. and Mr. Featherbottom, respectively.

Another great performance is offered by Miss Barbara Miller with her somber characterization of Maude, one of the dancers.

Get a ticket early for this one, it's the craziest thing since be bop.

Counseling Will Begin On Monday

Students planning to enroll for the summer semester should contact their counselors or department heads Monday through Saturday, Dr. Thomas Richardson, dean of students, said. Counseling slips are available for teachers in the students personnel office.

The following procedure will be observed:

Freshmen and sophomores will go directly to their counselors.

Upperclassmen will contact their department chairman.

List of courses, but not schedule, will be made.

Non-veteran students will receive one duplicate.

Veterans will receive two duplicates, one to be taken to the student personnel office and used in processing Veteran Administration forms.

Summer classes will begin June 5.

Two Floor Shows At Costume Ball

Two floor shows will highlight the Fallis Players' Costume Ball tomorrow night in the Gymnasium. Dancing will be from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight. Acts featuring the Gut Bucket Six and various club members will be presented at 10 and 11 p. m.

Masks are required. They will be sold at the door. Silver-plated ash trays will be given as awards for the most original costumes: males, females and couples.

Tickets for the dance are $1, stag or drag, and may be purchased in the lounge or from a Fallis Players member.

Activity Fee Breakdown Is Announced by Nielsen

A breakdown of the $12.50 student activities fee approved by the Board of Trustees March 3 was announced this week by Vice-President Otto R. Nielsen.

The amounts for specific items vary in some instances with the fall and spring semesters.

"An attempt has been made to bring all student fees into one," Dr. Nielsen said, "with only one committee administering the fee."

The new fee, which replaces the $1 student body fee and the $2.50 student development fee, will cover athletic contests, Student Congress, lectures and concerts, student development, The Skiff and the Horned Frog. The breakdown:

	Fall	Spring
Athletics .....	$ 4.00	$ 3.50
Student Congress .....	1.00	1.00
Student development (includes fine arts programs, religious activities and student union development) ..	4.00	4.00
Horned Frog .....	2.50	2.50
The Skiff .....	.50	1.00
Lectures and concerts .....	.50	.50
Total .....	$12.50	$12.50

The fee will be required of all students taking nine semester hours or more.

The committee is now working out the administrative details of the fee, Dr. Nielsen said. Committee members are President M. E. Sadler, Business Manager L. C. Wright, Dean Jerome A. Moore and Dr. Nielsen.

Baseball Lodges Inside Lamp, Puzzles Maintenance Men

"He hit a baseball into the air; it fell to earth he knew not where . . ." at least, that's his story.

Maintenance men, however, know better. They found the baseball lodged inside a lamp in front of Goode Hall early Monday morning.

Furthermore, five panes were broken from the eight-facet white way lamp. Only eight spare panes had been furnished for all lamps on campus.

After performing the delicate task of removing the ball from the lighting fixture without shattering the electric bulb, maintenance crews were faced with a more academic problem.

"How," asked L. L. Dees, superintendent of buildings, "did one baseball pass through five panes, forming 62½ per cent of the perimeter of the fixture, without falling out to the ground?"

Perhaps the mathematics and physics departments will help in the solution of that problem. In the meantime, maintenance crews hope that the three remaining spare panes will cover the next such accident.

From now on, three strikes are the limit. On the fourth strike a lamp will go out on the white way.

Senior Class Plans Social Next Week

A senior class social will be held next week, according to Bill Bishop, social chairman. Time is yet to be set.

At a meeting this week, Nolley Vereen, president, appointed a committee to select class gifts. Members are Miss Betty Tobey, Arkadelphia, Ark.; "Chic" Olsen; and Vereen.

The class voted to give $125 to the junior class to help cover expenses of the Junior-Senior Prom last week.

Seiler Wins Fellowship

Robert E. Seiler, graduate instructor in accounting, has won a $1000 teaching fellowship award and will leave in September to work on his Ph. D. in accounting at the University of Alabama. Seiler is scheduled to receive his M. B. A. here in August.

Kaye, Miss Scheirman To Be Honored Tonight

Miss Mildred Scheirman, Austin senior, and Gerard Kaye, Fort Worth graduate student, will be honor guests at the annual dinner for staff members and student assistants in the history department at 6:30 p. m. today at Eagle Lake Beach Club.

Miss Scheirman and Kaye will be married June 2.

Dr. William C. Nunn, associate professor of history, and Miss Marguerite Potter, assistant professor of social science, are in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

Clark Hall to Get Repairs in June

Repairs on Clark Hall will begin June 3, according to L. L. Dees, superintendent of buildings.

Concrete floors will replace present wooden floors in the structure. Walls will be re-plastered and woodwork repainted. Students will be moved temporarily to other rooms during repairs.

Maintenance crews have replaced broken windows in Clark and Goode Halls, except for two in The Skiff Office. The latter windows have been shattered four times by golfballs and baseballs.

L. C. Wright, business manager, says work on Clark Hall is "just routine repairs which we do every year."

Mrs. Edna Lowry, B. A. '29, is teaching school in Mt. Vernon.

Club News

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENTS

Student Court Justice Dick Wood, after being the subject of an hour-long debate in congress Monday night, managed to hold on to his job.

The motion to remove Wood was brought about on two counts:

1). He was heard to have expressed an opinion before a court hearing last Friday about the general elections of April 19.

Does Anyone Know What's Going On?

2). He would be directly affected in Wednesday's hearing involving a protest of the recent cheerleader elections.

The Skiff agrees that Wood erred on the first charge. We don't know what opinion he expressed, but the fact that he commented on the subject prior to the hearing indicates his mind was made up before he heard both sides of the question—not a good policy for a judge.

But we don't think it's exactly cricket to remove every judge whose interests are affected by a hearing.

That situation, however, is not the fault of the Student Congress, but of the constitution, which states that all five student justices must sit on court hearings.

The problem, as we see it, could be solved in one of two ways—either by an amendment providing for alternate justices or by an amendment increasing the number of justices and stating that only a certain percentage of them need be present for a hearing.

Congress members also hit another snag during their Monday night debate—nobody seemed to know if a court justice is a Student Association officer.

It seems logical that any person, especially one elected by the students, serving in an official capacity for the whole student body could be considered a Student Association officer. Perhaps someone should go over the constitution minutely and clarify it so that each part of the document can be understood even by the Student Congress.

How About Some Action?

The suggestion box on the first floor of the Administration Building has produced several commendable ideas, in addition to some humorous ones, since its beginning several weeks ago.

Several of the suggestions can be easily carried out; for example, putting liquid soap in the men's rest rooms, opening the Study Lounge promptly each day and setting up business in the Student Lounge at 8:50 instead of 9 o'clock each morning.

Other ideas, such as the conversion of the quadrangle behind the Administration Building into a parking lot and investigation of possibilities of working out a special bus rate with the Fort Worth Transit Company for town students, also are worthy of note.

These, however, would require considerable study and action by the Administration.

Each proposal is passed along to the department or official with which it is most closely related. None of the suggestions, however, has yet resulted in any visible action, says Dr. Ellsworth Chunn, director of public relations.

The Skiff feels that since a majority of the suggestions are of a constructive nature each should receive full consideration from the Administration.

Erecting a Bridge

The World Student Service Fund, now in the final day of its drive toward a $2500 goal, has been only a partial success. Contributions still are needed—and only through the student body can the goal be met.

W. S. S. F. aid—in the form of food, clothing, medical help, books and housing—is given in the war-devastated countries of Europe and Asia without regard to the race, religion or politics of the students it helps.

The only national agency organized for this unique purpose, W. S. S. F. also encourages and helps support student self-help projects.

Last year $2360 was donated by students and faculty. An equally generous response is needed this year.

Through W. S. S. F., your gifts symbolize friendship and understanding, "erecting a bridge of international student cooperation."

Need knows no boundaries—and W. S. S. F. needs your help.

Reassuring Words

Senator Robert Taft recently said: "I think people should consider the tremendous cost of an army of 3½ to 4 million men for 10 years. That may cost as much as a victory for Russia."

The Daily Northwestern commented: "Now we're just college students, but we know that a Communist victory would mean something worse than high taxes. . . ."

"Sometimes we feel a little uncertain of our ability to settle in 15 inches of editorial copy problems that are plaguing the entire nation. But statements like that always reassure. We know we can't do any worse."

"You mean you've never heard of negative acceleration?"

Reporter Gets Earful

By Ted Allen

Most persons think of a newspaper reporter as an obnoxious character who snoops around town ferreting out a big scoop by capturing scores of gangsters single-handedly.

He then, supposedly, rushes back to the office, lights up a cigaret and proceeds to tell the public of his daring exploits.

This conception is not entirely correct. Statistics show some newspapermen do not smoke.

A Skiff reporter lived up to the public's expectations when he bared the scoop of the year this week. The odd part of the whole situation is that he just happened to uncover the story while listening at a keyhole in the Administration Building. He wasn't eavesdropping; he had just stooped down to tie his shoelace and heard what was going on inside.

What this avid newshound overheard was a fervent discussion of the poor student attendance at programs sponsored by the Lectures and Concerts Committee.

One person in the group, undoubtedly a member of the committee, was eloquently describing to the others just what was causing students' lack of interest in the programs. His argument was based on two points 1) the programs are scheduled for the wrong time and place, and 2) the students' tastes are not being served fully.

This gentleman proceeded to back up his statements with data which was unquestionably correct in its analysis of the situation.

Students are more interested in a cup of coffee at the Drug than an erudite presentation of the "Differences in Social Control of the Afghan Termite Which Lead to Undermining of Government Supports in Outer Mongolia."

The speaker, whom we shall call Mr. L. & S. for short, proposed a sterling plan for solving this dilemma—schedule the lectures in the Drug rather than in Ed Landreth Auditorium. This plan is almost certain of drawing larger crowds and it might catch on and possibly lead to movements of this kind all over America.

Another proposal, although not quite as feasible as the first, is to rearrange buildings on the campus. In this plan, Brite College would be moved to the place where the Library is presently located. The Library would, in turn, be transplanted (or should the term be transbuildinged) to

Quirks From Other Campuses

According to the Hastings Collegian, a student at that college decided to see if professors actually read the term papers required in a course.

He inserted a paragraph in his term paper stating he didn't believe teachers read what students write and he asked the professor to underline that paragraph if he read it.

The paper was returned—unmarked.

The Akron Buchtelite, University of Akron, reports a new way for modern educators to knock down formal barriers between professors and students.

Fashion experts, says the paper, suggest the faculty dress more casually. For instance, a professor who has an 8 a. m. class should show up once in awhile attired in a smoking jacket or bathrobe. Or, an anatomy instructor could wear a tie with a digestive tract painted on it.

Because the president of the University of Virginia felt there was too much drinking being done at the last concert on the campus he banned all future concerts. An irate student then wrote to the Cavalier Daily:

"My name is George Wahoo Jones. I was formerly a student at the University. One day I was having a beer in my closet when I was apprehended for exhibition drinking for leaving the door ajar. I am leaving tomorrow to enroll at Chapel Hill. I have room for four in my car."

Assemblies At the Drug?

the quadrangle to stop bickering once and for all about changing it into a parking lot. (The quadrangle, that is.)

Ed Landreth Auditorium would be switched to the spot vacated by Brite College, but the Fine Arts Building would remain in its present position. The vacancy left by the Auditorium would be transformed into a three-story parking garage, or a two-story garage with the top floor being converted into a greenhouse where "Cowboy" can cultivate pure, virgin untrod-den lawn.

Other buildings would remain in their present places, except in a case of an extreme emergency such as this.

Student selection of personages to appear for these lectures was also discussed by Mr. L. & C. He believed actors such as Gypsy Rose Lee, Spike Jones and Francis the talking mule, would be educational and would add prestige and color to our campus. He thought Miss Lee, in particular, would prove interesting, in general, and believed something educational could be bared in her case.

The meeting ended abruptly as everyone rushed out to look into the latter matter. The snoop Skiff reporter is still trying to remove a brass door knob from his ear. Any suggestions will be humbly accepted.

Educated Wortham Family Produces One More Prof

BY ARMEL WILLIAMS

When the father, mother, two daughters and a couple of sons grow out to be school teachers, it is pretty safe to assume that a tradition for educational careers runs through the family.

John L. Wortham, assistant professor of economics, is a son from the family.

The only time the tall, black-haired professor deviated from the family trend was during World War II. He volunteered for the U. S. Army and served as a pilot in the U. S. Army Air Corps. He pushed the throttles of P-38s instead of a red pencil through high school students' papers.

Prof. Wortham was born in Athens, Texas, and attended Malakoff High School. He was graduated with a B.A. degree from East Texas Teachers College in 1940 and taught a year and a half at Wolf City High School before entering service.

Spanish, debating, government and general sciences were some of the subjects Prof. Wortham taught at Wolf City.

"Yes, I did do some coaching," he said. "I was head coach of a basketball team."

After taking flight training at fields in California and Arizona, the professor went to England and on into North Africa. He flew ground strafing with both

P-39s and P-38s in the Tunisian campaign.

He dismisses his action in the war as "no more than anyone else over there did."

"My plane was hit a few times, but I always managed to get back to the base," he said.

Prof. Wortham returned to the States in April, 1944. From then until he was separated from service in 1945, he was stationed at Portland, Ore. There he trained pilots to fly fighters.

The professor holds the rank of a major in the inactive reserves.

He completed work for an M. A. degree at the University of Texas after leaving the armed forces and joined the T. C. U. faculty in 1948.

After being thanked for his cooperation in permitting an interview, Prof. Wortham grinned and replied, "Oh, I have to be nice to reporters. It's the wife's orders. You see, she was a journalism student at North Texas."

Geography Students To Take Field Trip

Geography students will make an all-day field trip Tuesday to an area northeast of Fort Worth, announces Dr. Martine Emert, associate professor of geography.

Students will study soil erosion problems and what farmers are doing to meet these problems.

"Soil conservation is the No. 1 problem of Texas," says Dr. Emert. "We want to know what this problem is and what is being done about it."

Transportation will be by bus.

10 Active Students May Not Be Named

Failure of clubs to turn in reports of officers and members probably will prohibit the naming of the most active students this year, announced Mrs. Artemisia Bryson, chairman of the committee on student societies.

An insufficient number of reports had been received this week to make judging possible, Mrs. Bryson said.

Frogs to Tackle Texas Tuesday in Austin in Final Road Game

Faced with the task of climbing to fifth place in the Southwest conference baseball race, T. C. U. will play the Texas Longhorns in Austin Tuesday.

The Horned Frogs will wind up their season next Friday and Saturday in games with Baylor on the Purple diamond.

Salim and Ed Mathes continued to pitch the Frogs to two victories in their last three games.

Two runs in the third, one in the fourth and another in the sixth inning gave Mathes more than enough support Monday to coast to his second victory of the year over the Rice Owls, 4-1.

Mathes got into real trouble only once.

In the eighth inning Rice had one run in, one out and the bases loaded, but Ed got the next man on a pop-up and the third out via the strike out route.

A double by Mathes, a two-base error on a rap by Mel "Corky" and Johnny Ethridge's single, accounted for two runs in the third frame.

The Frogs got another in the fourth when Bill Barnes was hit by a pitched ball and came home a second later on a two-base error. In the sixth Don Carroll slashed a double, went to third on an in-out and scored on Norris "Bobby" Graves hit to deep short.

In Friday's game against the Aggies, Salim relieved Mathes in the second inning and pitched seven-hit ball to the finish.

Salim himself knocked in the big run with a single in the eighth.

Harvey King stepped up with two men on and two out in the eleventh and scratched a single past first base to bring Bill Looney in with the winning run and give the Frogs a 7-6 victory.

Looney cracked out three hits Saturday, but it didn't help much as the Frogs lost to the Aggies, 1-8.

Ten bases on balls hurt Graves' cause as much as anything. The blond righthander gave up eight hits and had five errors committed behind him.

Don Carroll continued his batting spree by collecting six hits in

T. C. U. Linksmen to Meet Cadets in Conference Finale

Texas A. & M. will be T. C. U.'s last Southwest Conference golf opponent at 12:30 this afternoon at Colonial Country Club.

Tomorrow the Frog linksmen go to Abilene for a match with Hardin-Simmons.

The Frogs and Aggies are tied for last place in the conference with .333 percentages.

A 72-hole medal play tournament, to be held next Thursday and Friday at Texas A. & M., will decide the conference's individual champion.

Favorites for the two-day struggle will be the defending champion from Rice, Buddy Weaver, Don Addington of S. M. U. and Wesley Ellis from Texas.

Representing T. C. U. will be Dan Jenkins, Jim Hickey, Bill Tatum and Grover Swift.

The Purple split even in competition last week as they lost to the University of Texas, 2-4, in Austin, but came back to beat Austin College, 6-0, Tuesday on the Colonial links.

In the Austin meet Jenkins won over Bill Evans, 6 and 4. Hickey beat John Williams, 5 and 4. Tatum defeated Avid Cole, 4 and 2, and Swift beat Dan Lewis, 7 and 5.

Doubles play found Hickey and Tatum beating Williamson and Cole, 4 and 3, and Jenkins and Swift winning over Evans and Lewis, 7 and 5.

Against the Steers, Hickey halved his match with Guy Kuykendall, as did Tatum and Swift in their match with Bob Walco-wich and Bernard Riviere, respectively.

Tatum acquired the lone Frog victory when he defeated Walco-wich, 2 and 1.
