Constitution, New Ring Accepted; Filing Heavy for Spring Election

Filing Ends Today Noon; Polls Open Wednesday

Filing for student offices ends at noon today and voting candidates will be held Wednesday and Thursday. Office-seekers will explain their platforms and ask for support at a political rally in the Student Center ballroom at noon Wednesday. Application blanks have been available since Tuesday in the information booth in the Student Center. Candidates must complete the blank, take it to the Student Congress office and be present at Wednesday's rally. Cheerleaders and Congressmen must have a grade-point index of 1.0 and must maintain this average if elected. Candidates for the Congress executive positions must have an average of 1.5 and must have attended TCU one full semester at the time of application. Aspirants to the editorial jobs for The Skiff and Horned Frog must be journalism majors, approved by the Student Publications Committee. Late yesterday 47 candidates had filed for office and others were expected to file before today's deadline. Heaviest competition appeared to be in the cheerleader race. 12 men and 11 women have filed and three each will be elected. Names of the five finalists in the Sweetheart election will be placed on a final ballot today and the winner will be presented at the Spring Formal next Friday night.

These Have Filed:

- Congress President
Aubrey Owen and Carl Rose.
- Congress Vice-President

Sweetheart to Reign Over Spring Formal

Student vote this week authorized a new design for the senior ring, ratified a constitutional amendment which re-designates student offices and selected five finalists in the Sweetheart election. The five sweetheart candidates are: Freddie Broughton, Sally Tull, Gail Scott, Marcel Martin and Ann McArron. The run-off election will be held today. According to Congress President Jack Graf, the new ring will be ready for next year's seniors by fall. The new constitutional amendment creates the new office of director of the Activities Council and reallocates representation of the various schools. Under the new setup, there will be two representatives for each of the following: senior class, junior class, School of Arts and Sciences, School of Business and School of Education. Other units will have one representative, and the other offices remain the same as in the past. The name of the winner in the Sweetheart final election will be kept secret until her presentation at the Spring Formal next Friday.

Sadler Asks Aid For Two Buildings

With the formal backing of the 68th Texas Convention of Christian Churches, in session this week in Galveston, a campaign to secure $1,500,000 to reconstruct TCU's Administration Building and Library will be launched soon. The Disciples of Christ churches of Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico will be called upon to support the effort. Dr. M. E. Sadler presented the matter to the State Convention this week. After speaking to a general session on "Christian Higher Education," he proposed a formal resolution for the TCU campaign which was adopted by the Convention. Tentative plans call for complete remodeling and tripling the capacity of the library. Constructed in 1935, the present structure has been inadequate for many years. It houses more than 233,000 volumes and documents and many others are in storage because space is lacking. The Administration building was the first structure on campus in 1910 when the University was moved from Waco. It has been refurbished and repaired many times. Under present plans it will be completely redone to serve as the University's main facilities for work in liberal arts. In his address to the Convention, Dr. Sadler pointed out that education is facing some crucial issues today. Discussing some of the University's urgent needs, Dr. Sadler listed the work on the library and administration building, a School of Business Building, field house and re-conditioning of other buildings. He placed all these needs at $5,000,000 and expressed the opinion that $3,500,000 could be raised from general sources. "The other $1,500,000 we hope will come from our own churches to help us carry on our important work," he said. "We also need many more scholarships, more adequate salaries for present staff and additional teachers." The resolution, that the Convention heartily endorses the proposed campaign and commends the necessary development to all Christian Churches and friends was then passed. Details of the campaign will be announced later, Dr. Sadler said.

College President Will Speak Here

Dr. Frank A. Rose, president of Transylvania College, will speak at chapel services at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Robert Carr Chapel. President of the Lexington, Ky., college since 1951, Rose received his B.A. degree from Transylvania and his B.D. degree from The College of the Bible in Lexington. He holds the LL.D. degree from Lynchburg College in Virginia. Dr. Rose currently is serving as president of the Church Related Colleges of Kentucky and is a member of the executive committees of the Kentucky Independent College Foundation and the Board of Higher Education for the Disciples of Christ.

 Congress Representatives Colleen Soles, left, and Phyllis Perryman examine a copy of the constitution now being revised by a restudy group of student and administrative leaders. When revision is complete the new constitution will be voted upon by the student body.

French Politics To Be Subject Of New Yorker

Prof. Jean-Albert Bede will speak at a campus-wide assembly at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Little Theater. A professor of French at Columbia University, Mr. Bede will speak on the "Current Political Situation in France." A native of France, he returns there each year and keeps abreast of the political scene. His specialty, however, is 19th century French literature and he has written several texts on that subject. Mr. Bede was brought to Texas as speaker at an inauguration ceremony at SMU Tuesday. The assembly is being held in the Little Theater for the first time this year, but if an overflow crowd attends, it will be moved to Ed Landreth Auditorium.

$3 to Be Price for Formal; 250 EC Students Expected

A special invitation has been issued to all Evening College students to attend the Spring Formal from 8 p.m. to midnight next Friday in the Student Center ballroom. Admission will be $3 a couple. Ted Weems and his orchestra will play. Indications are approximately 250 Evening College students may attend, according to an Evening College Council member. Evening College students have always been welcome to attend campus functions, but few apparently have been aware of their inclusion in campus activities. The first Spring Formal to be held in the ballroom, the dance will be sponsored jointly by Student Congress and the Evening College Council. Troy Stimson, Steve LaDue and Bill Bogle, council representatives, requested of Congress Monday that the Evening College group be allowed to share expenses on the dance promotion. Congress accepted the proposal. The dance will use a theme of springtime, with butterflies, flowers and birds decorating the ballroom walls and ceiling. Dormitory women will be given late permission.

Fraternity Series

'5 Friends' Began Kappa Sig;
3 Law Club Men Started LXA

(Editor's Note: This is the final article in a series dealing with fraternities colonizing at TCU.)

KAPPA SIGMA

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia Dec. 10, 1869. The organization was formed by five men, called "the five friends and brothers." Kappa Sigma was the first Southern fraternity to expand into the North under the guidance of S. A. Jackson. Jackson Day and Founders' Day are celebrated annually by all members.

The fraternity chapters are grouped into 27 districts with a district grand master at the head of each. The organization has no central office but has offices in Carmel, Calif., where the national secretary lives, and at Bronxville, N. Y., where the national treasurer resides. "The Caduceus," official magazine of the fraternity, is published six times a year. Another magazine, "The Star and Crescent," is printed quarterly.

The badge is a crescent of chased gold with points turned downward and holding suspended a five-pointed star enameled in black, with a narrow border of white enamel and gold. The Greek letters, KS, surrounded by a circle of jewels, is in the star.

Fraternal flower is the lily-of-the-valley.

Sproesser Wynn is the alumni president in Fort Worth.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Lambda Chi Alpha was founded Nov. 2, 1909, at Boston University by three students who had been affiliated with the local Cosmopolitan Law Club. No other chapters were established until 1912.

Founders' Day is celebrated each year on March 22, the date in 1913 that the revised rituals and emblems were formerly adopted.

Headquarters for the organization is in Indianapolis, Ind. The official magazine is the "Cross and Crescent," published quarterly since 1914.

The badge is a pearl-set crescent with horns turned toward the left and enclosing a monogram of the Greek letters Delta Pi in gold on black enamel.

The white rose is the fraternity flower.

Local alumni president of the fraternity is Walter R. Humphrey.

You Don't Have To Savvy Lingo But It Helps!

There was a catch to it. Dean Jerome A. Moore received a long distance telephone call this week from the University of Mexico inviting him to speak at the graduating exercises.

Dean Moore, a Spanish professor at TCU, smiled sheepishly as he told of the honor of being asked.

"There's still something I've got to find out," he admitted. "That's whether or not the speech is in English or Spanish."

No habla Espanol, senior?

Edmonds Named Head Of Phi Delta Society

Dale Edmonds, Fort Worth sophomore, has been elected president of Phi Delta Society, petitioning organization of Phi Delta Theta.

Other officers include vice president, High Pitts, Woodville junior; secretary, Van Rathgeber, Fort Worth junior; treasurer, Jimmy Coffee, Fort Worth junior; sergeant-at-arms, Bryan Engram, Dumas junior; and historian, Ed Anderson, Fort Worth junior.

May 2 Is Last Day to Take Foreign Service Examination

May 2 is the closing date to apply for the Department of State foreign service officer's examination, Dr. A. O. Spain, chairman of the department of government, said.

Students interested in taking this examination can obtain an application from him in Room 221, Administration Building.

The test to be given on June 24, will consist of three parts. A written examination will test English expression, reading ability, general educational background and ability to read French, German, Russian or Spanish.

The oral examination is to judge the candidate's stability as a representative of the United States abroad.

A physical examination will determine if the candidate has average endurance and vitality.

Opportunities to become officers in the foreign service are open to both men and women. Officers are used for staffing the principal diplomatic and consular positions at main posts abroad. An additional 2,300 positions are open in the Department of State at Washington and in the field.

Beginning salaries in the foreign service are from $4,393 to $5,093, depending upon the officer's qualifications, experience and age.

Salaries for advanced positions range up to $14,300 per year.

Applicants must be between 20 and 31 and an American citizen for at least 10 years.

They should be willing to accept an assignment at any post.

Phonograph Missing From English Office

A Webster automatic, three-speed phonograph in a red fabric case has been taken from the English office.

The English department has been using the machine for making records and playing its collection from all parts of the world.

Dr. Troy C. Crenshaw, chairman of the department, said a "generous reward" will be paid for information leading to its recovery.

The Loening Intercollegiate Flying Trophy, valued at $1,000, will be awarded to the year's most active flight team at the May 5-7 National Intercollegiate Flying Association air meet here. Donor of the trophy is Grover Loening, early manufacturer of military aircraft.

Air Meet Requesting Hotel Space

Reservations are pouring in from schools across the country for the National Intercollegiate Flying Association air meet here May 5-7.

The University of Oklahoma has requested rooms for 30 students and Minnesota said 37 of its students would attend. Illinois expects to bring 21 team members along.

Ohio State and other schools have sent word that they will attend and should send reservations shortly.

Trophies are being prepared by Haltom's Jewelers. The rotating trophies are being refurbished. Haltom's will award this year's Sky Queen a trophy, along with a watch from Cross Country News.

The Loening Trophy, awarded to the most active flying club, is on display in the Student Center. TCU won the award, which began in 1929, in 1951. The sterling silver trophy is insured for $1,000.

Dormitory Work In on Schedule

Work on the new men's dormitory is progressing on schedule, Floyd Daniels, foreman for the Rambo Construction Company, said Tuesday.

In fact, plumbing and electrical wiring is ahead of schedule. Delay in brick-laying is attributed to rain and cold the last few weeks.

Daniels said terrazzo flooring will be laid within the next month or six weeks.

'55 Horned Frog Arrives in May

Distribution of the 1955 Horned Frog will be made during the latter part of May, Editor David Brown said.

The Student Center may be used as a delivering point this year to relieve congestion in the Journalism Bldg. In past years students have had to stand outside for long periods of time while waiting for their books.

Plans are to have at least 1,000 copies on hand before actual distribution begins.

A WHOLE CABOODLE OF LUCKY DROODLES!

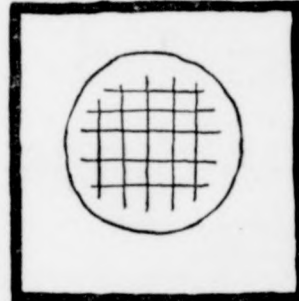

WHAT'S THIS?
For solution see paragraph below.

A WONDERFUL SLANT on smoking! You'll find it in the Droodle above, titled: Tourist enjoying better-tasting Lucky Strike while leaning against tower of Pisa. If your own inclination is toward better taste, join the many college smokers who prefer Luckies. From any angle, Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Little wonder that Luckies tower above all other brands in college popularity!

Miss Gloria Martin

Head majorette at TCU the past two years, Miss Martin, Ennis senior, is looking forward to graduation and a teaching career in California.

To Teach in California

TCU Majorette Gloria Martin Will Be Schoolmarm Next Fall

By RETTA KIRSTEIN

Next fall a brand - new fourth-grade teacher from Texas will be in Los Angeles swinging a baton instead of a paddle.

In fact, batons probably will be standard equipment for the youngsters there, once they see how their schoolmarm, Miss Gloria Martin, handles them.

Miss Martin has been a majorette all of her college years, and was head majorette the past two years.

With an additional four years as a high school twirler, the Ennis senior is well qualified to teach baton tactics in TCU's summer twirling school. This summer will mark the fifth time she has served as an instructor.

A speech correction major, she has been practice-teaching this spring in the fourth grade at Alexander Hogg Elementary School. She also has been teaching deaf children at East Van Zandt School.

While in Los Angeles, the 5-foot, 4-inch brunette will do graduate study at the University of Southern California.

At TCU, Miss Martin has received many honors and has been active in campus affairs. She was elected band sweetheart as a freshman and an Air Force ROTC sponsor her sophomore and junior years. She was also sponsor of the Flying Frogs.

The future teacher studied ballet for three years at TCU and has appeared in campus variety and talent shows.

She and Danny Powell, who completed graduation requirements in January, were dancing partners when she was a sophomore. Doing the tango in Valentino's style, they danced at the Spring Formal and on the Campus Chest and Ranch Week variety shows.

The 21-year-old miss has been working with children and adults in TCU's speech correction clinic. She will be initiated into Sigma Alpha Eta, a professional speech and hearing fraternity, this spring.

The Book Nook

Bullfighter's, Prisoner's Tales Included in Library's Books

TCU students have an opportunity to check out recent best-sellers currently available in Mary Coats Burnett Library.

One of the most powerful American novels of the past decade, John Steinbeck's "East of Eden," is included among the books. The story, which concerns the struggle of two brothers for a wealthy farm and the love of a single girl, has been made into a motion picture.

The account of a four-year imprisonment behind the Iron Curtain is told by Robert Vogel's autobiography, "I Was Stalin's Prisoner." Vogel, employed in an American business firm's European office, was arrested by the Communists in 1949 and released in 1952.

Dorothy James Roberts' latest novel, "Launcelot, My Brother," retells the ancient legend of King Arthur and the Round Table from a new angle. The story is recounted through the eyes of a young nobleman of the time who visits Camelot.

"Lady Bullfighter," the autobiography of Patricia McCormick, describes the adventures of America's first lady toreador. Miss McCormick who left college to try her luck at the ancient Spanish festival, was gored, severely several months ago.

The story of the marriage of President Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd is recounted in Irving Stone's book, "Love Is Eternal." The author describes Mrs. Lincoln's activities as first lady during the Civil War period.

Other popular works in the Library include Lincoln Lorenz's "The Admiral and the Empress," Erich Remarque's "A Time to Love and a Time to Die," Grantland Rice's "The Tumult and the Shouting" and Lee G. Miller's "An Album of Ernie Pyle." The latter is a part of the journalism department's $40,000 Ernie Pyle Memorial Library collection.

Marci Martin In Photo Contest

Miss Marci Martin, San Antonio sophomore, will participate in the "Miss Dallas-Fort Worth Press Photographer" contest in Dallas Sunday.

The winner will represent the association at the National Press Photographers' Association convention in June at Colorado Springs, Colo.

There, entries will compete for the title "Miss National Press Photographer."

College Group Elects Dean Moore as Head

Dean Jerome A. Moore, Addison College of Arts and Sciences, has been elected president of the Association of Texas Colleges.

He was named at the group's annual convention in Austin last week. Dean Moore formerly had served on the executive committee of the association.

TCU is a charter member of the association, which was formed in 1912. It now has 89 members, including two in Mexico.

O'Brien Leads Exes In First Fund Drive

TCU's great all-American Davey O'Brien proved he could collect touchdowns. Beginning this week, he'll try his hand at collecting money.

O'Brien is chairman of the first annual fund drive of the TCU Ex-Students' Association which began Monday.

Information and fund materials were mailed to more than 5,000 active members over the nation with the slogan of "1 in 5 at 25 in '55."

"That simply means we hope to secure one contributor out of each five on our active list who will invest $25 in the University's future," O'Brien said.

The campaign is being conducted by the Ex-Students' Fund Council. Serving with O'Brien are Roy I. Bacus, chairman of the fund committee; Paul O. Ridings, association past president; Marion L. Hicks, current president; Ben E. Dyess, a director; and Hartwell M. Ramsey, executive secretary.

The drive is the first organized effort of the association, which was formally activated in 1954 when Mr. Ramsey became secretary and director on a full-time basis.

Contributors may make direct gifts or pledges to the fund, O'Brien said. All will receive "Charter Contributor's" cards suitably engraved.

Contributions will be used to carry on the work of the association and the University as a whole.

Dave Brown Named ISA Leader Rare Lewis Library Collection To Fill TCU Shelves in May

David Brown, Fort Worth junior, was elected temporary chairman of the newly-formed Independent Student Association Monday.

Lawrence Handley and Richard Shrank, president and past-president respectively, of the Men's Independent Campus Association at the University of Texas explained the purpose of the organization and answered questions.

"We shall attempt to make the purpose of this organization cooperation, not controversy," Brown said. "We will plan our program to serve the best interests of TCU and students we represent."

Tentative plans for an all-school social later this year were discussed by social chairman, Miss Alice Marie Davidson, Graham junior.

Other officers elected to serve until regular officials could be chosen were secretary, Miss Sandra Guthrie, Henrietta, freshman; constitution committee chairman, Terry Smart, Houston junior; publicity chairman, Bill Grady, Hebron sophomore; and administrative relations chair, man, James Stimson, Waco freshman.

Meeting time has been set at 4:30 p.m. each Monday in Room 203, Student Center.

Harris College of Nursing developed from the Harris School of Nursing, established in 1912 at the Harris Clinic Hospital. Dr. Charles H. Harris, well-known Fort Worth surgeon, set up a $1,000,000 trust fund toward development of the college.

By JIM HENDRICKS
The William Luther Lewis Library will be installed formally at TCU at ceremonies Friday, May 27, in Weatherly Hall.

Main speaker will be William A. Jackson, Harvard University librarian. A special guest will be John F. Fleming, internationally-known authority on rare books.

After the ceremonies, several hundred invited scholars and other guests will view the world-famous collection and attend a reception.

The 1500-volume collection of valuable English and American books will be housed temporarily in Room 212 of Brite

College of the Bible. A permanent home will be built later in Mary Coats Burent Library, pending scheduled remodeling and expansion of that structure.

The collection was given on a permanent loan to TCU in 1953 by the Amon G. Carter Foundation. Earlier that year, the foundation purchased the library from the estate of the late William Luther Lewis, former president of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Co.

Lewis spent more than 30 years gathering his famous collection, reputed to be the finest private library in the United States at the time of his death in 1952.

The exact value of the collection has never been officially estimated, but most figures place its worth at approximately $500,000.

One book alone, a 1618 Pavier Shakespeare, was estimated in 1927 at more than $200,000. The only other copy of this work known to be existence is in the Folger Library in Washington, D. C.

Famous English first editions in the collections include the original typed copy, with author's corrections of Oscar Wilde's "The Ideal Husband," a 1608 quarto edition of Shakespeare's "Richard III" and works of Blake, Burns, Bryan, Keats, Johnson, DeQuincy and others.

Other rare English writings include works of Chaucer, Milton, Gray, Spencer, Lamb, Shelley and Scott. Many literary experts have expressed surprise that such books are available outside England.

Representative American first editions and rare works include writings of Bryant, Holmes, Twain, Longfellow, Hawthorne, Emerson, Lowell, Melville, Poe and Whitman.

The University has received numerous requests from scholars over the nation concerning the collection. Administrative officials expect graduate studies to increase at TCU as a direct result of the books' presence on the campus.

Rehabilitation Comes Hard Without Funds

"Rehabilitation," the slick-chinned lieutenant at the separation center said, "is the toughest job facing you out of the army."

Several hungry TCU veterans agree.

Like the army, filling out forms continues in student life.

Unlike the army, most of these forms are read.

One which is examined particularly close is the certificate of training veterans studying under the Korean G. I. Bill must complete each month in the dean of students' office.

Calling on army experience, many vets are filling them out in a hurry, like they were anxious for chow.

That's one thing which makes rehabilitation so tough.

Hastily checking of space 5b, some veterans have found, can be costly.

The veterans administration has a clue which might make it easier: "Examine space 5b before marking it."

Space 5b, incidentally, terminates subsistence.

Recent Art Work Shown This Week

Recent works of artist Jacques Burdick, 1950 graduate cum laude, will be on public display in an one-man exhibition at Collin's Art Gallery, 400 Throckmorton.

Burdick, formerly of Fort Worth, is now living in Aix-en-Provence, France.

The show is called "Opus V-Convergences."

The artist's talents include sculpture, painting, stage decor and jewelry design. He is the recipient of one of the 14 awards given to Fort Worth artists at the 1955 Local Artists' Annual.

A cordial invitation is extended to TCU students by the exhibit's director, Owen Day, to visit the showing.

Frogs Is Still Frogs After 42 Years Service

By JAN MILLER

Back in the dark ages when Phrynesoma cornutum meant "horned frog" to 10 per cent of TCU's student body, a graduate of Vanderbilt University arrived on the Hill to teach biology and geology.

Since then Prof. Will McClain Winton has seen the biology - geology departments shifted around like an hour glass. He and his bugs and rocks have been moved from the basement of the Administration building to the basement of Clark Hall, and after many years, finally located in the new Science Building.

"In 1913 I never expected to see the school grow as much as it has," Mr. Winton said. "There were 35 students in my first class - approximately 10 per cent of the student body."

Mr. Winton was born in Santa Rosa, Calif., where his father was teaching theology at Santa Rosa Junior College.

"Much of my childhood was spent in San Luis Potosi in Mexico, where my father taught in a mission center sponsored by several Protestant churches," he recalled.

Every once in awhile Prof. Winton recalls his 42 years at TCU—it takes a long time to do it.

"Thinking back, I remember that each day brought something new and whatever happened the day before was eclipsed," he chuckled.

One of his most hectic periods occurred after World War II when the veterans flocked here like old maids at a key-hole.

"There was not a day that one of the vets did not mention being stationed in the part of the world we were studying," he reflected.

"One day I told my wife I finally had them.

"I felt sure that my subject of discussion, the Greenland icecap, would surely be safe. It wasn't. Two of my students had been stationed there at a meteorological camp for several months."

Prof. Winton will continue to work with graduate students after his retirement is effected in September.

"That and my annual trip to my summer camp in New Mexico is all I plan to do—but, of course, I'll think of my 42 years at TCU."

The camp is located in central New Mexico.

"I go there to relax, hunt and fish," he said.

Fine Arts to 'Hit Deck' With Musical Monday

The natural comedy "Hit the Deck" will be presented at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Tickets are $1 for the general public and 50 cents for students.

The cast of more than 100 students from the School of Fine Arts presented the show in five West Texas towns last week. They were Abilene, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and Amarillo.

Music is by Vincent Youmans. The original book was written by Herbert Fields. Dr. William C. Nunn of the history department has written the book for the TCU performances.

Dr. Ralph Guenther is musical director and Ernest Lawrence is in charge of coaching and soloists and chorus. Stage settings were designed by Prof. S. Walker James.

Choreography is under the direction of David Preston, chairman of the ballet department. Band Director Lewis Gillis has written two new ballet numbers for the operetta.

Dr. Walter R. Volbach, director of theater, will stage the production.

Teaching Bids Due by May 15

Students expecting to register next fall for student teaching must have their applications on file in the School of Education by May 15, announced Dean Otto R. Nielsen.

The applications will reserve a place in the required educational courses and a practical teaching assignment in the Fort Worth public schools.

Forms are available in Room 205, Education Bldg.

Ex-Student Board Holds Meeting

The second 1955 meeting of the Ex-Students Association executive board was held at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Furlong, in Dallas, at 7:30 p.m. last Friday.

Mrs. Furlong, a second vice president of the organization, and Mrs. Robert A. Shaw, president of the Dallas TCU Woman's Club, were co-hostesses at a buffet supper.

The meeting coincided with a number of rallies by ex-student clubs around the state.

Homecoming was discussed at the program.

Heavy Schedule Due For Summer

A tour of the Bible lands is being offered from June 2 to July 12 under the guidance of Dr. William L. Reed, Brite College of the Bible.

A total of six semester hours can be gained from each trip.

A seminar on religion in public education, art clinics, workshops of various natures and other activities are planned for the summer.

A new catalog available in the Registrar's Office gives full details as to tuition and class schedules.

Summer school counseling will begin Monday and last through next Friday.

Major professors in each department will serve as counselors for interested students. The teachers will post office hours.

With a fuller curriculum offered than in the recent past, summer school will begin June 6 for all branches of the university.

Summer school is divided into two six-week sessions, the first ending July 15 and the second beginning three days later.

Registration for the first term will take place June 6 in the Science Building.

A student may register either for half of the summer session or for both sessions on that date.

Dean Jerome A. Moore, coordinator of summer school, said the University will make available "as rich an offering as we've ever had this summer."

A large number of courses in almost every field is available.

All classes will be conducted in air-conditioned comfort in the Science Building, Religion Center and the Fine Arts Building.

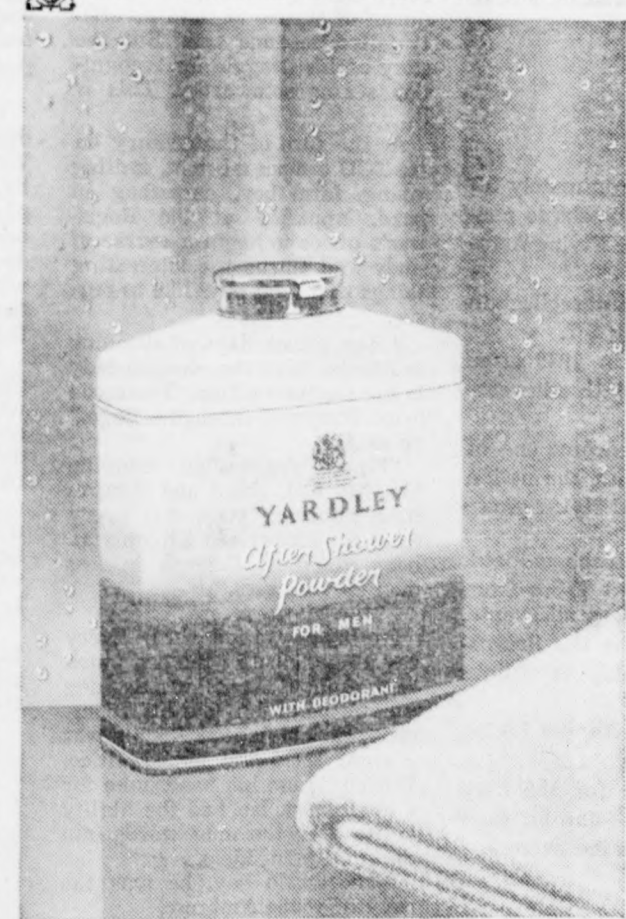

Three foreign study tours are being extended to Summer school students this year.

From July 14 to Aug. 24 students may study at universities in Mexico. Full details may be obtained from Dr. John H. Hammond, professor of Spanish.

From June 14 to Aug. 18 students can travel on an European study tour. Dean A. T. DeGroot of the Graduate School is tour leader.

VOTE!

All indications point toward a new era in student elections at TCU, and the contest next week probably will begin a trend toward bigger, more important and more politically-involved campus electioneering.

The political pot for this year's balloting has been set a-boiling by talk of a fraternity-backed ticket and by the recent formation of an independent group on campus. Though neither wields a great deal of power at this time, the election presents an excellent opportunity for the Greeks and Independents to launch a rivalry which should mushroom in years to come.

Balloting Wednesday and Thursday also signals the beginning next year of new student responsibilities in self government. The overall scope of campus activities has been broadened greatly, and these new areas will be student-executed through the elected Congress and the Activities Council.

The enlarged Congress also will have general supervisory powers over United Religious Council and the Evening College Council.

All this adds up to a vast segment of the student population under the control of student representatives.

The degree of success the revitalized student government will have next year depends in some way directly on next week's election. These elected truly will represent only those by whom they are elected.

Voting at TCU was never so important.

'Hit the Deck,' Matey

Come aboard, matey. It's time to "Hit the Deck."

After visiting the ports of Abilene, Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and Amarillo, the crew of the operetta "Hit the Deck" will drop anchor in the home port (TCU).

The musical will pass in review at eight bells (8 p.m.) Monday and Tuesday on the poopdeck of Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Passage for the landlubbers is $1, or 50 cents for students.

Ships complement includes more than 100 actors, musicians, dancers, singers and technicians from the School of Fine Arts. Scuttlebutt has it that the show is 4.0 (excellent).

The company stands ready for your inspection, so hop aboard, matey. Everything will be shipshape and storm-lashed when the ship drops hook Monday.

'Eyes Up' for Air Meet

More than 400 students and instructors from approximately 30 colleges and universities will converge on TCU in two weeks to participate in the annual meet of the National Intercollegiate Flying Association.

TCU's Flying Frogs will be hosts to the National Intercollegiate Air Meet, the nation's premier college flying event, May 5-7.

The first meet of the association was held here in 1949 after TCU's professor of Aviation Troy Stimson took the initiative in reorganizing the dormant group.

Since the reorganization, the Flying Frogs have become one of America's leading flying clubs, known better throughout the nation than on the campus. Bill Patton is president of the TCU flying group this year.

Competition during the air meet will take place at Meacham Field. Other activities will include formation flying by giant B-36s from Carswell Air Force Base. Students are invited to witness all events.

Meetings, a banquet and a dance, will be held in the Brown-Lupton Student Center. The campus will be on display to visitors from every corner of America.

It's TCU before the eyes of the nation's fliers, with the Flying Frogs in the fore.

TCU's fliers are due congratulations in advance for the hard work that brought the air meet here for a second time—and for their continued efforts toward making the event an unqualified success.

Formal Partnership

Student Congress and the Evening College Council are sharing the debts and fortunes of the Spring Formal this year.

Whether recent reorganization discussions have stirred the two groups to closer unity or whether Congress' bill of $1,350 for Ted Weems' orchestra has sent it begging, the affair should profit from the dual support.

Next Friday's presentation of the Spring Formal, the first to be held in the Student Center ballroom, promises to be a glorious affair.

Perhaps the dance will serve as a yardstick to determine heights which may be obtained in student activities by closer cooperation among various important student groups such as Congress and the council.

Across the Hill

Mr. Slidgik Failed --- But Set A Precedent

By BILL HARRISON

Born in a log cabin, Ambrose Slidgik defied Alger's law and failed to become president. Perhaps campus politics just weren't meant for him.

Even though he spent most of his life developing one part of his body, the wishbone, alas, his dream of success at the University failed to come true. But the story of his struggle for recognition seems noteworthy. This is it.

At the turn of the century on the TCU campus a bright, smiling young farm boy, carpetbag in hand, appeared at the Registrar's office to begin a course of study and pursue the interesting things that farm boys like to pursue.

After fifteen days of standing in line he faced the nice old lady in the Business office. "I've come to work my way through college," he said.

"Fine," she smiled, handing him his ball, chain and campus crew uniform, "payday is every other September. At 25 cents an hour you'll be through in less than eleven years."

Ambrose worked hard. Every day as he toiled in the pea patch he thought of becoming a dashing campus politician like his roommate, Ronald Ashton. Ronald was a great sport and able politico. You could use his handshake for a tourniquet. He had the ability to compress the most words into the smallest of ideas.

Needless to say, he was the envy of young Ambrose.

Then it happened. After six years at TCU Ambrose Slidgik got his break when the grade-point requirement for campus offices was lowered to 0.2 by a special Student Congress decree. But the irony of it all was that Ambrose would have to run against his roommate Ronald Ashton, who was seeking his third term as student body president.

It was a hard fought battle from the beginning. In the opening address to the student body Ronald set the tempo to the campaign when he said of Ambrose

Slidgik, "No one can have a higher opinion of Mr. Slidgik than I do—and I think he's a dirty little beast."

Ambrose learned quickly that the political game was a rough one. Accordingly, he went about the usual functions of slapping backs, serenading the girls and tearing down the opponent's posters.

But Ambrose overlooked one detail which led to his downfall. With all his political aspiration he had forgotten to draw up a platform for himself. There was nothing that Ambrose wanted to do when he got in office—he just wanted to get in office. Hence, in the primary he was soundly thrashed by a 486-2 margin.

But Ambrose's failure set a precedent at The Hill. Candidates without platforms, without some constructive designs for the student body, are frowned upon until this day.

Someone once said, "There will always be those men who would be unwilling to commit themselves on the doctrine that castor oil is a laxative."

Folks like that have no place in office at TCU. Ambrose Slidgik, a forgotten alumni, proved that.

TCU Delegates Attend Session

Seven TCU officials, two students and numerous leading churchmen took part in the 68th annual Texas convention of Christian Churches in Galveston today through Tuesday.

President M. E. Sadler conferred an honorary D.D. degree on Rev. W. W. Jones of Beaumont, president of the convention, and addressed a general session on "Christian Higher Education" on the afternoon of April 18.

W. Hutton, emeritus registrar, was convention secretary. Vice President Dr. D. Lindley, Dr. Noel Keith of the department of religion and Arthur Wenger, director of social promotions and religious activities lead workshop discussions.

Other TCU officials taking part were Prof. Henry Key, dean of the School of Business, and Hartwell Rambo, director of ex-student activities. "The Singing Seminars," under the direction of Gerald F. Clingan sung.

Students John Moore, Gladys freshman, and Rex Mix, Dallas sophomore, were in charge of the youth sessions. The Brite College of the Ex-Students Association will hold a banquet on the 19th at a banquet April 18.

Taking part also from Fort Worth were Chester Crow, executive secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society; Mrs. Crow; Grady Guyton, minister of Chestnut Avenue Christian Church; Amos Myers of Magnolia Avenue Christian, convention treasurer; Rufus Garrett; Mrs. Lee Melius; Mrs. George P.

Fowler; and Mrs. George T. Cope.

Also Tommie Bouchard, State Youth Director, Cecil A. Morgan; Mrs. James W. Davis; D. Allison Holt, state director of Christian education; Mrs. J. F. Muir; Harrell A. Rea; and Mrs. Pauline Thames.

Morgan, a member of the State Board of Education, discussed "Integration in the Public Schools" during a special workshop in that area. Hutton led a discussion on "The Church's Ministry to Adults over 60" and Mrs. Fowler presided at two general sessions.

Hunter Brush to Orate, Therapists to Initiate

Hunter Brush, Fort Worth senior, will participate in two oratorical contests this weekend. He is competing in a Scripps-Howard newspaper contest in San Antonio today.

Tomorrow he will enter an invitational meet sponsored by the Sons of the American Revolution in Houston. Brush's speech is entitled "Treatymaking — 1955."

TCU is the first college or university in Texas to qualify for membership in Sigma Alpha Eta, national honorary fraternity for speech and hearing therapists.

Mrs. Dorothy Bell, director of the TCU speech and hearing clinic and member of the University of Denver chapter of the fraternity, will serve as sponsor.

Approximately 25 men and women will be installed as charter members at an installation dinner May 5. Leading figures in speech and hearing therapy from this area will be guests.

R. G. Webb, Fort Worth graduate student, will be presented in a graduate voice recital at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Little Theater. Webb is a tenor. Joe Bratcher, Fort Worth graduate student, will accompany him on the piano.

The recital is given in partial fulfillment of requirements for a master of music degree with a major in voice.

New Drama Post Goes to Volbach

Dr. Walther R. Volbach, professor of drama and director of the Little Theater, has been named head of a new division of opera-drama. The division has been created to achieve closer integration in the work of the Opera Workshop.

Other members of the staff are Ernest Lawrence, assistant director and vocal coach; S. Walker James, director of technical theater; David Preston, ballet master; and Dr. Ralph R. Guenther, conductor of the symphony orchestra.

In addition to campus productions in opera and ballet, the new division will assist in the annual spring tours and in productions of the Fort Worth Opera Association.

Delta Delta Delta Elects New Officers

Miss Ann Douglas, Fort Worth junior, is new president of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Other officers are vice-president, Miss Gina Satterwhite, Baytown freshman; corresponding secretary, Miss Pat Morrison, Garland freshman. Also recording secretary, Miss Gail Woltman, Houston freshman.

Also marshal, Miss Dusky Soddors, Ennis freshman; treasurer, Miss Margie Kraft, San Antonio junior; and chaplain, Miss Harriet Snodgrass, Fort Worth sophomore.

Travel Lectures Start April 29 as EC Course

A series of lectures on foreign travel will be offered as short course in the Evening College, beginning April 29.

The lectures, to be given on Friday evenings through May 13, will be presented by experienced travelers of the TCU faculty. They will tell what to see, things to take, what to wear, foreign customs and other useful information.

The first lecture will be given by Dr. T. A. DeGroot, dean of the Graduate School, on Western Europe. Successive lectures will be on the Middle East by Dr. William L. Reed, professor of Old Testament; Literary Shrines in Europe by Troy Crenshaw, professor of English, and Dr. Estus Polk, associate professor of English; Mexico Today, Dr. J. W. Hammond and Dr. W. C. Nunn, professor of history; and French Italian Homes by Dr. Bitay Hall, associate professor of romance languages.

The cost for the five lectures is $7.50. Those who join TCU clubs will receive credit for this amount.

Interested persons may register for the course in Evening College office.

Miss Wooley Named Alpha Delta Pi Head

Alpha Delta Pi elected a new slate of officers at a meeting recently in the Student Center.

They are president, Miss Barbara Wooley; vice president, Miss Ann Laycock; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dering; corresponding secretary, Miss Billie Jean Speed; and treasurer, Miss Joan Haigler.

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," etc.)

LOVE IN REVERSE

They were at the campus swimming pool. She was standing on the diving board—lithe, young, vibrant. He came swimming over. "Hey," he called, climbing up on the board, "was it you who made that dive a minute ago?"

She nodded—lithe, young, vibrant. "Whew!" he whistled. "That was some dive! A back jackknife two and a half twist full gainer swan. Where did you learn to dive like that?"

"I fell off the board," she explained. "Oh," he said. He looked at her—lithe, young, vibrant. "Let's go steady," he said.

"But I don't know anything about you," she said. "What's there to know?" he said. "I'm a typical American college man—young, healthy, and broke."

"That's good enough for me," she said, "for I am not interested in money. I am a girl of simple tastes—lithe, young, vibrant."

"Dad!" he whispered. "Crazy!" she breathed. Their lips met. Their arms twined. They fell off the board.

"If you only knew," he said later, as he applied artificial respiration, "how long I have been looking for a lithe, young, vibrant girl of simple tastes, for though my heart is large and full of love, my purse is lean and meagre. My cruel father sends me an allowance barely large enough to support life. So I have been looking high and low for a girl of simple tastes."

"Search no more," she said. "My tastes are simple; my wants are few. Just take me riding in a long, sleek, new yellow convertible, and I am content."

"Goodbye," he said and ran away as fast as his chubby little legs could carry him, for he knew this girl was not for the likes of him. He had neither convertible nor hardtop, nor the money to buy one, nor the means to get the money, short of picking up his stingy father by the ankles and shaking him till his wallet fell out. No, there was nothing for it except to forget this girl.

But lying on his pallet at the dormitory, he could not get her out of his mind and finally he knew that whatever the expense, he had to have her—lithe, young, vibrant.

So he sold a few things—his textbooks, his overcoat, his hi-Y pin, his roommate's truss—and soon he had accumulated a goodly sum. He went to a place that sold automobiles. "How much does it cost," he said, "to buy a yellow convertible automobile?"

The man told him. He collapsed in a gibbering heap. After a while he stirred and shambled home. But on the way he passed a place with a big sign that said: RENT A CAR—DRIVE YOURSELF. Hope came into our hero's eyes. He went inside. "How much does it cost," he said, "to rent a yellow convertible automobile?"

"Ten dollars a day, plus seven cents a mile," said the man. "Done and done," said our hero, and soon he drove away in a long, sleek, new, yellow convertible.

"Oh, goody!" said the lithe, young, vibrant girl when she saw the car. "This suits my simple tastes to a T. Come, let us speed over rolling highways and through bosky dells."

And away they went. They drove north, they drove south, they drove fast, they drove slow, they drove east, they drove west, they drove and drove and drove and, finally, tired but happy, they parked high on a windswept hill.

"Philip Morris?" he said. "Yum, yum!" she said. They lit up. She snuggled against him. "You know," he said, "you are like a Philip Morris—mild and fresh and relaxing."

"But there is a big difference between me and Philip Morris," said she. "They're available in king-size and regular, and I am only available in regular."

They laughed. They kissed. He screamed. "What is it, dear man?" cried she, alarmed. "The speedometer," he said. "I just noticed. We put on 200 miles tonight, and this car costs seven cents a mile, and I have only $14 left."

"But that's exactly enough," she said. "Yes," he said, "but we still have to drive home, and that will put a lot more miles on the car. Where will I get the money to pay for that?"

"Gee, I don't know," said she. "Me neither," he said glumly. He started the motor and backed out of the parking place.

"Hey, look!" said the girl. "The speedometer doesn't move when you're backing up."

He looked. It was true. Mileage only registered when the car was moving forward—not in reverse. "Eureka!" he said. "That's it!"

"Do you mean—" said she. "Exactly!" said he. "I will drive home in reverse. Then no more miles will register and I'll have enough money to pay!"

"I think that's a George idea!" she cried, and she was right. Because today our hero is in the county jail where food, clothes, and lodging are provided free of charge, and his allowance is piling up fast. By the time his sentence is ended, he should have enough to take his girl out riding again.

Fills Those 11's Well

'Foots' Nickname Is a Natural But Mother Nature's Not Cause

By JERRE TODD

L. C. White didn't get the nickname "Foots" because he wears size 11 shoes.

If you want to know the real reason, better take about 15 minutes off. It's a long story.

It starts back in 1937 when Leonard Carl White enrolled at TCU. Young White came to school the year after his brother, Earl, who had acquired the name of Foots at Plano High School.

White was making his way across campus on his second day here when a student who knew his brother yelled from a dormitory window: "Hey, ain't choo little Foots?"

And he was — from then on. He was Little Foots and his brother Big Foots.

Then came the war and the White brothers stepped forward like others for army jobs. Big Foots didn't come back. He was killed in France.

Little Foots barely made it. He was clipped by a Jap sniper and still remembers it when weather changes cause the sickening pain to recur in his arm.

So now there is but one Foots and he'll put his best one forward when he takes over as TCU's business manager in September.

Mr. White returned here after the war and finished work on his B.S. degree in commerce in 1948. After graduation he was immediately employed as an accountant in the University's business office.

He'll replace L. C. (Mr. Pete) Wright with the new school year. Mr. Pete retires after 38 years of service.

"I hope I can fit in right where Mr. Pete left off," White said, looking over a batch of receipts in the business office.

"He's a wonderful man and few people will ever realize what he has meant to this school. It's been wonderful working with him."

Mr. Pete unofficially has been training Mr. White for the business manager's position for the last year.

"He's been putting me on my own with certain jobs. I feel like I know the duties pretty well, but don't expect to know everything Mr. Pete learned in 38 years."

Mr. White will continue with the same policies of the retiring business manager.

"I sincerely hope there will be no immediate change in our operation. We'll just continue down the road Mr. Pete built. He's done his best to get me acquainted with the job, and I don't see any need for change."

Does this include the "credit" arrangements many students make at the beginning of each semester in regard to tuition?

"Oh yes, we'll be just as lenient as Mr. Pete. I know all about the terms. Without them many people would not be able to attend school."

"You can't tell about the future on some of our procedures, however. We may have to change them to keep up with changing times."

Then he paused and looked momentarily at the floor.

"Say," he said, "I don't think a size 11 is too big for a man six feet tall."

No one answered.

250 Jobs Open In Jet School

A recruiting team from Amarillo Air Force Base will be at TCU on April 21 to interview applicants for 250 job openings as civilian instructors at the jet aircraft mechanics' school there.

Salaries range from $3,410 to $4,205 annually.

Requirements are four years of teaching experience at high school level or above or four years of college work with a major in engineering, physical science, mathematics, industrial education or secondary education.

Specialized experience required for a GS-7 rating is six months of teaching experience in aircraft school.

Applicants will be interviewed in room 102 of the Education Building from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Accessory and Fact

Color Hits the Campus As Gals Greet Spring

By RETTA KIRSTEIN

Accessories will be playing a big part in coed wardrobes this spring and summer.

Popular the past winter, long strands of bright beads are even more welcome for tamer summer necklines. Several strands may be worn at once to bring out flattering colors.

Chokers, too, are in the spotlight. Chalk white ones with big earrings to match should be in every gal's jewelry box.

Bright turquoise jewelry seems to be coming back into the fashion world, after taking a backseat for several years.

Many girls have been wearing scarves, flowers and linen kerchiefs at the throat. The foremost colors seem to be aqua, pink, yellow and red.

No matter where the fashion waistline wanders, belts always will be stylish.

With their full cotton skirts, most coeds wear two-inch pastel leather belts. These, combined with fresh cotton blouses are a perfect class combination.

Loafers are popular on campus in spring as well as in the winter, however, some prefer flats in several colors to match their belts.

Although shoes are not an accessory, dressy date shoes can add much to one's wardrobe. Most spring styles are designed so that the ornamentation is a part of the construction of the shoe, not just something "tacked on as an afterthought."

Hats, for church, are nearly all straw in a "million and one" shades. They all have back interest with flowers, bows, and feathers tack on in the back. Pillboxes and sailors are basic forms.

For dress occasions, the short, shorty glove has given way to a longer glove that reaches the upper wrist.

How to Be a Millionaire

Campus Book Store Offers Variety of Pocket Editions

By SUZY STRICKLAND

Would-be millionaires, basketball players, artists and pocket ship designers might be interested in the Book Store's new editions.

Books for all these and many other interests are available in the campus shop in pocket form.

Prospective millionaires won't receive a pecuniary back in their careers from the 25-to-50-cent prices of the books.

"How to Buy Stocks" by [unclear] Engel as well as George [unclear]'s "Men, Wages and Employment" might interest the future wealthies.

"Basketball" by Arnold (Red) Auerbach describes the game from A to Z for the benefit of players, coaches, spectators and possibly even referees.

Da Vinci, Pisarro and other great masters come under close scrutiny in "Flower Painting," a guidebook to the appreciation of nature on canvas.

Specifications for constructing one's own space ship aren't included in Arthur C. Clark's "The Exploration of Space," but maybe a few hints as to conditions in the outer universe may be obtained.

Biographies, tales of the frontier, classics, popular novels and general reference books also are offered on the display rack in the west entrance of the store.

A few examples are "Many Rivers to Cross," by Steve Frazee; "The Snake Pit," Mary Jane Ward; "Shane," Jack Schaefer; "The Velvet Doublet," James Street; "The Red Badge of Courage," Stephen Crane; "Silas Marner," George Eliot; "The Iliad," Homer; "The Life of the Bee," Maurice Maeterlinck; "The Life of Abraham Lincoln," Stefan Larant; and "Indians of the Americas," John Collier.

Approximately 80 books on dozens of subjects are available in the Book Store's collection of what one student book-enthusiast termed "the best pocket books in town."

Sorority Council Is Organized; Prexy Named

Representatives to the Inter-Sorority Council have been named by campus sororities.

Each sorority has two delegates to this governing group which will become the Panhellenic Council when sororities become national chapters late next month.

One delegate was elected by each organization and presidents were appointed ex-officio members.

President of the group is Miss Corrine Eberlein, Kappa Alpha Theta. The other Theta representative is Ann Loader.

Other delegates are: Misses Joyce Bledsoe and Charlotte Mills, Alpha Delta Pi; Nancy Forman and Jo Ann Martin, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ann Dougherty and Jo Ann York, Chi Omega; Bonnie Lambdin and Jean Dorris, Delta Delta Delta; Glenda Calhoun and Retta Kirstein, Kappa Delta; Nadine Wright and Carolyn Falgeau; Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Stella Pettit and Carolyn Owens, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Marci Martin Receives Honor, Trip to Houston

Miss Marci Martin, San Antonio sophomore, has been elected "Miss Service Station of Fort Worth."

She will receive an expense paid trip to Houston May 17-19 to compete in the "Miss Service Station of Texas" contest. Winner of the contest will receive a six-day trip to Mexico City and other prizes.

While in Houston Miss Martin will be furnished accommodations at the Shamrock Hotel.

At TCU Miss Martin is sweetheart of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Gough Contest Set Wednesday

Preliminaries of the 42nd Gough-Shirley oratorical contest will be held Wednesday. Approximately 80 students are expected to compete.

Five men and five women winners will participate in the finals at 7:30 p.m. May 4 in the Little Theater.

The contest was started in 1914 by the late Dr. Roy Gough of Fort Worth and has been held every year since that date.

In 1954 John Shirley, a former winner of the contest, offered to serve as co-sponsor of the event.

The contest is open to all undergraduates. Those wishing to enter must see Dr. E. L. Pross by Tuesday.

Ware Has Back Injury

Logan Ware, Student Center director, was in Harris Hospital this week recovering from a back injury. Mr. Ware was admitted to the hospital April 14.

Dr. Sadler to Address CSF Members May 4

Dr. M. E. Sadler will speak at the annual Christian Service Fellowship semi-formal banquet at 6:30 p.m. May 4 in Weatherly Hall.

Officers for the fall semester will be installed.

Members of Chi Delta Mu, Ministers' Wives and Homiletic Guild, comprising the CSF, are invited to the banquet. Miss Charlotte Allston, Pampa junior, is in charge of arrangements.

The United Religious Council will begin planning next year's Religious Emphasis Week and convocation programs at its spring outing May 7 in Rockwood Park.

Among those participating will be members of the present council, representatives for next year's council, old and new presidents of campus religious organizations and their sponsors.

After a picnic supper the new URC director, yet to be elected, will be installed.

Members of the International Friendship Club will attend a luncheon given by the Fort Worth Rotary Club May 29 at Hotel Texas. The luncheon is part of the golden anniversary celebration of Rotary International.

The TCU Business and Professional Women's Club will sponsor a progressive dinner at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Appetizers will be served at the home of Miss Mary Nell Ferbrache, the main course at Miss Gayle Mantor's home and dessert at the home of Miss Phyllis Noble.

Cowhands to Get Chance at Last

TCU cowboys and cowgirls at least will get their chances at wild horses and mean bulls at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow when the long postponed Ranch Week Rodeo will be held at the Cowltown Posse Arena.

Rodeo Club members, sponsoring the event, expect a large turnout since extra time has been allowed for ticket sales. Those who originally entered events and paid entrance fees are still eligible and only one or two changes were expected by last-minute withdrawals.

More than 30 students have entered the eight rodeo events. Saddle-bronc riding will be held this year for the first time. Entrants have been screened and only experienced riders will be allowed to participate.

Entries for all events include Jack Bridges, Ken Humphries, Tom Ryan, Dave Allred, Verne Dwyer, Bill Estill, Charlie Johnson, Phil Livingston, Carey Batson and Johnny Betts.

Also entered are Cecil Carter, Duane Martin, Marvin Overton, Everett Salley, Paul Wilson, Gerald Woolard, Buddy Young, Bill Yung and Wes Puckett.

Girls who will perform in the barrel-racing are Misses Sue Wilson, Phyllis Perryman, Jean McJunkins, Sharon Hildreth, Joyce Gibson and Dixie Perryman.

The Cowltown Posse Arena is located just south of Berry Street on the South Expressway. Tickets, at $1, may be purchased at the gate or from members of the Rodeo Club.

Frogs Still Hunting Secret; Play Rice Today, Tomorrow

TCU, still hunting for a victory formula, will be out to break a seven-game losing streak in a two-game baseball series with the Rice Owls in Houston today and tomorrow. Frank Windegger, chunky junior righthander, is due to get the starting mound call for the Frogs in today's opener. Tomorrow Coach Walter Roach will return with Tommy Hill, Dick O'Neal or Bob McDaniel.

Windegger has pitched three innings in conference play and has allowed one run and no hits, walked four and struck out two. Frank's won-lost season record stands at 1-1 with a victory over Oklahoma, 5-4 and a loss to Texas, 6-5.

The Purples skidded to their sixth and seventh losses in league play Tuesday when the lowly Texas Longhorns pinned 7-1 and 6-5 defeats on them at Austin. The twin losses placed the Frogs deeper in the cellar, two and half games behind fifth place Rice, which has a 2-4 record.

SMU, picked as early season favorite along with TCU, is leading the pack on a 6-0 mark with pitcher Tommy Bowers getting five of the six decisions. Texas A&M is second, Baylor, third, and Texas, fourth.

In the Texas doubleheader, Roach made several switches in his starting lineup, hoping to break the long drought. Tommy Rogers, sophomore infielder from Paschal, opened in right field with Bob White taking over the center field slot. Big John White, who can hit the long ball, moved to catcher in place of Larry Roseborough.

Roach said Rogers would open again in right field, with White in center and either John White or Roseborough at catcher.

"We just can't seem to get started but our boys keep battling them, so maybe we'll break loose today and tomorrow," said Roach.

Left fielder Les Mattinson climbed into the Frog batting lead in conference play with three hits in six trips in the Texas series. The big senior co-captain now has nine hits in 26 attempts, good for a .346 average.

Al Paschal, probably the No. 1 shortstop in the league right now, continues to hit and field well and will go into the Rice games boasting a .333 mark with 11 hits in 33 at-bats. Jimmy Mayfield, Purple first baseman, is the only other above the .300 mark with a .308. Bob White, who started the season off with a tremendous bang, slipper to a .222 to rank fourth in hitting. Don Holland, third baseman, has a .286; J. White .231; Charles Quick, second baseman, .129; catcher Larry Roseborough, .111; and center-fielder Harold Pollard, .067.

After the two-game session with Rice, TCU will entertain Baylor in single games here next Friday and Saturday.

Cage Drills Begin

With the toughest schedule in history next season, Coach Byron (Buster) Brannon began looking over his prospects for next fall after TCU's spring basketball drills got underway last week.

Brannon, beginning his eighth campaign at the helm of the Christians, will have back only two regulars—center Dick O'Neal and guard Bill Estill. Eight lettermen were lost off the 1954-55 outfit, which won 17 of 24 games and finished in a second-place tie in the Southwest Conference.

O'Neal, the fabulous sophomore who set new season and conference scoring marks in his first varsity season, is not participating in the spring work because of baseball.

Besides O'Neal and Estill, guard Jimmy O'Bannon, the fire-eating sophomore, is the only other letterman returning. Squadsmen back are forward Delbert Tucker, center John Pickens and guard Don Flannagan.

Some top-notch prospects reported from Coach Bruce Craig's stellar freshman team. Wogs Bill Taylor, Johnny Dickerson, Buddy Ball, Bill Erwin, Ray Boots and Duane Smith are making strong bids for starting berths. H. E. Kirchner, 6-10 freshman who enrolled at midyear, is working out but will not be eligible next year until mid-season.

James Swink, the Frogs' No. 1 halfback on the football team last fall, reported for drills. The top guard candidate, who has deceptive quickness, has been impressive in the workouts. Swink was an all-state cager in high school and was chosen the outstanding player in the 1953 Texas schoolboy all-star classic.

Brannon has the newly-elected captain Estill, O'Bannon and Swink mixing at the No. 1 guards, Tucker, Taylor and Dickerson alternating at the forwards and Pickens operating at center.

Several of last season's cage powers will appear on TCU's 1955-56 schedule.

The Purples will meet Oklahoma City twice, and will play single games with Tulsa and Wichita. TCU also is entered in the Dixie Classic at Birmingham with Wake Forest, Alabama and West Virginia. Southern California will be the guest team in the annual pre-season SWC tourney at Houston.

The daily workouts, two hours each, will continue until the first week in May. Brannon is being assisted by freshman coach Craig.

Purple Netmen Face SMU Here In League Play

TCU's rejuvenated varsity tennis team meets powerful SMU here Wednesday in the week's featured match.

The Frogs also will play Southeastern State of Durant, Okla., a squad they have beaten. The date has not been set.

The team did a sharp about-face on last week's tour of Oklahoma, coming to life for five straight victories before bowing to Oklahoma University's strong squad. The loss snapped a six-game streak for the Frogs, which started with their defeat of East Texas State here.

The victories boosted Coach C. A. Burch's men to a season record of 6-7-2. In conference play, the team has lost to Rice and Texas A&M.

SMU, with two former Davis Cup players, is undefeated for the season and tied with equally powerful Texas for the SWC lead. The Mustang's No. 1 man is Irish Davis Cup star Matt Murphy, whose home is in Argentina. The No. 2 man is Olympic basketball player and Argentine Davis Cup player Oscar Furlong.

Murphy recently extended a top amateur, Tom Brown, to three sets, after which Brown lost in five close sets to national champion Vic Seixas.

Charles Gordon, Don Hardin, Ken Martin and Louis Gillespie, probably in that order, will face SMU.

Look for the Spalding "Tennis Twins" Wherever Top Tennis Is Played

There are good reasons why Spalding's tennis twins are used in more major tennis tournaments than all other tennis balls combined.

Top players want a tennis ball that can take rough treatment... and give uniform performance set after set. They pick the Spalding and the Spalding-made Wright & Ditson over all others for uniform wear and better bounce qualities.

Frog Linksmen In 13-Match Skid; Title Hopes Fade

TCU'S varsity golf team already is out of contention for the Southwest Conference links title.

One bright spot, however, appears on the horizon. The Frog golfers are not in last place, either in season or conference play. That dubious honor belongs to Rice and Baylor, respectively.

The Frogs have lost three straight in conference play and have won one of four for the season. The only way TCU has escaped the cellar is that Rice and Baylor have lost more matches. Rice has lost four while winning one for the season, and Baylor has won fewer individual matches while losing three straight conference matches.

The league-leading Texas Aggies pinned the latest defeat on the Frogs by taking a 5 1/2-1 1/2 decision. The Frogs only counter came when Capt. Dick Duckworth halved his No. 1 match with the Aggies' top man.

Track Team Idle This Week; Runs Next at East Texas

After a dual meet with SMU in Dallas yesterday, the Frog varsity track squad will rest until April 30, when it will meet strong East Texas State College at Commerce.

After the East Texas dual, the Frogs will have only two meets left. They will compete against SMU and Baylor at Waco, May 5, and in the annual Southwest Conference meet at Houston, May 13-14.

Coach Mack (Poss) Clark's lads picked up their first meet victory of the season Saturday in a clash with McMurry and Hardin-Simmons at Abilene. The Frogs scored 58 points, McMurry had 57 and H-SU trailed with 34.

The Frogs grabbed five first places with distance specialist Clarence Culwell getting two top places. Culwell, a sophomore, won the 880-yard run in 2:01.7 and the mile race in 4:44.7. He also ran the anchor leg on the winning mile relay.

Versatile Ken Wineburg won the pole vault with a vault of 10 feet, 3 inches and Jack Webb captured the shot put with a heave of 46 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

Also Saturday here on the Frog cinders, the talented TCU Wogs battled the strong Sheppard AFB, Wolters AFB and Fort Hood service squads in a quadrangular meet.

Fort Hood won the meet with 64 1/2 points with the Wogs third behind Sheppard with 38 1/2.

The Wogs won three first places. Jerry Hutson, former Garland miler, won the mile run as he outlasted former two-mile champion Lenroy Lowe of SMU, running for Sheppard to the tape in the winning time of 4:34.0

Marcus Almon, promising hurdler from Gainesville, was an easy winner in the high hurdles with a 15.5 and the Wog mile relay of Almon, Joel Lummus, Jim Watson and Roy Eury picked off a 3:27.7 first place.

Sprinter Virgil Miller, stocky Anna athlete, posted the best time of the season for the 100-yard dash by Frog sprinters in both frosh and varsity. Miller sped to a 9.9 clocking but had to be content with a fourth place tie. Sheppard won with a 9.7 and a Fort Hood runner was second with a 9.8

Coach Don Ross' team allowed but five meets, will run its final practice meet at Waco, May 5, with SMU and Baylor, before the first annual freshman conference meet in Houston, May 13-14.

Aces Meet Chi Sigma

A clash for first place between two undefeated softball teams will take place Tuesday between Abe's Aces and Chi Sigma.

Game time is 4:30 p.m. Both teams are sporting 3-0 won-lost marks.

Abe's Aces probably would be favored in betting circles, having won their first three games by overwhelming margins. They have run up margins of 18-0, 17-1, and 14-2. Chi Sigma has two one-run victories.

Abe's Aces stomped Lambda Chi 18-0 Tuesday for their victory and Chi Sigma pulled out a tight 5-4 decision over Delta Tau Delta. Dick Winters, with a home run and a single, paced Chi Sigma.

In action April 14 the Sig Eps and Do Rights played to a 7-7 tie. The game will not be replayed unless it has a direct bearing on the championship.

The Phi Alphas led by Austin Bond's three hits, hardly worked up a sweat in pounding out a decisive 17-6 verdict over the Ditch Diggers. Ray Warren, Johnny Crouch and Don Hays each had two hits to help Bond along.

In the last game played Thursday, the Phi Deltas came out with a wild 11-7 victory over the Kappa Sigs. Chuck Brodish had two hits for the winners and Carl Rose and John Grimes each blasted home runs for the losers.

In addition to the Chi Sigma-Abe's Aces first-place battle on Tuesday of next week, Lambda Chi and the Preachers will play a preliminary game at 3 p.m.

In action slated for Thursday, undefeated Phi Alpha will take on the once-beaten Phi Deltas at 4 p.m. At 1, two independent outfits, the Ditch Diggers and Do Rights will clash and the Sig Eps and Kappa Sigs will play at 2:30 p.m.

O'Neal Honored Again;

Dick O'Neal, TCU's sensational sophomore center, has been named to the Helms Athletic Foundation all-America basketball second team.

The 6-7 sophomore received a handsome scroll from the organization as his award. Helm's selections picked at the season's close by the nation's top sportswriters and radiomen, is considered the best all-America team in the country.

Wogs to Play Carleton State this Afternoon

Coach Jimmy Stapleton's Wog nine will seek its second straight victory over Carleton State College as it meets the Ployboys in Stephenville this afternoon.

Stapleton said he would pitch Don Campbell, Bill Wyke or Bill Chaney against the Carleton boys, whom they beat in an earlier meeting.

Tomorrow, the Wogs will entertain the stout SMU Colts in the finale of their season-long game series. The Colts are two of the three victories over the Wogs this season.

The Wogs starting lineup for the games will have Harold Green, catcher; Travis Green, first base; Frankie Hyde, second base; David Cox, shortstop; Shofner, third base; Carl Warwick, left field; Willie Maxwell, center field; and Al Tucker, right field.

Saturday, the Wogs fell before Baylor, 11-2, in a game at TCU. The Wogs, baffled by the Cubs' talented right-hander, Jackie Davis, got only two hits, one each by Hyde and Tucker.

Davis, who was quite an athlete at Carthage High School, led the Cubs' 12-hit attack with four bingles. The loss was the Wogs' third in nine starts. Next Saturday at Waco, the Wogs and Cubs will meet in the season finale for both clubs.

IFC to Publish Pledge Manual For Freshmen

The Inter-Fraternity Council, currently entangled in details, will distribute a pledge manual to freshmen next fall, Horace (Chief) Craig, president, announced.

The publication will contain general information on TCU fraternities and rules for rushing.

IFC rush committee chairman Hal Gamble, Fort Worth junior, is drawing up a list of rush rules for approval by the council.

Next week campus fraternities will elect new representatives to the council. Two weeks from today the IFC will elect new officers.

Housing is currently being discussed by the group. The IFC has gone on record as saying it prefers group living among the fraternities, which is possible in the new men's dormitory under construction.

"But the final decision on this will have to come from the Administration," Craig said.

8 Top Gridmen To Attend TCU

With two members of Lufkin's 3A state semifinalist club leading the roll, Coach Abe Martin announced that eight top schoolboy gridmen have notified the Frog football coaches they will attend TCU next fall.

Joe Robb, 200-pound end, and fullback Bobby Bounds, 180, were top hands on the Lufkin team, which bowed out to state champion Breckenridge in the semifinals last fall. Robb made the all-state team and Bounds was given honorable mention.

Another all-stater, fullback Davis Bennett of Jefferson, also was a top choice among the Frog coaches.

Others who signed letters of intent last Friday and Saturday were center Dale Walker of Lampasas, tackle James Saunders of Hillsboro, tackle Bill Fagin and quarterback Lonnie Leatherman of Stephenville.

Earlier, quarterback Rudy Gonzales of Hebronville and fullback James Hill of Bartlett had notified Martin that they were coming to TCU.

New AF ROTC Sergeant Reports; Army Cadet Rules Being Revised

M/Sgt. E. L. Foscue, with 20 years of duty behind him, has reported as sergeant major for the AF ROTC unit here.

Sgt. Foscue comes from Carswell Air Force Base, where he had been stationed since last August. Prior to that he had been stationed in England for three years.

The sergeant requested the TCU assignment, as Fort Worth has been his home for many years. He is married and has a married daughter living in Florida.

Sgt. Foscue served a hitch in the Field Artillery, from 1926 to 1929. After nine years as a civilian, he re-enlisted and remained with the artillery until December, 1941. Then he was transferred to the Air Corps.

During his 14 years in the Air Corps and Air Force, Sgt. Foscue put in 12 years as a first sergeant.

A new policy of the Air Force states all personnel who have 17 years of active duty and who have served a period overseas will not be required to go overseas again. This makes Sgt. Foscue happy. For his money they can leave him at TCU for the next 10 years. He retires then.

Amos Melton Returns From Disciples' Parley

Amos Melton, director of Information Services, returned yesterday from Indianapolis, Ind., where he attended a two-day meeting of the permanent public relations committee of the International Convention of Disciples of Christ.

The meeting was the first of its nature in the Disciples of Christ's history.

Edwin M. Russell and Billy J. Kiser of the Army ROTC have picked the Airborne Corps for their training after commissioning and graduation. Charles J. Goodger chose the Rangers.

Regular army commissioned officers are required to sign up for one of the branches.

M/Sgt. William C. Orr has been accepted by the Air Force to participate in the "Operation Bootstrap" program.

The program allows servicemen to take leave in order to finish their schooling. Orr expects to complete his college requirements at TCU. He will finish next February.

Three Army ROTC seniors have requested transfers from the Transportation Corps to other branches. George L. Hill has asked for the Artillery, Charles F. Brown Jr., the Corps of Engineers, and Keith A. Brock, the Signal Corps.

Lt. Col. G. R. Davis dined with Gen. George C. Kinney, USAF (retired) Tuesday. Gen. Kinney was wartime Air Corps commander in the South Pacific and is currently president of the Air Force Association.

Army ROTC cadet regulations are being revised by a cadet committee with William B. Hewerton as chairman. Other members are Wilson M. Stinnett, Jerry R. Williams, Jimmy E. O'Bannon and Jay L. Gueck.

Church Gives $5,000 to TCU

A $5,000 memorial scholarship has been established at TCU by the Central Christian Church of Greenville.

The scholarship, to be administered by the regular University Scholarship committee, will be for full-time Christian service students from the Central Christian Church.

The first check, for $1,000 was given to President M. Sadler this week by Dr. James L. Sandlin, pastor of the Greenville church. Additional checks will be made.

A four-member committee with Clyde May of the Greenville congregation as chairman announced the new award.

Six Students Attend Texas Folklore Session

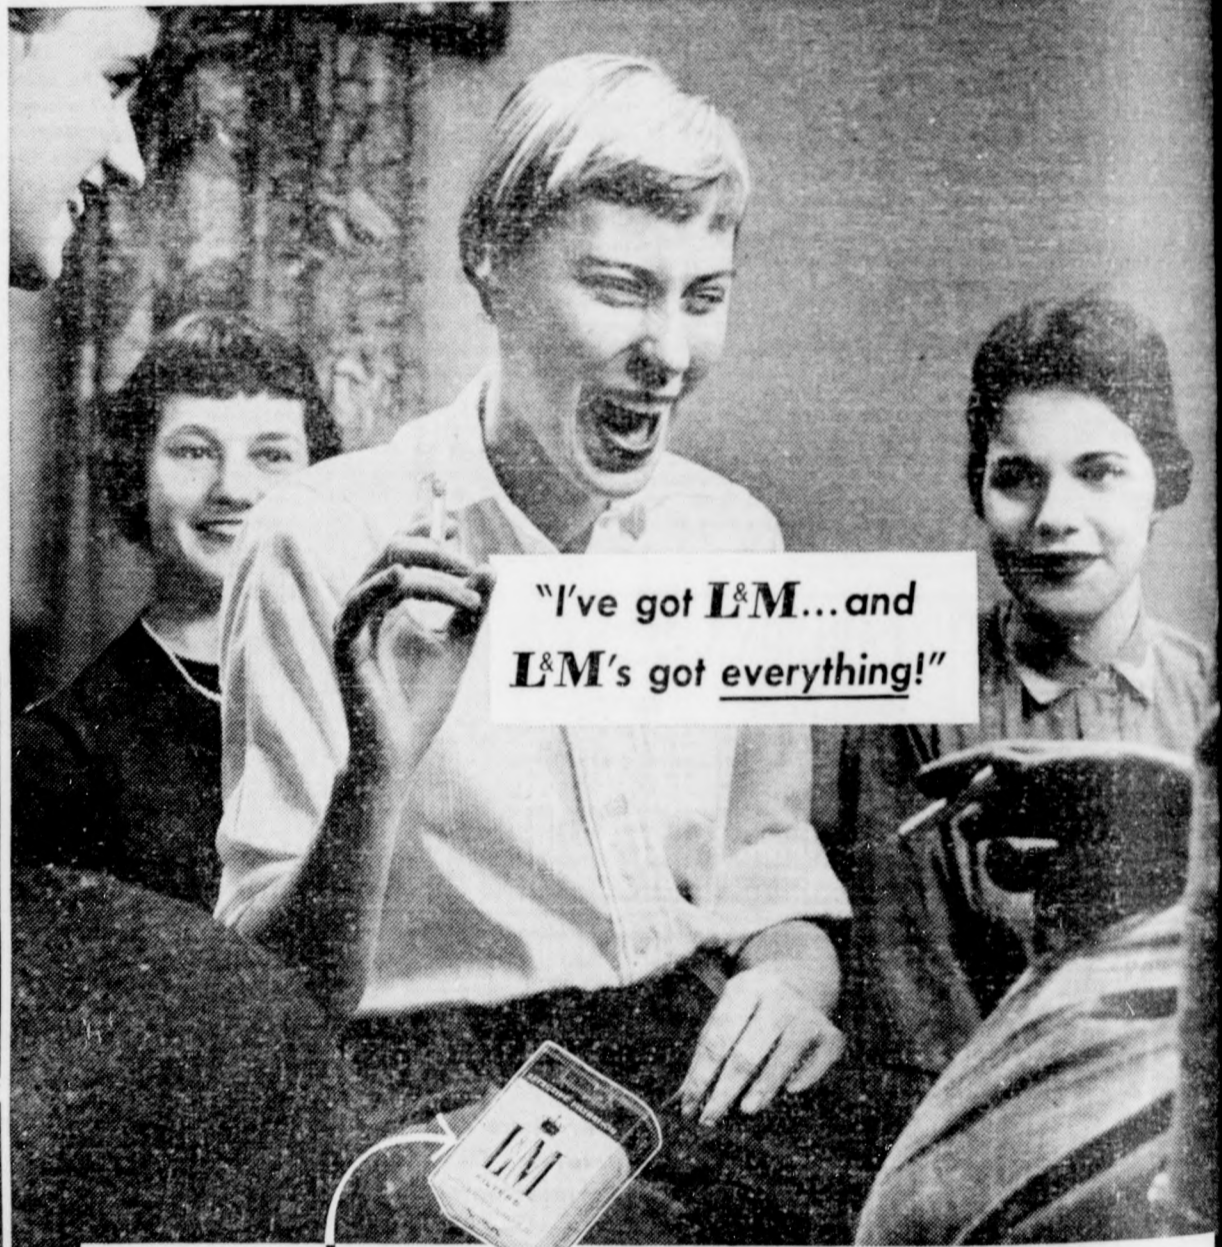

Six students of English at TCU attended an annual meeting of the Texas Folklore Society in Austin today and tomorrow.

Miss Mabel Major, who is teaching the class, is president of the society.

Highlight will be a dinner honoring J. Frank Dobie, folklore authority.

Students attending are E. Camfield, Richard Glass, James Graham, James Gray, Sarah Slay and Frank Williams.

CAMPUS "STAND-OUTS"

"I've got L&M... and L&M's got everything!"

THIS IS IT! L&M's Miracle Tip's the greatest—pure and white. And it draws real e-a-s-y—lets all of L&M's wonderful flavor come through to you!

No wonder campus after campus reports L&M stands out from all the rest. It's America's best filter tip cigarette.
