

Business Drive Opens; Building Due by 1957

Fort Worth business men inspected the School of Business building in "splinter village" Wednesday and received a first-hand view of the school's outdated quarters. The guided tour was led by President M. E. Sadler.

A $750,000 fund drive for a new business building opened Saturday with a luncheon in the Student Center Ballroom for business men and industrialists. The fund campaign will end Feb. 1 and the building is expected to be completed by September, 1957.

The Fort Worth-Dallas area is one of the most strategic business and industrial sections in the nation and that there is a drastic need for trained personnel to conduct the area's affairs.

The campaign committee is emphasizing the pledge system instead of a cash gift system for raising money over a three-year period, Mr. Boswell said.

About $200,000 of the money needed to construct the new building has already been pledged. Of this sum, $134,000 is from Dallas business men and industrialists.

Eugene McElvany of Dallas, the luncheon's guest speaker, vice chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee of Southern Methodist University, concluded his talk with the presentation of his own check for $1,000 to Dr. Sadler to be applied to the building fund.

Cell Block Seven To Play Dec. 13 At SWC Dance

TCU students are invited to the annual Cotton Bowl students' dance on New Year's Eve in the SMU Student Union Building.

Sponsored by the Cotton Bowl Association, the dance will feature the music of the Cell Block Seven.

It is free to all college students and will begin at 9 p.m., announced Melvin T. Munn, dance chairman.

Embassy Officials to View 'Port Royal' Premiere

With a cast of nearly 50 members, the largest ever assembled for a TCU production, the English-language premiere of Henry de Montherlant's "Port Royal" will open at 8 p.m. today in the Little Theater.

Representatives of the French and German governments will be present for the opening performance of the drama, which was first presented a year ago at the Comedie-Francaise in Paris, France.

Edmond DeLattre, New Orleans junior, will appear in the leading male role as the archbishop, and Misses Celeste Neff, Irma Doone Carr, Jackie Hicks, Marthalene Wall, Pat record and Mrs. Elizabeth Schwarz are the leading women performers.

"Port Royal" is a drama about a French convent in the 17th century, and the rebellion of the nuns in the convent against the authority of the church. The drama might be described as neo-classical, as a Greek tragedy, since there is little action, the impact lying in the dialogue. The play runs for about two hours with no act division.

M. Pierre Pelan, consul general of the French embassy at Houston; M. Jacques Leprette, in Washington, D. C.; and consul from the French embassy.

Dr. W. E. Noebel, consul of the German embassy in Dallas will attend the premiere.

Performances will be repeated tomorrow night and Tuesday through Saturday. Curtain See "PORT ROYAL," Page 8

Dance Tonight Will Honor 46 Finalists in Election

Tonight the finalists from the favorites and Mr. and Miss TCU election will be introduced at the Presentation Ball in the Student Center ballroom.

The dance is from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m., and tickets cost $1.50, "stag or drag."

Mr. TCU finalists are: Jim Swink, Rusk junior; Richard O'Neal, Fort Worth junior; and Hugh Pitts, Woodville senior.

Miss TCU finalists are: Miss Freddie Broughton, Palestine junior; Miss Gayle Scott, Dallas junior; and Miss Barbara Alford, Center junior.

Class favorites finalists are:

SENIORS—

Bryan Engram, Dumas; Hugh Pitts, Woodville; Ray Taylor, Lamesa; Stanley Bull, Amarillo; Miss Coleen Soles, Snyder; Miss "Tennessee" Evans, Memphis; Miss Kathryn Minter, Fort Worth; and Miss "Tank" Tankersly, Lamesa.

JUNIORS—

Jim Swink, Rusk; Richard O'Neal, Fort Worth; Don Cooper, Perryton; Chuck Curtis, Fort Worth; and Jim Cooper, Hermleigh; Miss Lucy Ann Pittman, Gainesville; Miss Gayle

Scott, Dallas; Miss Edythe Sgitcovich, Texas City; Miss Freddie Broughton, Center; and Miss Marci Martin, San Antonio.

SOPHOMORES—

Jim Shofner, Fort Worth; Ronnie Coleman, Dallas; Emery Deaki, Sabraton, W. Va.; Bill Perry, Abilene; Delzon Elenburg, Jacksboro; Miss Dicie Perryman, Copperas Cove; Miss Luan Dyche, Fort Stockton; Miss Kay Alston, Sweetwater; Miss Mary Mitchell, Houston; and Miss Angela Boone, Weatherford.

FRESHMEN—

Hunter Enis, Fort Worth; Bobby Bounds, Lufkin; Paul Pitts, Woodville; Joel Hurley, Longview; Ben Sturgeon, Pampa; Mrs. Connie Falk, Fort Worth; Miss Joan Engleking, San Angelo; Miss Pat Noble, Texas City; Miss Maureen Denman, Fort Worth; and Joy Pace, Sweetwater.

Final elections beginning Dec. 12 and lasting through Dec. 14 will select one man and one girl for the Mr. and Miss TCU title and two boys and two women from each class as favorites. The election will be conducted in the Student Center Lounge only. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Presentation Ball, sponsored by the Horned Frog, will feature the music of the Geary-Patterson Orchestra and the vocals of Johnnie Geary.

This may be the last year the dance will be given under the auspices of the Horned Frog, according to Horned Frog Editor Dave Brown.

The Horned Frog assumed responsibility for the affair in the past when there was no Student Center. Now, with the new building and a committee set up to handle dances, Brown feels that planning of the ball should be passed to the dance committee.

2,500 Exes Present For Homecoming

Plans already are being laid for next year's Homecoming on the weekend of the TCU-Texas football game.

Congress' Homecoming committee voted Monday to recommend that next year's Homecoming parade be held on Friday afternoon instead of Saturday morning, as this year.

A resolution of commendation for Miss JoAnn York and Bill Perry, co-chairmen of the committee was approved unanimously by Congress.

Hartwell Ramsey, director of the Ex-Student Association, said 838 exes registered through his office, but he estimated that about 2,500 exes attended Homecoming festivities. Exes present at the annual business meeting and luncheon of the association totaled 317.

Roy I. Bacus of Fort Worth was elected president of the association. Davey O'Brien and Lee Glasco of Waco are first and second vice-presidents, respectively. The records secretary is Mrs. E. P. Furlong of Dallas.

The first honorary membership granted by the association was awarded to the late Amon G. Carter, cited for his abiding interest in TCU.

Also given honorary memberships were Robert Carr of San Angelo, and J. Lee Johnson Jr., Julian Meeker and M. J. Neeley all of Fort Worth.

The Harris College Nurses Club float, "Not As A Stranger," was adjudged the best all-around float.

Other winners were Chi Omega's "Showboat," most beautiful; the Chamber of Commerce's "Bitter Rice," most humorous; and the Frogettes' "The Thing," most original.

Waits Hall was named winner of the dormitory decoration contest. Members of the judging committee included Bill Perry, Miss Gail Kelly, Bobby Coleman, Miss Maureen Denman and Bill Howerton.

Cornelius' Son Award Nominee

Edwin T. Cornelius Jr., son of Dr. E. T. Cornelius, assistant professor of religion, and Mrs. Cornelius, is a candidate for the 1955 Arthur S. Fleming Award to be made to outstanding young men in the federal government.

He is one of the two men nominated by the U. S. Information Agency, of which he is deputy director of the overseas English teaching program.

Winners will be selected in January from each department of the executive branch of the government.

Mr. Cornelius, B.A. '44, developed his teaching methods in Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

Representatives of the Activities Council left this morning to attend this year's regional conference of the Association of College Unions at Fayetteville, Ark.

Persons making the trip are: Logan Ware, Student Center director; Miss Bettye Padon, physical education instructor; Dale Edmonds, Activities Council director; Shirley Bryson, hospitality committee chairman; and Sonny Burt, publicity committee chairman.

Others attending are: Jayne Randolph, art and decorations committee representative; Donna Flinn, United Religious Council chairman; Carol Kent, talent committee representative; Bennie Quoss, student-faculty relations representative; Jean Haigler, music committee representative and Bill Finley, forums committee chairman.

Delegates from Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Mississippi, Louisiana and other Texas colleges will be present.

Business meetings and conferences pertaining to all phases of student union activities will be conducted tonight and tomorrow.

Purpose of the gathering is to exchange ideas for effective union programs. TCU is being represented for the second year.

Expenses for the trip are being met by Congress and Miss Elizabeth Youngblood's office.

Dr. Foote Will Speak At Chapel

Dr. Gaston Foote, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will speak at the chapel service at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

A frequent guest speaker on campus, Dr. Foote was official delegate of the Methodist Church to the World Conference on Faith and Order in Edinburgh, Scotland, and to the World Council of Churches Assembly in Amsterdam.

He is a graduate of SMU and the University of Denver. Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, conferred a honorary Doctor of Divinity degree upon him in 1947.

HI! JOIN ME FOR A LUCKY DROODLE?

WHAT'S THIS?

For solution, see paragraph below.

HERE'S A DROODLE THAT PACKS A PUNCH. It's titled: Lucky smoke rings blown by prizefighter with tooth missing. It packs a moral, too: Why knock yourself out looking for a better-tasting cigarette when all you have to do is light up a Lucky? Luckies taste better, first, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is TOASTED to taste better. So light up a Lucky. It's the winner—and still champion—for better taste!

Sorority Rush

There will be no formal rush for TCU sororities next semester.

The proposed rush period was changed to a more informal type program by the Panhellenic Council Tuesday, Miss Elizabeth Youngblood, social director, said.

"The sororities will have informal contacts with the girls on an interview basis rather than a social type rush," Miss Youngblood said.

The Panhellenic Council feels the informal program will create a greater interest for sororities and will enable more girls to participate in the pledge session, Miss Youngblood said.

Three sororities—Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Kappa Gamma—have filled their quotas for the year but will participate in the informal program.

No changes have been made in the rush setup for fraternities. They likely will follow the formal social rush plan used in September.

Phi Kappa Sigma

Beta Theta Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma will be formally installed at TCU in rites at the University Baptist Church Sunday afternoon.

Members and pledges of the chapter, together with alumni and visiting national officers, will celebrate the occasion Saturday with a noon banquet and an evening of dancing on the Hilton Hotel's Continental Terrace.

The local chapter will be the 46th in the fraternity's 101-year history. Other Texas chapters are located at the University of Texas and North Texas State College.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Kappa Kappa Gamma members and pledges will entertain members and pledges of the eight fraternities on campus from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday, at the C. C. Griffin home, 4824 Crestline Rd.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta members and pledges leave by car caravan for Stillwater, Okla., at 5 p.m. today to spend the weekend visiting the Kappa Delta chapter at Oklahoma A&M.

Mrs. Imogene Ward, province president of Kappa Delta, was in Fort Worth this week as a part of her regular yearly visit of college chapters.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta members and pledges will be honored at a Christmas party given by the Fort Worth Alumnae club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of a local alumna.

Mrs. James W. Hofstead of Nashville, grand president of Kappa Alpha Theta, will visit the TCU Theta chapter Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Alpha Delta Pi

The pledge class of Alpha Delta Pi will entertain pledges of the other seven sororities from 10 a.m. to 12 noon tomorrow at the home of Misses Marjie and Judy Crow, 2909 Lubbock.

Delta Gamma, Pi Phi Will Organize Here

Two more sororities—Pi Beta Phi and Delta Gamma—were invited Tuesday by the committee on fraternities and sororities to organize and to colonize on the campus next spring.

Addition of the societies will make a total of 10 sororities at TCU. A quota of 20 has been set for each of the new groups.

"The decision was made after conscientious consideration of all factors which we believe to be important," Dr. Thomas F. Richardson, chairman of the committee, said in an official letter to the Fort Worth Panhellenic organization.

"We believe these sororities will best serve our purposes and balance our program."

The committee presumed in the beginning that additional sororities would have to be brought to TCU, Dr. Richardson pointed out.

"It usually takes about 10 sororities at a university the size of TCU to handle adequately the number of girls," Dr. Richardson said.

"And we wanted to complete our sorority program before the house building program is started so that all sororities can get a fairly even start."

Mrs. J. C. Simons, president of the Fort Worth chapter of Pi Beta Phi, and Mrs. M. R. Runyon, president of the Fort Worth chapter of Delta Gamma said the sororities would begin organization here immediately.

Here is a brief look at the two sororities:

Pi Beta Phi—The sorority was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., in 1867. It has 263 alumnae chapters, 102 student chapters and 58,688 members. Pi Beta Phi had 2,503 pledges in the 1954-55 school year. The sorority maintains the oldest philanthropic project of any Panhellenic group.

Pi Phi's symbol is a gold arrow, colors are wine and blue and the official publication is a quarterly magazine entitled the Arrow. The sorority holds conventions biannually.

Delta Gamma became international in 1913 when it granted a charter to the University of Toronto in Canada.

The sorority's symbol is a golden anchor with a white shield. Colors are bronze, pink and blue and the official national publication is a quarterly magazine entitled The Anchor.

Congratulations, Horned Frogs!
When you won the Southwest Conference football title last Saturday, you became the:
Fourth football team in Frog history to gain the cotton Bowl bid and the eighth in TCU history to be destined for bowl play.

Cotton Pickers Pluck 9 Foes

The sixth team since 1923 to win the SWC title.
Highest scoring football team in TCU history. Your 29-point average a game may never be repeated.
Greatest offensive team in purple annals.
Contributor of the largest number of stars to all-America teams.
Only team since 1938 to finish the season with a 9-1 record.
Best TCU defensive team since 1942.
Only team since 1938 to place five men on all-Southwest Conference team.
Besides, Froggies, your splendid play gave us an extra holiday last Monday as well as one on Jan. 2. Administrative officials originally planned to end the Thanksgiving holidays on Monday, but your record gave us that day off. The bowl game also falls on a Monday and thus students gain an extra day at Christmas.
Congratulations, Horned Frogs!

Clutter-bugs Invade

Clutter-bugs aplenty invaded the campus after the Homecoming parade and remained at work until last weekend.
The 25 floats appearing in the Saturday morning parade were strewn around campus, landing primarily on "splinter village" parking lots. Apparently the Homecoming committee, in charge of floats, neglected to make post-parade arrangements for the crepe-paper giants.
Dismantling was unorganized and prolonged. Floats were left to clutter badly needed parking space. Boards and nails dribbled around by careless dismantlers created hazards for automobile tires and unattended floats tempted younger members of the local population to help scatter paper, wire, nails and other materials over the campus.
Perhaps the Homecoming committee should take a cue from Congress' election committee. Candidates for most elections are required to remove campaign posters within 24 hours after results are disclosed. Perhaps float-builders could be required to dismantle their possessions within 48 hours.
Each organization could contribute a dollar or two to a general dismantling fund to hire someone to take apart floats rapidly and efficiently.
With some advance planning, the clutter-bug situation and the only resulting black mark on the 1955 Homecoming record could be eliminated next year.

'A House Divided'

A disturbing factor about the Student Court recently was brought to light by The Skiff.
Justices' ability to serve the court, excluding other conflicting loyalties, might well be hampered in any disputes involving Congress and another campus group.
The five-member court was elected by Congress from a list of 10 persons selected by Student Body President Aubrey Owen.
The Skiff found that one of the court members now is serving as an alternate for a class president and is voting on Congress issues.
A mixing of judicial and legislative branches of campus government is the result. In a democracy, and certainly Student Congress follows the tenets of a democratic government, an entwining of the two branches through dual membership cannot exist.
The Skiff feels that Student Court, as it stands, could not arrive at an impartial and just ruling on a problem in which court members themselves have participated as Congress members.
In the best interests of the student body, therefore, no member of Student Court should be allowed to hold an official capacity in Congress—even temporarily.
Distinct separation between legislative and judicial branches should, and must, be maintained for a democratic student government.

Homecoming Heights

The entire Homecoming weekend seems to have reached the heights of the 30-foot bonfire which smoldered and burned for several days.
From the pep rally to the Homecoming dance exes crowded the campus, keeping up with students in supporting events.
Approximately 250 persons showed up for the pep rally and more than a thousand crowded around the bonfire, said Earl Zetsche, head cheerleader.
An estimated 838 exes registered during Homecoming, said Hartwell Ramsey, director of ex-student affairs. Approximately 1600 additional exes were on campus.
Despite last-minute touches busily being added to the 25 parade floats by most club members, dance attendance climbed to approximately 300.
The 1955 Homecoming seems to have been branded a success by exes and students alike. Their approval is reflected by attendance figures at the various events.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"Worthal's girl—Sometimes I almost dread to see him make a basket."

'Dee-Stinked' Skunks Now in Campus Store

By BOB MARION

At the rate things are going, Frogland should be changed to "Animal-land."
TCU has roving skunks, "Animal" Hamilton, stray dogs and runaway cats (usually with kittens). Wooden animal visitors from the nearby zoo sometimes peer from the top of the water tower, and of course, there is the perennial campus wolf.
Over the holidays a new batch of animals arrived. These however, are of the stuffed variety and are unlikely to make an appearance outside the University Store and dormitory rooms.
Fine company for pet-loving, rule-abiding dorm dwellers, the new animals show their TCU spirit by being attired in school colors.
A coed favorite likely will be Lil' Stinkie, an elegant gentleman replete with white stripes, whose real life counterpart can be seen strolling nonchalantly on the campus almost any evening. Lil' Stinkie comes minus the odor and doesn't have to be treated as gingerly as his live brethren.
For persons who like more active animals, there's Lil' Lena, a pert kangaroo, who appears ready to bounce off at the slightest provocation.

The rest of the animals are of the canine type — not a cat in the whole lot. Probably a good thing too, because Bugsie and Mugsie, pugnacious looking little bulldogs, would make life miserable for any felines.
The other pooches have a just-as-interesting appearance. Lil' Herbie, a cocky fellow, looks as though he has just finished tearing off the favorite postman's leg, while Lil' Fritz, a droopy-eared near-relative of Herbie, has the air of a slightly bumfuzzled mutt who has just bitten his tail and wonders why it hurts.

Coofy, appropriately named, has the Goggle-eyed countenance of a punch drunk fighter after two rounds with Marciano.
There is also an unnamed hound with a snoot to rival Jimmie Durante's and the sad-eyed mein of a student after an all night drinking spree topped off by an 8 o'clock test.
Something else new to the store are school pennants. They sport the school crest, have white lettering on a purple background.
Also in the TCU motif, are T-shirts of all sizes. Future-minded students can now buy T-shirts with a colored horned frog resting lazily on the letters "Frog." Just below are the letters "TCU" followed by 19?? These shirts are suitable for the pessimistic types.

Other new items stocked by the University Store are pen and pencil sets and several new brands of toiletries and cosmetics for men and women.

SW Campus Confidential

By DALE EDMONDS

UT

Two U of T students, Claire Yeagley and Dan Young, spent part of the evening after the TCU game searching darkened Memorial Stadium for a diamond which had fallen out of Claire's engagement ring.
Armed with a small flashlight, they required only five minutes to spot the gem shining amid broken Coke bottles. Students everywhere can thank up some pretty salty excuses for traipsing to the stadium at night.

John Knaggs, sports editor of the Daily Texan, probably will go down in Sipper history for his startlingly accurate prediction of the Texas upset over A&M. In his "Out on the Limb," Knaggs said:
"Texas over A&M — The Shorthorns did it Saturday. The cross country team Monday look for one more big upset, the traditional battle. The Longhorns to win by a toss down through the airplanes."

The margin of victory was a bit larger, but Knaggs might be excused for this blunder, as just for good measure, he prognosticated: "TCU over SMU. But not by much." The underdog statement of the year.

BAYLOR

The Baylor Lariat came with one of the best definitions yet of Dead Week—"so called because it leaves one with 'dead' feeling."

SMU

Things are looking up for women students at SMU according to recent statistics. There are two Mustang men for each Mustang maiden. Women at TCU receive only 1.8 men apiece, which proves nothing except that Schmoos statisticians are better at rounding-off figures.

TRINITY

A photo-electric counter at Trinity University physics class has taken over the job of taking roll. The device, ingeniously termed "Evil-Eye," records the entry of students in the classroom. The professor has only to check the figures to see how many students are coffeeing or nursing hangovers in bed. "Evil-Eye" seems to be quite popular, because a group of students have banded together to try to uncover the name of the inventor. Probably want to shower him with kudos.

U of H

The University of Houston sponsors a contest somewhat akin to TCU's Ugly Man Campus affair during Ram Week. The Houstonian's choice a Campus Casanova, but the are apparently no requirements or qualifications for entrance. Must be done on the honor system.

Another strange noise from Cougarland: Some coeds at U of H are members of fraternities, but have transferred from other schools where they were members of national groups. Now national sororities are coming to campus, but there are some women who are members of nationals that are coming. And, soon they'll be initiated into the national groups that are coming, from the list of which they are members, in addition to being members of nationals that aren't coming. ISA anyone?

Pulitzer Prize Winner To Lead Music Recital

Leo Sowerby, American composer and winner of the Pulitzer Prize in music, will present a program of his own compositions at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Presented by the Fort Worth chapter of the American Guild of Organists and the School of Fine Arts, Mr. Sowerby will conduct the University Orchestra and Chorus in his compositions, and five students will perform organ solos of his works.

The program will begin with "Love Came Down at Christmas" and "Now There Lightens Upon Us" by the University Chorus under Mr. Sowerby's direction.

Stanley Shepelwich, Fort Worth graduate student, will play "Requiescat in Pace." Miss Barbara Alford, Center junior, and Richard Bouchett, Stamford freshman, will perform "Sonatina".

James Sharp, Duncan, Okla., junior, will play "Whimsical Variations," and Lawrence Schriber, Fort Worth senior, will present "Concert Piece for Organ and Orchestra" with the University Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Sowerby will deliver a commentary on each of his works. The program is open to the public. Admission is $1.25 per person.

Tuesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon Mr. Sowerby will conduct a master class for organists of TCU and the Fort Worth area in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Infirmiry Sets Hours For Issuing Excuses

Supervisor Lucille G. Steers asks that students wanting sick excuses visit the Infirmiry from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Students have been coming in during the rush hours when the nurses were busy with patients, out for lunch or conferring with the doctor. If they will observe the regular excuse hours, Mrs. Steers feels it will permit the staff to do its work more efficiently, and students will not be kept waiting.

Mr. and Mrs. James Canon are living at 2925 Princeton after their wedding Nov. 24. Canon is a junior at TCU, and the bride is the former Miss Louise Langdon of Fort Worth.

Miss Gina Satterwhite, Baytown sophomore, and Roy Cummins, Bellaire junior, became engaged over the Thanksgiving weekend. They have not yet set their wedding date.

Miss Barbara Woolley, Mineral Wells junior, and Warren Culberson, Klamath Falls, Ore., senior, have announced their wedding plans. The ceremony will take place on Feb. 4 in Mineral Wells.

The former Miss Janet Horne, B.A. '55, and Bill Baird, B.A. '55, were married Nov. 23 in Dallas. They will live in Fort Worth.

Miss Marilyn Henderson of Fort Worth and Joe Null, Fort Worth junior, are engaged. Wedding plans will be announced later.

After a trip to Hot Springs, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jahren will be at home at 3120 Darnell. Jahren is a Fort Worth junior, and she is the former Miss Wanda Seago of Mansfield. They were married Nov. 23.

HOW TO BE A BWOC

A few weeks ago in this space I passed on some hints to college men who wished to become BMOCs. I would be remiss not to do the same for college women who wish to become BWOCs.

The first and most basic step on the road to being a BWOC is to attract attention. Get yourself noticed. But be very, very careful not to do it the wrong way. I mean, any old girl is bound to be noticed if she goes around with a placard that says, "HEY! LOOKIT ME!" Don't you make such a horrid gaffe. On your placard put: "ZUT! REGARDEZ-MOI!" This, as you can see, lends a whole new dimension of tone and dignity.

Once you have been noticed, it is no longer necessary to carry the placard. It will suffice if, from time to time, you make distinctive noises. If, for instance, every three or four minutes you cry, "Whip-poor-will!" you cannot but stay fresh in the minds of onlookers.

We come now to clothes, a vital accessory to the BWOC—indeed, to any girl who wishes to remain out of jail. But to the BWOC clothes are more than just a decent cover; they are, it is not too much to say, a way of life.

This year the "little boy look" is all the rage on campus. Every coed, in a mad effort to look like a little boy, is wearing short pants, knee sox, and boy-shirts. But the BWOC is doing more. She has gone the whole hog in achieving little boyhood. She has frogs in her pockets, scabs on her knees, down on her upper lip, and is followed everywhere by a dog named Spot.

All this, of course, is only by day. When evening falls and her date comes calling, the BWOC is the very picture of chic femininity. She dresses in severe, simple basic black, relieved only by a fourteen pound charm bracelet. Her hair is exquisitely coiffed, with a fresh rubber band around the pony tail. Her daytime scuffs have been replaced by fashionable high heeled pumps, and she does not remove them until she gets to the movies.

After the movies at the campus cafe, the BWOC undergoes her severest test. The true BWOC will never, never, order the entire menu. This is gluttony and can only cause one's date to blench. The true BWOC will pick six or seven good entrées and then have nothing more till dessert. This is class and is the hallmark of the true BWOC.

Finally, the BWOC, upon being asked by the cigarette vendor which is the brand of her choice, will always reply, "Philip Morris, of corris!" For any girl knows that a Philip Morris in one's hand stamps one instantly as a person of taste and discernment, as the possessor of an educated palate, as a connoisseur of the finer, gentler, higher pleasures. This Philip Morris, this badge of savoir faire, now comes to you in a smart new pack of red, white and gold, in king-size or regular, at popular prices, wherever cigarettes are sold. ©Max Shulman, 1955

To all on campus, big or small, men or women, the makers of Philip Morris, who bring you this column, extend a cordial invitation to try today's gentle Philip Morris, made gentle to smoke gentle.

Volbach to Talk At Convention

Dr. Walther Volbach, professor of drama and director of the theater, will read two papers, "The Playwright on the Campus" and "Timing in Opera," at a convention of the American Educational Theater Association Dec. 27-30 in Los Angeles.

Dr. Volbach is also an advisory board member of the association.

Frog Five, Texas Tech Meet Tomorrow Night

By JIM HENDRICKS
TCU's "darkhorse" basketball five will meet strong Texas Tech of the Border Conference in an intersectional clash at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Public Schools Gymnasium.

opened play here last night against Austin College. Coach Byron (Buster) Brannon's courtmen are picked behind defending champion SMU, Baylor, Arkansas and Rice in the coming league chase. The Frogs have won the SWC cage crown three years out of the past five. But the above mentioned four schools all come into the race with more depth and experience than the Purple.

Leading the Christians against the Raiders will be 6-7 junior center Richard O'Neal, who shattered almost every individual conference scoring mark last year.

O'Neal, who specializes in the far-out hook from either side of the court, totaled 676 points in 24 games during the 1954-55 slate. He has received considerable mention as an All-America prospect this season.

O'Neal will be joined in starting lineup by forwards Johnny Dickerson, 6-5 sophomore, and Johnny Betts, 6-4 sophomore, and guards Bill Estill, 6-1 senior, and Jimmy O'Bannon, 6-1 junior. Estill is team captain.

Brannon is desperately lacking for reserves at center and experienced replacements at the forward and guard posts.

Billy Taylor, 6-4 sophomore, and Delbert Tucker, 6-4 junior, will be top substitutes at the forward slots. Buddy Ball, 6-2 sophomore, and Jim Page, 5-9 sophomore, are second-unit guards.

Frog fans will also get their first look at Coach Bruce Craig's current Wog team. The freshmen will meet Weatherford Junior College in a preliminary contest at 6 p.m.

Students will be admitted to the Public Schools Gymnasium upon presentation of activity cards at the door. The gymnasium is located east of Farrington Field in Forest Park.

Swink-Led TCU Rates In Final SWC Statistics

With All-America halfback Jim Swink leading the way, TCU's offense-minded Southwest Conference champions swept a goodly part of the final ball-moving leaderships, according to statistics released this week by the conference.

Swink, who really went on a tear during the 1955 campaign, led the nation and conference in point production. He scored 125 on 20 touchdowns and five extra points and raced 1,283 yards to trail only Art Luppino of Arizona in the ground-gaining department.

The Rusk junior easily led the conference in rushing with an average of 8.2 yards on 157 trips with the leather. His closest competitor was fullback Henry Moore of Arkansas with 701 yards on 134 carries.

Other Cotton Bowl-bound Frogs in the league's top 15 rushers were halfback Ray Taylor, 368 on 82 journeys, fullback Vernon Hallbeck, 367 on 94 tries, and halfback Ken Wineburg, 313 on 61 jaunts.

Swink's 1,283 yards also led the SWC in total offense. John Roach, SMU quarterback, finished second with 1,126.

Purple quarterback Chuck Curtis led the loop in touchdown passes with eight. He also finished third in throwing records with 36 completions in 68 tosses for 529, highest percentage in the conference. Texas quarterback Joe Clements was completions leader with 65 out of 128.

Taylor finished fourth among pass receivers with 13 catches for 189 yards and one touchdown. Leading the conference was Menan Schriener of Texas with 21 receptions for 301 yards and three scores.

Punting proved the Frogs' weakest offensive factor. Taylor kicked 25 times for a 34.4 average, Wineburg, 10 times for 36.1. Neither finished in the top 10 in the SWC. Leader Don Horton of Arkansas was 13 for 609 and 46.9.

Harold Pollard, the Frogs' sure-footed place-kicker, led the conference pace in that department with 25 extra points in 31 attempts and one field goal for 28 points.

TCU led the conference total offense with 3,531 yards in 10 games. Second was SMU with 2,897 in 10 encounters.

Swink Second In Heisman Vote

Jarrin' Jim Swink, TCU tremendous halfback, has again been honored.

He was named second Howard (Hopalong) Casady, Ohio State's game-buster, the voting for the John Heisman trophy awarded annually to the outstanding college football player in the United States.

Cassady, a senior, two-year all-America choice, received 2,219 points, as against 724 Swink.

Cassady finished third among the nation's leading rushers with 958 yards on 161 carries in nine games.

Star TCU Halfback Collects Honors

Mouser, Estill Lead Grid Picks

LARRY ROSEBOROUGH Open letter to Ed Sullivan: Dear Smiley, I enjoyed your show Sunday night. Especially the 55 seconds you showed the Collier's all-American team in individual portraits.

We here at Texas Christian University are proud of our Swink, and we appreciate the publicity gained by selection to the Collier's first All-America.

But we feel that so much more could have been done with the men there.

For instance, while each individual was exhibiting his armor in front of the cameras, a short strip of movie could have been shown of each man's talents. It would have been easy enough to obtain a strip of movie from each of the schools represented concerning the players there. Our own Swink has turned in many almost unbelievable jaunts which could have been nominated for the year's outstanding run.

This would have been a near-priceless addition. The end of another exciting football season was at hand and with so many outstanding players and games this year, an infrequent opportunity presented itself.

You had in front of you even of the best football players in the country in a year when it would have been just as easy to pick an all-American team with 111 players on it. Mr. Sullivan, you had the team of the crop on your show. Just think of all the energy wasted, all the time, to say nothing of all the money in-involved, just to show each player for approximately five seconds. The movie angle would have helped tremendously. The way many people looked at it, Mr. S., anything would have helped.

Sincerely yours,

This nickname business fascinates me.

I don't know what other people think, but yours truly here thinks that Swink fellow ought to have a nickname.

He has a variety, but none of them have stuck consistently. He has, at one time or another, been called Swanky, Rusk Rambler, Rusk Raider, Home James, Slim Jm, the Frog Phantom, Jaunty James, Joltin' Jim, Swish, the Trim Terror of TCU, and others. The best, to our way of thinking, was that offered by Bill McClanahan, the Dallas Morning News' fine cartoonist and caricaturist. He referred to Swink as "Ol' 23 Skidoo."

More kudos are in order to Amos Melton and Jim Brock for the athletic publicity they spew out of here.

But they have been overshadowed this year by the reams of copy which have ap-

Frog halfback Jim Swink seems destined for a consensus All-America berth.

Picking up feathers for his cap like a far baby in a pillow fight, Swink has gained a spot on every All-America team so far.

He was named to teams picked by the Associated Press, appeared in Fort Worth's newspapers.

All this publicity, meaning the appearance of TCU players on all-America teams, will come in handy.

Fort Worth papers have had it easy this 1955 season. It's comparatively simple to write about a winning team and somebody coaching a winning team. When the words come hard is when your favorites are losing week after week, with no hope for change in sight.

But the practice of constantly keeping TCU and TCU players' names up in front of the public eye is most helpful, especially when it comes to helping some high school lad make up his mind whether to come to TCU or some other institution of higher coaching.

We of the Horned Frogs' loyal backing band say thanks to the press of Fort Worth and the rest of the country.

United Press, International News Service, Newspaper Enterprises of America, Look Magazine, Collier's and Paramount News.

He was chosen as All-Southwest Conference by the Dallas Times-Herald, the Dallas Morning News and the United Press. Swink has had Horned Frog company on every all-America team released thus far.

Center Hugh Pitts has been the second string choice of each honor squad.

In the All-Southwest Conference teams of the Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Times-Herald, Swink, Pitts, Bryan Engram, Charles Curtis, and Norman Hamilton were also first-team selections.

E. B. MOUSER and BILL ESTILL, each missing one game but predicting the correct 35-point total score in the TCU-Rice clash, topped all other entrants in The Skiff's football contest.

Each will receive two tickets to the Worth Theater.

Other one - missers and their score guesses were WAYNE SCANTLAND, JIMMY McCORD, and CLARK WATTERS, 34; BILL KIT-HAS, 36; DOCK CAWTHON, 33; CHARLES WEIGHT, 40; and DON FLANNIGAN and JACK FREEMAN, 41.

GEORGE JONES, who guessed 49 points, missed six games. His one winner: TCU over Rice, naturally.

Watch for The Skiff's bowl games contest in the Dec. 16 issue.

Addy to Have New Frog Suit For Bowl Game

Addy, TCU's purple Horned Frog, is shedding his skin.

Bob Cochran, Houston junior, who plays Addy, complained that his frog skin was splitting faster than he could tape, sew or wire it together.

Bruce Neal, San Angelo junior, who aired Cochran's complaints at Congress meeting Oct. 22, asked Congress to buy a new costume in time for the Cotton Bowl game with Mississippi Jan. 2.

The costume, complete with head and costing $45, was approved unanimously by Congress.

Emissary Will Speak On France

Mr. Jacques Leprette, consul of the Embassy of France in Washington, D. C., will speak on "Some Trends in Modern French Thought" at 8 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The Fort Worth String Quartet will play Ravel's "Quartet in F."

M. Leprette, assistant chief of information and cultural services at the French embassy, is at TCU in connection with the English-language premiere of the French drama "Port Royal."

"Anyone interested in French culture, or in any phase of the humanities, will find M. Leprette's talk most interesting," said Dr. Walther Volbach, professor of drama and director of the theater.

The 1910 edition of the Horned Frog never made it to press. Everything was ready for publication when a fire broke out and destroyed the copy. Some of it was rescued and used in the 1911 annual.
