Congress Promises Complete Payment

By LEE ROY GRIMSLEY

Acting on a resolution passed by Student Congress Tuesday, a delegation of five students representing the Student Association publicly apologized to the A&M Student Senate yesterday.

The delegation, composed of Student Association President George Depee, Vice President Bob Roch, Secretary JoAnne Kirkpatrick, Representative Carolyn Johnson and Skiff Editor Frank Perkins, attended a dinner sponsored by the Student Senate at A&M in College Station.

At 7 p.m., Depee read the formal statement to the cadet assembly.

Congress had appointed a committee consisting of Depee, Tony Hale, Max Rightmer, John Tyson, Miss Suzy Sawyer and Miss Carolyn Johnson to meet with student leaders and to select a delegation to make an apology at A&M.

The committee met Wednesday, and selected the delegates.

Congress also approved a motion by Brite College Representative Howard Grant that a letter be sent to A&M expressing regret over the incident and promising prompt payment for damages.

Shortly after the final gun sounded, skirmishes between Aggies and TCU students broke out in front of Milton Daniel Dormitory and swept north and east across the campus.

The fights finally were halted at the Fine Arts Building by Vigilantes, faculty members and A&M cadre officers.

Several A & M students were hospitalized with cuts and many of them lost personal property in the skirmishes. A number of TCU students were cut and bruised.

Depee stated Tuesday that he had been contacted by Ray Boyd, Aggie cadet executive officer. Boyd said that tension was high at College Station and students wanted to know what was going to be done about their losses.

"We are deeply distressed over the situation," said President M. E. Sadler. "We regret very much that such things occurred to mar a very fine occasion."

Dean of Students Laurence C. Smith said an itemized list of stolen articles was being prepared by A&M officials, and that all articles not recovered by Congress would be paid for from Congress funds.

Students Chosen 1,000 Guests Tour Campus For 'UN' Meeting

Rabi Ayyad, Bill Wyrick and Miss Sue Grathouse were named by Student Congress Tuesday to represent TCU at a meeting patterned after that of the United Nations Assembly at Southern Methodist University today and tomorrow.

The TCU delegation will represent Saudi Arabia. Use of a peace force and the admission of Communist China to the UN will be among the subjects discussed.

Hyder Shah and Paul Coulter were named first and second alternates for the group.

Activities in TCU's three new buildings returned to normal pace this week after formal dedication services Saturday.

Approximately 1,000 visitors toured Dan D. Rogers Hall, Colby D. Hall and Milton Daniel dormitories after the dedication.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, director and executive vice president of the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, said in his convocation address:

"The buildings which we have gathered here to dedicate are not the result of accidentalism but rather they are the realities which spring from the efforts and contributions of men and women who are dedicated to the ideals for which this institution stands."

The former president of Texas Tech said the buildings symbolize devoted services and the generosity of men to the cause of Christian education.

"These buildings stand as monuments on this campus and they will, for generations, contribute to the educational objectives to which Texas Christian University is dedicated," he said.

Goodman Orchestra Will Play Thursday

Black and silver spiders, witches, cobwebs and the Benny Goodman orchestra will highlight the Halloween night Freshman Prom Thursday.

The Goodman group, under the direction of trombonist

Urbie Green, will play an hour concert at 7:30 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium, as well as for the semi-formal dance from 9 p.m. to 12 midnight in the Ballroom.

Admission to each event is $1.

Allied Artists of America has agreed to bring the 15-piece Goodman aggregation to TCU and to pay all costs in exchange for the total ticket sales.

In past years, the cost of bringing a name band to the University has been supplemented by appropriations ranging from $400 to $700 from Student Congress.

Congress will be in charge of ticket sales in the Student Center lobby and taking tickets at the door. Decorations will be handled by arts and decorations committee of the Activities Council.

Dean Hull to Lead New Orchestra In Season's First Concert Tuesday

Robert Hull, dean of Fine Arts, will conduct the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra in the first of this season's three concerts at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium.

Five TCU undergraduates, one graduate student and 11 faculty members will be in the newly formed orchestra.

Of the 66 orchestra members, 62 are Fort Worth residents. All are professional musicians, but many are employed in other jobs.

Although Fort Worth had a symphony orchestra for 17 years prior to World War II, Tuesday's performance will be the first by a local symphony orchestra since that time. In recent years, Fort Worth symphony enthusiasts have depended upon performances by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

"We feel the formation of a symphony orchestra is a step in the right direction for Fort Worth culturally, and will give many fine local professional musicians an opportunity to perform," Dean Hull said.

He added that "the symphony should be a drawing card to future student-musicians at TCU."

TCU undergraduates appearing in the orchestra are: Leta Nell Thomason, piccolo; James Mahoney, clarinet; Linda Harwell, bassoon; Fred Petty, french horn and Harold Dean, percussion.

The graduate student member, is flutist Ann Williams. Faculty members are: Ralph Guenther, flute; David Graham, clarinet; Anita Brunson, bassoon; John Woldt, french horn; Ronald Henderson, trumpet; Morris Repass, trombone; Kathryn Rapp, harp; Kenneth Schanewerk, first violin; Harriet Woldt, cello, and Lawrence Hanley, bass.

The program will include selections from Wagner, Mendelssohn, Tchaikovsky, Griffes and Dvorak.

Tickets are on sale in the office of the Fine Arts Building and the Hotel Texas lobby. Single admissions range from $1 to $3, and season tickets are $8, $5.40 and $2.70.

6 Donors Sought To Replace Blood

Six donors are needed to replace blood given to Prof. Emeritus Samuel P. Zeigler, St. Joseph's Hospital officials said yesterday.

Mr. Zeigler was struck by a car near the campus three weeks ago.

Prospective donors should contact Miss Frances Wallace at St. Joseph's.

Reward Offered For Lost Stole

A $500 mink stole was lost on campus last Friday night by Miss Hazel Hunnicutt, assistant to the dean of women at Texas Wesleyan College. She was attending the Sigma Delta Chi journalism intern banquet in the Ballroom.

The stole was not missed until Miss Hunnicutt arrived home after the dinner. It was a brown shoulder type with a button fastening. A reward is offered for its return.

Dr. Nunn Attends 60th Anniversary

Dr. W. C. Nunn, Amon G. Carter professor of American History, attended the 60th wedding anniversary of his parents, Judge and Mrs. W. H. Nunn, Sunday in Georgetown.

The celebration was held in the Methodist church. Among the 150 guests were three persons who attended the wedding 60 years ago.

Judge Nunn, a former district judge of Travis and Williamson counties, is city attorney at Georgetown.

Judge Nunn is author of "The Homestead in Texas," a well-known law book.

Lawrence at Meeting

Ernest Lawrence, assistant professor of voice, is attending a meeting of the National Association for Retarded Children in St. Louis this weekend.

Halloween Gatherings On Tap Next Week

Clubs will take on a festive air next week as Halloween approaches.

Members of the Methodist Student Movement will meet at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow in front of the Student Center for a Halloween picnic in Forest Park.

Witches brew and Halloween candy corn will be served to the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room 216, Student Center.

Guests at the party will include Miss Nita Gothard, office manager of Welex Jet Services, Inc., research center.

"Trick-or-treat"? Well, not for the Disciples Student Fellowship members. Members will be asking for donations Thursday for CROP, Christian Rural Overseas Program.

The city will be divided in zones with all churches participating. DSF also will participate in the citywide observance of Reformation at 8 p.m. Sunday, Will-Rogers Memorial Auditorium.

Select Series Debate Covers Global Crisis

"The United States will never catch the Soviet Union in the race for scientific achievements," asserted Colin Jackson, British TV commentator.

Before an audience of about 900 people, the Miniature Security Council, four pensive gentlemen each representing one part of the world, discussed current issues at the opening of the Select Series in Ed Landreth Auditorium Wednesday.

The Council was composed of the Hon. Camille Chautemps, four times premier of France, Hon. Ben C. Limb, Korean ambassador to the UN, Jackson, outstanding BBC commentator and John C. Metcalfe, editor of the U. S. magazine Background.

Three main topics headed the agenda for the debate:

- 1) extent Russia is ahead of the U. S. in scientific developments,
- 2) exchange of military information between countries and,
- 3) threat of war in the Middle East.

The debate session closed after these three points had been discussed, and audience participation was invited.

The French delegate summed up controversies with this statement: "the situation of the world is not good. We disagree on many points, but we are all inspired by the same ideas: peace, democracy and freedom."

The next Select Series event will be Dec. 3, when Bennett Cerf, popular TV panelist, author, and publisher will appear.

Little Theatre Season to Open Tonight With 'Desperate Hours'

First performance of "The Desperate Hours," Little Theatre season opener, will begin at 8 p.m. today.

Edmond DeLatté and Doug Gray will be featured in the male leads, and Dorothy Kemper will play the lead female role.

Other cast members include Bobby Patton, Dennis Bruton, Frank Griffin and Mike Cukas.

The three-act play, directed by Henry Hammick, speech instructor, is a story of a family held captive 60 hours in its home by four escaped convicts.

stolen articles are on campus or are available," Dr. Smith said.

"Disciplinary action will be taken in all cases where we have proof. Indications are that there will be several such cases."

He added that anyone having possession of Aggie apparel should turn in the items to dormitory monitors, who in turn will give them to proper officials.

Depee expressed the opinion that a front-page picture in the Fort Worth Star Telegram showing the Vigilantes, armed with clubs, guarding the Stadium against possible pre-game paint marauders was a contributing factor to the post-game fight.

He stated that an unscheduled midnight pep rally last Friday, as Aggies were escorting TCU dates to their dorms, might be another cause of the skirmish. Some damage was done to cars at the time.

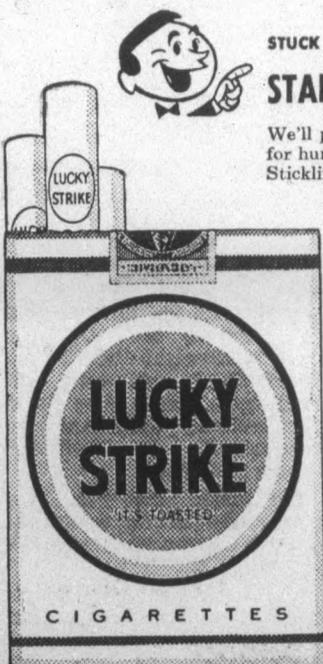

"It's getting pretty bad when TCU girls can't date whom they please," Depee said.

Bob Roch, Congress vice president, said he had heard a report that varsity football players had promised to let freshman players quit wearing their beanies if they acquired a pair of Aggie boots.

"If sportsmanship had been stressed since the beginning of school, this whole incident might not have happened," Depee said.

David Freeman summed up his own feelings of the action saying, "We can share in the blame, but we can't accept all of it, except in the fact that we were host school. From what I've heard, we weren't all to blame."

Dr. Huber Devoted Energies In Teaching, Helping Others

By GENE RANDALL

Befitting a person who has devoted her life to teaching and helping others, Dr. Irene Huber, professor of German, died Saturday in her academic gown.

DR. IRENE HUBER

At 9 a.m. she left her house in her cap and gown. She was radiant and bubbling with happiness and excitement. In her hand she carried a small box, present for one of her friends. This was typical of Dr. Huber, for she was always giving her friends some little gift. But this gift was never delivered.

Dr. Huber stopped by the printing and mailing room at 9:15. A moment later she fell to the floor with a cerebral hemorrhage and never regained consciousness. She was unable to tell who the present was for.

Living away from her family, she adopted TCU as her "family." She stayed by herself in a lonely apartment and could have died there. Instead she died with her family, near all of her friends.

Recognized by her colleagues as one of the finest German teachers in the country, Dr. Huber had her own methods of teaching.

She took it as a personal affront if any student in her class didn't participate. Everyone sang, too. It was all part of the course. Most of her students complained about the homework. But they learned German and were grateful later for having learned it so well.

Born in St. Gall, Switzerland in 1904, Dr. Huber received her first degree, the Abitur, there. She came to the United States and got her A.B. at Barnard College.

At Bryn Mawr College she received her master's and got her doctorate at Stanford University in California. She taught at Sweet Briar, a woman's college in Virginia, before coming to TCU.

One of the last things Dr. Huber did was to write a recommendation for Bill Duane Moore, a senior, for a Fulbright scholarship.

She was teaching five classes and instructing three students in a seminar, totaling 185 students—a remarkable load for any language teacher.

Teaching Requests Deluge Directors

An unexpected record deluge of student teacher applications for the spring semester are confronting Miss Alliene Harder and Mrs. Eva Wall Singleton, directors of student teaching.

Deadline for practice teaching is December 15. At least 50 requests have been received for secondary school teaching positions.

Some of the chosen teaching fields are physical education, English, home economics, science, Spanish, business education, music, history, art, mathematics and speech.

To be eligible for student teaching, applicants must be seniors or above.

Among spring semester applicants are campus favorite Ann Glassecock, and football players John Groom and Jerry Salley. Other TCU students expressing the desire to teach are cheerleader Barbara Sullivan, pianist John Carson, exchange student David Davila, honor student Joe Littlejohn, Little Theater participant Bettigene Wiley and artist Lena Newsom.

Editorial Comment

The recent TCU-A&M fracas dumped a very hot potato into Student Congress' collective laps.

And, it is refreshing to say, Student Congress picked up that hot potato and disposed of it in a very workmanlike manner.

Apologies To Aggies

Without a quibble, a quarrel or a quiver, Congress voted unanimously to make restitution for the damage to Aggie personal possessions and formed a committee to select delegates to visit A&M and make an oral apology for the deplorable incidents here Friday and Saturday.

Under the able leadership of George Depee, Congress got right down to the problem in its meeting Tuesday and met every recommendation with absolute cooperation.

This shows that Congress has developed at last both governmentally and intellectually.

This development also shows that the TCU student body has got over the misdirected "hero worship" following the regrettable action last weekend.

This aura of heroics slowly is fading as the students begin to realize the enormity of the imbroglio.

In all probability, this attitude will continue to grow as the high schoolish hysteria dissipates.

Perhaps the recent ruckus will bring a few improvements to the student body . . . namely, a unified, active Congress with a single mission: the betterment of TCU students, and a more organized, better handled system of "school spirit."

Let's hope so.

Hello Again

Try dialing an outside telephone number late next week and chances are good that you'll get your connection right off the bat instead of waiting possibly 20 or 30 minutes.

At last extra lines are being installed and should be in use by the end of next week.

The situation had grown so acute that one businessman tried for 30 minutes to call into the campus, finally dispaired and came out in his car. Many situations like this developed, especially during the afternoon hours.

Certainly no one is to blame for the delay. The Administration realized at the beginning of the semester the situation needed adjusting. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company had to make a study, and engineers had to decide how and where to put more lines into the campus.

This, of course, took time. As an example, a tabulation was made of every phone call on, to and off the campus, for every minute of two days.

Now we will have a phone system that, as Business Manager L. C. White said, "should give us an adequate setup."

Letter to a Witch

Dear Miss Witch:

It is our understanding that your annual Pan-Broom flight is to arrive Thursday with a cargo of goblins, monsters, ghouls and spirits of different shapes and sizes.

We think it is only fair to warn you that this old-fashioned form of terror will be ignored on the TCU campus.

In regard to that old bit with the clanking chains, forget it. We've got noises 10 times worse than that. If you don't believe us, just stick your head into a dorm during a hi-fi session. Even you will be shaking.

And tell your ghosts to put their white sheets in mothballs. Any spirit caught without an Ivy League charcoal grey sheet with a belt in the back will be sent home with a note.

Furthermore, any vampire attempting to create a mystic fog effect without using a king-sized filter will be taken to the Student Center by the Vigilantes and put on a strict vegetable diet.

In other words, go modern, Miss Witch.

Cafeteria Numbers Work

Numbered tags are being used in the lunch lines now to keep all the "good old Joes" from letting every Tom, Dick and Harry jump into line ahead of everyone else.

Two girls giving out these tags are accomplishing the same effect it took several boys to do last year — keep persons from crowding into line, the director of cafeteria help, Paul Holdren, Charleston, W. Va., senior, said.

Holdren added the apparent success of the system is due to the cooperation of the majority of students.

In the Snack Bar numbers are being used to reduce length of the line in which a student stands to place his order. Now he is given a number and does not return until his order number is called over a loud speaker.

The number system is the product of the combined efforts of Logan Ware, Student Center director, and Holdren.

They deserve a vote of thanks.

Trophies and Terror

By FRANK PERKINS

Over in the Student Center trophy case stands a large, awesome trophy.

On its nameplate, the words: "Southwest Conference Sportsmanship Award, presented to Texas Christian University" are engraved.

* * *

We permanently retired that trophy two years ago, and it is ours.

The question now is will we win another soon?

Nobody gives anybody trophies for vandalism, theft and brutality.

* * *

But, the matter of the winning or losing of a trophy is unimportant in respect to the overall picture.

* * *

What is important is the fact that evidently TCU students need to have the term "host school", and "sportsmanship" re-defined.

* * *

Perhaps the administration, student leaders and the Skiff have been delinquent in educating the students as to just what is expected from a host school.

I know for a fact that we considered everyone on campus sufficiently educated as to sportsmanship.

We thought that all students here knew what good and bad sportsmanship entailed.

Evidently, we were wrong.

* * *

Sportsmanship and school spirit are closely related . . . but a paradox does exist in that you can have one and not the other.

School spirit can be defined as esprit de corps, or . . . "the feeling that draws a unit together, that makes it function as a single individual."

It has a singleness of purpose, a mass desire to win.

* * *

But, like all emotions of this type, it can easily veer off into aggressive desires to win at any cost. The unity of the mission: to defeat the other football team, can be channelled into mob violence by an overzealousness of spirit.

This defeats the purpose of spirit, and also destroys sportsmanship.

* * *

Sportsmanship, on the other hand, is an expression of some degree of maturity.

It is easy to win, and it is difficult to lose, but mature people do both gracefully.

Mature people abhor mob violence, because it represents unthinking animalistic actions.

Nobody likes to be reminded of his close kinship with cattle.

* * *

The matter of sportsmanship is not a sometime thing . . . it must happen, or exist or be observed on each and every occasion two or more groups of students meet together.

* * *

If in the future, violence, brutality, and theft mar relations between TCU and other universities, this feeling could become universal.

* * *

We are proud of TCU and all her traditions . . . let's not include vandalism and gangsterism among them.

Editor, The Skiff,

In view of the circumstances involving TCU and Texas A&M this past weekend, we as a Christian organization on the campus deem it necessary to re-evaluate certain principles guiding campus living. Discussion within our group leads us to share some of our thinking, calling upon other students and student groups to undertake similar evaluations.

In the first place we would call for careful consideration of the nature of true school spirit. What does it embrace, constitute, and how is it expressed?

Is it not possible for TCU to take honest pride in its own achievements without belittling another institution given to the same basic aim? In what can we justly take pride? How can it be expressed?

Can this or any other educational institution given to the democratic interpretation of community living ever treat a person with less than a basic appreciation of his rights as a human? Can we ever justify the treatment of a person as a thing? Shouldn't all inter-school activities point to a deeper understanding, cooperation and mutual enrichment between the institutions involved?

Finally we would call upon those who have possessions which belong to A&M students to return the same immediately, recognizing that acquisition of another's property against his will is theft.

Disciples Student Fellowship Cabinet, University Christian Church.

Editor, The Skiff,

A good many years ago, in great grandfather's day, skirmishes were the accepted rule to decide any tiff that developed. The men participating in these affairs were, as a general rule, ignorant, uneducated and dependent on their muscled backs for a living.

Even these men had a great sense of pride. Seldom would you find them dishonoring their clan, gang or friends. This was an accepted code in their lives.

To a man in the early days, dishonor on himself, his friends and anything connected with his name was disgrace.

On hundred years later and much more educated, are we less honorable than these men?

Nine Additional Lines To Solve Phone Jam

Had trouble getting an off-campus telephone line lately? So has everybody else, but your worries should end by next Friday as nine extra lines should be in use.

The new wires, being installed now, will make a total of 25 outside lines on the campus.

Business Manager L. C. White said the extra lines "should give us a satisfactory setup."

"We knew at the beginning of the semester," he stated, "that we were far short of outside lines and we asked Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to make a survey."

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOG

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly in love with a beautiful statistics major named Harry Sigafos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit." One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?"

"Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a crow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

Newsman Urges Reader Education

Universities should teach their students how to read a newspaper. That's the opinion of Walter Cronkite, noted CBS television and radio newsman.

"Much of our public doesn't read very well," Cronkite told the Southwest Journalism Forum at SMU last Friday, attended by 16 TCU students.

"We qualify a story and many readers fail to note it," he continued. "All students should read more than one newspaper and read them critically, not accepting everything they read."

After the talk, Cronkite expressed keen interest when informed of a current trend among journalism departments and schools to offer general education-type courses to non-journalism majors in the principles of news communication.

The veteran newsman advised students anxious to enter radio and television news work to "pursue pen-and-pencil" journalism first. He suggested work on a newspaper, then perhaps a press service, before entering the radio-TV news field.

"You can get the fundamentals better that way," he related. "On a newspaper you get closer supervision and also an opportunity to learn to organize complicated stories. You are not merely writing leads."

Dr. Otto Nielsen Attends Retreat

Dr. Otto Nielsen, dean of the School of Education, is serving as director of the second annual weekend retreat for public school administrators and teachers of the El Paso area today, tomorrow and Sunday near Carlsbad, N. M.

The retreat is sponsored by the El Paso Council of Churches in cooperation with the Texas Council of Churches. Theme is "Christian Values for Teaching in Today's World."

boots you "liberated," Joe, just like I've been buying things for you all my life. You remember in the first grade, Joe, how you threw rocks during play period and we had to sit down? I paid for that, Joe, and so did the rest of the class.

And in the fourth grade. You wrote dirty words on the wall, and you didn't flush, either. We all stayed after school to hear the lecture.

The time, too, when you brought whisky to the seventh grade dance — there weren't any more dances.

And in high school. You were a riot in study hall, Joe. Wastebaskets on fire, pennies thrown against the blackboard, paper airplanes—not letting anyone study; so I studied at night, while you were racking up in your hotrod, smearing my driving.

You ought to be proud of your America, Joe. Twelve-year-old level television programs, Little Richard's writhings, whoopee movies, juvenile delinquents idolizing you, yellow journalism, pious piddlings, childlike conformity.

So I'll buy your only college relic, Joe—Aggie boots. Vive le Superfluous Man.

42 States, 16 Nations Represented at TCU

The student body this fall represents 16 foreign countries, 172 Texas counties and all but six states in the Union, Registrar Calvin Cumbie said.

Maine, Vermont, Utah, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Nevada are the only states not represented.

Each of the four undergraduate classes is larger than last fall. Freshmen total 1,124, an increase of 3 per cent; sophomores 845, an increase of 6.9 per cent; juniors 714, an increase of 10.3 per cent and seniors 646, an increase of 16.3 per cent.

The number of out-of-state students has been increased by 176. The total is 538.

All divisions except the Evening College and the Harris College of Nursing show enrollment gains. The Evening College decreased 15.9 per cent and the nursing college dropped .5 per cent.

Most of the increase in students was recorded in the day school. Graduate School enrollment gained 30 students, Brite College eight and undergraduate classes 303.

The total enrollment this fall is 6,105 and is distributed as follows according to majors:

School or College	Men	Women	Total
AddRan College	1142	569	1711
Brite College	142	13	155
School of Business	512	184	696
School of Education	168	371	539
School of Fine Arts	141	219	360
Harris C of N	6	143	149
Graduate School	371	89	460
Evening College	1672	417	2089

Since 1947 the three leading religious denominations on campus have been Baptist, Methodist and Disciples of Christ. This year the top three remain unchanged.

Teams to Debate On 'Closed Shop'

TCU's debate team will play host to debaters from Baylor and North Texas State at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Fine Arts Building.

The teams will discuss labor unions and the legality of a "closed shop."

Members of the TCU squad are: Bobby Patton, Brooks Alexander, Francis White, Ken Connelly, Clifford Hogg, Richard Wallace, Miss Jane Cason, Miss Sandra Williams, Miss Bonnie Ritter, Miss Jean McBride, Miss Evelyn Hammond and Maurie Maryanow.

The debate team meets at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday in the Fine Arts Building. All students have been invited to participate.

Ahab's Leg Just Wood But Pays Off in Gold

GEORGE GOULD . . . victor and the spoils

By MARIAN WEST

If your roommate should tell you you won a prize on a radio contest, don't throw a book. He may be telling the truth.

It happened this week to George Gould. The Mt. Vernon, N. York advertising major, won $1,500 worth of prizes on a riddle contest sponsored by a Dallas firm.

Asked how he felt about winning the prize, George said that he thought it was one of his roommate's jokes for three days before he received official word Monday.

The answer to the riddle just came to him after he had heard the riddle a couple of times over KIXL, he said. The answer, from the book "Moby Dick," was Capt. Ahab's wooden leg.

A call to the Dallas station for rules and his telegram to the company resulted in his winning the prize.

Some of the prizes were a

BSU Sponsors Trip To Game in Waco

The Baptist Student Union will sponsor a bus for all students going to the TCU-Baylor game. Round trip tickets, for $3 will be sold at the Student Center information booth until noon Tuesday.

"We plan to leave Saturday at 7:30 a.m. in order to allow time to see the homecoming parade before the game," Horace Griffiths, chairman of special events explained.

The return trip will be made following the reception for TCU students.

Senior Interviews for Jobs Planned by 5 Next Week

Five representatives from three of the nation's largest business firms and two governmental agencies will interview seniors next week concerning job opportunities.

The schedule:

Monday—U. S. General Accounting Office, accounting majors.

Tuesday—Eighth region, U. S. Civil Service, School of Business and liberal arts majors.

Wednesday — Mid-Continent Supply Company: business and liberal arts majors.

Thursday — Shell Oil Company; accounting majors or business majors strong in accounting.

Friday — Westinghouse Electric Corp.; mathematics, physics and chemistry majors.

January, June and August graduates wishing to talk to the firm representatives must sign with the Placement Bureau, Room 212, Student Center, for an appointment.

Activities Council Gives Times For Filling Committee Vacancies

Meeting times and places have been set for Activities Council committees. Regular committee times are:

Comm.	Time	Day
Art & Decorations	5:30	Wed.
Dance	4:00	Thurs.
Entertainment	5:00	Wed.
Forums	5:00	Fri.
Hospitality	6:00	Tues.
Personnel & Evaluation	4:30	Thurs.
Publicity	5:15	Wed.
Student-Faculty
Relations	4:30	Wed.
Special Events	5:00	Thurs.

Places remain to be filled on all nine committees. Students have been invited to attend preliminary meetings. Joe Dulle, Activities Council chairman, said.

Personnel and evaluations committee members will interview prospective council members between 1 and 3 p.m. today in Room 211 of the Student Center.

Tomorrow is the last day juniors can have their pictures taken for the Horned Frog.

The senior deadline is Nov. 2. These deadlines will not be extended, Miss Linda Major, Horned Frog editor, said.

Pictures are being made at Orgain's Studio, 705 1/2 Main. The cost is $1.50 for juniors and $2.50 for seniors.

Trotter's Art Exhibited

The paintings of McKie Trotter, associate professor of art, are being shown at the Junior League Gallery in Houston.

The one-man show will continue through October.

Mr. Trotter's work has been represented for the sixth consecutive year at the State Fair of Texas.

Traffic Modifications Announced For Student Center, Quadrangle

Entrances to Stadium Drive below the quadrangle will be changed to one-way streets announced Laurence C. Smith, dean of students.

The north drive will serve as an exit, and the south drive will be for entrance only.

Regulation city one-way signs will be placed at the drives.

Also, parking changes on the street in front of the Student Center have been made.

The east side of the street will be used for the loading and unloading of delivery vehicles, and for the off-loading of students going into the dormitories, or the Student Center.

Only 10-minute parking will be allowed here.

The west side of the street will be used for visitor parking exclusively.

All changes are effective Monday.

Wog Cagers Shine In Initial Practice

"They are going to develop into a real good ball club," was the report of Wog basketball coach Johnny Swain after his team had completed a week of practice. Swain said the team's biggest asset will be its overall shooting ability.

"Our one big fault right now is rebounding, but I expect this to work out as we go along," continued Swain.

The Wog cagers will copy the varsity in the use of a new offense, the "tandem post," which operates with one man under the basket and one around the free throw lane.

Swain has high praise for Perry McMichaels, the 6-5 center from Naples.

"He has been outstanding in practice and is one of the best prospects TCU has had in many years."

In addition to players signed to scholarships before workouts began, Swain listed five men he will keep on the squad as a result of tryouts last week.

These are Harry Lister, 6-4; James Wood, 6-3; Bill Hearn, 6-2; and Doug Hill, 6-1, all of Fort Worth and Pat Knott, 6-2, of Houston.

Completing the 15 man roster are: Jerry Cobb, Dallas; Jerry Pope, Pampa; Bob Isbell, blinding 60 yard touchdown run by Moreland. The varsity scored five times as Coach Taylor used all his freshman players. Most of the varsity counters were made or set up by long pass plays.

Taylor said after the workout that the Wogs looked "fairly well" and are "improving."

Oct. 17 the Wogs overcame poor timing and unsure blocking to trounce the NTSC Eaglets 27-7.

R. E. Dodson, who gained 98 yards for the night, made the Wogs first 14 points, scoring from the nine in the opening period and from the 14 in the second quarter. He kicked both conversions.

In the third period, Rambo blocked a punt on the Eaglet 45-yard line and the Wogs drove to a score with Terrell going over from the eight. His kick was wide.

In the fourth quarter, Dawson intercepted a pass on the North Texas 39 and after two George to Ham aeriels took the Wogs to the six-yard line, Wiley rammed over in two carries. Ham converted.

The Eaglets scored in the same period. Sherman Millender ran the TCU kickoff back 60 yards and two plays later fullback Robert Hines scored from 16 yards out. G. A. Moore's conversion was good.

THE SCORE

'Old Army' Fought

By PAT BECKHAM

The views expressed here are definitely those of the writer, and no attempt has been made to "smooth over" or "fictionize" incidents of the TCU-A&M post-game fracas. Information was obtained by personal interview, and most of the facts have checked out in dozens of first-hand reports.

"Old Army, fight!" rang out and young men in khaki came from all corners of a previously peaceful TCU campus to join into a growing whirlwind of fists, sabers and Army belt buckles. The Saturday afternoon air echoed with cheers, cries and curses, while the formerly outnumbered TCU partisan ranks swelled faster than those of the "visiting" forces. "School spirit" showed in separate skirmishes when five or six brawlers would gang a single man. This "valor" was prevalent on both sides, and this could be a contributing factor to the admittance of six Aggies and a campus visitor, who fought on the TCU side, to local hospitals.

This was something new for TCU, and every student on our campus realizes that we have lowered ourselves in this undertaking. It was nothing new to the Aggies, the "whipping boys" of the conference, for such things, on a slightly smaller scale, seem to follow them wherever they go. Everyone knows of near riots in years past when the Cadets visited Baylor, the University of Texas and other schools. Many have heard the stories of "Barbecued Bevo" and other "disappearing mascots." Innumerable tales of Aggie hazings are prevalent, including a case resulting in the death of one of their own students. Few care now that A&M recently served a two-year probation for illegal recruiting.

The outstanding fact at present is: we're ashamed of our own conduct! So we "hate" Aggies? I wonder if that is true, even in the mind of the most bigoted of us? I, for one, have always been ready to fight at the first caustic remark from an Aggie. I don't really know how this unhealthy attitude creeps into the mind of a man, but I think that perhaps it can be categorized with racial hatred, competitive dislikes and the age-old flaunting of a peacetime military. (Although the latter slowly is being accepted as a necessity).

I don't believe that our loss of face is due to the fact that we fought with a "visitor." We lost our right to quarter when the dregs of our society performed several semi-barbarian acts! Incidents such as the unsubtle use of a tire tool in the face of a fellow man, the destruction of personal property, the theft of cherished belongings (such as watches) and the prime insult of a man's date are inexcusable.

Whether these acts were the rotten fruit of a student or students of Texas Christian University, I don't know. This really isn't the sort of thing a MAN brags about. As for the fight . . . I think it runs in a syntax with any war in our past. I wasn't near the fight scene, but my nebulous mind can only conceive that, had I been, I would probably have been fighting shoulder to shoulder with my buddies. I think, also, that these same people would fight, with relish, the misguided contingent that is really to blame for us owing the Aggies the apology they're-getting and several hundred dollars in damages.

him the rest of the season or to hold him out until next year. "We'll use him if we need him," was Martin's simple solution.

The gridiron rivalry between these two schools dates to Jan. 1, 1937, when TCU downed the Warriors, 16-6, in the first Cotton Bowl classic. The Frogs also took the only other mutual contest, that a 21-0 victory in 1938.

The Martinmen will board the plane at 9:30 a.m. today, and arrive in Milwaukee at 2:30 p.m., where they will go through a short workout.

If TCU is able to run up a lop-sided score against the Warriors, it should put Frog fans in a better state of mind. Feelings ebbed at an all-time low after the 0-7 loss to A&M last week.

The Frogs had complete control of the game, with the exception of a few brief minutes in the opening and closing quarters, but A&M masterfully controlled the scoreboard.

After receiving the kickoff, TCU fumbled, recovered an Aggie miscue and then fumbled again to give the Cadets possession on the TCU 15.

Three plays later, Aggie quarterback Roddy Osborne escaped from the clutches of at least half the Christian line long enough to toss the ball to Bobby Marks in the end zone for the game's only tally.

That was the ballgame but the stubborn Purples wouldn't admit it. For three quarters they blasted away, rolling up 262 yards on the ground but never quite scoring.

The Frog defense held the nationally-ranked Farmers to a scant 80 yards on the ground for the poorest total since Bear Bryant and his power-tactics took over at Aggieland.

No matter what story the statistics tell, the game still moved A&M one step closer to the Cotton Bowl and pushed the local legions farther down on the SWC stack.

Frogs Picked to Stomp Warriors Fierce Frosh Challenge Cubs

Taylor's Troops Get Rigid Test

By GALYN WILKINS

Five weeks ago, Wog Coach Fred Taylor said he wouldn't know how good his team was until it had played Baylor.

He will find out Wednesday as his freshman squad, flushed with two crushing victories over Texas A&M and NTSC, tangle with the Cubs at 7:30 p.m. in TCU Amon Carter Stadium before an expected crowd of 20,000.

The contest, sponsored by the TCU Ex-Letterman's Association, will not be televised. TCU students will be admitted by showing their activity cards at the gate.

Taylor says Baylor will bring "one of the best outfits in the conference" into the battle.

Among the Cubs' standouts are halfback Mike McClellan, an all-stater on Stamford's state championship team, fullback Joe Foster of Kilgore and ends Mike Cobb of White Oak and Jerry Moore of Bonham.

Taylor said he will use alternate units as he has in the Wogs' previous contests.

The purple unit will have Aubrey Linne and Ted Crenweldge at ends, Clarence Young and Robert Lilly at tackles, Roy Lee Rambo and Shellie Hearrean at guards, Lanny Verner at center, Larry Dawson at quarterback, Harry Moreland and Jim Dodson at halfbacks and R. E. Dodson at fullback.

The alternate red unit consists of Milton Ham and Dale Glasscock at ends, Pat Richardson and Wayne Wilcox at tackles, George Lambert and Hobart Buxton at guards, Weldon (Buddy) Lucas at center, Donald George at quarterback, Larry (Yank) Terrell and Randall Wiley at halfbacks and Cliff Justice at fullback.

The Wogs opened this week's work with another of those earth rattling scrimmages with the varsity. Highlight of the two-hour long affair was a (See WOGS, Page 7)

WHAT A TEAM!—Miss Cloe Rountree, Jacksonville freshman, tries out for a position as an extra-point specialist on the Wog eleven. Freshman fullback R. E. ### SWC Games Broadcast

For those who can't quite afford a trip to Milwaukee, The TCU-Marquette football game will be aired over radio station KCUL-1540, beginning at 1:15 p.m. tomorrow.

Other Southwest Conference battles which will be broadcast locally include: Baylor at Texas A&M, KRLD-1080, 1:45 p.m.; and Rice at Texas, WBAP-820, 7:45 p.m.

Nikkel Uses Knowledge In Football and Books

Although John Nikkel has proved himself one of the better Frog linemen, he has managed to maintain an overall scholastic average of 2.8 with a major in both geology and mathematics.

This is a bit unusual for a person spending so much time in other activities.

Aside from getting acquainted with his two-week-old son, the 220-pound end enjoys a game of pool occasionally and likes all outside sports. He also tutors in mathematics and geology, and he has been selected for the academic All-America football team for the past two years.

After Saturday's game with the Aggies, John, like many other Frogs, is satisfied that there will be no undefeated team in the Southwest Conference this year.

There is too much competition. No one team is capable of beating all the others. This is what the big end had to say the other day after TCU pushed the Aggies all over the field and lost, 7-0.

John, who played one of his better games Saturday, put a damper on an Aggie rally by "chilling" All-American candidate John Crow and causing him to commit one of his three fumbles of the day.

He played high school ball as a tackle at Dalhart, but was moved to end shortly after he came to TCU.

Last season John was recognized as one of the better offensive ends in the conference with his tremendous blocking and reliable pass receiving.

John had a knee operation last spring which caused him to start slowly this fall, but after the first few weeks he was back at top speed.

Although he may not be the "flashiest" ball player in the conference, he is one of the steadiest.

Nikkel is scheduled to graduate at the end of this semester. He is in his fifth year at TCU, since he was a holdout in football his sophomore season.

After graduation, he plans to work as a geologist for the Pan American Petroleum Company in Abilene.

Purple Favored By 3 Markers

By TONY CLARK

County Stadium in Milwaukee will be the battle scene tomorrow as TCU's Frogs open the second half of their season against Marquette at 1:30 p.m. CST.

The Christian contingent is a 22-point favorite to hand the hapless Warriors their sixteenth consecutive setback, so, if the oddsmakers can be trusted, the game should be a breather for the Frogs before they get back into the thick of the Southwest Conference fray.

The Marquette crew has lost all five of its contests by at least two touchdowns this season, the worst being a 60-6 licking at the hands of Wisconsin.

Youth and inexperience appear to be the Warriors' greatest handicaps. The squad is composed of 36 sophomores, 12 juniors, and 2 seniors.

The Indian attack is built around quarterback Ernie Safaran, 188, and fullback Frank Mestnic, 205. Bolstering the line from his pivot position is Dick Campbell, 222.

TCU Coach Abe Martin says he will likely stick with the same lineup that started against Texas A&M last week. The backfield will consist of Dick Finney at quarterback, Buddy Dike at fullback, Jim Shofner at left half and Marvin Lasater at right half.

In the line, Chico Mendoza and John Nikkel will be at ends, Ken Miller and Joe Robb will be at tackles, John Groom and Jerry Salley will be at guards and Jim Ozee will be the center.

Sophomore center Arvie Martin, who was slated to see plenty of action until he broke his leg six weeks ago, returned to drills this week, but Martin has not decided whether to use (See FROGS, Page 7)

Chism, Brunson Post Top Cards In Skiff Pick-it

Evan Brunson found out this week that even a perfect card in The Skiff football contest doesn't cinch four tickets to the Worth Theater.

Brunson and Jerry Chism each submitted perfect cards last week, but Chism's 25-point guess was the margin by which he won. Brunson guessed 28 points, and the point total of the TCU-A&M game was only seven.

Only one miss was recorded for 37 different entrants. This was by far the best week for the TCU prognosticators since this season's contests began. Only one of 93, who entered, missed more than three.

This week's contest, open to all TCU students, is on Page 7.

TCU-SMU Rematch In Cross-Country

"We'll look a lot better today against the same competition that beat us last week," Coach J. Eddie Weems stated before his cross-country team departed for Waco.

The Horned Frog runners got off to a slow start last Friday at SMU, and the Mustang harriers got their five runners over the finish line first barely edging TCU, while both teams left Baylor far behind. North Texas was entered, but the Eagles weren't eligible for honors because flu had kayoed most of the team.

"We got behind that first half-mile, and the boys were surprised. They say it will be a different story today," Weems said.

The Mustangs were paced by Jim Parr and Bruce Brown last week, while Baylor's lone star was Joe Garcia.

Robert Flores finished fourth for TCU. Behind him, in order, for the Frogs were Ted Williams, Jerry Hutson, Joe Douglas, James Livergood and Max Stewart, who was out of the money.

"SMU was really enthusiastic about the meet," Weems said. "Their athletic director, Matty Bell, even came out to See Cross-Country, Page 7
