Congress Group Studies Pay Hike

Is 60-to-75 cents an hour adequate wage for college students working part-time? $356.55.

A committee of Student Congress will attempt to answer this question, and others, when it investigates the possibility of having the salary of student employes raised.

STUDENTS beginning part-time work on campus receive 60 cents an hour. After a year of employment the salary is raised to 75 cents.

Members of the committee are Misses Sandra Hartman and Marihelen Miller, and Howard Grant, John Cantrell, John Moore, Bill Austin and George Depee.

Moore said he felt students should be paid according to the value of work performed, and that a set rate tends to destroy student initiative.

Business Manager L. C. White said it would be best to direct any recommendation for raising student wages to him, for forwarding to the Administration.

Any changes in current practice would have to be submitted to the Board of Trustees.

AS OF NOV. 7, there were 307 student employes. Mr. White said that during the year approximately 440 students would be employed by the University, but no more than 307 would be working at the same time.

For this fiscal year (Sept. 1, 1957, to Aug. 31, 1958) the student payroll is estimated to reach $156,880.

Considering 440 student employes, the average annual

The Skiff has an opening for a circulation manager which pays $1 per week for approximately an hour of work.

The job requires a person to place The Skiff in the following buildings once a week: Student Center, Fine Arts, Administration, Education, Science, Library, Undergraduate Religion, Brite College, and Dan D. Rogers Hall.

wage for each one would be $356.55.

The last salary increase for student employes was in 1951, when the minimum hourly wage was raised from 50 to 60 cents.

3 Convocations Set for RE Week

Three campus-wide convocations featuring addresses by Dr. George Earle Owen, Indianapolis, will highlight Religious Emphasis Week starting Monday.

The convocations will be in Ed Landreth Auditorium at 9 a.m., Monday, at 11 a.m. Tuesday, and at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

CLASSES will be dismissed on Monday and Wednesday.

Emphasizing the theme, "The Christian in a Revolutionary World," Dr. Owen will speak on "Reconciliation in a Revolutionary World," "World Peace for a World Community" and "Brotherhood in a World of Racial Tension."

DR. OWEN also will deliver a sermon at 9 p.m. Tuesday in Robert Carr Chapel. His topic is "The Kind of Faith I Want."

Program for the week includes a reception for the speakers Sunday in the Student Center, special services in community churches, dormitory devotional groups in Foster and Waits at 10:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, discussions at club meetings, dormitory discussions in Jarvis, Colby, Waits, Foster and Milton Daniel at 10 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and classroom discussions on subjects pertinent to the general theme.

There will be a meeting of the faculty in the Faculty Lounge at 3 p.m. Monday. "A Consideration of Religious Values in College Teaching" will be the topic.

DR. PAUL WASSENICH will moderate a panel consisting of Dr. Donald Cowan, Dr. Comer Clay, Dr. Bita Mae Hall and Dr. Owen.

In recognition of RE Week, Student Congress Tuesday adopted the following resolution:

"Being of the opinion that the role of the Christian in the revolutionary world is of genuine significance to our University, (See RE WEEK On Page 2)

Hospital, Accident Proposal Studied by Congress Group

A study of the feasibility of providing hospitalization and accident policies is being undertaken by Student Congress.

A committee, composed of Misses Anne Glasscock, Sandra Terry, George Depee, Bob Roch and Bill Perry was appointed by Congress Tuesday night to investigate the possibilities of obtaining insurance policies for students.

Roch, Student Association vice president, requested that a committee be appointed to investigate the benefits students would receive from a hospitalization plan at TCU.

Some universities, such as Harvard, have hospitalization policies for students that cover the expense of confinement to either hospitals or the school's infirmary. The cost of the policy at Harvard is approximately $56 per student a year.

Dean of Students Laurence

C. Smith said the cost for TCU students would depend upon what is written up in the policy.

A blanket policy covering the student body could be drawn up for either the school year or for 12 months.

Roch told Congress that TCU had been approached by representatives of the Midwestern Brokerage Company who advanced the idea of establishing a hospitalization plan here.

The firm would underwrite the policy with various insurance companies to cover all hospitalization and accident needs required by the University.

The committee will work with Dr. Smith in investigating the possibilities of starting such a hospitalization plan on campus, and if deemed feasible,

16 Delegates Named to TISA

Sixteen delegates will represent TCU at the annual Texas Intercollegiate Student Association convention here Feb. 27 to March 1.

TCU representatives will be Misses Catherine Davis, Marihelen Miller, Suzy Sawyer, Sandra Terry, Julie Tipton and Sandra Hartman, and Tony Hale, Max Rightmer, Bob Roch, John Kollman, Bill Steele, Joe Dulle, Jerry Johnson, Horace Griffith, Bill Flourney and John Tyson.

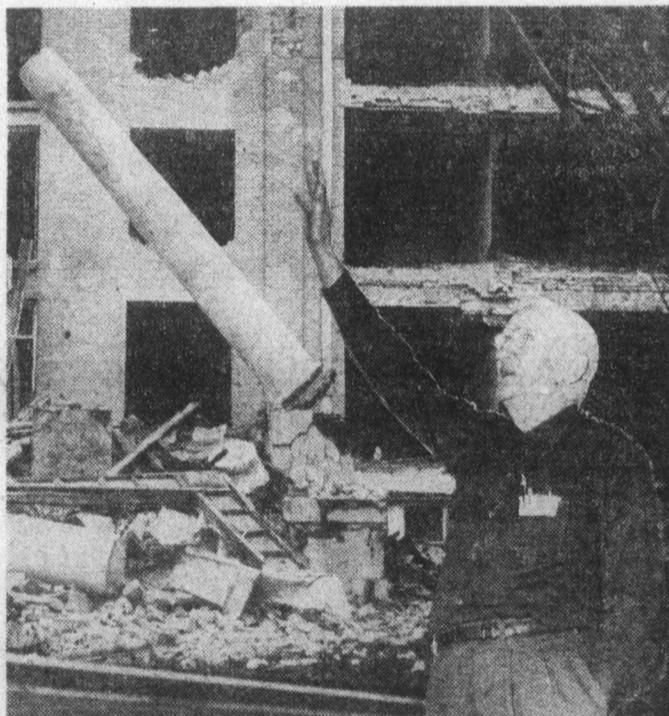

Governor Price Daniel will deliver the keynote address Feb. 27.

All discussion groups and Daniel's address will be open to the student body.

Banquets for delegates only will be conducted in the Ballroom Feb. 28 and March 1, and a dance is planned for March 1. 38 years.

OLD FRIENDS PART — A campus veteran, L. L. Dees, chief engineer, seems to be waving goodbye as Goode Hall pillars come tumbling down. Mr. Dees, retired superintendent of buildings and grounds, remembers the old dormitory well, since he has served TCU for the past 38 years.

versity, we, the Student Association Congress, do urge the entire campus community to a full participation in the several activities and emphases of Religious Emphasis Week Feb. 16-19."

The observance is under the general direction of the Rev. James A. Farrar, director of religious activities.

The student steering committee includes John Moore, Gladewater, chairman; Bill Wyrick and Bill Moore, both of Amarillo; Miss JoAnne Kirkpatrick, Dallas, and Miss Angela Boone, Weatherford.

GUEST SPEAKERS for RE Week will include representatives from various denominational groups in Fort Worth.

They are the Rev. Ralph Stone, director of student and youth work, University Christian Church; the Rev. John Messinger, chaplain of the Canterbury Association and assistant to the Rector, Trinity Episcopal Church.

THE REV. DONALD FAGAN, director of the Methodist Student Movement and the TCU Wesley Foundation; the Rev. Edwin Joseph Ryan, assistant at St. Patrick's Cathedral; Dr. John Newport, professor of philosophy at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and Rabbi Abraham J. Brachman, historian and past president of the Association of Texas Rabbis.

Congress Approves Chest, Howdy Leaders

Miss Catherine Davis, Borger junior, will head the Campus Chest drive this spring.

Horace Griffith, Hico junior, is the new Howdy Week chairman.

Student Association President George Depee announced the appointments Tuesday and Student Congress approved.

MISS DAVIS will arrange the date of the drive and supervise the raising of money for charity organizations.

In past years, the drive has been highlighted by an auction sale, Ugliest Man on Campus contest, purple feather drive and variety show.

The Ranch Week jail was stolen last year, and the door was sold in the auction sale. The Chamber of Commerce threatened to obtain a court judgment unless it was reimbursed for the door to the caboose. Nothing was done, however.

Money raised during the drive last year was distributed as follows:

TCU SPEECH therapy clinic, 15 per cent; foreign student scholarship, 10 per cent; World University Service, 40 per cent; Lena Pope Home, 15 per cent, and Jarvis Christian College, 20 per cent.

Last year's drive netted $1,502.89.

Griffith will begin work soon in establishing committees and arranging entertainment for next fall's Howdy Week, billed as "America's greatest collegiate welcome" for incoming freshmen.

Lyles to Present Cholera Results

Dr. Sanders T. Lyles, assistant professor of biology, is scheduled to present a resume of his work on the Vibrio cholera in Chicago this spring.

This occasion is the annual meeting of the Society of American Bacteriologists April 28 through May 1.

The Texas branch of the society will meet on the TCU campus March 28-29 for its yearly conclave.

Dr. Lyles has been carrying on his cholera research with the help of a $17,500 grant from the National Institute of Health, Washington, D. C. He has a specially equipped and guarded laboratory in the Science Building. Dr. Lyles is now in his second year of study on the cholera germ.

New Honor System In Its First Draft Stage

First draft of a proposed honor system for TCU will be submitted to an honor committee of Student Congress within the next two weeks.

Freshman Class President Max Rightmer is preparing the draft. The committee will study the outline for possible flaws in structure and composition.

TCU'S PROPOSED honor system would be based upon others now in operation elsewhere.

Such a system would include provisions for academic honesty, parking courtesy, general campus courtesy and respect for campus property.

IN DESCRIBING the workings of an honor system, Student Association President George Depee told Congress Nov. 13 that the student body would be primarily responsible for the success or failure of such a venture.

Under the system, an honor court of students and possibly some faculty members would be created.

Function of the court would be to consider academic dishonesty cases.

AFTER STUDYING the proposed system, and making any necessary changes, the committee will send a copy of the outline to the presidents of all campus organizations, and invite them to a meeting to discuss the proposal.

The meeting also is to be open to all students on campus.

At that time, the committee will accept criticisms and suggestions.

These will be studied by the committee and a final draft will be submitted to the student body for approval in the spring elections.

If approved in the election, acceptance by the administration would be required to put the system into effect.

Sadler to Attend Awards Meeting

President M. E. Sadler will be in Valley Forge, Pa., Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, for presentation of the annual American Freedom's Foundation awards.

The awards will recognize and reward individuals, organizations and schools which, during the current year, have done "outstanding work in bringing about better understanding of the American way of life and perpetuating the fundamentals of the republic."

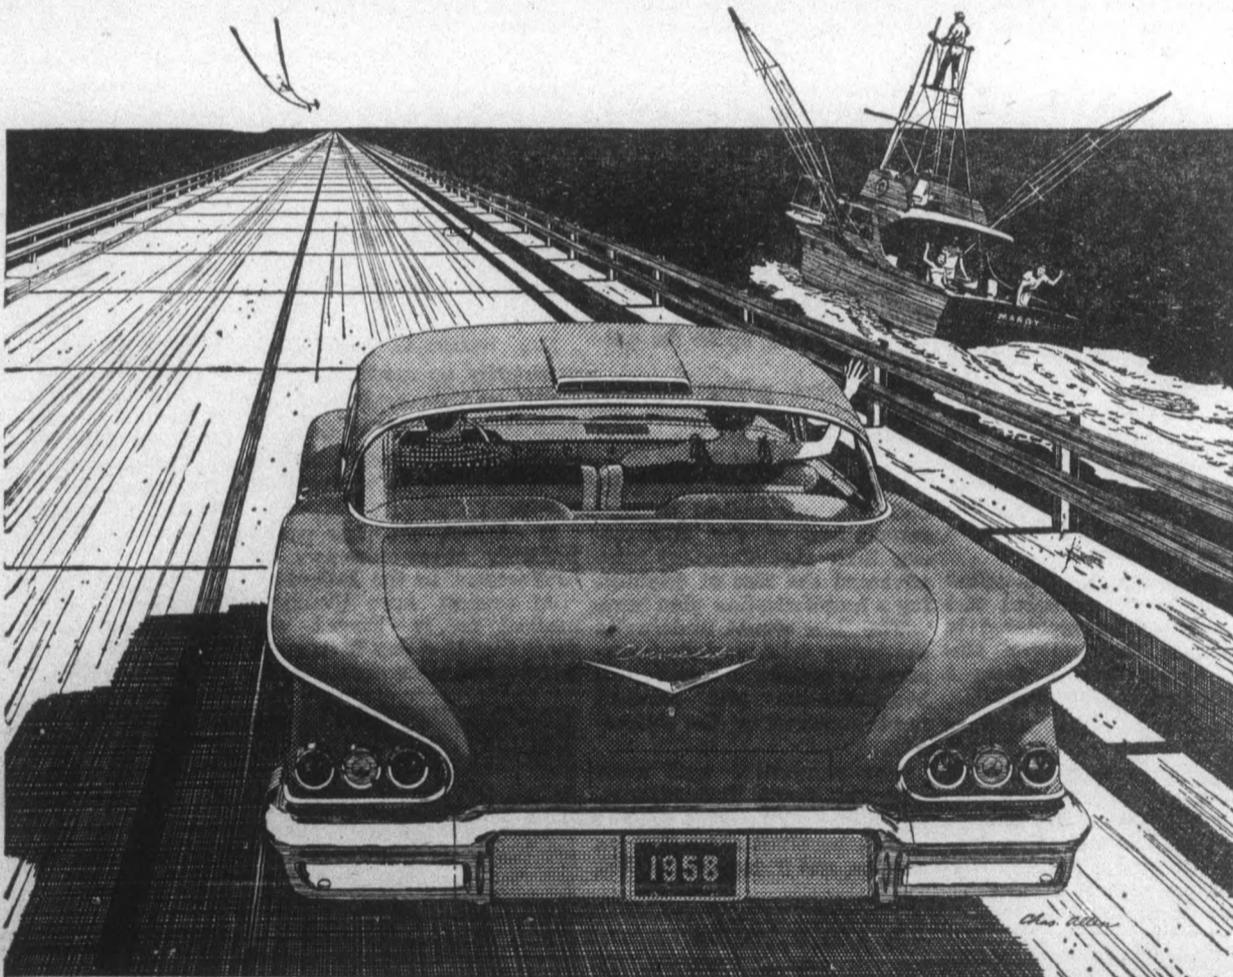

Dr. Sadler is chairman of the group which will make awards in the fields of high school editorials and public school, college campus and community programs. He is the first representative of the Southwest to serve as a group chairman.

The other group is headed by Dr. Fred Flagg, retiring president of the University of Southern California. His group will make awards in the area of industrial and business activities.

Jury members are selected from the justices of state supreme courts and national civic and patriotic organizations.

The awards presentation will be aired on a national radio-TV hookup.

Former Skiff Editor Back; Heads Ex-Student Magazine

By NELSON MARSH

Football coaches return to their alma maters — so why not former Skiff editors?

In this case a journalist has returned to the native haunts of her profession. Mrs. Ernest Barratt is the new editor of the Ex-Student Bulletin replacing Mrs. Lawrence Meador. Her official title is "editorial assistant" in the Information Services office.

HER JOB as assistant to Amos Melton, includes preparing news releases and pamphlets, in addition to her ex-student work.

Mrs. Barratt, the former Bobbye Rheinlander, is the wife of Dr. Barratt, professor of psychology. She was editor of The Skiff in 1945-46, when she met her future husband at a poetry club meeting.

"I WAS an officer of the club and had to go," she explained. "Ernie had a broken arm and didn't have anything else to do."

Dr. Barratt had received his bachelor of arts degree in 1944, and was working on his master's at the time of the introduction.

"That was a hectic year for The Skiff," she said. "We didn't have much paper or ink to work with during that war year. We usually had only four pages per issue with eight a rare exception."

THE SKIFF offices were in the basement of Goode Hall. Things "weren't too bad" there, she explained, except when the rare specimens who lived in the men's dormitory turned the water on and let it flow down to the basement.

Four Interviews Planned for Week

Graduating seniors will be interviewed by representatives of four concerns next week.

The Pan American Petroleum Corp. will interview geology, physics and math majors Monday, and accounting majors will be interviewed Tuesday by Arthur Anderson Co.

Thursday the Philco Corp. agent will meet math, physics and chemistry majors and the Bauer & Black Co. representative will interview business majors.

Nunns To Entertain

Dr. W. C. Nunn, Amon G. Carter professor of American history, and Mrs. Nunn will entertain a group of TCU students with a Mexican dinner at 6:30 p.m. today in their home at 2713 Forest Park Blvd.

Attending will be approximately 12 of the students who, under the direction of Dr. Nunn, attended summer school in 1957 at Monterrey Tec in Monterrey.

After her graduation in 1946, Mrs. Barratt worked for the late J. Willard Ridings, chairman of the journalism department. She went with Dr. Barratt to the University of Texas, where he worked on his doctorate and she on her master's degree. He received his Ph.D. in psychology in 1949.

THE COUPLE spent the last six years in Delaware. Dr. Barratt taught at the University of Delaware as assistant professor while his wife worked for the Mercantile Press for four of the six years as layout artist.

The Barratts have a third "member of the family," a dog.

"As a matter of fact, he is the most pedigreed member of our family," Mrs. Barratt remarked.

THE BARRATTS call the dog "Herkie" although that is not his registered name.

"When we were in Delaware, we called him Tex," she related. "However, we decided to change his name since we felt Texas was too gregarious."

Herkie's sire was an international champion. The breed is a "Dandie Dimmont terrier." The Barratts are proud of him, since "Herkie" is only one of two of his breed in Texas.

ONE OF Mrs. Barratt's hobbies is cooking.

"When we were married I couldn't cook, iron, keep house or anything," she admitted. "It embarrassed me since Ernie could do all of these things well."

The couple have a joint hobby which may well expand into a profitable business.

"We do silver jewelry and copper enameling," she explained.

SO FAR, most of the articles they have made have been given away to friends. Their tentative plans are to open a shop sometime this year. The Barratts intend to make a silver service for themselves this spring.

"If this comes out all right we might go into business," she said.

For the time being, though, the ex-Skiff editor has returned to her first love — journalism. She is preparing the February issue of the Ex-Students Bulletin — once again an editor.

Book on Church, Fine Arts To Be Published by DeGroot

Dr. A. T. DeGroot, distinguished professor of church history in Brite College of the Bible, is one of four associate editors of the book, "The Church and the Fine Arts," scheduled for publication by Harper and Brothers in 1960.

This is the fourth in a series of books in the area, edited by Cynthia Pearl Maus.

The volume will treat the use of the fine arts by churches throughout the world. Dr. DeGroot's particular area will be North America.

Material in the North American section has been divided into four general sections: photographs of buildings, windows, organs, furnishings, hymns, and poems, all representative of North American cultures.

Dr. DeGroot also is chairman of the faculty research committee. This group administers funds set aside by the University for faculty research. Twelve grants have been given this year.

GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL

The bilingual summer school, administered by members of the faculty of Stanford University, will offer, in Guadalajara, Mexico, June 30 to August 9, courses in art, folklore, geography, history, Spanish, and Hispanic-American literature. $225 covers tuition, board, and room for six weeks. For more information, please write to Professor Juan B. Rael, Box K, Stanford University, California.

Sloan is a junior math major from Fort Worth.

Congress Adds New Members

Bennett Jensen, Miss Janet Barnes and Paul Youngdale will assume duties as Student Congress representatives Tuesday when the governing body meets.

Congress appointed Jensen as freshman representative, Miss Barnes as senior class representative and Youngdale as the School of Business representative.

They will fill the vacancies created when Jerry Collins and Misses Luann Dyche and Diane Rankin resigned at mid-year.

Education Building Modification Next in $20 Million Development

Another major building will be completely remodeled and modernized this spring, President M. E. Sadler announced.

Brite Hall, constructed in 1914 and now housing the School of Education, will be rebuilt at a cost of $150,000 to $175,000. The three-storied structure will be renamed, Dr. Sadler said.

"The work is being made possible through the generosity of some TCU friends in West Texas," he pointed out.

WORK IS DUE to start immediately and may be completed by June 1. Present plans call for complete air-conditioning, new roof in the traditional red of the campus, aluminum windows, new floors, new entrances and new electrical and plumbing equipment.

Preston Geren is the architect and the Thomas Byrne Construction Co. will do the work.

The School of Education will be housed in temporary quarters during construction, Dean Otto Nielsen said. It then will occupy the rebuilt structure.

Brite Hall housed the Brite College of the Bible from 1914 until 1954, when it moved into the south wing of the new Religion Center. The late L. C. Brite of Marfa and Mrs. Brite, still a TCU trustee, were leading figures in the founding of the college and construction of the building.

The journalism department was housed in the basement in the 1930's.

THE BRITE HALL work will be the fourth major construction job on the campus this spring.

Major Named To AF Staff

Capt. James Head, assistant professor of air science, is finishing his last semester of duty at TCU.

Next fall, Maj. Malcolm A. Phillips Jr., B.A. '7, will replace Capt. Head.

Maj. Phillips is serving with the Far East command in Japan. He will arrive on campus in August. Col. Ardeen Sanders, professor of air science, said.

Capt. Head's orders have not yet been received.

New Photo Head Listed

Dr. Max R. Haddick, assistant professor of journalism, announced today that Bobby Bullock, Amarillo junior, is the new head photographer for the department.

Four Freshmen, Dr. Polgar Will Appear in March, April

Two of the nation's top entertainment shows—Hypnotist Franz Polgar and the Four Freshmen singing group—are scheduled for appearances at TCU this spring.

Student Congress Tuesday approved the booking of the Four Freshmen for Saturday, March 29, and agreed to abate might suffer in the venture.

The Dallas agent for the quartet assured Activities Council Director Joe Dulle that the Freshmen will not be booked anywhere else in the Fort Worth area the night of the performance, and that there will be no chance of a repetition of an episode in connection with the Ink Spots show here last year.

The Ink Spots also were booked at the Casino, and failed to appear at a scheduled dance in the Ballroom.

Dulle said it would cost $1,250 to book the Four Freshmen.

Tickets for the two-hour program will be $1.25.

Dr. Polgar will be on the stage of Ed Landreth Auditorium April 18, in his third consecutive annual appearance here.

Admission has not been established for Polgar's show.

tion job on the campus this spring. Well along in construction is the new women's dormitory, as yet unnamed, which will cost around $1,000,000 and will house 360 women. It is due to be ready for the fall semester.

Now being torn down is old Goode Hall, men's dormitory built in 1911. It will be replaced by a new hall for 242 men. Bids on the project will be opened about March 1 and it will be ready by next February.

Still underway is the expansion of the Library. At a cost of $1,200,000, the building is being tripled in size. The new section was opened for the spring semester, but work on the old part will continue until summer.

Since Dr. Sadler became president in 1941, 17 new buildings have been added, three others remodeled and enlarged and two major additions made on TCU Amon Carter Stadium.

TOTAL COST of construction and equipment exceeds $20,000,000 during the period. By years the progress has been:

- 1942—Foster Hall (for women).
- 1947—Tom Brown Hall (for men), Waits Hall (for women).
- 1949—School of Fine Arts and Ed Landreth Auditorium.
- 1951—Addition to TCU Amon Carter Stadium.
- 1952—Science Building.
- 1954—Religion Center (three-building complex).
- 1955—Brown-Lupton Student Center, Pete Wright Hall (for men), remodeling of Jarvis Hall (for women), basketball practice gymnasium.
- 1956—$1,300,000 deck and press box for the Stadium.
- 1957—Dan D. Rogers Hall, Milton Daniel Dormitory (for men), Colby Hall Dormitory (for women).
- 1958—New Library, new women's dormitory, new men's dormitory, remodeling of Brite Hall (School of Education).

Missionary, Chapel Speaker, Tells of Experiences in Japan

"Missions today are one of the most dynamic fields one could enter," the Rev. Ralph T. Palmer, Indianapolis, said Tuesday at the weekly chapel service.

MR. PALMER, who served a term as an evangelistic missionary in a rural area of Japan, told of experiences there and of qualities needed by a missionary.

"The missionary has to be physically sound," he explained. "Also, he must be intellectually alert and emotionally stable."

"MISSIONARIES must be able to find a common basis in order to tear down the barriers of different customs, and he must know the language."

In closing, Mr. Palmer challenged all college students to become full-time "servants," at home or abroad.

Mr. Palmer is executive secretary of candidate selection and training for the United Christian Missionary Society.

Ever hear of Lupercalia Day?
It was the swaggiest!

This mad session was celebrated by the ancient Romans on Feb. 15 in honor of the god Pan and was referred to by the toga-totin' daddies as the feast of Lupercalia. This may sound pretty dull so far, but wait'll you hear about the door prizes.

A Happy Lupercalia

One day several Roman officials got together and decided that serving Christians to the lions as hors' d'oeuvres was getting to be a dry form of entertainment at this annual affair. "We've got to get a new whim, something everyone named Quo Vadis.

"I've got it!" said Quo Pilot, shoving a grape in his fat face. "What's our favorite sport?"

"Girls! Girls! Girls!" cheered Quo Worker, who liked to fiddle around without the help of a stringed instrument.

"Exactly," said Quo Pilot. "We'll put the names of all the virgin daughters of Rome in a box and have them drawn therefrom by the young men. Each youth will be bound to offer a gift to the maiden and to make her his partner during the time of the feast."

Believe it or not, as Mr. Ripley used to remark, this was the pagan beginning of Valentine Day, which was not by any means very saintly.

Actually, the name of St. Valentine, a Roman bishop in the third century, is applied to the event only through a coincidence in dates.

It seems the saint was so successful in converting pagan Romans to Christianity that he was martyred by the order of a displeased emperor on Feb. 14, 270 A. D. Later as a contrast to the pagan holiday, his name was placed on the calendar and the day given the title we know it now.

Happy Lupercalia Day from The Skiff.

Something of Value

What is the Christian's position in a revolutionary world?

Religious Emphasis Week will be devoted to looking at the importance of faith in a world engaged in a struggle for peace.

The nightly devotional and discussion groups will afford an excellent opportunity for such an evaluation.

During these devotional periods and various chapel and convocation services, well-known religious leaders from several Christian denominations will guide students in their evaluations.

It is important for the student to realize that R. E. Week places the emphasis on students as well as on religion. Through the committees, students plan the week's programs and students get the most benefit from the talks and devotions.

Religion is an important part of student—and all of life—and at no better time can a student re-evaluate his faith than during Religious Emphasis Week.

A Debt for Education

Business men often borrow money for important financial transactions. To them a loan is an investment in the future, one that will, in the end, save money.

Students too can save money by borrowing it. By remaining in school long enough to receive a degree, a student can increase his earning power to the point that the loan can be paid back without much inconvenience.

The Ex-Student Loan Fund has $2,205 available, according to Miss Lillian McDonald, secretary of the loan committee.

To qualify, students must have had at least 45 semester hours at TCU. Application forms may be obtained in the office of Dr. W. J. Hammond, committee chairman. Applicants are interviewed by a committee member representing the students' colleges or departments.

The loan is not in cash, Dr. Hammond said. The amount granted the student is subtracted from his debt to the school. A senior may have $100 a semester, but a junior is limited to $100 for a year.

Payment on any loan granted does not start until 90 days after graduation, and then only 10 per cent of the total amount due is required each month.

The junior or senior with financial troubles should investigate the loan service. It's an investment in the future.

Investigation Needed

The pros and cons of an honor system have often been discussed heatedly.

At some colleges it has worked well while at other schools it has failed from the start. Student Congress is considering adoption of the system here.

As in any phase of government, Congress should determine how universities which have tried an honor system have fared.

Letters to these schools would be of great help in the final decision. The system should be investigated thoroughly before any vote is taken.

Let's not be numbered among the schools that tried and failed.

UP HERE NOW MISS BREWSTER - IT SEEMED MORE PRACTICAL TO SEAT THE CLASS ALPHABETICALLY.

Plea for A Press

By FRANK PERKINS

The students at TCU have some $5,000 to spend on "improvements" for the University.

So far, various students have offered suggestions to Student Congress on how to spend the money. These suggestions have ranged from lighting the Memorial Arch to a new piano and cinemascope lens for the Student Center and the moving picture projector.

I would like to suggest that a portion of this money be donated, in the name of the student body at TCU, to the J. Williard Ridings Memorial Press Fund drive for a printing press.

So far, the Memorial drive has netted some $4,000 for a press, and various papers, individuals and concerns have donated other equipment for the printing shop . . . but we still need a press.

NOW I know that a flat-bed printing press is a far cry from a piano, or a light on a memorial arch, or a projector lens, but it will have many many times over the value of these items to TCU.

With the addition of a printing press, The Skiff will be able to eventually go daily, and in so doing, help to make the school "live."

This daily publication will affect and influence the school in this manner . . . a weekly paper is very limited in space, and must necessarily slight some phases of school activity in order to get "hot" news . . . or news that is not a week old. Now, The Skiff must slant its news pages toward future happenings, relegating past events to a minimum of space.

By going daily, The Skiff will be able to print news almost as it happens, giving clubs, fraternities, sororities, along with others aspects of campus life a new lift.

INTEREST in clubs will be increased . . . sorority-fraternity activities will be livened, and the whole campus will become more interesting, and perhaps more important, interested.

And all this is brought about by the addition of a 13-foot-square pile of metal, rollers and ink . . . a noisy giant whose life will be seen in print in every corner of the campus.

Let me say this now . . . the funds you donate, if you donate them, will not help the journalism department . . . they will help you.

A PRINTING press is not like a piano, or a moving picture lens . . . you can't play with it, for with all of its massive bulk, a press is a fragile and delicate thing. Most of you will never see it, unless you drop over to the southeast corner of Dan D. Rogers Hall, but you will see its handiwork every day . . . and you will see its by-products in more subtler ways.

A daily newspaper and increased student interest go hand in hand.

I realize that to a layman, it is difficult to realize the importance of a printing press, for, like most other necessities it is taken for granted.

BECAUSE OF this, the importance of the press is emphasized. Think it over . . . it won't be as pretty as a light over the Memorial Arch, or as melodious as a piano in the ballroom, but it will have a voice in your activities, and it will reflect your thoughts and actions.

Personally, I can't think of a more "permanent improvement" than a printing press for the school, and a daily newspaper.

We still need about $8,000 for the press . . . but even a small donation from the students will show that you, as a student, have a deep interest in the continued growth and life of the campus.

After all, The Skiff is your paper, you make the news in it, you read it, why not have a hand in getting it printed?

BAYLOR—

Who is the lowest creature in the world?

A Baylor student gives his definition in a letter to the editor of the Lariat:

" . . . Is it he who takes candy from a helpless baby or is it your neighbor who poisons your dog or is it he who steals pencils from a blind beggar? No! No! A thousand noes!

"The lowest creature in the world is the one who stole my raincoat Monday from the lobby of Tidwell Bible Building."

We also know who was the wettest creature in the world.

A blood drive prompted this notice from the university paper:

"Baylor students will be able to give blood between 8-11 a.m. and from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. today when the Red Cross bloodmobile visits the campus.

"Collections will be made in the basement of Tidwell Bible Building. Senior nursing students will assist in aiding the students who wish to contribute.

"The Chi's, girls' service club, will handle the secretarial work."

And in case you run out of ink, girls, you know what to do.

A&M—

According to an Aggie columnist, this rather fascinating event occurred shortly before final exams:

"Parking facilities still seem to be crowded. Last week a late model Ford was found parked on the band's drill field.

"The driver was pretty shaken up over the whole matter . . . he still maintains he left it in the parking lot.

"Cramming makes the mind play tricks, eh?"

It does if the band was found in the parking lot.

Special notice seen in the Battalion's classified page: "Little Aggies! Come to Kiddie Corner Nursery. We're coed."

TEXAS—

From the Texan comes this explanation of tower:

"Tower . . . a large, erect, symbolic, whitish-grey stone assemblage, rising out of obscurity, into the inviolated clarity of scholasticism. It has the height of authority, the bearing of majesty. From its top comes clarion call of carillons."

And something else from pigeons.

Campus Store Has New Lines

The University Store now has everything from "Pelvis Elvis" to Mantovani and the Strauss waltzes. And just for variety are included articles ranging from socks and hose for the fair lady to Shakespeare. Among recent additions to the store is an accessory rack. On one side are socks, belts, hose and shorts. On the other both popular and classical records.

Another new rack contains raincoats, recently in great demand in the Fort Worth area. Selling like "warm waffles," according to Manager E. M. Moore, are the books in the Modern Library of Giants. These are works of the classic writers selling at much less than regular hard-cover editions. The regular size costs $1.65 and the large size $2.95.

Second Orchestra Program Will Be Presented Sunday

By GAIL ROGSTAD

Second free performance of the season by TCU's Symphonic Orchestra, with Misses Leta Thomason and Martha Pulliam as soloists, will be given at 3 p.m. Sunday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

Dr. Ralph Guenther, professor of theory and flute, will conduct.

Miss Thomason, Granbury senior, will be featured flutist in "Fantaisie" by Georges-Hue. Miss Pulliam, Fort Worth senior, will sing "Re dell'abisso" from "Masked Ball," an opera, by Verdi.

OTHER selections will be "Don Giovanni" by Mozart, and four movements from Dvorak's "New World" symphony.

Nine faculty members of the music department will play for the Texas Music Educators' Convention in Galveston next Friday and Saturday.

A string quartet will be composed of Dean Robert Hull, Dr. Rudolph Kruger, Kenneth Schanewerk and Mrs. Harriet Woldt. Woodwind quintet members also on the program will be Dr. Ralph Guenther, Marcel Dandois, John Woldt, Miss Anita Brunson and David Graham.

JAMES Sharp, Fort Worth senior, on Monday will present his third organ recital in two weeks, before reporting for the Army late this month. He will play at the University of Texas as an exchange performer. A Texas student will appear here in May.

The two previous concerts were held in Ed Landreth Auditorium and at First Christian Church in Lubbock.

Miss Marcia Brock, Lubbock junior, also played in the latter performance. First Christian is Miss Brock's "home church."

Drs. Walther Volbach, professor of drama and Little Theater director, and Michael Winesanker, chairman of the music department, recently were appointed to national offices.

As chairman of an American Theater Association presidential committee, Dr. Volbach will prepare a report on "Minimum Standards In Theater Arts," and will present his recommendations at a session in Chicago this December.

DR. WINSANKER, elected to the Council of American Musicology Society, will help to set the society's policy, and will attend its national meeting at Boston in December.

Another of his recent honors is publication of an article, "Comic Opera in America—Past and Present," by the Cultural Affairs Division of the U. S. Information Agency. The dissertation will appear in a series of periodicals translated into various languages and distributed throughout the world.

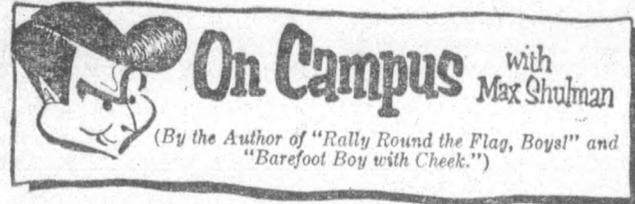

Jim Jacobsen, TCU band director and Lawrence Handley, associate professor of music, conducted a band judges' workshop on campus last weekend.

Approximately 80 music directors and contest judges considered means of standardizing and clarifying judging procedures for band contests.

TCU's four "A-team" debaters — Bobby Patton, Brooks Alexander, Francis White and Ken Connolly — left yesterday for this week's debate at Emporia State Teachers' College in Emporia, Kan.

Alexander, Dallas senior, and White, Fort Worth senior, placed second in debate at the Mid-South Tournament in Arkadelphia, Ark., last weekend. Connolly and Patton went to the quarter-final round.

THE PLEDGE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed at those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a mad success as a sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemothers. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Sigafos" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady."

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unsightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook goes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soupbone!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority to lounge around campus in your old middy blouse and gym bloomers, but now you must take great pains to dress in a manner which excites admiring comments from all who observe you. A few years ago, for example, there was a Chi Omega named Camille Ataturk at the University of Iowa who brought gobs of glory to all her sorors.

Camille hit on the ingenious notion...

Camille hit on the ingenious notion of suiting her garb to the class she was attending. For instance, to English Lit she wore a buskin and jerkin. To German she wore lederhosen and carried a stein of pilsener. To Econ she wore 120 yards of ticker tape. Her shiningest hour came one day when she dressed as a white mouse for Psych Lab. Not only her Chi Omega sisters, but the entire student body went into deep mourning when she was killed by the janitor's cat.

Finally, let us take up the most important topic of all. I refer, of course, to dating.

As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the men you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't beat about the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yeah, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukulele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboros?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know he's a lot of man. You know he has taste and discernment, wit and wisdom, character and sapience, decency and warmth, presence and poise, talent and grit, filter and flavor. You will be proud of him, your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

The makers of Marlboro wish to announce that Mr. Shulman has been paid for this column and will continue to be paid for bringing you his homely philosophy throughout the school year.

Frenchmen Will Sing

Varel and Bailly and the Chanteurs de Paris, will present the fourth event of the Select Series at 8 p.m. Thursday in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The seven "brilliant male voices" will present a novel concert program which they describe as "a history of French song through the ages." The unusual program is said to recap French musical history from the days of the medieval troubador to the contemporary "cafe chanteur."

Varel and Bailly write songs, satires and vignettes and make arrangements. They have sung in almost every country in the world. They have composed more than 100 songs, most of them hits.

The singers' 1957-58 North American tour includes visits to leading American and Canadian night-clubs and concert halls in the major cities.

The group has made many records.

Dr. Henson Injured

Dr. Elmer D. Henson, dean of Brite College of the Bible, received minor injuries in a two-car collision Tuesday morning.

He was driving west of Fort Worth on Highway 80 when a woman attempting a left turn ran into his car.

Although X-rays showed pulled ligaments and bruises in his chest, Dean Henson is continuing his work in Brite.

Grenadiers to Go To Mardi Gras

By BARRY STEPHENSON TCU Grenadiers, AF ROTC drill team, will leave Sunday for the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. The 27-man team, commanded by Cadet Maj. Glenn Pike, Odessa senior, received the coveted invitation from the director of parades for the Mardi Gras.

The team will march in the last two parades, on Monday and Tuesday.

ACCOMPANYING the Grenadiers will be three AF ROTC sponsors. They are Misses Jeanne Cunningham, Houston sophomore; Fayne Redwine, Cisco sophomore, and Carolyn Witt, Aransas Pass junior.

Seven Army ROTC juniors and seniors will visit the Fort Worth District Engineers Office today. Each cadet either has been assigned to the Corps of Engineers or will ask for this branch when the time comes for branch assignments.

The TCU Rifle Team will travel to Fort Hood near Killeen tomorrow for a Fourth Army District small bore shoulder-to-shoulder championship event.

The match features the top six teams in the Fourth Army area — Oklahoma State University, University of Arkansas, Tulane University, Texas A&I, Texas Western and TCU.

The TCU sharpshooters came in second in SWC matches last fall.

'Venus and Adonis' Opera First for Little Theater

CUPID'S BOW — is aimed at Venus (Miss Mary Alice Damman) and Adonis (Devon Hamilton), leads in the Opera Workshop production in TCU's Theater. Cupid is Miss Zana Flowers. Performances tonight and tomorrow will be at 8:15 p.m.

Presentation of "Venus and Adonis" tonight and tomorrow marks a milestone for TCU's Little Theater, as it will be the first opera presented there.

Seven members of Opera Workshop will sing lead roles, and selected members of the University Chorus, TCU Symphony and the ballet department will round out the troupe.

The performance at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow is for the general public, but tonight's presentation is for members of the TCU Fine Arts Foundation Guild Scholarship Fund only.

THE GROUP sponsors financial aid for students in all fine arts departments, and four of the opera's six principal singers hold guild grants.

They are: Misses Mary Alice Damman (Venus), Zana Flowers (Cupid) and Phyllis Ardoyno, and Mike Waco (Adonis).

Other major roles will be sung by Bob Romo and Reid Bunger.

Tickets for tomorrow's performance, on sale at the Little Theater Box Office at 7:15 p.m., will cost 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

CURTAIN time for both performances is 8:15 p.m.

"Trio Sonata" from "Musical Offering" by Bach will be the musical prelude. Kenneth Schanewerk, Dr. Ralph Guenther, Stanley Shepelwich and Miss Harriet Woldt will perform the number.

"Venus and Adonis," a Renaissance masque or "chamber opera" is by 17th century composer John Blow, an immediate predecessor of Bach.

In the "Sonata" Shepelwich will play the harpsichord. The instrument is especially adapted to Bach's works.

Dr. Rudolf Kruger, director of the workshop, will conduct the performance.

LITTLE Theater director and professor of drama, Dr. Walter Volbach, is production supervisor. David Preston, assistant professor of ballet, is choreographer.

Settings and costumes are by Henry Hammack. Melvin Dacus, assisted by Miss Martha Pulliam, is stage director.

Strong Tradition? Goode Too Tough For Wreckers

"Old Goode Hall will last forever," Paul Coulter, Riverview, Ala. senior, roared in triumphant glee, as the cable of the huge iron wrecking-ball broke Monday, plunging it into the second-floor wreckage.

Men worked to free the budgeon, as the crowd joined Coulter, yelling, "Goode has defeated the 'Iron Monster.'"

It had, too, for a little while at least. It was quitting time before repairs could be made, and razing couldn't continue until the next day. And then the walls came tumbling down.

Dr. Spain Will Speak

Dr. August O. Spain, professor of government, will speak on his recent experiences in Bolivia at a dinner in the Meadowbrook Methodist Church 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

His topic will be "Politics, Economics and the Indian." Dr. Spain visited the country last year as a lecturer.

Congress Considers Donating Part Of $5,000 for TCU Press Drive

A new suggestion has been added to the list of possible ways by which Student Congress can spend the $5,000 in the permanent improvement fund — a contribution to the J. Willard Ridings Memorial Press Drive.

Bob Roch, Student Association vice president, suggested that Student Congress appropriate part of the funds to the press campaign.

ROCH pointed out such a donation would directly benefit the student body since The Skiff would be able to expand to a daily newspaper.

Dr. Warren K. Agee, chairman of the department of journalism, expressed the same opinion.

"With a printing press, we would be able to increase publication to twice weekly, and eventually become a daily.

"This would tone up the whole student body.

"We would be able to give better coverage to Congress and to all University events."

APPROXIMATELY $8,000 has been donated or pledged in the campaign. Cost of the press is estimated at $12,000. Much composing room equipment already has been donated.

TCU's journalism department is the only one of the nine major journalism departments in Texas universities that does not have its own printing facilities.

Student Congress will be asked to begin spending the money after Representative Jerry Johnson has finished compiling the list of suggestions.

Committee to Study Student Association

With an eye to the future, an evaluation committee will study the organization of Student Congress to determine whether it is adequate to carry out present congressional functions.

The committee is composed of representatives Misses Catherine Davis and June Pence and Bill Flourney, Joe Dulle, Tony Hale, John Moore and Max Rightmer.

Student Association President George Depee said he felt an evaluation of Congress should be made.

"We all know that TCU has undergone tremendous growth in recent years, and the present Congress system may not be adequate as it was when the University was smaller," he said.

It might be more feasible, he added, to appoint standing committees to handle the majority of Congress' business. In this case, Congress would meet only on, perhaps, the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Depee also said that under the present organization, it is impossible to devote adequate time to all phases of its business.

16 'Angels' Take Oath of Office

Sixteen women were initiated Tuesday into the Samuel E. Anderson Squadron of the Arnold Air Society's "Angel Flight."

The women act as official hostesses for all AF ROTC functions.

Capt. Warren C. Albert, assistant professor of air science, gave the flight members their oath of office.

Cadet Capt. Joe Driskill discussed the meaning of the Angel Flight and the colors in the society's flag. Cadet M/Sgt.

Jim White gave a brief history of the Air Force and named men who have become famous while serving in the Air Force.

A party honored the initiates. Col. and Mrs. Ardeene Sanders and Capt. and Mrs. Albert were honored guests.

Members of the Angel Flight are:

Newman Club Visits Oklahoma Campus

Twenty-two members of the TCU Newman Club leave today by bus for the Texhoma Province Convention to be held at Oklahoma State University this weekend.

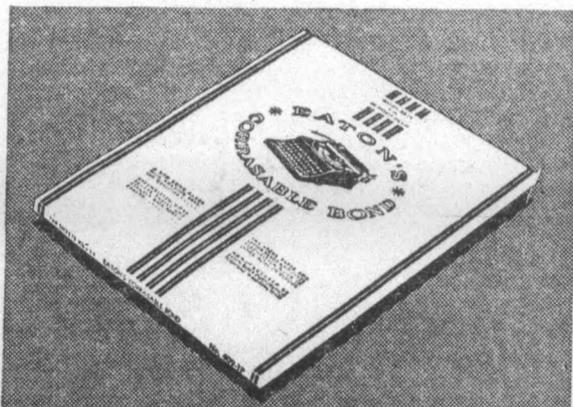

Representing the club as candidates for province offices are Miss Martha Elliott, Aransas Pass, junior and Jack Raleigh, New Jersey, junior. Miss Elliott is running for province treasurer and Raleigh will compete for the position of province chairman.

Varsity, Frosh Golf Qualifying Begins Tuesday

Varsity and freshman golfers will qualify for positions on the Purple golf teams Tuesday and Thursday.

Coach Tom Prouse will meet with his prospective players in the Gymnasium at 2 p.m. today to decide what courses will be used for the qualifying rounds; pairings for the two-day test also will be announced.

Five boys have said they will try for the frosh links team, related Prouse. They are Alfred Jensen, Lance Cooper, Maurice Robinson, Luther Neal and Carl Cooke.

The qualifying, explained Prouse, is merely to establish the original positions. Players who do not qualify may play challenge matches with team members to get a position, and team members can challenge higher members to advance their place on the team.

Howell Gives TCU Hope For Pole Vault Crown

By PAT BECKHAM

Mike Howell, Victoria sophomore, is living proof that you don't have to be tall to rise high.

The 5-8, 150-pound pole-vaulter is one of track Coach J. Eddie Weems' most outstanding field-event men in years, and is a former state champion.

"Mike is one of the best prospects we have for a gold medal in the Southwest Conference meet in May," Weems said.

HE'S PROBABLY right, too, and that's not condemning the rest of the squad to the junk heap. Weems has several performers who rank among the best in the conference.

At present, spunky, black-haired Mike isn't trying to reach his ultimate height, but is concentrating on form and balance. He's done 13 feet several times this year, though, and that's been on the TCU bar where a spongy take-off curtails performance slightly.

This will be Mike's first full season since his senior year at Victoria High School when he tied for the state championship in the event with a flip of 12-6.

LEAVING Coach Monroe Northcutt's fold in 1956, Mike entered TCU on a track scholarship and commenced to impress the kibitzers in early season workouts.

Then came a pulled muscle and it was all over for Mike for most of the season until the freshman SWC meet when he rose from his ruin to eclipse a tie for the freshman championship with another 12-6 effort.

"I don't know what the chances are for me this year," he remarked. "The conference winner did 13-6 last year, and he's graduated. There are several good vaulters back, however, and Texas Tech is supposed to have a holdout who is really good!"

MIKE AND his coach know the competition will be stern this season because track in the SWC has become more popular each season.

"I don't know how well we'll do, but I'm sure counting on old Mike," his coach said.

Ever since Mike set-up a high-jump bar in his back yard while still in junior high, he's been striving to be "a good trackman."

"I was just too slow to run the dashes, and when I didn't get much taller either, I decided to get me a pole to help get over the bar," he quipped.

And though he's not very tall, you can see him at the track, twelve feet high, any day of the week.

Frog Club Brightens TCU Sports

For the first time in history the Frog Club has more than 1,000 members. The club, made up of downtown men interested in our athletic program — whether they have attended TCU or not, aids TCU sports on a high plane. Now, Rudy Copeland, Jr., president, says there are 1,012 members. This group has received $13,291 in contributions this year, and although it's a new record, it is comparatively small when you consider the massive donations made at some of the other colleges and universities in the country. Another active officer of the Frog Club is secretary Paul Ridings, former head of the TCU journalism department. Ridings was editor of The Skiff in 1937-38.

Tomorrow afternoon's game-style scrimmage, planned for the Frog football legions, will be telecast live from TCU Amon Carter Stadium from 2:30 to 5.

Station KFJZ-TV (Channel 11) will carry the Purple-White tussle. The show also will include the introduction of each individual on the 80-man squad and a special "half-time" feature.

DEFENSIVE emphasis was strong throughout the past week of spring drills, and personnel shifts were made daily.

One big move was that of Buddy Lucas, ex-Riversider who played center as a freshman last fall, to an alternating slot at the No. 1 left guard position.

Coach Abe Martin was impressed with Lucas' showing in his new role, and said the change may be permanent.

The quarterback corps likewise has seen much juggling. The men-under have all seen action with nearly every unit, giving Martin an opportunity to pick the man who will replace Dick Finney at the Christian helm.

JUNIOR Jack Sledge is still holding down his quarterback position on the first eleven, but senior Hunter Enis has jumped from the fourth team to the second.

The offensive potential of the '58 Frogs was exhibited in Saturday's scrimmage that wound up the first week of drills. An aerial striking force—so conspicuously absent in the past campaign—could be TCU's big asset next year, judging by the passing displayed in the workout.

OF THE 10 touchdowns which unreeled before the happy Frog coaches' eyes, eight came via the air lanes.

"That means one of two things," said Martin of the brilliant affair; "We either have a pretty fair scoring punch, or our defense sure needs lots of work."

Cager 'Moved' By Performance Of Ex-Teammate

Sportswriters rushed to their phones Saturday night after SMU had walloped the Frog cagers, 84-67, in Dallas, and the Mustangs' Max Williams' name spilled from every mouth.

Williams' ball-handling and floor show had kept the crowd on its feet throughout the game.

"What did you think about him?" one scribe asked TCU's Ken King, a former teammate of Williams' at Avoca High School.

"He looked okay," King muttered.

"Yes, the Texas game was pretty rough!"

Tennis Team Will Play On Colonial Courts

The TCU tennis team has obtained permission to play its matches and to practice on the Colonial Country Club courts, Coach C. A. Burch announced Tuesday.

The team will be able to use the courts on all weekdays except holidays until 4 p.m.

"We feel very fortunate to have such a fine arrangement," commented Burch.

THE COACH also said the school now is in possession of the tennis courts which formerly belonged to Troy C. Crenshaw, chairman of the English department. These courts, which are too small for match play, are located across the street from Dan D. Rogers

Hall and will be very useful for practice.

Returning lettermen on the tennis squad are Paul Pendergrass, Harlan Baker, Jim White and Gene Cook. Other players who have announced their intention to try for the team are John Moore and Ronnie Coleman.

COACH BURCH says he is also expecting some sophomores to vie for varsity berths.

The Frog net men, who annually play one of the largest schedules among Southwest Conference teams, have already scheduled 15 matches and will probably add a few more, says Burch. Last year the Purple team engaged in 22 duels.

THE SCORE

TV Bridge, Yet

By PAT BECKHAM

If you think the game of bridge is about to replace night baseball, you could be right.

Up in Yankeeland they're even televising games, and everyone with a couple hundred master points is writing a book on another way to take advantage of the opposition.

Since we had so many enthusiastic comments concerning a bridge story in "The Score" earlier in the year, we feel duty bound to give the readers another.

Just remember the "Academic Loafing Rule" being enforced this semester, and don't get booted out of school for neglecting your regular classes.

It's true about the televising of bridge games. We saw a picture and story in the American Contract Bridge League "Bulletin" with Charles Goren and Mrs. Helen Sobel (Mr. and Mrs. Bridge—internationally) doing the honors.

All four hands showed on TV, as well as the concentrating faces of the players. "Mr. Bridge" made one wonderfully unorthodox play and he and Sobel went on to capture the championship gold.

Alvin Landy discusses odd bridge laws monthly in the "Bulletin," and his February criticism is unique indeed. It concerns the play made following a first-bid-position pre-empt.

Have you ever pre-empted a seven or eight card suit with, say, nine points, only to have the opposition end up with the bid at a game contract? If you have it's more than likely that the action of the man on your left brought about the overcall.

That's easy enough to figure out! If he had nothing he passed immediately. With an opening or near-opening hand, he studied for perhaps a minute before passing. Then, if his partner (fourth hand from you) also had a hand worth 12, 13 points or more, he bid. If not, he stayed out.

This is just one of many miscarriages of bridge justice, and it's against the law. The man on your left had no right to convey information as he did.

How do you stop him? Landy says there is only one way. When you recognize that your hand is pre-emptible, you must first warn the other players by saying, "I am about to pre-empt. YOU (pointing conspicuously at the man on your left) must hesitate before acting." Then fire out your bid.

The second step is mandatory for the man on your left. He must hesitate approximately 10 seconds whether he has either a "bust" hand or a "wildcat." Then he may bid or pass.

In a recent duplicate tournament in San Francisco, this system was used, and there wasn't a single violation. Quite an accomplishment for a 40-plus table get-together.

"Don't get confused when they start bidding these crazy conventions, sonny," a lady once told us at a tourney. "Just listen to your partner 'cause he's the only one in the game who won't steer you wrong." She's right.

There are some wicked conventions out now, but a personal opinion is that the Neopolitan Club, used by the 1957 World Champion Italian team in beating Goren & Co., is the most devastating. Not to be confused with our "short" or Vanderbilt Club, this system has all the intricacies of calculus. If you want to know more about it—drop a card to The Skiff Sports Dept.

A regular partner, W. C. (Red) Young, and I have a cutie system all cooked up for the unwary fish, but since it's become rather boring, we'll drop a few clues.

In our system there are seven opening artificial bids showing the exact number of points in the opener's hand. There are nine responses from your partner designating how many he has. Then, going rarely above the two level, we bid our distribution, and finally, knowing all the important facts, and having frustrated the opposition no end, we set a contract.

Oh, it's a little more complicated than the normal routine, but we'll be happy to show it to you. That is, providing our half-dozen dedicated professors don't heap another month's work on us this week.

TCU Tries To Brand Mustangs

THE MASTER'S APPROVAL — Coach Buster Brannon looks on benignly as his ace, Ronny Stevenson, sinks another basket in the Frogs' Wednesday night slaughter of the Texas Longhorns.

No Rest Due for Frogs After Texas Slaughter

By GALYN WILKINS

The TCU Horned Frogs, bristling with a crushing 88-58 victory over the Texas Longhorns, will attempt to wreck SMU's title hopes tomorrow night at Public Schools Gymnasium.

Doc Hayes' Mustangs will come into the 8 p.m. affair with a 5-3 conference record. They are tied with Texas Tech for third place.

The Frogs are mired in seventh place in front of cellar-dwelling Baylor. TCU meets the Bears Tuesday in Waco.

The Mustangs, who will almost have to beat TCU and win their remaining five games, for a chance at a third straight title, have beaten the Frogs once. That was an easy 84-67 victory in Dallas last Saturday.

HIGHLIGHTING the Ponies' offense is flashy Max Williams, a 5-10 guard who dazzles fans and opponents with his fancy dribbling and passes.

Rounding out SMU's lineup will be 6-3 Rick Herrscher and 6-5 Bobby James at Forwards, 6-5 Wilbur Marsh at center and 6-0 Ned Duncan at guard. The Frogs, hurt by the loss of speedy guard Bobby Tyler who sprained an ankle in the SMU game, will start Ronny Stevenson, Kenneth King, H. E. Kirchner, Kenneth Brunson and Derrill Nippert.

In Wednesday night's wild tilt, the Frogs overpowered the Longhorns with a combination of accurate shooting and fine backboard work.

A HEFTY total of 52 fouls was called during the game. Texas was penalized 31 times while the Frogs committed 21 fouls.

With Stevenson racking up 28 points and Kirchner close behind with 23, the Frogs hit an exceptional 45 per cent from the field. Texas hit a meager 25 per cent during the first half, but raised the mark to 30 per cent in the second half.

Ronny Stevenson led rebounders with 19, and the Frogs gathered a total of 64 caroms to the Longhorns' 36.

TEXAS appeared ready for a game at the outset, getting off to a 4-0 lead in the first minute on Jay Arnett's two quick goals, but the Frogs steamed back on three goals by Stevenson and after four minutes, they went ahead 9-7.

In the next nine minutes, Brunson rammed in 12 points and the Longhorns never recovered. TCU led at half time 46-25.

Baseball Practice Starts

Approximately 25 baseball candidates will open practice sessions for the 1958 season at 10 a.m. tomorrow at TCU Amon Carter Stadium.

New Coach Clyde (Rabbit) McDowell will face a rebuilding job, since two of his top players recently signed professional contracts.

CENTERFIELDER Carl Warwick, who led the club in hitting last year with a .356 mark, signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers and shortstop Jim Shofner signed with the Detroit Tigers. Another headache for McDowell is the absence of Charles Quick, the Frogs' all-SWC second baseman who graduated.

McDowell replaces L. R. (Dutch) Meyer who is devoting full time to his athletic director duties.

The new mentor was a star infielder for the Fort Worth Cats in the late 1930's and since his playing days has been a manager and scout for the Chicago Cubs organization.

THOUGH the three key players will be missed, McDowell expects nine returning lettermen to bolster the Frogs' title chances.

"Of course the lettermen will help us," McDowell related, "and we'll have a lot of help from the youngsters off the freshman squad. If our pitching develops as we think it will, it could carry us a long way."

In the pitching department, McDowell will welcome back lettermen Ken Wineburg and Rode Gonzales and squaddmen Roger Shutt. He also has high hopes for sophomores Charles Rutherford and Derrell Read.

WINEBURG had a conference mark of three victories and no losses last year and had an earned run average of 1.62.

Gonzales, a quarterback on the varsity football team, had a 2-1 conference mark last season.

Other lettermen from last year's second place team are catcher Harold Key, first baseman Hunter Enis, third baseman Joe Dale Selman, outfielders Dayle Casey, Harold Polard, Willie Maxwell and Frank Hyde.

Key, a two-year letterman from Arlington, leads the returning hitters with a .238 mark and Casey is next with a .237.

TWO OTHER lettermen were slated to return but pitcher Doug Balkum was drafted and first baseman Travis Groom did not return to school.

McDowell plans to continue the hard base-running tactics that characterized the 1957 team. Last year the Frogs set a conference record for stolen bases with 68 thefts in 21 games.

The Frogs will play a 25-game schedule with 13 conference games. They open the season March 3 against SMU in Dallas and play their first home game the next day. It, too, will be against the Mustangs.

Wineburg Should Win If His Knee Agrees

By TONY CLARK

The TCU baseball future depends partly on senior pitcher Ken Wineburg, and his future depends partly on a trick right knee.

Wineburg was a regular pitcher on last year's club, which finished second in the Southwest family race. He won three games and was never tagged with a loss in conference play. His 1.62 earned run average was the second-best in the league.

THERE IS little doubt that he will be one of the Frogs' big guns during the spring campaign—if his knee holds up. He picked up some torn ligaments in it during the 1956 football season, and it bothered him in baseball last year.

Wineburg, incidentally, was a three-year letterman on the Purple eleven. Last year he was a stellar performer at half-back.

As a freshman, Wineburg played at every position sometime during the Wog season. Every position, that is, but pitcher. He started his sophomore year as a catcher, but had a finger broken by a foul tip in batting practice the day before the first game.

HE WAS held out that year, thus accounting for his eligibility this season. He started his pitching career the next year, but didn't make his starting debut until the final game of the campaign. He won it, too.

Wineburg, who has proved invaluable to the Christian cause both in football and baseball, came to TCU without a scholarship. He was a senior at Odessa High School before he broke into the starting football lineup, and then it was after the first-string quarterback had broken his collarbone.

BUT IT didn't take TCU coaches long to realize their find; Ken earned a regular berth on the Wog eleven, and at the same time earned his scholarship.

A personnel administration major, Wineburg plans to get his degree and then go elsewhere to study hospital administration.

Freshman Cagers Attempt Rebound

The luckless freshman basketball team, 64-60 victim of the tall Texas Shorthorns Wednesday night, goes against another tough outfit tomorrow night at Public Schools Gymnasium.

The Wogs will meet the SMU Colts in a 6 p.m. contest. The SMU-TCU varsity battle will follow.

KEN WINEBURG . . . Fingers crossed
