

DESERT FLOWER

Starting off a series of unusual and exceptional photos to be exhibited in The Skiff this spring is a shot taken in the desert by a member of the photography staff of the journalism department. Prizes totaling almost $100 and recognition for the photographers are the rewards.

New Photo Contest Offers $$$, Prizes

Attention, TCU shutterbugs! Do you have an interesting photograph that you have taken? It may be a winner in The Skiff Photo Contest.

Two monthly contests plus a grand prize award are planned. The first contest is now open and will close on March 31. The second contest begins on April 1 and ends April 30.

Photographs will be judged on the basis of general interest, originality, composition, and photographic technique.

Three prizes will be awarded for each of the two monthly contests.

First prize: $10 gift certificate from Westcliff Camera Shop.

Second prize: A record album from Westcliff Record Shop.

Third prize: $5 gift certificate from Fair Westcliff.

The grand prize will be a $25

Program Increase Decided By AC

The Activities Council will increase its activities in phases of student life, to promote a better program for town, married and transfer students.

The decision was reached at an evaluation meeting Saturday in the Student Center.

Purpose of the meeting was to evaluate the progress of the council, and spot its weak points.

The Activities Council provides a program to supplement the academic work of students.

The value of the organization to its members was also discussed.

Ballet Majors Will Exhibit Talent in Three Selections

Three original ballets created by members of the TCU ballet division will be presented Friday and Saturday, Feb. 27-28, in Ed Landreth Auditorium.

The program, under the supervision of Ballet Master David Preston, will include "Romantic Reflections," "Les Chapeaux" and "Black Pavane."

Evening performances are scheduled at 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, with a special Saturday matinee at 2:15. A por-

Prof to Read on TV

Dr. Allan MacLaine, associate professor of English, will read Robert Burns' "Tam o' Shanter" Saturday at 11:30 a.m. over Channel 11.

This will be the second time for Dr. MacLaine to read the poetry of Robert Burns on television.

6 States Represented In Forensic Tourney

By JOHN MOREHART

Students of 27 colleges from 6 states are on campus for the TCU Forensic Tournament to be held today and tomorrow.

Registration began at 8 a.m. today in the Fine Arts Building and debate rounds will begin at 2 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

About 150 students are entered in the debate events of the tourney, with 30 in the extemporaneous speaking and 20 in the oratory events.

In the debate event of the tournament each two-man team will debate six rounds of preliminary debate. The winning teams will then move into quarter-final debates. The debates will continue until the first, second and third teams are picked.

There will be two divisions in the tournament, junior and senior. Students with less than 60 hours' credit will be classed as juniors, those with more will comprise the senior division.

The individual events of extemporaneous speaking and oratory speaking will be set up on the same two division system as the debate event.

Dr. James Costy, head of the radio-television department, will conduct a TV workshop tonight. Plans are being made to include a television speaking contest in next year's tournament.

Trophies will be awarded to first-place winners in the individual events in both divisions. First- and second-place trophies will be awarded in each division of debate.

Medals will be awarded to second- and third-place winners in the individual events and to all debaters who qualify for the elimination rounds of debate. TCU students will not compete for these awards.

Students are invited to attend any of the debating events. A schedule of events will be posted in the lobby of the Fine Arts Building.

Ten of the schools entered in the tournament are from Texas. They are Abilene Christian College, Hardin-Simmons University, Rice Institute, University of Texas, Baylor University, North Texas State College, Texas A&M College, Southern Methodist University, the University of Houston and Stephen F. Austin.

Eight Kansas colleges are entered. They are Southwestern College and St. John College, Bethel College, Bethany College, Hutchinson Junior College, Ottawa University, Fort Scott Junior College, and McPherson College.

Entering the tournament from Oklahoma are Oklahoma State University, Southwestern State College of Weatherford, Southwestern State College of Durant, University of Oklahoma, Bethany Nazarene College and Oklahoma City University.

Black Hills State College from South Dakota, the University of Arkansas and University of Arizona are the other colleges entered in the tournament.

Concert Tickets With Discount Offered in SC

Students who wish to purchase tickets to the concert of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra Tuesday night will have a chance to get them on campus Monday.

The Fort Worth Symphony League will sell student discount tickets in the Student Center from 10:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. They are priced at $2.40, $1.60 and $1.00.

Featured presentation of the concert will be soloist Paul Badura-Skoda, pianist. He will play Beethoven's "Concert No. 5," known as the "Emperor Concerto."

Included on the program will be "Overture to Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, "Nocturnes" by Debussy, "Romanian Folk Dance Suite" by Bartok and "Hoe Down" (Rodeo) by Copland.

The concert will be in Will Rogers Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

WHAT ELSE IN ONE MINUTE?

There is an answer to every question, and one of John L. Wortham's Economics 321 students found the answer to a question that has been puzzling him.

Recently the class was discussing why the United States produces automobiles cheaper than Japan, although labor is less expensive in the Orient.

"Production is so much faster in the U.S. Why, up in Detroit they turn out one car per minute," the professor stated matter of factly.

"So that's why they fall apart so soon," exclaimed the amazed student.

Debater Bill English, Lake Jackson freshman, holds the trophy offered to the first-place winner in the senior debate division of the TCU Forensic Tournament Competitions in debate, extemporaneous and oratory events are in progress today and tomorrow in the Little Theatre. A total of about 200 students from colleges in six states are entered.—Skiff Photo.

Performing in this ballet will be ballet majors Margaret Moar, Albuquerque, N.M.; Sylvia Flow.

Delegates to Attend Baylor TISA Meet

Ten delegates to the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association convention were appointed Tuesday by Student Congress President Paul Youngdale.

The convention is scheduled March 5-7 on the Baylor University campus in Waco.

TCU delegates are Jim Wright, Earl Dean, Bill Koberg, Bill Smith, Charlie Robinson, Bob Patton and John Tyson and Misses Allie Beth McMurtry, Lu Ann Ramey and Paula Hottle.

The delegates' expenses, about $20 each, will be paid by Student Congress.

Tyson will lead a discussion on how effective university student councils reflect student life. He said the purpose of the convention, held annually, is to exchange ideas of student government.

Brite Will Host Seminary Meeting

The Brite College of Bible will play host to the Inter-seminary Conference of the Southwest on Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

Principal speakers will be Dr. William A. Clebsch of Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest; Dr. John Ross, missionary; Rev. Joe Matthews, University of Texas, and Dr. Glenn C. Routh of Brite College here at TCU.

Biscayne 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

Foot Note

Sometimes we've seen a whole outfit, carefully chosen and expensive, ruined by the wrong kind of sox. With pants being worn shorter, this becomes even more important.

Here are some of the kind of sox we sell, and how they should be worn.

White crew sox look great with khakis and sport shirts, but beware of wearing them with anything dressier. Definitely NEVER when you wear a tie should you wear white sox.

Ribbed plain colored sox. Always right except with sneakers or other canvas shoes. The only thing to wear with suits when you want to be dressed up.

Argyles, stripes and other patterned sox. Very popular with sports clothes, up to and including a sport coat and a tie. But watch out when you are wearing a suit. They are not as dressy and may spoil the whole picture.

Color: As to color, the sox should match the shoes or the trousers, seldom the shirt or tie. Most sox these days are dark and inconspicuous; loud colors and gaudy patterns should be weeded out and given to your favorite charity.

er, Great Neck, N.Y.; Ruth Ann Hargrave, El Paso; Kay Caris, Bartlesville, Okla.; Mary Engbrock, Houston; Doris Nolan Blackwelder, Galveston; John Waldrop, Abilene; Ted Sprague, Dewey, Okla., and Hysell.

"Black Pavane" is a dramatic ballet in one act, set in the stark gloom of a castle in medieval times. The story concerns a nobleman, a courtesan, a young girl and a slave. Through a series of tragic events, the nobleman destroys the slave and the young girl because of their love for each other and, in turn, meets his own death.

The ballet is created by Ronny Johnston, Hot Springs, Ark. The set is designed by Houston Lumpkin, Fort Worth, costumes by Cleve Haubold, costumer in the TCU department of theatre arts. The ballet is set to the music of Samuel Barber and Bela Bartok.

Ballet Master Preston will appear in the part of the nobleman, with Johnston dancing the role of the slave. The courtesan is danced by Trishka Bennage, Lewisburg, Pa., and the young girl by Cynthia Cory, Borger. Eighteen other ballet students will represent slave girls and courtesiers.

"Les Chapeaux," with choreography by Preston, scenery and costumes by Hysell, tells the story of two widowed Parisienne hat shop owners, Mme. Angot and M. Derain, who are bitter competitors, each claiming to create the highest fashions in hats. Yet, beneath their rivalry lies a secret love which cannot bloom because of their mutual stubbornness. The road to their admission of love is paved by their children, a fabulous countess who buys their hats, her wealthy patron, M. Dodo, and a thief.

Air Society to Offer Grant

A $100 check has been deposited with L. C. White, business manager, by the Arnold Air Society, Samuel E. Anderson Squadron, to be presented as a grant to the outstanding Air Force cadet at TCU.

Selection will be made from the merits of the cadet's ranking in the top 25 per cent of his AFROTC class; a 2.7 grade index under the new 4-point system; the cadet must be under contract or have had one offered to him and he must be a student in good standing.

Capt. W. C. Albert said the purpose of the grant is to provide a deserving Air Force Cadet with financial assistance; and in so doing, further the mission of the United States Air Force.

Dallas Junior Named New Activities Head

Miss Carol Sue Allen, Dallas junior, is the new dance committee chairman of the Activities Council. The announcement was made in an evaluation meeting last Saturday.

Gearing For Future

Four new or modernized campus buildings representing a sum of $3,500,000 will be dedicated formally March 5.

The buildings include the Bailey Building, Mary Coutts Burnett Library, Sherley Hall and Clark Hall.

The University is proud that the new structures take their places beside the numerous other new buildings that have been erected since M. E. Sadler became president in 1941. In the intervening 18 years under his guidance, TCU has grown from a prairie school to one of the finest universities in the Southwest.

The Board of Trustees has shown a definite farsightedness in approving the "blueprint for development" which calls for a new classroom structure, a new administration building, a 12,000-seat fieldhouse, a new infirmary and an apartment house for graduate students.

The upcoming dedication will mark another step forward for the University.

Chapter Room Request

Sororities have a legitimate request in asking permission for their chapter rooms to remain open after 11 p.m. on weekdays.

During final exam week, members were allowed to attend after-hours study halls supervised by either the sorority president, house manager or scholarship chairman.

Rigid rules were enforced prohibiting studying together, typing, phone calls, radio, television, phonographs and use of kitchen facilities.

Members studied undisturbed as long as they desired. Understandably, they wanted this privilege to continue, but it was declined.

Sororities would welcome permission for late study halls, and members would be able to exercise the coed's traditional bent for late night study without interrupting a sleepy roommate's slumber.

A Fire Breather

A number of classes earlier this week were treated to the one-woman campus crusade against "narcotic alcohol" by Miss Phoebe Harrison, a former Connecticut college teacher.

One of her salient points was her contention that the prohibition amendment was repealed because voters were deceived to believe it increased the crime rate. She asserted 22 per cent of the drinking population consumed 85 per cent of the alcohol produced.

She urged television advertising of liquor be banned and the sale of liquor be prohibited after 10 p.m.

She continued her harangue against liquor as long as instructors would permit.

Psychology and religion departments and a number of individual professors refused her permission to speak to their classes, believing courses for which students had registered took precedence over an itinerant crusader with somewhat dubious facts.

The Skiff will not hypocritically rally 'round the flag of temperance, but we will observe that its cause is not helped by a traveling saleswoman on a personal prohibition binge.

NORTH TEXAS—

"Little Willie, with a thirst for gore,
Nailed the body to the door.
Mother said with humor quaint:
'Careful, Will, don't mar the paint!'"

This is merely a mild sample of what you cruelty joke lovers will find in a new book entitled "Sick Jokes, Grim Cartoons & Bloody Marys," compiled and edited by Max Rezwin.

According to Chat Editor Chuck Green, these jokes represent manifestations of our sometimes perverse and unhappy soul. So throw another grandmother on the fire and dig these macabre samples:

There's one for the nature lover:

"Mommy, am I a werewolf?"
"Shut up and comb your face."
Or if you like outdoor sports:
"Can I play in the sand box yet, Mommy?"

"Not until we find a better place to bury Daddy."

Here's one for the family man:
"But Henry, that isn't our baby."

"Shut up. It's a better carriage."

Ah, Ambition!

Editor, The Skiff:

In a recent issue of The Skiff there were two editorials discussing students and their quest for better grades and the new Administration policies regarding more rigid academic requirements.

The fact that there will be stricter demands made of the students to receive the same grades, means that the grades received will mean much more under the new system.

The second editorial blasts students for being "grade-hungry." This is a little unfair. The student will be judged for the rest of his life by the grades he attains while attending school here.

To blast a student for trying to get higher grades, is really blasting him for having enough ambition to want to be graduated.

A student who signs up for a course because of the common knowledge on campus that the prof is easy and will pass the entire class, not only labels himself "grade-hungry," but also adds to the lowering of the academic standing of the University.

The fact that there are professors who will give a "D" student a "B," adds even more to the lessening of the reputation of TCU.

The question therefore arises as to what can be done about these "easy" profs.

Yours truly,
JOHN R. MOREHART.

Editor's Note: Give 'em a raise?

Lab Objector

Editor, The Skiff:

In view of the fact that to be able to pay for the education one receives in this fine institution one must work long hours (unless he's still living off his mamma and daddy), it seems unfair to force students to attend the language labs planned for the next school year. It's even worse since nobody gives a rats about language anyway.

Name Withheld.

Editor's Note: You've proven your point.

LSU—

Diseases we'd like to have:
A student at LSU paid a visit to the doctor to find out what was causing the skin on his fingers to peel. It seems that this unruly shedding had prompted his girl to refuse to hold hands in the movies.

After a close examination and several questions the m.d. diagnosed his malady.

The thwarted Casanova was allergic to books!

He not only has to bathe his digits in ointment but must wear rubber gloves every time he handles a text.

The student, who compares his fingers to the mummy's hand ("a flaky, dried up thing that never fails to scare the devil out of a person when it appears coming out of a dark place") muses philosophically: "Well . . . I could win back my girl by uncomfortably wearing gloves the rest of my school year or else I can quit school and drive a tractor."

Or try milking cows . . . that'll straighten your fingers out.

If you're down in the dumps, profit by this bit of wisdom from the Daily Reveille: "People are always asking for proof these days . . . 86, 90, 100 . . ."

At least these were the measurements when she was wearing her formal which contained twenty-six yards of cotton net, seventy-eight yards of cotton lace and ten yards of taffeta. The entire ensemble weighed 15 pounds.

It's rumored that she refuses to date football players, because they're always trying to gain yardage.

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Back in my courting days (the raccoon coat was all the rage, everybody was singing Good Morning, Mister Zip Zip Zip, and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica), back, I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

I don't understand why young men today have abandoned this gambit. There is nothing like poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more, poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subjects is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her lips, her walk, her talk, her clothes—anything at all. Indeed, one of my most effective love lyrics was called To Maud's Pencil Box. It went like this:

"To Maud's pencil box" It went like this:

In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch; I threatened myself instead of Maud.

Oh, Maud, pray stop this drivel
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel
And wind around my spine.
My heart doth cease its beating,
My spleen uncoils and warps,
My liver stops secreting
Soon I needs be a corpse.

When this heart-rending ballad failed to win Maud, I could only conclude that she was cruel and heartless and I was better off without her. Accordingly I took back my Hi-Y pin, bade her adieu, and have not clapped eyes on her since. Last I heard, she was working in Galveston as a Plimsoll line.

But I did not mourn Maud long, for after Maud came Doris—Doris of the laughing eyes, Doris of the shimmering hair, Doris of the golden tibiae! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a torrent of trochaic tetrameter:

Oh, my sweet and dulcet Doris!
I love you like a Philip Morris
With its mild and rich tobacco
In its white and scarlet pack-o,
I'd swim from Louisville to Natchez
For Philip Morris and you and matches.

Well, of course, the dear girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There is no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, men, you can see the power of poetry. Try it yourself. All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand muse.

© 1959, Max Shulman

Church Lists Summer Jobs In U.S. Parks

Would you like to have a paid vacation sun-bathing at a summer resort? The National Council of Churches of Christ annually sponsors a program which enables students to enjoy the advantages of recreation at 32 of the U.S. national parks while carrying on Christian work.

Among the parks participating are Mount McKinley in Alaska, Shenandoah in Virginia, Virgin Islands in the Islands and Death Valley in California.

Openings are available to married couples and college or seminary students with special ability in athletics, Bible study, drama, publicity and music.

Though a student provides his own transportation to and from the parks, he may earn from $200 to $900 holding a position with a park company as waitress, bellman, desk clerk, cabin boy, maid, trail crewman, etc., during working hours.

"However, responsibilities continue full time as a Christian witness and minister," says Jim Simpson, who worked in King's Canyon National Park, California, in 1951 and Glacier Park, Montana, in 1955-56. Jim, a Brite College student, stresses the value of close contact with a varied group such as the ones found at these parks. He feels that it is a broadening experience to anyone who plans to do Christian work.

Janet Frantz, a Glacier Park worker in 1956, points out the facilities of the position.

"There's never a dull moment since some form of entertainment is planned nightly," she says.

For additional information concerning these jobs, apply to "A Christian Minister in the National Parks," Room 96, 257 Fourth Avenue, New York 10, N.Y.

Get satisfying flavor...So friendly to your taste!

See how Pall Mall's famous length of fine tobacco travels and gentles the smoke—makes it mild—but does not filter out that satisfying flavor!

NO FLAT "FILTERED-OUT" FLAVOR!

NO DRY "SMOKED-OUT" TASTE!

Outstanding... and they are Mild!

HERE'S WHY SMOKE "TRAVELED" THROUGH FINE TOBACCO TASTES BEST

- 1 You get Pall Mall's famous length of the finest tobaccos money can buy.
- 2 Pall Mall's famous length travels and gentles the smoke naturally...
- 3 Travels it over, under, around and through Pall Mall's fine tobaccos!

The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things; of shoes and ships and sealing wax, of boats and sport shows. The Fort Worth Boat and Sport Show is at midpoint now, and will run through Sunday the 22nd.

Bigger and better than ever this year, everything imaginable is on display—from canoes to sports cars. The General Exhibits Building, located directly behind Will Rogers Auditorium, is a vast hodge-podge of booths, milling people and popcorn stands. What you can see, if you can see, is good.

Dealers in all sports lines represent a great many states, but Texas boat companies have gone all out to steal the show. Many Fort Worth merchants are helping to sponsor this affair and free tickets are available through them. Without them, gate admission is 50 cents per person, but it's money well spent. You couldn't have more fun if you went to the zoo, but when you get right down to it, it IS a zoo.

Trespassing continues to be the principal violation committed by hunters, according to the monthly arrest report of the director of law enforcement of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Last month, 129 hunters "crawled over the fence" to hunt on private property.

Night hunters came in a close second with 124 arrests. The night hunting arrests were heavy because of the headlight temptation for jacking deer and other game. Forty-five fishermen were arrested because of no license. The 715 persons arrested by game wardens during the previous month paid fines totaling $20,925.78 and court costs of $1,280 for a total of $22,205.78. Three were found not guilty. Think twice before taking that bird out of season or crawling over that fence. Let's face it, you "ain't" got a chance.

Do You Think for Yourself?

(THESE QUESTIONS CAN TELL YOU A LOT ABOUT YOURSELF!*)

1. When you feel that certain fads are foolish do you talk against them?

YES  NO

2. Do gadgets such as new cigarette lighters often intrigue you so you want to take them apart?

YES  NO

3. Do you think that political candidates should write their own speeches instead of using a "ghost writer"?

YES  NO

4. Given the choice, would you prefer having an apartment of your own to living at home with your parents?

YES  NO

5. Do you prefer a salesman who is anxious to make a quick sale to one who will patiently answer all your questions about the product?

YES  NO

6. When arriving late for a party, are you inclined to join a group of close friends rather than attempting to strike up new acquaintances?

YES  NO

7. If you met somebody with a beard, would you tend to consider him "off-beat" and treat him with reserve?

YES  NO

8. Are you normally reluctant to go on a "blind date"?

YES  NO

9. Do you base your choice of a cigarette on what people tell you rather than doing your own thinking?

YES  NO

You'll notice that men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? They've made a thinking choice. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. They know that VICEROY gives it to them! A thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste!

*If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions and "NO" to four out of the last five . . . you really think for yourself!

Harriers Eye Border Meet

With the warm weather trend the past few days, Track Coach J. Eddie Weems literally had his thinclads burning up the cinders in preparation for their season opener two weeks hence.

Varsity candidates thus far include Lafayette Heath in the 440, James Livergood and Joe Douglas in the 880 and mile, Kelly Westlake running low hurdles and relays, John Cantrell, discus, and Mike Howell on the pole vault.

Weems lists Heath as a dark-horse in the 440 as the Fort Worth junior has turned in good times in preliminary trial runs on the 330-yard distance. Howell in the pole vault also rates a good chance to earn points this spring, as he copped second in last spring's conference pole vault.

The Frog coach has six meets on tap for his runners and hopes to add several more through invitations. They'll open with the Border Olympics in Laredo on March 6-7, be in Fort Worth the following week, 13-14 for the Southwest Recreational, compete in the San Angelo Invitation March 20-21.

In April the Frogs engage in the Texas Relays, April 3-4, enter a quadrangular affair with Texas, Rice, and Baylor on April 11 and wind it up with the big one, the conference meet May 9-10 at College Station.—GORDON PYNES.

ROTC Tourney Opens

The first annual TCU Army ROTC High School Invitation basketball tourney begins at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Practice Gym and the Little Gym. The seven high schools in the Fort Worth district are invited.

The teams will be divided on the basis of the players' high school ROTC rating. An "A" and "B" team tournament will provide competition for all schools.

Victory Over Texas Brings NCAA Place

A berth in the post-season NCAA basketball tournament will ride the wings of victory for TCU Saturday night when the Frogs journey to Austin to face the Texas Longhorns at Gregory Gym.

After whipping Rice, 68-64, Wednesday, the Frogs lead the Southwest Conference with a 10-1 record. SMU, No. 2 with a 7-3 mark, is the only team standing a chance to overtake the Christians.

A victory over Texas will clinch a tie for the SWC flag for TCU, regardless whether SMU beats Texas Tech at Lubbock or not. Should the Mustangs lose and the Frogs win, TCU clinches the championship.

But if both clubs win, TCU will clinch a tie for the title as well as nailing down a berth in the NCAA tournament. Even if SMU won the title, the Ponies wouldn't be able to participate in the playoffs since they are on probation.

The Frogs were off their shooting form in Wednesday's game, hitting only 25 of 74 field goal attempts for a 33.8 average. They out-rebounded the Owls, 57-37, however.

Texas will field a tall, but relatively inexperienced lineup to combat the Frogs. Albert Almanza (6-8), Wayne Clark (6-11) and Charles Loney (6-5) are sophomores. Junior Jay Arnette (6-2) and Senior Bobby Puryear (6-0) will round out the starting five.

MIST' DILLON, IT DOC, IT DOC

Bob Cullum of Dallas who presented the Dan D. Rogers ring at the recent TCU athletic awards banquet, feels TCU might have a double for TV's version of Mat Dillon.

The master of ceremonies jokingly introduced TCU Athletic Director L. R. (Dutch) Meyer as a mashed-down Mat Dillon.

from the sideline

By LEE GRIMSLEY

The flowering japonica is beginning to bloom and soon the rosebuds will be everywhere. Spring is here and the young women are beginning to look better than they should.

Spring, wistful spring. But wait. There are some disturbances in the spring-like air, especially in the areas of Florida, Arizona and TCU Amon Carter Stadium.

There's a simple explanation for these disturbances—baseball is here.

At Frogland, Coach Rabbit McDowell is blessed with some fine prospects . . . maybe good enough to wrest the Southwest Conference championship from the Texas Longhorns.

The lack of crowds at the baseball games last year were downright embarrassing and deplorable. Actually there was no excuse for it.

The games are free to students, and if you don't have a car, it's just a short walk down to the diamond. The Frogs lost a few ball games last year, but they were never embarrassed.

Soarin' Mike Howell In Search Of SWC Pole Vault Crown

By GORDON PYNES

Horned Frog Track Coach J. Eddie Weems knows little about today's potent and high-flying rockets, but he feels he may have something similar to them on his cinder squad in Pole Vaultler Mike Howell.

Howell, Victoria junior, looms as Weems' top varsity prospect for a gold medal in this season's Southwest Conference track and field meet. Mike, who stands only 5-7, has gone considerably higher with the aid of a vaulting pole.

Plagued by injuries as a freshman, the former state pole vault champion still managed to sail 12-6, high enough to tie for the frosh title. Then last spring, in his first varsity campaign, the dark-haired flyer filled his track treasure chest with numerous medals.

Competing with many pole vault notables in some of the country's top meets, including the Border Olympics, Texas and Drake Relays, SWC meet, Meet of Champions and the North Texas Relays, he came up with several second- and third-place finishes including the runnerup medal in the conference affair.

Turning in four 13-foot efforts and a 13-2 practice mark in last spring's competition, he is almost a cinch to get near 14 feet in this spring's latter stages.

Commenting on his chances in the conference meet to be held at Texas A&M in early May, Howell expressed concern over SMU's Gary Peters and a Baylor soph who cleared 13-3 in the frosh meet. Peters, the smooth sailing Mustang, is Mike's chief rival, as it was he who edged Howell for the 1958 conference crown. It may well be that Peters feels plenty of concern over the steadily improving Frog trackster, too.

A devoted trackman, Mike puts himself through a rigorous year-round training routine under Weems' coaching. During the summer he gets plenty of running and pole vaulting done, then spends the winter months doing hundreds of short sprints to develop the speed he must rely on.

One look at his muscular physique shows he has put in plenty of work building strength for his arms and shoulders with weight lifting training.

As the warm weather begins he will concentrate on gaining better vaulting form with leaps around the 13-foot mark. With the first competition less than a month away he'll begin to go "sky high."

Though a mighty little fella as pole vaulters go, look for Mike to be plenty big among the Southwest vaulters when the jump heights are measured this spring.
