EASTER REST BEGINS TODAY

M. E. Sadler Lecture Set For April 7

Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, will deliver the annual "M. E. Sadler Freedom Lecture" here and will be awarded an honorary LL.D. degree from the University April 7.

He also will present Freedom Foundations awards won by individuals and organizations of this area.

In 1958, TCU won the Washington Honor Medal and $100 for its campus program, and the Southern Baptist Convention won a medal in the Americana category for its TV show, "The Rich Fool."

The Sadler Lecture was founded several years ago by the Fort Worth chapter of B'nai B'rith in honor of TCU's president.

Dr. Wells holds degrees from several universities and was co-founder, director and trustee of the Freedoms Foundation. He became executive vice president in 1949 and president in 1951.

Previous speakers at the Sadler Lecture have included Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post; Dr. Robert Storey, dean of the SMU Law School, and Leon Volkov, former Soviet combat pilot who escaped to the West.

Danforth Grant Goes to Teacher For Ph.D. Work

Edward L. Cannan Jr., assistant professor of history at TCU, has been awarded a Danforth Teacher Study Grant for 1959-60 to complete work on his Ph.D. degree in ancient Greek history.

Cannan, a native of Houston, came to TCU in 1957 after teaching for 10 years in the history department of the University of Texas where he took his BA degree. He has completed all but a year of work on his doctorate at Columbia. He also studied at the University of Naples, Italy, in 1951-52 under a Fulbright Scholarship.

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the American Historical Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Cannan and their eight children live at 8416 Monmouth Dr. in Fort Worth.

Cast for Drama To Be Selected

Tryouts will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 31, in room 312-S Fine Arts Building, for parts in a television drama that will be filmed on campus and then televised on KFJZ-TV.

The drama "A Young Man Grown Old," an original play by Mike Fox, Fort Worth junior, will be presented as the final production of the "Telerama" series for this year.

Parts in the program will not be limited to students majoring in radio-television. Any student who is interested may try out for a part.

Union Official to Speak at Public Affairs Forum

A labor union official will speak at the next meeting of the Public Affairs Forum which will be held after the Easter holidays.

The Forum heard Fred Whidman, a stock broker from Goodbody & Co. at their recent meeting March 12.

Whidman explained the operation of the stock exchange and gave pointers for persons interested in investing small amounts of money in good stocks.

Frogland To Be Serenaded By World-Famous Guitarist

Andres Segovia, world-famous master of the Spanish guitar, will be presented in concert April 15 here. His appearance marks the seventh program on the university's current Select Series.

The performance will begin at 8 p.m. in Ed Landreth Auditorium on campus.

Segovia, who single-handed has won for the guitar a distinguished place in the world's concert halls, is making a tour of the US and Canada. It coincides with the 50th anniversary of his first public appearance at the age of 14. He turned to the guitar after studying piano, violin and other instruments. He made his American debut in 1929.

The guitarist recently returned from his annual European tour during which he played 70 times in 11 countries. Last season Segovia established a new record in New York, selling out Manhattan's Town Hall three times in as many months.

He will include on his program at TCU such classic composers as Bach, of whose music the guitarist has long been recognized as a leading interpreter; Mendelssohn and Scarlatti. He will also play "Piezas Caracteristicas" which was dedicated to him by its composer Torroba.

Study, Loafing Form Plans Of Students for Holidays

By J'NELL ROGERS

Five glorious, class-free days will await students when the Easter recess officially begins at 10 p.m. today.

The campus exodus will begin this afternoon and continue until early Thursday for those who have classes tonight.

To accommodate those who live too far away to make a trip home, the dormitories and Cafeteria will remain open during the holidays.

The cafeteria will operate on its weekend schedule Thursday through Monday. Beginning at the evening meal Monday the Cafeteria will resume its regular serving schedule.

The Snack Bar will be closed Thursday for cleanup but will remain open the rest of the weekend until 7 p.m. each evening.

"While the Snack Bar is closed Thursday, the Cafeteria will be open all day to serve coffee and donuts," says Logan Ware, Student Center director.

Major offices in the Administration Building will remain open over the holidays.

Students have planned a varied list of activities during the spring reprieve from classes. Some will use it to catch up on studies or prepare for finals which are only nine weeks away. For the convenience of such "bookworms" the Library will remain open, operating on a special holiday schedule:

Thursday and Friday, March 26-27, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 28, 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Other students who have off-campus jobs will take advantage of the days off from school to earn a little extra money to meet the higher tuition due next fall.

Seven industrious graduate students plan to continue classes as usual—if one can call a trip to the Florida Keys to study coral reefs usual. Two professors are going along to make sure study takes place.

Miss Pat McDaniel, Abilene junior, intends to purchase her cowgirl outfit during the holidays in readiness for the TCU rodeo April 5, sponsored by the Rodeo Club.

Still others just plan to loaf and enjoy their vacation. It's the last one they will get until finals end June 2.

A few students even plan to get married.

Coeds will get a long-awaited chance to wear their new spring outfits.

Campus churches will observe special Easter services.

At the Easter Convocation yesterday in Ed Landreth Auditorium students heard Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of the University, speak on "Life."

The University Chorus sang three selections. Included were "Alleluia" by J. S. Bach, "Adoramus Te Christe" by Palestrina and "Hallelujah" by Beethoven.

Jack White, Weatherford sophomore, played the prelude and postlude on the organ.

The Easter recess practically marks a halfway point in the spring semester. Thirty-five class days preceded the holiday, while 37 will remain until Review Week begins.

Social Science Meeting

The annual convention of the Southwestern Social Science Association will be held in Galveston Friday and Saturday.

200 Schools To Be in Training Program

Cadets from 200 colleges, junior colleges and high schools will participate in the third annual TCU tactical training exercise at Camp Wolters April 11-12.

The Army ROTC unit here conducts and sponsors the exercise. It will involve two days and nights of intensive small-unit training with 100 Army ROTC and 30 Air Force ROTC cadets from TCU participating.

The exercise will include instruction and practical application in individual battlefield tactics, team and squad patrolling, both reconnaissance and combat patrols, night patrols, night patrolling, night defense of a perimeter and squad and platoon attack problems.

Blank ammunition, an aggressor "enemy" force and tactical air support will be used in the problem.

"Our purpose is to provide realistic field training for the cadets, giving them an opportunity to put into practical application what they have learned in the classroom," said Lt. Col. Eugene Waits, professor of military science.

Assisting him will be Cadet Maj. Ronnie Stevenson, Fort Worth senior, and Cadet Capt. Robert Fleming, Pampa senior, and Gerald Shambarger, Tyler senior.

The Easter Bunting

A time for thoughtfulness, peace and kindred spirit—that is the proper frame of mind for the Easter Season.

Today or tomorrow almost everyone will leave for the Easter holidays to be with their families and loved ones. There will be the usual holiday parties and get-togethers with old friends, perhaps an Easter egg hunt for the younger brother or sister or the kid down the block and maybe even a family reunion.

Through no fault of the individual, the true meaning of the Easter season often is pushed into the background to be replaced by something "more important" to the present-day person.

Try asking someone if they know what Easter is for and they probably would answer, "Well of course I do!" But to a great many people it has become only an intricate part of history and something to be remembered and then forgotten.

It shouldn't be hard for everyone to stop and think and remember with reverence so as to realize the true spirit of Easter.

A Sticker for TCU

Some people carry amusing stickers or decals on their car windows. Others have informative material adhering to the glass.

There's a lot to be said for the fellow—one who keeps a near orderly car and handles it accordingly—who advertises his school temperately and attractively.

When one is in some distant city, it is a good feeling to look up and see someone driving a clean, soberly-handled car with the words "TEXAS CHRISTIAN UNIVERSITY" neatly attached to the rear window.

It makes one proud!

They Said It Shouldn't Be Done

A short letter written by an "amazed and astonished" reader of The Skiff and published in the March 11 issue chided this publication for advertising numerous brands of cigarettes.

The writer voiced disapproval, he said, because The Skiff depicted smoking as "the thing to do," and implied that we, as representatives of a Christian University, should refrain from such questionable acts.

The Skiff, since it has not been divinely blessed with a royal, private, Calvinistic-like communications line to Heaven, cannot authoritatively label cigarettes as evil, or wrong or sinful. The controversial issue has been debated for years and the conclusion of whether smoking is wrong either spiritually or morally, still falls into the realm of conjecture.

We feel that the question of smoking should be determined by the individual and his Master, whether it be Jehovah, a 10 spot or a baby-blue Cadillac.

On the basis of information provided by theologians and medical experts at the present time, we see no reason why we should refrain from advertising cigarettes, though we will not, nor have we ever, predicated the use of cigarettes as "the thing to do."

The Skiff

The Skiff is the official student publication of Texas Christian University, published semiweekly on Wednesday and Friday during college class weeks. Views presented are those of the student staff, and do not necessarily reflect administrative policies of the university. Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y., Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco. Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Fort Worth, Texas, on Aug. 31, 1910, under the act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 a year in advance.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

SW Campus Confidential

By JACK HARKRIDER

TEXAS—

An advertisement for the Texas Ranger, the university's humor magazine, carried the picture of an attractive girl with the following description:

"Oh! Them eyes! If you want to know more about them—as well as about 'five-foot-two, 35-23-35'—watch for the March Texas Ranger."

Like man, this chick is really hip.

The Daily Texan carries a small feature article called "Forty Acres" which consists of a humorous happening on campus.

"Dr. Clark Hubb's class in physiology was discussing various topics regarding human anatomy.

"One member of the class brought up the subject of the basic differences between anomalies of the sexes.

"Well, basically," said Dr. Hubb, "the female form is more well designed than the male."

That depends on the viewpoint.

A&M—

According to the Battalion:

"The Air Force Officer Qualifying Test, also known as Stanine, will be given in the basement of Sbisa Hall Saturday.

"The Stanine test must be successfully completed prior to acceptance into the Advanced Air Force ROTC Program."

Stanine is reported to be a by-product of strychnine. Good luck, fellows!

In an old, old issue of the Battalion, there lies a story praising the Aggie Wool Judging Team for placing fifth in the American Wool Judging Contest in Kansas City.

Those Aggies must be a hairy bunch.

BAYLOR—

The Baylor Lariat featured a wire story from London recently.

"Keeping your mouth shut is a good way to stay healthy, says a British doctor.

"Most people stand with their noses and throats as close to others as 12 to 18 inches, in normal conversation on trains. Yet, Londoners are not susceptible to infectious diseases," he said.

"The British people traditionally do not converse in trains. There may be advantages to this national custom, as the closed mouth minimizes the spread of infection."

Remember, also, the old adage, "A closed mouth gathers no foot."

Baylor girls living in the dorms must fill out forms comparable to the security passes of the AEC, just to go on a date. Who, what, where, when, why, are just a few of the questions asked on the forms.

One of the dorms, however, boasts of a house-broken pet. He knows where to go, to go.

TECH—

It seems that "Gunsmoke" fans are active on the Tech campus. The Toreador reported:

"Mis-ster Dil-lon' will be the password Friday at 8:30 p.m.

"Tommy Hancock and his Roadside Playboys will be featured. Admission is free to the dance, sponsored by the Union Western Dance committee.

The person wearing the best "Gunsmoke" costume will win a do-it-yourself limp kit courtesy of Chester.

Top Hand Retires to RanchRodeo Celebration Honors 'Cowboy' Monroe April 5

By MARGIE CRONIN

Every rodeo has an honored guest and this year TCU's Rodeo guest April 5 is Louis (Cowboy) Monroe, celebrating his 77th birthday Easter.

Cowboy is a member of the maintenance staff here and will retire early in April. He was hired to work one week in Sept. 1948 and has been here since.

He has made many friends on campus and always is attired in western shirt, blue jeans, western hat and boots.

In 1902, his first job in Fort Worth was building stalls for the stockyards at 17 cents an hour, working 60 hours a week.

He then returned in 1946 after farming in Lincoln Parish, La.

His hobbies are fishing and dominoes.

He and his wife have seven children, 22 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Cowboy says he never tires from work.

"Why I've been workin' since I was six. I go to bed when night comes and get up at the crack of dawn."

Occasionally he writes poetry about his life and himself.

"Cowboy don't need no rockin' chair or cane. All he needs is a pair of cowboy boots to roam the range," he says.

Dean to Attend Meeting

Dean Jerome A. Moore will attend the annual meeting of the Association of Texas Colleges April 3-4 in Houston.

He will serve on the Standards Committee of the association.

Cowboy says he actually could never retire.

After leaving TCU in April, he plans to buy a ranch near Little Rock, Ark., and raise short-horned cattle, have a broiler house of 10,000 chickens and possibly have hogs and angora goats.

He says his boss, M. A. Doss, superintendent of grounds "is a wonderful man to work for and everyone here at TCU has been very good to him."

Cowboy has ridden in several rodeos and favors calf roping. He says he's looking forward to being honored guest at the TCU Rodeo and will tell everyone good-bye at that time.

POVERTY CAN BE FUN

It is no disgrace to be poor. It is an error, but it is no disgrace.

So if your purse is empty, do not skulk and brood and hide your head in shame. Stand tall. Admit your poverty. Admit it freely and frankly and all kinds of good things will happen to you. Take, for instance, the ease of Blossom Sigafous.

Blossom, an impecunious freshman at an Eastern girls' college, was smart as a whip and round as a dumpling, and scarcely a day went by when she didn't get invited to a party weekend at one of the nearby men's schools. But Blossom never accepted. She did not have the rail fare; she did not have the clothes. Weekend after weekend, while her classmates went frolicking, Blossom sat alone, saved from utter despair only by her pack of Marlboros, for even an exchequer as slim as Blossom's can afford the joys of Marlboro—joys far beyond their paltry price: rich, mellow tobaccos, lovingly cured and carefully packed; a new improved filter that works like a charm. Croesus himself could not buy a better cigarette!

However, Marlboro's most passionate admirers—among whose number I am paid to count myself—would not claim that Marlboro can entirely replace love and romance, and Blossom grew steadily moroser.

Then one day came a phone call from an intelligent sophomore named Tom O'Shanter at a nearby men's college. "Blossom," said Tom, "I want you to come down next week for the barley festival, and I won't take no for an answer."

"No," said Blossom.

"Foolish girl," said Tom gently. "I know why you refuse me. It is because you are poor, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Blossom.

"I will send you a railroad ticket," said Tom. "Also a small salami in case you get hungry on the train."

"But I have nothing to wear," said Blossom.

Tom replied, "I will send you one suit of cashmere, two gowns of lace, three slacks of velvet, four shoes of calf, five socks of nylon, and a partridge in a pear tree."

"That is most kind," said Blossom, "but I fear I cannot dance and enjoy myself while back home my poor lame brother Tiny Tim lies abed."

"Send him to Mayo Brothers and put it on my tab," said Tom.

"You are terribly decent," said Blossom, "but I cannot come to your party because all the other girls at the party will be from rich, distinguished families, and my father is but a humble woodcutter."

"I will buy him Yosemite," said Tom.

"You have a great heart," said Blossom. "Hold the phone while I ask our wise and kindly old Dean of Women whether it is proper for me to accept all these gifts."

She went forthwith and asked the Dean of Women, and the Dean of Women laid her wise and kindly old hand on Blossom's cheek and said, "Child, let not false pride rob you of happiness. Accept these gifts from Tom."

"Lord love you, Wise and Kindly," breathed Blossom, dropping grateful tears into the Dean's reticule. "I must run and tell Tom."

"Yes, run, child," said the Dean, a smile wrinkling her wise and kindly old eyes. "And ask him has he got an older brother."

Specialist Visiting Campus

Pabbaraju Rao, senior information and press specialist of the US Information Agency in Hyderabad, India, is visiting the campus Monday through Thursday.

His visit is part of the Agency's program to bring key foreign national employees of its world-wide information centers to this country for orientation and training. The study tour is designed to increase their understanding of the fundamentals of the American concept and their effectiveness in presenting the United States to their countrymen.

Rao, a native of Gannavaram, Madras State, India, attended Andhra Christian College in Guntur. He is 43.

As senior local employee of the Hyderabad office, he is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Information Center, involving programming contests, lectures and motion pictures. Other activities include press and publications, library and exhibits.

While at TCU, Rao plans to visit classes, attend a TCU baseball game and tour Fort Worth businesses, industries and civic centers.

He requested to visit TCU during his US stay as his American supervisor in Hyderabad is George Miller, a 1948 graduate of the University. Rao will leave Friday for Williams, Ariz., on his tour of the country.

Societies to Co-ordinate Meeting in SC Ballroom

The Association of the United States Army and the Arnold Air Society will have a joint dinner Tuesday. The dinner will be held to foster better working relations and to give the members of both honor societies the chance to become better acquainted.

Following the dinner, Lt. William Newport, Carswell Air Force officer, will speak to the two organizations about the life of a young officer.

Chaplain Will Assume Newman Club Duties

The TCU Newman Club will have a full-time Catholic chaplain beginning April 1 when the appointment of the Rev. Hugh J. Reilly becomes effective.

The appointment of Father Reilly to the post was announced last week by Bishop Thomas K. Gorman. Since his ordination two years ago, Father Reilly has been serving as assistant pastor at St. Andrew's Catholic Church.

Dr. Forsythe Will Make Field Trip

Dr. John Forsythe, professor of biology, will attend the annual meeting of the Texas Herpetological Society near the south Texas town of Del Rio Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Approximately 50 members of the society will go on a field trip in a "wild and rather isolated area" of the state about 50 miles north of Del Rio called Devil's River.

Members of the society are interested in learning all they can about reptiles and amphibians.

Weems Keeps Tracksters Running, Prepping for Meet

By JOHN SHIELDS

It's just another week for the Frog trackmen. Easter holidays begin today for most students but Coach J. Eddie Weems says he'll keep his boys here and try to get them in tip-top shape for the Texas Relays in Austin next week.

"If we can just get good cooperation from the weather," Weems said, "that'll help us a lot."

Trainer and freshman coach Elmer Brown said he can't afford to let his boys go home and come back beat down. "That happened over the Christmas holidays and they were bushed. Those relays are just too close to be fooling around."

Brown says Bert Coan, the Pasadena all-state sprinter, has been jerked from the broad jump. "He hurt his knee recently and I just don't want to take a chance on his injuring it again."

"He may jump later this season when we meet North Texas but right now I don't know," said the former Olympics trainer.

Brown says Coan's knee doesn't slow him down but fears another injury could put him out of action this year.

Evidence of Coan's condition was his 9.6 timing in the 100-yard dash recently and Brown says he's trying to work down to a 9.5 clocking.

Another possible ailing runner on Brown's hands is Reagan Gassaway.

"He's just physically upset," said Brown, "and we can't figure out what it is."

"It's not bad. He'll run in that sprint medley in Austin next week," Brown said.

Gassaway and Alfred Heiser will team together for the 440-leg of the medley.

Weems won't commit himself on Frog chances, but hints the Christians will put on a good showing.

"They were sluggish in the Southwestern Recreation Meet and just weren't organized. We could do better next week."

'47 GRID STAR NORTH COACH

Elmwood Turner, TCU graduate of 1947, has been named as head coach of the North Team in the annual all-star football game this year.

Turner is currently head football coach at Sweetwater High and has put his teams through championship paces for the last two years.

The high school football event will be played Aug. 7 in Fort Worth this year during the Texas Coaching School.

THE TAREYTON RING MARKS THE REAL THING

Here's why Tareyton's Dual Filter filters as no single filter can:

1. It combines an efficient pure white outer filter ...
2. with a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL... which has been definitely proved to make the smoke of a cigarette milder and smoother.

THE REAL THING IN MILDNESS... THE REAL THING IN FINE TOBACCO TASTE!

Lesson for today: In a few short months, New Dual Filter Tareytons have become a big favorite on U.S. campuses. For further references, see your campus smoke shop.

Mid-Week REPORT

By BOB SCHIEFFER

"No man," said Poppa Hemingway, once, "is a born artist or angler."

I think that would be a good way for George Gould to start his column some Friday, but he doesn't.

Hemingway also said, "Show me a good writer and I will steal his wife."

But, that has nothing to do with our story of the great outdoors and how many things, besides organized sandlot baseball, go on during a lazy spring afternoon when the clouds have a fresh coat of white wash and lounge about over Miller's pond.

In this setting it was that Alfred O. Grundy, a freshman footballer attending school on a physics scholarship met, fell for and eventually proposed to the girl of his dreams, Alvina Provost.

It was a chance meeting they had.

Alfred was lounging on the pond bank, a cane pole held between his toes and a volume of "How Einstein's Theory of Relativity Can Be Applied to the Single Wing" in his hand, when Alvina popped in from above.

She had planned a short swim but dived from a large oak and misjudged the pond below. She landed smack in Alfred's lap.

"Hi," she said purringly.

"E equals MC²," said Alfred.

After such a start the two struck up an intimate conversation that eventually led to the altar.

Which all goes to prove that true friendship can lead to many things and like Poppa Hemingway once said, "Nothing is so wonderful as a true and devoted friend and the richest man in the world is the one with the most money."

GOLF TEAM TEES OFF AT SW INVITATIONAL

THIS IS WATER SPORT?

HOUSTON, March 25—TCU's 4-man golf team teed off this morning in this port city for the Fifth Annual Southwestern Invitational Golf Tournament on the plush green links of the Pine Forest Country Club.

During the next two days 16 of the nation's top-rated college golf teams will be in pursuit of trophies to be awarded. The NCAA champions, the Houston Cougars, are odds-on favorites to take the title in their hometown meet.

The Frogs arrived Monday evening and toured the course yesterday in a warm-up round in preparation for today's opening round.

This is the first trip for the Frogs to the "collegiate tournament of champions." Coach Tom Prouse believes his four veterans will "do all right for themselves."

All-America Don Massengale, the defending SWC champion, and Charles Coody, Border Olympics medalist, will be joined again by veteran team members Frank Mackey and Jerry Johnson.

Prouse says he is glad to see the boys at the tourney. "It'll give them some idea of what the conference race will be like this year."

All SWC teams except Arkansas are in Houston for the meet.

The teams will compete for:

1. 72-hole team medalist play.
2. 72-hole team match play.
3. Low two and foursomes.
4. Individual medalist honors.

Defending champion at Pine Forest is Houston's Jackie Cupit, runner-up to Coody in Laredo last month.

As a team, the Cougars have left no title stone unturned.

TCU Sports Publicity Director Jim Brock probably gave the soundest logic for Houston's fine golf teams.

"They award more golf scholarships than we do in all sports combined except football. With an unlimited arrangement like that, it's no wonder they draw the nation's finest boys."

Facts and preliminary rumors about favorites for this year's meet doesn't bother Massengale, the Frogs' No. 1 man from Jacksonville.

"We're staying at the Shamrock, playing golf on one of the nation's finest golf courses, and have privileges of a beautiful country club. We'll just do our best to win," he predicted.

KEEP PITCHIN', BOYS

"No rest for the weary" is an often-quoted phrase that has significant meaning for the Purple and White under Coach Rabbit McDowell. He says his boys will work out tomorrow and Friday, then report back to the diamond for a Monday session.

The intense drills are the aftermath of a deflated showing the past two weeks.

"We'll practice in the mornings then I'll let the boys go home for the weekend. But we've gotta be back for a Monday drill before going to Austin and Bib Faulk's Longhorns," McDowell said.
